

Originally Processed With FOIA(s):

S

FOIA Number:

S

FOIA MARKER

This is not a textual record. This is used as an administrative marker by the George Bush Presidential Library Staff.

---

Record Group/Collection: George H.W. Bush Presidential Records
Collection/Office of Origin: Speechwriting, White House Office of Series: Speech File Draft Files
Subseries: Chron File, 1989-1993

---

OA/ID Number: 13617
Folder ID Number: 13617-002

---

Folder Title:
Departure Statement for Prime Minister Silva 4/22/92 [OA 6100]

---

Stack:	Row:	Section:	Shelf:	Position:
G	26	18	1	4

---

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA
SOUTH LAWN \ WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992 \ 1:15 P.M.

MR. PRIME MINISTER, THIS YEAR MY COUNTRY CELEBRATES THE IBERIAN SPIRIT OF DISCOVERY. HALF A MILLENNIUM AGO, PORTUGAL AND SPAIN HELPED CHART A COURSE TOWARDS A NEW WORLD. FIVE HUNDRED YEARS LATER, EUROPEAN UNITY GUIDES THE WAY TOWARDS A NEW WORLD ORDER. THOSE EARLY PIONEERS BELIEVED THEIR MISSION WAS TO PROBE "THE SECRETS OF THE WORLD." NOW WE MUST EXPLORE THE FRONTIERS OF COMMON INTEREST AND COMMON GROUND.

---

- 2 -

THE NEXT HORIZON: A STRENGTHENED PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY. PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA, EC PRESIDENT DELORS, AND I HAVE DISCUSSED AREAS WHERE WE MAY DEEPEN COOPERATION. PEACE EFFORTS IN THE MIDDLE EAST \ COORDINATION OF AID TO CENTRAL AND EASTERN EUROPE \ THE STRUGGLE OF THE EMERGENT C.I.S. AND INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE -- THE AGENDA OF NEXT MONTH'S EC CONFERENCE IN LISBON.

WE ALSO TALKED ABOUT YUGOSLAVIA -- WHERE TRAGICALLY, OLD HATREDS ARE OPENING NEW WOUNDS. THE U.S.-EC PARTNERSHIP IS WORKING TIRELESSLY TO CREATE CONDITIONS FOR A LASTING DEMOCRATIC PEACE. I WANT THIS CLEAR: WE WILL NOT HAVE NORMAL RELATIONS WITH THOSE WHO ARE EXPLOITING THE VIOLENCE IN BOSNIA-HERCEGOVINA TO ADVANCE THEIR OWN AMBITIONS. WE AND OUR EUROPEAN PARTNERS WILL NOT ABANDON THAT BESIEGED NEW COUNTRY.

NO TOPIC ON OUR AGENDA IS MORE CRUCIAL THAN THE URUGUAY ROUND OF TRADE NEGOTIATIONS. WE ARE COMMITTED TO ACHIEVING AN EARLY AGREEMENT -- ONE THAT WILL SPUR ECONOMIC GROWTH -- NOT JUST IN AMERICA, BUT IN EUROPE AND THE WORLD. IT WILL CREATE JOBS -- NOT JUST FOR OUR GENERATION, BUT FOR GENERATIONS TO COME. FOR AMERICANS, AGREEMENT WILL MEAN MORE THAN FREE TRADE ABROAD; IT WILL MEAN GOOD JOBS AND A BETTER STANDARD OF LIVING AT HOME.

FORTY-ONE YEARS AGO, ALMOST TO THE DAY, THE COUNTRIES OF EUROPE BEGAN THEIR QUEST FOR UNITY. OVER THE RUINS OF WAR THEY LAID A BLUEPRINT FOR PEACE, AND BEGAN BUILDING THE FOUNDATIONS FOR ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL COOPERATION. THEY SOUGHT UNITY NOT OUT OF CONVENIENCE -- BUT OUT OF CONVICTION: A VISION OF ECONOMIC INTERDEPENDENCE THAT WOULD INFLATE THE COSTS OF WAR, AND EXPAND THE DIVIDENDS OF PEACE.

THE WISDOM OF THEIR ACTIONS HAS BROUGHT US TODAY TO A NEW EUROPE -- WHERE PEACE HAS PAID OFF.

THIS NEW EUROPE HAS NOW JOINED ITS STRENGTH WITH THE UNITED STATES TO SUPPORT THE SPREAD OF POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC FREEDOM IN THE LANDS ONLY RECENTLY LIBERATED FROM SOVIET COMMUNISM. THOSE WHO WE HELPED FOUR DECADES AGO, ARE NOW ABLE TO SHOULDER A LARGER PART OF THESE NEW CHALLENGES.

