

Originally Processed With FOIA(s):

FOIA Number:

S

FOIA MARKER

This is not a textual record. This is used as an administrative marker by the George Bush Presidential Library Staff.

Record Group/Collection: George H.W. Bush Presidential Records Collection/Office of Origin: Speechwriting, White House Office of Series: Smith, Curt, Files
Subseries: Chron File, 1989-1992

OA/ID Number: 13890
Folder ID Number: 13890-002

Folder Title:
Reagan Video, New Hampshire, 2/6/92

Stack:	Row:	Section:	Shelf:	Position:
G	18	29	1	6

(Smith)
January 14, 1992
Draft One
DUTCH

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: REAGAN VIDEO
NEW HAMPSHIRE
FEBRUARY 6, 1992

Ladies and gentlemen, new friends and old. It is a joy to talk to a State I love -- and whose values I will always share. // To me, New Hampshire is a plot of land -- and moreover, an heirloom of the heart. // Thank you for addressing this wonderful dinner. //

((First, let me say: I'm only coming to you on television today, but I assure you I'll be there in person if I decide to run in the 1996 Primary.)) //

((Next, let me bring you up to date on what I'm doing. // I love it here in California -- writing, thinking, horseback riding, talking with Nancy. // I'm enjoying my time away from political life. // Whenever I feel nostalgic for Congress, I go over and visit Disneyland.)) //

Today, I'd like to focus on that other end of Pennsylvania Avenue. ((You know, this is a great year for America -- the 500th anniversary of its discovery. It seems like only yesterday that I welcomed Christopher Columbus on shore.)) //

It will be a great year for another reason. We have the chance to elect a President who is my colleague, and friend. I speak of a man who showed -- as was said of Charles De Gaulle --

that "greatness knows no national boundaries." // The now and future President of the United States, George Bush. //

George Bush has been a historic President. He has also been the architect of the New World Order. He has helped change America. He has helped America change the world. // To those who question whether he should be re-elected, here is my two word-answer: Saddam Hussein. //

I have known George Bush for many years. He is civil, courageous, decent, and fair. // No wonder people don't think of him as a politician. // He served me nobly as Vice-President. // As President, he has served just as brilliantly -- and helped keep America, yes, "that shining city on the hill." //

Look at foreign policy. George Bush knows that we who are free to live our dreams -- have a duty to support those who dream of living free. // So he kept our military strong and proud, and helped liberate Panama and Kuwait. // Look here at home. George Bush believes in an America of opportunity, not bondage. // So he has kept inflation low / appointed judges who practice social justice, not social engineering / opposed the cesspool of racial quotas / and unlike that other party, believes that America's school children should be able to say a voluntary prayer. //

I believe from the bottom of my heart that America is divinely blessed. That is why we must be, as the Good Shepherd says, truly "a light unto the world." // George Bush has been that light. //

Compare him to some Democrats. // They didn't think we should go to war to drive brutality out of Kuwait -- but they see nothing wrong with a war that pits one class of Americans against another. // Then, there's George's opponent on the Republican side. / I know he's getting a lot of attention, but if an ex-employee of mine will forgive me / and I say this with affection: If America is going to fulfill its destiny in the world, we can't stand Pat. //

I have often talked of winning one for the Gipper. // George Bush has helped win one for the Holy Grail of Freedom. // So let us support him -- not by building fences around America / but by causing other nations to tear down their fences of bigotry, oppression, and unfair trade. //

America has won the Cold War. Now, let us win the war of plenty over poverty / liberty over tyranny / health over disease / and religion over disbelief. // George Bush can help win that war -- for this generaion, and generations unborn. // Thank you for supporting him / God bless this beloved State / and let me close with magical words in ours or any language: God bless America -- the most wondrous land on earth.

#

(Smith)
January 14, 1992
Draft One
DUTCH

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: REAGAN VIDEO
NEW HAMPSHIRE
FEBRUARY 6, 1992

Ladies and gentlemen, new friends and old. It is a joy to talk to a State I love -- and whose values I will always share.

// To me, New Hampshire is a plot of land / ~~the ideal of freedom~~ is all, (a state and.)
/ moreover, an heirloom of the heart. // Thank you for all, is addressing this wonderful dinner. //

((First, let me say: I'm only coming to you on television today, but I assure you I'll be there in person if I decide to run in the 1996 Primary.)) //

((Next, let me bring you up to date on what I'm doing. // I love it here in California -- writing, thinking, horseback riding, talking with Nancy. // I'm enjoying my time away from political life. // Whenever I feel nostalgic for Congress, I go over and visit Disneyland.)) // Use the year to be as early as possible.

