MEMORANDUM FOR BRENT SCOWCROFT

APNSA Has Seen

THROUGH: RICHARD N. HAASS

FROM: ~~S~~SANDRA CHARLES

SUBJECT: B-C-S Breakfast Item: Second Saudi Arms Package

The second arms sales package for Saudi Arabia is on its way to us for the President's approval. We have limited time to formally notify Congress before recess next month. State also is recommending pre-notification consultations so Congress doesn't choke when it sees the size of the proposed package - $17.8 or 19.9 billion depending on which one we notify -- State's or DoD's. The bulk of the cost is the armor brigade ($8 billion) and the air defense equipment of F-15s and Patriot ($4.9 billion) (Tab I).

State's package deletes some items that DoD would include, specifically: the Multiple Launch Rocket System (MLRS, RE-3 reconnaissance aircraft, KE-3 tanker aircraft. For "tactical" (i.e., political) reasons, State thinks these items should be deferred for now. DoD wants them included because the Saudis requested them (the MLRS was in the January 1990 Javits report), the Saudis already have them (the reconnaissance aircraft) and, most important, the Saudis have a military need for them (the tankers). Our feeling is $2.1 billion difference will hardly matter in a package of this magnitude. The fact that most of these items won't be delivered for at least 2-3 years is likely to generate more criticism than the price tag. We therefore support DoD's option.

Approving this package would send a strong signal to the Saudis and Saddam about our commitment to security of this region beyond the current crisis. We are building a stronger Saudi force structure to reduce the need for U.S. forces in a future contingency. We agree with state that determined Cabinet-level effort will be essential to win congressional support. It also will be imperative that DoD is able to articulate a clear, defensible strategic concept and military rationale to support the package.

It would help for you to encourage Larry Eagleburger and Dick Cheney to agree on one package to send to the President. The last thing we need is a leak about a divided Administration.

Heads of State Correspondence Summary

Prime Minister Hawke of Australia - September 7, 1990
(Received September 10)

PM Hawke acknowledges your September 7th message and supports your efforts to continue good U.S.-Soviet relations in light of the first post-cold war crisis. He appreciates your addition of arms control and Cambodia to the summit agenda.

President Ozal of Turkey - September 3,1990
(Received September 10)

President Ozal appreciates your efforts to generate international assistance to compensate for Turkish losses as a result of the sanctions against Iraq. He asks that you consider relaxing current trade restrictions by increasing Turkey's textile quotas to the U.S. by 100 percent. He is also seeking similar measures from the EC and Japan.

President Lacalle of Uruguay - August 31, 1990
(Received September 10)

President Lacalle acknowledges your 20 August message and hopes that you can reschedule your visit to Uruguay soon. He appreciates your support on Uruguay's IMF debt. He would also like to meet with you in late September when he attends UN Summit for Children.

President Cristiani of El Salvador - August 21, 1990
(Received September 12)

President Cristiani commends your "Initiative for the Americas" and offers his full support.

President Borja of Ecuador - August 9, 1990
(Received September 12)

President Borja praises your "Initiative for the Americas". He notes that the Andean presidents met during President Gaviria's inauguration and agreed that a meeting with you should be arranged to further discuss the Initiative.

PRES NOTED SUMMARY

PRESIDENCIA DE LA REPUBLICA

Quito, a 9 de agosto de 1990.

Excmo. Señor
George Bush,
PRESIDENTE DE LOS ESTADOS UNIDOS DE AMERICA
Washington.-

Señor Presidente:

Mi visita a Washington me proporcionó la satisfacción de intercambiar con usted puntos de vista sobre la mejor manera de profundizar las relaciones entre nuestros dos países, en términos de mutuo respeto y de recíproco beneficio, que usted y yo consideramos deben conformar el marco de la amistad y cooperación que ambos queremos consolidar.

Me complace poner de relieve la franqueza y cordialidad de nuestro diálogo, a la vez que le reitero mi positiva reacción ante su "Iniciativa para las Américas", la cual contiene elementos muy útiles para una negociación que permitirá hacer de este plan un factor de desarrollo para el hemisferio y la base para una nueva etapa de la vinculación hemisférica, más equitativa, fructífera y solidaria.

Durante la reciente reunión de Los Presidentes Andinos en Bogotá, con motivo de la posesión del Presidente Gaviria, expuse a mis colegas la conveniencia de reunirnos con usted para un análisis de este tema, con la porfundidad que tan importante asunto amerita. Todos estuvimos de acuerdo en esta posibilidad, para una época que podríamos acordar por los canales diplomáticos de conformidad con su agenda y la de los Presidentes andinos.

Al reiterarle mi agradecimiento por sus gentiles atenciones durante mi visita oficial a Washington, le expreso el testimonio de mi mejor consideración y estima.

Rodrigo Borja,
PRESIDENTE DEL ECUADOR

FROM THE PRESIDENT

TO: Marlin/Roman

Please review my speech.

What are they talking about?

If Tunisian and Jordan press have people here I think this is really worth correcting.

We must not send signals of an on-going US presence in the Gulf. Our thrust is: ALL U.S. forces out asap.

CC: Gen. Scowcroft

BAHRAIN: Bahraini press focused on the President Bush's tough stance against Iraq. Two major newspapers headlined the President's statements that we "will not allow Iraq to annex Kuwait" and that Saddam "will fail." The Gulf Daily News referred to the President's speech as forthright. (U)

JORDAN: Jordanian press sharply criticized the speech. Most newspapers focused on the President's assertion that US forces will remain in the region after the end of the crisis. al-Dustur referred to the "arrogance" of the speech and attacked the President's "colonialist designs" and "lust for power". (U) what assertion?

