WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 1992
1:45 P.M.

THANK YOU FOR THAT WARM WELCOME. THANK YOU BOB FOR THOSE KIND WORDS. I'D LIKE TO SAY HELLO TO CATHY BLACK
-- A.N.P.A. CEO AND PRESIDENT. AND I'D LIKE TO CONGRATULATE YOUR INCOMING CHAIRMAN -- FRANK BENNACK, WHO TAKES THE GAVEL FOR THE A.N.P.A. AND THE NEW N.A.A.
IT'S GOOD TO BE HERE WITH ALL OF YOU AGAIN -- THIS TIME VIA SATELLITE.

BEFORE I TAKE YOUR QUESTIONS, LET ME GIVE YOU A BRIEF UPDATE ON EVENTS IN LOS ANGELES. AS I THINK BACK
TODAY TO WHEN I SPOKE WITH THE AMERICAN PEOPLE LAST FRIDAY EVENING, I THINK OF THE OATH I TOOK AS PRESIDENT
-- THE CONSTITUTION'S CHARGE TO "ENSURE DOMESTIC TRANQUILITY." THIS I KNOW: WE CAN NEVER CONDONE VIOLENCE -- BECAUSE WITHOUT PEACE, THERE CAN BE NO HOPE. //

ALL OF US ARE GRATEFUL THAT OUR ACTIONS HAVE BROUGHT CALM TO LOS ANGELES. KIDS ARE BACK IN SCHOOL; CITY BUSES ARE RUNNING; THE CURFEW IS LIFTED. AFTER LAST WEEK'S SHOCK AND SPECTACLE, WE TAKE HEART AT THE WILL-POWER OF THE PEOPLE OF LOS ANGELES -- WHO HAVE JOINED HANDS AND HEARTS TO MEND THEIR COMMUNITY.

LET ME FOCUS FOR A MOMENT ON WHAT WE'RE DOING AT THE FEDERAL LEVEL TO HELP IN THE REBUILDING. THROUGH MY PRESIDENTIAL DISASTER DECLARATION, THE FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY -- FEMA -- WILL MAKE ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE TO INDIVIDUALS, FAMILIES, AND THE CITY AND COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES. A PRELIMINARY ESTIMATE OF THIS ASSISTANCE IS APPROXIMATELY $300 MILLION.

WE WILL MAKE GRANTS DIRECTLY TO PEOPLE HIT HARDEST BY THE VIOLENCE -- PERSONAL GRANTS UP TO $11,500 TO MEET URGENT NEEDS LIKE FOOD, CLOTHING AND MEDICINE. OUR GRANTS WILL ALSO HELP WITH TEMPORARY HOUSING -- MONEY TO PROVIDE SHELTER -- FOR UP TO 18 MONTHS -- FOR FAMILIES WHO HAVE LOST THEIR HOMES, OR MONEY FOR REPAIRS TO MINIMALLY DAMAGED HOMES. WE'RE ALSO HELPING WITH CRISIS COUNSELING AND DISASTER UNEMPLOYMENT ASSISTANCE FOR THOSE WHO ARE NOW WITHOUT JOBS AS A RESULT OF THE DISASTER.

A DISASTER FIELD OFFICE IS ALREADY UP AND RUNNING IN LOS ANGELES, AND FEMA'S 800 ASSISTANCE NUMBER IS READY TO RECEIVE CALLS IN ENGLISH, SPANISH, CHINESE, THAI, KOREAN AND LAOTIAN.

IN ADDITION, FEMA WILL ASSIST STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS -- TO REPAIR AND RESTORE PUBLIC UTILITIES LIKE WATER AND ELECTRICITY -- ESSENTIAL TO EVERY DAY LIFE.

BEYOND THESE EMERGENCY GRANTS WE WILL PROVIDE LOW-INTEREST SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION DISASTER LOANS -- UP TO $500,000 FOR BUSINESS LOSSES THAT EXCEED INSURANCE COVERAGE, AND UP TO $100,000 TO HOMEOWNERS AND RENTERS FOR DAMAGE NOT COVERED BY INSURANCE. PRELIMINARY ESTIMATES INDICATE THAT ROUGHLY $300 MILLION IN LOANS WILL BE MADE IN THE LOS ANGELES AREA.

