OFFICE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT

Date: Monday, July 27, 1992

Location: Cincinnati Convention Center

I. PURPOSE

To address the National Conference of State Legislatures 18th Annual Meeting.

II. BACKGROUND

As you may recall, you addressed the National Conference of State Legislature's (NCSL) 17th Annual Meeting on August 12, 1991 in Orlando, Florida. NCSL is a bi-partisan organization that was created to serve the legislators and staffs of the nation's 50 states, its commonwealths and territories. NCSL provides research, technical assistance, and the opportunity for policymakers to exchange ideas on current issues of the day.

The NCSL staff works directly with the lawmakers and legislative staffers, making arrangements for expert witnesses to testify before legislative committees, conducting special workshops on topics confronting legislatures, conducting needed training programs for legislators and staff, or responding to an individual legislator's request for information. NCSL has access to abstracts of thousands of legislative research reports, public policy documents, journal articles, surveys and statistical data of the 50 states, and research reports as well as research currently under way. NCSL also produces publications such as the national magazine, State Legislatures, and other newsletters and reports.

NCSL is governed by a 56-member executive committee and is under the leadership of seven officers. The committee is elected annually and is composed of legislators and staff.

Their meetings throughout the year focus on subjects such as the drug problem, economic development, long-term health care, water allocation, minority education, state tax policy, telecommunications, and asbestos safety.

Fiscal issues, health care, education finance concerns and ethics have been dominant concerns in recent legislative sessions across the country and are likely to be topics of discussion.

Please note, you are the opening speaker for the NCSL annual meeting. While there is no specific theme for this year's conference, major speakers will include: William Schneider, CNN Political Analyst and political expert with the American Enterprise Institute; former Congresswoman Barbara Jordan, Professor at the LBJ School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas; political analysts Mark Shields, author of On the Campaign Trail, and David Gergen, Editor-at-Large of US News and World Report. There is a remote possibility that Senator Al Gore will address the NCSL later in the week.

BRIEFING MEMORANDUM FOR THE VICE PRESIDENT
TOUR OF POPLAR CREEK DEVELOPMENT / MEETING WITH HOMEBUILDERS

Date: July 27, 1992
Time: 2:30 p.m.
Location: Hoffman Estates, Illinois

From: Dave Juday

I. PURPOSE

... to discuss the state of the economy and the President's growth package

II. BACKGROUND

NOTE: Loan-to-value ratios were brought up in both the Evansville and Lexington meetings and therefore may come up again. In the beginning of the year, Congress passed legislation (the effort lead by Sen. Tim Wirth) that provides for uniform loan-to-value ratios for all four bank regulating agencies. The uniform ratio is to be adopted by September 30, 1992 and to be in effect by May 1993.

The proposed regulation was issued July 16, and is subject to a 45-day comment period.

What has been proposed is to have a loan-to-value range (for example: 65% to 75% for a pre-construction land loan) with the lower end of the range to be the benchmark level for the regulators to look at. The Home Builders are upset about the provision that the lower end of the range be considered a benchmark. They are considering pushing for a single level that is higher rather than having a range. Treasury has publicly commented that it prefers using a range to maintain flexibility for different institutions and different situations, but it has also stated opposition to the provision that the low end of the range be considered the norm. Though it is not yet concluded, it is likely that the language about the bottom end of the range will be dropped. In other words, the Home Builders can be told that we understand their concerns and that we are working on it, and that it is important for them to take advantage of the comment period.

According to the NAHB, more than one-half of all home builders build less than 10 houses per year -- generally small businesses with very modest capital. Tighter restrictions on loan-to-value would pose more crunch to the current credit situation.

You missed a meeting with homebuilders in suburban Chicago previously because of the weather.

You have met with the homebuilders on a number of occasions: March 6 - The Northeast Florida Builders (with the Jacksonville Area Realtors), the Annual Legislative Conference of the NAHB in Washington on March 8, and visited the "Bravo!" development in Las Vegas. Also last week you met with homebuilders in Evansville and Lexington, KY.

