KOREA-AMERICAN RALLY \ NEW YORK, NEW YORK
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1992 \ 6:30 P.M.

SENATOR D'AMATO, THANK YOU FOR THAT INTRODUCTION.
LADIES AND GENTLEMEN. I'M GLAD TO BE BACK IN NEW YORK CITY -- THAT SYMBOL OF A KINDER, GENTLER AMERICA. //

((RECENTLY WE HAD A DISCUSSION AT THE WHITE HOUSE
ABOUT THE POSSIBLE USE OF PEACEKEEPING FORCES TO QUELL
OPEN WARFARE. BUT FORTUNATELY, THE NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY FINALLY ENDED.)) //

TONIGHT, I AM HONORED TO BE AT AN EVENT WHICH SPEAKS NOT OF WARFARE BUT OF FRIENDSHIP. AN EVENT WHICH SALUTES AMERICA'S FASTEST-GROWING KOREAN
COMMUNITY: THINK OF IT -- MORE THAN 150,000 STRONG. //

IN THIS ROOM ARE PEOPLE WHO SHARE CERTAIN PRINCIPLES. BELIEF IN WORK, AND SELF-DISCIPLINE. LOVE OF FAMILY -- AS YOU SHOWED LAST WEEK IN YOUR KOREAN
THANKSGIVING. ABOVE ALL, FAITH IN GOD. //

THESE PRINCIPLES BROUGHT YOUR FAMILIES TO AMERICA.
TODAY, THEY CAN BRING AMERICA TO WHAT IS BEST IN MAN.

RECENTLY, I ANNOUNCED A PLAN WHICH DOES THAT -- MY
"AGENDA FOR AMERICAN RENEWAL." IT SEEKS TO OPEN MARKETS -- AND ENHANCE OUR SCHOOLS, PROFESSIONS, AND SMALL AND LARGE BUSINESSES. FOR, YOU SEE, TO ME GROWTH IS NOT A BUZZWORD. IT'S A WATCHWORD WHICH MAKES AMERICA THE ENVY OF THE WORLD. //

OUR AGENDA WILL ACHIEVE GROWTH THROUGH THE HUMAN HEART AND WILL. ACHIEVE IT AS YOU HAVE IN NEW YORK --
WHERE NEARLY 12,000 KOREANS OWN BUSINESSES. / YOU KNOW, IT'S FUNNY. I LOOK AROUND AND SEE BUSINESS PEOPLE. SOME MOM AND POP / SOME BIGGER. I KNOW WHY YOU'RE HERE. YOU KNOW PROGRESS COMES NOT FROM GOVERNMENT DOING TO PEOPLE -- BUT THROUGH PEOPLE DOING
FOR THEMSELVES. //

LIKE MANY OF YOU, I'VE BEEN A BUSINESSMAN. SPENT HALF MY CAREER IN THE PRIVATE SECTOR -- CREATING JOBS AND MEETING A PAYROLL -- AND I HAD THE ULCERS TO PROVE IT. / WHAT I LEARNED WAS THAT HIGHER TAXES AND SPENDING DON'T CREATE JOBS. THEY DESTROY JOBS. THAT'S WHY MY AGENDA FOR AMERICAN RENEWAL RECALLS WHAT DREW YOU TO AMERICA: LOWER TAXES, LOWER SPENDING, AND LESS REGULATION.

THESE FUNDAMENTALS CAN HELP CREATE THE WORLD'S FIRST $10 TRILLION ECONOMY BY THE EARLY YEARS OF THE 21ST CENTURY. //

HERE'S HOW WE'LL DO IT. FIRST, THROUGH CHALLENGING THE WORLD. I WANT TO GET CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL OF THE NORTH AMERICAN FREE TRADE AGREEMENT. THE REASON'S SIMPLE: MORE FREE TRADE MEANS MORE AMERICAN JOBS. / MY OPPONENT SAYS AMERICA SHOULD TURN INWARD -- AWAY FROM THE WORLD ECONOMY.

YOU SHOW WHY WE SHOULD REACH OUT -- TO MEXICO, CANADA, EASTERN EUROPE, AND, YES, ACROSS THE PACIFIC TO YOUR HOMELAND AND ALL OF ASIA. //

THINK OF HOW HARD YOU WORK. YOU SHOW WHY THE AMERICAN WORKER COMPETES -- AND WHY WE WILL WIN. YET OUR KIDS MUST COMPETE, AS WELL. THAT MEANS REFORMING EDUCATION -- HIGHER STANDARDS, BETTER DISCIPLINE. / WE ALSO NEED THE OTHER PARTS OF OUR AGENDA.

SHARPEN BUSINESS' COMPETITIVE EDGE -- CUTTING REGULATIONS THAT TURN RED TAPE INTO PINK SLIPS. / PROTECT ECONOMIC SECURITY -- CUTTING HEALTH CARE COSTS WITHOUT SOCIALIZED MEDICINE. / HELP THE POOR -- AND MAKE GOVERNMENT MORE RESPONSIVE. TODAY, GOVERNMENT IS TOO BIG AND IT SPENDS TOO MUCH.