FINALLY, THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE HAS ARRANGED FOR DELIVERY OF OVER 2,000 CASES OF RICE CEREAL; OVER 2,000 CASES OF INFANT FORMULA; NEARLY 250 CASES OF NON-FAT DRY MILK -- AND CONTINUES TO ASSESS EMERGENCY FOOD NEEDS IN THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES.

ALL TOLD, FEDERAL AID TO SPEED THE RECOVERY PROCESS IN LOS ANGELES IS ESTIMATED AT APPROXIMATELY $600 MILLION.

TONIGHT I'LL TRAVEL TO CALIFORNIA -- TO GET A FIRST-HAND LOOK AT THE SITUATION IN LOS ANGELES. I'LL BE MEETING WITH MEMBERS OF THE COMMUNITY -- TO DISCUSS HOW WE CAN CONTINUE THE WORK OF BUILDING A FUTURE OF HOPE, UNDERSTANDING AND TOLERANCE -- A FUTURE WHERE THERE'S NO ROOM FOR HATRED. THAT'S A STORY I KNOW EVERYONE OF US WANTS TO SEE IN PRINT.

LET ME SAY THIS ABOUT THE DESIRE ALL AMERICANS SHARE, TO SEE THAT WHAT HAPPENED IN LOS ANGELES NEVER HAPPENS AGAIN. WE ALL WANT TO SOLVE THE PROBLEMS. BUT THIS IS NO TIME TO PLAY THE BLAME GAME. IT'S TIME FOR HONEST TALK -- NOT SIMPLE SLOGANS ABOUT "12 YEARS OF NEGLIGENCE." THE FACT IS, IN THE PAST DECADE, SPENDING IS UP, THE NUMBER OF PROGRAMS ARE UP -- AND YET THAT HASN'T SOLVED MANY OF THE FUNDAMENTAL PROBLEMS THAT PLAGUE OUR CITIES.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: DAVID F. DEMAREST DD
FROM: JEANNIE BUNTON JB
SUBJECT: PROPOSED REMARKS FOR TELECONFERENCE WITH THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

I. SUMMARY

On Wednesday, May 6 at 1:45 p.m. via satellite, you will deliver remarks to an audience of 800 members of the American Newspaper Publishers Association at their 106th Convention in New York City.

II. DISCUSSION

Your remarks, (approximately 6 minutes / teleprompter), mention the recovery underway in Los Angeles, and focus on the role trade is playing in our national economy.

Please note: your introduction refers to SBS6, the name of the satellite which will transmit your signal. NAA refers to the Newspaper Association of America, ANPA's new name as of June 1. The bracketed language on Los Angeles will be updated as we get closer to the broadcast.

Presidential Remarks: ANPA Teleconference
Wednesday, May 6, 1992
1:45 P.M.

Thank you for that warm welcome. Thank you Bob [Robert Erburu, A.N.P.A. Chairman] for those kind words. Happy anniversary to Cathy Black -- A.N.P.A. CEO and President -- for finishing up your first year. I'd like to congratulate your incoming chairman -- Frank Bennack [BAN-ACK] who takes the gavel soon for the A.N.P.A. and the new N.A.A. It's good to be here with all of you again -- this time via SBS6.

[Let me begin with a brief update on events in Los Angeles. All of us are grateful that calm has replaced chaos. Tomorrow I'll be out on the west coast -- getting a first-hand look at the situation in Los Angeles. I'll be listening to members of the community -- for ideas on how we'll begin the work of building a future of hope, understanding and tolerance -- a future where there's no room for hatred.

After last week's shock and spectacle, we take heart at the sheer will-power of the people of Los Angeles -- who have joined hands and hearts to mend their community. That's a story I know everyone of us wants to see.]

