INFORMATION

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: CHRISS WINSTON

FROM: CURT SMITH

SUBJECT: REMARKS AT CINCINATTI REDS VISIT

I. SUMMARY

On Tuesday, October 30 at 1:30 P.M., you will make brief remarks in the Rose Garden saluting the 1990 World Champion Cincinnati Reds. Among those attending will be the entire Reds team except for Eric Davis and Chris Sabo; Bill Bennett, Congressmen Jim Bunning, Paul Gillmore, Bill Gradison, and Tom Luken; Ben Mizell, and the members of this year's four championship Babe Ruth League teams.

II. DISCUSSION

The attached remarks (6 minutes, cards) pay tribute to the Reds' recent sweep of the defending world champion Oakland A's. The Reds led their division from wire to wire, defeated the Pittsburg Pirates to win the National League pennant, and then swept the A's for their first world championship since 1976.

ROSE GARDEN
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1990
1:30 P.M.

Secretary Bennett, Marge Schott, Lou Piniella, players, coaches, and official family of the 1990 Cincinnati Reds. // Congressmen Bill Gradison, Tom Luken, and Paul Gillmore from Ohio. From across the river in Kentucky, a Congressman who's played good old country hardball -- Jim Bunning. Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell. Our World Series umpires: Larry Barnett, Rocky Roe, Jim Quick, Ted Hendry, Frank Pulli, Randy Marsh, and also Bruce Froemming [FREM-ing], who can't be with us. // Also, I might mention that this is the fortieth anniversary of Babe Ruth League Baseball -- and we're lucky to have the four Babe Ruth championship teams of 1990 with us. They come from Staten Island / Youngstown, Ohio / and, yes, two from a city whose team visited here last October. Oakland, California. /

Best wishes from the most charismatic member of the Bush family. / You know the term "MVP" -- with us, it stands for Most Valuable Pooch. Schottzie, Millie sends her love. // Let me welcome you to the White House. And to America's salute to the Cincinnati Reds -- a team of heart, which achieved its impossible dream. //

((Marge, I know Bobby Brown is President of the American League. Forgive me, but I'd like to tell a story about how as a player for the New York Yankees, his roomate was my favorite philosopher, Yogi Berra.))

((Bobby and Yogi were reading late at night in their hotel room. Bobby was reading a medical journal -- Yogi, a comic book. Finally, Yogi put the magazine down, turned off the light, and said, "Bobby, my book had a happy ending. How did your's come out?")) //

Members of this newest Big Red Machine -- the story of the 1990 Reds had the happiest of endings. A world championship for America's oldest baseball franchise / for some of America's best baseball fans / for a team that looked its opponents in the eye // and made those opponents blink.

((You know, usually when I'm told I'll be having a White House meeting with some heavy hitters, it turns out to be the Congressional leadership. // But not today.))

Today, we're talking baseball. And a team that won ninety-one games in the regular season -- leading wire to wire, the first time in league history. // We're talking the team that beat a marvelous Pirates club in the playoffs. // I hope our guided missiles are as straight as Eric Davis' throw to nab Bobby Bonilla. // This is the team that swept the defending champion Oakland A's in an unforgettable World Series.

What moments you've given us. And what memories we have. Of one of the greatest bullpens in baseball's tide of times. ((You know how the Reds spell relief? It's easy. N-A-S-T-Y.)) // And of the Series' Most Valuable Player: Jose Rijo [REEhoh], yielding all of one run in 15 plus innings. Jose: Maybe you can lower interest rates. //

Then, there's Billy Hatcher -- seven straight hits, and 9 for 12 in the Series. I'm just glad I'm not running against you in the elections next week. And, yes, Eric the Red, whom I wish continued recovery. // When I talk to Mr. Gorbachev about offensive weapons, I'm going to tell him No. 44's bat is not negotiable. //

Go anywhere they love the Reds. Go to Dayton or Louisville or Des Moines or Siler City. They'll tell you about heroics too numerous to mention. Of Glenn Braggs and Barry Larkin, fielding brilliantly. And Joe Oliver -- winning Game Two with a memorable base hit. And Chris Sabo, who's on a tour of Japan. // This morning I talked to NASA. /// Chris' Game Three home runs are still in orbit. // And Paul O'Neill and Herb Winningham and, yes, Tom Browning // the man who combined a World Series and the birth of a son -- batting 1,000 along the way. //

Each of these men -- so many others -- were dedicated to a cause -- bringing the world championship back to the banks of the Ohio. You achieved that goal. / And Lou [Piniella] -- let me say: There were times in the last month I could have used you to help pilot my budget through Congress the way you piloted the Reds. // All of you showed why two of the most beautiful words in any language are, simply, "Play ball."

Reds' broadcaster Joe Nuxhall often says, "This is the Ol' Lefthander rounding third, and heading for home." This year, home for one of sport's greatest franchises was the 1990 world championship. So let me leave you by quoting another Reds' announcer, Marty Brennaman: "This one belonged to the Reds."

When it comes to baseball, Cincinnati is truly Number One. Thank you for coming here. Congratulations. And God bless the United States of America.

Lou Piniella & The Reds Coaches

Before coming to Cincinnati to manage the Reds in 1990, Lou Piniella spent his entire big league career — as a player and manager — in the American League. His only games at Riverfront Stadium came in the 1976 World Series, while playing against the Reds for the New York Yankees.

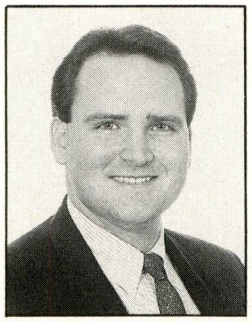

As a player, Lou had a .291 lifetime average for his 18 seasons in the major leagues, mostly with Kansas City (1969-73) and the Yankees (1974-84). He coached and later managed N.Y., compiling a 224-193 record as manager of the Yankees (1986-88).

Piniella was confident that, despite his lack of familiarity with the National League, he would be able to make a successful move to the NL. And the Reds' record proves he was right!

To help his transition, Piniella and Gen. Mgr. Bob Quinn hired a staff of very able coaches with solid NL experience.

Jackie Moore was hired as dugout coach after 3 seasons as third base coach for the Montreal Expos. Long-time Cincinnati player and coach Tony Perez was retained from the Reds' previous coaching staff to be the hitting coach and first base coach under Piniella. Sam Perlozzo was hired as the Reds' new third base coach after spending the 3 previous years as the Mets' third base coach. Larry Rothschild joined the staff as bullpen coach after serving as a roving pitching instructor in the Reds' farm system for 4 years. And Stan Williams was brought in as the pitching coach after many years as a big league coach and scout, including 1984 as pitching coach with the Reds under Vern Rapp.

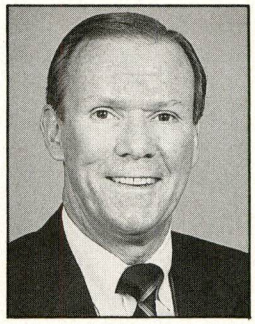

Piniella and his coaches are a winning combination and an important part of the Reds' success in 1990.

STEPHEN H. SCHOTT

Executive Vice President

Schott works closely with Mrs. Schott and oversees all of the Reds' operations. He joined the club in Sept., 1988, after four years as a financial consultant on Wall Street in New York City, most recently as Senior Vice President of Shearson Lehman Hutton/American Express, where he continues as a member of the company's Chairman's Council and Director's Council. He previously was a member of the President's Council and Executive Council of Drexel, Burnham & Lambert. A native of Cincinnati, Schott played football at Denison University in Granville, OH, where he received a degree in Broadcasting and Legal Studies. He also studied abroad in the Business program at Warnborough College in Oxford, England.

BOB QUINN

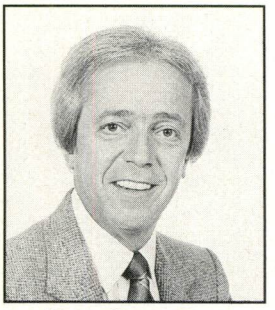

Vice President & General Manager

Quinn joined the Reds on Oct. 13, 1989 to head the club's baseball operations. Bob's extensive baseball background began with two years (1959-60) as General Manager of the Eau Claire team. After several years in private business, he returned to baseball as GM of the Reading Phillies (1967-68) & the Omaha Royals (1969-70). He was named Minor League Executive of the Year by The Sporting News in '67 and '69. Quinn joined the Milwaukee Brewers as Director of Minor League Operations in 1971. He spent 12 years with Cleveland, beginning in 1973 as Director of Scouting & Minor League Operations. He was promoted to VP/Player Development & Scouting in 1980. Quinn joined the N.Y. Yankees in Sept., 1986, as Assistant VP and was promoted to VP/Baseball Administration the following month. He was named VP & GM in June, 1988. Quinn's grandfather, J.A. Quinn, was GM of four major league teams. His father, John, was GM of the Boston and Milwaukee Braves for 23 years and the Philadelphia Phillies for 13 years. A graduate of Marquette U., Quinn was born in Boston. He and his wife, Kathryn, have two sons.

Reds Go Wire-to-Wire

By JON BRAUDE

The Cincinnati Reds started the decade of the 1990s with a new manager—Lou Piniella; a new General Manager—Bob Quinn; and old resolve from team owner Marge Schott—to return to the top of the National League Western Division.

The Reds were baseball's winningest team in the 1970s and they finished in second place five times in the '80s.

With the arrival of the 1990s, the Reds again set their sights on first place. This time, they reached that goal, winning their first Western Division title since 1979 and becoming the first NL team to go wire-to-wire — in first place every day — in a 162-game season.

An outstanding start was a major factor in the Reds' 1990 success story. They set a team record by winning their first 9 games and boasted a 33-12 record by early June. The Reds led the West by 8 games at the All-Star break. They reached 26 games over .500 for the first time on July 21 and equalled that two days later, when they also enjoyed an 11-game division lead.

The Reds fought off challenges by both the Giants and Dodgers in the final two months of the season to claim the 1990 Western Division crown.

Here is a month-by-month review of how the Reds won the West in 1990:

APRIL

An extra inning come-from-behind win in Houston on Apr. 9 got things rolling for the Reds, who went on to sweep a 3-game series in the Astrodome.