LOOK AT JANG [JAHNG] LEE, WHO OWNS A KOREAN RADIO STATION IN LOS ANGELES. HE KNOWS WHAT I MEAN.

SO DOES THE GREAT MARTIAL ARTS INSTRUCTOR, JHOON [JUNE] RHEE -- A DAILY POINT OF LIGHT WHO GIVES NEW MEANING TO THOSE TWO WORDS, "OR ELSE." / THEN THERE'S AN AMERICAN ORIGINAL WHO IS AN AMERICAN HERO, JAY KIM. HE CAME HERE WITHOUT A PENNY. BUILT ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP ENGINEERING COMPANIES. ELECTED MAYOR OF DIAMOND BAR, CALIFORNIA. GIVE AS OFTEN -- AND AS MUCH -- AS YOU CAN. WE NEED TO MAKE JAY KIM THE FIRST KOREAN-AMERICAN ELECTED TO THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS. //

PEOPLE LIKE THESE SHOW WHY "KOREAN" IS NOT JUST A NAME. IT'S A WAY OF LIFE. / IT MEANS RESPECT FOR LAW. MY ADMINISTRATION WILL NOT REST UNTIL WE HAVE HELPED ANY BUSINESS HARMED BY THE LOS ANGELES AND CHICAGO RIOTS -- AND MADE SURE IT DOESN'T HAPPEN ELSEWHERE. / IT MEANS KNOWING THAT FAMILY IS AMERICA'S HEIRLOOM OF THE HEART. YOU AS A COMMUNITY PROVE THAT.

"KOREAN" MEANS CREATIVITY, TOO: YOU KNOW GOVERNMENT SHOULD REWARD WORK -- NOT PENALIZE IT. /

I'M IMPRESSED BY THE FACT THAT KOREANS INVENTED THE WHEELCHAIR, MOVEABLE TYPE, AND ARMORED WARSHIPS. ((WHAT A PERFECT WEAPON FOR A CAMPAIGN.)) / I SOMETIMES WONDER WHAT MIGHT HAVE HAPPENED HAD THE WRIGHT BROTHERS BEEN FORCED TO WAIT FOR GOVERNMENT APPROVAL BEFORE TESTING THEIR FLYING MACHINE. IF THEY HAD, I MIGHT HAVE COME HERE BY STEAMBOAT, NOT AIR FORCE ONE. /

THE REASON KOREAN-AMERICANS ARE REPUBLICAN IS THAT WE EMBRACE THESE VALUES. WE BACK FREEDOM AT HOME. WE HAVE FOUGHT FOR IT ABROAD. IT'S BEEN SAID THAT "ONE GENERATION OPENS THE ROAD UPON WHICH ANOTHER GENERATION TRAVELS." / WELL, TODAY AMERICA IS OPENING A ROAD I HOPE WILL LEAD TO DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS NORTH OF THE 38TH PARALLEL. A ROAD OF SECURITY AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. AND, YES, TO A REUNIFIED KOREA.

[[I WONDER IF MY OPPONENT FEELS THE SAME. I SUSPECT MOST OF YOU HAVE HEARD ABOUT THE LETTER GOVERNOR CLINTON SENT HIS DRAFT BOARD. I URGE ALL OF YOU TO READ IT -- BECAUSE IT INCLUDES SOME AMAZING THINGS.

HIS LOGIC WAS THAT WE SHOULDN'T REQUIRE OUR CITIZENS TO FIGHT IN ANY WAR THAT -- AND I QUOTE -- "DOES NOT INVOLVE IMMEDIATELY THE PEACE AND FREEDOM OF OUR NATION."

THAT IS WRONG!

MY OPPONENT MAY NOT KNOW HOW, TO A GREAT EXTENT, OUR MODERN RELATIONS WITH KOREA DATE FROM THE BRUTAL INVASION OF THE SOUTH BY THE COMMUNISTS IN 1950. WE DO. WE REMEMBER YOUR SUFFERING AND SACRIFICE.

REMEMBER HOW IT WAS THE UNITED STATES THAT SUCCESSFULLY MOBILIZED INTERNATIONAL RESISTANCE TO THE INVASION.

THEN -- WITH THE GENEROSITY DISTINCTIVE OF AMERICA -- WE EXTENDED AN OPEN HAND -- AND MET KOREA'S OPEN HEART. / WE REBUILT A COUNTRY / BEGAN A PARTNERSHIP THAT ENDURES / AND COMMITTED AMERICA TO A KOREA BOTH SAFE AND FREE. / YES, THE THREAT FROM THE NORTH STILL LINGERS.

