Dear Lex:

This is to confirm our phone conversation relative to your participation in the Atlanta Interagency Conference on Rehabilitation Engineering scheduled at the Atlanta Hilton August 26-31.

I deeply appreciate your willingness to participate in Session II under Home and Public Buildings. As you know, these particular sessions cover such group topics as demonstration houses, remodeling of universities, buildings, hotels, independent living and special problems of the aged. I would appreciate your availability to make opening remarks on Tuesday the 28th relative to independent living and would further request your participation in all of the small group sessions on Wednesday and Thursday and a wrap up session Friday. The sessions run from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon each of the respective days.

If you have not already done so, I would further suggest that you send in your registration fee and make reservations at the hotel. There is a $250 stipend available to help offset some of your expenses associated with this trip.

I will be happy to provide you with any additional information upon request. I appreciate your interest in participating in this technical workshop.

I am looking forward to seeing you in Atlanta.

Sincerely,

John F. Jonas, Jr.
Executive Vice President

Dear Mr. Frieden:

Because of your interest in improving information systems concerning technical devices to aid persons with disabilities, I invite you to participate in a technical workshop on this subject to be held as part of the Interagency Conference on Rehabilitation Engineering, Atlanta, GA, August 26 through 31, 1979.

As you probably already know, during the mornings of Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, a series of technical workshops are planned. These workshops will deal with a number of vital areas related to Rehabilitation Engineering and are by invitation only. We plan a workshop of about 20 participants who, working together in small groups, will, we hope, come up with specific recommendations to assist the National Institute on Handicapped Research as it develops its plans and priorities for the future.

Recognizing the vital need for improved sources of data and systems to make information available to the many groups and persons in the nation who seek information about Rehabilitation Engineering devices, the National Science Foundation, in collaboration with the Rehabilitation Services Administration (now the NIHR), sponsored a workshop on information at the Sheraton National Hotel in Arlington, VA, on June 7-8, 1979. If you were there, you know that a good start was made but that much needs to be done. I visualize the workshop in Atlanta to be something of a continuation of this previous workshop. I expect that a number of participants of the June workshop will participate in Atlanta, but that others representing some groups needing information and others with information to provide, will also be involved.

The Planning Committee, which includes myself, Dr. Helga Roth and Ms. Jane McCarroll, with a special assist from the Program Chairman of the Conference, Mr. Douglas Hobson, is putting together a detailed agenda at this time. In general, it will cover three main tasks:

1. To define the classes of persons and groups who need Rehabilitation Engineering information, to categorize the types of Rehabilitation Engineering information potentially available, and to develop a matrix cross-correlating these various needs with the various categories and forms of information.
2. To develop a vocabulary or lexicon of key words relating to Rehabilitation Engineering information that could be adopted and used in common by the many providers of information and taught to the users of information to assist them in gaining access.
3. To develop a national network or linkage among the users and suppliers of information.

I believe that the workshop could essentially complete Item 1 above, but obviously can only discuss Items 2 and 3. I presume the recommendations of the workshop would be in the form of suggestions and/or plans for continuing the process of working on these items.

I sincerely hope you will decide to join with us in this important task. The meeting as a whole promises to be an exciting one with many exhibits and other activities (in fact, so many that I am concerned about holding our workshop group together). Please let us know on the enclosed return card as soon as possible of your decision.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Lex:

It was a pleasure speaking with you. Thank you for agreeing to serve on our panel during our forthcoming VR training conference, May 8-9, at the Sheraton in Houston.

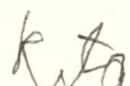

The panel will be held on May 8th, 7:30-9:00 p.m. Its theme will be: "An Insider's View of the Disability Rights Movement." Your co-panelists will include Pat Pound, Lee Kitchens, and one or two other consumers who will be getting back in touch with me later today.

The workshop itself will differ slightly from last year's sessions in two ways. First, we will be focusing heavily on the Rehabilitation, Comprehensive Services, and Developmental Disabilities Amendments of 1978. Second, we would like to feature more emphasis on team building between professionals and consumers, particularly during the small group sessions. We would, therefore, be very pleased if 5 or 6 members of your local coalition could join us during the day sessions.

The workshop times are as follows: May 8 - 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Lunch and dinner (5:30 - 7:00 p.m.) will be provided, and we'd be delighted to have you and members of your coalition join us. May 9 - 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Lunch is included and, again, you and the other consumers are most welcome. We will reimburse travel expenses for all participants. If possible, I would appreciate the names of the coalition people who will attend so that I can draw up the roster for the small groups.

Again, thank you --- see you soon.

Sincerely,

Dear Lex:

Thank you for helping us to organize the consumer panel for our workshop on, "The Role of Self-Help Groups in Rehabilitation," held in Houston on May 8, 1979. Rehabilitation officials throughout the country know about the vital work you have done in your New Options. I was particularly pleased that you could join us for this year's series of workshops because they emphasized the independent living provisions of the 1978 Amendments.

I am enclosing a copy of the list of participants for the Houston Workshop. Again, thank you, and take care.

A quiet car, a roaring success.

The New Chevrolet.

1979 Caprice Sedan in Silver Classic Custom Two-Tone.

If you can take your eyes off this handsome car long enough to go ride in one, you'll surely come away with a clearer understanding of why America has driven it to the top.

The quiet zone.

One of the most pleasing aspects of The New Chevrolet is the quiet way it moves. Why so quiet?

For one thing, its tightly welded Body by Fisher rests snugly atop a sturdy full-perimeter frame, joined by 16 strategically placed rubber mounts to help muffle road noise and vibration.

Inside, the ceiling is actually an "acoustical sandwich," with a thick layer of sound-absorbing polyfoam backed by hardboard and finished in fine fabric.

Oh so comfortable.

The ride is impressively smooth and comfortable.

Large coil springs at all four wheels help soak up the bumps, while a front stabilizer bar helps control sway.