Another 3-game series sweep followed in Atlanta and the Reds ended their season-opening road trip with a 6-0 record.

The winning ways continued with a 2-1 decision over San Diego at Riverfront Stadium on Apr. 17—the Reds winning their home opener for the 8th consecutive year. The following night saw the Reds pound out an 11-7 win over the Padres to match the 1980 Reds for the best start in team history with 8 straight victories.

The 1990 Reds then carved their own place in the team's record books with their 9th win in a row, whipping Atlanta, 8-1, on Apr. 21 at Riverfront.

The winning streak ended with a 3-1 loss to the Braves on Apr. 22.

Two days later, the Reds lost Eric Davis for nearly a month, when he sprained his right knee in Philadelphia.

Cincinnati's "Nasty Boys" bullpen dominated opposing hitters as the Reds finished April with a 13-3 record and a 4 1/2-game lead over second place Los Angeles.

The performance of Billy Hatcher was vital to the Reds' early success. Acquired late in spring training from Pittsburgh, Hatcher hit .356 over the season's first five weeks.

MAY

After starting the new month with 2 defeats, the Reds bounced back with 5 straight wins, including a 4-game series sweep over the Cardinals at Busch Stadium—their first 4-game sweep in St. Louis since 1966.

The Reds won 5 of their next 7 games to run their season record to 23-7 on May 15.

Mariano Duncan was leading the NL in slugging percentage and ranked 2nd in batting average when he went on the disabled list on May 14 with an abdominal muscle strain, but Davis returned from the DL on May 17.

The Reds won 7 of 10 games leading up to their first West Coast road trip of the season. The trip started with a 10-inning 2-1 loss in Los Angeles on May 31.

The Reds record for May was 17-9 and they ended the month with an 8-game lead over second place San Diego.

Jack Armstrong earned National League Pitcher of the Month honors for May, going 4-1 with a 1.64 ERA.

JUNE

June began with 3 straight wins at Dodger Stadium. Paul O'Neill went 4-for-4 with 2 homers as the Reds downed the Dodgers, 8-3, on June 2 to go 20 games over .500 (32-12) for the first time since 1979. Tom Browning and Randy Myers combined for a 2-0 win the next day, improving the Reds' record to 33-12 (.733 winning percentage) and increasing their West lead to 10 games.

The Reds then hit their first down period of 1990, losing 8 of 9 games, while scoring a total of only 13 runs in the 8 defeats. The slide began with a 3-game series sweep by the Giants at Candlestick Park on June 4-6—the first series the Reds lost all year.

On June 9, the Reds acquired outfielder Glenn Braggs and minor league infielder Billy Bates from Milwaukee in a trade for pitchers Ron Robinson and Bob Sebra.

The Reds' bats awoke for a 13-4 win over the Braves on June 13 to snap a 5-game losing streak, followed by a 4-3 victory over Atlanta the next night.

A home run barrage highlighted the Reds' 3-game sweep over the Astros on June 15-17 at Riverfront. The Reds went deep 5 times in the middle game of the series, including consecutive homers by Chris Sabo, Barry Larkin and Davis in the 5th inning. The Reds connected for 4 more long balls the next day, including 2 by Davis.

The Reds' winning streak reached 6 games with a 4-2 victory in the first game of a June 19 doubleheader in Atlanta.

The Dodgers made their first visit to Cincinnati for a 3-game series on June 22-24. Los Angeles won the opener, 7-6, in 10 innings. The Reds came back the next night to score 8 runs in the 4th inning and beat L.A., 11-6.

The 2 teams closed out their series in the first regular season Sunday night home game in Reds' history. Sabo capped a 6-run 6th inning with a 3-run homer and the Reds won, 10-6, though the game may be best remembered for Norm Charlton bowling over Dodgers' catcher Mike Scioscia to score a 7th inning run.

The Reds completed a successful (4-2) homestand by winning 2 out of 3 games from the Giants.

The Reds were 16-14 in June and enjoyed a 9 1/2-game lead over second place San Francisco as the season's third month came to an end.

JULY

The Reds rebounded from a July 1 loss in New York to win 4 of the next 6 games leading up to the All-Star break. Hal Morris began his emergence as a force in the Reds' offense, going 9-for-16 with 3 homers and 6 RBIs as the Reds won 3 of 4 games in Philadelphia from July 5-8.

At the All-Star break, the Reds had the major leagues' best record (50-29; .633 winning percentage) and the majors' biggest division lead (8 games over San Francisco).

Five players represented the Reds on the National League All-Star team—pitchers Armstrong, Myers and Rob Dibble and infielders Sabo and Larkin. Armstrong was the NL's starting pitcher, throwing 2 scoreless innings. Sabo was voted by fans as the starting third baseman.

Immediately following the All-Star break, the Reds went 8-4 on their longest homestand of the season.

They split the first 4 games of a 5-game series with the Mets, then won, 2-1, on July 15 as Charlton moved into the starting rotation (after 108 consecutive relief appearances) and pitched 6 innings of 2-hit shutout ball. Myers recorded his 20th save of the season and his 6th (in 6 Reds' wins) against his former New York teammates.

A grand slam homer by Davis propelled the Reds to a 7-3 come-from-behind win over Montreal on July 16 to begin a 3-game series sweep at Riverfront.

The Reds ended the homestand by winning 2 of 3 games from the Phillies to go 26 games over .500 (58-32 record) on July 21.

An 11-game West Coast road trip started well for the Reds as they beat the Padres, 9-2, onJuly 23. But tough times lay ahead.

The Reds lost their next 8 games—dropping 3 straight in San Diego, 4 in a row in San Francisco and then 1 in Los Angeles. Jose Rijo and Myers combined on a 6-hitter and Sabo homered and drove in 2 runs as the Reds stopped the skid with a 5-2 win at Dodger Stadium on July 31. They ended the month with a 14-15 July record. Their division lead stood at 5 1/2 games over the Giants.

AUGUST

The new month began with a win in San Diego to end the road trip, then the Reds returned to Riverfront, where they would play 20 of their 29 games in August.

An 11-game homestand opened with 3 straight losses to the Padres before Rijo again helped turn things around, pitching a complete game 5-hitter for a 6-2 win over San Diego on Aug. 5.

The Dodgers came in and won 2 out of 3, cutting the Reds' Western Division lead to 4 1/2 games over San Francisco, with the second place Giants next into town.

The Reds won 3 of 4 games in the big series with 'Frisco. Charlton pitched a 3-hit shutout for his first major league complete game and O'Neill homered twice off Don Robinson (giving him 5 homers in 4 games vs. Robinson) as the Reds won the series opener, 7-0. The Giants won the following night, then the Reds posted 6-4 and 6-5 wins to end the homestand with a 6 1/2-game lead over the Giants.

A short 2-game road trip to St. Louis produced back-to-back wins, giving the Reds a sweep of their 6 games at Busch Stadium in 1990. Herm Winningham tied a major league record with 3 triples in the 12-inning 3-1 win over the Cardinals on Aug. 15.

The Reds came home and lost 5 in a row, including a 4-game sweep by the Pirates.

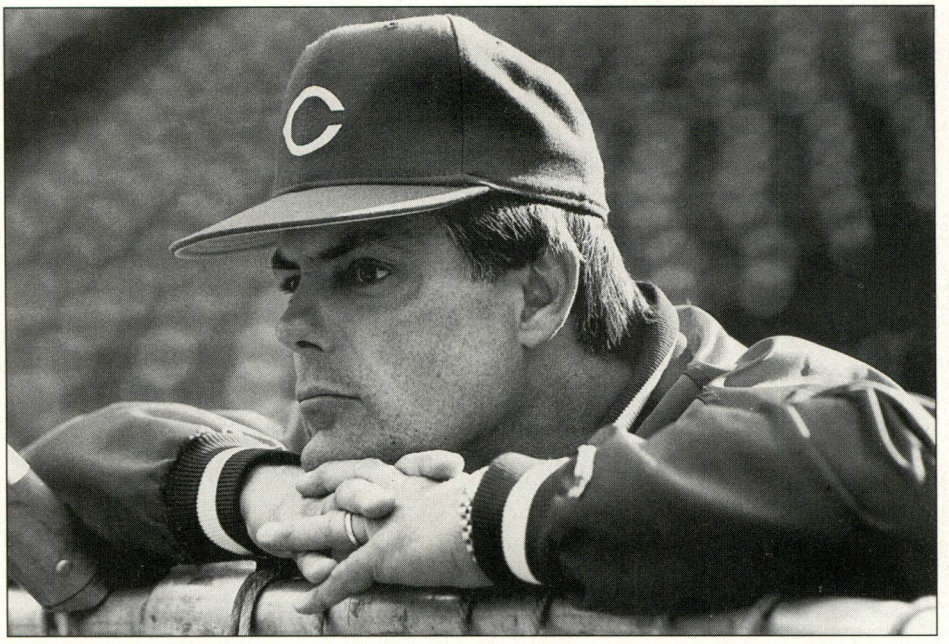

Hatcher tied a big league record with 4 doubles in the Aug. 21 win over the Cubs at Riverfront as the Reds won 6 of their next 7 games, including 3 out of 4 at Pittsburgh.

The Reds finished the month with a 15-14 August record and a 5 1/2-game lead over second place Los Angeles.

The Reds geared up for the stretch drive by acquiring veteran infielder Bill Doran in an Aug. 31 trade with Houston for 3 players from the Cincinnati farm system.

SEPTEMBER/OCTOBER

September started with 2 wins at Wrigley Field as the Reds wound up regular season play against Eastern Division teams with a 45-27 record (.625 winning percentage)—their best mark since the 1975 Reds went 48-24 (.667) vs. the East.

In his first season in Cincinnati, Lou Piniella guided the Reds to their first Western Division title since 1979.

A return to Western Division play began with 2 losses in Atlanta. The Reds then went to San Francisco, where they split a 2-game series. A 5-3 victory on Sept. 5 ended the Reds' 11-game losing streak at Candlestick Park.

It was on to Los Angeles, where the Reds came away with 1 win in 3 games vs. the second place Dodgers. The Reds took the middle game of the series, 8-4, as Davis and Oliver each drove in 2 runs and Myers tied the NL record for consecutive strikeouts in a game by a reliever, fanning 6 straight batters in saving the win for Browning.

