PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: CHICAGO FUNDRAISER
MARCH 16, 1992

Thank you Governor Edgar. My good friend Rich Williamson. Believe me, Illinois needs this man in the United States Senate. \ It's great to be back in Chicago. I've been visiting this state a lot recently, but that hasn't been enough. I've imported my own Illinois brigade to Washington -- including Secretary of Agriculture Madigan, Secretary of Veteran Affairs Ed Derwinski, and Secretary of Labor, Lynn Martin. And when I was looking to hire a Chief of Staff, I turned to the Windy City again. I needed someone with experience, with competence -- but Mike Ditka said he was too busy. \\ Fortunately, Sam Skinner rose to the challenge. \\ Sam's doing a great job. I hear they even billed these remarks as "Speech by Sam Skinner's friend." \\

Someone once wrote that "Chicago does not lie there...waiting for things to happen. Chicago moves...making things happen." This year, the people of Chicago and this great state are going to make things happen again. The choices we make will affect not only the next election. They will affect the next generation. We're in a battle for our future: We want America to lead the world in good jobs with productive work. We want to remain a force for world peace and freedom. \\ And we're fighting to protect our most basic institution -- the family. \\

That's why tomorrow's primary election -- and November's general election -- are vital to our future. I'm asking you to get out the vote and create a resounding mandate to transform America. \ Let's nominate and elect men and women who share our values. \ We've got more to do to get America on the right track. So I'm asking you for four more years as your President. \

America was built on faith, family and freedom -- these form the foundation of our great country. And we must now renew those sources of our strength. \ \

We must allow common sense to prevail in our welfare system -- forge a new connection between welfare and work. When Chicago -- the "City That Works" -- finds 17 percent of its population dependent on welfare -- something's gone wrong. Americans are a caring people: We support welfare for families in need. But Americans want to see government at every level work together to track down the dead-beat Dads -- the ones who can't be bothered to pay child-support. \ \ They want to see us break the cycle of dependency that destroys dignity -- passes down poverty from one generation to the next. That's wrong. That's cruel. And we're working to change it. And my administration will continue to encourage state to innovate with plans that help people break welfare dependency and begin learning work skills.\

Here's another way we can fight for the the family: by giving parents the right to choose their children's schools. Our students learn and grow by competing in school, and our schools will improve by competing for students. School choice is at the heart of America 2000 -- our strategy to revolutionize American education. \\ There's also another choice I deeply support: The right to pray in our classrooms. I believe what I told a group of evangelical leaders here less than two weeks ago: Children have the right to choose voluntary prayer in school. //

Parents -- not some bureaucrat in Washington, D.C. -- know what is best for their children. \\ That's why I worked to win a child-care bill that provides parents the right to choose who provides the care. We know America is first as long as we put the family first. \\

For three years I've had to fight the liberal leadership of Congress on these issues. And I will continue to stand and fight for principle even when Congress stands in the way. We've fought, and we've put judges on the bench who know their role is to interpret the law -- not create it. I'll use the veto when I have to -- to stand for principle -- to stand up for family values. \\ As it is, even my friends have said that at times I was courting defeat by casting a veto instead of cutting a deal. But we've never lost a veto fight -- and I'll never hesitate to use the power of the pen when principle is at stake. \\

You remember I've asked Congress to pass tax cuts and incentives to get the economy moving -- to get real estate up and running, to reward risk-takers who create good jobs. \\ It's time for Congress to quit punishing people who create jobs -- cut the tax on capital gains. \\

But instead of passing my plan, the big spenders that control the Congress have other ideas. Here's their deal: a tiny temporary tax cut -- 25 cents -- a quarter-a-day for each man, woman and child in America; or a permanent quarter-a-day tax cut for those earning less than $40,000 per year. In either case, here's the catch: you can keep that ~~quarter~~ ^{quarter} -- in exchange for 90 to 100 billion dollars in new taxes. \\ The Democrats call that "new revenue." I call it: "your money." \\ If you agree, tell the Congress: Keep the change -- and keep your hands off the taxpayers' wallets. ((I wanted to celebrate St. Patrick's Day tomorrow by kissing the blarney. But, I couldn't get a copy of the Democrats plan.)) And if the liberals send me their scheme, I'll veto it so fast it'll make their heads spin.

