his election is about: as, and who's got some right ideas on health ng ones. s a plan that goes by in the end it takes you tionalized health care. v." Listen for that one or pay." Here's what er must "play", mean- nce for employees, or tax to finance Govern-ave a lot of small busi- ounting on to lead the desperately, with two workers' wages to pay are, or fire some wor- s to cover the rest. A ndent Urban Institute of this plan is no play- re at least a 7-percent payroll tax. Now you small-business people here, you that have your sleeves rolled up running a restaurant or running a neighbor- hood store of some kind, think about that one.

According to estimates, that kind of tax will cost this country 700,000 jobs. For an em- ployee earning $24,000 a year say, that pay- roll tax would mean $1,700 chopped right out of his paycheck. Higher prices, lower wages, lost job: Any way you look at it, that is the wrong prescription for America.

So in the end, this "play or pay" is no dif- ferent from nationalized health care. I'm tempted to call it "pay and pay and pay again." It's an open invitation for employers to stop offering health benefits, throw the problem in the Government's lap, and dump millions of Americans that are working into a public plan like Medicaid.

Right now, the cost of health care eats up 13 percent of all the goods and services that we produce. Do you really want to turn an- other huge chunk of our economy over to the Government? We can't afford to saddle ourselves with a health care cure that's worse than the disease, especially when we have a much better alternative.

Now you can see why I believe health care is going to be a Republican issue this year. My opponent just isn't up to the mark on health care. A major newspaper that I don't quote too often these days, the New York Times—[laughter]—described Bill Clinton's attention to health care issues as, I quote, "occasional." It's no surprise why. After hav- ing Governor Clinton for 12 years, one in four folks in Arkansas don't even have health insurance. Bill Clinton has promised he'll do for America what he's done for Arkansas. And my question is: Why would we let him?

I want to start our program that's been sitting up on Capitol Hill for a while moving forward. Move forward on health reform. And Congress comes back from what they call a work period—they've been on vacation for a month and a half—next Tuesday. My opponents are divided. Even they know their proposals won't work. And I say, let Congress start by passing my small business health care reforms to bring affordable, quality health care to millions of Americans who don't have it now. Make it a Labor Day present to the American worker and to the American family and get off your backsides and do something about it.

If you think I'm a little frustrated with this gridlocked Congress, you are right. We ought to clean House. On this Labor Day weekend, we should remember what Jefferson called the sum of good government: Whether it re- spected the right of each one of us, Thomas Jefferson said, and I quote, "A wise and fru- gal government shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread that it has earned." In Jefferson's day, doctors made house calls on horseback and life was short. Today, we have miracle medicines that can pluck us from death's door.

But all this is of no matter if we can't afford it, not if it is reserved only for the privileged or the prosperous, not if it bankrupts the families of America. We must not take from the mouth of labor the bread that you have earned. We must fix the health care system of America.

Once again, let me say I hope this hasn't been too long and too specific, but this strikes at the core and the well-being of every single family in America. There is no better place to talk about family and family values than it is right here with Steve and Gretel. To all of you, my thanks for this warm Ohio wel- come. May God bless the greatest, freest country on the face of the Earth, the United States of America. Thank you all.

Remarks on Arrival at Greenville, South Carolina September 5, 1992

Thank you all very, very much. What a great welcome back to this wonderful State.

Listen, I am so proud that the First Lady of South Carolina is with us, our old friend, Iris Campbell. You've got a great Governor, and you've got a great First Lady. And they represent this State with honor and dignity.

Let me also say, one of the things we've got to do, and I'm glad to see these signs are: we have got to clean House. We have got to get rid of gridlocked Congress. So elect this good man standing here to the United States House of Representatives. It is time to clean House and change in Washington.

This State—good idea. Well, let me just say, as I look around all 50 States I see South Carolina out there in the lead for jobs and for bringing new investment into this great State. I was so proud to stand with Carroll Campbell over there in Germany to get that announcement of a major new plant coming to South Carolina because those Germans have the same respect I do for the workers in the State of South Carolina. They know that by coming here we can produce the best products in the world, and this is going to save this country of ours, move it right into the future. We are going to be able to export more and create more jobs in the United States of America by the free and open trade policies that I support and that Carroll Campbell supports.

I also want to say something about the tragedy to the south, because when Barbara and I were down there in Homestead, Florida, we saw these hats; people that had been helped here in South Carolina during Hurricane Hugo now reaching out, opening their arms to help others down in Florida. It was a wonderful thing. Your State was helped, and now you are helping the victims of the hurricane down there, Hurricane Andrew. I salute the people of South Carolina and North Carolina who were doing this. It is the best of America: one American reaching out to help another.

Let me just say, we're going to move on now over to the Apple Festival in North Carolina, but I want to say this: I am ready for the fight. We are going to take this battle for a better America to the American people. We are going to win the battle for school choice. It's important that parents can choose where their kids go to school. We are going to win the battle to back up our law enforcement officers and have a little more respect for the victims of crime and a little less for the criminals. We need your help in the Congress for that one. I need Bob up there on that.