The Reds returned to Riverfront and won 2 of 3 from Houston. Larkin hit a tie-breaking 2-run homer in the 9th inning for 7-5 win over the Astros on Sept. 13.

The Dodgers then came in and won 2 straight, before the Reds pounded out 13 hits, including 7 doubles, for a big 9-5 come-from-behind win over L.A. on Sept. 16. Morris and Doran each had 3 hits and 2 RBIs. Scott Scudder pitched 3 scoreless innings in relief for the win.

Rijo pitched a masterful 2-hitter with 12 strikeouts for a 4-0 shutout over the Giants the following day, then the Reds dropped their next 3 games—1 at home to the Giants and 2 in Houston to open the final regular season road trip.

The Reds closed their road schedule in spectacular fashion, sweeping a 4-game series in San Diego (Sept. 21-23) for the first time ever.

As they headed home for the final 9 games of the regular season, the Reds held a 5-game lead over second place Los Angeles.

Rijo and Browning turned in strong pitching performances as the Reds took 2 of 3 from Atlanta and the magic number for clinching the division title was down to 2.

Both the Reds and Dodgers lost on Sept. 28, so the magic number dropped to 1.

The Reds looked to wrap things up themselves with a win over San Diego on Sept. 29, but while rain fell at Riverfront, another Los Angeles loss made a Cincinnati victory unnecessary.

The Reds trailed the Padres, 3-1, after 6 1/2 innings, when a heavy downpour forced play to stop. As players and fans waited, the Dodgers dropped their game in San Francisco, clinching the Western Division title for the Reds and setting off a memorable celebration at Riverfront.

The rains did nothing to dampen the spirits of the Reds and their loyal fans. Mrs. Schott, Piniella and the Reds players, coaches and families celebrated on the wet field as cheering fans saluted the new Western Division champs.

Cincinnati's 1990 success story was truly a team effort. The Reds were at or near the top of the league in team pitching and batting all season, even without any individual pitcher among the top winners or a hitter with dominating statistics.

Reds' fans demonstrated their support throughout the 1990 season as the team's home attendance topped 2.4 million for the first time since 1978.

Cincinnati fans were treated to a season of exciting baseball — a season that brought back memories of the team's glory years of the 1970s and set the path for what the Reds hope will be a new era of success in the 1990s.

Fuel For Thought
From Marathon
Did you know that some of today's 4-cylinder engines produce more power than the 8-cylinder engines of the '50s and '60s? Improvements like computers, multi-valve port fuel injectors, and turbos make smaller engines more efficient, thereby creating more power. But, these finely tuned engines can lose their performance capabilities if they are not well maintained.
If you have one of these engines, use Super-M® Premium gasoline. It's specially formulated to get the maximum out of your high performance engine. Super-M Premium has PBA-4® detergent additive, which cleans up port fuel injectors and keeps valves clean. You might say Super-M is an important part of any preventative maintenance program for your vehicle.

Johnny Bench Looks Back on His 1972 Playoff Home Run

By JON BRAUDE

During his 17-year major league career, Hall of Famer Johnny Bench hit 402 home runs for the Cincinnati Reds — 389 homers in regular season games; five in World Series play; five in League Championship Series action; and three in All-Star games.

Is there any one of those 402 home runs that stands out as the most memorable?

To many baseball fans, the answer to that question is simple: Bench's ninth inning game-tying homer against Pittsburgh in the final game of the 1972 National League Championship Series.

To the man who hit the home run, the answer is the same.

"The one that everybody brings up most often is the home run in the playoffs against the Pirates," says Bench. "I certainly take great pleasure in my retirement night (when he homered off Houston's Mike Madden on September 17, 1983), but to this day, people still tell me where they were and what they were doing when I hit that home run against Pittsburgh."

Bench homered to right field off Pittsburgh's Dave Giusti to tie the fifth and deciding game of the 1972 National League Championship Series.

The situation that led to the memora ble home run was made-to-order for Bench, who at age 24, had already established himself as one of baseball' premier clutch hitters. He led the NL in both homers (40) and RBIs (125) during the '72 regular season and would later be named the league's Most Valuable Player for the second time in three years.

Bench and the Reds earned their wa into the League Championship Series b winning the Western Division title wit a 95-59 record. They won the division by 10½ games over both Houston and Los Angeles.

Pittsburgh entered the NLCS with remarkably similar numbers. The Pirate posted a 96-59 regular season record t win the Eastern Division by 11 games over runner-up Chicago.

Pittsburgh hosted the first two game of the best-of-five Championship Serie at Three Rivers Stadium. The Pirates won the opener, 5-1, before the Reds took the second game, 5-3. The teams then headed to Cincinnati for the rest of the series.

The same pattern evolved at Riverfro Stadium, with the Pirates winning, 3-2 then the Reds rebounding for a 7-1 victory in Game 4.

The stage was set for Game 5 on Wednesday afternoon, October 11.

The visitors took a 2-0 lead in the second inning against Cincinnati starting pitcher Don Gullett. The Reds cut the lead in half with a run in the third inning off Pirates' starter Steve Blass.

Pittsburgh made it 3-1 with a run in the 4th inning, knocking out Gullett.

The Reds' bullpen then shut down the Pirates' offense as Pedro Borbon (2 innings), Tom Hall (3) and Clay Carroll (1) teamed to pitch scoreless ball the re of the game.

Cesar Geronimo's fifth inning solo homer off Blass brought the Reds to within one run, 3-2. That lead held up as the game went to the bottom of the ninth.

Pirates' manager Bill Virdon brought in the ace of his bullpen, Dave Giusti, for the final inning. Giusti recorded 22 saves during the regular season and saved Game 3 of the NLCS. The first batter he faced was Bench.

"My mom had come down to the rai near the dugout as I was in the on deck circle," Johnny recalls. "She said, 'Hit me a home run.' I sort of glowed. I thought, Mom, I wish it was that easy."

Giusti jumped ahead of the Reds' catcher with two quick strikes. One of those strikes was a long drive to left field that hooked foul.

"He got a pitch up to me," says Bench. "I hit it hard, into the green seats, just foul."

The count went to one ball and two strikes.

The description of what happened next — as called by former Reds radio announcer Al Michaels — is nearly as memorable as the event itself:

"One and two. The pitch to Bench. A change, hit in the air to deep right field . . . Back goes Clemente . . . At the fence . . . She's gone. Johnny Bench, who hits almost every home run to left field, hits one to right. The game is tied."

"I think it was to everybody's amazement, just as Al Michaels called it, that I hit the ball to right field," Bench says.

"Dave Giusti was a guy who gave everybody trouble, especially me. To hit a home run off him was about the last thing I expected, although I said during the third or fourth inning that I was going to hit a home run to make a difference in the game. Very seldom did I ever feel that and not do it. I had the kind of season that I felt like I was going to be the one to win the ballgame or make a difference in the game.

"I was 24 years old and had just come off a great regular season. I figured I was the right guy to be up there at that particular time and if anybody was going to do it, it was going to be me. Everything was kind of madness after that."

Following Bench's home run, Tony Perez singled and was replaced by pinch-runner George Foster.

"Tony got the base hit and, wow, things really started to fall into place," Bench remembers. "We really had a chance. We weren't sure we were going to win it at that time, but just the idea that we were back in it was what we wanted."

The rally continued as Denis Menke singled, advancing Foster to second base and knocking out Giusti.

Bob Moose took over on the mound for Pittsburgh. Geronimo flied out to deep right field, sending Foster to third base. Darrel Chaney popped up for the second out of the inning.

Bench received a warm reception after crossing home plate with the tying run.

Reds' manager Sparky Anderson then sent Hal McRae to the plate as a pinch-hitter for Carroll.

With McRae at the plate, Moose fired a pitch in the dirt. It got past catcher Manny Sanguillen for a wild pitch, allowing Foster to score the winning run and sending the Reds into the '72 World Series against Oakland.

"I can still see Hal McRae jumping, with his feet in the air, as Foster scored," says Bench. "It was bedlam. I jumped up on the rail near the dugout, kissed my mom and headed for the celebration inside."

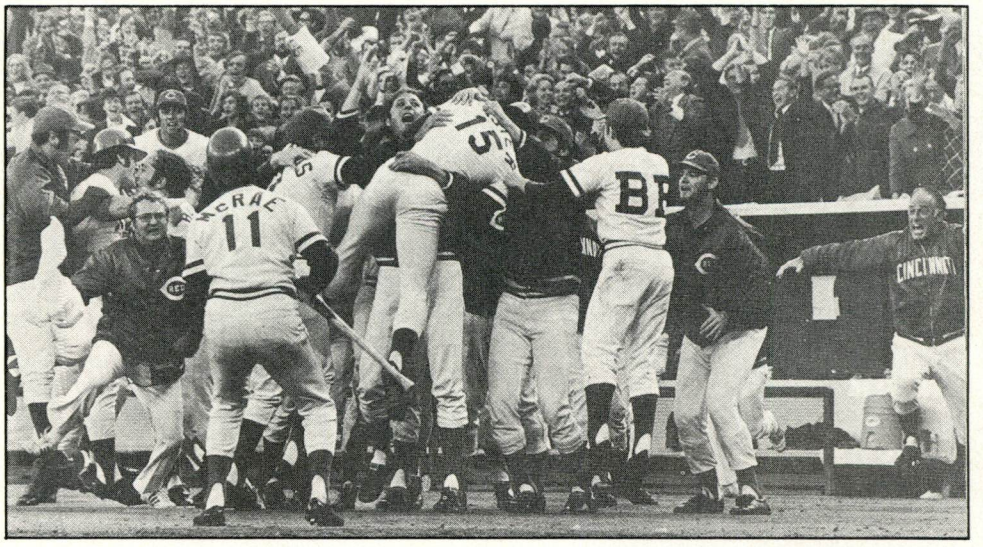

The Reds lost the World Series to Oakland in seven games, but that defeat will never erase the fond memories of the thrilling League Championship Series with Pittsburgh. And most of all, the memories of Johnny Bench's ninth inning home run off Dave Giusti.

"I run into Dave occasionally," Bench says. "He's good natured about it. As great a relief pitcher as he was, he is remembered by Reds fans, and also by a lot of Pirates fans, for that home run."