Remember: I set a deadline: March 20. That's just four days away. I've said to Congress: pass our plan, \ get our economy moving, \ do something now for the American people. \\

We'll fight -- and we'll win. And we'll keep to our course of leadership in the world economy -- because if we want to succeed economically at home, we've got to lead economically abroad. I spoke about this in December when I visited the Mercantile Exchange -- those folks are out there on the frontier of the global marketplace and they know what I mean. So do Illinois exporters. This state exports almost 35 billion dollars a year in manufactured goods. Over 400,000 Illinois jobs depend on exports. Think of it -- this is the city that gave the world Sears and Wrigley gum, Motorola and McDonald's hamburgers.

That's free markets. That's free trade. That's my idea of America first. \\

But my opponents are peddling protectionism -- a retreat from economic reality. Cut through all the patriotic posturing -- all the tough talk about "fighting back" by closing shop. Look closely. That's not the American flag they're waving -- it's the white flag of surrender. \\ Well, that's not the America you and I know. \\

America doesn't cut and run -- we compete. Never in this nation's long history have we turned our backs on a challenge -- and we won't start now. \\

I put my faith in the American worker: level the playing field, and the American worker will out-think, out-produce and out-perform anyone, anywhere, anytime. \\

Americans are a strong people. More than anything, we're strong because we value faith, family, and freedom. And let me say a word about freedom. We're the world's greatest power because whenever our values are threatened, we fight to defend them. We need to keep our defenses strong. In my State of the Union Address, I proposed far-reaching, but still responsible cuts to bring our armed forces into line with the new realities of the world. But the liberals, true to form, want to put down the scalpel and pick up a meat cleaver. We can't let that happen. \ We will keep America strong -- you can count on it.

As President, I have a constitutional responsibility for the national security of this country. And as long as I am

President, I guarantee you we will have defenses strong enough to meet our world responsibilities. We were ready when Iraq's brutal dictator invaded Kuwait, and we will be ready when we face the next crisis.

We must let the world know this: Whatever the challenge, America wil meet it. America is in it to win. // Think back a year ago -- to the calm after Desert Storm. Ask any one of the proud sons and daughters of Illinois who became liberators of Kuwait: they'll tell you military strength doesn't mean a thing without moral support right here at home.

Yes: There were those who didn't support us then -- there are those who second guess us now. But not here -- not in Illinois. When I drew that line in the sand -- you stood with me. Never would this country tuck tail // and let aggression stand. // America did what was right and good and just -- and America prevailed. //

We're bringing that same spirit to the fight we face today. Let my opponents sound the retreat -- run from the new realities, seek refuge in a world of protectionism, high taxes and big government. Let the talking heads tick off everything that's wrong in America: We know what's right. And let me say too: I'm counting on the good people of Illinois to reject the ugly politics of hate that is rearing its head. Remember, America is great because America is good. Racism, anti-Semitism and bigotry have no place in the United States of America. //

Let me just close with a few words from the heart. Barbara and I are blessed -- blessed to serve this great nation of ours at a moment when so many of the old fears have been driven away. When so many new hopes stand within our reach. And since the day I took the oath of office I made it my duty always to try to do what is right for this country. I've given it my level best -- and I'm not done yet. \\

You and I have more work ahead before we've finished our mission. It's a battle for our future: it's about jobs, family, peace -- the kind of legacy we'll leave our kids.

Together, we've made a great beginning to renew the miracle of American enterprise -- and to strengthen our values of family, faith and freedom. Now we're approaching an hour of decision - - tomorrow. Don't wait until November. \\
I'm asking you to vote on March 17th -- in the Republican primary. \\
Give me your vote in this important election next month. Help me win four more years to lead the fight for the values we share. ////

Thank you, and God bless the United States of America.

As President, I have a constitutional responsibility for the national security of this country. We're bringing that same spirit to the fight we face today. Let my opponents sound the retreat -- run from the new realities, seek refuge in a world of protectionism, high taxes and big government. Let the talking heads tick off everything that's wrong in America: We know what's right. And let me say too: I'm counting on the good people of Illinois to reject the ugly politics of hate that is rearing its head again. Remember, America is great because America is good. Racism and anti-Semitism and bigotry have no place in the United States of America. //

You and I have more work ahead before we've finished our mission. It's a battle for our future: it's about jobs, family, peace -- the kind of legacy we'll leave our kids.

