PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: ALABAMA HALL OF FAME
FRIDAY, FEB. 21, 1992

Tom [York], thank you for that introduction. Governor Hunt, members of the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, ladies and gentlemen. It is an honor to be with you by video on this special weekend. /

As you know, I planned to be with you tonight -- but events have kept me in Washington. Yet I want to congratulate you on the official opening of your new museum. And I want to thank the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame for naming me the Distinguished American Sportsman of 1992. //

I was thrilled when Larry Striplin told me that only Bob Hope and Hugh Culverhouse had received this award. These men join a varied and illustrious group in your Hall of Fame. /

Among them is our good friend Ray Scott. Ray and I fish every year at his home in Pint Lala. // One time he and I were talking about Bill Bright, who will lead tomorrow's prayer breakfast. I said I liked Bill's emphasis on miracles. Ray said: "Speaking of miracles, when was the last time you caught a fish?" //

Well, whether it's fishing or hunting or baseball or football, the sports I love are Alabama-bred. // I'm glad of that -- and the chance to close with words from one of the most beloved of all Alabamians. / Once, Bear Bryant was asked whether he could walk on water. He said, "I don't say I can't or I can. But if I do, I do it before most people get up in the morning."

Bear Bryant may not have walked on water. But he did walk in the spirit which makes America great. I speak of love of family, community and country, belief in work and, above all, belief in God. // I am proud to follow his example -- and to receive this award. Thank you, and God bless this wondrous land -- the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: D.A.R.E ANTI-DRUG PROGRAM

I'm proud of all the young Americans who have completed the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program -- Project D.A.R.E. You have joined millions of other young people who are doing what is right: Saying no to illegal drugs.

You've completed an excellent program that can help you save your own future. But now the future is in your hands. One of these days, when there is no authority figure or trusted friend to help you to say no, someone may offer you illegal drugs.

At that moment, everything comes down to you. Yes or no, you've got to choose -- and the answer will change your life. Your parents won't make the decision. Your teachers won't make the decision. Your friends won't make the decision. It's up to you.

It takes guts to take control. You know the facts about drugs. Your strength of character will make the difference. Those who love you the most and know you the best are praying for your success every step of the way.

Barbara and I join millions of American parents and grandparents in expressing gratitude to Project D.A.R.E. -- and our strongest support for you young people as you face decisions that will shape your future and our country's future. May God bless you and the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: NATIONAL CORN GROWERS ASSOCIATION

I'm proud to salute America's corn growers. Year after year, your hard work and imagination provide us a plentiful harvest.

You're good Americans. When your country calls out for reform and renewal, you're always there to respond.

The National Corn Growers Association was the first of many farm groups to endorse my plan for a North American Free Trade Agreement. You're steadfast in supporting my efforts to win a new GATT agreement that brings down trade-distorting subsidies and barriers to market access. With your continued help, we'll win acceptance of both of these agreements -- and America will reap new benefits from more open markets in Mexico and around the world.

When American corn growers speak up, the Congress listens. You're a strong voice for mainstream America. That's why I'm asking for your urgent help to win urgent action from Congress on my action plan for economic growth. Lower capital gains taxes are vital to American farmers. We must encourage investment that will get our whole nation's economy moving. My other proposals for tax changes, for example in depreciation allowances, also will allow farmers to keep much more of their hard-won earnings.

Today marks the half-way point between my State of the Union call to action and the deadline I've given the Congress. I hope each one of you will contact your Senators and Congressmen

PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: NATIONAL FOOD PROCESSORS ASSN.
DALLAS, TEXAS
MONDAY, MARCH 9, 1992

I am proud to salute members of the National Food Processors Association. For more than eight decades, you've helped America lead the world in offering consumers a fantastic variety of food products at ever more affordable prices. And for all those years, you've helped ensure the safety of our food supply.

I know that the food industry has been hit hard with burdensome regulations -- and I know you're concerned about the so-called FDA enforcement bill. I'm now redoubling my efforts to make sure that regulation serves the common good without suffocating free enterprise. In my State of the Union message I announced a 90-day stop order on federal regulations that could hinder economic growth. We're reviewing all regulations, those proposed and those already in force. When we're through, we'll propose legislation where it is needed to reform burdensome regulations, and we'll oppose bills that would slap American business with unreasonable new restraints.