And to add to your comfort, The New Chevrolet surrounds you with generous space. It's a 6-passenger car, with more head room and rear-seat leg room than the 1976 full-size Chevrolet it replaced.

An accomplished car.

No other new generation full-size car can match The New Chevrolet's record of success and accomplishment.

It became America's best-selling car within weeks of its introduction, in the fall of 1976.

It attracted more than a million buyers during its first two years.

And now, in its third big year, it is still clearly America's favorite car and the pacesetter for all other cars of its kind.

The New Chevrolet has paid its dues under diverse driving conditions on virtually every kind of road. Yet for all its success and experience, it is still one of the newest new cars on the market today.

Own it, love it.

Our feedback indicates a high level of owner satisfaction with The New Chevrolet.

What pleases the people the most? Things like ride, comfort, and ease of handling. Things you can easily check out for yourself when you test drive a New Chevrolet Caprice or Impala.

Do it soon, at your Chevrolet dealer.

America has driven it to the top.

Dear Lex:

We wish to express our appreciation for your valuable contribution to the program for the National Conference on Independent Living on July 16-18. We were very pleased with the reaction of the group. The overall ratings on the evaluations were excellent so we feel it was worth all the effort everyone made.

We are enclosing an honorarium of $100.00 plus your expenses.

Rehabilitation Services Administration
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20201

SEP 4 1979

Mr. Lex Frieden

Houston, Texas 77063

Dear Mr. Frieden:

We are pleased that you will be able to assist the Rehabilitation Services Administration in its non-Federal review of new applications submitted under the Independent Living (Part B, Title VII) Grant Program. You have been appointed to review applications in this area.

These applications will be reviewed in a 3-day meeting, to be held in the Skyline Inn, South Capitol and I Streets, SW., Washington, D.C., telephone number (202) 488-7500, on September 19-21, 1979. The meeting will begin at 9:00 AM in a designated room in Skyline Inn.

You will be expected to review and rate applications on the basis of evaluative criteria and priorities established by the Rehabilitation Services Administration in Information Memorandum RSA-IM-79-53. In addition, you will be required to provide written comments on each application you review, including suggestions for improvement. Your evaluation and comments will be fully considered by the Rehabilitation Services Administration in its funding decision on each application.

You will serve as presenter for a specified number of applications and, as such, will be responsible for providing an initial overview of the proposal. Then, after group discussion, you will develop a written summary of the review group's findings on the strengths and weaknesses of the proposal and the review group's recommendations to the Rehabilitation Services Administration.

Ordinarily, we send copies of the applications to you for review at home. However, due to delays beyond our control and the urgency to complete the reviews in time to meet our fiscal year deadlines, we are not able to do this. Consequently, after a brief orientation, we are setting aside the first day (September 19) of the meeting for reading. Copies of the Information Memorandum and Program Regulation Guide are enclosed. A meeting agenda, application instructions, and evaluation forms for each application will be provided for your use at the orientation.

Actual travel and per diem costs @ $50 will be reimbursed to you and a consultant fee of $100 per day will be provided. The HEW Office of the Secretary will be forwarding you a consultant services contract covering these costs.

If you should need additional information about the meeting and your responsibilities as a reviewer, please feel free to call Agnes Magnino, Project Officer, Peer Review, (202) 245-0758.

We very much appreciate your willingness to participate in our first Independent Living review.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Freiden:

Under a grant from the U.S. Fire Protection Administration, the American Institute of Architects Research Corporation is coordinating a series of workshops on "Life Safety and the Handicapped." The six workshop topics include Building Codes, Education, Products, Emergency Preparedness, Building Design, and Consumer Interests. I have been asked to serve as Chairman for the Consumer Interests Workshop. My first task is to assemble a group of disabled consumer representatives for the session to be held in Washington, D.C., on September 17.

Our workshop will consist of six to eight people who will meet to discuss and gather data and recommendations on fire safety for disabled people in buildings. We will be attempting to determine what is known about the subject, what areas need research, and your recommendations on fire safety procedures from a consumer point of view.

The data gathered will be used to organize a later symposium on fire safety at the National Bureau of Standards.

I would like to invite you to participate in my workshop session on September 17.

STATEMENT SHEET

VA Facility: Palo Alto
Principal
Investigator: GOODRICH, G.

Development of a Personal Information System for the Visually Impaired.

A. The primary objective of the proposed project is to develop a personal information system for visually impaired people.

B. The rationale for this proposed study is sound and the questions to be addressed are important. However, it is this reviewers opinion that the design and method chosen to answer these questions should be reevaluated.

Why is it necessary to use a PDP 11/34 to start with? Why not use a more portable system to begin with? It would seem that any advantages the PDP 11/34 may have are far outweighed by its disadvantages.

Why have the investigators chosen a virtual single subject design? Why should not several subjects be recruited to use the system, thus obtaining more data and decreasing the chances of having data biased by one individual. Furthermore, how can the primary system developer adequately evaluate the system during the developmental stages without substantial input from other potential consumers?

Other important questions are not answered by this proposal. For example: Exactly what roles will the principal investigator and other members of the WBRC staff play in the conduct of this study? Why is it necessary to purchase computer terminals for Stanford?

In summary, it would seem that several questions should be answered before this project is undertaken as proposed. Most important among the questions raised here are those which related to the efficacy of the design itself.

C. The proposed investigators appear to be well qualified to address the proposed questions.

D. Resources to be used appear adequate.

E. No comments.

Dear Lex and Jean:

We are delighted you are coming and look forward to it.

We have booked two rooms at the Lake Shore Holiday Inn for you the night of the 12th. They will send confirmations to you directly. If your attendant prefers a separate room please let us know, and we will book it. I forgot to ask you on the phone. The address is 644 North Lake Shore Drive.

It seems we have no vans available so you will have to rely on taxis which are not hard to find, but you will have to transfer! We will give you expense forms when you get here so that you will be reimbursed for everything.