We have already helped, thanks to the men and women of South Carolina. I don't think any State did more than South Carolina in Desert Storm. I was proud of each and every one of those people that served.

Having set back aggression there, now we're going to extend our exports, take advantage of this more peaceful world and bring more prosperity to the workers in the United States of America.

So thank you all very much for this wonderful turnout. Thanks for your belief, confidence in the United States. You know, one of the biggest differences I have with Governor Clinton: he talks about America being in decline; I talk about America on the rise, competent, able to solve the problems.

So thank you for this warm welcome back. We will clean out the Democrats, and we will clean out the House. We will leave Governor Clinton in Arkansas, letting him—struggling with the worst environmental record in the world.

Thank you all very, very much. Thank you very much for the welcome back.

Note: The President spoke at 12:50 p.m. at the Greenville-Spartanburg Airport. A tape was not available for verification of the content of these remarks.

Exchange With Reporters During a Visit With the Harris Family in Asheville, North Carolina September 5, 1992

Q. Now that you've got him here what do you hope to tell the President?

Mr. Roy Harris. Well, we're going to talk about this neighborhood here. I want to make sure that he understands our neighborhood and the neighborhood that he's in right now and how it affects us in policies and decisions that are made.

We have a mixed neighborhood here. Therefore, he'll get a chance to see a typical neighborhood.

Q. Are you a registered Republican or Democrat, sir?

The President. These guys—I'll tell you what they want to do—

STATEMENT AT AIRPORT \ SOUTH CAROLINA
SEPTEMBER 5, 1992 \

HELLO, EVERYONE. I JUST WANT TO SAY THAT SOUTH CAROLINA'S STANDING TALL AS A REAL EXAMPLE TO THE REST OF THE COUNTRY THESE DAYS. YOU'RE DOING JUST WHAT WE NEED TO BE DOING ALL ACROSS AMERICA IN THE NEXT FOUR YEARS -- AND THAT IS, BUILDING ENTERPRISES PRODUCING HIGH-QUALITY GOODS AND SERVICES... AND CREATING JOBS... JOBS... JOBS. THAT'S WHAT'S GOING TO TURN THIS ECONOMY AROUND.

YOUR BMW PLANT FOR 1996 IS A PERFECT EXAMPLE OF THE REALITIES OF GLOBAL BUSINESS TODAY. THE GERMANS HAVE FIGURED OUT THAT AMERICAN WORKERS ARE SECOND TO NONE... AND THEY'RE BETTING MONEY YOU'LL COME THROUGH.

AND YOU WILL COME THROUGH, WITH 8,000 JOBS, INJECTING MORE THAN $7 BILLION INTO THE ECONOMY OVER THE NEXT TWENTY YEARS.

I TELL YOU, STANDING NEXT TO GOVERNOR CAMPBELL THERE IN GERMANY WHEN THE PLANT WAS ANNOUNCED... I WAS PROUD AND HAPPY TO BE AN AMERICAN... AND I WAS PROUD OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

I WAS PROUD OF SOUTH CAROLINA LAST WEEK, TOO, WHEN I RETURNED TO THE FLORIDA AND LOUISIANA COMMUNITIES DEVASTATED BY HURRICANE ANDREW.

I WISH YOU COULD SEE IT YOURSELVES. TERRIBLE DEVASTATION. BUT AMERICA'S POURING OUT HER HEART FOR OUR BROTHERS AND SISTERS DOWN THERE, AND SOUTH CAROLINA IS A BIG PART OF THE EFFORT. YOUR COMPASSION, EXPRESSED THROUGH FOOD AND SUPPLIES, HAS REALLY MADE THE DIFFERENCE FOR MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN FAMILY WHO ARE SUFFERING TERRIBLY RIGHT NOW. AND ON BEHALF OF THOSE PEOPLE, I WANT TO PERSONALLY THANK YOU FOR THAT.

YOU'RE GOOD PEOPLE, WITH BIG HEARTS. AND I DEEPLY BELIEVE THAT AMERICANS ARE GOOD PEOPLE, ALL ACROSS THE LAND.

THAT'S WHY WE'RE GOING TO LEAD THIS BRAVE NEW WORLD WE'VE HELPED BUILD, AND WE'RE GOING TO DO IT THROUGH OUR CHILDREN. THEY'RE GOING TO BE THE BEST-EDUCATED IN THE WORLD... AND WHEN THEY GROW UP, THEY'LL BE THE BEST WORKERS IN THE WORLD. RIGHT HERE, IN SOUTH CAROLINA, AND ACROSS THIS GREAT LAND.

THANKS FOR COMING OUT. GOD BLESS YOU, GOD BLESS SOUTH CAROLINA, AND GOD BLESS THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: STEVE PROVOST

FROM: KEN ASKEW KA

SUBJECT: PROPOSED REMARKS FOR AIRPORT ARRIVAL IN SOUTH CAROLINA

I. SUMMARY

On Saturday, September 5th, 1992 you will deliver brief remarks upon arrival at the Greenville-Spartanburg Airport in South Carolina.

