

Originally Processed With FOIA(s):

S

FOIA Number:

S

FOIA MARKER

This is not a textual record. This is used as an administrative marker by the George Bush Presidential Library Staff.

---

Record Group/Collection: George H.W. Bush Presidential Records
Collection/Office of Origin: Speechwriting, White House Office of Series: Speech File Draft Files
Subseries: Chron File, 1989-1993

---

OA/ID Number: 13583
Folder ID Number: 13583-008

---

Folder Title:

Larry Hopkins for Governor Fundraiser 10/2/91 [OA 6037] [1]

---

---

Stack:	Row:	Section:	Shelf:	Position:
G	26	17	3	5

---

SEP 31 9:51

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 10/1/91 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: ---

SUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: LARRY HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SUNUNU	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MCCLURE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
CARD	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	SNOW	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

The attached has been forwarded to the President.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

September 30, 1991

01 SEP 30 P2:08

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST
TONY SNOW TS

FROM: BETH HINCHLIFFE BH

SUBJECT: LARRY HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER

I. SUMMARY

On Wednesday, October 2, at 5:30 p.m., you will be in Louisville, Kentucky for Rep. Larry Hopkin's gubernatorial campaign. About 800 people will attend the fundraiser.

II. DISCUSSION

The remarks (10 minutes, on cards) discuss the domestic agenda with an emphasis on America 2000.

NOTE: The first sentence of the speech refers to the rather whimsical name of Hopkins campaign committee.

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 30, 1991 2 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Four

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

Thank you Larry. I'm just delighted to be here, joining all of you as one of "A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor." \\

Thank you, also, to Lee Brown for his help in putting this dinner together. I want to salute two of Larry's colleagues, Congressmen Jim Bunning and Hal Rogers. Also here tonight: one of the members of my team in Washington -- Secretary of Transportation Sam Skinner.

You have a fine unified Republican team here in Kentucky with State Chairman Bob Gable and National Committeewoman Nelda Barton and an outstanding slate of candidates for statewide office. \\\ And I'm glad to see Larry Forgy [hard g] here tonight. \\
We have a unified party. The Kentucky GOP has built up momentum. And we will elect a Republican governor this year. \\\\

((I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot. Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli?"))

In the last few weeks, with all the historic events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals. When a coup tried to replace Gorbachev, it applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the United Nations, we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He serves with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brings to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government. \\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase.

Kentucky needs jobs. He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip away to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll increase Kentucky jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Larry knows that people are tired of too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to re-discover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you. It then moves on to the issues that concern you. We have addressed those concerns in a comprehensive way, but Congress doesn't seem as interested. You will have to find ways of getting Congress's attention. \\

Consider just a few items on our domestic agenda. Our housing proposals will turn public housing residents into apartment managers and homeowners. It lets them care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats. But too often Congress just refuses to act.

This even remains true for something as crucial as education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

As Americans, we can and must revitalize our education system for our children -- our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity and travel the path to success.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the kind of future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

Back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- primarily a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education I can work with. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- and communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- and that man is Larry Hopkins.

When I needed help keeping federal spending under control, Larry Hopkins was there. When I needed help keeping America's defenses strong, Larry Hopkins was there.

So that's why I'm here for him tonight.

And when Governor Hopkins calls next year, he'll have a friend in the White House.

Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 10/1/91 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: ---

SUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: LARRY HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SUNUNU	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MCCLURE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
CARD	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	SNOW	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

The attached has been forwarded to the President.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 30, 1991

31 SEP 30 P2:08

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST
TONY SNOW TS

FROM: BETH HINCHLIFFE BH

SUBJECT: LARRY HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER

I. SUMMARY

On Wednesday, October 2, at 5:30 p.m., you will be in Louisville, Kentucky for Rep. Larry Hopkin's gubernatorial campaign. About 800 people will attend the fundraiser.

II. DISCUSSION

The remarks (10 minutes, on cards) discuss the domestic agenda with an emphasis on America 2000.

