THE WHITE HOUSE

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT
UPON ARRIVAL IN POLAND

Warsaw Airport
Warsaw, Poland

10:25 P.M. (L)

THE PRESIDENT: Well, thank you, Mr. Chairman, for your hospitable and gracious words of welcome. To you and to the people of Poland -- friends and cousins of so many in my homeland -- we extend the heartfelt best wishes of the American people. And here in the heart of Europe, the American people have a fervent wish -- that Europe be whole and free.

In my first moments as President, I told my countrymen that a new breeze was blowing across the world. And the winds of change have surely touched the land here, where so much has happened since my last visit.

It is wonderful to be back at such an exciting time. History -- which has so often conspired with geography to deny the Polish people their freedom -- now offers up a new and brighter future for Poland.

I listened carefully, sir, to your words of welcome and, yes, Poland has started along an ascending path of change -- democratic change. And this climb is exhilarating, but not always easy, and will require further sacrifices. But, if followed, it will lead to a renaissance for this remarkable nation.

These are great days for Poland. Solidarity is legal. The beginnings of a free press now exist. A new Parliament is in place. The Polish Senate has been restored through free and fair elections. And Poland is making its own history. And America -- and the whole world -- is watching.

The government of Poland and you, Mr. Chairman, have shown wisdom and courage in taking the path of those Roundtable Accords. And the world is inspired by what is happening here.

Mr. Chairman, we do look forward to our talks with you and other representatives of the Polish government -- with the democratic opposition, as well. While in your country, I want to hear the many voices of the people of Poland.

And as we begin these discussions, I carry with me many happy memories of my first visit to Poland. And my thoughts turn on this Sunday to the memory of another Sunday outside Warsaw, when we attended morning mass at St. Margaret's Church in Lomianki. The cracks of her historic walls were filled with flowers and the church itself was filled to overflowing with your countrymen, their devoted faces touched by tears of joy.

And it reminds me of other churches that I've visited since that morning at St. Margaret's. Churches like St. Adalbert's in Philadelphia, St. Hyacinth's in Chicago. Churches built by Polish hands and nurtured by Polish dreams. In America -- and in Poland -- those dreams are as ancient and as fundamental as the courageous spirit of the Polish people.

And as we meet this evening in Warsaw, the sun still shines on those churches across the sea. There is -- it's still Sunday afternoon there, and America's churches are filled with people in prayer. And as we begin these discussions -- and as your country continues its hard journey up the path it has chosen -- my prayers and the prayers of the American people remain with Poland, as they have throughout its long struggle.

And, yes, there is a good deal of work to be done, and we will work together to gain new ground, to expand our common ground and U.S.-Polish ties.

So thank you again, sir, for this warm welcome. Rest well on this Sunday night. And long live Poland. Thank you very much. (Applause.)

POLAND HAS STARTED ALONG AN ASCENDING PATH OF DEMOCRATIC CHANGE. THIS CLIMB IS EXHILARATING, BUT NOT ALWAYS EASY, AND WILL REQUIRE FURTHER SACRIFICES. BUT -- IF FOLLOWED -- IT WILL LEAD TO A RENAISSANCE FOR THIS REMARKABLE NATION.

THESE ARE GREAT DAYS FOR POLAND. SOLIDARITY IS AGAIN LEGAL. THE BEGINNINGS OF A FREE PRESS NOW EXIST. A NEW PARLIAMENT IS IN PLACE. THE POLISH SENATE HAS BEEN RESTORED THROUGH FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS.

POLAND IS MAKING ITS OWN HISTORY. AND AMERICA -- AND THE WORLD -- IS WATCHING. THE GOVERNMENT OF POLAND AND YOU, MR. CHAIRMAN, HAVE SHOWN WISDOM AND COURAGE IN TAKING THE PATH OF THE ROUNDTABLE ACCORDS. THE WORLD IS INSPIRED BY WHAT IS HAPPENING HERE.

