

Originally Processed With FOIA(s):

S

FOIA Number:

S

FOIA MARKER

This is not a textual record. This is used as an administrative marker by the George Bush Presidential Library Staff.

---

Record Group/Collection: George H.W. Bush Presidential Records
Collection/Office of Origin: Speechwriting, White House Office of Series: Speech File Draft Files
Subseries: Chron File, 1989-1993

---

OA/ID Number: 13609
Folder ID Number: 13609-002

---

Folder Title:
Miami GOP Dinner 3/4/92 [OA 6098] [2]

---

Stack:	Row:	Section:	Shelf:	Position:
G	26	17	7	3

---

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

92 FEB 28 P3:34

DATE: 02/27/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: 5:00 p.m. 02/28

SUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER, MIAMI, FL, 03/04
(02/26 draft two)

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MCGROARTY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BOSKIN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide any comments directly to the Speechwriters office no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday, 02/28, with a copy to this office. Thanks.

RESPONSE:

Mani Sheikh for DS.

PHILLIP D. BRADY
 Assistant to the President
 and Staff Secretary
 Ext. 2702

02 FEB 27 P7:15

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative."))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) //

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years.
// Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first. //

So often today politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / For I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led us to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

Next comes an island not far from here. Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want -- and I'm confident will see -- freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. His beaches are not borders -- they're walls. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track of our country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, that's wrong. / I'm proud of our tough

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. //

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. //

Or when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not till we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government telling you who your doctor's going to be.

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often the welfare system perpetuates dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies that promote broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans is -- the economy. People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for our retirement.//

The American people want this economy to work. So in my State of the Union, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business growing again -- upgrading plant and equipment again -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how the real world works, and cut the tax on capital gains./

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, young people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- but to pay for that they'd hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, and everyday Floridians. /

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're talking about, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving. /

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our education system demand responsibility. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- think we should shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. //

I'm also going to fight hard in the Florida Primary -- for you and I -- for what is right, and good. // I saw in the eight

years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.
/ Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall. //

I believe the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear
solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. //
Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high /
and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. Not through Washington's phony-balconies. But through people like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami.
People like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is
number one -- make no mistake about it. //

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you,
we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

92 FEB 28 P2: JJ

~~MacArthur~~

Calio

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative."))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) //

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years.
// Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first. //

So often today politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / For I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led us to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

Next comes an island not far from here. Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want -- and I'm confident will see -- freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. His beaches are not borders -- they're walls. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track of our country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, that's wrong. / I'm proud of our tough

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. //

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. //

Or when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not till we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government telling you who your doctor's going to be.

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often the welfare system perpetuates dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies that ~~promote~~<sup>help</sup> broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans is -- the economy. People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for our retirement.//

The American people want this economy to work. So in my State of the Union, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business growing again -- upgrading plant and equipment again -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how the real world works, and cut the tax on capital gains. /

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, young people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- but to pay for that they'd hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, and everyday Floridians. /

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're talking about, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving. /

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our education system demand responsibility. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- think we should shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. //

I'm also going to fight hard in the Florida Primary -- for you and I -- for what is right, and good. // I saw in the eight

years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.
/ Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall. //

I believe the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear
solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. //
Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high /
and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive
seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. Not through Washington's phony-balonies. But through
people like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami.
People like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and
save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is
number one -- make no mistake about it. //

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee
you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them
from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you,
we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

92 FEB 28 P2: 33

DATE: 02/27/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: 5:00 p.m. 02/28

SUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER, MIAMI, FL, 03/04
(02/26 draft two)

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MCGROARTY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BOSKIN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide any comments directly to the Speechwriters office no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday, 02/28, with a copy to this office. Thanks.

RESPONSE:

*Good - a few suggestions.
BT for STR*

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

02 FEB 27 P7:15

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative."))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) //

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years.
// Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first. //

— good

So often today politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / For I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led us to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

Next comes an island not far from here. Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want -- and I'm confident will see -- freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. His beaches are not borders -- they're walls. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track of our country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, that's wrong. / I'm proud of our tough

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. //

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. //

Or when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

~~((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association,~~
~~but~~ I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not till we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government telling you who your doctor's going to be.

