A CELEBRATION OF COUNTRY

Last fall when we began to plan a special country music salute to President and Mrs. Bush, we saw the evening as a way to celebrate the unique contribution made by these artists in helping to provide a special perspective on America for us and, through television, for the rest of the world.

Country music has always dealt with the most basic of human needs; it goes straight for the heart. Love of family . . . love of home . . . love of God . . . love of Country . . . or the loss of these cherished relationships . . . these emotions are the foundation for this uniquely American art form.

As these winter months progressed, and particularly during the past several weeks while we watched events unfolding in the Middle East, our "Celebration of Country" took on a whole new meaning. We watched as hundreds of thousands of Americans were separated from their loved ones, sent thousands of miles from home to face a hostile enemy, all in service to their Country. We agonized for these brave men and women and for their loved ones left behind.

We are thankful tonight that we can celebrate the end of that agony and that we have the privilege of sharing our celebration with the leader whose dazzling skill has brought us through. President Bush, thank you for making this truly the time for a Celebration of Country.

OUR HOST TONIGHT

ARCO, an early supporter of Ford's, made a generous grant this year to cover all costs for the festivities so that all of the contributions to The Festival can go toward supporting our theatre program. Here, Lodwick Cook, Chairman & CEO of ARCO, visits with President Bush.

A WASHINGTON TRADITION

Our holidays are a little brighter each year thanks to the generous help provided by The Sun Company and Unocal, which jointly underwrite Ford's production of "A Christmas Carol."

Tom Wylie (Sun Company) with his family.

Mr. & Mrs. Tom Hairston
(Unocal).

WITH SPECIAL THANKS

Carl Lindner . . . who is always there when we need him most.

Robert Erburu, Chairman & CEO of The Times Mirror Company and Lewis Rudin, a Ford's trustee. Both are generous contributors to Ford's Endowment.

Emma Getz is celebrating her 91st birthday tonight and our dearly departed friend Armand Hammer will live on in our hearts forever.

Bill McSweeney, seen here with wife Dorothy and daughter Kate, has served Ford's with dedication and good humor for nearly 20 years.

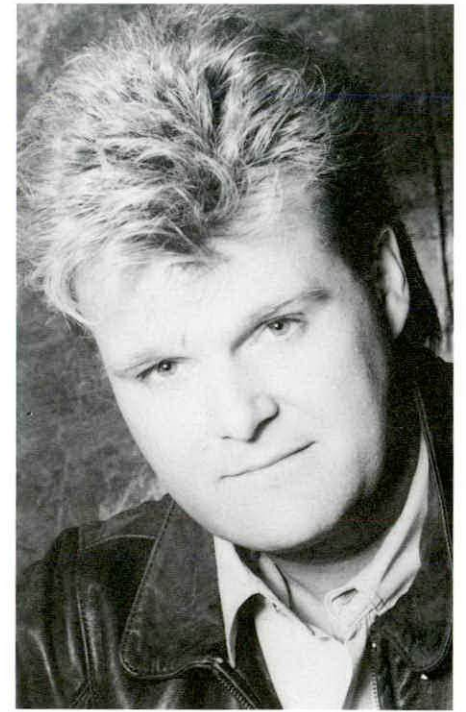

IBM, Ford's oldest corporate supporter, made a substantial commitment to our Endowment Fund this year. Marcia Dam is a Ford's trustee and Kenneth Dam is the company's Vice President for Law and External Relations.

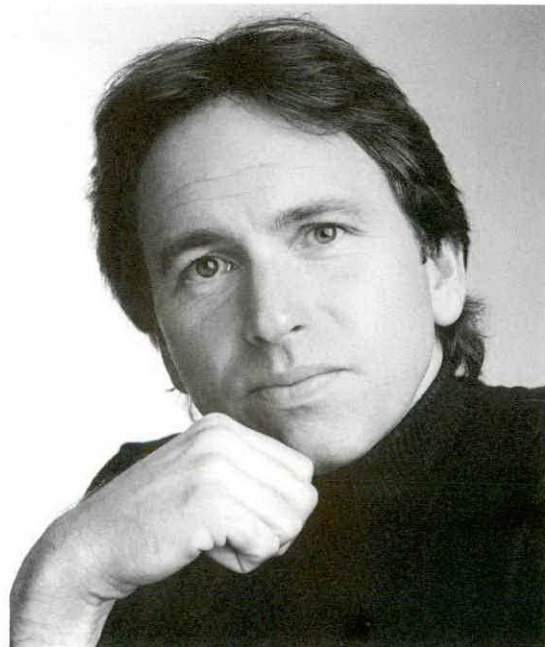

AT&T has partially underwritten two of our most exciting productions . . . the musical "Elmer Gantry" and most recently, "Black Eagles." Gerald Lowrie, Ford's trustee, is Vice President of AT&T.

Dear Mr. President:

You were terrific in your address to the American people last night. Your demand for justice and the rule of law is what the world most needs to hear. Although you shared the reality that there will be occasional setbacks, your confidence of victory came through clearly to the American people, and I am sure to the world. Congratulations on a brilliant strategy that has been executed with superb professionalism by all of your Administration from the first day of the Iraqi invasion through the military successes of last night.

Thank you for your last note and the invitation to stay with you and Barbara on our March 10 trip. Carole and I look forward to being with you very much. I hope Barbara is mending well. Please give her our best.

With respect to the Newsweek piece regarding you and the Reagans, things are much better. I will, nevertheless, share with you any substantive problems that come up, and continue to reinforce subtly your feelings of friendship and loyalty. As you can surely appreciate, chairing the birthday dinner has not been the easiest thing I have ever done.

I look forward to seeing you soon. Congratulations again on a good beginning to Desert Storm.

Sincerely,

L. M. Cook

Kathy,

Ann Simpson (wife of Senator Simpson) has asked Mrs. Bush to hold March 10 or March 17 with the hope that the President and Mrs. Bush will attend an event at Ford's Theater.

Susan Rose has details -- and Mrs. Bush has agreed to do this.

We need to raise with the President at an appropriate time (thru the system).

This is just fyi.

Mr. George Bush
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear George:

Congratulations on a job well done. Doris and I could not believe what we were hearing daily and I have sore eyes being glued to the television and probably won't be able to see Bonefish anymore. However, I am sure you need some relaxation and sun-tan and good fishing. I have checked the tides and the best ones are April 12-13-14 or April 26-27-28. Both units at Tarpon Flats are available and so are the boats and the fishing should be great.

I am sending a copy of this letter to our friend Nick Brady, decision-maker and a great guy.

Sincerely,

George Hommel, Jr.