MR. CHAIRMAN, WE LOOK FORWARD TO OUR TALKS WITH YOU AND OTHER REPRESENTATIVES OF THE POLISH GOVERNMENT -- AND WITH THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION. WHILE IN YOUR COUNTRY, I WANT TO HEAR THE MANY VOICES OF THE PEOPLE OF POLAND.

AND AS WE BEGIN THESE DISCUSSIONS, I CARRY WITH ME MANY HAPPY MEMORIES OF MY FIRST VISIT TO POLAND. AND MY THOUGHTS TURN TO THE MEMORY OF ANOTHER SUNDAY OUTSIDE WARSAW, WHEN WE ATTENDED MORNING MASS AT ST. MARGARET'S CHURCH IN LOMIANKI [[WOE-MEE AHN-KA]]. - 9 -

THERE IS A GOOD DEAL OF WORK TO BE DONE. AND WE WILL WORK TOGETHER TO GAIN NEW GROUND -- TO EXPAND OUR COMMON GROUND -- IN U.S.-POLISH TIES.

THANK YOU AGAIN FOR THIS WARM WELCOME. REST WELL
ON THIS SUNDAY NIGHT. AND -- "LONG LIVE POLAND."

TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1989

FILE

THIS HAS BEEN A REMARKABLE VISIT, TO AN EXCEPTIONAL COUNTRY -- WITH AN INSPIRING PEOPLE.

I AM DEEPLY GRATEFUL TO MY HOST, CHAIRMAN
JARUZELSKI, AND TO MRS. JARUZELSKI, FOR THEIR HOSPITALITY. I WOULD ALSO LIKE TO THANK AMBASSADOR
JOHN DAVIS, AND HELEN DAVIS.

THIS HAS BEEN THE FIRST VISIT OF AN AMERICAN PRESIDENT TO POLAND IN ALMOST 12 YEARS. THAT, IN ITSELF, IS SOMETHING OF A MILESTONE. AND IT HAS BEEN A GREAT HONOR TO BE HERE.

BUT WHAT HAS MADE THIS VISIT MOST NOTEWORTHY, IN MY MIND, ARE THE EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITIES AND CHALLENGES NOW FACED BY POLAND AND HER PEOPLE.

IN MY TWO DAYS HERE, I MET WITH LEADERS OF A GOVERNMENT THAT IS BOTH RESPONSIVE, AND RESPONSIBLE -- AND DETERMINED THAT POLAND SHALL FIND HER OWN ROAD TO RECOVERY.

I MET WITH THE CHAIRMAN OF THE FREE SOLIDARITY TRADE UNION, LECH WALESZA WHOSE COURAGE AND MORAL GUIDANCE HAVE CARRIED POLAND'S PEOPLE FROM THE DARK OF NIGHT TO THE THRESHOLD OF A BRILLIANT FUTURE.

I MET WITH SENATORS AND PARLIAMENTARY LEADERS OF A DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION, NOW LEGALIZED. WE DISCUSSED THEIR NEW AND WEIGHTY RESPONSIBILITIES AS POLAND ENTERS A NEW ERA.

AND I MET WITH POLISH CITIZENS, FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE -- INCLUDING THE CITIZENS OF THE GREAT CITY OF GDANSK, AT A MONUMENT TO COURAGE AND FREEDOM.

POLAND IS BLAZING HER OWN PATH TO A BETTER LIFE FOR ALL OF HER PEOPLE. WITH EVERY MEETING, WITH EVERY CONVERSATION, WE HAVE HAD MEANINGFUL DISCUSSIONS ABOUT THE POSSIBILITIES AND CHALLENGES OF POLAND'S UNIQUE EXPERIMENT IN DEMOCRATIC REFORM.

I HAVE EXPLAINED THAT THE UNITED STATES WILL RESPOND WITH SPECIFIC, APPROPRIATE MEASURES DESIGNED TO ENCOURAGE FUTURE ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL REFORM -- REFORM THAT IS CRUCIAL TO POLAND'S LONG TERM ECONOMIC HEALTH.

