

Originally Processed With FOIA(s):

S

FOIA Number:

S

FOIA MARKER

This is not a textual record. This is used as an administrative marker by the George Bush Presidential Library Staff.

---

Record Group/Collection: George H.W. Bush Presidential Records
Collection/Office of Origin: Speechwriting, White House Office of Series: Speech File Draft Files
Subseries: Chron File, 1989-1993

---

OA/ID Number: 13616
Folder ID Number: 13616-005

---

Folder Title:
Points of Light 4/16/92 [OA 6100]

---

Stack:	Row:	Section:	Shelf:	Position:
G	26	18	1	3

---

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

April 14, 1992

MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH:           DAVID DEMAREST
FROM:                BETH HINCHLIFFE
SUBJECT:             RADIO ADDRESS

You will be taping a radio broadcast for release the weekend of April 18. Your remarks (5 minutes) use the idea of Easter and spring renewal as a chance to discuss the beginning of an American rebirth, through service. They end with a call for all Americans to become "Points of Light."

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 4/10/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: MON. 4/13/92 4:00pm

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT

SUBJECT: THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS NK	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY NK	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY NK	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please forward your comments directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, no later than 4:00 p.m., MONDAY, APRIL 13, with a copy to this office. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

MASTER

PHILLIP D. BRADY
 Assistant to the President
 and Staff Secretary
 Ext. 2702

02 APR 10 P12: 45

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family, broadly (POL) defined.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly renew POL reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans ~~wage our war for~~ dedicate themselves to the promotion of human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, <sup>both</sup> organizations, to <sup>mobilize them</sup> call on members to <sup>for volunteer service. wherever</sup> claim their <sup>leaders from</sup> community's problems as their own. Together, they can create <sup>all walk of life</sup> "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path. <sup>work together & claim their</sup>

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

92 APR 15 P4:20

April 14, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR DAN MCGROARTY

FROM: ROGER B. PORTER RBP

SUBJECT: Presidential Radio Address: Points of Light

We have reviewed the attached presidential radio address and have no suggested changes from a policy standpoint. We approve the draft in its present form.

cc: Phillip D. Brady

RAE

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 4/10/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: MON. 4/13/92 4:00pm

SUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please forward your comments directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, no later than 4:00 p.m., MONDAY, APRIL 13, with a copy to this office. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

32 APR 10 12:45

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 4/10/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: MON. 4/13/92 4:00pm

SUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please forward your comments directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, no later than 4:00 p.m., MONDAY, APRIL 13, with a copy to this office. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

*Please see comments.
This looks great!
Thank you.*

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

02 APR 10 P12: 45

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family, broadly defined.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly <sup>renew</sup> ~~reawaken~~ America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

Great! →

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week and from that week on, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to ~~call on~~ mobilize their members ~~to claim their~~ for voluntary service.

and other community's problems as their own, ~~together,~~ they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

Wherever leaders from all walks of life work together and claim their

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ~~even~~ light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

92 APR 13

AID: 55

Radio comments

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is <sup>(2)</sup>unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America. X

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- dedicate themselves to the promotion of

they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

Simon
Memorandum for Speechwriting Staff

From: Dan McGroarty

Regarding: POA

---

Please return your comments to Room
122 by:

1 PM Monday

Today's Date: APR 10 1992

Passover?
April 18

do they have wheat here?
I thought it was a corn state.

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

We must act <sup>to melt</sup> ~~against a plague which is a winter~~ <sup>the</sup> in our souls. <sup>time</sup>
I'm proclaiming April 26 <sup>through</sup> May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love.
Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

This sentence <sup>and metaphor</sup> did not bridge between preceding graf + next sentence
as written.

Aarhus

Memorandum for Speechwriting Staff

From: Dan McGroarty

Regarding: P.O.H.

---

Please return your comments to Room
122 by:

1 pm Monday

Today's Date: APR 10 1992

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

Their State Team is the "Cornhuskers"

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

*rebirth? are they
"born again"
sheep?*

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, ~~of course~~ we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help --

*Don't this intagonize
the Jewish people who are already
angry w/ us?
It's Passover
Season, too!*

←!!

they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we <sup>can</sup> will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. As President, I will yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better-educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that <sup>you</sup> each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- ~~which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history --~~ instead march to the drumbeat of despair. ~~People say the problem is crack or crime or babies~~ <sup>teens</sup> having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

How about a quote from her as to why she does this

It sounds like he's saying he has the power as President

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, ~~organizations~~, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

92 APR 13 P4: 44

April 13, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR DANIEL B. MCGROARTY
Special Assistant to the President and
Deputy Director of Speechwriting

FROM: JANET REHNQUIST
Associate Counsel to the President

SUBJECT: Presidential Radio Address: Points of Light;
Thursday, April 16, 1992

At your request, Counsel's Office has reviewed the above-referenced matter. We have no legal objections.

