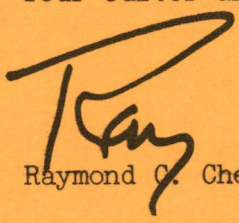
A SPECIAL NOTE TO ACCENT READERS
(subscribers on record as of Sept. 1, 1981)

This new 1982-83 Buyer's Guide is our "special gift" to you. We think you and all ACCENT readers are special people who, because of a physical limitation of some kind, have a fantastic amount of knowledge about special devices. You also have unique "how to" ideas, many of which you have shared with us and are now available to help others through AOI.

Several new features have been added to this edition which will make it even more useful and helpful to you. And it has all been updated through AOI.

All of us here at ACCENT want to wish you and your families a most happy holiday season.

Your editor and publisher,



Raymond C. Cheever

. . . and that's not the only difference

Fold-in-half platform allows access by non-disabled passengers. All steel construction and patented ball nut & screw drive makes our lifts so reliable they'll outlast your van. Safe, easy to operate. Virtually maintenance-free.

Transfer easily from one van to another. These are just a few differences that make our lift the choice of disabled individuals and organizations throughout the country. Check us out. You won't be disappointed.

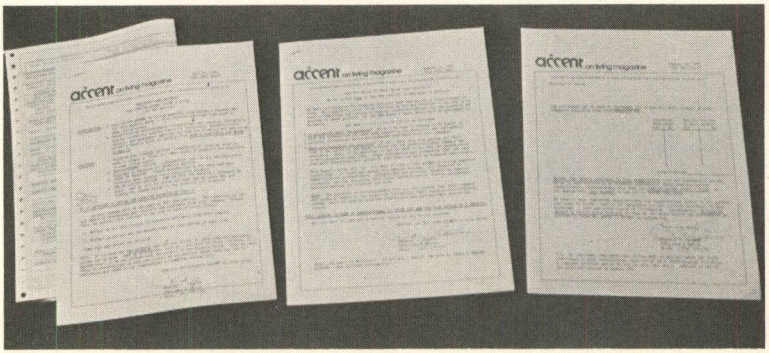
Information That Is Up-To-Date

Information is of little value unless it is up-to-date. Two features make ACCENT On Information worth a great deal to you.

1. The information in this ACCENT Buyer's Guide has just been completely updated. This Guide lists only products currently available, not those no longer manufactured. This helps you save time and money. You can use it to find the right products for you at the right prices.
2. You are getting the latest information about new products on the market. This handy reference means you do not have to make a lot of inquiries to find out what is new from different sources.

Updating takes a lot of time and money (especially postage costs) so you can save when you use this ACCENT Buyer's Guide. Three separate mailings were made to manufacturers to insure that all their products would be listed and that products no longer available would not be listed.



HOW TO USE THIS BUYER'S GUIDE

This Buyer's Guide is a reference to let you know about the increasing number and variety of products available for disabled people and who manufacture the various products and devices.

This third edition includes a new section featuring local rehab dealers listed by state and city (see page 99). The quickest and easiest way to find a specific item is to contact the dealer nearest to you. In a few cases, dealers will be listed in the manufacturers section when they are the only source of an item.

This Guide is designed to make it easy for you to find a certain item. Use the alphabetical Table of Contents to find the area of interest. Turn to that page. Under the main heading you will find sub-categories. Products are classified according to the major category and listed under sub-categories in alphabetical order. A list of manufacturers follows the product name. For example, "Cordless Phone" is found under the sub-category "Telephoning" within the major section "Communication". At the conclusion of each major section is a listing of publications, films, and cassettes relating to that topic.

Refer to page 80 to find the address of a manufacturer of a product. Company names set in bold face type have an ad. Check their ads for further details about their products. The Advertisers Index on page 76 lists a telephone number and the person to contact. To find a specific item, refer to the Index of Products on page 112.