NOTE: The first sentence of the speech refers to the rather whimsical name of Hopkins campaign committee.

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 30, 1991 2 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Four

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

Thank you Larry. I'm just delighted to be here, joining all of you as one of "A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor." \\

Thank you, also, to Lee Brown for his help in putting this dinner together. I want to salute two of Larry's colleagues, Congressmen Jim Bunning and Hal Rogers. Also here tonight: one of the members of my team in Washington -- Secretary of Transportation Sam Skinner.

You have a fine unified Republican team here in Kentucky with State Chairman Bob Gable and National Committeewoman Nelda Barton and an outstanding slate of candidates for statewide office. \\\ And I'm glad to see Larry Forgy [hard g] here tonight. \\
We have a unified party. The Kentucky GOP has built up momentum. And we will elect a Republican governor this year. \\\\

((I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot. Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli?"))

In the last few weeks, with all the historic events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals. When a coup tried to replace Gorbachev, it applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

*just yesterday
historic moment*

wouldn't have been possible

2

nwo specifics

specific

As I said at the United Nations, we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He serves with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brings to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

Spending & Education

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government. \\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase.

Kentucky needs jobs. He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip away to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll increase Kentucky jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Larry knows that people are tired of too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to re-discover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you. It then moves on to the issues that concern you. We have addressed those concerns in a comprehensive way, but Congress doesn't seem as interested. You will have to find ways of getting Congress's attention. \\

Consider just a few items on our domestic agenda. Our housing proposals will turn public housing residents into apartment managers and homeowners. It lets them care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats. But too often Congress just refuses to act.

This even remains true for something as crucial as education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

As Americans, we can and must revitalize our education system for our children -- our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity and travel the path to success.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the kind of future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

Back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- primarily a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education I can work with. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- and communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- and that man is Larry Hopkins.

When I needed help keeping federal spending under control, Larry Hopkins was there. When I needed help keeping America's defenses strong, Larry Hopkins was there.

So that's why I'm here for him tonight.

And when Governor Hopkins calls next year, he'll have a friend in the White House.

Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 30, 1991

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST
TONY SNOW TS

FROM: BETH HINCHLIFFE BH

SUBJECT: LARRY HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER

I. SUMMARY

On Wednesday, October 2, at 5:30 p.m., you will be in Louisville, Kentucky for Rep. Larry Hopkin's gubernatorial campaign. About 800 people will attend the fundraiser.

II. DISCUSSION

The remarks (10 minutes, on cards) discuss the domestic agenda with an emphasis on America 2000.

NOTE: The first sentence of the speech refers to the rather whimsical name of Hopkins campaign committee.

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 30, 1991 2 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Four

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

Thank you Larry. I'm just delighted to be here, joining all of you as one of "A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor." \\

Thank you, also, to Lee Brown for his help in putting this dinner together. I want to salute two of Larry's colleagues, Congressmen Jim Bunning and Hal Rogers. Also here tonight: one of the members of my team in Washington -- Secretary of Transportation Sam Skinner.

You have a fine unified Republican team here in Kentucky with State Chairman Bob Gable and National Committeewoman Nelda Barton and an outstanding slate of candidates for statewide office. \\\ And I'm glad to see Larry Forgy [hard g] here tonight. \\
We have a unified party. The Kentucky GOP has built up momentum. And we will elect a Republican governor this year. \\\\

((I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot. Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli?"))

In the last few weeks, with all the historic events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals. When a coup tried to replace Gorbachev, it applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the United Nations, we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He serves with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brings to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government. \ \

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase.

Kentucky needs jobs. He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip away to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll increase Kentucky jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Larry knows that people are tired of too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to re-discover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you. It then moves on to the issues that concern you. We have addressed those concerns in a comprehensive way, but Congress doesn't seem as interested. You will have to find ways of getting Congress's attention. \\

Consider just a few items on our domestic agenda. Our housing proposals will turn public housing residents into apartment managers and homeowners. It lets them care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats. But too often Congress just refuses to act.