To this day, THE home run still gives Johnny a very special feeling.

"To a lot of people, it's the biggest home run in Reds history, so you see it replayed quite often," he says. "It's hard for me not to get chills. The electricity that went through the stadium still, to this day, gives me goose bumps."

We know what you mean, J.B.

George Foster scored the game's winning run on a wild pitch and the Reds were the 1972 National League champions.

While the Cincinnati Reds marched their way to the National League West title, similar success was experienced throughout their minor league system. The Reds' minor league clubs combined for an overall record of 385-312 for a .552 winning percentage, as three clubs headed down the playoff trail.

Class A Charleston, WV, produced a storybook finish in sweeping to the South Atlantic League Championship. The Wheelers won 19 of their last 22 games in the second half, including a streak of 12 wins in a row, to win their division. Once in the playoffs, the Wheelers rolled past Fayetteville with successive shutouts by Tim Pugh and Bobby Ayala. In the championship series, the Charleston club swept Savannah to lay claim to the SAL title.

Righthanders Pugh and John Ray dominated the competition, as Pugh chalked up a 15-6 record with a 1.88 ERA, 154 strikeouts and 8 complete games. Ray fashioned a fine 14-7 mark with a 2.93 ERA. The Wheelers broke most of their club offensive records, led by leadoff man Scott Pose's .298 average, 49 stolen bases and 114 walks. Both Pose and Pugh were named to the South Atlantic League post-season All-Star team.

Meanwhile, the Triple-A Nashville Sounds completed the 146-game schedule in a deadlock for first place with the Buffalo Bisons. A dramatic 1-game playoff was played in Buffalo, with Nashville emerging a winner, 4-3, in 18 innings.

The drama continued in the American Association championship series, as all 5 games were decided by 2 runs or less. In the end, Nashville lost the series to Omaha, 3 games to 2.

Lefty Chris Hammond enjoyed a banner year in Triple-A, compiling a 15-1 record. Hammond captured the ERA crown with a 2.17 mark and led the league in strikeouts with 149. Chris was named the Most Valuable Pitcher of the American Association.

First baseman Terry Lee overcame a 4-year bout with ankle problems to hit .304 with 15 home runs in the second half of the season. Lee started the year in Chattanooga and hit a combined 23 homers, tops in the Reds' minor league system. Fine performances by Kip Gross, Leo Garcia, Skeeter Barnes, Denny Gonzalez and Keith Brown allowed Nashville to maintain their hold on first place throughout the year as a total of nine Sounds appeared in a Reds' uniform this summer.

First baseman Adam Casillas captured the Southern League batting crown with a .336 average for the Chattanooga Lookouts. It was the second batting title for the lefthanded swinging Casillas, who hit .321 at Cedar Rapids to lead the Midwest League in 1989. Chattanooga reliever Steve Foster registered 20 saves and outfielder Benny Colvard contributed a solid .288 average with 13 HRs and 56 RBIs. Lefty starters Gino Minutelli (9-5, 3.99) and Ross Powell (8-14, 3.55) anchored the pitching staff, with Minutelli earning a September call-up to Cincinnati.

The fans in Cedar Rapids were treated to a summer where the Reds set a new club record with 88 wins. Manager Dave Miley had a superb pitching staff, led by 13-game winners Mo Sanford and Joe Turek. The staff also boasted their own version of the "Nasty Boys" with relievers Dave McAuliffe (6-1, 1.97, 27 SV) and Victor Garcia (8-3, 1.52, 15 SV).

Reggie Sanders demonstrated his multi-dimensional offensive skills with 17 homers, 63 RBIs and 40 stolen bases enroute to being named MVP of the Midwest League. Cincinnati's 1989 first round draft pick, Scott Bryant, continued to demonstrate his power with 14 home runs in 67 games before being promoted to Chattanooga. Along with Sanders and Byrant, catcher Eddie Taubensee was named to the post-season Midwest League All-Star team. Cedar Rapids lost its first 2 playoff games to Quad City, bringing the season to a quick end.

At the rookie level, both Billings and Plant City enjoyed fine seasons. The Billings Mustangs hovered around first place most of the season until injuries took their toll in mid-August and they limped into a third place finish with a 32-34 record.

Outfielder K.C. Gillum finished the season second in batting with a .356 average. Outfielder Elliott Quinones added a .330 average to the attack and Roy Hammargren hit 9 homers to lead the Mustangs. The Reds' fourth round pick in 1990, Mike Ferry, led the Pioneer League in saves with 11, while fashioning a 2.84 ERA. Both Ferry and Gillum were named to the league's All-Star team.

In Plant City, Manager Sam Mejias' club finished second in its division with a 36-27 mark. Mejias was named Manager of the Year and righthander John Roper was named to the Gulf Coast League All-Star team. Roper, a 12th-round pick in June, posted a 7-2 record with a remarkable 0.97 ERA and 78 strikeouts in 13 starts.

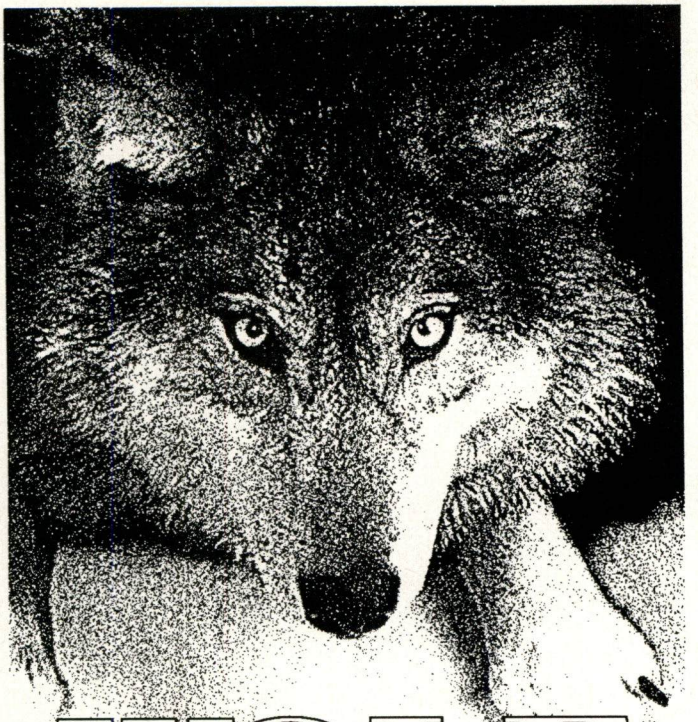

Jamie Dismuke led Plant City with a .355 average and 7 homers. Fifth round pick Steve Gibralter had a team-high 11 doubles in his first season of pro ball. Victor Garcia's younger brother, Fermin, compiled a 4-0 record with 2 saves and a fine 1.76 ERA in a relief role.

With a solid lineup in Cincinnati at the present time, Cincinnati fans can continue to look for a bright future with the many talented youngsters throughout the Reds' farm system.

Marge Schott

President & Chief Executive Officer

Marge Schott made major moves during the off-season in her continuing battle to achieve the one primary goal that has eluded her in the five seasons that she has been principal owner of the Cincinnati Reds.

She brought in a new management team — General Manager Bob Quinn and Field Manager Lou Piniella — and made major commitments in player salaries in an effort to put her team back in the World Series in the '90s.

The Reds provided exciting baseball during the '80s and achieved the financial stability that was another of Mrs. Schott's goals, attracting more than 9.8 million fans into Riverfront Stadium over the five seasons. In addition, she hosted the 1988 Major League All-Star game. That not only gave Reds' fans a special baseball treat, but raised about $190,000 for the Cincinnati Zoo.

Providing Reds' fans with quality entertainment has been the top priority during her tenure as owner of the Reds. Mrs. Schott, a native and sixth generation resident of Cincinnati, had been a Limited Partner in the team since 1981 and then became the General Partner of the ownership group on Dec. 21, 1984. She became President and Chief Executive Officer on July 8, 1985.

In addition to the enjoyment of watching the Reds on the field, Mrs. Schott has had some thrills away from the Stadium as well. In 1989, she had lunch at the White House with President Bush; was a special honoree at a Women in Business luncheon during the President's Inauguration Week festivities; and made a baseball visit to Japan.

Among other highlights were a 1988 visit to the Vatican, where she presented the Pope with a Reds' jacket; a feature interview on the highly regarded "60 Minutes" TV show; and a salute by Savvy Magazine as the operator of one of the 40 largest businesses in the country to be headed by a woman.

In Dec., 1986, she was among 85 women entrepreneurs from all over the country who were honored by President Reagan at a White House reception. Earlier that year, she was named Woman of the Year by the American Legion Auxiliary at its national convention.

Mrs. Schott was inducted into the Ohio Women's Hall of Fame in Nov., 1985, for her achievements in business, industry and athletics. A year earlier, she was honored as one of the 1984 Women of the Year in Cincinnati, cited for her avid support of the arts, as a philanthropist to many organizations and as a trustee for several colleges. She is well-known for her role as hostess for the Reds' Rally, a major fund-raiser for the Children's Heart Association at Children's Hospital and for her work with the famed Cincinnati Zoo.

Mrs. Schott became a businesswoman by necessity when her husband, Charles, died in 1968, leaving her in charge of a business empire that included such divergent holdings as an auto agency, cement, truck and brick companies and real estate holdings. She has since added holdings of her own.

It took her 2½ years to convince General Motors to make her the first U.S. woman ever to be awarded a major metropolitan area G.M. dealership. Later, she became the first woman ever named to the board of trustees of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.

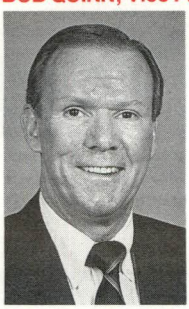

Mrs. Schott is one of only three women currently involved in primary ownership of a major league baseball team, joining Mrs. Joan Kroc of the San Diego Padres and Mrs. Jean Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox, who took over their teams on the deaths of their husbands.

