

Originally Processed With FOIA(s):
S; 2000-0949-F

FOIA Number:
S

FOIA MARKER

This is not a textual record. This is used as an administrative marker by the George Bush Presidential Library Staff.

Record Group/Collection: George H.W. Bush Presidential Records
Collection/Office of Origin: Speechwriting, White House Office of Series: Speech File Backup Files
Subseries: Chron File, 1989-1993

OA/ID Number: 13658
Folder ID Number: 13658-006

Folder Title:
Toast at U.S. Hosted Banquet--Beijing, China 2/26/89 [OA 6343]

Stack:	Row:	Section:	Shelf:	Position:
G	26	18	6	6

Klugman / Blessy

Toast by President Bush at U.S.-Hosted Banquet

Beijing

February 26, 1989

President Yang, distinguished guests,

After last night's wonderful banquet, tonight is our opportunity to show our appreciation. Appreciation not only for last night, but for your friendship and your contribution to U.S.-Chinese relations.

Mr. President, I remember well your productive visit to Washington in 1987, in your capacity as Vice Chairman of the Central Military Commission. We discussed the development and prospects for Sino-American relations -- prospects for relationships between our respective military establishments, and arms control. And, I remember that special evening on board a boat, floating down the Potomac River, when you captivated us all with reminiscences of your life in the turbulent China half a century ago.

President Yang, I am sure you will not mind if I also use this occasion to pay tribute to the man who was my host at lunch today. History tells us that the true test of statesmanship is whether a leader changes his world -- whether he leads his world rather than his world leading him. By that test, no one can doubt that Deng Xiaoping will be counted among the pre-eminent statesmen of our times. His ideas, his courage and his actions have made a profound difference for the better in the lives of China's billion people and in relations between China and the rest of the world. I believe I speak for all Americans when I say Chairman Deng enjoys our deepest respect and admiration for his role in improving U.S.-China relations.

Not so long ago, just over a decade, China steered a new course. I have had the occasion these past two days to talk to you, Mr. President, to Chairman Deng, to General Secretary Zhao, and to Premier Li about what China has accomplished and where China is going. We have also discussed the future of U.S.-China relations and shared our perspectives on still-troubled areas of the globe: Cambodia, Afghanistan, Korea, the Middle East.

I have emerged from these talks convinced that U.S.-China relations are strong. There is also great potential for further development. The goal of my administration will be to transform this potential into reality. That way, we can make this world a safer place for us all.

I want you all to know that China and her people will always hold a very special place in Barbara's heart and in my heart. The American people and the Chinese people have an historic rendezvous that is now in our hands. So, in closing, I would ask you to join in a toast:

--to the health of President Yang;

--to the health of Chairman Deng;

--to the health of General Secretary Zhao and Premier Li;

--and to the future of U.S.-China relations, a future filled with achievement, good fortune, and peace.

Ganbei!

Toast by President Bush at U.S.-Hosted Banquet

Beijing

February 26, 1989

President Yang, distinguished guests,

After last night's wonderful banquet, tonight is our opportunity to show our appreciation. Appreciation not only for last night, but for your friendship and your contribution to U.S.-Chinese relations.

Mr. President, I remember well your productive visit to Washington in 1987, in your capacity as Vice Chairman of the Central Military Commission. We discussed the development and prospects for Sino-American relations -- prospects for relationships between our respective military establishments, and arms control. And, I remember that special evening on board a boat, floating down the Potomac River, when you captivated us all with reminiscences of your life in the turbulent China half a century ago.

President Yang, I am sure you will not mind if I also use this occasion to pay tribute to the man who was my host at lunch today. History tells us that the true test of statesmanship is whether a leader changes his world -- whether he leads his world rather than his world leading him. By that test, no one can doubt that Deng Xiaoping will be counted among the pre-eminent statesmen of our times. His ideas, his courage and his actions have made a profound difference for the better in the lives of China's billion people and in relations between China and the rest of the world. I believe I speak for all Americans when I say Chairman Deng enjoys our deepest respect and admiration for his role in improving U.S.-China relations.