Right this moment I have a fight on my hands with Congress over the sky-high tax on investment and job creation -- the capital gains tax. We must cut that tax now to get our economy moving again. I've given Congress a deadline of March 20 to pass my economic action plan, including the capital gains tax cut.

The deadline is just days away, and it gives you an urgent opportunity to help. Please let your members of Congress know you support my plan. You and I know that government is too big -

- that it taxes and spends and regulates too much. If we can get Congress to shoulder its responsibility, we can move our country toward a better future. Thank you, and God bless the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO MESSAGE: DAILY POINT OF LIGHT

In New Orleans, there's a seven-year-old girl named Isis Johnson. In her free time, you won't find her on the playground or at the mall. Isis may be young, but she's discovered a purpose and direction that inspire the adults around her. On her own, she started a drive to feed the hungry and clothe the needy who are her neighbors. Isis has been doing this for three years. This past year alone she singlehandedly collected over 4,000 cans of food, along with clothing and other goods. She distributed them to families in her community, using her grandmother's home as her base.

Isis Johnson shows that everyone among us has gifts to give -- and that the youngest will show the way. I'm proud to recognize Isis as one of the nation's Daily Points of Light.

PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: LOU HOLTZ/JUVENILE DIABETES

Congratulations, Lou, on being named "Man of the Year" by the Greater Chicago Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

This is a special night for you, and I'm glad to be part of it.

As the legendary coach of Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, you've fought -- and won -- many battles. Now you're fighting the most important one of all -- the battle for life itself -- the battle to find a cure for a disease that strikes more than 12 million Americans -- including your son, Kevin.

As you look out at the many, many friends and admirers who've gathered to honor you -- you can feel proud that their contributions will go directly to diabetes research. Together, we're fighting to find the cause of this disease. We're fighting to find better means of preventing and treating juvenile diabetes. And together we'll ultimately reach the goal line -- we will find a cure.

The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation has declared the 1990s "The Decade for the Cure." With people like Lou Holtz on the team, I know we'll win. Congratulations, Lou, and may God bless you all.

PROPOSED VIDEO: NATIONAL WOOD WINDOW AND DOOR ASSOCIATION

Good Morning, Ladies and Gentlemen. I wish I could be with you in the Aloha state to take part in your convention. I'd also like to wish a very Happy 65th Birthday to the National Wood Window and Door Association. Your organization combines great names and great traditions. Great families have made their names by offering quality products and quality service to Americans -- for generations. And all of you build your reputations the American way: through honesty, hard work and dedication. I know the past couple of years have been difficult for you, but you have prevailed.

I know how hard you have worked together to make the NWWDA a family -- an organization that serves its members, makes every group, large or small, feel at home. This willingness to help each other breeds success, from large companies to small businesses. This caring spirit enables you to manufacture great products -- and to develop even better products each year. On this special occasion, I want to wish you great success for the future. Your devotion to the NWWDA shows -- and it helps America. Your industry meets foreign competition head on -- and you win -- not because of special favors, but because your products are the best.

Have a wonderful convention and again...happy birthday.

That's why I'm asking for your urgent help to win urgent action from Congress on my action plan for economic growth. Lower capital gains taxes are vital to American farmers. We must encourage investment that will get our whole nation's economy moving. My other proposals for tax changes, for example in depreciation allowances, also will allow farmers to keep much more of their hard-won earnings.

Today marks the half-way point between my State of the Union call to action and the deadline I've given the Congress. I hope each one of you will contact your Senators and Congressmen. Tell

PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: NATIONAL FOOD PROCESSORS ASSN.
DALLAS, TEXAS
MONDAY, MARCH 9, 1992

I am proud to salute members of the National Food Processors Association. For more than eight decades, you've helped America lead the world in offering consumers a fantastic variety of food products at ever more affordable prices. And for all those years, you've helped ensure the safety of our food supply.

I know that the food industry has been hit hard with burdensome regulations -- and I know you're concerned about the so-called FDA enforcement bill. I'm now redoubling my efforts to make sure that regulation serves the common good without suffocating free enterprise. In my State of the Union message I announced a 90-day stop order on federal regulations that could hinder economic growth. We're reviewing all regulations, those proposed and those already in force. When we're through, we'll propose legislation where it is needed to reform burdensome regulations, and we'll oppose bills that would slap American business with unreasonable new restraints.