Together, we've made a great beginning to renew the miracle of American enterprise -- and to strengthen our values of family, faith and freedom. PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: CHICAGO FUNDRAISER

Thank you Governor Edgar. [Acknowledgements]. It's great to be back in Chicago. I've been visiting this state a lot recently, but that hasn't been enough. I've imported my own Illinois brigade to Washington. Secretary of Agriculture Madigan. [Other] And when I was looking to hire a Chief of Staff, I looked to the Windy City. I needed someone with experience, with competence -- but Mike Ditka said he was too busy. \\ Fortunately, Sam Skinner rose to the challenge. \\ Sam's doing a great job. I hear they even billed these remarks as "Speech by Sam Skinner's friend."

Someone once wrote that "Chicago does not lie there...waiting for things to happen. Chicago moves...making things happen." This year, the people of Chicago and the people of this great state are going to make things happen again. The choices we make will affect not only the next election. They will affect the next generation as well. We're in a battle for our future: We want America to lead the world in good jobs with productive work. \\ We want to remain a force for world peace and freedom. \\ And we're fighting to protect our most basic institution -- the family. \\

That's why this year of decision is so important for America. \ That's why tomorrow's primary election -- and

November's general election -- are vital to our future. I'm asking you to get out the vote and create a resounding mandate to transform America. \ Let's nominate and elect men and women who share our values. \ We've got much more to do to get America on the right track. \\ So I'm asking you for four more years as your President. \\

America was built on faith, family and freedom -- these form the foundation of our great country. And we must now renew those sources of our strength. \\

We must allow common sense to prevail in our welfare system -- restore the connection between welfare and work.

When Chicago -- the "City That Works" -- finds 17% of its population dependent on welfare -- something's gone wrong. Americans aren't cold hearted -- we're a caring people: Americans support welfare for families in need. But Americans want to see government at every level work together to track down the dead-beat Dads -- the ones who can't be bothered to pay child-support. \\ They want to see us break the cycle of dependency that destroys dignity -- passes down poverty from one generation to the next. That's wrong. That's cruel. And we're working to change it. And my administration will continue to encourage state to innovate with plans that help people break welfare dependency and begin learning work skills. \\

And we will continue to fight for the parents' right to choose their children's schools. If our students can learn and grow by competing in school, then our schools can improve by competing for students. School choice is at the heart of America 2000 -- our strategy to revolutionize American education.

I was here less than two weeks ago speaking to a group of evangelical leaders, and I'll tell you what I told them: children have a right to choose voluntary prayer in school. Something wrong with our schools when a kid can get their hands on a condom -- but can't bow their heads in prayer. That's wrong -- and we need to change it. \\

Parents -- not some bureaucrat in Washington, D.C. -- know what is best for their children. \\
\ That's why I worked to win a child-care bill that provides parents the right to choose who provides the care. We know America is first as long as we put the family first. \\

For three years I've had to fight the liberal leadership of Congress on these issues. And I will continue to stand and fight for principle even when Congress stands in the way. We've fought, and we've put judges on the bench who know their role is to interpret the law -- not create it. I'll use the veto when I have to -- to stand for principle -- to stand up for family values. \\
\ As it is, even my friends have said that at times I was courting defeat by casting a veto instead of cutting a deal. But we've never lost a veto fight -- and I'll never hesitate to use the power of the pen when principle is at stake. \\

The liberal leadership of the Congress is once again on a collision course with my veto. You remember I've asked Congress to pass tax cuts and incentives to get the economy moving -- to get real estate up and running, to reward risk-takers who create good jobs. \\ It's time for Congress to quit punishing people who create jobs -- cut the tax on capital gains. \\

But instead of passing my plan, the big spenders that control the Congress had other ideas. Here it is: a tiny temporary tax cut -- 25 cents -- a quarter-a-day for each man, woman and child in America. And here's the catch: you can keep that quarter -- in exchange for 100 billion dollars in new taxes. \\ The Democrats call that "new revenue." I call it: "your money." \\

If you agree, tell the Congress: Keep the change -- and keep your hands off the taxpayers' wallets.