Not so long ago, just over a decade, China steered a new course. I have had the occasion these past two days to talk to you, Mr. President, to Chairman Deng, to General Secretary Zhao, and to Premier Li about what China has accomplished and where China is going. We have also discussed the future of U.S.-China relations and shared our perspectives on still-troubled areas of the globe: Cambodia, Afghanistan, Korea, the Middle East.

I have emerged from these talks convinced that U.S.-China relations are strong. There is also great potential for further development. The goal of my administration will be to transform this potential into reality. That way, we can make this world a safer place for us all.

I want you all to know that China and her people will always hold a very special place in Barbara's heart and in my heart. The American people and the Chinese people have an historic rendezvous that is now in our hands. So, in closing, I would ask you to join in a toast:

--to the health of President Yang;

--to the health of Chairman Deng;

--to the health of General Secretary Zhao and Premier Li;

--and to the future of U.S.-China relations, a future filled with achievement, good fortune, and peace.

Ganbei!

Additions to President's toast at US-hosted banquet, February 26, 1989

President Yang, Premier Li, distinguished guests,

(Second Paragraph after "...half a century ago.") Mr. Premier, I also recall ~~with pleasure your visit to the US accompanying President Li Xiannian in 1985~~ when we had the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas. Your visits to Silicon Valley and Hoover Dam highlighted areas of high technology cooperation which our two countries can undertake, for the benefit of industries and peoples on both sides of the Pacific..

that you also took a boat down a river during your visit to the U.S. in 1985 in your case to inspect U.S. Army Corps of Engineer projects along the Mississippi River.

Insert: everytime President Yang's title and name are used together, insert "Premier Li" immediately after "President Yang". Also add in conclusion of toast phrase "to the health of Premier Li" after phrase "to the health of President Yang."

changes taken over the phone from Doug Paul (5744) →

CSM 2/3/89
Briefing 1/26/89

DRAFT

Jim Kelly

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE OF THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. BUSH TO JAPANFEBRUARY 22 - 25, 1989Wednesday, February 22, 1989

6:30 am Depart Andrews AFB en route Elmendorf AFB,
Anchorage, Alaska
(Flying Time: 7 Hours 30 Minutes)
(Time Change: Back 4 Hours)

10:00 am Arrive Elmendorf AFB, Anchorage, Alaska
(2:00 pm EST)
(Refuel: 1 Hour 30 Minutes) *

11:30 am Depart Elmendorf AFB en route Tokyo, Japan
(Flying Time: 7 Hours 40 Minutes)
(Time Change: Ahead 18 Hours)

(CROSS INTERNATIONAL DATELINE)Thursday, February 23, 1989

China

Ed McNally

Embassy

3 toast

1:10 pm Arrive Haneda Airport, Tokyo, Japan
(11:10 pm on
2/22/89 EST)

1:20 pm Depart Haneda Airport en route Hotel Okura

1:35 pm Arrive Hotel Okura

2:00 pm Participate in Luncheon with President Mitterand

3:30 pm Conclude Luncheon

3:45 pm Depart Hotel Okura en route Akasaka Palace

3:55 pm Arrive Akasaka Palace for Call on Prime Minister
Takeshita

4:35 pm Depart Akasaka Palace en route Hotel Okura

4:45 pm Arrive Hotel Okura

(PRIVATE TIME: 1 HOUR 15 MINUTES)

6:00 pm Participate in Bilaterals

9:00 pm Conclude Bilaterals

RON

Friday, February 24, 1989

(PERSONAL STAFF TIME)

9:45 am Depart Hotel Okura en route Shinjuku Park

10:00 am Arrive Shinjuku Park for Funeral Ceremony

10:10 am Ceremony of Imperial House begins

11:45 am Ceremony concludes

11:55 am Ceremony of State begins

12:50 pm Depart Shinjuku Park en route Hotel Okura

1:05 pm Arrive Hotel Okura

(PRIVATE TIME: 1 HOUR 55 MINUTES)

3:00 pm Participate in Bilaterals

6:00 pm Conclude Bilaterals

(PRIVATE TIME: 1 HOUR)