WE ARE WORRIED ABOUT THE POTENTIAL NORTH KOREAN NUCLEAR THREAT -- THE CONSEQUENCES OF WHICH ARE UNTHINKABLE. THAT IS WHY WE HAVE TOLD PYONGYANG: THE PATH TO RECONCILIATION IS THE ONLY PATH WORTH TAKING. /

I AM HOPEFUL ABOUT THE FUTURE. I KNOW THAT THE REPUBLIC OF KOREA IS WORKING TO REDUCE NORTH-SOUTH TENSIONS -- AND TO UNITE THE 10 MILLION KOREAN FAMILIES NOW SEPARATED FOR 40 YEARS. WE ARE GIVING THESE POLICIES OUR FULL SUPPORT. //

IT IS TRAGIC THAT KOREA IS THE ONLY COUNTRY STILL DIVIDED SINCE WORLD WAR II. I LOOK FORWARD TO BEING THE FIRST AMERICAN PRESIDENT TO STAND ON REUNITED KOREAN SOIL. // AND I BELIEVE IT WILL HAPPEN -- FOR I KNOW WHAT WE HAVE ACHIEVED IN THE LAST 3 AND 1/2 YEARS. TODAY, IMPERIAL COMMUNISM IS NOT JUST E-V-I-L -- AS RONALD REAGAN TOLD US. IT IS D-E-A-D. IF ITS TYRANNY CAN CRUMBLE -- SO CAN THE 38TH PARALLEL. //

FREEDOM ABROAD AND AT HOME. IT ALL COMES BACK TO PRINCIPLES. LIBERTY. OPPORTUNITY. LOVE OF FAMILY. FAITH IN GOD. KOREANS SHARE THESE VALUES -- AS DOES THE REPUBLICAN PARTY -- AS DOES MY ADMINISTRATION. AND WE ALWAYS WILL. //

PROPOSED REMARKS TO KOREAN-AMERICAN RALLY

I. SUMMARY

On Monday, September 21st at 6:30 p.m., you will deliver remarks to an audience of 250 Korean-Americans -- mostly business leaders -- at a Victory '92 fundraiser in the Waldorf in New York City.

II. DISCUSSION

Your remarks (10 minutes / cards), based on your Agenda for American Renewal, focus on the contributions of the Korean-American community and the role they play in this election. Please note the bracketed remarks on page 4. Per Bob Zoellick's suggestion, they recall how Governor Clinton's letter to his draft board opposed government's right to draft in Korea.

medicine. / Help the poor -- and make government more responsive. Today, government is too big and it spends too much.

Look at Jang [Jahng] Lee, who owns a Korean radio station in Los Angeles. He knows what I mean. So does the great martial arts instructor, Jhoon [June] Rhee -- a Daily Point of Light who gives new meaning to those two words, "Or else." / Then there's an American Original who is an American Hero, Jay Kim. He came here without a penny. Built one of America's top engineering companies. Elected Mayor of Diamond Bar, California. Give as often -- and as much -- as you can. We need to make Jay Kim the first Korean-American elected to the United States Congress. //

People like these show why "Korean" is not just a name. It's a way of life. / It means respect for law. My Administration will not rest until we have helped any business harmed by the Los Angeles and Chicago riots -- and made sure it doesn't happen elsewhere. / It means knowing that family is America's heirloom of the heart. You as a community prove that.

"Korean" means creativity, too: You know government should reward work -- not penalize it. / I'm impressed by the fact that Koreans invented the wheelchair, moveable type, and armored warships. ((What a perfect weapon for a campaign.)) / I sometimes wonder what might have happened had the Wright Brothers been forced to wait for government approval before testing their flying machine. If they had, I might have come here by steamboat, not Air Force One. /

The reason Korean-Americans are Republican is that we embrace these values. We back freedom at home. We have fought for it abroad. Remember how it was the United States that successfully mobilized international resistance to the invasion.

Then -- with the generosity distinctive of America -- we extended an open hand -- and met Korea's open heart. / We rebuilt a country / began a partnership that endures / and committed America to a Korea both safe and free. / Yes, the threat from the North still lingers. We are worried about the potential North Korean nuclear threat -- the consequences of which are unthinkable. That is why we have told Pyongyang: The path to reconciliation is the only path worth taking. /

I am hopeful about the future. I know that the Republic of Korea is working to reduce North-South tensions -- and to unite the 10 million Korean families now separated for 40 years. We are giving these policies our full support. //

It is tragic that Korea is the only country still divided since World War II. I look forward to being the first American President to stand on reunited Korean soil. // And I believe it will happen -- for I know what we have achieved in the last 3 and 1/2 years. Today, Imperial Communism is not just E-V-I-L -- as Ronald Reagan told us. It is D-E-A-D. If its tyranny can crumble -- so can the 38th Parallel. //

Freedom abroad and at home. It all comes back to principles. Liberty. Opportunity. Love of family. Faith in God. Koreans share these values -- as does the Republican Party -- as does my Administration. And we always will. //