TUNISIA: The Tunisian press highlighted the US's intention to remain in the area after the resolution of the crisis and what Tunisians said to be our determination to topple Saddam. (U)

UNITED ARAB EMIRATES: UAE press, like the Bahraini, stressed the President's determination to oust Iraq from Kuwait. Editorials praised the speech's tough line. (U)

COLOMBIA: The perception of leading media was that the budget deficit is as important to the President as the Persian Gulf crisis. There have not been any editorial comments on the speech yet. (U)

AUSTRALIA: Australian media reported that the President's speech contained no new initiatives but came closer than ever to saying the US might use military force rather than accept long-term Iraqi occupation of Kuwait. Another report proclaimed that Saddam ought to be concerned over the recent Helsinki summit since it appeared that President Bush sought and received Gorbachev's clearance should US forces have to attack key Iraqi installations. (U)

JAPAN: Reporting featured highlights of the President's speech while editorials proclaimed Japan ought to give serious consideration to the President's calls for assistance in sharing

MEMORANDUM FOR BRENT SCOWCROFT

Natl Sec Advisor has seen

THROUGH: RICHARD N. HAASS

FROM: C. DAVID WELCH

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with Israeli Defense Minister Arens, Monday, September 17, 4:30 p.m.

Arens is likely to raise Israeli arms requests and intelligence needs; he may raise contingency planning, but is more likely to put down a marker for maintaining close consultations on Iraq. Dick Cheney will cover Israeli arms and intelligence requests and brief Arens on the 1.4(d) [redacted]. We suggest that you use the meeting to go over where we are in the Gulf crisis, emphasizing the U.S.-Israel dimension.

A key impression to convey is a feeling of greater confidence and security in the close consultative relationship with Israel during this difficult period. You should refer to the letters from the President, Cheney, and Powell to their counterparts, and to the very productive Ivry visit. The recent letter from Shamir to the President was reassuring about Israel's sense of the necessity to keep a lower profile. We have increased our understanding of Israeli concerns about the Gulf situation, and they in turn understand what we have at stake.

A couple of warning flags... First, although it is not technically his portfolio, Arens may ask about the Helsinki Summit as a way to note Israeli (Likud) concerns about bringing the Soviets into the peace process, particularly to an international conference. A good reply would be to downplay the place of this issue at Helsinki, while noting that we maintain our policy on an international conference (useful at the right time, properly structured, facilitate direct negotiations, et cetera). Second, Arens may note Israeli interest in FMS debt forgiveness. The riposte is that Israel can pay its debts (thus it would be more of a precedent for Turkey, Pakistan, et al); Congress has already assured that Israeli ESF never goes below their debt service to us; and, FMS debt service due is declining in the coming years, not rising as Egypt's will be if not cancelled.

MEMORANDUM FOR BRENT SCOWCROFT

THROUGH: CONDOLEEZZA RICE CR

FROM: NICHOLAS BURNS NB

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with Ambassador to Turkey Mort Abramowitz: Thursday, September 20, 1990; 4:30 p.m.

Ambassador Abramowitz asked to see you briefly to review preparations for the President's September 25 meeting and working lunch with President Ozal of Turkey. Condi Rice will sit in.

The President will meet Ozal for a brief photo op and possible one-on-one in the Oval Office, followed by a short expanded meeting in the Cabinet Room and a working lunch in the Old Family Dining Room. The two Presidents will make statements on the South Lawn following the lunch.

Ambassador Abramowitz will likely raise with you our objectives for the Ozal meeting. He believes that, while Ozal's actions in the Gulf crisis have been most helpful to us, Ozal is out ahead of many in his government and in the public at large. Besides a good discussion of our cooperation in the Gulf, Abramowitz thinks Ozal should come away from the meeting with some tangible expressions of U.S. support, as follows:

-- Textiles: Ozal wrote the President (attached at Tab 1) requesting a one hundred percent expansion in Turkey's textile quota with us. This is his number one objective in the meeting. All agencies agree that the President should tell Ozal that we will open negotiations quickly on a new textile agreement with the intention of substantially improving our market for Turkish textiles. Carla Hills has agreed to tackle this urgently and with sympathy.

-- Security Assistance: Ozal will want an FY91 FMS level at least as high as last year ($500 million). We have told the Turks consistently we will do our best to go beyond the House cap of $430 million. Ozal will press for a new purchase of F-16s and for foreign sales of Turkish-built F-16s.

-- Ozal will be looking for our support for Turkey's EC application (Secretary Baker already told him we would be helpful). He would also like the President to agree to visit Turkey in 1991. Eisenhower was the last American President to visit Ankara, and we will want to consider a visit in 1991.

AO/1356 September 2, 1990

Dear Mr. President:

I have been asked by Prime Minister Shamir to transmit to you the following message:

"Dear Mr. President,

I thank you for your letter of 27 August 1990 and for your understanding and appreciation of our position in the current crisis.

Our restraint, to which you referred, derives from a perception of priorities that is very close to those of the U.S. and we intend to maintain this course.

We fully share the U.S. view that Saddam Hussein should be prevented from injecting the Arab-Israel conflict into the Kuwait issue and triggering a confrontation with us. Nevertheless, he might decide to precipitate such a turn of events by attacking us without any provocation. Since we are dealing with a person such as Saddam Hussein, we must provide for a worse-case eventuality and do everything we can to prevent him from harming our interests.