I am enclosing a tentative schedule for your visit and would like your comments, etc., before it is finalized. We plan to make the meeting at 2 p.m. Monday open to the community at large, and then show the video tape again for anyone who has not seen it.

Dear Lex:

I am thrilled that you and Jean Cole will be able to come to Chicago. I will start praying for good weather now.

I've looked at our calendar and March 1, 13, 14 and 15 are best for us (of the dates we discussed), but, of course, we can be flexible depending on your schedule.

I am enclosing a copy of our preliminary report. Some of our thinking has changed since it was written, but it does give you an idea of what we have in mind.

As far as the program for the day is concerned, I'd like to have a general session for the medical center as a whole and consumers on independent living in general and the New Options Program in specific. The rest of the day I'd like you to meet with individuals who will be involved in specific aspects of the program:

- Social Skills training/peer counseling
- Management/Organization
- Third party payers/DVR
- Placement
- Advocacy
- Research

You've had more experience in training others about your program so I would appreciate your suggestions about how we best make use of your time and then we can develop an agenda that we all like. I especially want you both to meet Dr. Betts and Mr. Hunt Hamill, our President.

We will pay each of you $100 a day honorarium plus travel expenses. Most of our people have seen the videotape, but if you have other visual materials, let me know so we can arrange to show them.

I discussed your June conference with Dr. Olson, head of our Education and Training Department, and we would be delighted to assist in any way we can. If you need help with arrangements, group leaders, or anything else, just give a call.

Thanks again for agreeing to come. We look forward to welcoming you and learning all we can.

Sincerely,

FORUM ON COMMUNITY CARE FOR THE HANDICAPPED

The Joint Committee on Long-Term Care Alternatives sponsored a forum on community care for the handicapped on August 25, 1978 in Houston, Texas. The 58 participants represented various State and Federal agencies, service providers, and consumers. Joint Committee members in attendance were Sen. Chet Brooks, Chairman; Rep. Frank Collazo; Emmett W. Greif, M.D.; Merle Springer; and Lloyd Sterling. Following introductory remarks by Senator Brooks, four concurrent work sessions were held.

AWARENESS AND ACCESS

The first session, dealing with awareness and access, reached the following conclusions.

- There is a need for more public education about the handicapped, their needs, and the services available to them.
- A survey should be made of services available in schools and communities.
- A statewide outreach effort to the handicapped is needed, since many are not aware of the services available to them.
- Inaccessibility, due to physical barriers and lack of transportation, is still one of the most critical problems faced by the handicapped.
- Handicapped persons should be involved in service planning and delivery, since they have an acute awareness of the relevant needs and difficulties.
- Two major barriers to effective service delivery are inadequate funding and fragmentation of services.
- Disabled persons need visible advocates to work with government officials and policy-makers; these advocates should be active between, as well as during, legislative sessions, in order to ensure that laws passed concerning the handicapped are enforced.

- Texas does not have adequate State laws prohibiting discrimination against the handicapped.
- A State agency or office dealing with housing for the disabled is badly needed, since many complicated regulations must be considered.

NEEDS OF THE HANDICAPPED

Needs of the handicapped was the subject considered by the second work session. Included in the discussion were common needs, differing needs, and the unique problems of the aged handicapped. Views expressed by group members focused on the following points.

- Appropriate and available transportation, properly modified housing, and barrier-free public facilities are among the most serious needs affecting the handicapped.
- Handicapped individuals must be contacted during service planning, to ensure that services meet their needs effectively.
- Often, communication between handicapped clients and service providers is not adequate.
- The public lacks awareness of the handicapped and their needs.
- Because services are not well coordinated, it is often difficult for the disabled person to enter the service "system." At the point of entry, a handicapped person's needs should be assessed thoroughly. There appears to be no single agency or office responsible for assessment at the time of initial entry.
- Evaluation components in existing service programs are sometimes inadequate.
- In addition to medical needs, the disabled individual has emotional, nutritional, recreational, and socialization requirements which must be recognized.

- Insurance coverage is often unobtainable for the handicapped.
- The newly handicapped have specific emotional and physical needs that require specialized services.
- Educational programs for handicapped children must be individually designed and implemented since their needs vary according to the type and degree of the disability.
- Specialized mental health services for the handicapped and their families are not generally available.
- Follow-up planning and needs assessment must be undertaken as a patient is discharged from an institution.
- The aged handicapped must cope with the aging process as well as their handicap. Support systems for them are seldom available; they are isolated; they do not have strong advocacy groups or great political clout; their low income often puts medical services beyond their means; and they may be subjected to physical and mental abuse.
- Frequently, little effort is made to rehabilitate an aged person who becomes handicapped.

LIVING ARRANGEMENTS

Participants in the third work session viewed a short film about the Center for Independent Living in Boston and then addressed problems related to living arrangements for the handicapped. The following points were discussed.

- Programs should become more flexible in order to meet the specific needs of each handicapped individual.
- Fragmentation and duplication of services lowers cost-effectiveness and frustrates clients. Better coordination of services is critically needed.

- Disabled persons strongly desire to be integrated into the mainstream of society.
- Laws affecting the handicapped, especially those dealing with access to public facilities should be enforced more actively.
- Tax incentives should be given to persons in the private sector who wish to build or modify housing for disabled persons.
- Insurance guidelines that affect handicapped persons should be clarified.
- Rent subsidy levels are unrealistically low in many instances.
- Adequate training for personal care attendants would aid in the development of alternative living situations.
- The problems of the multiply handicapped are extreme and should be recognized as such.
- The handicapped require an intake program designed to serve their particular needs; the program would include an individual assessment and an information and referral service.
- The elderly and the handicapped have differing housing needs, and these needs should be considered separately.

DEINSTITUTIONALIZATION

The trend toward deinstitutionalization of the mentally handicapped and ensuing problems were examined in the fourth work session. Opinions expressed during the session included the following.