This even remains true for something as crucial as education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

As Americans, we can and must revitalize our education system for our children -- our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity and travel the path to success.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the kind of future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

Back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- primarily a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education I can work with. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- and communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- and that man is Larry Hopkins.

When I needed help keeping federal spending under control, Larry Hopkins was there. When I needed help keeping America's defenses strong, Larry Hopkins was there.

So that's why I'm here for him tonight.

And when Governor Hopkins calls next year, he'll have a friend in the White House.

Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 30, 1991

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST
TONY SNOW TS

FROM: BETH HINCHLIFFE BH

SUBJECT: LARRY HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER

I. SUMMARY

On Wednesday, October 2, at 5:30 p.m., you will be in Louisville, Kentucky for Rep. Larry Hopkin's gubernatorial campaign. About 800 people will attend the fundraiser.

II. DISCUSSION

The remarks (10 minutes, on cards) discuss the domestic agenda with an emphasis on America 2000.

NOTE: The first sentence of the speech refers to the rather whimsical name of Hopkins campaign committee.

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 30, 1991 2 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Four

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

Thank you Larry. I'm just delighted to be here, joining all of you as one of "A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor." \\

Thank you, also, to Lee Brown for his help in putting this dinner together. I want to salute two of Larry's colleagues, Congressmen Jim Bunning and Hal Rogers. Also here tonight: one of the members of my team in Washington -- Secretary of Transportation Sam Skinner.

You have a fine unified Republican team here in Kentucky with State Chairman Bob Gable and National Committeewoman Nelda Barton and an outstanding slate of candidates for statewide office. \\\ And I'm glad to see Larry Forgy [hard g] here tonight. \\
We have a unified party. The Kentucky GOP has built up momentum. And we will elect a Republican governor this year. \\\\

((I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot. Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli?"))

In the last few weeks, with all the historic events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals. When a coup tried to replace Gorbachev, it applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the United Nations, we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He serves with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brings to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government. \\
\\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase.

Kentucky needs jobs. He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip away to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll increase Kentucky jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Larry knows that people are tired of too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to re-discover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you. It then moves on to the issues that concern you. We have addressed those concerns in a comprehensive way, but Congress doesn't seem as interested. You will have to find ways of getting Congress's attention. \\

Consider just a few items on our domestic agenda. Our housing proposals will turn public housing residents into apartment managers and homeowners. It lets them care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats. But too often Congress just refuses to act.

This even remains true for something as crucial as education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

As Americans, we can and must revitalize our education system for our children -- our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity and travel the path to success.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the kind of future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

Back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- primarily a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education I can work with. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- and communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- and that man is Larry Hopkins.

When I needed help keeping federal spending under control, Larry Hopkins was there. When I needed help keeping America's defenses strong, Larry Hopkins was there.

So that's why I'm here for him tonight.

And when Governor Hopkins calls next year, he'll have a friend in the White House.

Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

September 30, 1991

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST
TONY SNOW TS

FROM: BETH HINCHLIFFE BH

SUBJECT: LARRY HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER

I. SUMMARY

On Wednesday, October 2, at 5:30 p.m., you will be in Louisville, Kentucky for Rep. Larry Hopkin's gubernatorial campaign. About 800 people will attend the fundraiser.

II. DISCUSSION

The remarks (10 minutes, on cards) discuss the domestic agenda with an emphasis on America 2000.

NOTE: The first sentence of the speech refers to the rather whimsical name of Hopkins campaign committee.

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 30, 1991 2 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Four

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

Thank you Larry. I'm just delighted to be here, joining all of you as one of "A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor." \\
\\

Thank you, also, to Lee Brown for his help in putting this dinner together. I want to salute two of Larry's colleagues, Congressmen Jim Bunning and Hal Rogers. Also here tonight: one of the members of my team in Washington -- Secretary of Transportation Sam Skinner.