On November 3, we can uphold these values -- and carry them to the Nation. Thank you for your kindness, and your support. God bless you -- and the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: KOREA-AMERICAN RALLY
NEW YORK, NEW YORK
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1992

Senator D'Amato, thank you for that introduction. Ladies and gentlemen. I'm glad to be back in New York City. ((Someone asked me how it feels to be fighting for a job that someone else wants. I said: "If I run into Ray Randley I'll ask him.")) //

It is an honor to be with leaders of America's second-largest Korean community. Think of it -- more than 150,000 strong. //

In this room are people who share certain principles. Belief in work, and self-discipline. Love of family -- as you showed last week in your Korean Thanksgiving. Above all, faith in God. // These principles brought your families to America. Today, they can bring America to what is best in man. //

Last month, I announced a plan which does that -- my "Agenda for American Renewal." / It seeks to open markets -- create jobs -- and enhance our schools, professions, and small and large business. For, you see: I believe this -- believe it deeply. Growth is not a buzzword. It is a watchword which makes America the envy of the world. // gable → Our agenda will achieve growth through the human heart and will, not race or national origin. Achieve it as you have in New York -- where 13,000 Koreans own businesses. / You came here in search of opportunity -- and you're finding it. Came to build a letter life -- and are building a better America. Not through government -- what bureaucracy has done to America -- but entrepreneurial capitalism -- what Korean-Americans have done for themselves. //

I look around here and see business people. Some mom and pop / some bigger / owning dry cleaning, fish and grocery stores, 70 percent of New York's fruit and vegetable stores. I marvel at this turnout, and I think: Here -- truly -- I'm at home. //

Like many of you, I've been a businessman. Unlike my opponent, I've spent half my career in the private sector -- creating jobs and meeting a payroll -- and I had the ulcers to prove it. / I think that's a pretty good qualification to be President. What I learned in business was that higher taxes and spending don't create jobs. They destroy jobs. //

That's why my Agenda for American Renewal seeks to decrease what government must do and increase what the individual may do. It builds on the fundamentals which drew you to America: Lower taxes, lower spending, and less regulations. These fundamentals ~~can make us~~ ^{will enable us to remain} an economic, military, and export superpower. Let's use them to build the world's first $10 trillion economy by the early years of the Twenty-First Century. //

Here's how we'll do it. First, through challenging the world. I want to complete the global trade agreement and get Congressional approval of the North American Free Trade Agreement. The reason's simple: More free trade means more American jobs. / My opponent says America should turn inward --

away from the world economy. You show why we should reach out -
- to Mexico, Canada, Eastern Europe, and, yes, across the Pacific to your homeland and all of Asia. //

Think of the hours you put in -- how hard you work. You know why the American worker will never retreat. We will compete
-- and we will win. // We need to help our kids compete. That means reforming education: Higher standards / better discipline
/ giving parents the right to choose kids' schools. / We need, too, to adopt other parts of our Agenda. I want to sharpen business' competitive edge -- cutting regulations that turn red tape into pink slips. / I want to protect economic security -- cutting health care costs without socialized medicine. I want to help the poor -- and to make government more responsive. Today, government is too big and it spends too much.

Look at Jang Lee, who owns a Korean radio station in Los Angeles. He knows what I mean. So does Wendy Gramm, wife of Senator Phil Gramm and Chairman of the Commodities Future Trading
Commission. / Or an American Original who is an American Hero.
This man came here without a penny. Built one of America's top
500 engineering companies. Elected Mayor of Diamond Barr, California. I can't tell you how proud I am this event is helping his campaign. Give as often -- and as much -- as you can. We need to make Jay Kim the first Korean elected to the United States Congress. //

People like these show why "Korean" is not just a name.
It's a way of life. It means respect for law. My Administration will not rest until we have helped any business harmed by the Los Angeles and Chicago riots. / It means love of family. The family is America's umbilical cord: Our policies must strengthen -- not weaken -- it. / "Korean" means creativity, too: You know government should reward work -- not penalize it. / I'm impressed by the fact that Koreans invented the wheelchair, moveable type, armored warships, and taekwondo. ((Maybe I should sick Jhroon Ree on Congress.)) / I sometimes wonder what might have happened had the Wright Brothers been forced to wait for government approval before testing their flying machine. If they had, I might have come here by steamboat, not Air Force One. /

The reason Korean-Americans are Republican is that we embrace these values: We know prosperity doesn't depend on the size of government -- but on the size of your dreams. / We back freedom at home. We have fought for it abroad. It's been said that "one generation opens the road upon which another generation travels." / Well, today America is opening a road I hope will lead to democracy and human rights not just in South Korea but north of the 38th Parallel. A road of security and economic development. And to the reunification of the country you love.