The latest economic figures regarding housing indicate that housing starts declined about three percent in June from their May level. That release was slightly below what private analysts had expected. Building permits, usually a sign of future housing starts, remained unchanged for single family housing, but fell off about one percent during that same time for multi-unit housing. The good news, however, is that despite erratic behavior in the past few months, housing starts are on an upward trend from January of last year and are now still 13 percent higher than they were last June.

The recent decline in interest rates, including mortgage rates, is hoped to create some more activity in the housing markets. On July 2 (in response to the release of the increase in the unemployment rate to 7.8%), the Fed cut the discount rate from three-and-one-half percent to three percent -- the lowest since 1963. By the week of July 10 (two weeks ago) the conventional 30-year mortgage rate was down to 8.13 percent -- a 19 year low. Mortgage applications increased 22 percent that week alone.

According to the National Association of Homebuilders, the President's plan to provide a $5,000 tax credit to first time homebuyers would increase home construction by 215,000 in the first year and by 100,000 in the second year. NAHB also projects job growth of 600,000 (the Administration uses 500,000 jobs.)

The Chicago Metro Area housing market has experienced a 14 percent increase in building permits over the past year (single homes have dropped four percent but multi family housing has increased 133 percent. The May housing rate for the area was up 20 percent over April. Total value of building permits (residential and commercial) is off two percent from last year; the value is $521 million.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE VICE PRESIDENT

FROM: ZELDA J. NOVAK
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR POLITICAL AFFAIRS

BARBARA J. SCHLEIBAUM
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR POLITICAL AFFAIRS

SUBJECT: BRIEFING/PHOTO OPPORTUNITY FOR NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEGISLATORS ASSOCIATION

Date of Event: Monday, July 27, 1992
Location: Cincinnati Convention Center
Cincinnati, Ohio
Time: 11:10 a.m.

I. Purpose

To participate in a briefing/photo opportunity with members of the National Republican Legislators Association's executive committee and award winners among its membership. You will also deliver a "political briefing" to approximately 300 members of the National Republican Legislators Association, and participate in a question and answer session with the group.

II. Background

The National Republican Legislators Association (NRLA) is holding an Executive Committee meeting and seminars in conjunction with the National Conference of State Legislators.

The National Republican Legislators Association (NRLA) has a membership of about 1,500 Republican state legislators (there are about 3,000 Republican state legislators nationwide), and provides a forum for communication between the RNC and state legislators. In addition, the NRLA coordinates briefings and meetings with national leaders.

Kentucky State Representative Ken Harper is the current president of NRLA (biography attached). Harper's term will expire at the end of the Cincinnati meeting, and New Hampshire State Representative Donna Sylek will assume the presidency of NRLA. Harper will introduce you.

NRLA members meet in conjunction with National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) meetings and on the occasion of the annual American Legislative Exchange Council meetings. They receive a monthly "Grass Roots Bulletin" that offers issue information, campaign techniques, and updates on political campaigns around the country.

OHIO POLITICAL BRIEFING:

BUSH/QUAYLE '92:

The Ohio presidential primary was held on June 2, 1992. The results are as follows:

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY:	President Bush	83%
	Pat Buchanan	17%
DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY:	Bill Clinton	61%
	Jerry Brown	19%
	Paul Tsongas	11%
	Uncommitted	9%

The Ohio Bush/Quayle '92 Chairman is Governor George Voinovich. The Finance Chairman is W.R. "Tim" Timken.

In 1988, the Bush/Quayle ticket received 55% of the vote.

Ohio has 21 electoral votes, and will be a key political battleground in 1992, as it was in 1988. Ohio has supported Republican Presidential candidates in the past three elections, but Democrats have indicated that they will work hard to break that tradition in 1992. Democrat Governor Bill Clinton has made a number of campaign stops in Ohio, including a trip on Thursday, April 16, to address the 158,000 member United Transportation Union and participate in two fundraisers. One of the fundraisers was held at the home of Democrat Joel Hyatt, owner of Hyatt Legal Services and son-in-law of U.S. Senator Howard Metzenbaum.