NOW YOU HAVE A CHOICE

The kind of car you drive affects the amount of money you spend for gasoline and maintenance . . . the comfort of your ride . . . and the ease of entering and exiting the car. The Wells-Engberg hand control is built to fit most of the smaller cars as well as the larger cars. So now you have a choice.

This hand control is uniquely versatile. It can be readily transferred when you buy a new car. Install it for right-or-left hand use. And your car will still operate normally, with or without hand controls. We've designed the entire hand control with ease of operation in mind . . . from the patented rotation gas-feed to the easily accessible dimmer switch.

And, if your choice is to save money, you'll want to know the Wells-Engberg hand control costs less than most other controls.

Drive Naturally . . . with Freedom of Choice.

THE SCOOTER SOLUTION — Don't take anything apart. Don't lift anything. Don't go shopping for a new vehicle. Just ride it on, turn a key, and go. It works for Amigos, Portascoots, and even several of the smaller electric wheelchairs. For details, contact: Chair Carrier Products, Inc., P.O. Box 434, Gainesville, FL 32602

Our "original ideas" bring you the best lift made.

Originator Corporation, formerly known as Helper industries, designed, patented and manufactured the swing-out lift in 1971.

Since then, you have seen many manufacturers attempt to copy our original and innovative ideas.

Now, after years of research and development, we can offer our customers the finest swing-out lift made today. An integral electro-brake on the motor and a gear drive running in oil, eliminate some of the service points of its predecessor, making this the most efficient and advanced design available.

This lift is completely assembled and wired at the plant, allowing any mechanic easy installation within an hour.

Check our features below and discover why our state-of-the-art technology is often copied—but never out-performed!

- Safety Back-up System
- More dependable, beltless drive
- Smoother operation
- Quieter
- Easier to Service
- Easier installation—you can do it yourself in an hour and save the installation fee!

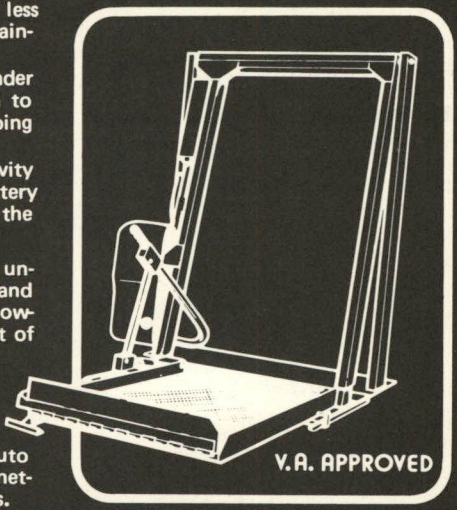
BRAUN HYDRAULIC LIFTS...

TIME AND AGAIN PROVEN THE MOST RELIABLE

- Simplicity of design and less moving parts means less maintenance, longer lift life.
- Rigid box frame-cross header construction adds strength to the vehicle without robbing doorway headroom.
- Power "up" and gravity "down" means less battery drain and no "jacking" of the vehicle.
- Consistant speed operation under all load conditions and temperature ranges, with power to lift even the heaviest of wheelchairs.
- Back-up system in event of vehicle power failure.
- Fully automatic and semi-automatic lifts installed by a network of Nationwide dealers.



OVER TEN YEARS OF RELIABLE QUALITY...

The Braun Corporation offers over ten years of experience in quality van lift construction, including a complete line of options and accessories such as door operators, raised doors, tops, power seat, power pan, tie downs and driving aids. FREEDOM HAS FINALLY BEEN ENGINEERED

The Van Lift for People on the Go!

Safety Lift is engineered to give you the freedom you like...free from ever having to depend on someone else again. It is designed to fit every American made van. Safety Van Lift is powered by the van's battery and its efficient electro-hydraulic motor draws very little energy.

In operation, the lift can be stopped at any point of its elevation, and you can park next to a curb and disembark on the sidewalk. In its open position, it extends 38" from the van.