Through our newspapers we talk to one another here -- even in other hemispheres. Henry Luce became a journalist "to come as close as possible to the heart of the world." Your Chronicles, Ledgers, and Gazettes bring the world to our doorstep -- some everyday. The more we read about events across the globe, the less foreign the international page becomes.

Our world has changed dramatically since I spoke to you three years ago. Think of the front page stories in the past year alone: The return of Terry Anderson and our Hostages. The death of Imperial Communism. The birth of eighteen new nations.

In my time as President, I have made it my mission to preserve and protect three legacies close to our all our hearts: A world at peace. A nation of strong families -- sturdy values of character. An economy with good jobs -- real opportunity for all Americans.

There is good news on the economic front for instance, right here in your own industry there are signs of recovery. But, the story is simply this: in the new world economy, trade means jobs. Americans are working and getting ahead because American goods and services are selling abroad. From fiber optics in Italy to fast food in China, more and more people are buying American.

No doubt, a trading nation is a working nation. Last year alone we exported over $420 billion in goods. That's a lot of everything. And that means a lot of U.S. jobs. Every billion dollars in exports we manufacture supports 20,000 jobs. That's good news. Illinois has about 410,000 trade related jobs; 170,000 in Minnesota and in Wisconsin 196,000 jobs tied to trade.

America's manufacturing exports are more competitive than a decade ago -- American labor is more productive. It's no wonder our exports shot up seven percent in February to a one month record high of nearly $38 billion. The U.S. is the leading exporter in the world -- and we're not done yet.

To reach our true potential, we must open new markets at home and abroad. American to American, we're talking about ideas that challenge conventional wisdom -- to not only compete in the new world economy, but lead the way. Even more -- nation to nation, we're working to break down trade barriers through GATT and the North American Free Trade Agreement. That means new markets, new buyers, new jobs and higher living standards for all Americans -- and for citizens of every country who buy our products and services.

Trade is a bright spot on the economic front -- that is changing our country, moving us forward. I'll keep working to bring change to the country that has changed the world.

Thank you for letting me be a part of your 106th convention. Now for the tough part: I'll take a couple of questions. Fire away.

Presidential Remarks: ANPA Teleconference
Wednesday, May 6, 1992
1:45 P.M.

Thank you for that warm welcome. Thank you Bob [Robert Erburu, A.N.P.A. Chairman] for those kind words. Happy anniversary to Cathy Black -- A.N.P.A. CEO and President -- for finishing up your first year. I'd like to congratulate your new chairman -- Frank Bennack [BAN-ACK] who just took the gavel for the A.N.P.A. and the new N.A.A. It's good to be here with all of you again -- this time via satellite.

Before I take your questions, let me provide a brief update on events in Los Angeles. As I think back today to what I said last Friday evening, I think of the oath I took as President -- the Constitution's charge to "ensure domestic tranquility." This I know: We can never condone violence -- because without peace, there can be no hope. //

All of us are grateful that calm has replaced chaos. Kids are back in school; city buses are running, the curfew is lifted. After last week's shock and spectacle, we take heart at the will-power of the people of Los Angeles -- who have joined hands and hearts to mend their community.

Let me focus for a moment on what we're doing at the federal level to help in the rebuilding. Through my Presidential Disaster declaration, the Federal Emergency Management Agency -- FEMA -- will make assistance available to individuals, families, and the City and County of Los Angeles. A preliminary estimate of this assistance is $225 million.

Grants will be made directly to people hit hardest by the violence -- personal grants up to $11,500 to meet urgent needs like food, clothing and medicine. Our grants will also help with temporary housing -- money for minimal damage repair to homes, or money -- up to 18 months -- to provide shelter for a family who lost their home. We're also helping with crisis counseling and disaster unemployment assistance for those who are now without jobs as a result of the disaster.

A disaster field office is already up and running in Los Angeles, and FEMA's 800 assistance number is ready to receive calls in English, Spanish, Chinese, Thai, Korean and Laotian.

In addition, FEMA will assist the public sector -- to repair and restore public utilities like water and electricity -- essential to every day life.

