

Originally Processed With FOIA(s):

S

FOIA Number:

S

FOIA MARKER

This is not a textual record. This is used as an administrative marker by the George Bush Presidential Library Staff.

Record Group/Collection: George H.W. Bush Presidential Records Collection/Office of Origin: Speechwriting, White House Office of Series: Speech File Draft Files
Subseries: Chron File, 1989-1993

OA/ID Number: 13554
Folder ID Number: 13554-004

Folder Title:
National Day of Prayer-Radio 1/31/91 [OA 6029]

Stack:	Row:	Section:	Shelf:	Position:
G	26	16	6	4

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

91 JAN 31 P1: 57

DATE: 1/31/91 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: 3:00PM, TODAY, JAN. 31

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

SUBJECT: _____

	ACTION FYI			ACTION FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MCCLURE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SUNUNU N/C	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	NEWMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	UNTERMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CARD	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	WINSTON	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Metzger	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide comments/edits directly to Chriss Winston, x2930, Rm. 122, with a copy to this office, NO LATER THAN 3:00PM, TODAY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 31.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
 Assistant to the President and Staff Secretary
 Ext. 2702

91 JAN 31 PM 1:40

(Hinchliffe)
January 31, 1991 1 p.m.
PRAYER

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

At this moment, America -- the finest, most loving nation on earth -- is at war. At war against the oldest enemy of the human spirit -- evil that threatens world peace.

At this moment, men and women of courage and endurance stand on the harsh desert and seas of the Gulf. They're bearing witness to the fact that the triumph of the moral order is the vision that compels us.

At this moment, those of us here at home are anxiously thinking of them and of the future of our world. I recall Abraham Lincoln and his anguish during the Civil War. He turned to prayer saying: "I've been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I have nowhere else to go."

So many of us, compelled by a deep need for God's wisdom in all we do, turn to prayer. We pray for God's protection in all we undertake. For God's peace to fill all hearts. And for God's love to be the moral North Star that guides us.

So I have proclaimed Sunday, February 3, National Day of Prayer. In this moment of crisis, may Americans of every creed turn to our greatest power and unite together in prayer.

Let us pray for the safety of the troops. These men and women who have put their lives and dreams on hold because they understand the threat our world faces.

Let us pray for those who make the supreme sacrifice. In our terrible grief, we pray they leave the fields of battle for finer fields where there is no danger -- only tranquility. Where there is no fear -- only peace. And where there is no evil -- only the love of the greatest Father of all.

Let us pray for those who are held prisoner. That God will protect these, his special children, and will enlighten the minds and soften the hearts of their captors.

Let us pray for the families of those who serve. Let us reach out to them with caring, to make them part of a greater family filled with love and support.

Let us pray for the innocents caught up in this war. All of them, wherever they may be. And let us remember deep in our hearts the value of all human life, everywhere in the world.

Let us pray for our nation. We ask God to bless us. To help us. And to guide us through whatever dark nights may still lay ahead.

And, above all, let us pray for peace -- "Peace, which passeth all understanding." On this National Day of Prayer and always, may God Bless the United States of America.

#

(Hinchliffe)
January 31, 1991 2 p.m.
PRAYER

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

At this moment, America -- the finest, most loving nation on earth -- is at war. At war against the oldest enemy of the human spirit -- evil that threatens world peace. \\

At this moment, men and women of courage and endurance stand on the harsh desert and seas of the Gulf. By their presence, they're bearing witness to the fact that the triumph of the moral order is the vision that compels us. \\

At this moment, those of us here at home are thinking of them and of the future of our world. \\ I recall Abraham Lincoln and his anguish during the Civil War. He turned to prayer, saying: "I've been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I have nowhere else to go." \\

So many of us, compelled by a deep need for God's wisdom in all we do, turn to prayer. We pray for God's protection in all we undertake. \\ For God's love to fill all hearts. \\ And for God's peace to be the moral ^{Copius} North Star that guides us. \\ \\

So I have proclaimed Sunday, February 3: National Day of Prayer. In this moment of crisis, may Americans of every creed turn to our greatest power and unite together in prayer. \\ \\

Let us pray for the safety of the troops. \\ These men and women who have put their lives and dreams on hold because they understand the threat our world faces. \\ \\

Let us pray for those who make the supreme sacrifice. \\ In our terrible grief, we pray that they leave the fields of battle for finer fields where there is no danger -- only tranquility. \\

Where there is no fear -- only peace. \\ And where there is no evil -- only the love of the greatest Father of all. \\ \\

Let us pray for those who are held prisoner. \\ That God will protect these, his special children -- and will enlighten the minds and soften the hearts of their captors. \\ \\

Let us pray for the families of those who serve. \\ Let us reach out to them with caring, to make them part of a greater family filled with love and support. \\ \\

Let us pray for the innocents caught up in this war. \\ All of them, wherever they may be. And let us remember deep in our hearts the value of all human life, everywhere in the world. \\ \\

Let us pray for our nation. \\ We ask God to bless us. To help us. And to guide us through whatever dark nights may still lay ahead. \\ \\

And, above all, let us pray for peace -- "Peace, which passeth all understanding." \\ \\

On this National Day of Prayer and always, may God Bless the United States of America.

#

STAFFED

91 JAN 31 P 1: 42

(Hinchliffe)
January 31, 1991 1 p.m.
PRAYER

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

At this moment, America -- the finest, most loving nation on earth -- is at war. At war against the oldest enemy of the human spirit -- evil that threatens world peace.