JEAN MONNET, THE GRANDFATHER OF EUROPEAN UNITY, ONCE ASKED: "IF YOU ARE IN A DARK TUNNEL AND SEE A SMALL LIGHT AT THE END, SHOULD YOU TURN YOU BACK ON THAT LIGHT AND GO BACK INTO DARKNESS, OR SHOULD YOU CONTINUE WALKING TOWARD IT EVEN THOUGH YOU KNOW [IT IS FAR AWAY]?"

FIVE HUNDRED YEARS AGO, A EUROPEAN MARINER FOLLOWED THE LIGHT OF HIS IMAGINATION TO ILLUMINATE A NEW WORLD.

---

FOR ALMOST 50 YEARS, THE WEST CARRIED FREEDOM'S TORCH TO PROTECT THE FREE WORLD. TODAY, WE STAND AT THE SHORES OF A NEW WORLD ORDER -- WHERE DIVERSE NATIONS ARE DRAWN TOGETHER IN COMMON CAUSE TO ACHIEVE THE UNIVERSAL ASPIRATIONS OF MANKIND: PEACE AND SECURITY, FREEDOM AND PROSPERITY. A STRONG AND UNITED EUROPE OFFERS THE BEST HOPE FOR THIS UNITED PURPOSE, AND THE BEST ALLIANCE FOR THE UNITED STATES.

**# # #

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA
SOUTH LAWN \ WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992 \ 1:15 P.M.

MR. PRIME MINISTER, THIS YEAR MY COUNTRY CELEBRATES THE IBERIAN SPIRIT OF DISCOVERY. HALF A MILLENNIUM AGO, PORTUGAL AND SPAIN HELPED CHART A COURSE TOWARDS A NEW WORLD. FIVE HUNDRED YEARS LATER, EUROPEAN UNITY GUIDES THE WAY TOWARDS A NEW WORLD ORDER. THOSE EARLY PIONEERS BELIEVED THEIR MISSION WAS TO PROBE "THE SECRETS OF THE WORLD." NOW WE MUST EXPLORE THE FRONTIERS OF COMMON INTEREST AND COMMON GROUND.

---

- 2 -

THE NEXT HORIZON: A STRENGTHENED PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY. PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA, EC PRESIDENT DELORS, AND I HAVE DISCUSSED AREAS WHERE WE MAY DEEPEN COOPERATION. PEACE EFFORTS IN THE MIDDLE EAST \ COORDINATION OF AID TO CENTRAL AND EASTERN EUROPE \ THE STRUGGLE OF THE EMERGENT C.I.S. AND INTERNATIONAL ASSISTANCE -- THE AGENDA OF NEXT MONTH'S EC CONFERENCE IN LISBON.

WE ALSO TALKED ABOUT YUGOSLAVIA -- WHERE TRAGICALLY, OLD HATREDS ARE OPENING NEW WOUNDS. THE U.S.-EC PARTNERSHIP IS WORKING TIRELESSLY TO CREATE CONDITIONS FOR A LASTING DEMOCRATIC PEACE. I WANT THIS CLEAR: WE WILL NOT HAVE NORMAL RELATIONS WITH THOSE WHO ARE EXPLOITING THE VIOLENCE IN BOSNIA-HERCEGOVINA TO ADVANCE THEIR OWN AMBITIONS. WE AND OUR EUROPEAN PARTNERS WILL NOT ABANDON THAT BESIEGED NEW COUNTRY.

NO TOPIC ON OUR AGENDA IS MORE CRUCIAL THAN THE URUGUAY ROUND OF TRADE NEGOTIATIONS. WE ARE COMMITTED TO ACHIEVING AN EARLY AGREEMENT -- ONE THAT WILL SPUR ECONOMIC GROWTH -- NOT JUST IN AMERICA, BUT IN EUROPE AND THE WORLD. IT WILL CREATE JOBS -- NOT JUST FOR OUR GENERATION, BUT FOR GENERATIONS TO COME. FOR AMERICANS, AGREEMENT WILL MEAN MORE THAN FREE TRADE ABROAD; IT WILL MEAN GOOD JOBS AND A BETTER STANDARD OF LIVING AT HOME.

FORTY-ONE YEARS AGO, ALMOST TO THE DAY, THE COUNTRIES OF EUROPE BEGAN THEIR QUEST FOR UNITY. OVER THE RUINS OF WAR THEY LAID A BLUEPRINT FOR PEACE, AND BEGAN BUILDING THE FOUNDATIONS FOR ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL COOPERATION. THEY SOUGHT UNITY NOT OUT OF CONVENIENCE -- BUT OUT OF CONVICTION: A VISION OF ECONOMIC INTERDEPENDENCE THAT WOULD INFLATE THE COSTS OF WAR, AND EXPAND THE DIVIDENDS OF PEACE.

THE WISDOM OF THEIR ACTIONS HAS BROUGHT US TODAY TO A NEW EUROPE -- WHERE PEACE HAS PAID OFF.