Beyond these emergency grants: we will provide low-interest Small Business Administration disaster loans -- up to $500,000 for business losses that exceed insurance coverage, up to $100,000 to homeowners and renters for damage not covered by insurance. Preliminary estimates indicate that over $300 million in loans will be made in the Los Angeles area.

All told, Federal Aid to speed the recovery process in Los Angeles could be as much as $600 million.

Tonight I'll go to the west coast -- to get a first-hand look at the situation in Los Angeles. I'll be listening to members of the community -- for ideas on how we'll begin the work of building a future of hope, understanding and tolerance -- a future where there's no room for hatred. That's a story I know everyone of us wants to see in print.

Let me say this about the desire all Americans share to see that what happened in Los Angeles never happens again. We all want to solve the problems. But this is no time to play the blame game. It's time for honest talk -- not simple slogans about "12 years of neglect." The fact is, in the past decade, spending is up, the number of programs are up -- and yet that hasn't solved many of the fundamental problems that plague our cities.

We need an honest, open national discussion -- about family, about values, about public policy -- and about race. That's the only way forward -- and that's what I intend to do in the days ahead.

Thank you for letting me be a part of your 106th convention. Now I'll take a couple of questions. Fire away.

Thank you for that warm welcome. Thank you Bob [Robert Erburu, ANPA Chairman] for those kind words. Happy anniversary to Cathy Black -- ANPA CEO and President -- for finishing up your first year. I'd like to congratulate your incoming chairman -- Frank Bennack [BAN-ACK] who takes the gavel soon for the ANPA and the new NAA. It's good to be here with all of you again -- this time via [SatCom 6].

[[Newspapers are read by everyone around here at the White House -- 30 major papers a day -- make that 31: Millie's subscription to the Wall Street Journal starts next week.]]

Henry Luce became a journalist "to come as close as possible to the heart of the world." Your Chronicles, Ledgers, and Gazettes bring the world to our doorstep -- everyday. Through newspapers, a nation talks to itself and the world. The more we read about events across the globe, the less foreign the international page becomes.

Our world has changed dramatically since I spoke to you three years ago. Think of the front page stories in the past year alone: The return of Terry Anderson and our Hostages. The death of Imperial Communism. The birth of eighteen new nations.

In my time as President, I have made it my mission to preserve and protect three legacies close to our all our hearts:

A world at peace. A nation of strong families -- sturdy values of character. An economy with good jobs -- real opportunity for all Americans.

The story today is simply this: in the new world economy, trade means jobs. Americans are working and getting ahead because American goods and services are selling abroad. From fiber optics in Italy to fast food in China, more and more people are buying American.

For every billion dollars in exports we manufacture, 20,000 jobs are created. That's good news to Illinois -- about 410,000 trade related jobs; Wyoming 380,000 jobs; 170,000 in Minnesota and in Wisconsin 196,000 jobs tied to trade. America's manufacturing exports are more competitive than a decade ago -- American labor is more productive. It's no wonder our exports shot up seven percent in February to a one month record high of nearly $38 billion.

No doubt, a trading nation is a working nation. Last year alone we exported over $420 billion in goods. That's a lot of everything -- especially jobs. The U.S. is the leading exporter in the world -- and we're not done yet.

To reach our true potential, we must open new markets at home and abroad. American to American, we're talking about ideas that challenge conventional wisdom -- to not only compete in the new world economy, but lead the way. Even more -- nation to nation, we're working to break down trade barriers through GATT and NAFTA. That means new markets, new buyers, new jobs and spell out

higher living standards for all Americans -- and for citizens of every country who buy our products and services.

Trade is a bright spot on the economic front -- that is changing our country, moving us forward. I'll keep working to bring change to the country that has changed the world.

Thank you for letting me be a part of your 106th convention. Now for the tough part: I'll take a couple of questions. Fire away.

Presidential Remarks: ANPA Teleconference
Wednesday, May 6, 1992
1:45 P.M.