7:00 pm Depart Hotel Okura en route Akasaka Palace

7:15 pm Arrive Akasaka Palace for Prime Minister's Reception

7:45 pm Depart Akasaka Palace en route Hotel Okura

8:00 pm Arrive Hotel Okura for RON

Saturday, February 25, 1989

9:45 am Depart Hotel Okura en route Imperial Palace

9:55 am Arrive Imperial Palace for Audience with Emperor

10:15 am Depart Imperial Palace en route Hotel Okura

10:25 am Arrive Hotel Okura

(PRIVATE TIME: 35 MINUTES)

11:00 am Participate in Bilaterals
12:00 noon Conclude Bilaterals
12:15 pm Depart Hotel Okura en route Haneda Airport
12:30 pm Arrive Haneda Airport
12:45 pm Depart Tokyo, Japan en route Beijing, China
(10:45 pm
on 2/24/89 EST) (Flying Time: 4 Hours 15 Minutes)
(Interchange: 30 Minutes)
(Time Change: Back 1 Hour)
(Food Service:)

?

~~departure~~

PRIVATE SCHEDULE OF THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. BUSH

FOR

BEIJING, CHINA

FEBRUARY 25 - 27, 1989

4:30 pm Arrive Beijing International Airport, Beijing,
(3:30 am EST) China

4:45 pm Depart Beijing International Airport en route
Diaoyutai State Guest House

5:15 pm Arrive Diaoyutai State Guest House

Note: Brief Greeting with official host-expected

(PRIVATE TIME: 45 MINUTES)

6:00 pm Depart Diaoyutai State Guest House en route
Great Hall of the People

6:15 pm Arrive Great Hall of the People for Meeting and Banquet with President Yang Shangkun

6:20 pm Meeting begins

7:05 pm Banquet begins

9:00 pm Depart Great Hall of the People en route Diaoyutai
State Guest House

9:15 pm Arrive Diaoyutai State Guest House for ROM

Sunday February 26, 1989

7:45 am Depart Diaoyutai State Guest House en route
Chongwenmen Protestant Church

8:00 am Arrive Chongwenmen Protestant Church for Service

9:15 am Depart Chongwenmen Protestant Church en route
Great Hall of the People

9:30 am Arrive Great Hall of the People and proceed to TBD Hall for Bilateral Meeting with
Premier Li Peng

10:45 am  Conclude Meeting, depart TBD Hall, and proceed to Fujian Hall.

*remark **
10:48 am Arrive Fujian Hall for Meeting and Banquet with Chairman Deng Xiaoping

10:50 am Meeting begins

11:50 am Luncheon begins

1:15 pm Depart Great Hall of the People en route International Club

At
1:25 pm Arrive International Club for Drop-By

1:40 pm Depart International Club en route Ambassador Lord's Residence

1:45 pm Arrive Ambassador Lord's Residence for Embassy Community Greeting

2:20 pm Depart Ambassador Lord's Residence en route Diaoyutai State Guest House

2:35 pm Arrive Diaoyutai State Guest House

(PRIVATE TIME: 1 HOUR 30 MINUTES)

4:05 pm Depart Diaoyutai State Guest House en route Great Hall of the People

4:20 pm Arrive Great Hall of the People for Bilateral Meeting with Party General Secretary Zhao Ziyang

5:30 pm Depart Great Hall of the People en route Diaoyutai State Guest House

5:45 pm  Arrive Diaoyutai State Guest House for Private Time

(PRIVATE TIME: 45 MINUTES)

6:30 pm Depart Diaoyutai State Guest House en route The Great Wall Sheraton Hotel

6:50 pm Arrive The Great Wall Sheraton Hotel for Dinner hosted by President Bush

*Remarks last **
9:00 pm Depart The Great Wall Sheraton Hotel en route Diaoyutai State Guest House

9:20 pm Arrive Diaoyutai State Guest House for RON

Monday, May 27, 1989

7:00 am Depart Diaoyutai State Guest House en route
Beijing International Airport

7:30 am Arrive Beijing International Airport

7:45 am Depart Beijing, China en route Seoul, Korea

(Flying Time: 2 Hours 45 Minutes)
(Interchange: 30 Minutes)
(Time Change: Ahead 1 Hour)
(Food Service:

REVISION 1-1-89

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE OF THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. BUSH

FOR

SEOUL, KOREA

FEBRUARY 27, 1989

- 12:15 pm Arrive K-16 Airport, Seoul, Korea.
(10:15 pm
on 2/26 EST)
- 12:25 pm Depart K-16 Airport via Marine One en route
Blue House.