THIS NEW EUROPE HAS NOW JOINED ITS STRENGTH WITH THE UNITED STATES TO SUPPORT THE SPREAD OF POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC FREEDOM IN THE LANDS ONLY RECENTLY LIBERATED FROM SOVIET COMMUNISM. THOSE WHO WE HELPED FOUR DECADES AGO, ARE NOW ABLE TO SHOULDER A LARGER PART OF THESE NEW CHALLENGES.

---

JEAN MONNET, THE GRANDFATHER OF EUROPEAN UNITY, ONCE ASKED: "IF YOU ARE IN A DARK TUNNEL AND SEE A SMALL LIGHT AT THE END, SHOULD YOU TURN YOU BACK ON THAT LIGHT AND GO BACK INTO DARKNESS, OR SHOULD YOU CONTINUE WALKING TOWARD IT EVEN THOUGH YOU KNOW [IT IS FAR AWAY]?"

FIVE HUNDRED YEARS AGO, A EUROPEAN MARINER FOLLOWED THE LIGHT OF HIS IMAGINATION TO ILLUMINATE A NEW WORLD.

---

FOR ALMOST 50 YEARS, THE WEST CARRIED FREEDOM'S TORCH TO PROTECT THE FREE WORLD. TODAY, WE STAND AT THE SHORES OF A NEW WORLD ORDER -- WHERE DIVERSE NATIONS ARE DRAWN TOGETHER IN COMMON CAUSE TO ACHIEVE THE UNIVERSAL ASPIRATIONS OF MANKIND: PEACE AND SECURITY, FREEDOM AND PROSPERITY. A STRONG AND UNITED EUROPE OFFERS THE BEST HOPE FOR THIS UNITED PURPOSE, AND THE BEST ALLIANCE FOR THE UNITED STATES.

**# # #

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 20, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT
THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST DD
FROM: JENNIFER GROSSMAN JMG
SUBJECT: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO
SILVA

On Wednesday, April 22, at 1:15 p.m., you will deliver the departure statement (6 minutes/cards) for Portuguese Prime Minister and European Council President Cavaco Silva. Your remarks touch on the topics of your meeting with Prime Minister Cavaco Silva and EC President Delors -- stressing the importance of successful cloture for the Uruguay Round.

(Grossman)
April 20, 1992
Draft Two
EURO

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992
1:15 p.m.

Mr. Prime Minister, this year my country celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain helped chart a course towards a new world. Five hundred years later, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Those early pioneers believed their mission was to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao coracao" [fa LAR - ow - coo rah SOW], or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community. Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, EC President Delors, and I have discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Eastern Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. Prime Minister, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come. For Americans, agreement will mean more than free trade abroad; it will mean good jobs and a better standard of living at home.

Today, Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, President Delors and I have talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations]. I want to make it very clear that this administration is committed to bringing that trade round to a successful conclusion -- the sooner the better. I want an agreement that's good for our workers, our economy, our country. I can accept nothing less, and we're going to stay vigorously engaged to make it happen.

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought us today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

THE PRESIDENT HAS SEEN

4/22/92

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

02 APR 20 P3:10

April 20, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT
THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST
FROM: JENNIFER GROSSMAN
SUBJECT: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA

On Wednesday, April 22, at 1:15 p.m., you will deliver the departure statement (6 minutes/cards) for Portuguese Prime Minister and European Council President Cavaco Silva. Your remarks touch on the topics of your meeting with Prime Minister Cavaco Silva and EC President Delors -- stressing the importance of successful cloture for the Uruguay Round.

*Dave
Too long especially
If we add that section on p. 2 para 2
Tighten last page please
I tried to tighten up front end
a little*

(Grossman)
April 20, 1992
Draft Two
EURO

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992
1:15 p.m.

Mr. Prime Minister, this year my country celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain helped chart a course towards a new world. Five hundred years later, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Those early pioneers believed their mission was to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, ~~of "falar do coracao"~~ [fa IAR - ow - soo rah SOH], or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community. Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, EC President Delors, and I have discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Eastern Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. Prime Minister, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. ~~That's why~~ <sup>C</sup>conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come. For Americans, agreement will mean more than free trade abroad; it will mean good jobs and a better standard of living at home.

Today, Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, President Delors and I have talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations]. I want to make it very clear ~~that this~~ administration is committed to bringing that trade round to a successful conclusion -- the sooner the better. I want an agreement that's good for our workers, our economy, our country. I can accept nothing less, and we're going to stay vigorously engaged to make it happen.

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought us today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 20, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT
THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST DD
FROM: JENNIFER GROSSMAN JAG
SUBJECT: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO
SILVA

On Wednesday, April 22, at 1:15 p.m., you will deliver the departure statement (6 minutes/cards) for Portuguese Prime Minister and European Council President Cavaco Silva. Your remarks touch on the topics of your meeting with Prime Minister Cavaco Silva and EC President Delors -- stressing the importance of successful cloture for the Uruguay Round.