Right this moment I have a fight on my hands with Congress over the sky-high tax on investment and job creation -- the capital gains tax. We must cut that tax now to get our economy moving again. I've given Congress a deadline of March 20 to pass my economic action plan, including the capital gains tax cut.

The deadline is just days away, and it gives you an urgent opportunity to help. Please let your members of Congress know you support my plan. You and I know that government is too big -

- that it taxes and spends and regulates too much. If we can get Congress to shoulder its responsibility, we can move our country toward a better future. Thank you, and God bless the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO MESSAGE: DAILY POINT OF LIGHT

In New Orleans, there's a seven-year-old girl named Isis Johnson. In her free time, you won't find her on the playground or at the mall. Isis may be young, but she's discovered a purpose and direction that inspire the adults around her. On her own, she started a drive to feed the hungry and clothe the needy who are her neighbors. Isis has been doing this for three years. This past year alone she singlehandedly collected over 4,000 cans of food, along with clothing and other goods. She distributed them to families in her community, using her grandmother's home as her base.

Isis Johnson shows that everyone among us has gifts to give -- and that the youngest will show the way. I'm proud to recognize Isis as one of the nation's Daily Points of Light.

PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: LOU HOLTZ/JUVENILE DIABETES

Congratulations, Lou, on being named "Man of the Year" by the Greater Chicago Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

This is a special night for you, and I'm glad to be part of it.

As the legendary coach of Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, you've fought -- and won -- many battles. Now you're fighting the most important one of all -- the battle for life itself -- the battle to find a cure for a disease that strikes more than 12 million Americans -- including your son, Kevin.

As you look out at the many, many friends and admirers who've gathered to honor you -- you can feel proud that their contributions will go directly to diabetes research. Together, we're fighting to find the cause of this disease. We're fighting to find better means of preventing and treating juvenile diabetes. And together we'll ultimately reach the goal line -- we will find a cure.

The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation has declared the 1990s "The Decade for the Cure." With people like Lou Holtz on the team, I know we'll win. Congratulations, Lou, and may God bless you all.

PROPOSED VIDEO: NATIONAL WOOD WINDOW AND DOOR ASSOCIATION

Good Morning, Ladies and Gentlemen. I wish I could be with you in the Aloha state to take part in your convention. I'd also like to wish a very Happy 65th Birthday to the National Wood Window and Door Association. Your organization combines great names and great traditions. Great families have made their names by offering quality products and quality service to Americans -- for generations. And all of you build your reputations the American way: through honesty, hard work and dedication. I know the past couple of years have been difficult for you, but you have prevailed.

I know how hard you have worked together to make the NWWDA a family -- an organization that serves its members, makes every group, large or small, feel at home. This willingness to help each other breeds success, from large companies to small businesses. This caring spirit enables you to manufacture great products -- and to develop even better products each year. On this special occasion, I want to wish you great success for the future. Your devotion to the NWWDA shows -- and it helps America. Your industry meets foreign competition head on -- and you win -- not because of special favors, but because your products are the best.

Tom [York], thank you for that introduction. Governor Hunt, members of the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, ladies and gentlemen. It is an honor to be with you by video on this special weekend. /

As you know, I planned to be with you tonight -- but events have kept me in Washington. Yet I want to congratulate you on the official opening of your new museum. And I want to thank the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame for naming me the Distinguished American Sportsman of 1992. //

I was thrilled when Larry Striplin told me that only Bob Hope and Hugh Culverhouse had received this award. These men join a varied and illustrious group in your Hall of Fame. /

Among them is our good friend Ray Scott. Ray and I fish every year at his home in Pint Lala. // One time he and I were talking about Bill Bright, who will lead tomorrow's prayer breakfast. I said I liked Bill's emphasis on miracles. Ray said: "Speaking of miracles, when was the last time you caught a fish?" //

NO
Well, ~~whether~~ ^{no matter if} it's fishing or hunting or baseball or football, the sports I love are Alabama-bred. // I'm glad of that -- and the chance to close with words from ^{(NS) one of} the most beloved ^{of all} Alabamians ^(NS) ~~of them~~ all. / Once, Bear Bryant was asked whether he

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO MESSAGE: DAILY POINT OF LIGHT

In New Orleans, there's a seven-year-old girl named Isis Johnson. In her free time, you won't find her on the playground or at the mall. Isis may be young, but she's discovered a purpose and direction that inspire many adults around her. On her own, she started a drive to feed the hungry and clothe the needy who are her neighbors. Isis has been doing this for three years. This past year alone she singlehandedly collected over 4,000 cans of food, along with clothing and other goods. She distributed them to families in her community, using her grandmother's home as her base.