To some extent, our modern relations with Korea date from the brutal invasion of the South by the Communists in 1950. I know many of you recall that event. I recall it, too. I remember your suffering and sacrifice. Remember how -- as we did last year in Kuwait -- it was the United States that successfully mobilized international resistance to the invasion. //

Then -- with the generosity distinctive of America -- we extended an open hand -- and met Korea's open heart. / We rebuilt a country / began a partnership that endures / and committed America to a Korea both safe and free. / Yes, the threat from the North still lingers. We are worried about the potential North Korean nuclear threat. That is why we have told Pyongyang: Remember Saddam -- aggression will not stand. /

I am hopeful about the future. I know for sure that we will work, with our allies in Seoul, to reduce North-South tensions / to end North Korea's isolation / and to unite the 10 million Korean families now separated for 40 years. //

It is obscene that Korea is the only country still divided since World War II. I look forward to being the first American President to stand on reunited Korean soil. // And I believe it will happen -- for I know what we have achieved in the last 3 and 1/2 years. In Berlin, a wall collapses. From Kuwait to Panama, those once enslaved are now free. Today, Imperial Communism is not just E-V-I-L -- as Ronald Reagan predicted. It is D-E-A-D. If its tyranny can crumble -- so can the 38th Parallel. //

Freedom abroad. Freedom at home. It all comes back to principles. Love of liberty, and opportunity. Belief in the family. Belief in God. / Koreans share these values -- as does the Republican Party -- as does my Administration. And we always will. //

On November 3, we can uphold these values -- and carry them to the Nation. Thank you for your kindness, and your support. God bless you -- and the United States of America.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

THROUGH: STEVE PROVOST Mr S for SP
FROM: CURT SMITH CS
SUBJECT: PROPOSED REMARKS TO KOREAN-AMERICAN RALLY

I. SUMMARY

On Monday, September 21st at 6:30 p.m., you will deliver remarks to an audience of 250 Korean-Americans -- mostly business leaders -- at a Victory '92 fundraiser in the Waldorf in New York City.

II. DISCUSSION

Your remarks (10 minutes / cards), based on your Agenda for American Renewal, focus on the contributions of the Korean-American community and the role they play in this election. Please note the bracketed remarks on page 4. Per Bob Zoellick's suggestion, they recall how Governor Clinton's letter to his draft board opposed government's right to draft in Korea.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: KOREA-AMERICAN RALLY
NEW YORK, NEW YORK
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1992

Senator D'Amato, thank you for that introduction. Ladies and gentlemen. I'm glad to be back in New York City -- ~~this~~ ^{should insert more thanks, praise, and expressions of gratitude to hosts} symbol of a kinder, gentler America. // ← ^{audience.}

(Recently we had a discussion at the White House about the possible use of peacekeeping forces to quell open warfare. But fortunately, the New York Democratic Primary finally ended.) //

Tonight, I am honored to be at an event which speaks not of warfare but of friendship. An event which salutes America's fastest-growing Korean community: Think of it -- more than 150,000 strong. //

In this room are people who share certain principles. Belief in work, and self-discipline. Love of family -- as you showed last week in your Korean Thanksgiving. Above all, faith in God. // These principles brought your families to America. Today, they can bring America to ^{achieve all that} ~~what is~~ best in man.

Recently, I announced a plan which does that -- my "Agenda for American Renewal." It seeks to open markets -- and enhance our schools, professions, and small and large businesses. For, you see, ~~to me~~ ^{to me} growth is not a buzzword. It's a watchword which makes America the envy of the world. //

Our agenda will ^{growth} achieve growth through the human heart and will. Achieve ~~to~~ as you have in New York -- where nearly 12,000

Starting off with a joke perhaps not appropriate for this audience and they might not get the joke.

Koreans own businesses. / You know, it's funny. I look around and see business people. Some mom and pop / some bigger. I know why you're here. You know progress comes not from government doing ^{things} to people -- but through people doing ^{things} for themselves. //

Like many of you, I've been a businessman. Spent half my career in the private sector -- creating jobs and meeting a payroll -- and I had the ulcers to prove it. / What I learned was that higher taxes and spending don't create jobs. They destroy ^{them} jobs. That's why my Agenda for American Renewal ^{calls on the} principles which what drew you to America: Lower taxes, lower spending, and less regulation. These fundamentals can help create the world's first $10 trillion economy by the early years of the 21st Century. //

Here's how we'll do it. First, through challenging the world ^{to achieve global free trade}. I want to get Congressional approval of the North American Free Trade Agreement. The reason's simple: More free trade means more American jobs. / My opponent says America should turn inward -- away from the world economy. You show why we should reach out -- to Mexico, Canada, Eastern Europe, and, yes, across the Pacific to your homeland and all of Asia. //

Think of how hard you work. You show why the American worker competes -- and why we will win. Yet our kids must compete, as well. That means reforming education -- higher standards, better discipline. / We also need the other parts of our Agenda. Sharpen business' competitive edge -- cutting regulations that turn red tape into pink slips. / Protect economic security -- cutting health care costs without socialized medicine. / Help the poor -- and make government more responsive. Today, government is too big and it spends too much.