(Flying Time: 20 Minutes)
- 12:45 pm Arrive Blue House for Meeting and Luncheon with President Roh Tae Woo.
- 12:50 pm Meeting begins.
- 1:15 pm Luncheon begins.
- 2:30 pm Depart Blue House via Marine One en route
National Assembly.

(Flying Time: 15 Minutes)
- 2:45 pm Arrive National Assembly for Speech and Greetings with Party Leaders. may speed
- 3:30 pm Depart National Assembly via Marine One en route
Ambassador's Residence.

(Flying Time: 10 Minutes)
- 3:40 pm Arrive Ambassador's Residence for American Community Greeting. ***

4:20 pm Depart Ambassador's Residence via Marine One en route K-16 Airport.

(Flying Time: 15 Minutes)

4:35 pm Arrive K-16 Airport.

4:45 pm Depart Seoul, Korea en route Elmendorf, AFB, Anchorage, Alaska

(2:45 am EST)

(Flying Time: 7 Hours 30 Minutes)
(Interchange: 30 Minutes)
(Time Change: Back 18 Hours)
(Food Service:)

6:45 am Arrive Elmendorf AFB, Anchorage, Alaska
(10:45 am EST)

(Refuel: 1 Hour 15 Minutes)

8:00 am Depart Anchorage, Alaska en route Andrews AFB
(12:00 pm EST)

(Flying Time: 6 Hours 30 Minutes)
(Interchange: None)
(Time Change: Ahead 4 Hours)
(Food Service:)

6:30 pm Arrive Andrews AFB

6:35 pm Depart Andrews AFB en route White House

(Flying Time: 10 Minutes)

6:45 pm Arrive White House

cc: S. Studdert
J. Keller
G. Fendler

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

February 10, 1989

MEMORANDUM FOR The Chief of Staff
Brent Scowcroft
David Bates
Richard Breeden
Andrew Card
James Cicconi
David Demarest
Marlin Fitzwater
Boyden Gray
Fred McClure
Bonnie Newman
Roger Porter
Steve Studdert
Chase Untermeyer

Joe Hagin
Ed Rogers
Robert Guttman
Susan Porter Rose
Patty Presock
Tim McBride
Laurie Firestone
Tony Lopez
David Valdez
Jean Lamb
Speechwriting Office
USSS/PPD
WHCA Audio/Visual
WHCA Operations

FROM: JOHN G. KELLER, JR. JK
DEPUTY ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT AND
DIRECTOR OF PRESIDENTIAL ADVANCE

SUBJECT: TRIP OF THE PRESIDENT TO THE FAR EAST

For your use and planning purposes, the attached is a tentative outline schedule for the Trip of the President to the Far East. As you will see, departure is Wednesday, February 22, at 6:30 a.m., from Andrews Air Force Base. Please keep in mind that the following information has not been finally approved.

Attachments

(Klugmann)
February 17, 1989
4:00 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST AT U.S.-HOSTED BANQUET
GREAT WALL SHERATON HOTEL
BEIJING, CHINA
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1989

President Yang, Premier Li, distinguished guests:

After last night's wonderful banquet, tonight is our opportunity to show our appreciation. Appreciation not only for last night, but for your friendship and your contribution to U.S.-Chinese relations.

Mr. President, I remember well your productive visit to Washington in 1987, in your capacity as Vice Chairman of the Central Military Commission. We discussed the prospects for a new era of Sino-American relations -- prospects for relations between our respective military establishments, the prospects for international peace and security, and for the reduction of arms. And I remember that special evening we spent floating on a boat down the Potomac River, when you captivated us all with reminiscences of your life in the turbulent China of half a century ago.

Mr. Premier, I recall as well your visit to the United States in 1985, and the chance it gave us to meet and exchange ideas. During that trip, I know that you traveled by boat down the Mississippi River to inspect U.S. Army Corps of Engineers projects. And you toured Silicon Valley and Hoover Dam, and saw the prospects for high technology cooperation which our two countries can undertake for the benefit of industries and peoples on both sides of the Pacific.