The most recent state-wide poll in Ohio was conducted before Perot's withdrawal (June 17-22) by the public relations firm of Paul Werth Associates. The poll shows the following results:

Ross Perot	32%
President Bush	26%
Bill Clinton	18%
Undecided	27%

1992 -- OHIO STATE HOUSE:

The top priority for the state party is winning a majority in the State House. The Democrats control the State House 61 to 38, and the Republicans control the State Senate 21 to 12. The Democrats have controlled the State House for the last twenty years.

The State GOP reports that a Republican takeover is possible because of this year's state legislative redistricting plan that favors Republicans. In a 3 to 2 vote, the Republican controlled Apportionment Board adopted a plan that created a number of open seats where Republicans can win, and a large number of minority districts. The Board included Governor Voinovich, Secretary of State Bob Taft, Republican State Senate President Stanley Aranoff, Democrat State House member Barney Quilter, and Democrat State Auditor Tom Ferguson.

In a victory for Republicans, the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the legislative map drawn by the Republican majority Apportionment board. The Court issued an order on April 20 to block a U.S. District Court ruling that would require a redrawing of the maps by a special master and a September 8 primary. While the Supreme Court did not rule in favor of the GOP plan, it did rule that elections will be held on June 2 under the GOP lines. The Ohio Republican party is confident that Republicans will win a majority in the State House.

DEWINE FOR U.S. SENATE:

In 1992, Senator John Glenn, a member of the Keating Five, is running for re-election. Lt. Governor Mike DeWine is the leading Republican candidate.

A poll conducted by Paul Werth & Associates (June 17-22) showed Dewine trailing Glenn by a 42% to 31% margin. The latest poll, conducted by Tarrance and Associates (July 1-4) showed Glenn leading DeWine by a 48% to 46% margin.

According to White House Political Affairs, Dewine received a strong boost on July 21st when the Fraternal Order of Police of Ohio endorsed his candidacy. DeWine was the only Republican in the state endorsed by the organization at its annual meeting in Akron. The policemen's support is seen as a reflection of DeWine's tough anti-crime record.

DeWine's Issues:

The campaign's main theme is "time for a change." They hope to demonstrate that Glenn is the consummate entrenched politician. DeWine's ethics in government proposal includes extending the application of laws to Congress, which granted itself immunity from them; reducing the size of congressional staffs; reforming the committee structure in Congress; and enacting term limits. DeWine will also run on a tough anti-crime package and a family values platform.

Glenn's Issues:

The political consulting firm of Doak and Shrum are running Glenn's campaign. They are expected to run a "populist" campaign, focusing on DeWine's congressional votes against unions, the minimum wage, and plant closing legislation.

CONGRESSIONAL REAPPORTIONMENT AND ELECTIONS:

Ohio will lose two congressional seats due to reapportionment. Retirements, redistricting, and check-kiting scandals are expected to result in the election of 5 or 6 new Congressmen from Ohio. The Ohio delegation is currently made up of 11 Democrats to 10 Republicans. The State GOP expects the 1992 elections to result in a delegation of 10 Republicans, and 9 Democrats.

Four Congressman have announced their intentions to retire. Rep. Dennis Eckart (D-11) and Rep. Don Pease (D-13) both retired in October because of unfavorable redistricting. Congressmen Chalmers Wylie (R-15) and Edward Feighan (D-19) are guilty of check-kiting, and announced their plans to retire as well. In a surprise move Rep. Charles Luken (D-1) announced he will not seek re-election. Luken faced no primary opposition.

Congressmen Clarence Miller (R-10) and Bob McEwen (R-6) faced each other in the primary. McEwen emerged the victor, prevailing 51%-49%. According to White House Political Affairs, McEwen recently accused the President of being too accommodating to the Democrat controlled Congress. He has also derided the President for "coming to the American people with an empty basket."