Thank you for that warm welcome. Thank you Bob [Robert Erburu, A.N.P.A. Chairman] for those kind words. Happy anniversary to Cathy Black -- A.N.P.A. CEO and President -- for finishing up your first year. I'd like to congratulate your incoming chairman -- Frank Bennack [BAN-ACK] who takes the gavel soon for the A.N.P.A. and the new N.A.A. It's good to be here with all of you again -- this time via SBS6.

Before I take your questions, let me provide a brief update on events in Los Angeles. All of us are grateful that calm has replaced chaos. Kids are back in school; city buses are running, the curfew is lifted. After last week's shock and spectacle, we take heart at the will-power of the people of Los Angeles -- who have joined hands and hearts to mend their community.

[Let me focus for a moment on what ~~we've done~~ ^{we're doing} at the federal level to help in the rebuilding. Through my Presidential Disaster Declaration, ~~First, we've made available~~ ^{we've made available}

~~$500 million in disaster relief~~ ^{the} ~~through Federal~~ ^{will make available} Emergency Management Agency -- FEMA -- ~~assistance~~ ^{assistance to individuals,}

Grants ~~will be made~~ ^{will be made} ~~in systems forms,~~ ^{and} ~~and~~ ^{the City and County of LA} directly to people hit hardest by the violence -- personal grants up to $11,500 to meet urgent needs like food, clothing and medicine. Our grants will also help with temporary housing -- money for minimal damage repair to homes, or money -- up to 18 months -- to provide shelter for a family who lost their home.

Hale

A Preliminary Estimate of this assistance is $755 million.

We're also helping with crisis counseling and disaster unemployment assistance for those who are now without jobs as a result of the disaster.

A disaster field office is already up and running in Los Angeles, and FEMA's 800 assistance number is ready to receive calls in English, Spanish, Chinese, Thai, Korean and Laotian.

*Hale

In addition, FEMA ~~grants~~ will assist the public sector -- to repair and restore public utilities like water and electricity -- essential to every day life.

Beyond these emergency grants: ~~we will provide~~ we will provide ~~million~~ low-interest Small Business Administration disaster loans available -- up to $500,000 for business losses that exceed insurance coverage, ~~and~~ $100,000 up to ~~$20,000~~ $20,000 to homeowners and renters for damage not covered by insurance.

Preliminary estimates indicate that ~~over~~ ^{Hale} $300 million in loans will be made in the LA area.

All told, ~~that's a total of $600 million in Federal Aid to~~ $35 speed the recovery process in Los Angeles. Could be as much as $600 million.

Tonight I'll go to the west coast -- to get a first-hand look at the situation in Los Angeles. I'll be listening to members of the community -- for ideas on how we'll begin the work of building a future of hope, understanding and tolerance -- a future where there's no room for hatred. That's a story I know everyone of us wants to see in print.

Thank you for letting me be a part of your 106th convention. Now ~~for the tough part~~: I'll take a couple of questions. Fire away.

Henry Luce became a journalist "to come as close as possible to the heart of the world." Your Chronicles, Ledgers, and Gazettes bring the world to our doorstep -- everyday. Through newspapers, a nation talks to itself and the world. The more we read about events across the globe, the less foreign the international page becomes.

Our world has changed dramatically since I spoke to you three years ago. Think of the front page stories in the past year alone: The return of Terry Anderson and our Hostages. The death of Imperial Communism. The birth of eighteen new nations.

In my time as President, I have made it my mission to preserve and protect three legacies close to our all our hearts:

A world at peace. A nation of strong families -- sturdy values of character. An economy with good jobs -- real opportunity for all Americans.

The story today is simply this: in the new world economy, trade means jobs. Americans are working and getting ahead because American goods and services are selling abroad. From fiber optics in Italy to fast food in China, more and more people are buying American.

For every billion dollars in exports we manufacture, 20,000 jobs are created. That's good news to Illinois -- about 410,000 trade related jobs; Wyoming 380,000 jobs; 170,000 in Minnesota and in Wisconsin 196,000 jobs tied to trade. America's manufacturing exports are more competitive than a decade ago -- American labor is more productive. It's no wonder our exports shot up seven percent in February to a one month record high of nearly $38 billion.