Thank you for the opportunity to review this matter.

cc: Phil Brady

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUMDATE: 4/10/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: MON. 4/13/92 4:00pmSUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please forward your comments directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, no later than 4:00 p.m., MONDAY, APRIL 13, with a copy to this office. Thank you.

RESPONSE:

*Need to hit on education choice
as theme of the week.*

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

02 APR 10 12:45

What about education?No Killar -
No message(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft TwoPRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

2

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

3

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

92 APR 14 P4:30

DATE: 4/10/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: MON. 4/13/92 4:00pm

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT

SUBJECT: THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please forward your comments directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, no later than 4:00 p.m., MONDAY, APRIL 13, with a copy to this office. Thank you.

RESPONSE: No comment

PHILLIP D. BRADY
 Assistant to the President
 and Staff Secretary
 Ext. 2702

(Hinchliffe/Nix)
April 10, 1992 1 p.m.
RADIO Draft Two

02 APR 10 P12: 45

PRESIDENTIAL RADIO ADDRESS: POINTS OF LIGHT
THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1992

Everywhere we look this time of year, we see symbols of rebirth -- winter wheat in Nebraska; spring lambs in Oregon; cherry blossoms in Washington; the joyful day of the risen Christ for Christians everywhere. And across this land, we see people working toward another kind of rebirth -- one we can and will bring about together -- the renewal of the American spirit.

I've spoken about our great legacies: peace in the world and jobs for our nation -- today I'd like us all to think about the third of these -- the role of the American family.

To solve our country's social problems, of course we need an efficient and compassionate government, and an innovative private sector. But, most of all, we need our people to respond to the problems right around them. When each American is unwilling to accept that someone on their street or in their town is homeless, jobless, friendless: that's when we will truly reawaken America.

We already have shining heroes in this quest -- I call them "Points of Light." They're Americans just like you, in towns and cities just like yours -- discovering that service to others is a rich source of meaning in life. I honor them for showing "the better angels of their nature" by volunteering to help others. They sum up the genius of this great and generous land -- ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

Day in and day out, these Americans wage our war for human life and dignity. They don't say: this is why I can't help -- they say this is why I can. They say: maybe I don't have money, but I have time. Maybe I can't help someone build a house, but I'm a good listener. We celebrate that spirit. Whoever you are, you have something to share -- for Americans are the greatest natural resource of this, the greatest nation on earth. I'm naming one of these special people today's Daily Point of Light: 11-year-old Kristin Wunderle of Parma, Ohio, who in her free time visits a nursing home to help and befriend her elderly neighbors.

I'm confident that, together, we can shape our future not through our fears -- but through our dreams. I know we will shape a nation whose strength builds from small acts of consequence made by many people. Yes, we'll continue to work for legislation to make this a safer America, a fairer America, a better educated America, a more efficient America. But the most important legacy of all is one that each person in this great country can help create -- the legacy of a more caring America.

We must ask ourselves why parts of this society -- which has the tools to be the most enlightened of human history -- instead march to the drumbeat of despair. People say the problem is crack or crime or babies having babies. Those are only symptoms. The problem is moral emptiness. If as President I had the power to give just one thing to this nation, it would be the return of an inner moral compass nurtured by the family and valued by society. This compass would guide us to value every life. It would show us that each life lost to despair devalues us all. It would remind us that caring and conscience are what make us human.

We must act against a plague which is a winter in our souls. I'm proclaiming April 26-May 2 as National Volunteer Week -- and I urge each of you to step forward that week, take this country's future in your own hands, and become a Point of Light. And I ask leaders of businesses, places of worship, schools, neighborhood groups, organizations, to call on members to claim their community's problems as their own. Together, they can create "Communities of Light" to guide this nation's path.

May we be inspired by the words St. Francis lived by nearly eight centuries ago: "Where there is hatred, let me sow love. Where there is despair, hope. And where there is darkness, ever light." May God bless you, and this wonderful nation we share.

# #