STEPHEN H. SCHOTT, Executive Vice President

Schott works closely with Mrs. Schott and oversees all of the Reds' operations. He joined the club in Sept., 1988, after four years as a financial consultant on Wall Street in New York City, most recently as Senior Vice President of Shearson Lehman Hutton/American Express, where he continues as a member of the company's Chairman's Council and Director's Council. He previously was a member of the President's Council and Executive Council of Drexel, Burnham & Lambert. A native of Cincinnati, Schott played football at Denison University in Granville, OH, where he received a degree in Broadcasting and Legal Studies. He also studied abroad in the Business program at Warnborough College in Oxford, England.

After several years in private business, he returned to baseball as GM of the Reading Phillies (1967-68) & the Omaha Royals (1969-70). He was named Minor League Executive of the Year by The Sporting News in '67 and '69. Quinn joined the Milwaukee Brewers as Dir. of Minor League Opns. in 1971. Yankees in Sept., 1986, as Assistant VP and was promoted to VP/Baseball Admin. the following month. He was named VP & GM in June, 1988. Quinn's grandfather, J.A. Quinn, was GM of four major league teams. His father, John, was GM of the Boston and Milwaukee Braves for 23 years and the Philadelphia Phillies for 13 years. A graduate of Marquette U., Quinn was born in Boston. He and his wife, Kathryn, have two sons.

He joined the club in November, 1972, as Director of Publicity and was named to his present position in January, 1984. Jim was the recipient of major league baseball's 1985 Robert O. Fishel Award for career excellence in public relations. Prior to joining the Reds, Ferguson was a sports writer for the Dayton Daily News for 17 years. After being traded to the AL's other expansion team that year, Kansas City, just prior to Opening Day in 1969, Piniella's career took a dramatic turn . . . He was the first-ever batter for the Royals, led off with a double and then scored the first run . . . Lou went on to win AL Rookie of the Year honors and become one of the team's most popular players and best clutch hitters . . . After five seasons in Kansas City, Piniella was traded to the Yankees and remained in New York in various capacities until joining the Reds as manager . . . Ht: 6-2 Batted: Right
Wt: 210 Threw: Right

COACHING CAREER: Perez was named to the Reds' coaching staff on Oct. 7, 1986 . . . He was the first base coach in 1987; the hitting coach in 1988 & 1989; and now has both jobs.

Tony's came off Dave Rucker of the Phils on May 13 in Cincinnati as a pinch-hitter . . . He finished his playing career in the Reds' All-Time Top Five in games, at-bats, hits, doubles, homers, extra base hits, total bases and RBIs . . . Perez spent the first 17 years of his pro career in the Reds' organization, beginning at Geneva of the New York-Penn League as a 17-year-old out of Cuba in 1960 . . . A year later, he led that league with a .348 average, 160 hits and 132 RBIs and was on his way to stardom . . . Along the way, he stopped off in San Diego to become the Pacific Coast League's Most Valuable Player in 1964 . . . He finished that season in a Reds' uniform, which he was to wear for the next 12 seasons . . . In his last 10 years with the Reds (1967-76), Perez had more RBIs (1,028) than any other player in major league baseball, even though he never won an RBI championship . . . Tony was the picture of consistency, collecting at least 90 RBIs in every season . . . His best overall season was 1970, when he batted .317 with 40 homers and 129 RBIs . . . During his first tour of duty with the Reds, Perez was in five Championship Series and four World Series . . . He appeared in eight All-Star games and was MVP of the 1967 game at Anaheim when he hit a 15th inning homer off Catfish Hunter to win the game . . . Perez was the first player ever to hit a homer into the red seats at Riverfront Stadium . . . After leaving the Reds following the 1976 season, Perez played three years in Montreal, three in Boston and one in Philadelphia . . . He was a regular the first four of those seasons, averaging 87 RBIs . . .

Riverfront Turf History

A new artificial playing surface was installed at Riverfront Stadium prior to the 1988 season. The AstroTurf-8 allows water to flow through the surface to a drainage system and virtually eliminates standing water, making the field playable minutes after a rain. Water flows through the turf to permeable asphalt and crushed rock below. The new surface has fewer seams than previous surfaces at Riverfront Stadium. A synthetic warning track was also installed. This is the third AstroTurf surface at Riverfront Stadium. The original (1970) was replaced prior to the 1979 season.

Rob Dibble

No. 49
Pitcher
Born: 1-24-64, Bridgeport, CT
Ht: 6-4 Bats: Left
Wt: 235 Throws: Right

HOW ACQUIRED: Reds' No. 1 draft choice, secondary phase, June, 1983 (Scout Mickey White).

1989 SEASON: Dibble established himself as the premier strikeout pitcher in the N.L. in his first full season in the Reds' bullpen . . . Rob fanned 141 batters in just 99 innings, an average of 12.8 per 9 innings . . . That's the best strikeout/innings pitched ratio in modern baseball history (25 or more innings), according to the research book "Total Baseball" . . . His total was a club record for a relief pitcher, breaking the mark of 117 by Ron Robinson in 1986, and just 10 short of Rich Gossage's N.L. record set in 133 innings for Pittsburgh in 1972 . . . In one stretch of 22 innings in June, Rob fanned 37 batters (14.7 per 9 innings) . . . Dibble had 3 strikeouts in 1 inning 11 times; 4 in 2 innings or less 8 times; and 5 in 2 innings 4 times . . . But the hard-throwing righthander achieved much more than simply striking out hitters . . . Opposing batters had only a .176 average against him, the lowest mark in the N.L. among pitchers working 30 innings or more and second only to Dennis Eckersley (.162) in the major leagues . . . Rob was one of the busiest pitchers in the league with 74 appearances (tied for 2nd), despite spending 2 weeks on the disabled list in July with an elbow problem . . . In his first 14 appearances after coming off the DL, Dibble allowed one earned run in 19.2 innings (0.46 ERA) . . . From the All-Star break to the end of the season, he had a 1.41 ERA with a 4-2 record and 1 save . . . Rob's 10 wins equalled the most by a Reds' reliever since John Franco won 12 in 1985 . . . Dibble was named Male Athlete of the Year from Connecticut for 1989 . . .

CAREER: Rob was primarily a starter during his first two seasons in the farm system, putting together a 5-2 record and a 2.92 ERA at Tampa in 1984 . . . He switched to the bullpen in 1985 at Cedar Rapids, where he made good use of an excellent fast ball, striking out 73 batters in 65.2 innings, while recording 12 saves and 5 wins . . . Rob became the ace of the Vermont bullpen in the middle of the 1986 season . . . His June-July figures for 19 appearances included a 2-1 record, 10 saves and a 1.99 ERA . . . That earned him a promotion to Denver, where he injured his left knee and worked just 5 innings the rest of the season . . . Dibble struck out 51 batters in 61 innings in 1987 at Nashville . . . Rob dominated American Association hitters in 1988 when they hit only .172 against him . . . His 13 saves (in a half-season) ranked 2nd in the league and earned him a promotion, where he established himself as one of the best rookie relievers in the N.L. . . . He worked 2 perfect innings in his debut in San Diego and had 9.2 shutout innings in his first 6 outings . . . Dibble finished with a 1.82 ERA in 37 relief appearances, fanning 59 in 59.1 innings, limiting opposing hitters to a .207 average . . .

PERSONAL: Robert Keith Dibble and his wife Joanne (Abate) live in Cincinnati with their daughter Ashley (8-31-89) . . . 1982 graduate of Southington (CT) H.S., where he was all-state in both baseball and soccer for two years . . . He pitched four no-hitters in high school with a 19-2 career record and a 0.61 ERA . . . He pitched one season for Florida Southern College . . .

Danny Jackson

No. 20
Pitcher
Born: 1-5-62, San Antonio, TX
Ht: 6-0 Bats: Right
Wt: 205 Throws: Left

HOW ACQUIRED: From Kansas City with Angel Salazar for Ted Power and Kurt Stillwell, 11-6-87.

1989 SEASON: Injuries played havoc with Jackson's season as he spent nearly half of the year on the disabled list . . . The major problem was with his left shoulder, which required arthroscopic surgery on July 31 . . . He also had an operation on his left big toe on Sept. 28 . . . Danny got better medical support than run support as the Reds scored a total of just 13 runs in his first 9 losses . . . Despite all of these problems, Jackson still showed flashes of the brilliance that produced 23 wins in 1988 . . . In three straight starts in early May, the lefthander allowed just 11 hits and 6 runs in 20 innings (2.70 ERA) . . . After coming off the disabled list in early July, Jackson allowed 7 hits and 1 earned run in 11.2 innings in his first 2 starts . . . But after just 2 more starts, his ailing shoulder required surgery and Danny was through for the season . . .

Rick Mahler

No. 42
Pitcher
Born: 8-5-53, Austin, TX
Ht: 6-1 Bats: Right
Wt: 195 Throws: Right

HOW ACQUIRED: Signed as free agent, 12-4-88.

1989 SEASON: Mahler was a "tough luck" pitcher in his first season with the Reds . . . He allowed just one earned run in his first 3 starts, but had a 1-2 record and had to pitch a shutout to get that win against San Diego . . . His 1.83 ERA for April was 4th in the N.L. while his record was 2-3 . . . But Rick put together a 7-2 record (Apr. 26/June 7), including a shutout against St. Louis . . . At that point, Rick led the N.L. in innings, complete games and starts and was among the leaders in wins and shutouts . . . Mahler remained busy, but without luck . . . He was to win just one more game the rest of the season, not including a 10-inning shutout in August that the Reds won in the 13th . . . The Reds scored only 12 runs in Rick's 13 losses while he was still the pitcher of record . . . Mahler turned over his spot in the starting rotation to rookies in September, but still pitched more than 200 innings for the 6th time in his NL career . . .

CAREER: Mahler spent 14 years in the Atlanta organization, primarily as a relief pitcher for his 1st 5 seasons . . . He made his major league debut in 1979 and got a hit in his 1st at-bat . . . Rick became a starter in 1980, ranking 5th in the International League with a 2.59 ERA . . . He pitched a 2-hit shutout vs. San Diego in 1982 and blanked the Astros in his 2nd start as Atlanta set a record with a 13-0 start . . . Rick also pitched shutouts on Opening Day in both 1986 and 1987, making him 1 of only 3 pitchers in N.L. history with 3 Opening Day shutouts, joining Chris Short of the Phillies and Rip Sewell of the Pirates . . . Mahler also worked 7 innings in a combined shutout in the 1985 opener . . . He had a career-high 17 wins in 1985, including a 7-game winning streak to open the season . . . In 1986, Rick had a 6-0 record in June . . . In 1988, Mahler ranked 4th in the N.L. with 249 innings and was 2nd in the league with a ratio of only 1.5 walks per 9 innings . . . He had a 7-game win streak (May 9/June 1), but later was to have one of the most frustrating periods of his career . . . He had a 2.45 ERA for 13 consecutive starts, but had to settle for a 1-7 record and 5 no-decisions . . . He worked into the 7th inning or later in his last 15 starts . . .