Safety Van Lift lets you do what you want to do, when you want to do it. It is engineered for safety and dependability and its quality of workmanship makes it a lasting value.

Safety Van Lift II - It's the best van lift anywhere...period.

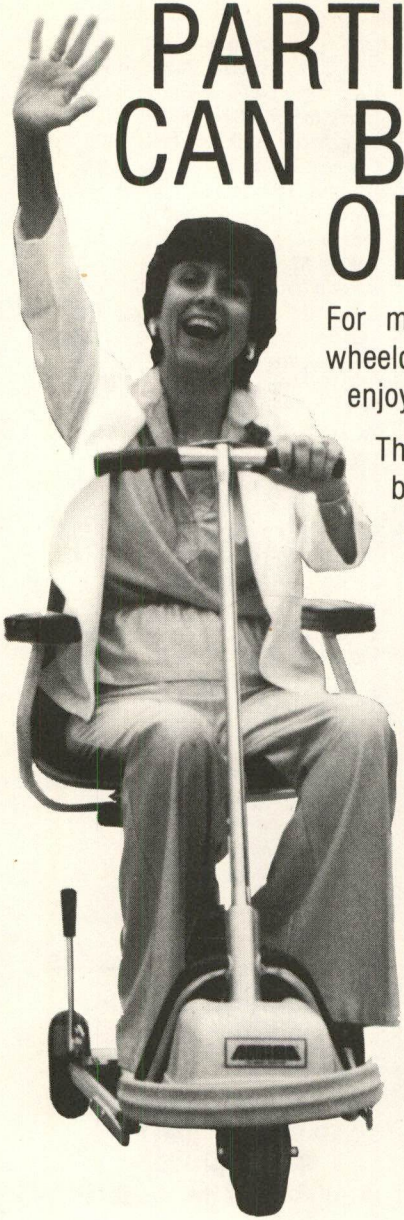
PARTICIPATION CAN BE A WAY OF LIFE.



For more than 13 years, the AMIGO wheelchair has been helping people enjoy active, productive living.

The AMIGO is a compact, durable, battery-powered and easy to operate mobility aid.

Designed for maneuverability and durability, the AMIGO is only 18'' wide and can be custom built, with over 60 options and accessories, to meet your individual needs. The basic AMIGO features 2 forward and 2 reverse speeds, a seat which swivels 360 degrees, and a unique braking system.

The AMIGO Company also manufactures the AMIGO-BOOTS, the AMIGO TRUNK LIFT, and the AMIGO-AUTO . . . products which further enhance the freedom, mobility and independence that the AMIGO wheelchair offers.

AMIGO-BOOTS . . . the outdoor carrier unit for the AMIGO featuring heavy duty batteries and pneumatic wheels to provide traction over grass, gravel, dirt, and snow. Direction, speed, and steering are easy to control with the electronic ''joystick.''

AMIGO-BOOTS

AMIGO TRUNK LIFT . . . a specially designed electrically powered lift which simplifies loading the AMIGO into the trunk of a car. This lift is easy to install and requires minimal physical effort to operate.

AMIGO-AUTO . . . A conversion of the G.M. ''X-Body'' car featuring a power lift which loads the AMIGO into the rear seat compartment for transporting. The lift mechanism is operated by the touch of a button; and the loading process is controlled from the driver's seat. Travel first class and have your AMIGO charged, ready for use, when you arrive at your destination.

Going in style

It's the perfect alternative to the wheelchair. The lightweight, portable electric Scoota from A-BEC that can open up a whole new world of freedom and mobility.

Totally modular, the Scoota can be disassembled by hand in 30 seconds. So it's easily transportable in a car.

Its direct drive construction means there are no chains or belts to break down. And you can control the speed with left and right-hand controls that allow you to go up to 4 mph. Automatic electronic brakes are standard, as well as a swivel seat, armrests and 12-month limited warranty.

With a range of up to 12 miles on a single charge, the Scoota will allow you to independently go places you never thought possible before. And the best part is, with the A-BEC Scoota, getting there is half the fun.