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often the welfare system perpetuates dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies that promote broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans <sup>is</sup> -- the economy. People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for our retirement.//

The American people want this economy to <sup>grow.</sup> work. So in my State of the Union, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business <sup>now</sup> growing again -- upgrading plant and equipment again -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how the real world works, and cut the tax on capital gains. /

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // ~~Perhaps~~ <sup>T</sup> the most ~~easily understood~~ <sup>Popular</sup> proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, young people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- but to pay for that they'd hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, and everyday Floridians. /

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're talking about, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving./

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our education system demand responsibility. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- think we should shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. //

I'm also going to fight hard in the Florida Primary -- for you and I -- for what is right, and good. // I saw in the eight

years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.
 / Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall. //

I believe the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear
 solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. //
 Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high /
 and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive
 seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. Not through Washington's phony-balconies. But through
 people like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami.
 People like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and
 save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is
number one -- make no mistake about it. //

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee
 you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them
 from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you,
we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

Bob

Memorandum for Speechwriting Staff

From: Dan McGroarty

Regarding: Miami GOP

---

Please return your comments to Room 122 by:

3pm

Today's Date: FEB 28 1992

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative."))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) // Why take a chance? Someone might.

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years.
// Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first. //

So often today politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / For I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led us to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

Next comes an island not far from here. Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want -- and I'm confident will see -- freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. His beaches are not borders -- they're walls. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track <sup>in this</sup> ~~of our~~ country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, that's wrong. / I'm proud of our tough

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. //

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. //

Or when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not till we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government telling you who your doctor's going to be.

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often the welfare system perpetuates dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies that promote broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans: ~~is~~ <sup>the</sup> the economy. People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting <sup>something</sup> aside for <sup>our</sup> retirement. //

The American people want this economy to work. So in my State of the Union, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business growing again -- upgrading plant and equipment again -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how the real world works, and cut the tax on capital gains./

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, young people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- but to pay for that they'd hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, and everyday Floridians. /

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're talking about, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving. /

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our education system demand responsibility. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- think we should shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. //

I'm also going to fight hard in the Florida Primary -- for you and I -- for what is right, and good. // I saw in the eight

years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.
 / Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall. //

I believe the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear
 solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. //
 Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high /
 and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive
 seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. Not through Washington's phony-balonies. But through
 people like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami.
 People like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and
 save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is number one -- ~~make no mistake about it.~~ // + will work to keep it that way.

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them
 from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you,
we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

gory

Memorandum for Speechwriting Staff

From: Dan McGroarty

Regarding: Miami GOP

---

Please return your comments to Room 122 by:

3pm

Today's Date: FEB 28 1992

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative."))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) //

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years.
// Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first. //

COMMENT ON Page 3; sentence insert ON Page 4;
COMMENT ON 6

So often today politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / For I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led us to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

Next comes an island not far from here. Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want -- and I'm confident will see -- freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. His beaches are not borders -- they're walls. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track of our country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, that's wrong. / I'm proud of our tough

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. //

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. //

Or when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not till we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, (if they lose their job.) And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

→ This seems to emphasize the negative

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government telling you who your doctor's going to be.

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often the welfare system perpetuates dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies that promote broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans is -- the economy. <sup>People worried about their jobs --</sup> ~~A whole~~ <sup>Family can only be whole in a thriving</sup> economy. ↑ providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for our retirement. //

The American people want this economy to work. So in my State of the Union, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business growing again -- upgrading plant and equipment again -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how the real world works, and cut the tax on capital gains. /

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, young people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- but to pay for that they'd hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, and everyday Floridians. /

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're talking about, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving. /

There's no segue from one line of discourse to the other.

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our education system demand responsibility. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- think we should shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. //

I'm also going to fight hard in the Florida Primary -- for you and I -- for what is right, and good. // I saw in the eight

There seems to be an abrupt transition between "education" & "government rd" and continuing...

I thought more of education

years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.

/ Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall. //

I believe the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. // Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high / and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. Not through Washington's phony-balconies. But through people like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami. People like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is number one -- make no mistake about it. //

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you, we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

Carol

Memorandum for Speechwriting Staff

From: Dan McGroarty

Regarding: Miami GOP

---

Please return your comments to Room 122 by:

3pm

Today's Date: FEB 28 1992

Maybe a page shorter?

CBA

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative.))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) //

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

Joe used this in the Hialeah rally.

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years. // Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first.//

What's the Spanish word for a broc. joke?

Today's

~~So often today~~ politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / ~~For~~ I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led us to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

~~Next comes an island not far from here.~~ Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want ~~-- and I'm confident will see --~~ freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. 😊 His beaches are not borders -- they're ~~walls~~ / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track of our country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, ~~that's wrong~~. / I'm proud of our tough

make this more nasty & cutting. Heh-heh-heh.