(Grossman)
April 20, 1992
Draft Two
EURO

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992
1:15 p.m.

Mr. Prime Minister, this year my country celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain helped chart a course towards a new world. Five hundred years later, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Those early pioneers believed their mission was to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao coracao" [fa LAR - ow - coo rah SOW], or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community. Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, EC President Delors, and I have discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Eastern Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. Prime Minister, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come. For Americans, agreement will mean more than free trade abroad; it will mean good jobs and a better standard of living at home.

Today, Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, President Delors and I have talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations]. I want to make it very clear that this administration is committed to bringing that trade round to a successful conclusion -- the sooner the better. I want an agreement that's good for our workers, our economy, our country. I can accept nothing less, and we're going to stay vigorously engaged to make it happen.

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought us today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 4/20/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: ---

SUBJECT: PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER SILVA WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FIRESTONE			MCGROARTY

REMARKS:

The attached has been forwarded to the President.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
 Assistant to the President
 and Staff Secretary
 Ext. 2702

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

April 20, 1992

02 APR 20 P 3: 09

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST DD

FROM: JENNIFER GROSSMAN JMG

SUBJECT: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO
SILVA

On Wednesday, April 22, at 1:15 p.m., you will deliver the departure statement (6 minutes/cards) for Portuguese Prime Minister and European Council President Cavaco Silva. Your remarks touch on the topics of your meeting with Prime Minister Cavaco Silva and EC President Delors -- stressing the importance of successful cloture for the Uruguay Round.

(Grossman)
April 20, 1992
Draft Two
EURO

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992
1:15 p.m.

Mr. Prime Minister, this year my country celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain helped chart a course towards a new world. Five hundred years later, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Those early pioneers believed their mission was to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao coracao" [fa LAR - ow - coo rah SOW], or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community. Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, EC President Delors, and I have discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Eastern Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. Prime Minister, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come. For Americans, agreement will mean more than free trade abroad; it will mean good jobs and a better standard of living at home.

Today, Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, President Delors and I have talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations]. I want to make it very clear that this administration is committed to bringing that trade round to a successful conclusion -- the sooner the better. I want an agreement that's good for our workers, our economy, our country. I can accept nothing less, and we're going to stay vigorously engaged to make it happen.

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought us today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

DATE: 4/20/92 ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: ---

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER SILVA
SUBJECT: WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
FIRESTONE		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCGROARTY		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

The attached has been forwarded to the President.

BS; JTH; WFS; KJH; EAW; DCG; RP; EXS

RESPONSE:

Tony Wayne

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 20, 1992

2 APR 20 P3:09

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT
THROUGH: DAVID DEMAREST DD
FROM: JENNIFER GROSSMAN JMG
SUBJECT: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO
SILVA

On Wednesday, April 22, at 1:15 p.m., you will deliver the departure statement (6 minutes/cards) for Portuguese Prime Minister and European Council President Cavaco Silva. Your remarks touch on the topics of your meeting with Prime Minister Cavaco Silva and EC President Delors -- stressing the importance of successful cloture for the Uruguay Round.

(Grossman)
April 20, 1992
Draft Two
EURO

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992
1:15 p.m.

Mr. Prime Minister, this year my country celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain helped chart a course towards a new world. Five hundred years later, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Those early pioneers believed their mission was to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

~~Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao coracao" [fa LAR - ow - coo rah SOW], or "speak from the heart."~~

The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community. Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, EC President Delors, and I have discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Eastern Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The ~~U.S.~~ <sup>U.S.-EC partnership</sup> has spared no effort to ~~quell hostilities and negotiate peace.~~ <sup>create conditions for a lasting democratic</sup> Together we are working

Let no one misunderstand us: we will not have normal relations with those who are fueling and exploiting the violence in Bosnia-Herzegovina to further their own ambitions. [We and our European partners will not abandon that besieged new country.]

No topic on our agenda is more crucial than the Uruguay Round of trade negotiations. We are committed to achieve an early

2

~~to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.~~

~~And as a professor of economics, Mr. Prime Minister, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial.~~ Agreement will <sup>a</sup> spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come. For Americans, agreement will mean more than free trade abroad; it will mean ~~good~~ <sup>a</sup> jobs and a better standard of living at home. <sup>which</sup> a more fair and open trading system a better chance for America to compete. This will lead to more

~~Today, Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, President Delors and I have talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations]. I want to make it very clear that this administration is committed to bringing that trade round to a successful conclusion -- the sooner the better.~~ I want an agreement that's good for our workers, our economy, our country. I can accept nothing less, and we're going to stay vigorously engaged to make it happen.