Only $995.00 complete, batteries extra.

"There's a lot out there to do. You

Three days before Erin Broadbent was to enter college, she went swimming and dove into water that was too shallow.

The fracture, although incomplete, was between the sixth and seventh cervical vertebra. She was told that she might not be able to use her arms again.

But Erin had always been a person who looked for the positives in any situation. She was determined to get back all the functions that she possibly could. "I went into rehab feeling I could do more than they told me I could. At least I had to try."

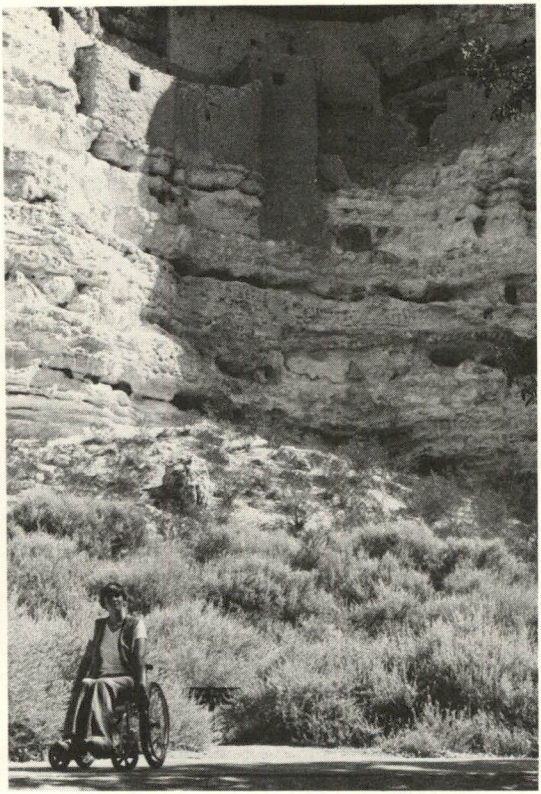
It took a lot of hard work and support from friends and family, but Erin made it through rehabilitation with flying colors and was able to come home ahead of schedule.

One year after her injury, she entered Arizona State University at Tempe. Because she had done some counseling of other newly disabled people during her hospital stay, she took a stab at psychology, but eventually settled on a Recreation major.

"My father was a Park Service Ranger. I guess it was alwa in the back of my mind to do the same sort of thing."

In 1980 she applied to the National Park Service for a summer position at Montezuma's Castle, a national monu ment located near Camp Verde, Arizona. There were 22 applicants for only two positions. Erin, lacking experience did not get the job. But she was accepted as a VIP, a "volunteer in the park."

As a VIP, Erin performs all the duties that a park service ranger does. The paths at the national monument are pave but Erin still gets quite a workout, maneuvering her manu wheelchair up and down the trails.



just have to go out there and get it."

Along with her supervisor, she has been doing training sessions with park service employees to make them more aware of the needs of the disabled visitor. She also has been made available to consult with local state parks regarding their wheelchair accessibility.

With increased accessibility of the parks, Erin feels that more disabled people will visit and find employment in the national park system. The park service is now issuing a Golden Access Passport. Available to those who are permanently disabled and receiving federal assistance, the passport permits free entrance to all national parks.

For the disabled person who is interested in choosing park service as a career, Erin says there are many areas to enter, including tour direction, administration and park design. "We're finding out that we don't have to sit behind a desk all the time anymore. We can work outside if we want.

"The outdoor work may be rough until you can learn to handle it, but if it's what you want, go ahead and try. That's always been my philosophy — try everything. I may not always succeed, but at least I've found out for myself."

Best seat in the house.

When you sit, most of your weight balances on three thinly fleshed bones. As such your natural weight pinches the flesh between the bones and the wheelchair seat; the buttocks become warm and discomfort occurs, blood flow is reduced, eventually the flesh breaks down and pressure sores occur.