Today, I'd like to focus on that other end of Pennsylvania Avenue. plus, 1792 let ((~~You know, this is a great year for America -- the 500th anniversary of its discovery. It seems like only yesterday that I welcomed Christopher Columbus on shore.~~)) //

~~It will be a great year for another reason. We have the chance to elect a President who is my colleague, and friend. I speak of a man who showed -- as was said of Charles De Gaulle --~~

Constitution up to be with 1792... as well.
is?

that "greatness knows no national boundaries." // The now and future President of the United States, George Bush. //

George Bush has been a historic President. He ~~has also~~ been the architect of the New World Order. He has helped change America. He has helped America change the world. // To those who question whether he should be re-elected, here is my two word-answer: Saddam Hussein. //

I have known George Bush for many years. He is civil, courageous, decent, and fair. // No wonder people don't think of him as a politician. // He served me nobly as Vice-President. // As President, he has served just as brilliantly -- and helped keep America, yes, "that shining city on the hill." //

Look at foreign policy. George Bush knows that we who are free to live our dreams -- have a duty to support those who dream of living free. // So he kept our military strong and proud, and helped liberate Panama and Kuwait. // Look here at home. George Bush believes in an America of opportunity, not bondage. // So he has kept inflation low / appointed judges who practice social justice, not social engineering / opposed the cesspool of racial quotas / and unlike that other party, believes that America's school children should be able to say a voluntary prayer. //

I believe from the bottom of my heart that America is divinely blessed. That is why we must be, as the Good Shepherd says, truly "a light unto the world." // George Bush has been that light. // we by love to the end.

Compare him to some Democrats. // They didn't think we should go to war to drive brutality out of Kuwait -- but they see nothing wrong with a war that pits one class of Americans against another. // Then, there's George's opponent on the Republican side. / I know he's getting a lot of attention, but if an ex-employee of mine will forgive me / and I say this with affection: If America is going to fulfill its destiny in the world, we can't stand Pat. //

I have often talked of winning one for the Gipper. // George Bush has helped win one for the Holy Grail of Freedom. // So let us support him -- not by building fences around America / but by causing other nations to tear down their fences of bigotry, oppression, and unfair trade. //

America has won the Cold War. Now, let us win the war of plenty over poverty / liberty over tyranny / health over disease / and religion over disbelief. // George Bush can help win that war -- for this generaion, and generations unborn. // Thank you for supporting him / God bless this beloved State / and let me close with magical words in ours or any language: God bless America -- the most wondrous land on earth.

#

(Smith)
January 14, 1992
Draft One
DUTCH

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: REAGAN VIDEO
NEW HAMPSHIRE
FEBRUARY 6, 1992

Ladies and gentlemen, new friends and old. It is a joy to talk to a State I love -- and whose values I will always share. // To me, New Hampshire is a plot of land -- and moreover, an heirloom of the heart. // Thank you for addressing this wonderful dinner. //

((First, let me say: I'm only coming to you on television today, but I assure you I'll be there in person if I decide to run in the 1996 Primary.)) //

((Next, let me bring you up to date on what I'm doing. // I love it here in California -- writing, thinking, horseback riding, talking with Nancy. // I'm enjoying my time away from political life. // Whenever I feel nostalgic for Congress, I go over and visit Disneyland.)) //

Today, I'd like to focus on that other end of Pennsylvania Avenue. ((You know, this is a great year for America -- the 500th anniversary of its discovery. It seems like only yesterday that I welcomed Christopher Columbus on shore.)) //

It will be a great year for another reason. We have the chance to elect a President who is my colleague, and friend. I speak of a man who showed -- as was said of Charles De Gaulle --

that "greatness knows no national boundaries." // The now and future President of the United States, George Bush. //

George Bush has been a historic President. He has also been the architect of the New World Order. He has helped change America. He has helped America change the world. // To those who question whether he should be re-elected, here is my two word-answer: Saddam Hussein. //

I have known George Bush for many years. He is civil, courageous, decent, and fair. // No wonder people don't think of him as a politician. // He served me nobly as Vice-President. // As President, he has served just as brilliantly -- and helped keep America, yes, "that shining city on the hill." //

Look at foreign policy. George Bush knows that we who are free to live our dreams -- have a duty to support those who dream of living free. // So he kept our military strong and proud, and helped liberate Panama and Kuwait. // Look here at home. George Bush believes in an America of opportunity, not bondage. // So he has kept inflation low / appointed judges who practice social justice, not social engineering / opposed the cesspool of racial quotas / and unlike that other party, believes that America's school children should be able to say a voluntary prayer. //