((I wanted to celebrate St. Patrick's Day tomorrow by kissing the blarney. But, I couldn't get a copy of the Democrats plan.)) And if the liberals send me their scheme, I'll veto it faster than Congress can bounce a check. \\ COVER A BOUNCED CHECK.

Remember: I set a deadline: March 20. That's just four days away. I've said to Congress: pass our plan, \ get our economy moving, \ do something now for the American people. \\

We'll fight -- and we'll win. And we'll keep to our course of leadership in the world economy -- because if we want to succeed economically at home, we've got to lead economically abroad. I spoke about this in December when I visited the Mercantile Exchange -- those folks are out there on the frontier of the global marketplace and they know what I mean. So do Illinois exporters. This state exports almost 35 billion dollars a year -- that's billion dollars. Over 400,000 Illinois jobs depend on exports. Think of it -- this is the city that gave the world Zenith TVs and Wrigley gum, Schwinn bikes and McDonald's hamburgers. That's free markets. That's free trade. That's my idea of America first. \\

But my opponents are peddling protectionism -- a retreat from economic reality. Cut through all the patriotic posturing -- all the tough talk about "fighting back" by closing shop. Look closely. That's not the American flag they're waving -- it's the white flag of surrender. \\
Well, that's not the America you and I know. \\

America doesn't cut and run -- we compete. Never in this nation's long history have we turned our backs on a challenge -- and we won't start now. \\

I put my faith in the American worker: level the playing field, and the American worker will out-think, out-produce and out-perform anyone, anywhere, anytime. \\

Americans are a strong people. More than anything, we're strong because we value faith, family, and freedom. And let me say a word about freedom. We're the world's greatest power because whenever our values are threatened, we fight to defend them. We need to keep our defenses strong. In my State of the Union Message, I proposed far-reaching, but still responsible cuts to bring our armed forces into line with the new realities of the world. But the liberals, true to form, want to put down the scalpel and pick up a meat axe. We can't let that happen. \

We will keep America strong -- you can count on it. \\

As President, I have a constitutional responsibility for the national security of this country. And as long as I am President, I guarantee you we will have defenses strong enough to meet our world responsibilities. We were ready when Iraq's brutal dictator invaded Kuwait, and we will be ready when we face the next crisis.

America was built on faith, family and freedom -- these form the foundation of our great country. And we must now renew those sources of our strength. \\

We must allow common sense to prevail in our welfare system -- restore the connection between welfare and work.

When Chicago -- the "City That Works" -- finds 17% of its population dependent on welfare -- something's gone wrong. Americans aren't cold hearted -- we're a caring people: Americans support welfare for families in need. But Americans want to see government at every level work together to track down the dead-beat Dads -- the ones who can't be bothered to pay child-support. \\ They want to see us break the cycle of dependency that destroys dignity -- passes down poverty from one generation to the next. That's wrong. That's cruel. And we're working to change it. And my administration will continue to encourage state to innovate with plans that help people break welfare dependency and begin learning work skills. \\

And we will continue to fight for the parents' right to choose their children's schools. If our students can learn and grow by competing in school, then our schools can improve by competing for students. School choice is at the heart of America 2000 -- our strategy to revolutionize American education.

I was here less than two weeks ago speaking to a group of evangelical leaders, and I'll tell you what I told them: children have a right to choose voluntary prayer in school. Something wrong with our schools when a kid can get their hands on a condom -- but can't bow their heads in prayer. That's wrong -- and we need to change it. \\

Parents -- not some bureaucrat in Washington, D.C. -- know what is best for their children. \\

For three years I've had to fight the liberal leadership of Congress on these issues. And I will continue to stand and fight for principle even when Congress stands in the way. We've fought, and we've put judges on the bench who know their role is to interpret the law -- not create it. I'll use the veto when I have to -- to stand for principle -- to stand up for family values. \\
As it is, even my friends have said that at times I was courting defeat by casting a veto instead of cutting a deal. But we've never lost a veto fight -- and I'll never hesitate to use the power of the pen when principle is at stake. \\