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic

Now, that Europe is joining the United States in the historic effort to support the spread of political and economic freedom in the lands only recently liberated from Soviet Communism. Those who we helped four decades ago are not able to shoulder a large part of the new challenge.

3

interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought us today to a new Europe, ~~whole and free.~~

~~[Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.]~~

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

92 APR 21 AM: 39

April 20, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR DAN MCGROARTY

FROM:

STEPHEN G. RADEMAKER SR
ASSOCIATE COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT:

Presidential Remarks: Departure Statement for
President of the European Council Silva

Pursuant to Phillip Brady's request, Counsel's Office has reviewed the above-referenced matter. We have no objection to the draft presidential remarks.

cc: Phillip D. Brady

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: _____ SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
away DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	not here ROGICH n/c	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
No comment CALIO n/c	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	No comment ROLLINS n/c	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
X DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH n/c	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY being sent n/c	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY No comment	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			BOSKIN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

1:15 PM

no more
Today is CS

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. ~~Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world."~~ So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Wayne
Kind of Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, <sup>PM Cavaco Silva, EC President + DeLors, + d have</sup> and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and <sup>Eastern</sup> Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's <sup>and-coordinating</sup> EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

✓ Wayne
✓ DMC 9 →
not Boskin

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

✓ And as a professor of economics, <sup>the PM</sup> Mr. President, <sup>Wayne</sup> you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

✓ Today, <sup>the PM, Cavaco Silva, Pres Delors & C</sup> we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today ~~to~~ a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Wayne
mostly, mainly
I want to make clear that I am dedicated to bringing the trade round to a successful conclusion as soon as possible. We will stay engaged vigorously to achieve that end. That means signing an agreement that is good for America. I will not accept anything else.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

April 20, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR DAN MCGROARTY

FROM: ROGER B. PORTER RBP

SUBJECT: Presidential Remarks: Departure Statement for President Silva

We have reviewed the attached remarks and have noted a few suggested changes on the draft.

Please let us know if you have any questions or if we may help in any other way.

cc: Phillip D. Brady

92 APR 20 PM 3:31

JMH
- am

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE

BOSKIN

MCGROARTY

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." ~~So~~ <sup>I</sup> now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old <sup>TENSIONS</sup> ~~hatreds~~ are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20506

92 APR 20 P3:56

OFFICE OF THE LEGAL ADVISER

FAX TRANSMITTAL COVER SHEET

DATE:
April 20, 1992
TO:	FROM:
Dan McGroarty	Stephen Rademaker
PHONE NO.:	PHONE NO.:
x2930	x5026
FAX NO.:	FAX NO.:
x6218	x1039
COMMENTS:
NUMBER OF PAGES (including cover page) : 2

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 20, 1992

MEMORANDUM FOR DAN MCGROARTY

FROM: STEPHEN G. RADEMAKER SR
ASSOCIATE COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Presidential Remarks: Departure Statement for
President of the European Council Silva

Pursuant to Phillip Brady's request, Counsel's Office has reviewed the above-referenced matter. We have no objection to the draft presidential remarks.

cc: Phillip D. Brady

Draft w/
NSC comments.

Jennifer received comments last week.

return to Dan

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, half a millennium ago, a Portuguese envoy left Europe in search of a new world. Today, another Portuguese pioneer leads Europe, recharting the map of a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today we strove to follow the Portuguese wisdom, and "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing the economic revival we see rekindling worldwide. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: an ambition to weave a web of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But we cannot return to an past that never was, and fear will not lead us to the future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a Portuguese mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

POINTS TO BE MADE FOR MEETING WITH EC LEADERS

DEPARTURE STATEMENT

- The United States is committed to strengthening our relationship with the European Community.
  - These twice annual Presidential consultations are evidence of our shared responsibility to promote the causes of peace, respect for human rights, democracy, and economic prosperity in the post Cold War world.
  - The global partnership between the European Community and the United States was strengthened today.
  - We spent a good deal of time working on the Uruguay Trade Round. I think we agree that failure of the Uruguay Round would be a disaster for the global trading system on which we all depend.
  - We know we owe it to our own people and to the rest of the world to resolve our differences. The United States and the European have to opportunity here to demonstrate world leadership and to bring new property to our peoples. PUT X BEFORE Y
  - (Note: Next sentence will vary depending on the outcome.)
  - I am glad to report that we now have the outlines of an agreement on two of the key issues involving agriculture in the world, although some details remain to be worked out.
- or
- Despite our intensive efforts today, we were not able to make any breakthroughs on key Round issues. We will continue to work at the problem areas. I am fully committed to concluding the Round successfully as soon as possible.