Isis Johnson shows that everyone among us has gifts to give -- and that the youngest will show the way. I'm proud to recognize Iris as one of this nation's Daily Points of Light.

PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: LOU HOLTZ/JUVENILE DIABETES

Congratulations, Lou, on being named the Greater Chicago Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation's "Man of the Year." This is a special night for you, and I'm glad to be part of it.

As the legendary coach of Notre Dame's Fighting Irish, you've fought -- and won -- many battles. Now you're fighting the most important one of all -- the battle for life itself -- the battle to find a cure for the disease that strikes more than 12 million Americans -- including your son, Kevin.

As you look out at the many, many friends and admirers who've gathered to honor you -- you can feel proud that their contributions will go directly to diabetes research. Together, we're fighting to find the cause of this disease. We're fighting to find better means of preventing and treating juvenile diabetes. And together we'll ultimately reach the goal line -- we'll find a cure.

The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation has declared the 1990s "The Decade for the Cure." With people like Lou Holtz on the team, I know we'll win. Congratulations, Lou, and may God bless you all.

PRESIDENTIAL VIDEO: D.A.R.E ANTI-DRUG PROGRAM

I'm proud of you young Americans who have completed the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program -- Project D.A.R.E. You have joined millions of other young people who have shown the courage to say no to illegal drugs.

You've completed an excellent program that can help you save your own future. But now the future is in your hands. One of these days, when there is no authority figure or trusted friend to tell you to say no, someone will offer you illegal drugs.

At that moment, everything comes down to you. Yes or no, you've got to choose -- and the answer will change your life. Your parents won't make the decision. Your teachers won't make the decision. Your friends won't make the decision. It's up to you.

It takes guts to take control. You know the facts about drugs. Now it's up to you. Your strength and character will make the difference. Those who love you the most and know you the best are praying for your success every step of the way.

Barbara and I join millions of American parents and grandparents in expressing gratitude to Project D.A.R.E. -- and our strongest support for you young people as you face decisions that will shape your future and our country's future. May God bless you and the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: VIDEO
ALABAMA HALL OF FAME
FRIDAY, FEB. 21, 1992

Tom [York], thank you for that introduction. Governor Hunt, members of the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, ladies and gentlemen. It is an honor to be with you by video on this special weekend. /

As you know, I planned to be with you tonight -- but events have kept me in Washington. Yet I want to congratulate you on the official opening of your new museum. And I want to thank the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame for naming me the Distinguished American Sportsman of 1992. //

I was thrilled when Larry Striplin told me that only Bob Hope and Hugh Culverhouse had received this award. These men join a varied and illustrious group in your Hall of Fame. /

Among them is our good friend Ray Scott. Ray and I fish every year at his home in Pint Lala. // One time he and I were talking about Bill Bright, who will lead tomorrow's prayer breakfast. I said I liked Bill's emphasis on miracles. Ray said: "Speaking of miracles, when was the last time you caught a fish?" //

Well, whether it's fishing or hunting or baseball or football, the sports I love are Alabama-bred. // I'm glad of that -- and the chance to close with words from the most beloved Alabamian of them all. / Once, Bear Bryant was asked whether he could walk on water. He said, "I don't say I can't or I can. But if I do, I do it before most people get up in the morning."

Bear Bryant may not have walked on water. But he did walk in the spirit which makes America great. I speak of love of family / belief in work / love of country / above all, belief in God. // I am proud to follow his example -- and to receive this award. Thank you, and God bless this wondrous land -- the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL MESSAGE: CHI CHI RODRIGUEZ FOUNDATION

Today, I am proud to salute Chi Chi Rodriguez and the volunteers of his Youth Foundation as one of America's shining Points of Light.

For the past 13 years, the Chi Chi Rodriguez Foundation has extended the guiding hand of friendship and support to troubled youth throughout the Clearwater community.