The liberal leadership of the Congress is once again on a collision course with my veto. You remember I've asked Congress to pass tax cuts and incentives to get the economy moving -- to get real estate up and running, to reward risk-takers who create good jobs. \\ It's time for Congress to quit punishing people who create jobs -- cut the tax on capital gains. \\

But instead of passing my plan, the big spenders that control the Congress had other ideas. Here it is: a tiny temporary tax cut -- 25 cents -- a quarter-a-day for each man, woman and child in America. And here's the catch: you can keep that quarter -- in exchange for 100 billion dollars in new taxes. \\ The Democrats call that "new revenue." I call it: "your money." \\

If you agree, tell the Congress: Keep the change -- and keep your hands off the taxpayers' wallets.

((I wanted to celebrate St. Patrick's Day tomorrow by kissing the blarney. But, I couldn't get a copy of the Democrats plan.)) And if the liberals send me their scheme, I'll veto it faster than Congress can bounce a check. \\

Remember: I set a deadline: March 20. That's just four days away. I've said to Congress: pass our plan, \ get our economy moving, \ do something now for the American people. \\

We'll fight -- and we'll win. And we'll keep to our course of leadership in the world economy -- because if we want to succeed economically at home, we've got to lead economically abroad. I spoke about this in December when I visited the Mercantile Exchange -- those folks are out there on the frontier of the global marketplace and they know what I mean. So do Illinois exporters. This state exports almost 35 billion dollars a year -- that's billion dollars. Over 400,000 Illinois jobs depend on exports. Think of it -- this is the city that gave the world Zenith TVs and Wrigley gum, Schwinn bikes and McDonald's hamburgers. That's free markets. That's free trade. That's my idea of America first. \\

But my opponents are peddling protectionism -- a retreat from economic reality. Cut through all the patriotic posturing - - all the tough talk about "fighting back" by closing shop. Look closely. That's not the American flag they're waving -- it's the white flag of surrender. \\
\\ Well, that's not the America you and I know. \\
\\

America doesn't cut and run -- we compete. Never in this nation's long history have we turned our backs on a challenge -- and we won't start now. \\

I put my faith in the American worker: level the playing field, and the American worker will out-think, out-produce and out-perform anyone, anywhere, anytime. \\

Americans are a strong people. More than anything, we're strong because we value faith, family, and freedom. And let me say a word about freedom. We're the world's greatest power because whenever our values are threatened, we fight to defend them. We need to keep our defenses strong. In my State of the Union Message, I proposed far-reaching, but still responsible cuts to bring our armed forces into line with the new realities of the world. But the liberals, true to form, want to put down the scalpel and pick up a meat axe. We can't let that happen. \

We will keep America strong -- you can count on it. \\\

As President, I have a constitutional responsibility for the national security of this country. And as long as I am President, I guarantee you we will have defenses strong enough to meet our world responsibilities. We were ready when Iraq's brutal dictator invaded Kuwait, and we will be ready when we face the next crisis.

We must let the world know this: Whatever the challenge, America will stay strong. America is in it to win. ///

Think back a year ago -- to the calm after Desert Storm. Ask any one of the proud sons and daughters of Illinois who became liberators of Kuwait: they'll tell you military strength doesn't mean a thing without moral support right here at home.

Yes, we all know: There were those who didn't support us then -- there are those who second guess us now. But not here - - not in Illinois. When I drew that line in the sand -- you stood with me. Never would this country tuck tail // and let aggression stand. // America did what was right and good and just -- and America prevailed. //

We're bringing that same spirit to the fight we face today. Let my opponents sound the retreat -- run from the new realities, seek refuge in a world of protectionism, high taxes and big government. Let the talking heads tick off everything that's wrong in America: We know what's right. And let me say too: I'm counting on the good people of Illinois to reject the ugly politics of hate that is rearing its head again. Remember, America is great because America is good. Racism and anti-Semitism and bigotry have no place in the United States of America. //

Let me just close with a few words from the heart. Barbara and I are blessed -- blessed to serve this great nation of ours at a moment when so many of the old fears have been driven away. When so many new hopes stand within our reach. And since the day I took the oath of office I made it my duty always to try to do what is right for this country. I've given it my level best -- and I'm not done yet. \\

You and I have more work ahead before we've finished our mission. It's a battle for our future: it's about jobs, family, peace -- the kind of legacy we'll leave our kids.