PERSONAL: Richard Keith Mahler and his wife Sheryl (Horning) live in Marietta, GA, with their sons Ricky (8-3-82), Robby (10-4-83), Timothy (9-21-87) and Tyler (11-18-88) . . . He graduated from John Jay H.S. in San Antonio, TX, and attended Trinity U. there before he signed as an undrafted free agent in 1975 . . . Rick's brother Mickey was also a major league pitcher . . . Rick played Little League baseball in England . . .

Ron Oester

No. 16
Second Baseman
Born: 5-5-56, Cincinnati, OH
Ht: 6-2 Bats: Both
Wt: 195 Throws: Right

HOW ACQUIRED: Reds' No. 9 draft choice, regular phase, June, 1974 (Scout Cliff Alexander).

1989 SEASON: Oester was the regular second baseman for the first six weeks of the season before suffering a right hamstring injury . . . He was in and out of the lineup until going on the disabled list from June 7/July 17 and then went into a platoon situation at second . . . Ron collected his 1,000th career hit vs. San Francisco on Apr. 7, but did his best hitting after coming off the DL . . . Oester batted .294 in the second half, including .313 (47-150) from July 25 to the end of the season . . . He had a 4-hit game on Aug. 26 vs. Pittsburgh . . . Oester started 85 games at second base and 2 at shortstop . . .

CAREER: Rated as outstanding shortstop throughout minor league career and his batting average improved four years in row as he moved up through farm system . . . Converted to second baseman and took over as Reds' regular in mid-1980, batting .450 in his first 10 games and starting every game rest of season . . . Earned spot on Topps' Major League All-Rookie team . . . Off to slow start in 1981, batting .135 over first three weeks, then had 15-game hitting streak (.418, 23-55) and batted at .287 pace rest of season . . . 15-game streak was longest on team in 1981 . . . Oester got off to a great start in 1982, hitting safely in 30 of his first 36 games . . . He also started fast in 1983, hitting .355 in April and going on to record career highs in runs, hits, doubles, homers and RBIs . . . He led the team with 58 RBIs and his 39 extra-base hits ranked second on the club . . . Oester reversed that in 1984 when he shook off a poor first half (.204) to hit at a .278 pace after the All-Star break . . . During that period, he put together a 21-game hitting streak . . . Oester had the best season of his career in 1985, both at bat and in the field . . . Defensively, he made only 9 errors all season and led N.L. second basemen with a .989 fielding percentage . . . Only the first 5 games of the season, when he went 0-for-15, kept Ron from hitting .300 for the first time in his career as he hit at a .303 pace for the rest of the season . . . Ron had a 5-hit game on July 26 in Montreal and only a scoring decision kept him from becoming the first Cincinnati hitter since 1949 to get six hits in a game . . . He hit a fly ball that fell safely between two outfielders, but was officially ruled an error . . . In 1988, Oester spent most of the season recuperating from an injury to his left knee the previous season that threatened to end his career and required complete reconstructive surgery . . . His recovery was so complete that he started 23 of the Reds' last 29 games, batting .316 . . .

PERSONAL: Ronald John Oester and his wife Jackie (Wallace) live in suburban Cincinnati with their daughters Julianne (5-13-81) and Jill (8-15-83) and son Jacob (7-22-86) . . . He is native Cincinnatian and graduate of Withrow H.S., where he earned all-state honors in baseball in 1974 . . .

Joe Oliver

No. 9
Catcher
Born: 7-24-65, Memphis, TN
Ht: 6-3 Bats: Right
Wt: 210 Throws: Right

HOW ACQUIRED: Reds' No. 2-B draft choice, regular phase, June, 1983 (Scout George Zuraw).

1989 SEASON: A solid first-half at Nashville earned Oliver a promotion to the Reds and he quickly showed that he was ready for NL competition, both as a hitter and catcher . . . He had a single off Mark Langston in his first at-bat, an RBI on a sacrifice fly in his second and moved into a platoon situation with Jeff Reed . . . Joe's growing confidence and a productive bat soon earned him regular status . . . From Aug. 22 until he injured his back in a collision at the plate on Sept. 12, Oliver started 18 of 21 games and batted .275 (19-69) with 14 RBIs . . . He recovered to start 5 of the last 6 games of the season, including a 4-hit game in San Diego on Sept. 27 . . . He also had 4 hits in a game in Chicago on Aug. 23 . . . The first of his 3 N.L. homers came off Rick Horton of St. Louis on Aug. 18 . . . Joe had arthroscopic surgery on his left knee on Oct. 18 . . .

CAREER: Joe struggled as a hitter, but was a star behind the plate in his first two pro seasons . . . He was the top fielding catcher (.989) in the Pioneer League in 1983, making just 5 errors and leading the league in assists . . . In 1984, managers voted him as the catcher with the best arm in the Midwest League, where he finished second with 85 assists . . . The Florida State League managers agreed with that in 1985 and also voted him as the best defensive catcher . . . His 84 assists led all catchers . . . Oliver's .269 average was more than 50 points higher than his first two pro seasons, thanks to a .349 average in home games . . . He boosted his average even higher in 1986 and was a major factor in his team's drive to win the Eastern League title . . . An injury required a cast on Joe's right index finger for 2 months in 1987 when he was having his best season as a hitter . . . A spring training knee operation shortened Oliver's 1988 season, which was divided between Chattanooga, where he did not make an error in 25 games, and Nashville, where he had just 7 in 65 games . . .

PERSONAL: Joseph Melton Oliver and his wife Kim (Daniel) live in Orlando, FL . . . Joe was an all-state catcher as a senior at Orlando Boone H.S., batting .480 with 12 homers, 47 RBIs in 35 games . . .

Paul O'Neill

No. 21
Outfielder
Born: 2-25-63, Columbus, OH

HOW ACQUIRED: Reds' No. 4 draft choice, regular phase, June, 1981 (Scout Gene Bennett).

1989 SEASON: O'Neill had the biggest season of his career despite missing 6 weeks due to a fractured left thumb, injured while trying a diving catch in Montreal on July 20 . . . At the time of the injury, Paul was 3rd in the N.L. in RBIs; 6th in homers; and 8th in hits and slugging percentage . . . The injury interrupted an 8-game hitting streak (.500, 14-28) . . . O'Neill did not return until Sept. 1 and he could not regain his earlier form, managing only 1 homer and 12 RBIs in 26 games the rest of the way . . . Paul got off to a flying start, going 4-for-4 with a 3-run homer on Opening Day and hitting .421 (16-38) for the first two weeks of the season . . . He had another torrid period in early June . . . A 6-game streak (.583, 14-24) included the biggest day of his career, a 2-homer, 6-RBI game on June 7 that included a grand slam off the Giants' Jeff Brantley . . . O'Neill had 20 stolen bases in 25 attempts . . .

CAREER: The Reds' high draft choice broke into professional baseball in impressive fashion, batting .315 for Billings, the 9th best average in the Pioneer League . . . Moving up to Cedar Rapids in 1982, Paul knocked in 71 runs . . . Paul was voted by managers as the best major league prospect in the Eastern League in 1984, where he finished in the top five in doubles, RBIs, game-winning RBIs, homers and total bases as Vermont won the league title . . . Paul moved up to the Triple-A level in 1985 and put together an outstanding season, leading the American Association in doubles, hits, games and at-bats . . . He earned a spot on the American Association All-Star team and was voted by managers as one of the top ten major league prospects in the league . . . He was the Topps Player of the Month for May in the league . . . O'Neill made his major league debut and singled on the first pitch on Sept. 3 at St. Louis . . . O'Neill sat out much of the 1986 season after he tore a ligament in his right thumb while making a diving catch . . . O'Neill was the Reds' top pinch-hitter in 1987 when his 11 hits included 5 doubles and 2 homers and accounted for 13 RBIs, 2nd highest total in the major leagues and most by a Reds' pinch hitter since Jerry Lynch had 25 in 1961 . . . Paul went to Nashville for 2 weeks in July and started 32 games when he returned, all 3 outfield spots plus 1st base . . . He hit at a .297 pace after his return, including .329 for his last 29 games . . . In 1988, Paul ranked 2nd on the team with 73 RBIs and was 3rd with 16 homers . . . He had homers in 3 consecutive games vs. L.A., going 9-for-12 in the series . . . He was the only Red with 5 hits in a game, June 8 at San Diego, and had his first 2-homer game, Sept. 30 off Rick Mahler . . .

PERSONAL: Paul Andrew O'Neill and his wife Nevalee (Davis) live in Cincinnati with their son Andrew (10-1-89) . . . He graduated from Brookhaven H.S. in Columbus and attended Otterbein College . . . He was primarily a pitcher in high school and earned all-state honors in both baseball and basketball . . .

Jose Rijo

No. 27
Pitcher
Born: 5-13-65, San Cristobal, Dom. Rep.
Ht: 6-2 Bats: Right
Wt: 210 Throws: Right

HOW ACQUIRED: From Oakland A's with Tim Birtsas for Dave Parker, 12-8-87.

1989 SEASON: Rijo spent nearly half of the season on the disabled list because of a lower back problem, but while healthy he continued to impress as one of the most dominating pitchers in the N.L. . . . Jose found out what kind of a frustrating year it was going to be for him early . . . After four starts, he had allowed only 21 hits and 3 earned runs in 25 innings, good for a 1.08 ERA, but his record was 0-0 . . . The good news was that his team won all four games . . . Jose kept up that sensational pitching through the middle of May . . . The Reds won all of his first 9 starts with Rijo 4-0 with a 1.57 ERA . . . Rijo was named N.L. Player of the Week (May 8-14) when he won twice, allowing 5 hits and 1 run in 13.1 innings with 12 strikeouts . . . Rijo got his first major league shutout at Los Angeles on June 9, one of three strong outings against the Dodgers, who scored only one run in 20 innings against him . . . Jose's back problems began to surface in late June . . . They affected his ability to pitch, but not the effectiveness of his pitches . . . Jose had to leave three of his last four starts due to back spasms, but in those three starts, he gave up only 2 runs in 12 innings (1.50 ERA) . . . He went on the disabled list on July 17 and was out for the season after a bone scan revealed a lumbar vertebra stress fracture . . .