The present crisis has aggravated and deepened Saddam Hussein's long-standing hostility towards Israel and his ambition to implement his designs against us. Therefore, we are facing a very real and specific danger.

We are also concerned with developments in Jordan. We want to see stability in that country and have no intentions against its government.

These growing dangers have, obviously, increased our defence needs. We are sure that, in these circumstances, we can rely on the U.S. commitment to Israel. There is also a need to expand and deepen communication between the defence establishment of our two countries.

Finally, I want to reiterate my sincere support for your resolute and impressive handling of this crisis. What Saddam Hussein has done is a challenge to the most basic norms of civilized nations. Under your leadership, America has taken up the challenge for all the free world in a manner that will, in the future, deter others from following his example.

I wish you the strength and tenacity to complete the task you have embarked upon successfully.

Washington DC

Finally, I want to re-iterate my sincere support for your resolute and impressive handling of this crisis. What Saddam Hussein has done is a challenge to the most basic norms of civilised nations. Under your leadership, America has taken up the challenge for all the free world in a manner that will, in the future, deter others from following his example.

I wish you the strength and tenacity to complete the task you have embarked upon successfully.

Sincerely,

Yitzhak Shamir

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 20, 1990

Dear General Lessey:

Thanks for your recent note on the status and successes of Selective Service. Your responses to the media were, in my view, right on the mark.

As you know, the Administration remains committed to the registration of eighteen-year-olds and we have steadfastly opposed Congressional initiatives that would cripple the current system.

Sincerely,

Brent Scowcroft

General (Ret.) Samuel K. Lessey, Jr.

The Honorable Brent Scowcroft

First Floor, West Wing
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.

Dear Brent:

Reference the current emergency, I have taken a snapshot review and assessment of the mobilization readiness of Selective Service.

Our strength lies in effective and tested plans, programs, and procedures, and a trained and exercised cadre of mobilization manpower.

Our one weakness is that we are currently below authorized strength in our complement of Reserve Forces Officers because of budget constraints. However, we can still carry out our mission.

Therefore, I can report to you that this Agency is capable of mobilizing the System given the appropriate authorities associated with a national emergency.

On this subject, we have been receiving about 15 - 20 media inquiries a day here at national headquarters, plus a scattering at our six region headquarters. I have had two goals in handling these:

First, to try and calm everyone down, assure them that there are no plans for a draft, and remind them that a draft requires Congressional legislation.

Second, to try and use the media attention to our own benefit by getting out our good story: for example, acceptance of the responsibility of registration by the young men of our nation; the high registration rates of 96 - 99%; the necessity of maintaining continuous registration and a current data base, otherwise we could never conduct a fair and equitable draft; that 1990 is the 50th Anniversary of Selective Service, the Act having been signed by President Roosevelt on 16 September 1940. This struck me as a great opportunity in view of the de Fazio - Hatfield bill and other efforts to put Selective Service out of business.

With regard to longer range matters, I have picked up on the policy theme of "reconstitution" capability, and I noted the President's Aspen speech with special interest. In due course, you may want to mention Selective Service by name in one of the policy statements.

Thank you very much for including Selective Service on the agenda of your breakfast meeting with Secretary Cheney.

Respectfully submitted,

Sam

Deputy Natl Sec Advisor has seen

FROM: MICHAEL HAYDEN

SUBJECT: Response to Letter from the Director of Selective Service

You've received a letter (Tab II) from General Lessey, the Director of Selective Service, reporting his response to media inquiries generated by the crisis in the Gulf. While stressing the success of the current registration system, he has been pointing out that there are no plans for a draft. General Lessey also notes that he has picked up on the theme of "reconstitution" mentioned in the President's Aspen speech and thanks you for your recent discussion with Secretary Cheney reaffirming the need for registration.

As you know, General Lessey has been concerned with the future of registration (and Selective Service overall) and has been looking for opportunities to "lock in" highly visible administration support. At his request we are meeting with him next week at the staff level to receive a briefing on his program. We have also taken care to strengthen DoD reports to Congress opposing changes to Selective Service.

In truth, the theme of "reconstitution" seems to fit well with the continuation of draft registration. At minimum cost it provides a visible symbol of the "readiness to rebuild" which the President identified as "an important element in our ability to deter aggression."

The proposed letter to General Lessey at Tab I restates general support for Selective Service but it is also short -- our effort to discourage any efforts to make you the Administration point man in defending the current system.

MEETING AND LUNCH WITH PRESIDENT TURGUT OZAL OF TURKEY

DATE: September 25, 1990
LOCATION: Oval Office/Old Family Dining Room
TIME: 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.

FROM: BRENT SCOWCROFT

I. PURPOSE

To continue your close consultation with Ozal on the Gulf crisis and to give new impetus to other major issues in the bilateral relationship.

II. BACKGROUND

Your meeting and lunch with Turgut Ozal give you a good opportunity to discuss the Gulf situation in some detail and to assure him of our support on several economic and security issues that are very important to him.
Ozal is in a weak position at home and faces an uncertain political future. He knows that our actions in the Gulf and our conduct of the bilateral relationship could have a profound effect on him. He thus believes this meeting could help to strengthen him in the months ahead when we will need his support on potentially difficult choices in the Gulf.

Ozal comes to Washington having committed himself -- and his country -- to a potentially dangerous Middle East role in an effort to shore up Turkey's credentials as an important ally of the U.S. and Europe. He has been the key figure in his government in pushing Turkey out in front. Without Ozal, we would have had a much more difficult time convincing the Turks to close the oil pipeline from Iraq and to enforce sanctions.