Continued Points

-- Last December, the EC signed a treaty at Maastricht in the Netherlands which will increase the integration of its member states. I welcomed these important new steps because I firmly believe that a united, outward looking Europe is in the interest of the United States. United we stand

-- Today we talked about the areas where we are cooperating around the world. We discussed our coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe. We talked the situation in the Soviet Union and the international aid effort. We naturally gave special attention to the conference which the EC will be hosting in Lisbon next month to coordinate assistance to the former Soviet Union, which follows our own January conference here in Washington.

-- We talked about Yugoslavia, where the EC is working intensively to negotiate a peace settlement, and where we both are endeavoring to ensure a peaceful transition to independence and democracy for the newly independent republics there. Finally we discussed the Mideast Peace talks where the EC is an important partner in peace efforts.

-- Our meeting helped advance our joint goals of peace, democracy, and well-being in these areas.

-- Our most important task lies ahead -- bringing finding agreement on the Uruguay Round. That will give an enormous boost to jobs and incomes in here, in Europe and around the world.

FREE TRADE

6218

Document No. 322641SS

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE
			BOSKIN
			MCGROARTY

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

All comments left Doing to Paul

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

12 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

This speech needs more on the way of linkage of international negotiations.

Speech of 4/20/92 for [unclear]

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

jobs + improved standards for all Americas

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

* * *

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

92 APR 20 P2:16

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: _____ SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			BOSKIN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

Speech will be good only if announcements (bracketed sections) are good.

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 10:57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- ~~dousing~~ any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

→ ONLY GOOD IF PRACKETED ANNOUNCEMENT IS GOOD

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: _____ SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			BOSKIN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

No comment

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

TIME STAMP

NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL
EXECUTIVE SECRETARIAT STAFFING DOCUMENT

SYSTEM LOG NUMBER: 2944

ACTION OFFICER: Wayne DUE: 20 April 10:00AM

- Prepare Memo For Scowcroft/Howe
- Prepare Memo For Brady
- Prepare Memo Scowcroft to McGroarty

- Appropriate Action
- Prepare Memo For Sittmann

CONCURRENCES/COMMENTS*

PHONE* to action officer at ext. _____

Concur	FYI	Andricos	Concur	FYI	Hutchings	Concur	FYI	Popadiuk
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Barth	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Jones	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Pryce
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Beers	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Kansteiner	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Rademaker
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Burns	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Lampley	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Riedel
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Canas	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Lowenkron	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Rostow
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Carney	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	McNamara	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Stettner
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Chellis	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	McShane	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Tilley
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Davis	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Meiby M.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Tobey
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Deal	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Menan	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Van Eron
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Dyke	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Morley	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Waguespack
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Fry	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Needles	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Wayne
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Gordon	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	O'Leary	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Whitley
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Gompert	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Paal	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Working
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Haass	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Patterson	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Holl	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Pavitt	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Hewett	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Pilling	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Hull	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Poneman	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	_____

INFORMATION  Sittmann  Hill  Exec Sec Desk

Scowcroft (advance)  Howe (advance)  Secretariat

COMMENTS

Logged By Wayne

Return to Secretariat
379 OEOP

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 2

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: _____ SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER-	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE
			BOSKIN
			MCGROARTY

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

Good statement. Please see NSC changes on text.

EAW for Brent Scowcroft

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

2 APR 17 AID: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order.

at mention Columbus [ Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." ] Our task today is to ~~So now must we~~ explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

sets day Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, Prime Minister Caracao Silva, EC President Delors and I ~~and we~~ discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Eastern Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

the Prime Minister

And as a professor of economics, ~~Mr. President,~~ you know S that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come. the Prime Minister, _____ President

Today, ~~we've~~ talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. Delors
I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing and any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

I want to make clear that I am dedicated to bringing the trade round to a successful conclusion as soon as possible. We will stay engaged vigorously to achieve that end. That means assuring an agreement that is good for America. I will not accept anything else.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: _____ SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			BOSKIN		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

April 20, 1992

Good statement. Please see NSC changes on text.

Brent Scowcroft
Brent Scowcroft

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 AID: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world.

Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order.

don't mention Columbus { ~~Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world."~~ } Our task today is to ~~so now must we~~ explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Needs get Policy in early Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, EC President Delors and I ~~and we~~ discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

the Prime Minister

And as a professor of economics, ~~Mr. President,~~ <sup>you</sup> know <sup>S</sup> that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

the Prime Minister, _____ President Delors and J

Today, ~~we've~~ talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

I want to make clear that I am dedicated to bringing the trade round to a successful conclusion as soon as possible. We will stay engaged vigorously to achieve that end. That means assuring an agreement that is good for America. [I will not accept anything else.]

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: _____ SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			BOSKIN		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

as is SR
by L. Mucken

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

02 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: _____ SOUTH LAWN
 WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			BOSKIN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

2 changes page 1
CLM.