CAREER: Jose began his pro career with Bradenton at the age of 16 in 1981 . . . In 1982, he led the Appalachian League with 3 shutouts . . . Rijo was the MVP of the Florida State League in 1983, leading the league in wins, ERA, complete games and shutouts before making a late-season jump to Nashville . . . He opened the 1984 season with the Yankees at age 18 in impressive style, allowing just 1 run in 12.1 innings in 6 relief appearances . . . Jose's rushed trip to the majors eventually caught up with him and he spent the last 2 months in Columbus . . . He moved into the Oakland organization and led the Pacific Coast

League in both strikeouts (179 in 149 innings) and walks (108) in 1985, where he had a 2.90 ERA in 24 starts for Tacoma and earned a mid-August promotion to Oakland, posting a 6-4 record . . . Jose spent all of the 1986 season with Oakland, bouncing back and forth between starting and relieving . . . In 2 consecutive April starts against Seattle, he struck out 16 and 14 batters . . . Rijo divided the 1987 season between Oakland and Tacoma, fanning 134 batters in 137 innings . . . In 1988, Jose made his N.L. mark first as a relief pitcher . . . He had a 6-1 record and a 2.20 ERA in 30 trips out of the bullpen . . . Then, in June, he was switched to the starting rotation . . . He was just as effective, giving up 2 hits and 1 run in each of his first two starts . . . But Jose was not as lucky . . . In his first 5 July starts, he gave up 1 run in each game, but lost twice by 1-0 scores . . . Jose also had a pair of 2-0 losses later . . . Right elbow tendinitis limited his pitching from mid-August on . . . His final 2.39 ERA ranked fifth in the N.L. and hitters had only a .209 average against him, fourth lowest among pitchers with 100 innings or more . . .

PERSONAL: Jose Antonio Rijo and his wife Rosie (Marichal) live in Santo Domingo, Dom. Rep. with their son Jose Jr. (11-5-89) . . . His father-in-law is Hall of Fame pitcher Juan Marichal . . .

Ron Robinson

No. 33
Pitcher
Born: 3-24-62, Woodlake, CA
Ht: 6-4 Bats: Right
Wt: 235 Throws: Right

HOW ACQUIRED: Reds' No. 1 draft choice, regular phase, June, 1980. (Scout Reno DeBenedetti).

1989 SEASON: Robinson began the season on the disabled list after right elbow surgery on Mar. 31, his third in 18 months . . . After 4 rehab starts in the minors (2-0, 1.88), he was declared ready on July 17 and ready he was . . . In his first 7 starts, Ron posted a 1.55 ERA, allowing just 7 earned runs in 40.2 innings, but was rewarded with only a 2-1 record . . . After that impressive start, Robinson struggled with the home run ball through several starts before closing impressively, allowing only 5 hits and 1 run in 12 innings in his last 2 starts . . .

CAREER: Pitched well in first season (1980), coming right out of high school to tough Class A league (Florida State) which was already in mid-season . . . In 1981, finished second in Midwest League in ERA (2.24), strikeouts (165 in 169 innings) and shutouts (3) and was third in innings pitched . . . Moving up to Waterbury, Robinson became the top winner in Reds' farm system in 1982 with a 13-7 record, although he didn't become a starter until a month into the season . . . Ron finished fourth in Eastern League in strikeouts and innings pitched and his ERA ranked seventh . . . Robinson returned to Waterbury to open the 1983 season and struggled early, winning just one game in the first two months . . . But he then went on a victory binge, winning 6 of his next 8 decisions and was promoted to Indianapolis, where he won four in a row . . . Ron recorded his first major league win in 1984 with a complete game 7-1 decision over Pittsburgh on Sept. 2 . . . In 1985, Robinson began the season at Denver, where he was 2-1 as a starter . . . He earned a mid-May promotion to the Reds and divided his time between starting (4-6) and relieving (3-1, 1 save) . . . Robinson pitched only in relief in 1986 with great results . . . His 10 wins ranked 4th among N.L. relief pitchers and he added 14 saves to rank 10th in point standings for Relief Man of the Year . . . Ron fanned 117 batters (9 per 9.0 innings), trailing only Ken Howell (9.6) and Lee Smith (9.3) among N.L. relievers . . . Ron had a 7-0 record at the All-Star break, the best start by a Reds' pitcher since Mike LaCoss went 8-0 in 1979 . . . Robinson left the bullpen in 1987 in mid-June after 100 consecutive relief appearances to become a regular starter . . . He allowed just 1 run in each of his 1st 3 starts and posted a 6-3 record in 18 starts despite an elbow problem that required an operation on Oct. 6 to remove a bone fragment . . . Robby struggled through the 1988 season, spending two stints on the disabled list and pitching just 4.1 innings after the middle of July . . . Another operation to remove scar tissue and a bone spur was performed on Sept. 30 . . . Ron's one shining moment in 1988 came on May 2 against Montreal when he retired 26 consecutive batters and was only one strike from a perfect game when the Expos' Wallace Johnson singled and Tim Raines followed with a homer . . .

PERSONAL: Ronald Dean Robinson and his wife Becky (Scott) live in Visalia, CA, with their sons Ron Jr. (4-20-83) and Ryan (1-31-86) and daughter Megan (8-27-88) . . . 1980 graduate Woodlake H.S., where he was three-sport star and selected All-Northern California in both baseball, football, as well as league MVP in basketball . . . As senior, posted 14-1 record, 0.49 ERA, 188 strikeouts in 110 innings with four no-hitters.

Retired Uniform Numbers

The Reds have officially retired two uniform numbers — the No. 1 worn by the late Fred Hutchinson and the No. 5 worn by Johnny Bench.

Hutchinson managed the Reds from 1959-1964, winning the National League pennant in 1961. His No. 1 was retired after he died of cancer in 1964.

Bench's No. 5 was retired Aug. 11, 1984. Bench played more than 16 seasons for the Reds and retired following the 1983 season as the team's all-time leader in career home runs (389) and runs batted in (1,376). He won two N.L. Most Valuable Player Awards (1970 & 1972); World Series MVP (1976); N.L. Rookie of the Year (1968); and he holds the major league record for career home runs by a catcher (327). He was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, in 1989 — in his first year of eligibility.

Scott Scudder

No. 47
Pitcher
Born: 2-14-68, Paris, TX
Ht: 6-2 Bats: Right
Wt: 185 Throws: Right

HOW ACQUIRED: Reds' No. 1 draft choice, regular phase, June, 1986 (Scout Chuck LaMar).

1989 SEASON: Scudder made his major league debut on June 6 when he limited San Francisco to 3 hits and 3 runs in 6 innings, but he didn't get his 1st win until June 22 in a 7-1 game at Atlanta, allowing 7 hits in 7 innings . . . Scott improved on that 5 days later when he beat the Braves again, allowing 2 hits in 6.1 shutout innings . . . He went into the bullpen after the All-Star break, then returned to the starting rotation to stay in early August . . . Scudder had 4 good starts in a row (Aug. 23/Sept. 8), allowing 6 runs in 25.2 innings (2.10 ERA), but got credit for just 2 wins . . . He suffered from a lack of support most of the season . . . In his 9 losses, the Reds scored a total of only 8 runs while Scott was still in the game . . . At Nashville, Scott had 3 shutouts, 2nd in the league, despite making only 12 starts . . . Included was a 1-hitter at Oklahoma City on Apr. 19 . . . He fanned 12 batters in a May 11 game vs. Omaha . . .

CAREER: Scudder found the success in 1988 that has been predicted for him since he has been in pro baseball, helping 2 teams win championships . . . He was among the leading pitchers (7-3, 2.02) in the Midwest League as Cedar Rapids won the 1st half title, then was promoted to Chattanooga in late June and posted a perfect 7-0 mark and added a victory in the Southern playoffs . . . Scott pitched a no-hitter for Cedar Rapids, where managers named him as the 2nd best prospect in the league . . . That's not a new distinction for Scudder . . . Managers voted him the 3rd best pitching prospect in the Pioneer League in 1986 despite winning only 1 game . . .

PERSONAL: William Scott Scudder is single and lives in Blossom, TX . . . He is a 1986 graduate of Prairiland H.S. . . . He was named Texas H.S. Rules of Interest

PLAYER LIMITS: 40 until opening day, when the number must be reduced to 25 until September 1, when it again becomes 40.

DETERMINING BATTING AVERAGE: Divide the number of at bats into the number of hits.

DETERMINING AN EARNED RUN AVERAGE: Multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take the number and divide it by the number of innings pitched.

DETERMINING SLUGGING PERCENTAGE: Divide the total bases of all safe hits by the total times at bat (At bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit by pitcher, or times awarded first base because of interference or obstruction).

DETERMINING ON-BASE PERCENTAGE: Divide hits plus total walks plus hit-by-pitch by at bats plus total walks plus hit-by-pitch and sacrifice flies. (Times awarded first base on interference or obstruction are not figured into on-base percentage.)

DETERMINING PERCENTAGE OF GAMES WON AND LOST: Divide the number of games won by the total games won and lost.

CONSECUTIVE HITTING STREAKS: A consecutive hitting streak shall not be terminated if the plate appearance results in a base on balls, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. A sacrifice fly shall terminate the streak.

CONSECUTIVE-GAME HITTING STREAKS: A consecutive-game hitting streak shall not be terminated if all the player's plate appearances (one or more) result in a base on balls, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sacrifice fly and no hit.

CONSECUTIVE-GAME PLAYING STREAK: A consecutive-game playing streak shall be extended if the player plays one half-inning on defense, or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance only shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from a game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirements of this rule, his streak shall continue.

TRADING REGULATIONS: Players are available on waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after start of the season; otherwise in reverse order of standings at close of preceding season. Waivers are required for any inter-league or intra-league assignment during the period beginning Aug. 1 and ending at 5 p.m. ET the day after the end of the season. During the other 10 months no waivers are needed.