Before the Iraqi invasion, the Turks had feared that events in Europe and the USSR were marginalizing their country, while exposing them to instability on all sides. Turkey's resolute opposition to Saddam's aggression, however, has given its leaders a certain confidence that the West, and specifically the U.S., will now recognize its strategic importance. Ozal thus hopes to return to Ankara with assurances of a new relationship with Washington, plus details on U.S. and international assistance which would help offset the costs of Turkey's crucial closing of its border with Iraq and the pipeline. While Ozal will be direct with you, we do not believe he will raise irritants in the bilateral relationship such as the Armenian Resolution and the 7:10 ratio on U.S. aid to Greece and Turkey.

Ozal has asked to see you one-on-one at the start of the meeting. You might open the meeting by asking Ozal to agree to a renewed commitment to advance our relationship on all fronts. A good first step would be your offer to visit Turkey sometime this fall or in 1991. Ozal would be delighted. He and many of his countrymen are well aware that the last American President to visit Ankara was Dwight Eisenhower. It would be tangible evidence of your desire to put our relations with Turkey back on a higher plane.

You might then outline for Ozal what we can do for him, and solicit his views on further military and diplomatic cooperation, especially on a Turkish role in possible future security arrangements for the area, and on the possibility of an improvement in Greek-Turkish relations. This sequence would allow you to take the initiative in detailing ways to improve our relationship before engaging in a broader discussion of the issues.

On the Gulf situation, you will want to discuss our efforts to secure international financial support for the hardships Turkey is weathering due to the sanctions.

You should also let him know how we can help through economic and security assistance. Textiles represent a core issue for Ozal. He wrote to you recently (TAB D) to ask for an expansion of the quota for Turkish textile exports to the U.S. You can be the first to tell him that Carla Hills is prepared to open new negotiations in October and to treat his concerns seriously and sympathetically.

He might also ask for your help in lifting our countervailing duties on Turkish steel exports to the U.S. While we can't offer immediate help since there is evidence Turkey is dumping steel in our market, we can promise to work intensively with him to try to resolve the problem. Ozal is determined to have Turkey join the EC. You can tell him we will continue to support Turkey's application with EC leaders. You might also suggest that Secretary Mosbacher lead a Presidential trade mission to Turkey in 1991 and that we have more frequent economic talks to expand trade and investment -- another key concern for Ozal.

Ozal is well aware that the Congress was in a mood to reduce our security assistance levels before the Iraqi invasion. He will now argue that Turkey's strategic importance to us is indisputable and merits at least the same levels as last year. You can tell him that Turkey is one of our priority countries for security assistance in FY-91. We will also help by giving Turkey a large amount of our excess military equipment and by arranging for a new sale of F-16s.

Our military cooperation with the Turks on the Gulf crisis has gone well. We sent F-16s and F-111s to Turkey under previously scheduled exercises, and NATO AWACS are there as well. We have not, however, proposed contingency planning for U.S. use of Turkish bases, or asked the Turks to shift their military in large numbers to the Iraqi border. The Gulf crisis has also caused us to put on hold a decision about a long-term drawdown of our own forces in Turkey.

Given his public's nervousness about having Turkey dragged into a war, we have deferred further military coordination for the moment. We have also not pressed Turkey to offer ground units to Saudi Arabia or ships to the multinational force in the Gulf.

Ozal has, however, maneuvered deftly with his parliament to secure the necessary powers to commit Turkish forces. That could be useful to us during the next stage of the crisis when we might need him to deploy some of his forces.

Finally, you should raise with Ozal, as you did with Mitsotakis in June, our interest in an improved Greek-Turkish relationship and progress on the Cyprus question. You will want to let him know that we have no desire to become a middleman between Turkey and Greece. Ozal should hear from you directly, though, that we want to do everything we can to shore up Mitsotakis who is a vast improvement over Papandreou for both us and the Turks. If Ozal and his colleagues are receptive, we have several suggestions for ways to step forward on Cyprus through small, confidence-building acts.

POINTS TO BE MADE FOR MEETING WITH PRESIDENT TURGUT OZAL

OVERVIEW OF U.S.-TURKISH RELATIONS

-- I am delighted to welcome you and your colleagues again to the White House, Mr. President.

-- Since we last met here in January, we've participated in a historic NATO Summit, witnessed the culmination of the revolutionary events in Eastern Europe, and the impending unification of Germany.

-- And, of course, we have worked closely together since August 2 to deal with a new and dangerous threat to the world order.

-- You and I both remember that before these events, some in Turkey feared your country's role as an ally and friend might diminish due to the many changes in Europe and the USSR.

-- I never thought so, however, and I would like this visit to both reaffirm the importance and vitality of our relationship, and to put any past misunderstandings behind us.

-- We have much to discuss today, including our continued cooperation on the Gulf crisis, and a range of bilateral issues.

-- Before doing so, however, I would like to suggest we agree to remain in close personal contact in the year ahead.

DECLASSIFIED
PER E.O. 13526
2010-0818-MR
E8 8/7/15

-- I am grateful for your visit today, and I hope very much that I might reciprocate by visiting your country soon.

-- You may know that the last American President to visit your country was Dwight Eisenhower more than thirty years ago. That is much too long a time between visits for close friends, and while I cannot yet commit to a specific date, I would like our people to agree on one soon.

GULF CRISIS

-- Turning to the Gulf, I just want to say to you again what I've mentioned on the phone several times: I have really appreciated the many phone conversations and close coordination between us on the Iraqi problem.

