PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: 1991 REPUBLICAN EAGLES GALA
THE KENNEDY CENTER
FEBRUARY 4, 1990
9:05 PM

[Introductory acknowledgements.] // Vice President and Marilyn Quayle. And all the many members of the House, the Senate, and the Cabinet here tonight: Barbara and I are pleased to share this evening with you -- happy to see so many old friends gather, to hear this hall fill with song. //

And of course, hats off to the first-rate leadership of the RNC. As someone who's been there -- someone who knows what a tremendous resource the RNC can be, I am delighted to welcome Clayton Yeutter, our new Chairman. // I salute Jeannie Austin -- and Wally Ganzi and Bobby Holt, who did so much to make this night possible. And of course, let me mention someone who is not here tonight -- our dear friend, General Chairman of the RNC, Lee Atwater. //

Many thanks to Shirley Jones -- and to this all-star cast of performers -- for bringing Broadway to Washington. [[I can tell you, the Silver Fox enjoyed every minute of the show -- and as for me, I couldn't stop tapping my silver foot.]] //

Less than one week ago, I spoke to the Congress and to the nation about the State of our Union -- about the challenges we face in the world, and here at home. // Even with all the crises and conflicts, I am optimistic -- more certain than ever that this nation of ours can meet and master any and all of the challenges that face us today. // Because I see an America that is confident -- sure of its place -- and secure in the ideals that guide our action. That confidence shapes what we are, as Republicans -- as Americans. //

Tonight, as every night, our thoughts are with our brave young men and women half way around the world. America's finest -- standing against an aggressor who must be stopped -- standing up for all that is best in us, as a people and as a nation. //

I think all of us know that this cause is just. // And because it is just, our cause -- the world's cause -- will prevail. //

With the brave men and women of DESERT STORM in mind, let me close with a prayer: for the safety of every American serviceman and servicewoman -- for every member of the coalition forces standing with us. May their work be done soon -- and may they all return home to their friends and families, safe and sound. //

Once again, it's been my pleasure to share this evening's entertainment with you -- and may God bless the United States of America.

With the brave men and women of DESERT STORM in mind, let me close with a prayer: for the safety of every American serviceman and servicewoman -- for every member of the coalition forces standing with us. May their work be done soon -- and may they all return home to their friends and families, safe and sound. //

Once again, it's been my pleasure to share this evening's entertainment with you -- and may God bless the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: 1991 REPUBLICAN EAGLES GALA
THE KENNEDY CENTER
9:05 PM

[Introductory acknowledgements.] // Vice President and Marilyn Quayle. And all the many members of the House, the Senate, and the Cabinet here tonight: Barbara and I are pleased to share this evening with you -- happy to see so many old friends gather, to hear this hall fill with song. //

And of course, hats off to the first-rate leadership of the RNC. As someone who's been there -- someone who knows what a tremendous resource the RNC can be, I am delighted to welcome Clayton Yeutter, our new Chairman. // I salute Jeannie Austin -- and Wally Ganzi and Bobby Holt, who did so much to make this night possible. And of course, let me mention someone who is not here tonight -- our dear friend, General Chairman of the RNC, Lee Atwater. //

Many thanks to Shirley Jones -- and to this all-star cast of performers -- for bringing Broadway to Washington. [[I can tell you, the Silver Fox enjoyed every minute of the show -- and as for me, I couldn't stop tapping my silver foot.]] //

Less than one week ago, I spoke to the Congress and to the nation about the State of our Union -- about the challenges we face in the world, and here at home. // Even with all the crises and conflicts, I am optimistic -- more certain than ever that this nation of ours can meet and master any and all of the challenges that face us today. // Because I see an America that is confident -- sure of its place -- and secure in the ideals that guide our action. That confidence shapes what we are, as Republicans -- as Americans. //

Tonight, as every night, our thoughts are with our brave young men and women half way around the world. America's finest -- standing against an aggressor who must be stopped -- standing up for all that is best in us, as a people and as a nation. //

I think all of us know that this cause is just. // And because it is just, our cause -- the world's cause -- will prevail. //

With the brave men and women of DESERT STORM in mind, let me close with a prayer: for the safety of every American serviceman and servicewoman -- for every member of the coalition forces standing with us. May their work be done soon -- and may they all return home to their friends and families, safe and sound. //