The purpose of every wheelchair pad is to evenly distribute the user's weight over the entire buttocks area thereby minimizing pressure and pinch on those three thinly fleshed areas. Pressure reduction is paramount, however temperature reduction is also important.

Jobst Hydro-Float Flotation Pad and nine other wheelchair pads were recently the subject of an independent pressure study conducted by a prominent medical center research team. This research team concluded that the Jobst Hydro-Float Flotation Pad evenly distributed the user's weight over the entire buttocks area, and reduced pressure and pinch on the three thinly fleshed buttocks areas more efficiently than all other pads tested. Nearly 10% more efficient than the next highest ranking pad.

Another group of independent medical researchers found that a 1°C rise in temperature increased the metabolic demand of tissue subject to pressure by 10%. Therefore, to reduce the temperature surrounding tissue subject to pressure would reduce the susceptibility of the tissue to pressure sores. Three types of wheelchair pads were studied (i.e.Gel, Foam and Hydro-Float) and it was concluded that Jobst Hydro-Float Flotation Pad reduced temperature more efficiently than the other types of pads tested.

Get the best seat in the house. Sit on a Jobst Hydro-Float Flotation Pad. No other wheelchair pad reduces pressure and temperature as efficiently as a Jobst Hydro-Float.

but it works!

And the very thing that makes the ROHO Cushion look so odd is the thing that makes it work so well in the treatment of tissue breakdown and pressure ulcers.

All those lumps you see are actually 72 separate soft, flexible, low-pressure air cells. They are interconnected at their base by air passages so they can work together to support, evenly, the loads placed on them.

The body actually sinks into the ROHO cushion. As the air cells are pressed down they displace their air from cell to cell to conform to the natural body shape and equalize the suspension forces at every point the cushion contacts the body. (If you shift your body around on a ROHO cushion you can feel the air cells adjusting and redistributing your body load.)

How well does it work?

The ROHO Dry Floatation™ System was designed for acute care situations to aid in the treatment of existing pressure ulcers, and for long-term protection of patients even when turning is not possible.

It is gratifying that numbers of successful applications are being reported in these areas and the range and incidence of use as a treatment device is growing.

Meanwhile, our cushion, designed for treatment, has become very popular both with professionals and the patients themselves as a high quality device to prevent tissue breakdown before it starts, or help post-operative maternity patients through their initial "sore" period or even to help reduce fatigue.

Again, our customers teach us.

Amputees used to have to settle for second best when it came to showering and other grooming activities because a regular prosthesis could be damaged by water. Now, with Ortho Aid, you'll enjoy new freedom and comfort in the shower or anywhere you might need a prosthesis for a short time. It fits above or below the knee and suits both men and women.

ORTHO Aid by CAMP®

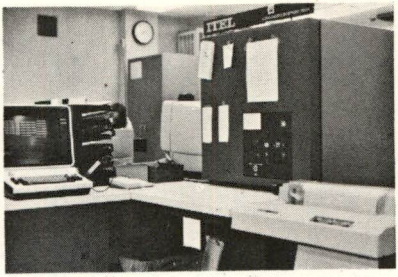
Keeping Up With What's New



AOI searches are being done on this IBM MVS Operating System at the Computer Center at Illinois State University.

A primary resource for this Accent Buyer's Guide was the data file of Accent on Information's (AOI) computerized retrieval system. The result is both a comprehensive and a convenient listing of products designed to aid the disabled in virtually every phase of living.

Accent gets it all together for you by making it easy to get the latest information on a wide variety of subjects or problem area. AOI is continually being updated with data about new devices and how-to information to help persons who have disabilities to live more effective lives.