II. DISCUSSION

Your remarks (4 minutes / cards) highlight South Carolina's leadership in economic development -- exemplified by the new BMW plant, and the planned expansion of the airport and runway, to be partially funded with federal money.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: STATEMENT AT AIRPORT
GREENVILLE/SPARTANBURG, S.C.
SEPTEMBER 5, 1992
12:40 P.M.

Thank you, Governor, and hello, everyone. It's great to be in South Carolina.

I'm particularly delighted to be here at the Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, because it's a bellwether of things to come in this great State.

The very fact that you need to expand these facilities means you're doing something right. You've been aggressive... seeking foreign investment... broadening your industrial base... and I'm pleased to see Federal dollars going toward a world-class airport here, because it's a sure sign that South Carolina is being recognized as a world-class place to do business.

When you get the runway extended, I'm going to trade in this 747 and get a big old Lockheed C-5A Transport plane, name it Air Force One, and come down here and load it up with some real barbecue to take back home to Texas.

I've got to say that South Carolina's standing tall as a fine example to the rest of the country these days. You're doing just what we all need to be doing across America in the next four years -- and that is, building enterprises that produce high-quality goods and services... and create jobs... jobs... jobs. That's what's going to turn this economy around.

Your new BMW plant is a perfect example. Germans and Japanese have finally figured out that American workers are second to none... and they're betting money you'll come through.

And you will come through, for BMW and for this whole region -- with 8,000 jobs pumping more than $7 billion into the economy over the next twenty years.

I tell you, standing next to Governor Campbell there in Germany when the deal was signed... I was proud and happy to be part of the effort... and I was proud of South Carolina.

I was proud of South Carolina last week, too, when I returned to the Florida and Louisiana communities devastated by Hurricane Andrew.

It's a heartwrenching scene in Florida, but America is pouring out her heart for our brothers and sisters down there. And South Carolina's a big part of the effort. Your compassion, food and supplies have filled some hungry stomachs. You've really made a difference to those members of the American family who are suffering so terribly right now. And on behalf of those people, I want to personally thank you for that.

You're good people, with big hearts. And I deeply believe that Americans are good people, all across the land.

That's why we're going to lead this brave new world we've helped build, and we're going to do it through our children.

They're going to be the best-educated in the world... and when they grow up, they'll be the best workers in the world. Right here, in South Carolina, and across this great land.

Thanks for the warm South Carolina welcome. God bless you and the United States of America.

Thank you, Governor, and hello, everyone. It's great to be in South Carolina.

I'm particularly delighted to be here at the Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, because it's a bellwether of things to come in this great State.

The very fact that you need to expand these facilities means you're doing something right. You've been aggressive... seeking foreign investment... broadening your industrial base... and I'm pleased to see Federal dollars going toward a world-class airport here, because it's a sure sign that South Carolina is being recognized as a world-class place to do business.

When you get the runway extended, I'm going to trade in this 747 and get a big old Lockheed C-5A Transport plane, name it Air Force One, and come down here and load it up with some real barbecue to take back home to Texas.

I've got to say that South Carolina's standing tall as a fine example to the rest of the country these days. You're doing just what we all need to be doing across America in the next four years -- and that is, building enterprises that produce high-when they grow up, they'll be the best workers in the world.

Right here, in South Carolina, and across this great land.

Thanks for coming out. God bless you, God bless South Carolina, and God bless the United States of America.

I've got to say that South Carolina's standing tall as a fine example to the rest of the country these days. You're doing just what we all need to be doing across America in the next four years -- and that is, building enterprises that produce high-quality goods and services... and create jobs... jobs... jobs.

That's what's going to turn this economy around.

Your new BMW plant is a perfect example. Germans and Japanese have finally figured out that American workers are second to none... and they're betting money you'll come through.

And you will come through, for BMW and for this whole region -- with 8,000 jobs pumping more than $7 billion into the economy over the next twenty years.

I tell you, standing next to Governor Campbell there in Germany when the plant was announced... I was proud and happy to be ~~an American.~~ ^{part of the effort} and I was proud of South Carolina.

I was proud of South Carolina last week, too, when I returned to the Florida and Louisiana communities devastated by Hurricane Andrew.

It's a heartwrenching scene in Florida, but America is pouring out her heart for our brothers and sisters down there. And South Carolina's a big part of the effort. Your compassion, food and supplies have filled some hungry stomachs. You've really made a difference to those members of the American family who are suffering so terribly right now. And on behalf of those people, I want to personally thank you for that.

You're good people, with big hearts. And I deeply believe that Americans are good people, all across the land.

That's why we're going to lead this brave new world we've helped build, and we're going to do it through our children.

They're going to be the best-educated in the world... and when they grow up, they'll be the best workers in the world.

Right here, in South Carolina, and across this great land.

Thanks for coming out. God bless you, God bless South Carolina, and God bless the United States of America.