Look at Jang [Jahng] Lee, who owns a Korean radio station in Los Angeles. He knows what I mean. So does the great martial arts instructor, Jhoon [June] Rhee -- a Daily Point of Light who gives new meaning to those two words, "Or else." / Then there's an American Original who is an American Hero, Jay Kim. He came here without a penny. Built one of America's top engineering companies. ^{Won election as} Elected Mayor of Diamond Bar, California. Give as often -- and as much -- as you can. We need to make Jay Kim the first Korean-American elected to the United States Congress. //

People like these show why "Korean" is not just a name. It's a way of life. / It means ^{for one thing,} respect ^{the} for law. My Administration will not rest until we have helped ^{every} any business harmed by the Los Angeles and Chicago riots -- and made sure ^{it} such ^{tragedies} ^{never} doesn't happen elsewhere. / It means knowing that family is America's heirloom of the heart. You as a community prove that.

"Korean" means creativity, too: You know government should reward work -- not penalize it. / I'm impressed by the fact that Koreans invented the wheelchair, moveable type, and armored warships. ((What a perfect weapon for a campaign.)) / I sometimes wonder what might have happened had the Wright Brothers been forced to wait for government approval before testing their flying machine. If they had, I might have come here by steamboat, not Air Force One. /

part of our family

The reason Korean-Americans are Republican is that we embrace these values. We back freedom at home. We have fought for it abroad. It's been said that "one generation opens the road upon which another generation travels." / Well, today America is opening a road I hope will lead to democracy and human rights north of the 38th Parallel. A road of security and economic development. And, yes, to a reunified Korea.

[[I wonder if my opponent feels the same. I suspect most of you have heard about the letter Governor Clinton sent his draft board. I urge all of you to read it -- because it includes some amazing things.

[[One little-reported thing may especially interest you: In discussing his opposition to the Viet Nam war, my opponent added that the United States wasn't justified in drafting people to fight in Korea. / His logic was that we shouldn't require our citizens to fight in any war that -- and I quote -- "does not involve immediately the peace and freedom of our Nation."

[[What do you think of that?

[[I thought so.]] //

My opponent may not know how, to a great extent, our modern relations with Korea date from the brutal invasion of the South by the Communists in 1950. We do. We remember your suffering and sacrifice. Remember how it was the United States that successfully mobilized international resistance to the invasion.

Then -- with the generosity distinctive of America -- we extended an open hand -- and met Korea's open heart. / We helped to rebuilt a country / began a partnership that endures / and committed America to a Korea both safe and free. / Yes, the threat from the North still lingers. We are worried about the potential North Korean nuclear threat -- the consequences of which are unthinkable. That is why we have told Pyongyang: The path to reconciliation is the only path worth taking. /

I am hopeful about the future. I know that the Republic of Korea is working to reduce North-South tensions -- and to unite the 10 million Korean families now separated for 40 years. We are giving these policies our full support. //

It is tragic that Korea is the only country still divided since World War II. I look forward to being the first American President to stand on reunited Korean soil. // And I believe it will happen -- for I know what we have achieved in the last 3 and 1/2 years. Today, Imperial Communism is not just E-V-I-L -- as Ronald Reagan told us. It is D-E-A-D. If its tyranny can crumble -- so can the 38th Parallel. //

Freedom abroad and at home. It all comes back to principles. Liberty. Opportunity. Love of family. Faith in God. Koreans share these values -- as does the Republican Party -- as does my Administration. And we always will. //

On November 3, we can uphold these values -- and carry them to the Nation. Thank you for your kindness, and your support. God bless you -- and the United States of America.

I. Summary

If the President's message of strong support for small businesses (the vast majority of Korean enterprises) is coupled with a successful effort to define Clinton as another Jimmy Carter, we can ensure a strong Korean vote in the President's favor.

The Korean community still carries vivid and angry memories of the policies of the Carter administration, which nearly resulted in the unilateral pullout of all American forces from the peninsula, leaving the South open to a military takeover by the Communist North. Linking Clinton to the Carter tradition - a Southern governor of a small state, with no foreign policy experience and no visible appreciation of Korean immigrants' security concerns about their homeland - will have a visceral impact on the Korean community. Clinton as "Carter II" will provoke revulsion in this group, and guarantee tremendous support for the President.

We would propose the insertion of the following passage in the section indicated in the text on page 4:

"[I thought so.]]//

"My opponent, of course, is entitled to his views.

"Just as another Southern governor, a man who also had no foreign policy experience, was entitled to his. And that Southern governor, as Commander-in-Chief, wanted to pull all American troops unilaterally out of Korea, leaving the entire South open to a Communist invasion from the North. If that had happened, the results would probably have cast their tragic shadow over every person sitting in this room tonight.

"My opponent wants to carry on in the tradition of that other Southern governor. I want to carry on in the tradition of America's role as friend and defender of your homeland.