-- Turkey has proven itself, under your courageous and principled leadership, to be a dependable friend in a time of need.

-- You can be proud to lead Turkey at this time, and we are proud to be your ally.

-- Your quick closing of the border and pipeline, and your rejection of Saddam's blandishments afterwards, was critically important in securing an effective international response to the invasion.

-- I recognize that Turkey could not have absorbed the economic shock it now faces without your profound reforms and strong growth of the last six years.

-- These are monuments to your time in office as well as to the enterprise of the Turkish people.

-- We've spoken often of the steps we must take to make sure Saddam's aggression does not stand.

SECRET

-- As you know, I believe that if the international community can remain committed to the embargo, Saddam will begin to feel squeezed.

-- What is your assessment of the sanctions? Do you think they have already hurt him in any appreciable way?

-- It is vitally important that we not undercut the integrity of the sanctions. Some would like to abuse the provision for the humanitarian delivery of food. We must not allow humanitarian food deliveries to end up feeding Saddam's army.

-- I would also be interested in your views of Iran's intentions. Have you been in touch with Rafsanjani lately?

-- I am pleased with the build-up of our forces in Saudi Arabia. I'm convinced that we now have the necessary power in place to respond to any event.

-- We do want to be helpful, however, in assisting your military in any possible way. We have tried to respond to your need for intelligence information and will continue to do that.

-- Let's keep in touch on this question as the situation evolves.

-- I would be interested in your views as to how this might work out and how we might keep the peace in your part of the world after this crisis is over.

INTERNATIONAL AID TO TURKEY

-- All of us are keenly aware of the economic burden the Gulf crisis has placed on Turkey.

-- As you know, that is why I felt the international community had to work together to help those countries most affected--namely Turkey, Egypt and Jordan.

-- I want to review specifically what we have tried to do in the last few weeks to ease this problem for you.

-- First, Secretaries Brady and Baker have pressed the case of Turkey literally around the globe. Secretary Baker has already reported the results of these efforts to Foreign Minister Bozer. The commitments have been generous, roughly $20 billion, and we will be in contact with you soon about how they might be disbursed.

-- I was most impressed by the Saudi agreement to provide Turkey with $1.2 billion worth of oil at no cost.

-- Second, we have talked to the World Bank, and it has agreed to disburse its financial sector loan quickly -- which could mean another $400 million for Turkey by the end of this year.

-- We understand the World Bank anticipates it could disburse as much as $1 billion to you in 1991.

-- Third, we have raised over $175 million in pledges for refugee assistance, and we are making an initial part of the U.S. portion available to Turkey for transportation of Asian refugees back home.

-- Let me add that I am truly impressed with what Turkey has done on its own to provide food and shelter to the thousands crossing the border from Iraq, especially the impoverished Bangladeshis and others from the Subcontinent.

-- I trust that these measures will help you to weather the refugee crisis.

ECONOMIC ISSUES

-- I know that you are not looking for aid and I respect that.

-- I also know from your recent letter that textiles are a special concern.

-- We are working to increase Turkey's quota by a very substantial amount, although we might not be able to double it. I have directed Special Trade Representative Carla Hills to address this issue urgently and sympathetically.

-- Ambassador Hills and her staff are prepared to meet with your people this week to discuss this issue. She would also be ready to talk to you about it personally, if you were interested.

-- We would hope to begin formal negotiations on a new agreement with you as early as October.

-- Secretary Baker has also urged the EC to consider liberalizing its restrictions on Turkish exports of textiles.

-- There is more that I would like to do to strengthen our economic ties.

-- U.S. investment in Turkey has grown significantly in recent years. But to strengthen our cooperation further, I would propose that Secretary Mosbacher lead a Presidential trade mission to Turkey in 1991.

-- In addition, Under Secretary of State McCormack will have more detailed discussions with some of your economic officials this week. This should be a regular process between us.

-- I also want you to know that we've weighed in heavily with the EC concerning your eventual membership and on steps like the customs union and aid.

-- Secretary Baker has spoken to the EC in support of your application for membership. We fully support your eventual membership and the achievement of closer ties with the EC in the interim.

-- We will work closely with you to help make this happen.

-- We have also approached the Greeks about EC aid to Turkey. They say that out of solidarity with the world-wide response to Turkey's needs, they raised no objection to the special Gulf funding, but they have not softened their opposition to normal EC aid.

-- We will keep up our efforts with both the EC and, in particular, with our Greek friends.

-- I hope that all of these efforts will serve to build a closer and stronger economic relationship, and help you during a difficult period.

(IF OZAL ASKS FOR THE LIFTING OF DUTIES ON TURKISH STEEL EXPORTS TO THE U.S.)

-- I understand your interest in increasing your steel exports to the U.S.

-- As you know, we have no quotas on Turkish steel, but we have imposed countervailing duties due to complaints from U.S. firms that your government is subsidizing your steel industry.

SECRET

-- This is a very difficult issue but I will ask Secretary of Commerce Mosbacher to review it to see what could be done in the context of our laws and regulations.

-- I hope that, by directing our people to look into this intensively and seriously, we will be able to produce a better arrangement for both of us.

SECURITY ASSISTANCE

-- We were delighted by your decision last week to roll over our Defense and Economic Cooperation Agreement (DECA) until next year.

-- On Security Assistance, the events in the Gulf have demonstrated for all to see the strategic importance of Turkey to NATO and to the U.S.

