DC Summary of Conclusions

It was agreed that:

-- The NSC/DC agreed to DoD's proposal to preposition the equipment for one division in Saudi Arabia and 15 TACAIR squadrons in Egypt and the GCC states (except Kuwait) to complement a program of security cooperation that would include access to regional facilities, training and exercises, an enhanced US naval presence, a rotational air presence and a CENTCOM forward headquarters element preferably in the UAE;

-- On DoD's proposal for more extensive, longer term prepositioning requirements that the Saudis would fund and share joint ownership, the NSC/DC agreed to avoid overburdening the Saudis and putting our near term requirements at risk. It was also agreed that the idea was too new and would require more study within the Administration and discussion with Congress before we could proceed. If Secretary Cheney felt strongly about the issue, it was suggested he discuss it with General Scowcroft.

-- The NSC/DC agreed to approach Principals on the idea of leaving up to a brigade in Kuwait for a transitional period until early this fall at a date to be specified. If we were to extend our ground presence beyond July 4, it was agreed we would specify to the GOK up front a fall 1991 departure date. In the intervening month, we agreed we should begin helping rebuild the Kuwaiti military, initiate a training and exercise program, and start rotating units and ship visits into Kuwait to be in place by the date the brigade was ready to depart.

-- The NSC/DC also agreed that for political reasons we should continue to promote the idea of an Arab (GCC, Egyptian and Syrian) peacekeeping force in the Gulf. In this regard, Kuwait should be encouraged to keep an Egyptian force presence for political reasons to complement our bilateral security cooperation.

-- The NSC/DC agreed that if asked, Secretary Cheney would tell the Kuwaitis that we would be willing to consider a prepositioning program once all the other arrangements were put in place and also after we ourselves had a chance to determine the nature of the regime and the evolving threat. In this regard, the idea of prepositioning equipment in Kuwait for a Marine Amphibious Ready Group that would be stationed offshore in the Gulf was considered and rejected at this time, even if the Kuwaitis were willing to pay for it.

-- On funding military storage facilities, the NSC/DC agreed the GCC should bear those costs, while we would pay for the fill (essentially sunk costs) for our initial prepositioning requirements.

-- On security guarantees, the NSC/DC agreed that we should use with the other Gulf States the Oman model of a presidential letter containing broad security assurances tied to the negotiations of formal access agreements.

-- On a regional training center, we would ask the Saudis to designate an area for live fire exercises with an eye toward establishing a permanent training facility in the longer term which the Saudis would fund and staff.

-- On negotiating strategy, the NSC/DC agreed that during his visit to the Gulf next week, Secretary Cheney would present a broad strategic overview of our security requirements in the Gulf region, and the specific cooperation we envisage with each country. Our Ambassadors would then follow up on the details.