PHILLIP D. BRADY
 Assistant to the President
 and Staff Secretary
 Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and <sup>Eastern</sup> ~~Western~~ Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's <sup>Aid-Coordinating</sup> ~~EC~~ conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

7 It is not an EC Conference.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

WHITE HOUSE STAFFING MEMORANDUM

92 APR 20 A 7:38
4/17/92

10:00AM, MON., APR. 20

DATE: _____ ACTION/CONCURRENCE/COMMENT DUE BY: _____

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA

SUBJECT: SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

	ACTION	FYI		ACTION	FYI
VICE PRESIDENT	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	HORNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SKINNER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	MCBRIDE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
SCOWCROFT	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	MOORE	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
DARMAN	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	PETERSMEYER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BRADY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	PORTER	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
BROMLEY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROGICH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
CALIO	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	ROLLINS	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
DEMAREST	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	SMITH	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
FITZWATER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	YEUTTER	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
GRAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	FINDLAY	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
HOLIDAY	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	KAUFMAN	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			FIRESTONE		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			BOSKIN		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
			MCGROARTY		<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

REMARKS:

Please provide comments on the attached directly to Dan McGroarty, Rm. 122, x2930, with a copy to this office NO LATER THAN 10:00AM, MONDAY, APRIL 20.

Thank you.

RESPONSE:

No Comment Maria Sheehan for DS.

PHILLIP D. BRADY
Assistant to the President
and Staff Secretary
Ext. 2702

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

OK to staff

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millenium ago, ~~an Iberian envoy~~ <sup>in</sup> charted a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must ~~we~~ explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those

Today, ~~we strove~~ <sup>ed</sup> to follow the Portuguese wisdom, and "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the ~~preachings~~ <sup>and open</sup> of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing ~~any hope~~ <sup>of worldwide</sup> the economic revival. ~~we see rekindling worldwide.~~ [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of ~~Western~~ Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of ~~convenience~~ -- but out of ~~conviction: an ambition to weave~~ <sup>vision</sup> a web of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. <sup>The wisdom of their actions has brought us today to</sup>

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far <sup>a new</sup> toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, <sup>Europe,</sup> faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the <sup>whole and</sup> hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But ~~we cannot return to an~~ <sup>never</sup> ~~past that never was,~~ and fear will ~~not~~ <sup>free people</sup> lead us to ~~the future.~~ <sup>a prosperous</sup>

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked:
"If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn your back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

(Grossman)
April 15, 1992
Draft One
EURO

22 APR 17 AIO: 57

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS:

DEPARTURE STATEMENT FOR PRESIDENT
OF THE EUROPEAN COUNCIL SILVA
SOUTH LAWN
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1992

Mr. President, today America celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain were in the vanguard of those charting a course towards a new world. Today, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Columbus believed that his mission was, as he put it, to probe "the secrets of the world." So now must we explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

Today, we followed the Portuguese wisdom, of "falar ao caracao," or "speak from the heart." The United States is dedicated to reinforcing our relationship with the European Community, and we've discussed areas where we may deepen that cooperation. Peace efforts in the Middle East \ coordination of aid to Central and Western Europe \ the struggle of the emergent C.I.S. and international assistance -- particularly the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon towards that end.

We also talked about Yugoslavia -- where tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The EC has spared no effort to quell hostilities and negotiate peace. Together we are working to help shepherd the region's newly independent republics toward the promise of democracy and peace.

And as a professor of economics, Mr. President, you know that the preachings of free peoples must be joined with the practice of free and open trade. That's why conclusive agreement on the Uruguay Round is so crucial. Agreement will spur economic growth -- not just in America, but in Europe and the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

Today, we've talked long and hard about the Uruguay Round. I think we agree that its failure would be disastrous -- dousing any hope of worldwide economic revival. [Announcement on results of negotiations].

Forty-one years ago, almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace, and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience -- but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war, and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought today to a new Europe, whole and free.

Europe -- indeed, much of the world -- has traveled far toward this founding vision. Today, the world is smaller, faster, freer. More and more, aggression serves only to bite the hand that feeds, or clothes, or carries goods. Yes, there are the voices, at home and abroad, who urge a retreat to the shuttered world of protectionism. There have always been such voices, perhaps there will always be. But fear will never lead free people to a prosperous future.

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn you back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know [it is far away]?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a New World. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the Free World. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

# #

THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary

For Immediate Release

April 22, 1992

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT,
PORTUGUESE PRIME MINISTER CAVACO SILVA
UPON DEPARTURE

The South Lawn

1:33 P.M. EDT

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Prime Minister, this year my country celebrates the Iberian spirit of discovery. Half a millennium ago, Portugal and Spain helped chart a course towards a new world. Five hundred years later, European unity guides the way towards a new world order. Those early pioneers believed their mission was to probe the secrets of the world. Now we must explore the frontiers of common interest and common ground.