-- We are going to press Congress to give us as much as possible of the security assistance request we made for Turkey for Fiscal Year 1991 ($545 million in FMS and $50 million in ESF).

-- In any case, we are determined that the amount should not be less than last year ($500 million FMS and $15 million ESF).

-- I can promise you that I'll do my best in a very tough budget year for us. Turkey will be one of our main foreign assistance priorities.

-- I understand you had a detailed conversation on this with Dick Cheney yesterday. Let me review the major elements of how we might help you.

-- We are determined to help you in modernizing your armed forces. We will thus try to make more military equipment available to you.

- I know you have a particular interest in producing and possibly selling F-16s. We want to be supportive. While there are some problems, we are hopeful they can be resolved and we will do all that we can to assist you.
- We think Egyptian F-16s could be built in Turkey, assuming the Egyptians agree.
- We may be able to make some out-year commitments to funding of Turkish F-16s, but that would also require a substantial contribution of funds from Turkey or others.
- These could also be built in Turkey, of course, and we would consider approving third country sales to other Middle East states, as well.
- We have talked to the Germans who have told us they will provide a considerable increase in military aid to you, particularly equipment.
- Furthermore, because of the many sacrifices you have made, we are making a special effort to locate equipment for you and to expedite its transfer.
- I am very pleased, for example, that we will be able to provide you with F-4E and S-2 aircraft and C-130 aircraft, and also the lease of the Adams Class Missile Destroyers which will strengthen your military capabilities.
- As Secretary Cheney mentioned to you, we will continue to look for additional items which could be helpful to you.

~~SECRET~~

- You will also be receiving U.S. equipment including sizeable quantities of M60 A3 tanks, M113 armored personnel carriers and M110 8-inch howitzers from our European inventories.
- We could also work to establish a war reserve stockpile in Turkey, like the one in Israel. This could cut your costs sharply.

-- Finally, I have asked Secretaries Brady and Baker and Mosbacher to investigate renewing the legislation which permitted us to guarantee, through the Export-Import Bank, $1.4 billion in credits for military helicopters.

-- My hope is that we could repeat this exercise for other purchases.

TURKISH-GREEK RELATIONS

-- I know that this is a sensitive and difficult issue for you. The last thing I want to do is create problems for you. But let me offer some ideas that we think might help.

-- I like and respect Mitsotakis. We had a good first meeting here in June and I plan to keep in close contact with him.

-- As you know, he has a very slim majority in Parliament, and we want to do everything possible to support him.

-- He is much better for us, and better for you, too, I think. He is under pressure from an opposition which does not want economic and diplomatic change. He is a reformer. You should meet him part way.

-- We welcome the dialogue you have opened with the Mitsotakis government and I would be interested in hearing how your discussions have gone thus far.

-- Mitsotakis raised Cyprus with me when we met.

-- I told him I supported the Secretary General's negotiations and our belief that movement from one side would have to be matched by movement from the other.

-- I would like to keep in touch with you on this. It seems to us that progress on Cyprus or perhaps on the Aegean seabed could help shift Greek and European attitudes on EC questions.

-- If you agree, our special Cyprus coordinator, Nelson Ledsky, could follow up with Foreign Minister Bozer on some of these issues.

Ali BOZER
(Phonetic: boZEHR)

TURKEY

Foreign Minister
(since 21 February 1990)

Addressed as: Mr. Minister

A respected jurist and close associate of President Turgat Ozal, Ali Bozer was named Foreign Minister upon the resignation of his predecessor, Mesut Yilmaz. He is unlikely to alter the pro-Western orientation of Ankara's foreign policy. As Deputy Minister of State since March 1989 and Minister of State for EC Affairs from 1986 until receiving his current post, Bozer was Turkey's point man in the country's bid for EC membership. He served briefly as Interim Prime Minister after Ozal's election to the presidency in November 1989. Bozer emphasizes that "Turkey's place is in Europe" and regards the December 1989 EC commission report on Turkey's application for full membership as a positive step. The report recognized Turkish eligibility but delayed any negotiations on the issue until at least 1993. 1.4(c); 1.4(d); 3.5(c)
1.4(c); 1.4(d); 3.5(c) He is strongly concerned with the human rights issue, which he recognizes as a major factor in the attitudes of the EC and the United States toward Turkey. 1.4(c); 1.4(d); 3.5(c)

Bozer was elected to parliament in 1983 as one of the founding members of the now-defunct Nationalist Democratic Party. He joined Ozal's Motherland Party (ANAP) in 1986 and was almost immediately given the EC portfolio. Bozer is aligned with the liberal faction within ANAP. 1.4(c); 1.4(d); 3.5(c)

Bozer was born on 28 July 1925 in Ankara. He is a graduate of the University of Ankara and has a doctorate in law from the University of Neuchatel in Switzerland. During 1955-56 he studied tax law at Harvard. He has been a law professor and has served on the International Court of Justice and the Council of Europe's human rights court. During the early 1980s Bozer was Minister of Customs and Monopolies in the military government of Bulend Ulusu. 1.4(c); 1.4(d); 3.5(c)

1.4(c); 1.4(d); 3.5(c) He speaks excellent English and French. He enjoys music and the theater. Bozer and his wife, Nurten, have three sons, all of whom have received master's degrees in the United States. 1.4(c); 1.4(d); 3.5(c)