My opponent may not know how "

Two weeks ago, I announced a plan which does that -- my "Agenda for American Renewal." / It seeks to open markets -- create jobs -- and enhance our schools, professions, and small and large businesses. PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: KOREA-AMERICAN RALLY
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1992

Senator D'Amato, thank you for that introduction. Ladies and gentlemen. I'm glad to be back in New York City. ((Someone asked me how it feels to be fighting for a job that someone else wants. I said: "If I run into Ray Randley I'll ask him.")) //

Unclear;
~~not~~ jokes

to this audience

It is an honor to be with leaders of America's second-largest Korean community. Think of it -- more than 150,000 strong. //

In this room are people who share certain principles. Belief in work, and self-discipline. Love of family -- as you showed last week in your Korean Thanksgiving. Above all, faith in God. // These principles brought your families to America. Today, they can bring America to what is best in man. //

Last month, I announced a plan which does that -- my "Agenda for American Renewal." / It seeks to open markets -- create jobs -- and enhance our schools, professions, and small and large business. For, you see: I believe this -- believe it deeply. Growth is not a buzzword. It is a watchword which makes America the envy of the world. //

Our agenda will achieve growth through the human heart and will, not race or national origin. Achieve it as you have in New York -- where 13,000 Koreans own businesses. / You came here in search of opportunity -- and you're finding it. Came to build a letter life -- and are building a better America. Not through government -- what bureaucracy has done to America -- but entrepreneurial capitalism -- what Korean-Americans have done for themselves. //

I look around here and see business people. Some mom and pop / some bigger / owning dry cleaning, fish and grocery stores, 70 percent of New York's fruit and vegetable stores. I marvel at this turnout, and I think: Here -- truly -- I'm at home. //

Like many of you, I've been a businessman. Unlike my opponent, I've spent half my career in the private sector -- creating jobs and meeting a payroll -- and I had the ulcers to prove it. / I think that's a pretty good qualification to be President. What I learned in business was that higher taxes and spending don't create jobs. They destroy jobs. //

That's why my Agenda for American Renewal seeks to decrease what government must do and increase what the individual may do. It builds on the fundamentals which drew you to America: Lower taxes, lower spending, and less regulations. These fundamentals can make us an economic, military, and export superpower. Let's use them to build the world's first $10 trillion economy by the early years of the Twenty-First Century. //

Here's how we'll do it. First, through challenging the world. I want to complete the global trade agreement and get Congressional approval of the North American Free Trade Agreement. The reason's simple: More free trade means more American jobs. / My opponent says America should turn inward --

away from the world economy. You show why we should reach out -
 - to Mexico, Canada, Eastern Europe, and, yes, across the Pacific
 to your homeland and all of Asia. //

Think of the hours you put in -- how hard you work. You know why the American worker will never retreat. We will compete
 -- and we will win. // We need to help our kids compete. That means reforming education: Higher standards / better discipline
 / giving parents the right to choose kids' schools. / We need,
 too, to adopt other parts of our Agenda. I want to sharpen business' competitive edge -- cutting regulations that turn red tape into pink slips. / I want to protect economic security -- cutting health care costs without socialized medicine. I want to help the poor -- and to make government more responsive. Today, government is too big and it spends too much.

(PRONOUNCED JAHNG)

Look at Jang^VLee, who owns a Korean radio station in Los Angeles. He knows what I mean. So does Wendy Gramm, wife of Senator Phil Gramm and Chairman of the Commodities Future Trading
 Commission. / Or an American Original who is an American Hero.
 This man came here without a penny. Built one of America's top
 500 engineering companies. Elected Mayor of Diamond Barr, California. I can't tell you how proud I am this event is helping his campaign. Give as often -- and as much -- as you can. We need to make Jay Kim the first Korean^{American} elected to the United States Congress. //

People like these show why "Korean" is not just a name.
 It's a way of life. It means respect for law. My Administration

On November 3, we can uphold these values -- and carry them to the Nation. Thank you for your kindness, and your support. God bless you -- and the United States of America.

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: KOREA-AMERICAN RALLY
NEW YORK, NEW YORK
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1992

Senator D'Amato, thank you for that introduction. Ladies and gentlemen. I'm glad to be back in New York City. ((Someone asked me how it feels to be fighting for a job that someone else wants. I said: "If I run into Ray Randley I'll ask him.")) //

It is an honor to be with leaders of America's second-largest Korean community. Think of it -- more than 150,000 strong. //

In this room are people who share certain principles. Belief in work, and self-discipline. Love of family -- as you showed last week in your Korean Thanksgiving. Above all, faith in God. // These principles brought your families to America. Today, they can bring America to what is best in man. //

Last month, I announced a plan which does that -- my "Agenda for American Renewal." / It seeks to open markets -- create jobs -- and enhance our schools, professions, and small and large business. For, you see: I believe this -- believe it deeply. Growth is not a buzzword. It is a watchword which makes America the envy of the world. //