There's something wrong

the confines of freedom.

→ Although if Congress passed the crime bill we could be tougher.

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. //

There's ~~the~~ something wrong

when kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits. ~~that, too, is wrong.~~ //

There's something wrong

when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. // ~~we grew up with, and this is not the America we want our kids to grow up in.~~ //

These days a ~~sharp~~ lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan to keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to ~~reduce the number of~~ weed out frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not ~~till~~ until we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have ~~access to~~ health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even ~~minor~~ a checkup ~~surgery~~ knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My ~~idea~~ <sup>plan</sup> ~~is to~~ <sup>will</sup> make ~~insurance~~ <sup>healthcare?</sup> available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government ~~telling you who your doctor's going to be.~~ <sup>assigning you a doctor.</sup>

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often ~~the welfare system~~ <sup>encourages</sup> ~~perpetuates~~ dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies that promote broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after ~~dead-beat fathers~~ <sup>parents?</sup> who run out on their children. //

*Are we only
rose cutting
some mothers do
be same thing.*

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans is -- the economy. ~~People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for our retirement.//~~

The American people want ~~this~~ <sup>our</sup> economy to work. So in ~~my~~ <sup>January</sup> ~~State of the Union~~, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business growing again -- upgrading plant and equipment ~~again -- hiring workers again.~~ <sup>and</sup> / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up ~~and understand how the real world works, and~~ <sup>and</sup> cut the tax on capital gains. /

→ foundation? 😊

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, ~~young~~ people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

2. ((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- ~~but~~ <sup>they</sup> ~~to pay for that they'd~~ <sup>want to</sup> hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 <sup>or more</sup> a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, <sup>policemen?</sup> and everyday Floridians. /

25¢ a day?
You can't even buy a pack of gum for 25¢.

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're talking about, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to <sup>put</sup> ~~make~~ America <sup>back on her feet.</sup> ~~more competitive~~. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving. /

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our schools ~~education system~~ demand responsibility. // Our plan will get ~~the~~ billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We <sup>want to</sup> raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- <sup>they</sup> think we should <sup>just</sup> shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. // insert A here

I'm also going to fight hard in the Florida Primary -- for you and I -- for what is right, and good. // I saw in the eight

years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.
/ Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we ~~can win this fall~~ <sup>will</sup> in November. //

A I believe the American people want to hear ~~about how we're~~ ~~going to address our country's challenges~~. They want to hear
solutions; ~~not just a lot of running this country down~~. //
Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high /
and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive
seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. Not through Washington's phony-balonies. But through
people ~~like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami~~.
People ~~like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and~~
save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is
number one -- make no mistake about it. //

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee
you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them
from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you,
we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

There are more than just Cubans in Miami.

*#s?
examples?*

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative."))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) //

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years.
// Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first.//

So often today politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / For I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led us to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

Next comes an island not far from here. Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want -- and I'm confident will see -- freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. His beaches are not borders -- they're walls. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track of our country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, that's wrong. / I'm proud of our tough

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. //

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. //

Or when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not till we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government telling you who your doctor's going to be.

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often the welfare system perpetuates dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies that promote broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans is -- the economy. People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for our retirement.//

The American people want this economy to work. So in my State of the Union, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business growing again -- upgrading plant and equipment again -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how the real world works, and cut the tax on capital gains./

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, young people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- but to pay for that they'd hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, and everyday Floridians. /

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're talking about, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving. /

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our education system demand responsibility. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- think we should shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. //

I'm also going to fight hard in the Florida Primary -- for you and I -- for what is right, and good. // I saw in the eight

years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.
 / Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall. //

I believe the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear
 solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. //
 Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high /
 and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive
 seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. Not through Washington's phony-balonies. But through
 people like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami.
 People like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and
 save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is
number one -- make no mistake about it. //

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee
 you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them
 from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you,
we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative."))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) //

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years.
// Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first.//

So often today politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / For I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led us to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

Next comes an island not far from here. Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want -- and I'm confident will see -- freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. His beaches are not borders -- they're walls. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track of our country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, that's wrong. / I'm proud of our tough

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. //

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. //

Or when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not till we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government telling you who your doctor's going to be.