Together, we've made a great beginning to renew the miracle of American enterprise -- and to strengthen our values of family, faith and freedom. Now we're approaching an hour of decision - - tomorrow. Don't wait until November. \\ I'm asking you to vote on March 17th -- in the Republican primary. \\ Give me your vote in this important election next month. Help me win four more years to lead the fight for the values we share. ////

Thank you, and God bless the United States of America.

CHICAGOPRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: CHICAGO FUNDRAISER
MARCH 16, 1992

Thank you Governor Edgar. [Acknowledgements]. It's great to be back in Chicago. I've been visiting this state a lot recently, but that hasn't been enough. I've imported my own Illinois brigade to Washington. Secretary of Agriculture Madigan. [Other] And when I was looking to hire a Chief of Staff, I looked to the Windy City. I needed someone with experience, with competence -- but Mike Ditka said he was too busy. \\ Fortunately, Sam Skinner rose to the challenge. \\ Sam's doing a great job. I hear they even billed these remarks as "Speech by Sam Skinner's friend."

Someone once wrote that "Chicago does not lie there...waiting for things to happen. Chicago moves...making things happen." This year, the people of Chicago and the people of this great state are going to make things happen again. The choices we make will affect not only the next election. They will affect the next generation as well. We're in a battle for our future: We want America to lead the world in good jobs with productive work. \\ We want to remain a force for world peace and freedom. \\ And we're fighting to protect our most basic institution -- the family. \\

That's why this year of decision is so important for America. \ That's why tomorrow's primary election -- and

November's general election -- are vital to our future. I'm asking you to get out the vote and create a resounding mandate to transform America. \ Let's nominate and elect men and women who share our values. \ We've got much more to do to get America on the right track. \\ So I'm asking you for four more years as your President. \\

America was built on faith, family and freedom -- these form the foundation of our great country. And we must now renew those sources of our strength. \\

We must allow common sense to prevail in our welfare system -- restore the connection between welfare and work.

When Chicago -- the "City That Works" -- finds 17% of its population dependent on welfare -- something's gone wrong. Americans aren't cold hearted -- we're a caring people: Americans support welfare for families in need. But Americans want to see government at every level work together to track down the dead-beat Dads -- the ones who can't be bothered to pay child-support. \\ They want to see us break the cycle of dependency that destroys dignity -- passes down poverty from one generation to the next. That's wrong. That's cruel. And we're working to change it. And my administration will continue to encourage state to innovate with plans that help people break welfare dependency and begin learning work skills. \\

And we will continue to fight for the parents' right to choose their children's schools. If our students can learn and grow by competing in school, then our schools can improve by

Together, we've made a great beginning to renew the miracle of American enterprise -- and to strengthen our values of family, faith and freedom. Now we're approaching an hour of decision - - tomorrow. Don't wait until November. \\ I'm asking you to vote on March 17th -- in the Republican primary. \\ Give me your vote in this important election next month. PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: CHICAGO FUNDRAISER

Thank you Governor Edgar. [Acknowledgements]. It's great to be back in Chicago. I've been visiting this state a lot recently, but that hasn't been enough. I've imported my own Illinois brigade to Washington. Secretary of Agriculture Madigan. [Other] And when I was looking to hire a Chief of Staff, I looked to the Windy City. I needed someone with experience, with competence -- but Mike Ditka said he was too busy. \\ Fortunately, Sam Skinner rose to the challenge. \\ Sam's doing a great job. I hear they even billed these remarks as "Speech by Sam Skinner's friend."