SUBJECT: SADRUDDIN'S MANDATE REMAINS UNCLEAR; TRAVEL TO IRAN AND TURKEY PLANNED FOR LATER THIS WEEK
1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT
~BEGIN SUMMARY~
2. SUMMARY: IN SEPTEMBER 24 CONVERSATION WITH AMBASSADOR, SADRUDDIN AGA KHAN SEEMED UNWILLING TO INCLUDE DISTRIBUTION OF FOOD UNDER HIS MANDATE, EVEN IF THE IRAQIS LET HIM INTO BAGHDAD. NOR WAS IT CLEAR HOW HARD HE WOULD PRESS THE IRAQIS ABOUT RELEASING WESTERN HOSTAGES IF WESTERN GOVERNMENTS ASKED HIM TO. SADRUDDIN WAS CONCERNED ABOUT CONDITIONS IN JORDAN, ESPECIALLY AFTER THE CUT OFF OF SAUDI OIL. HE SAID THIS WOULD ONLY UNIFY JORDANIANS BEHIND KING HUSSEIN. SADRUDDIN IS GOING TO TEHRAN, ANKARA AND POSSIBLY AMMAN AT THE END OF THE WEEK; HE WILL ASK THE IRANIANS TO OPEN A BORDER CROSSING. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED WHAT THE SECRETARY HAD TOLD HIM ABOUT HIS MANDATE: SADRUDDIN SAID THAT THE SECRETARY GENERAL SAID "FLEXIBILITY WAS THE KEY" AND THE MANDATE SHOULD NOT BE DEFINED TOO PRECISELY. THE SECRETARY GENERAL IS WAITING FOR A REPLY TO HIS REQUEST TO THE IRAQIS TO RECEIVE SADRUDDIN. SADRUDDIN SEEMED UNCHARACTERISTICALLY UNCOMFORTABLE DURING THIS CONVERSATION. HE SEEMS CAUGHT BETWEEN THE WESTERN GOVERNMENTS, WHO WANT HIM INVOLVED IN THE OVERSIGHT OF FOOD AND THEIR OWN HOSTAGES, AND THE NEED FOR IRAQI COOPERATION IN EVACUATING ASIAN GUEST WORKERS. (THE UK GAVE HIM SEPTEMBER 24 A LIST OF HUMANITARIAN CASES TO PRESENT TO THE GOI.) END SUMMARY.
~END SUMMARY~
3. AMBASSADOR CALLED ON SADRUDDIN AGA KHAN SEPTEMBER 24 FOR A READOUT OF HIS TRIP TO THE MIDDLE EAST AND HIS DISCUSSIONS WITH THE SECRETARY GENERAL IN NEW YORK SEPTEMBER 21. SADRUDDIN SPENT THREE DAYS IN JORDAN VISITING REFUGEE CAMPS. HE SAID HE WAS CONCERNED ABOUT THE SITUATION IN JORDAN, ESPECIALLY SINCE THE SAUDIS HAD JUST CUT OFF OIL SHIPMENTS (FOR NON-PAYMENT OF THE TAPLINE BILL) UNLESS JORDAN CAN GET "THE HELP IT DESERVES." IN RESPONSE TO THE AMBASSADOR'S QUESTIONS (SINCE SADRUDDIN HAD BEEN THE HOUSE GUEST OF THE KING AND CROWN PRINCE), SADRUDDIN SAID THE GOVERNMENT IS EXTREMELY POPULAR. THE SAUDI DECISION WILL ONLY STRENGTHEN KING HUSSEIN'S POSITION, SINCE THE PALESTINAINS AND THE JORDANIANS SEE KING HUSSEIN AS UNFAIRLY VICTIMIZED.
4. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED WHY MORE OF THE ASIAN GUEST WORKERS TRAPPED INSIDE IRAQ AND KUWAIT HAD NOT BEEN ABLE TO GET OUT: SADRUDDIN REPLIED THAT SOME WERE UNDER CONTRACT TO IRAQI FIRMS, AND MANY WERE BROKE. HE SAID HE WAS REASONABLY HOPEFUL THAT HE COULD PERSUADE IRAQ TO PERMIT DIRECT FLIGHTS FROM BAGHDAD. TO DO THIS, IT WAS IMPORTANT TO "DELINK" THE IRAQI PERCEPTION THAT RESOLUTION 666 (THAT IS, ITS PROVISIONS ON OVERSIGHT OF FOOD DISTRIBUTION) AND HIS MISSION, WHICH WAS TO MOVE ASIAN GUEST WORKERS OUT OF IRAQ AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, WERE ANY ANY WAY RELATED. HE REPEATED THAT RESOLUTION 666 HAD BEEN PASSED TWO DAYS AFTER HE HAD BEEN APPOINTED.

5. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED ABOUT SYG'S PLANS FOR OVERSEEING FOOD DISTRIBUTION FROM THE INDIAN SHIP. HE SAID THE IRAQIS WERE "EXTREMELY SENSITIVE" ABOUT SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION 666, WHICH THEY BELIEVED DISCRIMINATED AGAINST VULNERABLE GROUPS, SUCH AS IRAQI WOMEN AND CHILDREN. THE IRAQIS HAD SENT A MESSAGE THAT THE RESOLUTION WAS HUMILIATING; THAT THE UN HAD NO BUSINESS TO QUESTION THE ABILITY OF IRAQ TO DISTRIBUTE FOOD. SADRUDDIN SAID HE WAS WELL AWARE THAT ASIANS WERE EXCLUDED FROM THE RATIONING SYSTEM, AND THAT IRAQ WAS LARGELY INDIFFERENT TO THEIR FATE.