BATTING AND ERA CHAMPION QUALIFICATIONS: 502 or more plate appearances. 162 or more innings pitched.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS: A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (A) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (B) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

DETERMINING MAGIC NUMBER: To figure "Magic Number" in pennant race, compute the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the lost column of the standings from the closest opponent.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A SAVE: Pitcher is credited with a save when he meets all 3 of the following conditions: (1) he is the finishing pitcher in game won by his club; (2) he is not the winning pitcher; (3) he qualifies under one of the following conditions; (a) he enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; (b) or he enters the game with the potential tying run either on base or at bat or on deck; (c) or he pitches effectively for at least three innings.

NIGHT GAME: A night game is any game with a scheduled starting time later than 5 p.m.

History of the Reds

The history of professional baseball begins in Cincinnati, where the "ancestors" of the current Cincinnati Reds, The Red Stockings, began play more than a century ago.

That first professional team, led by Harry and George Wright, played on a spot where Union Terminal on Cincinnati's near West Side now stands. Its first recorded game was a practice contest against a "Picked Nine" from Cincinnati, April 17, 1869, which was won by the Red Stockings, 24-15. After six more games of this first "pre-season" the Reds embarked on their famous tour. The first regular game was scheduled against the Antioch Nine on May 31, but that became the first rainout in professional baseball history. The first official game took place the next day, June 1, 1869 as the Red Stockings defeated the Mansfield Independents, 48-14.

That first Red Stockings team that was organized by Harry Wright, a Newport, Ky., jeweler, was fabulous. During the first two years of play the team went 130 consecutive games without a loss before the Brooklyn Atlantics finally beat the Red Stockings in June of 1870.

In 1876 the National League was founded and the Red Stockings became a charter member, although the club dropped out of the league in 1881 for 9 years because the league would not permit sale of beer in the park. The Red Stockings joined the American Association for the 1882-89 seasons, but rejoined the National League in 1890. Cincinnati also had a club in the Union Association in 1884.

The turn of the century saw one of the most colorful men ever associated with the team take over the presidency of the club. August "Garry" Herrmann was the club president from 1902 until 1927 when he was forced to retire because of blindness.

A host of famous players paraded through the Herrmann regime. Noodles Hahn was a standout pitcher and Cy Seymour won the Reds' first batting championship, hitting .377 in 1905, a mark that still stands in the Cincinnati record book.

And later came Edd Roush, an all-time great centerfielder, and Heinie Groh, the famous third baseman who used a bottle bat. They formed the nucleus of Cincinnati's first pennant winner in 1919 and then beat the Chicago White Sox in the World Series.

Players such as Eppa Rixey, who holds the club record with 179 career wins and Bubbles Hargrave, the first catcher ever to win a batting title, kept the Reds in the running during the 20's, but there wasn't another pennant until 1939.

After Herrmann resigned control of the club in the late 20's, Sidney Weil assumed command. When the depression crippled him, Powel Crosley purchased the Reds, more for civic purposes than any other cause. It was strongly rumored that the Cincinnati franchise might be moved and Crosley felt that the city needed a major league baseball team.

Crosley, the famous radio tycoon, was sold on the franchise by Larry MacPhail, the club's general manager. MacPhail, who had made a name for himself at Columbus, was one of the early promoters and opened up a new era of baseball when the Reds became the first team to play at night. Lights were installed at Crosley Field and the Reds and Phillies met in the first night game on May 24, 1935.

Two years later a new chapter opened in Cincinnati as Warren Giles was named the club's general manager. Although the Reds finished last in Giles' first year, the team began to move in 1938, jumping to fourth. By 1939 the club had matured into the National League's best. The Reds won back-to-back pennants in '39-'40 and captured the World Series in 1940, beating the Detroit Tigers in an exciting seven-game series.

Some of the great names of Reds' history were on those clubs. Paul Derringer, Bucky Walters and Johnny Vander Meer were well-known pitchers. Ernie Lombardi, Frank McCormick and Walters were Most Valuable Player winners.

World War II and age caught up with the Reds in the 40's and the club began rebuilding in the late 40's and early 50's. Ewell Blackwell became the first pitcher to pitch in six consecutive All-Star games. Ted Kluszewski was signed off the Indiana University campus.

But Giles left the Reds in 1951 and was named president of the National League. His successor was Gabe Paul who put together a powerful hitting team in the mid-fifties. The Reds nearly won the pennant in 1956, losing by two games to Brooklyn, but the fans fell in love with this team. The Reds hit the million mark in paid attendance for the first time and in '56 they tied the NL record for the most team home runs, 221. Birdie Tebbetts was named Manager of the Year.

Fred Hutchinson took command of the Reds in 1959 and in '61 they startled most baseball "experts" by winning the NL pennant. Frank Robinson, who had been Rookie of the Year in 1956, was Most Valuable Player, and Vada Pinson nearly won the batting title. Under Hutch, who died of cancer in 1964, the Reds remained close. They won 98 games in 1962, but finished third. They came within one game in 1964.

Rumors again spread in 1966 that the Reds would leave Cincinnati. They were silenced quickly, however, when a group of businessmen, headed by Francis L. Dale, purchased the Reds and pledged allegiance to the city with a 40-year lease, thus assuring construction of a new stadium.

The group named Bob Howsam General Manager in 1967, and six years later he moved up to the club presidency.

Sparky Anderson became the manager in 1970 and guided the team for nine seasons, leading the team to five Western Division titles; four National League pennants; and two World Championships.

The Reds moved into Riverfront Stadium June 30, 1970, ending a long association with Crosley Field, and before that Redland Field. A total of 4,543 games were played at the old park which was officially dedicated April 11, 1912. It was Redland Field then and became Crosley Field after Crosley purchased the Reds.

Riverfront Years

Reds fans said goodbye to Crosley Field and the first century of baseball's oldest professional team June 24, 1970 and six days later, a little over two years after the first spadeful of dirt was turned, Riverfront Stadium opened to a crowd of over 50,000 cheering fans.

From 1970, when the team won its first Western Division title, through 1979, when it won its sixth Divisional race, the Reds won more games and more titles than any other major league team.

The Reds piled up 953 regular season victories in the ten years of the 1970's, an average of 95.3 per season with a .593 winning percentage and an impressive mark of consistency.

Reds fans saw a total of 12 championships by the Reds, six Western Division titles (1970-72-73-75-76-79); four National League titles (1970-72-75-76); and back-to-back World Championships in 1975 and 1976.

General Manager Bob Howsam put together this "Team of the 70s" that earned its nickname of the "Big Red Machine." It was a team that excited fans everywhere, building a national following, and lured 21 million fans into Riverfront Stadium in the 10-year period.

At the heart of the team were four individuals — Johnny Bench, Joe Morgan, Tony Perez and Pete Rose — who were totally different in makeup, style and personality, but who were on a common path pointed toward the Hall of Fame. Among them, they provided power, speed, defense, clutch hitting and stability. Bench (1989) was the first to be inducted into the Hall at Cooperstown, followed by Morgan (1990).

The Reds so dominated the National League that they won MVP titles 6 times in an 8-year span. Bench won in 1970 and 1972, when he led the N.L. in both homers and RBIs; Rose in 1973 when he led the league in hitting for the third time; Morgan in 1975 and 1976, only the second N.L. player ever to win two consecutive seasons; and George Foster in 1977, when he set club records with 52 homers and 149 RBIs. Perez was never MVP, but earned an unmatched reputation for clutch hitting. Bench and Perez ranked 1-2 in the majors in RBIs for the '70s.

Surrounding them were outstanding players such as Dave Concepcion, who teamed with Morgan to give the Reds a double play combination who each won 5 Gold Gloves; Ken Griffey, who batted .307 in 9 years with the Reds; Foster, who averaged 32 homers and 107 RBIs over a 7-year period; and Cesar Geronimo, a 4-time Gold Glove winner.

Other memorable moments came in 1978 when Rose hit in 44 straight games, a modern N.L. record, and Tom Seaver pitched a no-hitter.

In 1981, Seaver became only the fifth pitcher in major league history to record 3,000 strikeouts. It was also a year in which the Reds had the best overall record in baseball, but did not qualify for post-season play because of the split-season, finishing second in both the first half and second half races.

The 1983 season marked the return to the Reds of Bob Howsam, architect of the "Team of the 70s." A year later, Howsam brought back Rose, who had been away for nearly six years, as playing manager.

Ownership of the team changed hands in December, 1984, when local businesswoman Marge Schott took control as General Partner.

Riverfront Stadium was the site of Rose's historic 4,192nd hit, breaking Ty Cobb's all-time major league record, on Sept. 11, 1985 and Tom Browning's perfect game on Sept. 16, 1988.

Reds Broadcasting

Marty Brennaman

Joe Nuxhall

Johnny Bench

Marty Brennaman and Joe Nuxhall return for their 17th season together on the Reds Radio Network.

Brennaman, Sportscaster of the Year in Ohio seven times after earning that honor four times in Virginia, joined the Reds broadcast team in 1974. Nuxhall, a former Cincinnati pitcher and a member of the Reds Hall of Fame, is in his 24th year as a Reds announcer.

The Reds Radio Network, one of the largest in professional sports, has affiliates in seven states. The flagship station is WLW (700 AM) in Cincinnati. All regular season games and most pre-season games are aired on WLW and the Reds Radio Network.

Johnny Bench returns for his fourth season on the Reds Television Network. Bench, elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1989, played his entire big league career (1967-83) with the Reds.

WLWT-TV (Channel 5 in Cincinnati) holds the television rights to Reds games and is the flagship station for the Reds TV Network.

Reds Cable Television

The Reds reached agreement in January with SportsChannel on a three-year contract to carry Reds games on cable television throughout Reds Country. The agreement begins with 25 regular season games in 1990, increasing to 35 games by the third year of the contract. There will also be five pre-season games each year. SportsChannel Cincinnati will offer the baseball package, as well as other sports programming, to cable systems throughout a seven-state area. Other SportsChannel regional sports networks carry games of the New York Mets, Philadelphia Phillies, Los Angeles Dodgers, San Francisco Giants, California Angels, Oakland A's, Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox.
