From the Private Secretary

20th December 1992

Dear Brent,

Once again you did us proud. We could not have had a more enjoyable weekend. It was the first time we had decent weather for weeks and I hope we did not look too obviously somnolent. I am glad in many ways to be moving on. To retire under a new regime would not be the same. As it is,

I have the warmest memories of both Balmoral and Camp David and will treasure them.

I am most grateful to you for all your help over the last couple of years. I hope when you have a little more leisure that you will come and visit us in Lisbon.

I shall anyway be in London about finding a date for the lunch or dinner the Prime Minister would like to give in your honour.

Thanks again for a splendid weekend.

Yours, Stephen (WALL)