Together, all of us share a commitment to work for peace, and an abiding hope for our children and grandchildren to know each other as friends in a world of peace.

President Yang, Premier Li, I am sure you will not mind if I also use this occasion to pay tribute to the man who was my host at lunch today. History tells us that the true test of statesmanship is whether a leader changes his Nation for the better and, in doing so, whether he sets an example of leadership for the world to follow. By that test, no one can doubt that Chairman Deng Xiaoping will be counted among the pre-eminent statesmen of our times. His ideas, his courage, and his actions have made a profound and vivid difference for the better in the lives of China's billion people and in relations between China and the rest of the globe in the past ten years. And he has set an example for innovative development and economic reform that is being acknowledged by the Nations of the world. I believe I speak for all Americans when I say Chairman Deng enjoys our deepest respect and admiration for his role in improving U.S.-China relations.

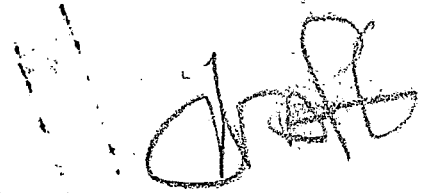

Not so long ago, China steered a new course. I have had the occasion these past two days to talk to you, Mr. President, to Premier Li, to Chairman Deng, and to General Secretary Zhao about what China has accomplished and where China is going. We have also discussed the future of U.S.-China relations and shared our perspectives on still-troubled areas of the globe, such as: Cambodia, Afghanistan, Korea, the Middle East.

I have emerged from these talks convinced that U.S.-China relations are strong. There is also great potential for further development. Our two Nations have a special role to play in the world, and a special relationship. We have great responsibilities, and also great possibilities. My administration hopes to work with you to build this potential into a greater reality that will help make this world a safer, more peaceful, and more prosperous place for us all, for today and for generations to come.

I want you all to know that China and her people will always hold a very special place in Barbara's heart and in mine. The American people and the Chinese people have joined in an historic rendezvous that has become a permanent friendship grounded in common interests and productive cooperation. So, in closing, I would ask you to join in a toast:

To the health of President Yang; to the health of Premier Li; to the health of Chairman Deng; to the health of General Secretary Zhao; and to the future of U.S.-China relations, a future filled with achievement, good fortune, and peace.

Ganbei!

(Klugmann)
February 20, 1989
4:00 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST AT U.S.-HOSTED BANQUET
GREAT WALL SHERATON HOTEL
BEIJING, CHINA
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1989

President Yang, Premier Li, distinguished guests:

After last night's wonderful banquet, tonight is our opportunity to show our appreciation. Appreciation not only for last night, but for your friendship and your contribution to U.S.-Chinese relations.

Mr. President, I remember well your productive visit to Washington in 1987, in your capacity as Vice Chairman of the Central Military Commission. We discussed the prospects for a new era of Sino-American relations -- prospects for relations between our respective military establishments, the prospects for international peace and security, and for the reduction of arms. And I remember that special evening we spent floating on a boat down the Potomac River, when you captivated us all with reminiscences of your life in the turbulent China of half a century ago. Come back and I guarantee you I will talk with the weatherman about warmer weather.

Mr. Premier, I recall as well your visit to the United States in 1985, and the chance it gave us to meet and exchange ideas. During that trip, I know that you traveled by boat down the Mississippi River to inspect U.S. Army Corps of Engineers projects. And you toured Silicon Valley and Hoover Dam, and saw the prospects for high technology cooperation which our two countries can undertake for the benefit of industries and peoples on both sides of the Pacific.

Together, all of us share a commitment to work for peace, and an abiding hope for our children and grandchildren to know each other as friends in a world of peace.

President Yang, Premier Li, I am sure you will not mind if I also use this occasion to pay tribute to the man who was my host at lunch today. History tells us that the true test of statesmanship is whether a leader changes his Nation for the better and, in doing so, whether he sets an example of leadership for the world to follow. By that test, no one can doubt that Chairman Deng Xiaoping will be counted among the pre-eminent statesmen of our times. ¶ His ideas, his courage, and his actions have, in the past ten years, made a profound and vivid difference for the better in the lives of China's billion people and in relations between China and the rest of the globe. And he has set an example for innovative development and economic reform that is being acknowledged by the Nations of the world. I believe I speak for all Americans when I say Chairman Deng enjoys our deepest respect and admiration for his role in improving U.S.-China relations. ¶ Incidentally, part of the reason we thought of having this Texas Bar-B-Que dinner, is that when Chairman Deng visited the United States, he became an honorary Texan. You see, not only did he visit the Houston Rodeo, but he rode into the arena wearing a ten-gallon hat, and, I might add, he captured the hearts of the American people, as well.

