PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: RGA REMARKS

Fellow Republicans, and Americans. I wish I could be with you in person -- but as you know, a matter of great urgency requires me to be in Spain. / I refer, of course, to the Middle East Peace Conference. I know all of you share my hope for progress in this crucial area. /

Still, I am delighted to speak to you by video, and thank you for what you've done for the Republican Governors Association. Our party's initials say it all: "Growth, Opportunity, and Progress." You have helped make those objectives, a reality. //

I also want to salute Carroll Campbell for his great job as RGA Chairman. Like you, he helped elect Fife Symington Governor of Arizona. This fall, our sights turn to Kentucky, where Larry Hopkins can become the first Republican Governor in 24 years // and Mississippi, where Kirk Fordice -- who I understand is with you -- can become its first Republican Governor this century. //

My best to both of you -- and many thanks, too, to Governor Tommy Thompson, RGA Vice Chairman, for his role in this dinner's success. I look forward to working with Tommy and Carroll over the next year. Together, our party will take its case to America -- telling why Republicans can best lead this "last best hope of earth." //

In closing, again, my deepest appreciation. Now it is my great privilege to introduce the man who'll be pinch-hitting for me. He has shown what Hemmingway called "grace under pressure." He has been, and remains, a great Vice President -- and an enormous asset to the Nation. My friend, Dan Quayle.