No doubt, a trading nation is a working nation. Last year alone we exported over $420 billion in goods. That's a lot of everything -- especially jobs. The U.S. is the leading exporter in the world -- and we're not done yet.

To reach our true potential, we must open new markets at home and abroad. American to American, we're talking about ideas that challenge conventional wisdom -- to not only compete in the new world economy, but lead the way. Even more -- nation to nation, we're working to break down trade barriers through GATT and NAFTA. That means new markets, new buyers, new jobs and higher living standards for all Americans -- and for citizens of every country who buy our products and services.

Trade is a bright spot on the economic front -- that is changing our country, moving us forward. I'll keep working to bring change to the country that has changed the world.

Thank you for letting me be a part of your 106th convention. Now for the tough part: I'll take a couple of questions. Fire away.

Our world has changed dramatically since I spoke to you three years ago. Think of the front page stories in the past year alone: The return of Terry Anderson and our Hostages. The death of Imperial Communism. The birth of eighteen new nations. ... to name a few.

In my time as President, I have made it my mission to preserve and protect three legacies close to our all our hearts:

A world at peace. A nation of strong families -- sturdy values of character. An economy with good jobs -- real opportunity for all Americans.

The story today is simply this: in the new world economy, trade means jobs. Americans are working and getting ahead because American goods and services are selling abroad. From fiber optics in Italy to fast food in China, more and more people are buying American.

For every billion dollars in exports we manufacture, 20,000 jobs are created. That's good news to Illinois -- about 410,000 trade related jobs; Wyoming 380,000 jobs; 170,000 in Minnesota and in Wisconsin 196,000 jobs tied to trade. America's manufacturing exports are more competitive than a decade ago -- American labor is more productive. It's no wonder our exports shot up seven percent in February to a one month record high of nearly $38 billion.

No doubt, a trading nation is a working nation. Last year alone we exported over $420 billion in goods. That's a lot of everything -- especially jobs. The U.S. is the leading exporter in the world -- and we're not done yet.

To reach our true potential, we must open new markets at home and abroad. American to American, we're talking about ideas that challenge conventional wisdom -- to not only compete in the new world economy, but lead the way. Even more -- nation to nation, we're working to break down trade barriers through GATT and NAFTA. That means new markets, new buyers, new jobs and higher living standards for all Americans -- and for citizens of every country who buy our products and services.

Trade is a bright spot on the economic front -- that is changing our country, moving us forward. I'll keep working to bring change to the country that has changed the world.

Thank you for letting me be a part of your 106th convention. Now for the tough part: I'll take a couple of questions. Fire away.

Thank you for that warm welcome. Thank you Bob [Robert Erburu, A.N.P.A. Chairman] for those kind words. Happy anniversary to Cathy Black -- A.N.P.A. CEO and President -- for finishing up your first year. I'd like to congratulate your new chairman -- Frank Bennack [BAN-ACK] who just took the gavel for the A.N.P.A. and the new N.A.A. It's good to be here with all of you again -- this time via satellite.

Before I take your questions, let me provide a brief update on events in Los Angeles. As I think back today to ~~what I said~~ last Friday evening, I think of the oath I took as President -- the Constitution's charge to "ensure domestic tranquility." This

I know: We can never condone violence -- because without peace, there can be no hope. ||

when I spoke with the American people

our actions have brought in Los Angeles

All of us are grateful that ~~calm has replaced chaos~~. Kids are back in school; city buses are running, the curfew is lifted. After last week's shock and spectacle, we take heart at the will-power of the people of Los Angeles -- who have joined hands and hearts to mend their community.

Let me focus for a moment on what we're doing at the federal level to help in the rebuilding. Through my Presidential Disaster declaration, the Federal Emergency Management Agency -- FEMA -- will make assistance available to individuals, families, and the City and County of Los Angeles. A preliminary estimate of this assistance is $225 million.