You have a fine unified Republican team here in Kentucky with State Chairman Bob Gable and National Committeewoman Nelda Barton and an outstanding slate of candidates for statewide office. \\\ And I'm glad to see Larry Forgy [hard g] here tonight. \\
\\ We have a unified party. The Kentucky GOP has built up momentum. And we will elect a Republican governor this year. \\\\
\\

((I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot. Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli?"))

In the last few weeks, with all the historic events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals. When a coup tried to replace Gorbachev, it applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the United Nations, we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He serves with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brings to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government. \\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase.

Kentucky needs jobs. He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip away to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll increase Kentucky jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Larry knows that people are tired of too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to re-discover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you. It then moves on to the issues that concern you. We have addressed those concerns in a comprehensive way, but Congress doesn't seem as interested. You will have to find ways of getting Congress's attention. \\

Consider just a few items on our domestic agenda. Our housing proposals will turn public housing residents into apartment managers and homeowners. It lets them care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats. But too often Congress just refuses to act.

This even remains true for something as crucial as education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

As Americans, we can and must revitalize our education system for our children -- our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity and travel the path to success.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the kind of future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

Back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- primarily a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education I can work with. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- and communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- and that man is Larry Hopkins.

When I needed help keeping federal spending under control, Larry Hopkins was there. When I needed help keeping America's defenses strong, Larry Hopkins was there.

So that's why I'm here for him tonight.

And when Governor Hopkins calls next year, he'll have a friend in the White House.

Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

91 SEP 26 A 8:34

DATE: 9/25/91 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: FRIDAY, 9/27/91 3:00pm

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KY - WED. OCTOBER 2

SUBJECT: _____

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SUNUNU	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	✓ MCCLURE N/C	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
✓ DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	✓ PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH N/C	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CARD	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN N/C	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
✓ DEMAREST N/C	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SNOW	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
✓ GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please forward your comments directly to Tony Snow, Rm. 122, x2930, no later than 3:00 pm, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, with a copy to this office. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

MASTER

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 25, 1991 4 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Two

21 SEP 25 P 5: 57
PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

I'm delighted to be here today, joining all of you as one of
"A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor."

\\ I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot.
Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli"?\\

In the last few weeks, with all the <sup>historic (TRON)</sup> ~~amazing~~ events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals.
<sup>(PORTER)</sup> ~~When a~~ <sup>the (Walden)</sup> ~~coup that~~ <sup>(TRON) (READY)</sup> ~~tried to~~ <sup>(PORTER) (Walden)</sup> ~~replace Gorbachev,~~ ~~it~~ applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the <sup>United Nations (PORTER)</sup> ~~U.N.~~, we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture

<sup>Past Tenses (PORTER)</sup> Committee. He <sup>Serves</sup> ~~has served~~ with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry <sup>brings to</sup> ~~brought to~~ Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government.\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington [-- opposing the pork barrel projects that drain the resources of this nation.]

(BEADY) including in Kentucky

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase.

Kentucky needs jobs. (Larry wants a right-to-work law.) (Walden)

He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip away (PORTER) across the border to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away.

increase Kentucky (TRON) ← accept Tron language

He'll ~~declare a war for more jobs~~ through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

↑ mandate (OCA)

(WALDEN) Right-to-work law doesn't neatly fit with new jobs unless a link is made about the stronghold of unions.

Larry knows that people are tired <sup>(IRON) OF (CCK)</sup> to too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to rediscover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone, <sup>(POETRY)</sup> anywhere -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Not a very active stance. (POETRY)

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you.

Our domestic agenda carries that faith forward into the future. Our housing proposals will turn <sup>public? (CCK)</sup> housing residents into homeowners -- this is how they can best care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats.

This idea is the basis for something I'd like to talk about with you today: education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

<sup>AS</sup>
~~We~~ Americans <sup>we</sup> can and must revitalize our education system for our children: our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity.

and travel down the path to success

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

(no)
 Perhaps include a line about the
 Oct. 1st Speech
 (TRON)

(PORTER)

You know, back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- a local responsibility.