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often the welfare system perpetuates dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies that promote broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans is -- the economy. People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for our retirement.//

The American people want this economy to work. So in my State of the Union, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business growing again -- upgrading plant and equipment again -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how the real world works, and cut the tax on capital gains./

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, young people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- but to pay for that they'd hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, and everyday Floridians. /

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're talking about, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving. /

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our education system demand responsibility. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- think we should shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. //

I'm also going to fight hard in the Florida Primary -- for you and I -- for what is right, and good. // I saw in the eight

years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.
 / Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall. //

I believe the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear
 solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. //
 Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high /
 and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive
 seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. Not through Washington's phony-balconies. But through
 people like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami.
 People like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and
 save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is
number one -- make no mistake about it. //

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee
 you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them
 from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you,
we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
February 29, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR DAN MCGROARTY

FROM: ROGER B. PORTER ABP

SUBJECT: Presidential Remarks: GOP Dinner, Miami, Fl

We have reviewed the attached presidential remarks and have noted several suggested changes on the draft.

If you have any questions or we can be of further assistance, please let us know.

cc: Phillip D. Brady

Document No. 311448

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 02/27/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: 5:00 p.m. 02/28

SUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER, MIAMI, FL, 03/04
(02/26 draft two)

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MCGROARTY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BOSKIN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide any comments directly to the Speechwriters office no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday, 02/28, with a copy to this office. Thanks.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
 Assistant to the President
 and Staff Secretary
 Ext. 2702

32 FEB 27 87:15

(Smith/Grossman)
February 26, 1992
Draft Two
MIAMIPRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

[[ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS]]. ((When I found out what Jeb was going to say, I told him it was one of the nicest introductions I've received in quite awhile. He said, "Dad, it's all relative."))

((I'm always reluctant to begin a speech when the audience still has food on its plates that it can throw -- but I'll take a chance.)) //

((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance on this visit to drop by "Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] I have to admit that eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant is my Miami Vice.)) //

My pleasure is being here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- ~~because we~~ <sup>AND</sup> much to do these next few years.
// Together, we ~~can~~ <sup>WILL</sup> finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it costs too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first. //

2

So often today politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. / But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. / ~~For~~ I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each and every one of us -- each day of every year. //

I believe in the things which have led ~~us~~ to a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is finished. //

Next comes an island not far from here. Last week marked a special <sup>ANNIVERSARY</sup> [birthday]. The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want -- and I'm confident will see -- freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become the "Maytag Repairman" of Communist dictators -- he's very lonely. // He is not a leader -- he's a warden. His beaches are not borders -- they're walls. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will <sup>HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO</sup> change your homeland -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership can change America. //

We can change it by making right what is simply on the wrong track of our country. Take our courts, for example. //

When the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim, that's wrong. / I'm proud of <sup>MY ADMINISTRATION'S</sup> ~~our~~ tough

3

stand on crime. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who <sup>THE LAW</sup> interpret, not legislate. //

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. //

Or when doctors stop delivering babies because they fear a malpractice lawsuit -- or when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not till we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's best quality care, it does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

4

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high, the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government telling you who your doctor's going to be.

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. ~~Let's face it?~~ Too often the welfare system perpetuates dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government<sup>s</sup> to ~~reform~~ <sup>PROMOTE</sup> policies that ~~promote~~ <sup>PROTECT & STRENGTHEN</sup> broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans is -- the economy. People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for our retirement. //

~~The American people want this economy to work. So in my~~ State of the Union, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business growing ~~again~~ -- upgrading plant and equipment ~~again~~ -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how the real world works, and cut the tax on capital gains. /

5

And to get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. // Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / It's easy to understand the Democrats' plan for first-time homebuyers, too -- there isn't one. / But with our plan, young people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time. Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan.")) Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase. / Over in the Senate, the Democrats are in a bidding war -- but to pay for that they'd hike tax rates for the middle class -- people making $35,000 a year -- people like teachers, factory workers, and everyday Floridians. /

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and ~~kept our~~ <sup>ACCOMPLISHED</sup> ~~word.~~ <sup>OUR MISSION</sup> I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me this nonsense they're <sup>DEBATING IN CONGRESS.</sup> ~~talking about,~~ I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their ~~phony promises,~~ <sup>IRRESPONSIBLE POSTURING</sup> Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's <sup>MY</sup> the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's <sup>MY</sup> the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving. /

6

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to ~~also~~ pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. // There are some wonderful educational programs on TV -- no question. But TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our education system demand responsibility. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / And our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed in this session of Congress. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead ~~--- think~~ <sup>AND BELIEVE</sup> we should shut out the rest of the world. / They're dead wrong. The way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight ~~hard~~ in every foreign market to do just that. //