Chi Chi has recruited a team of golf professionals, educators, businessmen, and other volunteers to reshape the destinies of these youngsters through golf, after school programs and other organized sporting events.

"Chi Chi's Kids" become acquainted with all aspects of golf -- from the putting green to the pro shop. For the first time in their lives many young people experience the joy of athletic achievement and academic success. Their days are more challenging and their futures are a little brighter -- thanks to the personal commitment of Chi Chi and his dedicated volunteers.

General Comment:
Cabinet Affairs recommends that a reference to the health care reform proposal be made, referencing 100% deductible and pooling. Even though this is not a part of the 7 point immediate package, it is a real attractive part of the larger state of the Union message for these corn farmers and it may induce them to lobby for the near term package if they tie them together!

NAT'L CORN GROWERS ASSOCIATION
MONDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1992

I'm proud to salute America's corn growers. Year after year, your hard work and imagination prove to be as bountiful as the prairies you plow.

You're good citizens. When your country calls out for reform and renewal, you're always there to respond.

The National Corn Growers Association was the first of many farm groups to endorse my plan for a North American Free Trade Agreement. You're steadfast in supporting my efforts to win a new GATT agreement that brings down trade-distorting subsidies. With your continued help, we'll win both of these agreements -- and America will reap new benefits from more open markets in Mexico and around the world.

When American corn growers speak up, the Congress listens. You're a strong voice for mainstream America. That's why I'm asking for your urgent help to win urgent action from Congress on my economic growth plan. Lower capital gains taxes are vital to American farmers and vital to our whole nation's economy. My other proposals for tax changes, for example in depreciation allowances, also will allow farmers to keep much more of their hard-won earnings.

Today marks the half-way point between my State of the Union call to action and the deadline I've given the Congress. I hope each one of you will contact your senators and congressman. Tell them you're watching the calendar. Tell them to pass my package

-- not a substitute. Tell them that if they won't help get America moving again, they should move aside and let someone else do the job. \\

Again, thank you, and God bless the United States of America.

1) How about the investment tax credit
2) This audience will be disappointed at this message if it is just a plug for the President's economic Plan.

I am proud to salute members of the National Food Processors Association. For more than eight decades, you've helped America lead the world in offering consumers a fantastic variety of food products at ever more affordable prices. And for all those years, you've ~~shown federal regulators how to assure~~ ^{helped ensure} the safety of our food supply.

I'm now redoubling my efforts to make sure that regulation serves the common good without suffocating free enterprise. In my State of the Union message I announced a 90-day stop order on federal regulations that could hinder economic growth. [I know

Right this moment I have a fight on my hands with Congress over the sky-high tax on investment and job creation -- the capital gains tax. We must cut that tax now to get our economy moving again. I've given Congress a deadline of March 20 to

The deadline is just days away, and it gives you an urgent opportunity to help. Please let your members of Congress know you support my plan. You and I know that government is too big - that it taxes and spends and regulates too much. If we can get congress to shoulder its responsibility, we can move our country toward a better future. Thank you, and God bless the United States of America.

NATIONAL WOOD WINDOW AND DOOR ASSOCIATION VIDEO MESSAGE

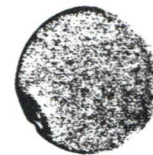

Good Morning, Ladies and Gentlemen. I wish I could be with you in the Aloha state to take part in your convention. I'd also like to wish a very ^(counsel) special Happy 65th Birthday to the National Wood Window and Door Association. Your organization combines great names and great traditions. Great families have made their names by offering quality products and quality service to Americans - for generations. And all of you build your reputations the American way; through honesty, hard work, dedication. I know the past couple of years have been difficult for you, but you have prevailed.

I know how hard you have worked together to make the NWWDA a family - an organization that serves its members, makes every group, large or small, feel at home. This willingness to help each other breeds success, from large companies to small businesses. This caring spirit enables you to manufacture great products - and to develop even better products each year. On this ^(counsel) very special occasion, I want to wish you great success for the future. Your devotion to the NWWDA shows - and it helps America. Your industry meets foreign competition head on - and you win - not because of special favors, but because your products are the best.

Have a wonderful convention and again...happy birthday.
God bless you and God Bless America.