SUBJECT AND PROBLEM AREAS INCLUDED IN AOI:

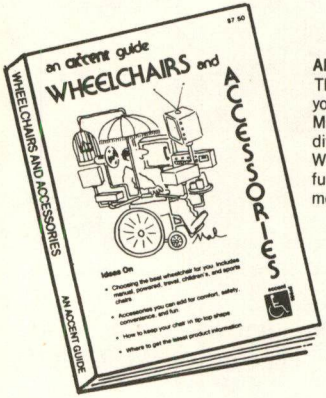
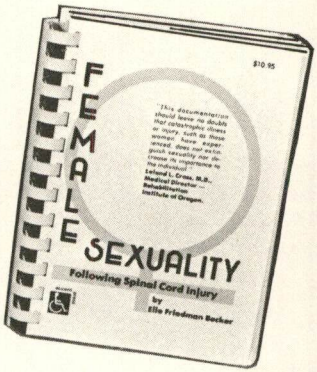
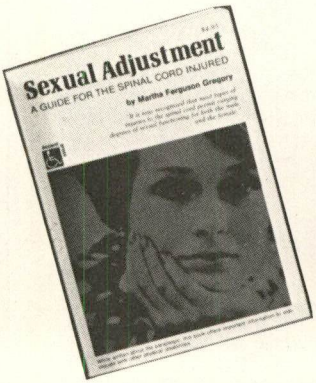
ACCENT SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS BRINGS YOU



AN ACCENT GUIDE: WHEELCHAIRS AND ACCESSORIES
This 144 page comprehensive guide gives you the answers you need to questions about mobility. Which suits you best—MANUAL OR POWERED? What style do you like? What different kinds are available and where can you get them? What accessories can you get for safety, convenience, or fun? Hundreds of illustrations and photos to help you get more for your money. $7.50 (plus 65¢ shipping).



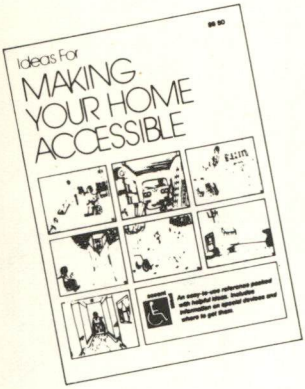
FEMALE SEXUALITY FOLLOWING SPINAL CORD INJURY
by Elle Friedman Becker
Provides an excellent resource for females, spouses, families and health professionals that fulfills a great need. Personal interviews with professionals who have substantial background for their contribution provide technical and scientific information in a practical, understandable manner. Spiral bound for easy reading. $10.95 (plus 65¢ shipping).



SEXUAL ADJUSTMENT: A GUIDE FOR THE SPINAL CORD INJURED
While written mainly about sexual adjustment for the paraplegic male, this book offers important information to individuals with other physical disabilities as well. This guide contains a valuable anthology of professional observations of paraplegia, what it is and what effects it has on individuals. $4.95 (plus 65¢ shipping).

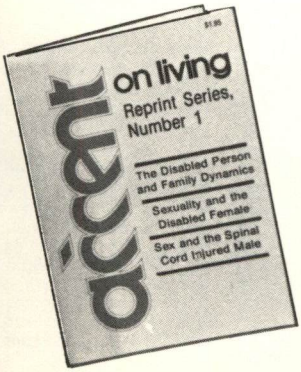
TOPICS OF SPECIAL INTEREST

Seldom found elsewhere



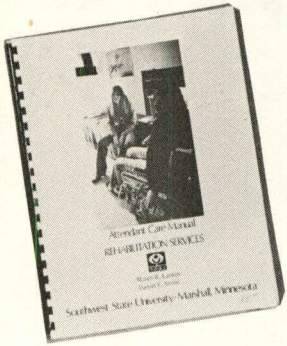
IDEAS FOR MAKING YOUR HOME ACCESSIBLE
Gives you over 100 pages (with many pictures and illustrations) full of information to help you whether you are remodeling, building or making one simple adaptation. Includes tips on what you can do in every room of the house; specifications on ramps, doorways, counters, etc.; special devices and where to get them; majority of the best information on this subject compiled and edited from sources in Accent On Information's computerized retrieval system. $6.50 (plus 65¢ shipping).