- Significantly more community care services are needed for handicapped persons discharged from institutions. Such services should include a comprehensive assessment upon discharge, day care programs, residential support services, transportation, educational opportunities, and foster homes.

- Participants share the perception that the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation (TDMHMR) does not have a state-wide policy on deinstitutionalization.
- Difficult decisions must be made by local MHMR boards about funding priorities; therefore, in many areas, only those clients with a high risk of institutionalization can be served.
- Medicaid regulations do not address clients' nonmedical needs.
- A multidisciplinary perspective on treatment and follow-up is essential.
- Nursing home personnel are not trained to deal with the mentally ill or the mentally retarded and should not be expected to do so.

OPEN FORUM

An open forum was conducted in the afternoon, during which participants were asked to express their views about needed community care services, the role of State and Federal agencies in providing services, and appropriate types of legislation. Sixteen persons addressed the panel, voicing the following opinions.

- Service programs for the handicapped need more flexibility and coordination, along with centralized information and referral services; perhaps a separate agency or office is required for this purpose.
- Efforts should be made to involve handicapped persons in decisions about services.
- Steps should be taken to remove the disincentives to work and education that current Medicaid regulations foster.
- Separate services are needed for the aged and for the disabled; their needs are different and should be recognized as such.

- Problems in obtaining insurance are common to the disabled; in addition, the liability insurance situations is unclear where handicapped persons are involved.
- Transportation is generally unavailable or inaccessible to severely disabled persons.
- Short-term mental health services are vitally needed by many disabled individuals and their families.
- The mentally retarded are not always placed appropriately. This is a severe problem and must be explored by the agencies involved.
- Hearing-impaired persons have needs vastly different from those of the visually-impaired, especially in education.
- The large volume of paperwork and "red-tape" creates a barrier to people who need services.
- Texans should actively support proposed Federal legislation that would provide funds for independent living arrangements for the handicapped.
- Businesses are finding that employment of the handicapped is successful; all levels of government are recognizing the handicapped and their needs. Progress is beginning in these areas, but there is still much to accomplish.

At the end of the afternoon session, the Committee expressed appreciation to those who testified. Chairman Brooks said that their testimony would help shape recommendations on care for the aged and the handicapped, which the Committee will present in its final report to the 66th Legislature in January of 1979.

Dear Lex:

On behalf of our Project I want to thank you for your participation in the seminars on independent living. Your perspective as a professional involved with an ongoing ILP who has also been a consumer of those services was especially powerful to our students. Your willingness to share personal experiences along with information you've gained from your research gave life and breath to what otherwise might have been an "intellectualized" discussion. We felt your ability to humanize the concept of independent living provided an experience for our students which was particularly relevant to their professional futures as social workers. We are very appreciative that you were able to come and share your ideas and experiences with us.

Paul and I also really enjoyed the "off-hours" functions with you; we wish there could have been more time for non-business activities. We look forward to future visits and to further communication between our Projects.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Lex:

It was good talking to you recently. I'm delighted that you and Jean are going to do a workshop for us, and that you will also be able to speak at the NRA meeting.

The NRA meeting will be Monday evening, April 9, at the Norselander Restaurant, 300 Third West, Seattle. The social hour is 5:30 - 6:30, dinner 6:30 - 7:30, and speaker 7:30 - 8:30. Let us know when you'll be arriving on Monday, and we may be able to pick you up. Or, in lieu of that, if you arrive in the afternoon and go straight to Paul's office (400 Yesler, downtown Seattle), he could take you to the meeting in the van since he'll be going right after work.

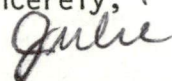

Your workshop for our Project has been scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, April 10 and 11, from 6:30 - 9:30 in the South Campus Center on the UW campus. The flyer should go out in a couple of days; I'll send you a copy when it's ready. I'd also like to tentatively schedule about a hour on Wednesday afternoon for you (and Jean, if she's available) to meet with the rest of the Project faculty and staff to discuss Project activities. We have some ideas for research projects which we'd like your input on. I'm enclosing an informational handout on our Project, and a couple of articles on attendant care which resulted from some research our Project conducted.

As we discussed, our Project can pay a $200 honorarium to both you and Jean. Be sure and keep track of expenses like taxis, etc., too.

The family planning project I've recently become affiliated with has scheduled a brunch at my house on Tuesday to meet with you and discuss what we're doing.

I promise you we'll give you some time to breathe while you're here! Paul and I are looking forward to having you stay with us. Let us know when you'll be arriving.

Sincerely,

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

INFORMATION ON THE PROJECTS ON PHYSICAL DISABILITY (POD)

AT THE SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

In 1973, the School of Social Work received a grant from the Office of Human Development, Rehabilitation Services Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for support of a training project in rehabilitation social work. The grant is renegotiated each year and is renewable for a total period of five years. We call the various activities supported by this grant "The Projects on Physical Disability" (POD). The POD is housed at the School of Social Work and administered through the Seattle Regional Office of the Rehabilitation Services Administration.

The basic purposes of the POD are 1) to develop knowledge about the needs and circumstances of physically disabled people and to disseminate this knowledge as widely as possible among social work students and concerned others; 2) to develop and clarify the role of social work within the rehabilitation process; and 3) to provide for a small group of M.S.W. students in-depth training and study in physical disability in preparation for careers in rehabilitation social work.

The POD is one of many Special Projects at the School which allow master's students an opportunity to supplement their generic social work training with concentrated study around a particular problem area or client population. The POD concentration is an elective option open to all interested students. Students who receive stipends from the POD grant are those who have been identified as having a particular capacity for and interest in rehabilitation social work. All students, stipended or otherwise, are free to take as much or as little of the POD concentration as they wish.

In addition to providing student stipends, the POD grant has enabled the School to expand significantly its teaching, research, field practicum, and community activities in the areas of physical disability and rehabilitation social work. Eight to ten master's students declare this specialization each year and receive financial aid through the grant. Other interested students and professionals -- including those from outside departments and from related fields and disciplines -- are involved with the Projects on Disability in various ways; for example, by offering or taking courses, by participating in research projects, by giving or receiving consultation services, by developing field work opportunities.