The next horizon: a strengthened partnership between the United States and the European Community. Prime Minister Cavaco Silva, EC President Delors and I and our top officials have discussed areas where we may deepen cooperation: Peace efforts in the Middle East, coordination of aid to Central and Eastern Europe, the struggle of the emergent CIS and international assistance -- the agenda of next month's EC conference in Lisbon.

We also talked about Yugoslavia, where, tragically, old hatreds are opening new wounds. The U.S.-EC partnership is working tirelessly to create conditions for a lasting democratic peace.

No topic on our agenda is more crucial than the Uruguay Round of trade negotiations. We are committed to achieving an early agreement -- one that will spur economic growth, not just in America, but in Europe and all around the world. It will create jobs -- not just for our generation, but for generations to come. For Americans, agreement will mean more than free trade abroad; it will mean for Americans good jobs here at home and a better standard of living at home.

We had an extensive exchange of views on the outstanding issues and some new ideas on how to conclude this Uruguay Round were advanced by both sides. We are convinced, absolutely convinced that the EC leaders are committed to an early agreement. And I hope they know that I am committed to such an early conclusion. We agreed to continue this process. We had some serious discussions, and the process will go on.

Forty-one years ago almost to the day, the countries of Europe began their quest for unity. Over the ruins of war they laid a blueprint for peace and began building the foundations for economic and political cooperation. They sought unity not out of convenience, but out of conviction: a vision of economic interdependence that would inflate the costs of war and expand the dividends of peace. The wisdom of their actions has brought us today to a new Europe -- where peace has paid off.

Now, this new Europe has now joined its strength with the United States to support the spread of political and economic freedom in the lands only recently liberated from Soviet communism. Those who helped four decades ago are now able to shoulder -- those that we helped four decades ago are now able to shoulder a larger part of these new challenges.

MORE

Jean Monnet, the grandfather of European unity, once asked: "If you are in a dark tunnel and see a small light at the end, should you turn your back on that light and go back into darkness, or should you continue walking toward it even though you know it's far away?"

Five hundred years ago, a European mariner followed the light of his imagination to illuminate a new world. For almost 50 years, the West carried freedom's torch to protect the free world. Today, we stand at the shores of a new world order -- where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom and prosperity. A strong and united Europe offers the best hope for this united purpose, and the best alliance for the United States.

I salute our two distinguished guests today, and now would like to ask Prime Minister Cavaco Silva to say a word.

PRIME MINISTER SILVA: Thank you, Mr. President.

It was extremely gratifying for President Delors and myself to have the opportunity to meet with President Bush. It was a meeting among friends that we found very constructive and fruitful. In November '90 in the declaration on the United States and the European Community relations, we defined the guidelines on which our future cooperation should be based. We are glad to conclude today that our cooperation has been both substantial and effective. We very much value our partnership with the United States. We believe that the continued presence and involvement of the United States in Europe is fundamental to maintain peace and stability in our continent.

Human rights, democratic values and free market economy are the foundations of our Euro-Atlantic partnership. In the past, we have come together to defend them. Now we see these ideals gaining ground everywhere. It's of the most fundamental importance that we join our efforts to ensure that these gains will be durable.

Our cooperation and leadership are also crucial to ensure sustained economic goals worldwide. We have reaffirmed our commitment to the multilateral trade system. We are determined to bring the Uruguay Round to a positive conclusion.

We discussed also the situation in the Commonwealth of Independent States and the preparation of the coming Lisbon conference on coordination of aid to the region. We believe it is fundamental that we continue working together to bring stability to the region, thus creating conditions for the consolidation of democracy and the market economy.

We talked about the present situation in Yugoslavia and the prospects for peace there. Coordination between Europe and the United States has been, and will be, of the utmost importance to help reach a negotiated settlement.

We reviewed the situation in the Middle East and the prospects for the region within the framework of the current peace process. The Community is deeply committed to the peace process. The European Community and the United States share the same outlook on this issue, and we are well aware of the fact that there is no viable alternative to the present peace talks.

We also reviewed the situation in the Magreb. The threat posed by the spread of fundamentalism in that region is a matter of concern for us. We believe that promotion of economic development and free markets and a respect of human rights are the best means to deal with this problem.

We agreed that respect for international law and the rejection of terrorism are also essential, particularly where it concerns Libya.

This was the first meeting between the European Community and the United States since the decisions of last week, which are now in the process of ratification in the 12 EC member states. We are convinced that the establishment of a new European union will create possibilities for further enlargement of the scope of fellow cooperation.

We discussed new ideas where we could work together. We will be exploring these opportunities in the months ahead.

Thank you, Mr. President.

THE PRESIDENT: Thank you very much. Glad to have you here.

END

1:42 P.M. EDT