Not so long ago, China steered a new course. I have had the occasion these past two days to talk to you, Mr. President, to Premier Li, to Chairman Deng, and to General Secretary Zhao about what China has accomplished and where China is going. We have also discussed the future of U.S.-China relations and shared our perspectives on still-troubled areas of the globe, such as: Cambodia, Afghanistan, Korea, the Middle East.

I have emerged from these talks convinced that U.S.-China relations are strong. There is also great potential for further development. Our two Nations have a special role to play in the world, and a special relationship. We have great responsibilities, and also great possibilities. My administration hopes to work with you to build this potential into a greater reality that will help make this world a safer, more peaceful, and more prosperous place for us all, for today and for generations to come.

I want you all to know that China and her people will always hold a very special place in Barbara's heart and in mine. The American people and the Chinese people have joined in an historic rendezvous that has become a permanent friendship grounded in common interests and productive cooperation. So, in closing, I would ask you to join in a toast:

To the health of President Yang; to the health of Premier Li; to the health of Chairman Deng; to the health of General Secretary Zhao; and to the future of U.S.-China relations, a future filled with achievement, good fortune, and peace.

Ganbei!

draft

(Klugmann)
February 20, 1989
4:00 p.m.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: TOAST AT U.S.-HOSTED BANQUET
GREAT WALL SHERATON HOTEL
BEIJING, CHINA
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1989

President Yang, Premier Li, distinguished guests:

After last night's wonderful banquet, tonight is our opportunity to show our appreciation. Appreciation not only for last night, but for your friendship and your contribution to U.S.-Chinese relations.

Mr. President, I remember well your productive visit to Washington in 1987, in your capacity as Vice Chairman of the Central Military Commission. We discussed the prospects for a new era of Sino-American relations -- prospects for relations between our respective military establishments, the prospects for international peace and security, and for the reduction of arms. And I remember that special evening we spent floating on a boat down the Potomac River, when you captivated us all with reminiscences of your life in the turbulent China of half a century ago. Come back and I guarantee you I will talk with the weatherman about warmer weather.

Mr. Premier, I recall as well your visit to the United States in 1985, and the chance it gave us to meet and exchange ideas. During that trip, I know that you traveled by boat down the Mississippi River to inspect U.S. Army Corps of Engineers projects. And you toured Silicon Valley and Hoover Dam, and saw the prospects for high technology cooperation which our two countries can undertake for the benefit of industries and peoples on both sides of the Pacific.

Together, all of us share a commitment to work for peace, and an abiding hope for our children and grandchildren to know each other as friends in a world of peace.

President Yang, Premier Li, I am sure you will not mind if I also use this occasion to pay tribute to the man who was my host at lunch today. History tells us that the true test of statesmanship is whether a leader changes his Nation for the better and, in doing so, whether he sets an example of leadership for the world to follow. By that test, no one can doubt that Chairman Deng Xiaoping will be counted among the pre-eminent statesmen of our times.

His ideas, his courage, and his actions have, in the past ten years, made a profound and vivid difference for the better in the lives of China's billion people and in relations between China and the rest of the globe. And he has set an example for innovative development and economic reform that is being acknowledged by the Nations of the world. I believe I speak for all Americans when I say Chairman Deng enjoys our deepest respect and admiration for his role in improving U.S.-China relations.

Incidentally, part of the reason we thought of having this Texas Bar-B-Que dinner, is that when Chairman Deng visited the United States, he became an honorary Texan. You see, not only did he visit the Houston Rodeo, but he rode into the arena wearing a ten-gallon hat, and, I might add, he captured the hearts of the American people, as well.