✓ [Primarily] (Walden)

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education with whom I can work. <sup>(Simon)</sup> You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

with (Simon)

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles, ~~a~~<sup>and that</sup> ~~man named~~<sup>is</sup> Larry Hopkins.

<sup>INSERT</sup>
~~Larry Hopkins is honest. Larry Hopkins works for the people. And Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.~~

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# # #

<sup>OK</sup> INSERT: (Simon/Hopkins request)

When I needed help keeping Federal spending under control, Larry Hopkins was there. When I needed help keeping America's defenses strong, Larry Hopkins was there.

So that's why I'm here ~~to~~ for him tonight.

And when Governor Hopkins calls next year, he'll have a friend in the White House.

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 30, 1991 12 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Three

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

Thank you Larry. I'm just delighted to be here, joining all of you as one of "A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor." \\

Thank you, also, to Lee Brown for his help in putting this dinner together. I want to salute two of Larry's colleagues, Congressmen Jim Bunning and Hal Rogers. Also here tonight: one of the members of my team in Washington -- Secretary of Transportation Sam Skinner.

You have a fine unified Republican team here in Kentucky with State Chairman Bob Gable and National Committeewoman Nelda Barton and an outstanding slate of candidates for statewide office. \\ \\ And I'm glad to see Larry Forgy [hard g] here tonight. \\ This party is unified, the momentum is building, and I think ~~we're going to~~ <sup>we will</sup> elect a Republican governor this year. \\ \\ \\

((I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot. Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli?"))

In the last few weeks, with all the historic events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals. When a coup tried to replace Gorbachev, it applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the United Nations, we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He serves with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brings to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government. \\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase.

Kentucky needs jobs. He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip away to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll increase Kentucky jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Larry knows that people are tired of too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to re-discover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you. ~~It takes on issues that you care about, and that you can make Congress address.~~ ~~Our domestic agenda carries that faith forward into the future.~~ Our housing proposals will turn public housing residents <sup>apartment managers or</sup> into homeowners, -- <sup>if lets them</sup> ~~this is how they can best~~ <sup>care</sup> care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats. But too often Washington just refuses to act.

~~This idea is the basis for something I'd like to talk about with you today.~~ Consider the ~~entire~~ <sup>several</sup> issue of education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

As Americans, we can and must revitalize our education system for our children -- our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity and travel the path to success.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the kind of future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

Back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- primarily a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education I can work with. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- and communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- and that man is Larry Hopkins.

When I needed help keeping federal spending under control, Larry Hopkins was there. When I needed help keeping America's defenses strong, Larry Hopkins was there.

So that's why I'm here for him tonight.

And when Governor Hopkins calls next year, he'll have a friend in the White House.

Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 30, 1991

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST
TONY SNOW

FROM: BETH HINCHLIFFE

SUBJECT: LARRY HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER

I. SUMMARY

On Wednesday, October 2, at 5:30 p.m., you will be in Louisville, Kentucky for Rep. Larry Hopkin's gubernatorial campaign. About 800 people will attend the fundraiser.

II. DISCUSSION

The remarks (10 minutes, on cards) discuss the domestic agenda with an emphasis on America 2000.

Beth- Just two minor comments.

Thanks J. 9/27

(Hinchliffe/Simon)

September 25, 1991 4 p.m.

HOPKINS.TS Draft Two

91 SEP 25 P5: 57

91 SEP 27 P3: 58

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

I'm delighted to be here today, joining all of you as one of
"A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor."

\\ I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot.

Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer
they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli"? \\

In the last few weeks, with all the amazing events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals.
When a coup ~~that~~ tried to replace Gorbachev, it applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the U.N., we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He has served with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brought to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government.\\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington [-- opposing the pork barrel projects that drain the resources of this nation]

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase. Kentucky needs jobs. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip across the border to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away.

He'll declare a war for more jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

including in Kentucky??

Larry knows that people are tired of too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to rediscover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone, anywhere -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you.