At this moment, men and women of courage and endurance stand on the harsh desert and seas of the Gulf. They're bearing witness to the fact that the triumph of the moral order is the vision that compels us.

At this moment, those of us here at home are anxiously thinking of them and of the future of our world. I recall Abraham Lincoln and his anguish during the Civil War. He turned to prayer saying: "I've been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I have nowhere else to go."

So many of us, compelled by a deep need for God's wisdom in all we do, turn to prayer. We pray for God's protection in all we undertake. For God's peace to fill all hearts. And for God's love to be the moral North Star that guides us.

So I have proclaimed Sunday, February 3, National Day of Prayer. In this moment of crisis, may Americans of every creed turn to our greatest power and unite together in prayer.

Let us pray for the safety of the troops. These men and women who have put their lives and dreams on hold because they understand the threat our world faces.

Let us pray for those who make the supreme sacrifice. In our terrible grief, we pray they leave the fields of battle for finer fields where there is no danger -- only tranquility. Where there is no fear -- only peace. And where there is no evil -- only the love of the greatest Father of all.

Let us pray for those who are held prisoner. That God will protect these, his special children, and will enlighten the minds and soften the hearts of their captors.

Let us pray for the families of those who serve. Let us reach out to them with caring, to make them part of a greater family filled with love and support.

Let us pray for the innocents caught up in this war. All of them, wherever they may be. And let us remember deep in our hearts the value of all human life, everywhere in the world.

Let us pray for our nation. We ask God to bless us. To help us. And to guide us through whatever dark nights may still lay ahead.

And, above all, let us pray for peace -- "Peace, which passeth all understanding." On this National Day of Prayer and always, may God Bless the United States of America.

#

(Hinchliffe)
January 31, 1991 1 p.m.
PRAYER

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

At this moment, America -- the finest, most loving nation on earth -- is at war. At war against the oldest enemy of the human spirit -- evil that threatens world peace.

At this moment, men and women of courage and endurance stand on the harsh desert and seas of the Gulf. They're bearing witness to the fact that the triumph of the moral order is the vision that compels us.

At this moment, those of us here at home are anxiously thinking of them and of the future of our world. I recall Abraham Lincoln and his anguish during the Civil War. He turned to prayer saying: "I've been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I have nowhere else to go."

So many of us, compelled by a deep need for God's wisdom in all we do, turn to prayer. We pray for God's protection in all we undertake. For God's peace to fill all hearts. And for God's love to be the moral North Star that guides us.

So I have proclaimed Sunday, February 3, National Day of Prayer. In this moment of crisis, may Americans of every creed turn to our greatest power and unite together in prayer.

Let us pray for the safety of the troops. These men and women who have put their lives and dreams on hold because they understand the threat our world faces.

Let us pray for those who make the supreme sacrifice. In our terrible grief, we pray they leave the fields of battle for finer fields where there is no danger -- only tranquility. Where there is no fear -- only peace. And where there is no evil -- only the love of the greatest Father of all.

Let us pray for those who are held prisoner. That God will protect these, his special children, and will enlighten the minds and soften the hearts of their captors.

Let us pray for the families of those who serve. Let us reach out to them with caring, to make them part of a greater family filled with love and support.

Let us pray for the innocents caught up in this war. All of them, wherever they may be. And let us remember deep in our hearts the value of all human life, everywhere in the world.

Let us pray for our nation. We ask God to bless us. To help us. And to guide us through whatever dark nights may still lay ahead.

And, above all, let us pray for peace -- "Peace, which passeth all understanding." On this National Day of Prayer and always, may God Bless the United States of America.

#

L.A. Metzger

(Hinchliffe)
January 31, 1991 1 p.m.
PRAYER

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER

At this moment, America -- (the finest, most loving nation on earth) -- is at war. At war against the oldest enemy of the human spirit -- evil that threatens world peace.

At this moment, men and women of courage and endurance stand on the harsh desert and seas of the Gulf. They're bearing witness to the fact that the triumph of the moral order is the vision that compels us.

re-phrase is "cause" pray as vision.

At this moment, those of us here at home are anxiously thinking of them and of the future of our world. I recall Abraham Lincoln and his anguish during the Civil War. He turned to prayer saying: "I've been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I have nowhere else to go."

So many of us, compelled by a deep need for God's wisdom in all we do, turn to prayer. We pray for God's protection in all we undertake. For God's peace to fill all hearts. And for God's love to be the moral North Star that guides us.

So I have proclaimed Sunday, February 3, National Day of Prayer. In this moment of crisis, may Americans of every creed turn to ^(God) our greatest power and unite together in prayer.

Let us pray for the safety of the troops. These men and women who have put their lives and dreams on hold because they understand the threat our world faces.

Let us pray for those who make the supreme sacrifice. In our terrible grief, we pray they leave the fields of battle for finer

B.F.
death section a little heavy.

fields where there is no danger -- only tranquility. Where there is no fear -- only peace. And where there is no evil -- only the love of the greatest Father of all.

Let us pray for those who are held prisoner. That God will protect these, his special children, and will enlighten the minds and soften the hearts of their captors.

Let us pray for the families of those who serve. Let us reach out to them with caring, to make them part of a greater family filled with love and support.

Let us pray for the innocents caught up in this war. All of them, wherever they may be. And let us remember deep in our hearts the value of all human life, everywhere in the world.

Let us pray for our nation. We ask God to bless us. To help us. And to guide us through whatever dark nights may still lay ahead.

And, above all, let us pray for peace -- "Peace, which passeth all understanding." On this National Day of Prayer and always, may God Bless the United States of America.

#