I'm also going to fight ~~hard~~ in the Florida Primary ~~--- for~~ you and I for what is right, and good. // ~~I saw in the sight~~

7

~~you're my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters.~~

/ Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. // So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall. //

~~I believe~~ the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. // Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high / and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

~~Yes,~~ <sup>we</sup> we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. <sup>BANK ROOM DEPOS</sup> Not through <sup>Washington's</sup> ~~Washington's~~ <sup>phony</sup> ~~phony~~ ~~balenies?~~ But through people like you'll see two days from now in Carnival Miami. People like the Cubans who came to this country -- who work and save and teach and pray. / People who know that America is number one -- ~~make no mistake about it.~~ //

~~Yes,~~ <sup>we</sup> we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you, we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #

105 mins. 8:10 pm

(Smith/Grossman)
March 3, 1992
MIAMI

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: GOP DINNER
MIAMI, FLORIDA
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1992

Dr. Zach Zachariah, thank you for that introduction.

National Finance Co-Chairs Alec Courtelis and Jack Laughery (LAW
curry). Jeb Bush. Congresswoman Ileana Ross-Lehtinen (LEY ten en). Van Poole, state GOP Chairman. Our Dade County Chairman Armando Codina. ((First, a confession. My one disappointment here is that I won't get a chance ~~on this visit~~ to drop by
"Esquina de Tejas." [Es KEE nah dey TEH hass] ~~I have to admit~~
~~that~~ eating at that wonderful Cuban restaurant ~~in~~ <sup>From all I've heard</sup> ~~is~~ <sup>would become</sup> my Miami Vice.)) //

It's a pleasure to be here tonight. We've much to do these next few months -- because we've much to do these next few years.
// Together, we can finish what we've started and move our country forward. / To do that, I need your support. Help me win the Presidency for four more years. //

I ask your support for the simplest reason. We believe in the same things -- jobs, family, peace -- the important things.

We know that taxes are too high -- because our government is too big and it spends too much. / We believe in a strong defense. We believe in faith and family -- responsibility and respect -- community and country. / We know that we put America first when we put America's families first. //

So often today's politicians do the easy thing -- the popular thing. But it's the tough decisions that tell you something important about character and principle. For I believe in things that don't change from one election to the next. Things that guide each one of us -- each day of every year. //

During my Presidency I've been blessed to take part in a new era in America's history. My friends, the Cold War is over -- and America won. // The Soviet Union collapsed -- and Imperial Communism is dead. //

Last week marked a special birthday: The battle of Grito de Baire [BYE rey] in Cuba's war of independence. / We support independence. We want freedom and prosperity for the Cuban people and an end to Fidel Castro's totalitarian regime. //

Castro has become an outcast even among dictators. // His beaches are not borders -- they're the confines of freedom. / For years, the Cuban community has energized Miami. Someday freedom-loving people will change that island for the better -- just like America has changed the world. Tonight, I want to talk about how Republican leadership is changing America. //

We are changing it by setting right what is simply on the wrong track in our country. Take our courts, for example. //

There's something wrong when the rights of the criminal are more important than the rights of the victim. / I'm proud of our tough stand on crime -- although if Congress passed my crime bill we could be even tougher. And I'm proud of our judicial appointments -- judges who interpret, not legislate. /

When kids can't say a voluntary prayer in school -- or when fathers stop coaching Little League because they're afraid of liability lawsuits -- that, too, is wrong. / So is when people stop volunteering to help each other because they fear ambulance-chasing lawyers. // This is not the America we want. //

These days a sharp lawyer would tell the Good Samaritan -- keep on walking. I want to change that -- so I've proposed reforms to our system to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits.

((I don't want to get into trouble with the Bar Association, but I once quoted to someone that line, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." / He said, "What works for lawyers?")) Legal reform will help our legal process work. But, you know, the real answer for solving problems is to be more concerned with helping each other than suing each other. //

But we can't stop there -- not until we reform our health care system. Not because it doesn't offer the world's highest quality care <sup>it</sup> does. We must reform it because too many people don't have access to health insurance. Too many people worry that they'll lose their insurance if they change jobs or worse still, if they lose their job. And anybody who's had even minor surgery knows that health care costs are going through the roof./

What's the solution? Not to go down the road of socialized medicine. All that means is long lines and impersonal service. / We can get <sup>now</sup> that at the Department of Motor Vehicles. / My idea is to make insurance available to all -- keep the quality high,

the bureaucracy low -- and preserve choice. / The last thing we want is the government assigning you a doctor. //