I believe from the bottom of my heart that America is divinely blessed. That is why we must be, as the Good Shepherd says, truly "a light unto the world." // George Bush has been that light. //

Compare him to some Democrats. // They didn't think we should go to war to drive brutality out of Kuwait -- but they see nothing wrong with a war that pits one class of Americans against another. // Then, there's George's opponent on the Republican side. / I know he's getting a lot of attention, but if an ex-employee of mine will forgive me / and I say this with affection: If America is going to fulfill its destiny in the world, we can't stand Pat. //

I have often talked of winning one for the Gipper. // George Bush has helped win one for the Holy Grail of Freedom. // So let us support him -- not by building fences around America / but by causing other nations to tear down their fences of bigotry, oppression, and unfair trade. //

America has won the Cold War. Now, let us win the war of plenty over poverty / liberty over tyranny / health over disease / and religion over disbelief. // George Bush can help win that war -- for this generation, and generations unborn. // Thank you for supporting him / God bless this beloved State / and let me close with magical words in ours or any language: God bless America -- the most wondrous land on earth.

#

(Smith)
January 22, 1992
Draft Two
DUTCH

PRESIDENTIAL REMARKS: REAGAN VIDEO
NEW HAMPSHIRE
FEBRUARY 6, 1992

Ladies and gentlemen, new friends and old. It is a joy to talk to people I love -- and whose values I will always share. // To me, New Hampshire is a plot of land / a state of mind / above all, an heirloom of the heart. // Thank you for allowing me to address this wonderful dinner. //

((First, let me say: I'm only coming to you on television today, but I assure you I'll be there in person if I decide to run in the 1996 Primary.)) //

((Next, let me bring you up to date on what I'm doing. // I love it here in California -- writing, thinking, horseback riding, talking with Nancy. // I'm enjoying my time away from political life. // Whenever I feel nostalgic for Congress, I go over and visit Disneyland.)) //

Today, I'd like to focus on that other end of Pennsylvania Avenue -- where this year we have the chance to re-elect a leader, and friend. //

((You know, already 1992 is a great year for America -- the 500th anniversary of its discovery. It seems like only yesterday that I welcomed Christopher Columbus on shore.)) //

Together, we Republicans can make 1992 even better. How? By re-electing a man who shows -- as was said of Charles De

Gaulle --that "greatness knows no national boundaries." // The now and future President of the United States, George Bush. //

George Bush has been a historic President. He has helped change America. His New World Order has helped America change the world. // To those who question whether he should be re-elected, here is my two word-answer: Saddam Hussein. //

I have known George Bush for many years. He is civil, courageous, decent, and fair. // No wonder people don't think of him as a politician. // He served me nobly as Vice-President. // As President, he has served just as brilliantly -- and helped keep America, yes, "that shining city on the hill." //

Look at foreign policy. George Bush knows that we who are free to live our dreams -- have a duty to support those who dream of living free. // So he kept our military strong and proud, and helped liberate Panama and Kuwait. // Look here at home. George Bush believes in an America of opportunity, not bondage. // So he has kept interest rates and inflation low / appointed judges who practice social justice, not social engineering / opposed quotas / and unlike that other party, believes that America's school children should be able to say a voluntary prayer. //

I believe from the bottom of my heart that America is divinely blessed. That is why we must be, as the Good Shepherd says, truly "a light unto the world." // George Bush has been that light. / It's up to us to help him keep shining. /

Compare him to some Democrats. // They didn't think we should go to war to drive brutality out of Kuwait -- but they see nothing wrong with a war that pits one class of Americans against another. // Then, there's George's opponent on the Republican side. / I know he's getting a lot of attention, but if an ex-employee of mine will forgive me / and I say this with affection: If America is going to fulfill its destiny in the world, we can't stand Pat. //

I have often talked of winning one for the Gipper. // George Bush has helped win one for the Holy Grail of Freedom. // So let us support him -- not by building fences around America / but by causing other nations to tear down their fences of bigotry, oppression, and unfair trade. //

America has won the Cold War. Now, let us win the war of plenty over poverty / liberty over tyranny / health over disease. George Bush can help win that war -- for this generaion, and generations unborn. // Thank you for supporting him / God bless this beloved State / and let me close with magical words in ours or any language: God bless America -- the greatest land on earth.

#