BUT THE REAL WORK BEGINS NOW -- AS POLAND JOINS THE COMMUNITY OF NATIONS COMMITTED TO OPEN ELECTIONS, AND OPEN MARKETS AND THE OPEN EXCHANGE OF IDEAS.

I ADD MY VOICE TO THOSE OF SO MANY AROUND THE WORLD, WHO ARE IMPRESSED WITH POLAND'S COURAGE -- AND COMMITTED TO HELP A GREAT NATION FULFILL ITS DESTINY.

POLAND'S WISDOM AND STRENGTH WILL BE TESTED. BUT SUCH A NATION -- FULLY ENGAGED IN SUCH AN ENTERPRISE --
NEED ONLY SUMMON THE WILL OF HER PEOPLE TO SUCCEED.
THE WORLD WATCHES, CONFIDENT THAT THEY WILL TRIUMPH.

Thank you, Mr. President, for your kind hospitality and your gracious words of welcome.

To you and to the people of Poland -- friends and cousins of so many in my homeland -- we extend the heartfelt best wishes of the American people. And here in the heart of Europe -- the American people have a fervent wish -- that Europe be whole and free.

Mr. President, we look forward to our talks with you and other representatives of the Polish government -- and with the democratic opposition. I hope to meet as many of the Polish people as possible, and to hear candid views from all walks of life.

And as we begin these discussions, I carry with me many happy memories of my first visit to Poland. (POLAND)

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: POLAND ARRIVAL CEREMONY
WARSAW AIRPORT
SUNDAY, JULY 9, 1989
9:50 P.M.

Thank you, Mr. President, for your kind hospitality and your gracious words of welcome.

To you and to the people of Poland -- friends and cousins of so many in my homeland -- we extend the heartfelt best wishes of the American people.

In my first moments as President, I told my countrymen that a new breeze was blowing across the world. And the winds of change have surely touched the land here, where so much has happened since my last visit.

It is wonderful to be back at such an exciting time. History -- which has so often conspired with geography to deny the Polish people their freedom -- now offers up a chance for Poland to do what has never been done before.

Poland has started along an ascending path of democratic change. This climb is exhilarating, but not always easy, and will require further sacrifices. But -- if followed -- it will lead to a second renaissance for this great nation.

We have great hopes for Poland. Solidarity is again legal. The beginnings of a free press now exist. A new Parliament is in place and the Polish Senate has been restored through free and fair elections. Poland is making its own history. And America -- and the world -- is watching.

The government of Poland and you, Mr. President, have shown wisdom and courage in taking the path of the Roundtable accords. The world is inspired by what is happening here.

Mr. President, we look forward to our talks with you and other representatives of the Polish government -- and with the democratic opposition. I hope to meet as many of the Polish people as possible, and to hear candid views from all walks of life.

And as we begin these discussions, I carry with me many happy memories of my first visit to Poland. And my thoughts turn to the memory of another Sunday outside Warsaw, when we attended morning mass at St. Margaret's church in Lomianki [[WOE-mee AHN-ka]]. The cracks of her historic walls were filled with flowers, and the church itself was filled to overflowing with your countrymen, their devoted faces touched by tears of joy.

It reminds me of other churches I've visited since that morning at St. Margaret's. Churches like St. Adalbert's in Philadelphia, and St. Hyacinth's in Chicago. Churches built by Polish hands, and nurtured by Polish dreams. In America -- and in Poland -- those dreams are as ancient and as fundamental as the courageous spirit of the Polish people.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

89 JUN 28 11:51

June 28, 1989

Memorandum to Chriss Winston

From: Jim Pinkerton
Subject: Poland Arrival Ceremony

A fine speech. The images of the churches are eloquent.
One comment:

Pg. 1, para. 6, line 3 In this otherwise carefully worded paragraph, the phrase "...the Polish Senate has been restored through free and fair elections..." bears checking as to whether the Senate is in fact a completely new entity.