Foci of the Projects on Physical Disability

There are several general guidelines underlying the Projects on Physical Disability, as stipulated by both the funding agency and the School. Among these are a focus on the need for multidisciplinary exchange and cooperation and a specification of the disabled client population.

There is a strong interdisciplinary emphasis in all aspects of the Projects because effective rehabilitation requires the involvement of numerous fields, from physical medicine, physical therapy and occupational therapy to vocational counseling, architecture and engineering. The need for social workers to augment the work of these professions with counseling and community services is being increasingly recognized.

A second emphasis addresses the types of physical disabilities encompassed in the training and research of the POD. While the School is concerned about all forms of disability, it has a special interest in physical impairments (for example, motor and sensory disabilities) that are severe and permanent and that involve no mental impairment. The physical, psychological and social problems of this population in a society designed for the able-bodied-- are many.

The Physical Disability Concentration

The concentration developed by the POD is open to students from both practice Tracks at the School: Human Services, and Community and Organizational Services (COS). Human Services students are preparing to do direct social work practice with clients. Direct practitioners in rehabilitation social work are concerned about the psychosocial functioning and adjustment of disabled patients, their transition back into the community, their access to ongoing support services, their right to be productive human beings. Types of practice include individual personal counseling, sexual counseling, marital counseling, family therapy, and problem-solving group work. The Human Services students associated with the Projects on Disability undergo, throughout their two years in the program, a plan of study geared to helping them acquire such skills.

COS students are interested in social and legislative policy and in organizational and program development. COS practitioners in the rehabilitation field work with organizations and boards to acquire community services for the disabled (for example, in the areas of transportation and attendant care), to educate able-bodied persons about the needs and circumstances of the disabled, to fight discrimination, to further environmental and social accessibility.

The POD concentration for both Human Services and COS students involves supplementing their regular social work training with coursework, field practicum and research activities concerned with physical disability and rehabilitation. Throughout all of these offerings, there is an emphasis on the distinctive role and contribution that social workers have in rehabilitation of the disabled. Also emphasized are the POD's special interest, which include: the needs of disabled people from racial-ethnic minority groups; the needs of physically disabled women; the need for more community support services for the disabled, particularly in-home attendant care; sexual needs and alternatives of the physically disabled; the need for normalizing social interaction between the disabled and the able-bodied; and service needs of the families of disabled persons. The POD values and supports full civil rights and independent living for physically disabled people.

With the above priorities in mind, POD faculty and staff provide the following learning opportunities for interested students:

- S.W. 543: Introduction to Physical Disability (3 credits) - This course, offered fall quarter, provides a basic introduction to physical disability and rehabilitation field. It is an important core course for the concentration and a good prerequisite for more specialized courses.
- S.W. 543: Human Sexuality and the Physically Disabled (3 credits) - A spring quarter course which considers sexual options and alternatives for the disabled within the context of human sexuality generally.
- S.W. 504: Social Welfare Policy and the Physically Disabled (3 credits) - A newly developed course on social and legislative policies affecting the disabled. Also provides an overview of the way rehabilitative services are organized and administered.
- S.W. 508: Field Seminar in Physical Disabilities (1 credit) - An informal seminar designed for both first and second-year students who have field placements working with the disabled or in planning agencies dealing with issues of concern to the disabled.

Additional elective courses in physical disability and rehabilitation are available throughout the University and can be recommended to social work students in conjunction with their interests. Further elective courses are also being developed by POD staff and faculty in the areas of social policy and in human growth and development.

Independent Study and Research Projects (variable credit) - Students may work with POD faculty on a one-to-one basis, or in small groups, around mutual areas of interest. This includes the opportunity for readings courses on special topics related to physical disability as well as participation on ongoing research projects of the POD.

Field Practicum - Both first and second-year students can arrange field practicum experiences through the POD. Students may choose from existing field placement sites or, in some cases, develop placements that are suited to their learning needs and interests. Among the placements that have been used by Human Services students are: Harborview Hospital, U.W. Child Development and Retardation Center, U.W. Epilepsy Center and United Cerebral Palsy of King-Snohomish Counties. Other settings include sheltered workshops, speech and hearing centers, services for the blind, and special education services. COS students have been placed at such sites as The Governor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped and the Handicapped Services Division of the Seattle Department of Human Resources.

Further information on courses, research activities, and field placement opportunities is available from POD staff and faculty.

Lex Frieden, Research Director

Jean Cole, Ph.D., Project Director
New Options, a Transitional Independent
Living Project
The Institute for Rehabilitation &
Research
Houston, Texas

Lex Frieden and Jean Cole will be conducting two evening sessions on various interpersonal aspects of independent living programs. There is no charge for either. Please note that the content in these sessions will not duplicate that offered in the Independent Living Conference which will be held in Seattle later the same week.

The sessions will be held on Tuesday, April 10 and Wednesday, April 11, from 6:30 to 9:30 in the evening. Both sessions will be held in the South Campus Center, UW: the first session will be in Room 316 and the second session will be in Room 348-50. If you can only attend one session, we suggest it be the first session, since content in the second session will, to some extent, be based on material presented during the first session.

Some of the issues Lex and Jean will be addressing include:

The role of nondisabled people as advocates for independent living . . .

The role of disabled people as role models . . .

The role of the able-bodied person in peer counseling with disabled clients . . .

If you are interested in attending one or both of these sessions, please fill out the attached form and return to Julie Wysocki, U. of W., School of Social Work (JG-14), Seattle, 98195. Or call the Projects on Physical Disability Office: 543-8400.

About Lex Frieden: Lex Frieden, a national figure in the independent living movement, has worked at TIRR on a variety of projects since 1973. Quadraplegic since 1967, Lex gained valuable experience as one of the original residents in the Cooperative Living Residential Project. For the past three years, he has been involved in planning and implementing New Options. As Research Director, Lex is primarily responsible for evaluating the New Options Project and the experience of individual participants.