There were three other Congressional Republican primaries in the 10th, 11th, and 19th congressional districts -- all for open seats. In the 10th District, Martin Hoke won a three-way race, garnering 335 of the vote. In the 11th district, Beryl Rothschild won a four-way race for the GOP nomination taking 45% of the vote. Finally, in the 19th district Robert Gardner won a five-way race for the nomination by garnering 34% of the vote.

In addition, Congresswoman Mary Rose Oakar (D-20) prevailed in a very tough six-way primary battle against Cuyahoga County Commissioner Tim Hagan. Oakar was listed among the top House check-bouncers, bouncing 217 checks, overdrawing her salary 21 of 39 months. She receiving 39% of the vote compared to 30% for Hagan.

In the first district seat to be vacated by retiring Rep. Charles Luken, a special election will be held on August 4 between City Councilman and former Cincinnati Mayor David Mann, Rev. Charles Winburn, public relations expert Steven Reece and State Senator William Bowen.

There is currently no Republican nominee, as no Republican candidate successfully filed to challenge Luken. Republican Secretary of State Bob Taft has ruled that the Republicans may not have a special primary. The Hamilton GOP will ask the Ohio Supreme Court to overturn the decision barring a GOP primary. Ken Blackwell, former Cincinnati Mayor, Reagan staffer, Undersecretary at HUD, and current U.S. Envoy to the United Nations, is interested in running for the seat. Blackwell lost to Luken by 3,000 votes in 1990.

TERM LIMITS:

Governor Voinovich and Lt. Governor DeWine have publicly stated their support for term limitations for legislators. Several bills have been introduced in the state legislature addressing term limitations.

In addition, two citizens' groups are circulating petitions in an effort to place a term limit proposal on the statewide ballot next November. The State GOP expects they will receive the necessary number of signatures.

NOTE: This event will take place in Rep. Bill Gradison's (R-2) congressional district. The Mayor of Cincinatti is Dwight Tillery (D).

In the 10th District, Martin Hoke won a three-way race, garnering 33% of the vote. In the 11th district, Beryl Rothschild won a four-way race for the GOP nomination taking 45% of the vote. Finally, in the 19th district Robert Gardner won a five-way race for the nomination by garnering 34% of the vote.

In addition, Congresswoman Mary Rose Oakar (D-20) prevailed in a very tough six-way primary battle against Cuyahoga County Commissioner Tim Hagan. Oakar was listed among the top House check-bouncers, bouncing 217 checks, overdrawing her salary 21 of 39 months. She receiving 39% of the vote compared to 30% for Hagan.

In the first district seat to be vacated by retiring Rep. Charles Luken, a special election will be held on August 4 between City Councilman and former Cincinnati Mayor David Mann, Rev. Charles Winburn, public relations expert Steven Reece and State Senator William Bowen.

There is currently no Republican nominee, as no Republican candidate successfully filed to challenge Luken. Republican Secretary of State Bob Taft has ruled that the Republicans may not have a special primary. The Hamilton GOP will ask the Ohio Supreme Court to overturn the decision barring a GOP primary. Ken Blackwell, former Cincinnati Mayor, Reagan staffer, Undersecretary at HUD, and current U.S. Envoy to the United Nations, is interested in running for the seat. Blackwell lost to Luken by 3,000 votes in 1990.

TERM LIMITS:

Governor Voinovich and Lt. Governor DeWine have publicly stated their support for term limitations for legislators. Several bills have been introduced in the state legislature addressing term limitations.

In addition, two citizens' groups are circulating petitions in an effort to place a term limit proposal on the statewide ballot next November. The State GOP expects they will receive the necessary number of signatures.

NOTE: This event will take place in Rep. Bill Gradison's (R-2) congressional district. The Mayor of Cincinatti is Dwight Tillery (D).