Health care reform means improving the system. / There's another area where reform means changing the system. // I'm talking about welfare. Let's face it: Too often welfare encourages dependency instead of personal responsibility and the dignity of a job. / So I've asked my departments and agencies to make it easier for state and local government to reform policies and help broken families. // We need to help make families whole -- help bring dignity back into their lives and go after dead-beat fathers who run out on their children. //

This leads me to the number one issue on the minds of all Americans: the economy -- jobs. People worried about their jobs -- providing for their families / meeting the challenges of paying the bills, buying a home, and setting aside for retirement.//

The American people want this economy to grow -- to create and preserve jobs. So in January, I unveiled a two-part plan. The first part gets business moving again -- upgrading plant and equipment again -- hiring workers again. / It uses incentives like an investment tax allowance -- and calls for Congress to wake up and understand how jobs are created, and cut the tax on capital gains. /

To get housing back on its feet I unveiled several common sense proposals to get people buying and building homes. These proposals will create in Florida alone an estimated 26,500

additional housing starts and 51,000 new construction jobs. / /
 Perhaps the most easily understood proposal is a $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers. / With our plan, people almost able to buy that first home could do it with the extra $5,000 in their pocket. /

((203 years ago on this very date the United States Congress met for the first time.)) [[Wonder what they would think today about the House Democrats' so-called "plan." Here's the Democrat deal: 25 cents a day in temporary tax relief for two years -- paid for -- typical of them -- by a large permanent tax increase.
 Over in the Senate, the bill the Democrats are working on is not much better than the one in the House. It's centerpiece is a huge tax hike. 11 — tax hike.

We drew a line in the Sand in the Persian Gulf and kept our word. I'll draw another line in the sand right now. If the Democrats send me nonsense like the bill passed through the House, I'll send it right back. I will veto it the minute it hits my desk. // Instead of their phony maneuvers, Congress ought to pass my plan to make America more competitive. Here's the deadline: March 20, the first day of spring. / Here's the challenge: Give American workers a spring break. / No more games / no more empty gestures / just pass my plan and get this economy moving./

Some question the need to act now. Well, let me repeat the story of a little boy who asked why his friend's grandmother read the Bible so much. "I'm not sure," said his friend, "but I think it's because she's cramming for her finals." / Urgency counts in any world. / So I'm asking Congress to also pass the second part of my plan this year. It's a road map to make us competitive.

Our plan revolutionizes America's education system. I was reading that the average 8th-grader spends four times as much time watching TV as doing homework. / TV shouldn't be America's baby-sitter. We can change that by making our schools accountable, and demand <sup>ing</sup> excellence. // Our plan will get the billions of dollars of government research and development more quickly to private sector businesses and workers. / We have a commitment to children and strong families -- and our plan provides tax relief to strengthen the family. / We want to raise the tax deduction for children by $500 dollars. Make no mistake, I want this plan passed now. //

Behind all of this is an idea vital to America: To succeed economically at home, we have to lead economically abroad. / Some don't want us to lead -- they think we should just shut out the rest of the world. They're dead wrong. More than 200,000 jobs in Florida stem from manufactured exports. Last year more than $13 billion in exports went out through the Miami Customs District. // You know that the way to create jobs is not to cut and run -- but to open markets for our exports everywhere in the world. I am going to fight hard in every foreign market to do just that. // And it's working -- our overall trade imbalance is down. Look at the figures: In 1988 the trade deficit stood at 119 billion. Today it's dropped to 66 billion -- a 44% drop.

I believe the American people want to hear about how we're going to address our country's challenges. They want to hear solutions, not just a lot of running this country down. // Solutions that will keep inflation low / our confidence high / and protect the savings of our elderly. / Solutions that will win the war on drugs -- and we are winning: Witness the massive seizure of drugs in South Florida over the past several months.

Yes, we have much to do. But I guarantee you we'll get the job done. I'm going to fight hard in the Florida Primary for these people -- fight for what is right, and good. / I saw in the eight years my friend Ronald Reagan led America how leadership matters. / Last year, we saw America stand tall again in the Persian Gulf. / I believe the next five years are just too important to entrust to the inexperienced. / So I ask for your help to keep our party strong and united so we can win this fall.

Yes, we have many challenges before us. And I guarantee you, we will meet them -- each and every one of them -- meet them from the great Panhandle to the tip of the Florida Keys.

Yes, there's an election in November -- and I guarantee you, we will win it. I want to be your president for another four years. Thank you and God bless the United States of America.

# #