Our domestic agenda carries that faith forward into the future. Our housing proposals will turn housing residents into homeowners -- this is how they can best care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats.

This idea is the basis for something I'd like to talk about with you today: education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

We Americans can and must revitalize our education system for our children: our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

You know, back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education with whom I can work. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- a man named Larry Hopkins.

Larry Hopkins is honest. Larry Hopkins works for the people. And Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# # #

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

September 26, 1991

MEMORANDUM FOR ROBERT ANTHONY SNOW
DEPUTY ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT FOR
COMMUNICATIONS AND DIRECTOR OF SPEECHWRITING

FROM: GREGORY S. WALDEN & Switzer
ASSOCIATE COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Presidential Remarks: Hopkins for Governor
Fundraiser, Louisville, KY--Wednesday, October 2

The Counsel's Office has no legal objections or comments. Please see minor comments/edits.

Attachment

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 25, 1991 4 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Two

21 SEP 25 P 5:57
PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

I'm delighted to be here today, joining all of you as one of
"A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor."

\\ I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot.
Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer
they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli"?\\

In the last few weeks, with all the amazing events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals.
~~When~~ <sup>the</sup> a coup that tried to replace Gorbachev, ~~it~~ applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the U.N., we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He has served with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brought to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government.\\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington -- opposing the pork barrel projects that drain the resources of this nation.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase.

Kentucky needs jobs. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip across the border to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away.

He'll declare a war for more jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Right-to-work law doesn't neatly fit with new jobs unless a link is made about the stranglehold of unions.

Larry knows that people are tired of too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to rediscover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone, anywhere -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you.

Our domestic agenda carries that faith forward into the future. Our housing proposals will turn housing residents into homeowners -- this is how they can best care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats.

This idea is the basis for something I'd like to talk about with you today: education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

We Americans can and must revitalize our education system for our children: our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

You know, back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain <sup>[primarily]</sup> -- a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education with whom I can work. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

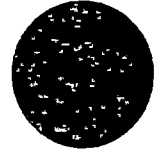

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- a man named Larry Hopkins.

Larry Hopkins is honest. Larry Hopkins works for the people. And Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# # #

WHITE HOUSE CORRESPONDENCE TRACKING WORKSHEET

- O - OUTGOING
  - H - INTERNAL
  - I - INCOMING
- Date Correspondence Received (YY/MM/DD)    /    /

Name of Correspondent: PHIL BRADY

MI Mail Report                      User Codes: (A) _____ (B) _____ (C) _____

Subject: Presidential Remarks: Hopkins for Governor Fundraiser
Louisville, KY -- Wednesday, October 2.

ROUTE TO:	ACTION	DISPOSITION
Office/Agency    (Staff Name)	Action Code	Tracking Date YY/MM/DD
CUOFC	ORIGINATOR	91,09,26
CUAT 29	A	91,09,26
	Referral Note:	S 91,09,27
	Referral Note:	3:00pm
	Referral Note:	  
	Referral Note:	  
	Referral Note:	  
	Referral Note:	  

ACTION CODES:

- A - Appropriate Action
  - I - Info Copy Only/No Action Necessary
  - C - Comment/Recommendation
  - R - Direct Reply w/Copy
  - D - Draft Response
  - S - For Signature
  - F - Furnish Fact Sheet
  - X - Interim Reply
- to be used as Enclosure

DISPOSITION CODES:

- A - Answered
- C - Completed
- B - Non-Special Referral
- S - Suspended

FOR OUTGOING CORRESPONDENCE:

- Type of Response = Initials of Signer
- Code = "A"
- Completion Date = Date of Outgoing

Comments: Please close out after sending my comments!
CSWalden 9-26-91 1:00

Keep this worksheet attached to the original incoming letter.
 Send all routing updates to Central Reference (Room 75, OEOb).
 Always return completed correspondence record to Central Files.
 Refer questions about the correspondence tracking system to Central Reference, ext. 2590.