Not so long ago, China steered a new course. I have had the occasion these past two days to talk to you, Mr. President, to Premier Li, to Chairman Deng, and to General Secretary Zhao about what China has accomplished and where China is going. We have also discussed the future of U.S.-China relations and shared our perspectives on still-troubled areas of the globe, such as: Cambodia, Afghanistan, Korea, the Middle East.

I have emerged from these talks convinced that U.S.-China relations are strong. There is also great potential for further development. Our two Nations have a special role to play in the world, and a special relationship. We have great responsibilities, and also great possibilities. My administration hopes to work with you to build this potential into a greater reality that will help make this world a safer, more peaceful, and more prosperous place for us all, for today and for generations to come.

I want you all to know that China and her people will always hold a very special place in Barbara's heart and in mine. The American people and the Chinese people have joined in an historic rendezvous that has become a permanent friendship grounded in common interests and productive cooperation. So, in closing, I would ask you to join in a toast:

To the health of President Yang; to the health of Premier Li; to the health of Chairman Deng; to the health of General Secretary Zhao; and to the future of U.S.-China relations, a future filled with achievement, good fortune, and peace.

Ganbei!

REMARKS: TOAST AT U.S. HOSTED BANQUET
GREAT WALL SHERATON HOTEL
BEIJING, CHINA
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1989

PRESIDENT YANG, PREMIER LI, DISTINGUISHED GUESTS: AFTER LAST NIGHT'S WONDERFUL BANQUET, TONIGHT IS OUR OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW OUR APPRECIATION. APPRECIATION NOT ONLY FOR LAST NIGHT, BUT FOR YOUR FRIENDSHIP AND YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO U.S.-CHINESE RELATIONS.

2

MR. PRESIDENT, I REMEMBER WELL YOUR PRODUCTIVE VISIT TO WASHINGTON IN 1987, IN YOUR CAPACITY AS VICE CHAIRMAN
OF THE CENTRAL MILITARY COMMISSION. WE DISCUSSED THE PROSPECTS FOR A NEW ERA OF SINO-AMERICAN RELATIONS --
PROSPECTS FOR RELATIONS BETWEEN OUR RESPECTIVE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENTS, THE PROSPECTS FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE AND SECURITY, AND FOR THE REDUCTION OF ARMS.

AND I REMEMBER THAT SPECIAL EVENING WE SPENT FLOATING ON A BOAT DOWN THE POTOMAC RIVER, WHEN YOU CAPTIVATED US ALL WITH REMINISCENCES OF YOUR LIFE IN THE TURBULENT CHINA OF HALF A CENTURY AGO. COME BACK AND I GUARANTEE YOU I WILL TALK WITH THE WEATHERMAN ABOUT WARMER WEATHER.

MR. PREMIER, I RECALL AS WELL YOUR VISIT TO THE UNITED STATES IN 1985, AND THE CHANCE IT GAVE US TO MEET AND EXCHANGE IDEAS.

DURING THAT TRIP, I KNOW THAT YOU TRAVELED BY BOAT DOWN THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER TO INSPECT U.S. ARMY CORPS OF ENGINEERS PROJECTS. AND YOU TOURED SILICON VALLEY AND HOOVER DAM, AND SAW THE PROSPECTS FOR HIGH TECHNOLOGY COOPERATION WHICH OUR TWO COUNTRIES CAN UNDERTAKE FOR THE BENEFIT OF INDUSTRIES AND PEOPLES ON BOTH SIDES OF THE PACIFIC.

TOGETHER, ALL OF US SHARE A COMMITMENT TO WORK FOR PEACE, AND AN ABIDING HOPE FOR OUR CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN TO KNOW EACH OTHER AS FRIENDS IN A WORLD OF PEACE.

PRESIDENT YANG, PREMIER LI, I AM SURE YOU WILL NOT MIND IF I ALSO USE THIS OCCASION TO PAY TRIBUTE TO THE MAN WHO WAS MY HOST AT LUNCH TODAY. HISTORY TELLS US THAT THE TRUE TEST OF STATESMANSHIP IS WHETHER A LEADER CHANGES HIS NATION FOR THE BETTER AND, IN DOING SO, WHETHER HE SETS AN EXAMPLE OF LEADERSHIP FOR THE WORLD TO FOLLOW.