We will make → ~~Grants will be made~~ directly to those ~~people~~ hit hardest by the violence -- personal grants up to $11,500 to meet urgent needs like food, clothing and medicine. Our grants will also help with temporary housing -- money for minimal damage repair to homes, or money -- up to 18 months -- to provide shelter for a family who lost their home. We're also helping with crisis counseling and disaster unemployment assistance for those who are now without jobs as a result of the disaster.

Fact? → A disaster field office is already up and running in Los Angeles, and FEMA's 800 assistance number is ready to receive calls in English, Spanish, Chinese, Thai, Korean and Laotian.

At my direction, In addition, FEMA will assist the public sector -- to repair and restore public utilities like water and electricity -- essential to every day life.

Beyond these emergency grants: we will provide low-interest Small Business Administration disaster loans -- up to $500,000 for business losses that exceed insurance coverage, up to $100,000 to homeowners and renters for damage not covered by insurance. Preliminary estimates indicate that over $300 million in loans will be made in the Los Angeles area.

All told, Federal Aid to speed the recovery process in Los Angeles could be as much as $600 million.

Tonight I'll go to the west coast -- to get a first-hand look at the situation in Los Angeles. I'll be listening to members of the community -- for ideas on how we'll begin the work of building a future of hope, understanding and tolerance -- a future where there's no room for hatred. That's a story I know everyone of us wants to see in print.

Let me say this about the desire all Americans share to see that what happened in Los Angeles never happens again. We all want to solve the problems. But this is no time to play the blame game. It's time for honest talk -- not simple slogans about "12 years of neglect." The fact is, in the past decade, spending is up, the number of programs are up -- and yet that hasn't solved many of the fundamental problems that plague our cities.

We need an honest, open national discussion -- about family, about values, about public policy -- and about race. That's the only way forward -- and that's what I intend to do in the days ahead.

Thank you for letting me be a part of your 106th convention. Now I'll take a couple of questions. Fire away.

[[Newspapers are read by everyone around here at the White House -- 30 major papers a day -- make that 31: Millie's subscription to the Wall Street Journal starts next week.]]

Henry Luce became a journalist "to come as close as possible to the heart of the world." Your Chronicles, Ledgers, and Gazettes bring the world to our doorstep -- everyday. Through newspapers, a nation talks to itself and the world. The more we read about events across the globe, the less foreign the international page becomes.

Our world has changed dramatically since I spoke to you three years ago. Think of the front page stories in the past year alone: The return of Terry Anderson and our Hostages. The death of Imperial Communism. The birth of eighteen new nations.

In my time as President, I have made it my mission to preserve and protect three legacies close to our all our hearts:

A world at peace. A nation of strong families -- sturdy values of character. An economy with good jobs -- real opportunity for all Americans.

The story today is simply this: in the new world economy, trade means jobs. Americans are working and getting ahead because American goods and services are selling abroad. From fiber optics in Italy to fast food in China, more and more people are buying American.

For every billion dollars in exports we manufacture, 20,000 jobs are created. That's good news to Illinois -- about 410,000 trade related jobs; Wyoming 380,000 jobs; 170,000 in Minnesota and in Wisconsin 196,000 jobs tied to trade. America's manufacturing exports are more competitive than a decade ago -- American labor is more productive. It's no wonder our exports shot up seven percent in February to a one month record high of nearly $38 billion.

No doubt, a trading nation is a working nation. Last year alone we exported over $420 billion in goods. That's a lot of everything -- especially jobs. The U.S. is the leading exporter in the world -- and we're not done yet.

To reach our true potential, we must open new markets at home and abroad. American to American, we're talking about ideas that challenge conventional wisdom -- to not only compete in the new world economy, but lead the way. Even more -- nation to nation, we're working to break down trade barriers through GATT and NAFTA. That means new markets, new buyers, new jobs and higher living standards for all Americans -- and for citizens of every country who buy our products and services.

Trade is a bright spot on the economic front -- that is changing our country, moving us forward. I'll keep working to bring change to the country that has changed the world.

Thank you for letting me be a part of your 106th convention. Now for the tough part: I'll take a couple of questions. Fire away.