91 SEP 27 P6:10

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 27, 1991

MEMORANDUM FOR TONY SNOW

FROM:

ROGER B. PORTER RBP

SUBJECT:

Presidential Remarks: Hopkins for Governor
Fundraiser

We have reviewed the attached remarks and have noted several suggested changes on the draft.

Please let us know if you have any questions or if we may help in any other way.

cc: Phillip D. Brady

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 9/25/91 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: FRIDAY, 9/27/91 3:00pm

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KY - WED. OCTOBER 2

SUBJECT: _____

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SUNUNU	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MCCLURE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CARD	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SNOW	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please forward your comments directly to Tony Snow, Rm. 122, x2930, no later than 3:00 pm, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, with a copy to this office. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 25, 1991 4 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Two

21 SEP 25 P 5:57
PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

I'm delighted to be here today, joining all of you as one of
"A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor."

\\ I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot.
Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer
they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli"?\\

In the last few weeks, with all the amazing events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals.
~~When~~ a coup that tried to replace Gorbachev, ~~it~~ applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the <sup>UNITED NATIONS</sup> U.N., we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He has served with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brought to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government.\\

PAST TENSE?

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. ~~Well,~~ Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington -- opposing the pork barrel projects that drain the resources of this nation.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase. Kentucky needs jobs. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip <sup>AWAY</sup> ~~across the border~~ to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away.

He'll declare a war for more jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Larry knows that people are tired to too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to rediscover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone, ~~anywhere~~ -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

NOT A
VERY ACTIVE STANCE.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you.

Our domestic agenda carries that faith forward into the future. Our housing proposals will turn housing residents into homeowners -- this is how they can best care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats.

This idea is the basis for something I'd like to talk about with you today: education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

We Americans can and must revitalize our education system for our children: our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity. ~~AND TRAVEL DOWN THE PATH TO SUCCESS.~~

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

~~You know,~~ back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education with whom I can work. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." ~~Your tomorrow must begin~~ today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- a man named Larry Hopkins.

Larry Hopkins is honest. Larry Hopkins works for the people. And Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# # #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

91 SEP 26 All: 55

DATE: 9/25/91 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: FRIDAY, 9/27/91 3:00pm

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KY - WED. OCTOBER 2

SUBJECT: _____

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SUNUNU	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MCCLURE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CARD	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SNOW	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please forward your comments directly to Tony Snow, Rm. 122, x2930, no later than 3:00 pm, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, with a copy to this office. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

Good speech - a few suggestions.
BT

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Hinchliffe/Simon)
September 25, 1991 4 p.m.
HOPKINS.TS Draft Two

31 SEP 25 5:57
PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: HOPKINS FOR GOVERNOR FUNDRAISER
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1991
5:30 p.m.

I'm delighted to be here today, joining all of you as one of
"A Whole Lot of People Who Want to Elect Larry Hopkins Governor."

\\ I notice we're not far from Zachary Taylor's resting spot.
Poor old Zach. Is it true that when they dug him up last summer
they discovered that his last words were: "Pass the broccoli"?\\

In the last few weeks, with all the <sup>historic</sup> ~~amazing~~ events in the world, people have seen the importance of leadership and ideals.
When a coup <sup>o</sup> ~~that~~ tried to replace Gorbachev, it applied the coup de grace to communism: No leadership, no ideals.

As I said at the U.N., we face a different kind of world than we ever have seen: One in which we can build a new era of peace and prosperity -- at home and abroad. But we can achieve these lofty goals only if people take up the challenge of leadership without losing sight of their ideals.

As you look toward this new era in Kentucky, you must look toward Larry Hopkins. He's helped this commonwealth for 20 years, particularly as a top Republican on the Agriculture Committee. He has served with his time and his toil, but most importantly, Larry brought to Washington his absolute, fierce integrity.