About Jean Cole: Jean Cole joined TIRR in 1973 as Research Director of the Institute Residential Project. Her research examined the process of the adaptation of physically handicapped young adults in several alternative living arrangements. In 1975, Jean began working with Lex and another colleague in planning the New Options Project, which has been in operation since June, 1976. As Project Director, Jean is responsible for the overall operation of New Options as a research and demonstration program.

SUBJECT: MITS, "Reducing Administrative Time and Measuring Increased Productivity in the VR Process," as History

DATE: March 29, 1979

It's said and done with. Enclosed you will find your copy of the report. If the pony express holds up it should arrive on time. Considering the time constraints, it's not too bad in my opinion. Further, I'm not sure we could have addressed the task in a better way in relation to giving them something to act on immediately which would have significant positive impact. If we would have given them 200 or 2,000 details to "clean up" their writings with I'd guess it would have been lost in the shuffle. One general reaction I had in our discussions was that there is too much attention to detail to begin with. If that's true, at least we didn't contribute to the problem.

I don't know what to expect now. If I had to bet on it I would bet nothing happens. Doesn't seem like things like this, research and demonstration projects, etc. quickly yield impact on practice if ever. I also predicted a gas war and prices dropping to 40¢ a gallon this week, but it didn't happen so take it for what it's worth.

At any rate we tried, and considering everything, I feel good about our results. For me it was a very educational experience and it was worth my time. I enjoyed working with each of you and I am thankful that "you were there." Thanks for doing something extra.

Dear Conference Participant:

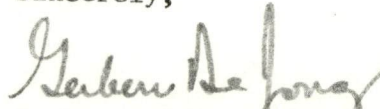

The attached materials explain the various preparations being made for the forthcoming national conference on independent living. Please read these items carefully and call us at one of the listed numbers should you have any questions.

The hotel management is interested in immediately knowing which individuals will be paired with whom in the double occupancy rooms. Enclosed is a list of confirmed conferees. If you intend to share a room, we urge that you pair yourself with another person (and contact that person) as soon as possible. Please call us immediately to identify your roommate.

For those wishing to drive their personal cars to the meeting you can be reimbursed on the basis of 17¢ per mile for the round-trip; however, the reimbursement for use of your car cannot exceed the cost of round-trip coach air fare.

We expect the conference to end at about Friday noon (March 9) or shortly thereafter. You should be able to plan your departure from Washington National Airport at about midafternoon or later. If you wish to remain in Washington on Friday night or over the weekend, this will have to be at your own expense. Please notify the hotel directly should you wish to stay on beyond Thursday night.

Sincerely,

Gerben DeJong, Research Associate

February 16, 1979

Last November, President Carter signed into law, P.L. 95-602, the Rehabilitation, Comprehensive Services and Developmental Disabilities Amendments of 1978. The Rehabilitation Services Administration (RSA) is now in the process of preparing regulations to implement this law.

P.L. 95-602 establishes a new Title VII which provides for a three-part program in independent living. As you may know, the new independent living title has been in the making for some 20 years.

In preparing regulations to implement the new independent living provisions, RSA is seeking the advice of numerous groups, organizations, and individuals concerned with independent living. To this end, RSA has arranged, through the Research and Training Center of Tufts-New England Medical Center, a 2½-day national conference on the implementation of Title VII. The conference will be held at the Sheraton National Hotel in Arlington, Virginia on March 7, 8, and 9. Additional details regarding the conference are attached.

As a consumer of disability services and as an individual concerned with independent living issues you have been especially selected to attend this conference. To assume adequate consumer input in the promulgation of independent living regulations, your travel and per diem expenses will be reimbursed. Reimbursement will be made according to a schedule outlined in the information sheet. We regret that we are not able to forward travel advances. We have not been able to locate a travel company or institution willing to arrange advanced financing of travel expenses.

We request that you complete the enclosed form indicating your availability to participate in this important effort. The form should be returned in the enclosed self-addressed envelope. In addition, we request that you immediately call Ms. Susan Dailey, my secretary, collect (617 956-5627) regarding your intentions. Should you have any questions regarding travel arrangements or accommodations, please call Ms. Ruth House at (617 956-5308).

Within the next ten days you should be receiving a packet of material to help prepare you for the conference. You will be receiving material relating to the legislative background of the new independent living title. In addition, you will be receiving a list of questions and issues that will be addressed at the conference. If you have not had a prior opportunity to do so, we urge that you contact or meet with your colleagues or other interested parties in your local area to solicit their opinions and thoughts regarding this list of issues pertaining to the implementation of the new independent living title.

We sincerely hope that you will be able to attend. We look forward to hearing from you.

Dear Mr. Freden,

The Arkansas Rehabilitation Association is planning a workshop on the subject of Independent Living Rehabilitation in conjunction with its state conference to be held June 13 through 15, 1979, at the Arlington Hotel, Hot Springs, Arkansas. The three workshop presentations are tentatively scheduled for Thursday, 6/14/79 at 2:00 p.m. and again at 3:30 p.m.; and Friday morning, 6/15/79 at 10:15 a.m.

As Director of the Independent Living workshop committee, I have been asked to request your presence as a panel member for this workshop presentation. The tentative workshop panel will be made up of five persons including yourself. We plan to have the Director of the Independent Living Legislation Research Committee for the state of Arkansas chair and moderate the workshop. We also plan to have Mr. Ralph Rouse, Supervisor of the Independent Living Program Services for RSA Region VI and Mr. Carl Launius, Jr. who is a consumer here in the state. Our final panel member will be Mr. Jere McMahan, Director of Our Way, Inc. of Little Rock. This corporation operates a new barrier free apartment complex designed for mobility impaired handicapped persons. Information concerning the development of this resource and the service it provides should be of interest to our audience of rehabilitation professionals in the state of Arkansas.