In Timothy Garton Ash's excellent piece on Poland in the June 15th New York Review of Books, he notes that the Roundtable Agreement "secured completely free elections to a newly created upper house of parliament, the Senate, and free competition for 35 percent of the seats in the existing lower house, the Sejm." [emphasis added]

Also, the wording "A new Parliament is in place and the Polish Senate..." implies that the Senate is not in the parliament. A period after "and" would make it clear that the Senate is a part of parliament.

It is important, as the wording of the draft now reflects, to characterize only the elections for the Senate as "free and fair." The elections generally are, in Ash's words, "only half-free."

Draft Two (POLAND)

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: POLAND ARRIVAL CEREMONY
WARSAW AIRPORT
SUNDAY, JULY 9, 1989
9:50 P.M.

Thank you, Mr. President, for your kind hospitality and your gracious words of welcome.

To ~~you and to~~ the people of Poland -- friends and cousins of so many in my homeland -- we extend the heartfelt best wishes of the American people.

In my first moments as President, I told my countrymen that a new breeze was blowing across the world, ~~especially in Europe~~ And the winds of change have surely touched the land here, ~~where so much has happened since my last visit.~~ in the heart of Europe -- a Wish -- that it be whole and free. Europe that for which America has a fervent

So much has changed since my last visit.
It is wonderful to be back at such an exciting time. History -- which has so often conspired with geography to deny the Polish people their freedom -- now offers up a chance for Poland to do what has never been done before.

Poland has started along an ascending path of democratic change. This climb is exhilarating, but not always easy, and will require further sacrifices. But -- if followed -- it will lead to a ~~success~~ renaissance for this great nation.

We have great hopes for Poland. Solidarity is again legal. The beginnings of a free press now exist. A new Parliament is in place and the Polish Senate has been restored through free and fair elections. Poland is making its own history. And America -- and the world -- is watching.

The government of Poland and you, Mr. President, have shown wisdom and courage in taking the path of the Roundtable accords. The world is inspired by what is happening here.

Mr. President, we look forward to our talks with you and other representatives of the Polish government -- and with the democratic opposition. I hope to meet as many of the Polish people as possible, and to hear candid views from all walks of life.

And as we begin these discussions, I carry with me many happy memories of my first visit to Poland. And my thoughts turn to the memory of another Sunday outside Warsaw, when we attended morning mass at St. Margaret's church in Lomianki [[WOE-mee AHN-ka]]. The cracks of her historic walls were filled with flowers, and the church itself was filled to overflowing with your countrymen, their devoted faces touched by tears of joy.

It reminds me of other churches I've visited since that morning at St. Margaret's. Churches like St. Adalbert's in Philadelphia, and St. Hyacinth's in Chicago. Churches built by Polish hands, and nurtured by Polish dreams. In America -- and in Poland -- those dreams are as ancient and as fundamental as the courageous spirit of the Polish people.

And as we meet this evening in Warsaw, the sun still shines on those churches across the seas. There it is still Sunday afternoon, and America's churches are filled with people in prayer. And as we begin these discussions -- and as ^{your country continues} ~~you begin~~ the hard journey up the path ^{Poland has} ~~you have~~ chosen -- my prayers, and the prayers of the American people, remain with ~~you~~ -- as they have throughout your long struggle. this great country

There is a good deal of work to be done. And we will work together to gain new ground -- to expand our common ground -- in U.S.-Polish ties.

Thank you again for this warm welcome. Rest well on this Sunday night. And -- "Long Live Poland."

NOTE TO JIM CICCONI/JOHN GARDNER

FROM: Linda Casey

I'm sending you the draft statements for the arrival ceremony at Warsaw Airport and the departure from Gdansk. The President had minor changes on these.

As I told Jane, he made no changes on the departure from Andrews, the toast at the Hungarian Parliament, and the Little League remarks. The President also approved the intro for the Hungarian version of "Looking Forward."

He has all the other statements in his briefcase.