BY THAT TEST, NO ONE CAN DOUBT THAT CHAIRMAN DENG XIAOPING WILL BE COUNTED AMONG THE PRE-EMINENT STATESMEN OF OUR TIMES.

HIS IDEAS, HIS COURAGE, AND HIS ACTIONS HAVE, IN THE PAST TEN YEARS, MADE A PROFOUND AND VIVID DIFFERENCE FOR THE BETTER IN THE LIVES OF CHINA'S BILLION PEOPLE AND IN RELATIONS BETWEEN CHINA AND THE REST OF THE GLOBE. AND HE HAS SET AN EXAMPLE FOR INNOVATIVE DEVELOPMENT AND ECONOMIC REFORM THAT IS BEING ACKNOWLEDGED BY THE NATIONS OF THE WORLD.

I BELIEVE I SPEAK FOR ALL AMERICANS WHEN I SAY CHAIRMAN DENG ENJOYS OUR DEEPEST RESPECT AND ADMIRATION FOR HIS ROLE IN IMPROVING U.S.-CHINA RELATIONS.

INCIDENTALLY, PART OF THE REASON WE THOUGHT OF HAVING THIS TEXAS BAR-B-QUE DINNER, IS THAT WHEN CHAIRMAN DENG VISITED THE UNITED STATES, HE BECAME AN HONORARY TEXAN. YOU SEE, NOT ONLY DID HE VISIT THE HOUSTON RODEO, BUT HE RODE INTO THE ARENA WEARING A TEN-GALLON HAT, AND, I MIGHT ADD, HE CAPTURED THE HEARTS OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, AS WELL.

NOT SO LONG AGO, CHINA STEERED A NEW COURSE. I HAVE HAD THE OCCASION THESE PAST TWO DAYS TO TALK TO YOU, MR. PRESIDENT, TO PREMIER LI, TO CHAIRMAN DENG, AND TO GENERAL SECRETARY ZHAO ABOUT WHAT CHINA HAS ACCOMPLISHED AND WHERE CHINA IS GOING. WE HAVE ALSO DISCUSSED THE FUTURE OF U.S.-CHINA RELATIONS AND SHARED OUR PERSPECTIVES ON STILL-TROUBLED AREAS OF THE GLOBE, SUCH AS: CAMBODIA, AFGHANISTAN, KOREA, THE MIDDLE EAST.

I HAVE EMERGED FROM THESE TALKS CONVINCED THAT U.S.-CHINA RELATIONS ARE STRONG. THERE IS ALSO GREAT POTENTIAL FOR FURTHER DEVELOPMENT. OUR TWO NATIONS HAVE A SPECIAL ROLE TO PLAY IN THE WORLD, AND A SPECIAL RELATIONSHIP. WE HAVE GREAT RESPONSIBILITIES, AND ALSO GREAT POSSIBILITIES. MY ADMINISTRATION HOPES TO WORK WITH YOU TO BUILD THIS POTENTIAL INTO A GREATER REALITY THAT WILL HELP MAKE THIS WORLD A SAFER, MORE PEACEFUL, AND MORE PROSPEROUS PLACE FOR US ALL, FOR TODAY AND FOR GENERATIONS TO COME.

I WANT YOU ALL TO KNOW THAT CHINA AND HER PEOPLE WILL ALWAYS HOLD A VERY SPECIAL PLACE IN BARBARA'S HEART AND IN MINE. THE AMERICAN PEOPLE AND THE CHINESE PEOPLE HAVE JOINED IN AN HISTORIC RENDEZVOUS THAT HAS BECOME A PERMANENT FRIENDSHIP GROUNDED IN COMMON INTERESTS AND PRODUCTIVE COOPERATION.

SO, IN CLOSING, I WOULD ASK YOU TO JOIN IN A TOAST:

TO THE HEALTH OF PRESIDENT YANG; TO THE HEALTH OF PREMIER LI; TO THE HEALTH OF CHAIRMAN DENG; TO THE HEALTH
OF GENERAL SECRETARY ZHAO; AND TO THE FUTURE OF U.S.-CHINA
RELATIONS, A FUTURE FILLED WITH ACHIEVEMENT, GOOD FORTUNE, AND PEACE.

GANBEI!

###