6. SADRUDDIN SAID HE WOULD LEAVE AT THE END OF THE WEEK FOR IRAN AND TURKEY. IN TURKEY, THE SITUATION SEEMS TO BE UNDER CONTROL. IN IRAN, SADRUDDIN WOULD ENCOURAGE THE GOVERNMENT TO OPEN THE BORDER AND OFFER UN ASSISTANCE.

7. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED SADRUDDIN HOW THE SECRETARY GENERAL WAS DEFINING SADRUDDIN'S MANDATE. SADRUDDIN HESITATED, THEN SAID THAT THE SECRETARY GENERAL DID NOT BELIEVE HIS MANDATE SHOULD BE DEFINED TOO PRECISELY. "FLEXIBILITY," HE SAID, WAS THE WATCHWORD OF HIS MANDATE

BUT THERE WAS AN "EMPHASIS" ON THIRD COUNTRY (I.E. NON-WESTERN) NATIONALS.

8. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED IFSADRUDDIN COULD SEE SADDAM HUSSEIN, WOULD HE RAISE THE ISSUE OF THE WESTERN HOSTAGES? THE AMBASSADOR ADDED THAT HE DID NOT RECALL EVEN HITLER USING HOSTAGES AS HUMAN SHIELDS FOR MILITARY TARGETS. SADRUDDIN SAID HE WOULD DISCUSS THIS SPECIFIC POINT WITH THE SECRETARY GENERAL, BUT HE COULD SEE NO OBJECTION TO RAISING IT WITH THE IRAQIS.

9. THE AMBASSADOR OBSERVED THAT THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE EMBARGO DEPENDS ON INTERNATIONAL SUPERVISION. SADRUDDIN SAID, OF COURSE, IT WAS NOT FOR HIM TO QUESTION THE SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTIONS. HE WAS BOUND TO ABIDE BY THEM AS AN INTERNATIONAL CIVIL SERVANT. HOWEVER, HE WAS SURE THE IRAQIS WOULD COUNTER THAT THE SECURITY COUNCIL DECISIONS WERE NOT MEANT TO BRING HARM TO VULNERABLE GROUPS IN IRAQ. IRAQ'S POSITION, SADRUDDIN SAID, WOULD BE TO ASK "HOW COULD YOU CREATE CATEGORIES IN HUMAN SUFFERING." THE AMBASSADOR SAID THAT SADRUDDIN COULD REPLY TO THE IRAQIS THAT THE RESOLUTIONS OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL WERE DESIGNED TO PREVENT THE GREAT CATASTROPHE OF WAR; THUS THEIR PURPOSE WAS PROFOUNDLY HUMANITARIAN. SADRUDDIN SAID THAT IF THE PROBLEM OF THE GUEST WORKERS WERE NOT RESOLVED SOON, CNN WOULD FOCUS ON THE STARVATION OF INNOCENT PEOPLE. AUDIENCES WORLDWIDE WOULD BEGIN TO SAY THAT WAS NOT WHAT THE SANCTIONS WERE SUPPOSED TO DO.

10. THE AMBASSADOR ASKED ABOUT PRACTICAL STEPS TO MOVE THE ASIAN DISPLACED PERSONS MOVED OUT OF IRAQ. SADRUDDIN SAID HE WAS DISCUSSING PLANS WITH THE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION ON MIGRATION (IOM). HE SAID THE IRAQI POSITION ON DIRECT FLIGHTS FROM BAGHDAD WAS NOT YET CLEAR: IT WAS POSSIBLE THAT THEY COULD INSIST ON IRAQI AIR CHARTERS.

DISPATCH INSTRUCTIONS:

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 24, 1990

FOR: THE PRESIDENT

FROM: BRENT SCOWCROFT

SUBJECT: Telephone Calls to Chairman Whitten and Congressman Conte.

DATE: September 24, 1990

PURPOSE: To request support for unconditional Egyptian debt forgiveness

BACKGROUND: The House Appropriations Committee will be marking up the DoD Desert Shield Supplemental Tuesday Morning at 9:30. Currently the package does not include provisions for forgiving Egyptian Debt. Dave Obey is sympathetic but the political reality was that Egyptian Debt forgiveness would not pass in his Foreign Opns. Subcommittee. Obey intends to offer an alternative amendment during the Tuesday markup which would waive Brooke-Alexander and put a moritorium on all Egyptian FMS interest payments. This does not go far enough.

SUGGESTED TIMES: Before 9:30 A.M. Tuesday, Preferably this evening

TOPIC OF DISCUSSION: Egyptian debt forgiveness

POINTS TO BE MADE FOR TELEPHONE CONVERSATION WITH CHAIRMAN WHITTEN AND CONGRESSMAN CONTE

-- I'm calling to ask your help on the Egyptian Debt issue when the committee addresses the Desert Shield Supplemental on Tuesday morning.

-- I understand that the Egyptian Debt is currently separated from the Desert Shield Supplemental.

-- With Mubarak's neck on the line, we really need to move this. Inaction or adverse action now could seriously undermine Mubarak at home.

-- We both know that Egypt's debt was unpayable before the crisis and the severe hardship brought on by the Gulf crisis makes it all the more imperative to forgive the debt now.

-- I hate to see us risk losing this unprecedented international coalition against Saddam.

-- I'm calling (The Chairman/Sil Conte) to ask him to work with you to put the Egyptian Debt language I sent up back on the DoD Supplemental. I understand Jack Murtha is supportive as well.

-- As I understand it, the compromise language Dave Obey is thinking of offering just doesn't go far enough to do the job.

-- We've got to have unconditional debt forgiveness to keep our Gulf policy together.