We sincerely hope that you can participate and present information on the national perspective concerning implementation of the new legislation on Independent Living Rehabilitation Services. We are well aware that some controversy and problems with funding are surfacing concerning Independent Living Rehabilitation, and hope that some of these can be clarified prior to this conference. Please let me know if your schedule

COPING . . .

What is Spinal Cord Injury?

A lesion of the spinal cord resulting from trauma or disease that results in paralysis of certain parts of the body and the loss of sensation. Paraplegia refers to paralysis from the waist down. Quadriplegia refers to paralysis from the neck down.

How many spinal cord injured persons are there in the United States?

Approximately 250,000 persons are spinal cord injured. An additional 7,000 persons are paralyzed each year as a result of trauma.

How is the spinal cord injured?

The major causes of traumatic spinal cord injury are motor vehicle accidents (50%), falls (20%), diving (15%), and other sports-related mishaps (10%). Most injuries (85%) occur to young men, primarily between the ages of 15 and 25.

Diseases also injure the spinal cord. Multiple sclerosis affects young adults, primarily women; Frederick's Ataxia manifests itself during the teen-aged years and appears to run in families; polio still occurs, primarily in young children; spina bifida results during fetal development.

What is the NATIONAL SPINAL CORD INJURY FOUNDATION doing to help?

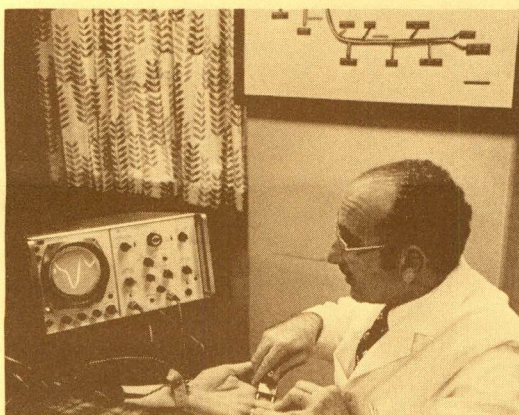

Founded by the Paralyzed Veterans of America in 1948, the NATIONAL SPINAL CORD INJURY FOUNDATION has as its mandate the development of comprehensive systems of quality care for persons who have spinal cord injuries.

Through its programs of Care, Cure and Coping, the FOUNDATION seeks to ensure such systems in every state of the Union.

What is Care?

Care includes all of our direct services and educational programs. The FOUNDATION:

- Assists in the development of comprehensive systems of quality care
- Provides case consultation and case management services geared especially toward newly injured
- Publishes National, Regional and Local Resource Directories and other informational booklets
- Offers educational programs for professionals, constituents and the general public
- Develops and manages Independent Living Rehabilitation Programs
- Promotes technological and environmental research aimed at preventing spinal cord injury

What is Cure?

Cure is the ongoing search for a way to regenerate or repair the human spinal cord. Through its Research Division, the FOUNDATION:

- Grants research fellowships to young neuroscientists
- Conducts biennial conferences on new developments in the field
- Sponsors other seminars on regeneration
- Publishes comprehensive bibliographies on research findings
- Lobbies for increased federal commitment to regeneration research
- Acts as a clearinghouse of the latest information on research

What is Coping?

Through the activities of our Chapters, the FOUNDATION:

- Provides Peer Counseling to persons with spinal cord injuries and other severe physical disabilities
- Promotes full implementation of Section 504 of the 1978 Rehabilitation Acts
- Involves constituents in every aspect of Chapter activity
- Promotes an attitudinal and physical environment that is hospitable for persons who use wheelchairs for mobility

Dear Mr. Frieden:

This letter is to follow up on our previous request that you participate in the program for the NATIONAL SPINAL CORD INJURY FOUNDATION Annual Convention in Denver, August 5 through 9, 1979. In confirming your agreement to participate, we indicated that we would provide you with final details and instructions to assure that you were comfortable with your assignment.

For that purpose, we have enclosed with this letter four items:

1. Guideline on the role of each participant. Please check this against your assignments.
2. The agenda for the week, with your name circled in red, noting your session, date, and time. Please feel free to contact your fellow session members, session moderator, or me if there is any question or concern.
3. A NATIONAL SPINAL CORD INJURY FOUNDATION convention brochure containing registration form.
4. A Program Participant's Data form, for those who have not yet returned one to Robert McHugh, Director of Programming (617)-964-0521. If you have not already done so, please complete the form and send it to him at:

NATIONAL SPINAL CORD INJURY FOUNDATION
369 Elliot Street
Newton Upper Falls, MA 02164

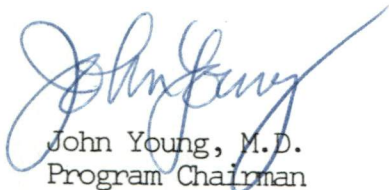

Unless we hear from you to the contrary, we shall expect to see you at the Convention for the session indicated and, we hope, for the entire week. The Convention promises to be a good one, as the program indicates, and the local arrangements committee has planned some special events for the pleasure of conventioners.

If you have not already registered for the Convention, you may use the enclosed brochure to do so, by May 15. We would like to request that participants attending the Convention for the entire week pay the appropriate registration fee of $25.00 or $50.00. Participants attending only one event are not expected to pay this fee. For those who require assistance with expenses, please indicate that by letter to me so that I can make necessary arrangements. For those who can participate through the funding of their respective organization or agency, we would appreciate that on behalf of recipients of the FOUNDATION's services. Registration forms will also be available at the Convention, at the registration desk.

Thank you, and we look forward to seeing you at the Convention.

Sincerely,

John Young, M.D.