Someone once wrote that "Chicago does not lie there...waiting for things to happen. Chicago moves...making things happen." This year, the people of Chicago and the people of this great state are going to make things happen again. The choices we make will affect not only the next election. They will affect the next generation as well. We're in a battle for our future: We want America to lead the world in good jobs with productive work. \\ We want to remain a force for world peace and freedom. \\ And we're fighting to protect our most basic institution -- the family. \\

That's why this year of decision is so important for America. \ That's why tomorrow's primary election -- and

November's general election -- are vital to our future. I'm asking you to get out the vote and create a resounding mandate to transform America. \ Let's nominate and elect men and women who share our values. \ We've got much more to do to get America on the right track. \\ So I'm asking you for four more years as your President. \\

America was built on faith, family and freedom -- these form the foundation of our great country. And we must now renew those sources of our strength. \\

We must allow common sense to prevail in our welfare system -- restore the connection between welfare and work.

When Chicago -- the "City That Works" -- finds 17% of its population dependent on welfare -- something's gone wrong.

✓ Americans aren't cold hearted -- we're a caring people: American^s support welfare for families in need. But Americans want to see government at every level work together to track down the dead-beat Dads -- the ones who can't be bothered to pay child-support. \\ They want to see us break the cycle of dependency that destroys dignity -- passes down poverty from one generation to the next. That's wrong. That's cruel. And we're working to change it. And my administration will continue to encourage state^s to innovate with plans that help people break welfare dependency and begin learning work skills. \\

✓ And we will continue to fight for the parents' right to choose their children's schools. If our students can learn and grow by competing in school, then our schools can improve by competing for students. School choice is at the heart of America 2000 -- our strategy to revolutionize American education.

I was here less than two weeks ago speaking to a group of evangelical leaders, and I'll tell you what I told them: children have a right to choose voluntary prayer in school. Something wrong with our schools when a kid can get their hands on a condom -- but can't bow their heads in prayer. That's wrong -- and we need to change it. \\

Parents -- not some bureaucrat in Washington, D.C. -- know what is best for their children. \\
\\ That's why I worked to win a child-care bill that provides parents the right to choose who provides the care. We know America is first as long as we put the family first. \\

For three years I've had to fight the liberal leadership of Congress on these issues. And I will continue to stand and fight for principle even when Congress stands in the way. We've fought, and we've put judges on the bench who know their role is to interpret the law -- not create it. I'll use the veto when I have to -- to stand for principle -- to stand up for family values. \\
\\ As it is, even my friends have said that at times I was courting defeat by casting a veto instead of cutting a deal. But we've never lost a veto fight -- and I'll never hesitate to use the ^{that power the veto power} ~~power of the pen~~ when principle is at stake. \\

The liberal leadership of the Congress is once again on a collision course with my veto. You remember I've asked Congress to pass tax cuts and incentives to get the economy moving -- to get real estate up and running, to reward risk-takers who create good jobs. \\ It's time for Congress to quit punishing people who create jobs -- cut the tax on capital gains. \\

But instead of passing my plan, the big spenders that control the Congress had other ideas. Here it is: a tiny temporary tax cut -- 25 cents -- a quarter-a-day for each man, woman and child in America. And here's the catch: you can keep that quarter -- in exchange for 100 billion dollars in new taxes.

\\ The Democrats call that "new revenue." I call it: "your money." \\

If you agree, tell the Congress: Keep the change -- and keep your hands off the taxpayers' wallets.

((I wanted to celebrate St. Patrick's Day tomorrow by kissing the blarney. But, I couldn't get a copy of the Democrats plan.)) And if the liberals send me their scheme, I'll veto it faster than Congress can bounce a check. \\

Remember: I set a deadline: March 20. That's just four days away. I've said to Congress: pass our plan, \ get our economy moving, \ do something now for the American people. \\

We'll fight -- and we'll win. And we'll keep to our course of leadership in the world economy -- because if we want to succeed economically at home, we've got to lead economically abroad. I spoke about this in December when I visited the Mercantile Exchange -- those folks are out ^{there} on the frontier of the global marketplace and they know what I mean. So do Illinois exporters. This state exports almost 35 billion dollars a year -- that's billion dollars. Over 400,000 Illinois jobs depend on exports. Think of it -- this is the city that gave the world Zenith TVs and Wrigley gum, Schwinn bikes and McDonald's hamburgers. That's free markets. That's free trade. That's my idea of America first. \\\

But my opponents are peddling protectionism -- a retreat from economic reality. Cut through all the patriotic posturing -- all the tough talk about "fighting back" by closing shop. Look closely. That's not the American flag they're waving -- it's the white flag of surrender. \\\ Well, that's not the America you and I know. \\\