Our agenda will achieve growth through the human heart and will, not race or national origin. Achieve it as you have in New York -- where 13,000 Koreans own businesses. / You came here in search of opportunity -- and you're finding it. Came to build a letter life -- and are building a better America. Not through government -- what bureaucracy has done to America -- but entrepreneurial capitalism -- what Korean-Americans have done for themselves. //

I look around here and see business people. Some mom and pop / some bigger / owning dry cleaning, fish and grocery stores, 70 percent of New York's fruit and vegetable stores. I marvel at this turnout, and I think: Here -- truly -- I'm at home. //

Like many of you, I've been a businessman. Unlike my opponent, I've spent half my career in the private sector -- creating jobs and meeting a payroll -- and I had the ulcers to prove it. / I think that's a pretty good qualification to be President. What I learned in business was that higher taxes and spending don't create jobs. They destroy jobs. //

That's why my Agenda for American Renewal seeks to decrease what government must do and increase what the individual may do. It builds on the fundamentals which drew you to America: Lower taxes, lower spending, and less regulations. These fundamentals can make us an economic, military, and export superpower. Let's use them to build the world's first $10 trillion economy by the early years of the Twenty-First Century. //

Here's how we'll do it. First, through challenging the world. I want to complete the global trade agreement and get Congressional approval of the North American Free Trade Agreement. The reason's simple: More free trade means more American jobs. / My opponent says America should turn inward --

away from the world economy. You show why we should reach out -
- to Mexico, Canada, Eastern Europe, and, yes, across the Pacific
to your homeland and all of Asia. //

Think of the hours you put in -- how hard you work. You know why the American worker will never retreat. We will compete
-- and we will win. // We need to help our kids compete. That means reforming education: Higher standards / better discipline
/ giving parents the right to choose kids' schools. / We need,
too, to adopt other parts of our Agenda. I want to sharpen business' competitive edge -- cutting regulations that turn red tape into pink slips. / I want to protect economic security -- cutting health care costs without socialized medicine. I want to help the poor -- and to make government more responsive. Today,
government is too big and it spends too much.

Look at Jang Lee, who owns a Korean radio station in Los Angeles. He knows what I mean. So does Wendy Gramm, wife of Senator Phil Gramm and Chairman of the Commodities Future Trading
Commission. / Or an American Original who is an American Hero.
This man came here without a penny. Built one of America's top
500 engineering companies. Elected Mayor of Diamond Barr, California. I can't tell you how proud I am this event is helping his campaign. Give as often -- and as much -- as you can. We need to make Jay Kim the first Korean elected to the United States Congress. //

People like these show why "Korean" is not just a name.
It's a way of life. It means respect for law. My Administration will not rest until we have helped any business harmed by the Los Angeles and Chicago riots. / It means love of family. The family is America's umbilical cord: Our policies must strengthen -- not weaken -- it. / "Korean" means creativity, too: You know government should reward work -- not penalize it. / I'm impressed by the fact that Koreans invented the wheelchair, moveable type, armored warships, and taekwondo. ((Maybe I should sick Jhroon Ree on Congress.)) / I sometimes wonder what might have happened had the Wright Brothers been forced to wait for government approval before testing their flying machine. If they had, I might have come here by steamboat, not Air Force One. /

The reason Korean-Americans are Republican is that we embrace these values: We know prosperity doesn't depend on the size of government -- but on the size of your dreams. / We back freedom at home. We have fought for it abroad. It's been said that "one generation opens the road upon which another generation travels." / Well, today America is opening a road I hope will lead to democracy and human rights not just in South Korea but north of the 38th Parallel. A road of security and economic development. And to the reunification of the country you love.

To some extent, our modern relations with Korea date from the brutal invasion of the South by the Communists in 1950. I know many of you recall that event. I recall it, too. I remember your suffering and sacrifice. Remember how -- as we did last year in Kuwait -- it was the United States that successfully mobilized international resistance to the invasion. //

Then -- with the generosity distinctive of America -- we extended an open hand -- and met Korea's open heart. / We rebuilt a country / began a partnership that endures / and committed America to a Korea both safe and free. / Yes, the threat from the North still lingers. We are worried about the potential North Korean nuclear threat. That is why we have told Pyongyang: Remember Saddam -- aggression will not stand. /

I am hopeful about the future. I know for sure that we will work, with our allies in Seoul, to reduce North-South tensions / to end North Korea's isolation / and to unite the 10 million Korean families now separated for 40 years. //

It is obscene that Korea is the only country still divided since World War II. I look forward to being the first American President to stand on reunited Korean soil. // And I believe it will happen -- for I know what we have achieved in the last 3 and 1/2 years. In Berlin, a wall collapses. From Kuwait to Panama, those once enslaved are now free. Today, Imperial Communism is not just E-V-I-L -- as Ronald Reagan predicted. It is D-E-A-D. If its tyranny can crumble -- so can the 38th Parallel. //