In Kentucky, he moved to open government with his "Sunshine Law." As governor he'll bring back the sunshine, starting with the legislature in Frankfort. Already, he has proposed an ethics package that will bring decency and accountability back to Kentucky government.\\

Don't you think it's time Kentucky had a Republican governor? Think back to when Green Bay beat Kansas City to win the very first Super Bowl. Seems like ages ago. Well, it was 1967 -- and that's the last time a Republican lived in the Governor's Mansion.

Look where you are now, 24 years later. Kentucky's spending has increased more rapidly than federal spending. Well, Larry will put an end to that. He's earned his stripes by taking a tough anti-spending stance in Washington -- opposing the pork barrel projects that drain the resources of this nation.

Larry means business -- in every sense of that phrase. Kentucky needs jobs. Larry wants a right-to-work law.

He'll fight to keep jobs here, rather than letting them slip across the border to other states. He knows that you can't help Kentucky workers if taxes and regulations chase all the jobs away.

increase Kentucky
He'll ~~declare a war for~~ more jobs through new business expansion. His bold plan to jump-start the economy doesn't try to turn Kentucky into a land of smokestacks. Larry knows just where Kentucky's traditions lie, and he wants to strengthen the farms that make this state great. He wants to help with regional agricultural centers, but he doesn't intend to smother farmers with new gimmicks and restrictions.

Larry knows that people are tired <sup>of</sup> ~~to~~ too much government and too little personal freedom. The American people want to rediscover their own genius. We aren't second to anyone, anywhere -- and all we need is a chance to prove it -- to ourselves, to the world.

Our Administration's domestic philosophy starts with a simple truth -- that the true power and potential in this land rests in the hands of our people. Our domestic policy begins by trusting you.

Our domestic agenda carries that faith forward into the future. Our housing proposals will turn housing residents into homeowners -- this is how they can best care for themselves and contribute to society.

Our energy package will conserve energy while encouraging innovation.

Our transportation package gives more power to local authorities, who know their own needs.

Our crime package -- the most comprehensive in history -- will give our streets back to the people.

In each case, we want Washington to give people a chance to shape their own destinies -- rather than having to answer to distant bureaucrats.

This idea is the basis for something I'd like to talk about with you today: education. Our democracy can remain vital only if we continue to grow in knowledge and wisdom, understanding the increasingly complex and competitive world in which we live.

<sup>As</sup>
~~We~~ Americans <sup>we</sup> can and must revitalize our education system for our children: our future. We don't want just a good education system. We want the best. We deserve a system that gives everyone the power to throw open his or her own door of opportunity.

Like me, Larry has kids and grandkids, and has visited thousands of others in schools. Like me, Larry has pledged to make education one of his top priorities. But he knows that you can't just throw money. You must make things better. Kentucky's kids need the future they can only get with a first-class education. And Larry's the man to lead you in this fight.

Perhaps include a line about the October 1st speech

You know, back in 1989, I met with the nation's governors at a unique education summit, which led to our national education goals. One of the critical keys to our education future is the relationship between the President and the governors. And the governors have the leading role because education is -- and should remain -- a local responsibility.

I need Larry in Frankfort because I need a strong advocate of education with whom I can work. You need Larry in Frankfort because you need someone who can work with the education establishment -- instead of just working for it.

Last April, our Administration challenged Americans to reinvent the American school, to revolutionize education. Our America 2000 education strategy encourages us to undertake the obvious: to create accountable schools for today -- a new generation of schools for tomorrow -- a nation of students committed to a lifetime of education -- communities where learning can happen.

All of you play a critical role in making the strategy work. You must ensure that your communities accept the responsibility to build better schools. People who want Washington to solve all problems are missing the point. What happens there doesn't matter half as much as what happens in each hometown.

I know that here in Kentucky you'll take that call seriously because this is the "Land of Tomorrow." Your tomorrow must begin today, with hard work to make sure your next Governor will be a man of principles -- a man named Larry Hopkins.

Larry Hopkins is honest. Larry Hopkins works for the people. And Larry Hopkins puts Kentucky first. This whole state needs to "Put Kentucky First -- For a Change" -- and for the future.

Thanks for your welcome and your support; God bless you all.

# # #