Dear Lex:

It is with pleasure that I am confirming your participation at Issues in Mainstreaming. The conference will be held April 27 and 28, 1979 at Loew's Anatole Hotel in Dallas. The first of your sessions is Independent Living, scheduled for April 27, 9:30-12:00. You and Joyce will be doing this with those other individuals that you invite to participate with you. Second on your schedule is Housing for Disabled People, a panel which you will moderate; this will be April 27, 1:30-3:30. And third you will be a presenter on Successful Integration of the Disabled in an Able-bodied World, April 28, 9:00-11:00.

A meeting will be held for workshop facilitators and panel members at 8 P.M. Thursday, April 26th. However, you may want to contact panel members prior to this date for planning. A list of other participants on your panel and their addresses and telephone numbers is attached.

One of our objectives is to have the audience as involved as possible in all workshops. We will appreciate your keeping this in mind as you plan your presentation. We need a general outline of your presentation along with biographical data for publicity preparation. Also if you have a photograph for use in publicity please include it. If you need audio visual equipment for your presentation, please indicate what equipment you need and we will supply it. Unless you notify us otherwise your workshop room will be set auditorium style. Please send this information to either of us at the above address by March 9, 1979.

We also need to know your anticipated arrival date and time. We will make hotel reservations. Registration and room expense for those needing overnight accommodations will be paid by the Conference Task Force. Let us know if you need transportation from Love Field or DFW Airport. As indicated in the initial request, we are unable to pay an honorarium.

Dear Lex:

Ms. Carole Carsey of the Texas Department of Human Resources in Dallas has informed me that we will be serving together on a panel at the Issues in Mainstreaming conference scheduled in Dallas on April 27-28. As you know, the panel is charged with giving a presentation on housing for the disabled. For your perusal, I am enclosing a copy of the housing manual used in the Extended Rehabilitation Services Program. I will be using this manual as the basis for my comments and thought that you might like to have a copy before the conference.

If you should have any questions concerning the contents of the manual, please feel free to contact me. I am looking forward to the panel's presentation.

Sincerely,

Saturday, April 28, 1979

1:00 p.m.

TCOH will meet jointly with the Coalition for Texans with Disabilities from 1:00 to 2:00 p.m. We will be joined by Ms. Simone Leavinworth, an Attorney representing the Attorney General's office in the Dallas region. Terry Goodman, TCOH/CTD liason from General White's office, cannot attend but has asked Ms. Leavinworth to represent her at our joint meeting.

At this joint meeting we will discuss rights, needs, and concerns of handicapped individuals in the state for the purposing of orientating the Attorney General's office about these matters.

Following the joint meeting we will adjourn into our separate Board meetings to conduct business as planned. This business will include legislative matters, new membership status, and nomination of officers for election at the next meeting.

Please feel free to join us for these important meetings. You need not be a member at this time if you are interested in observing the discussion.

We look forward to new members at all levels of membership. Enclosed you will find information concerning new membership possibilities.

See you in Dallas.

Texas Committee of Organizations

TEXAS COMMITTEE OF ORGANIZATIONS FOR THE HANDICAPPED

The Texas Committee of Organizations for the Handicapped (TCOH) consists of fifteen statewide consumer and professional associations concerned with the handicapped. Expanding its focus from special education to the broader range of issues outlined in the federal rehabilitation act, TCOH has also restructured its membership requirements to encourage the participation of locally based handicapped organizations and coalitions.

Under the new structure, chapters of current TCOH members may form local coalitions which include at least four TCOH state member groups. The coalition may then apply for "group member" status, and if approved would carry a one/half vote on the Board of TCOH. Existing coalitions may apply as well by demonstrating the inclusion of local groups serving the handicapped, including local TCOH member chapters.

Special interest groups, not affiliated with a statewide TCOH member organization, or coalition may apply for group member status by demonstrating a membership of no less than 25, with at least 1/3 handicapped organizations must be incorporated and have developed by-laws, organizational structure and a statement of policy.

Application for Group Member Status to TCOH must be made in writing to the President, Dr. Mary Lovey Wood, Austin Speech, Hearing and Language Center, 1209 West 34th, Austin, Texas 78705, (512)454-2992.

Annual dues for group members is $25.00.

Organizations represented on TCOH include:

Dear Mr. Frieden:

The National Council on Rehabilitation Education in cooperation with the Council of State Administrators of Vocational Rehabilitation is sponsoring a workshop funded by Rehabilitation Services Administration. The workshop - "Improving Rehabilitation Educator-State Vocational Rehabilitation Director Communication, Part II" - will have as its primary focus manpower issues and training needs in rehabilitation resulting from the enactment of the Rehabilitation, Comprehensive Services and Developmental Disabilities Amendments of 1978. This workshop is a follow-up to the seminar - "Improving Rehabilitation Educator-State Vocational Rehabilitation Director Communication" held in San Diego in March, 1978.

The purpose of the follow-up workshop is to provide a setting for state directors of state vocational rehabilitation agencies, rehabilitation educators, and consumers of rehabilitation services to identify manpower issues and training needs resulting from the enactment of the Rehabilitation, Comprehensive Services and Developmental Disabilities Amendments of 1978. The number of persons (30) invited to attend the workshop is limited to insure maximum examination of the issues by the participants. It is intended that a position paper will be produced which can be presented to the Rehabilitation Services Administration.

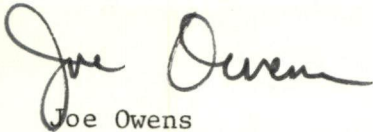

This seminar will be held at the New Orleans Hilton Hotel in New Orleans, Louisiana on January 10 and 11, 1979 from 9:00-5:00 (January 10) and 8:30-12:00 (January 11). Reimbursement will be provided at the rate of $40 per diem in addition to air fare or auto expense ($.15/mi.). The hotel is accessible in order to facilitate maximum program participation, interaction, and communication.

Your participation in this workshop is of paramount importance if the goals are to be accomplished. You will find enclosed a Tentative Agenda and an Acceptance Form which is to be returned by December 8, 1978. If you are unable to attend, please let me know immediately so that an alternate may be selected.