LAUGH WITH ACCENT
A prized collection of the best cartoons from ACCENT. Almost any situation can be funny, especially if you have a disability. In this 96-page book it happens in so many ways you may never stop laughing! $2.95 (plus 65¢ shipping).



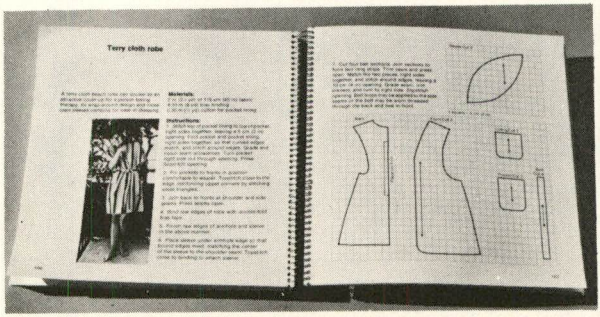
REPRINT SERIES NO. 1
"The Disabled Person and Family Dynamics", "Sexuality and the Disabled Female", and "Sex and the Spinal Cord Injured" were very popular when they first appeared in ACCENT. Now reprinted in one handy reference. $1.95 (plus 35¢ shipping).

MORE ACCENT SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS



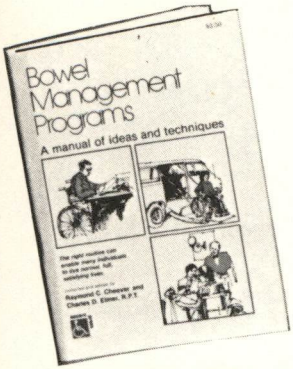
ATTENDANT CARE MANUAL
by Maren R. Larson and Daniel Snobl
Describes various types of disabilities (with emphasis on spinal cord injuries) and the needs of these disabled persons. It provides specific step-by-step procedures for daily living and explains first aid treatment. A daily checklist for attendants is enclosed. This spiral bound book includes many illustrations. $5.00 (plus 65¢ shipping).

HOME OPERATED BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE DISABLED
Gives you important information on getting started in your own home business and the chance to make a good living. It offers practical and workable ideas and reveals case histories of how other disabled individuals have overcome some of the obstacles involved. $4.50 (plus 65¢ shipping).



CLOTHING DESIGNS FOR THE HANDICAPPED
by Anne Kernaleguen

Comprehensive book that provides designs for men, women and children. Easy-to-follow directions for altering clothing and patterns are valuable to professionals, disabled people and their families. Illustrations on every page to make instructions easy to understand and show the finished products. Spiral bound with washable cover. $19.95 (plus $1 shipping).



BOWEL MANAGEMENT: A MANUAL OF IDEAS AND TECHNIQUES
Many paras and quads can gain greater freedom by learning methods used successfully in rehabilitation centers. Includes: methods to facilitate bowel evacuation; considerations such as frequency, timing, diet, water intake, exercise, use of laxatives, position, use of medications; toilet aids, and cleaning; programs from three rehabilitation centers; and ideas from ACCENT readers. $3.50 (plus 35¢ shipping).

ACCENT On Information

Serving Disabled Persons and Rehab Professionals for over 12 years in locating special products, devices, and how-to information

WHAT do you need? Tell us about your handicap, your limitations. Tell us what you need—a way to drive your car . . . a way to get in and out of the bathtub safely . . . a way to use the typewriter . . . or whatever.

WHAT we do. We punch a computer card with your questions and qualifications. We feed it into an IBM System 370/145 computer where your question is checked against over 4000 pieces of information stored on AOI's data tape. We receive new information daily and continually add to the data bank and delete items that are no longer available.

WHAT you get. We then mail you that AOI computer printout, which (1) lists specific products, books, magazine articles, ideas from other disabled people, films, current legislation, anything that might help you solve your problem; (2) gives a description of each item so you'll know if it is exactly what you are looking for; and (3) tells where the product is available (manufacturer's name and address) or where to write for more details.