America doesn't cut and run -- we compete. Never in this nation's long history have we turned our backs on a challenge -- and we won't start now. \\\

I put my faith in the American worker: level the playing field, and the American worker will out-think, out-produce and out-perform anyone, anywhere, anytime. \\\

Americans are a strong people. More than anything, we're strong because we value faith, family, and freedom. And let me say a word about freedom. We're the world's greatest power because whenever our values are threatened, we fight to defend them. We need to keep our defenses strong. In my State of the Union Message, I proposed far-reaching, but still responsible cuts to bring our armed forces into line with the new realities of the world. But the liberals, true to form, want to put down

This doesn't flow after being introduced earlier and left behind

the scalpel and pick up a meat axe. We can't let that happen. \

We will keep America strong -- you can count on it. \\

As President, I have a constitutional responsibility for the national security of this country. And as long as I am President, I guarantee you we will have defenses strong enough to meet our world responsibilities. We were ready when Iraq's brutal dictator invaded Kuwait, and we will be ready when we face the next crisis.

We must let the world know this: Whatever the challenge, America will stay strong. America is in it to win. ///

Think back a year ago -- to the calm after Desert Storm. Ask any one of the proud sons and daughters of Illinois who became liberators of Kuwait: they'll tell you military strength doesn't mean a thing without moral support right here at home.

Yes, we all know: There were those who didn't support us then -- there are those who second guess us now. But not here -- not in Illinois. When I drew that line in the sand -- you stood with me. Never would this country tuck tail // and let aggression stand. // America did what was right and good and just -- and America prevailed. //

We're bringing that same spirit to the fight we face today. Let my opponents sound the retreat -- run from the new realities, seek refuge in a world of protectionism, high taxes and big government. Let the talking heads tick off everything that's wrong in America: We know what's right. And let me say too: I'm counting on the good people of Illinois to reject the ugly politics of hate that is rearing its head again. Remember, America is great because America is good. Racism and anti-Semitism and bigotry have no place in the United States of America. //

As President, I have a constitutional responsibility for the national security of this country. And as long as I am President, I guarantee you we will have defenses strong enough to meet our world responsibilities. We were ready when Iraq's brutal dictator invaded Kuwait, and we will be ready when we face the next crisis.

We must let the world know this: Whatever the challenge, America will stay strong. America is in it to win. ///

Think back a year ago -- to the calm after Desert Storm. Ask any one of the proud sons and daughters of Illinois who became liberators of Kuwait: they'll tell you military strength doesn't mean a thing without moral support right here at home.

Yes, we all know: There were those who didn't support us then -- there are those who second guess us now. But not here - - not in Illinois. When I drew that line in the sand -- you stood with me. Never would this country tuck tail // and let aggression stand. // America did what was right and good and just -- and America prevailed. //

We're bringing that same spirit to the fight we face today. Let my opponents sound the retreat -- run from the new realities, seek refuge in a world of protectionism, high taxes and big government. Let the talking heads tick off everything that's wrong in America: We know what's right. And let me say too: I'm counting on the good people of Illinois to reject the ugly politics of hate that is rearing its head again. Remember, America is great because America is good. Racism and anti-Semitism and bigotry have no place in the United States of America. //

Let me just close with a few words from the heart. Barbara and I are blessed -- blessed to serve this great nation of ours at a moment when so many of the old fears have been driven away. When so many new hopes stand within our reach. And since the day I took the oath of office I made it my duty always to try to do what is right for this country. I've given it my level best -- and I'm not done yet. \\

You and I have more work ahead before we've finished our mission. It's a battle for our future: it's about jobs, family, peace -- the kind of legacy we'll leave our kids.

Together, we've made a great beginning to renew the miracle of American enterprise -- and to strengthen our values of family, faith and freedom. Now we're approaching an hour of decision - - tomorrow. Don't wait until November. \\ I'm asking you to vote on March 17th -- in the Republican primary. \\ Give me your vote in this important election next month. Help me win four more years to lead the fight for the values we share. ////

Thank you, and God bless the United States of America.