MEMORANDUM FOR THE VICE PRESIDENT AND MRS. QUAYLE

FROM: ZELDA J. NOVAK
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR POLITICAL AFFAIRS

BARBARA J. SCHLEIBAUM
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR POLITICAL AFFAIRS

SUBJECT: ALABAMA POLITICAL BRIEFING

ALABAMA BUSH/QUAYLE '92:

Alabama's Presidential primary was held on June 2. The primary results are as follows:

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY:	President Bush	75%
	Pat Buchanan	18%
	Uncommitted	7%
DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY:	Bill Clinton	68%
	Uncommitted	20%
	Jerry Brown	7%
	Lyndon LaRouche	1%

Before leaving the race, Texas billionaire H. Ross Perot had submitted sufficient signature petitions to qualify for the general election ballot in Alabama.

Alabama has supported the Republican Presidential nominee in six of the last seven Presidential contests. In 1988 the Bush/Quayle ticket carried Alabama with 59% of the vote.

The most recent statewide poll on the Presidential race was conducted before Perot ended his campaign. The poll was sponsored by Davis-Penfield Polling and was released on June 1, 1992. The results are as follows:

President Bush	43%
Bill Clinton	26%
Ross Perot	22%

The Alabama Bush/Quayle '92 Chairman is Emory Folmar, the Mayor of Montgomery. Governor Guy Hunt serves as a Bush/Quayle '92 Honorary Chairman. Representative Sonny Callahan, Representative William Dickinson, and former U.S. Senator Jeremiah Denton serve as Bush/Quayle '92 Honorary Co-Chairmen. The Finance Chairman is Houston Blount, Chairman of Vulcan Materials Company.

ALABAMA POLITICAL BRIEFING:

U.S. Senate 1992:

Senator Richard Shelby (D) is up for re-election to his second term. He will face Republican consultant and activist Richard Sellers in the general election. Sellers will be a greeter.

A Kimmelman poll taken last month showed Shelby with a 60% to 28% lead.

Shelby will be a formidable opponent and is expected to win. According to the Almanac of American Politics, Shelby has the most conservative record of any Democrat Senator, especially on cultural issues. He voted for the use of force in the Persian Gulf, and to confirm Justice Clarence Thomas. He refused to provide the Democratic party with a critical vote on parental leave, and introduced a bill with Republicans Connie Mack and Bob Kasten to cut the capital gains tax.

Sellers worked for former U.S. Senator John Sparkman from 1972-77, and has since been a small enterprise consultant. In addition to his consulting business, Sellers serves as Chairman of Concerned Citizens, Inc. (CC), "a nonprofit education group that points out the problems with special interest control of government." Sellers graduated from Auburn University, and attended graduate school at the University of Alabama. Presidents Reagan and Bush have appointed him as Chairman of the Alabama Small Business Administration Advisory Committee. He also coordinated the Coalition for Peace Through Strength from 1979 to 1982. His biography is attached.

Sellers has attacked Shelby for his ethics and for being beholden to special interests. He has accused Shelby of receiving campaign contributions from Mobile oil tycoon Bart Chamberlain, in return for pushing legislation that delayed enforcement of corporate liability for violations of the Department of Energy's oil price control regulations. According to the Birmingham Post Herald, (4/30/92), after the legislation passed, Chamberlain, who had been charged with violations of oil importation regulations, left the county had has not made good on the civil court penalties. Shelby responded to the charges by saying that Chamberlain's contribution was unsolicited, and was received 9 months prior to the legislation in question.

Sellers is running an anti-incumbent campaign, and is focusing on special interest lobbies and the need to curtail litigation. Shelby's core support comes from labor unions, trial lawyers, and businesses. Sellers is pro-life and supports school choice and term limits. Shelby is pro-choice, is opposed to school choice, and has not come out for or against term limits.

Sellers has little money (he has vowed not to accept any PAC money) and little name identification, while Shelby has amassed a substantial war chest, having accumulated $3 million in aggregate receipts and maintained $2 million cash-on-hand.

Shelby survived a June 2 primary with Jefferson County Commissioner Chris McNair, who had hoped to convert a heavy turnout in a newly drawn majority-black district and Shelby's conservative record into a primary upset. Shelby won with 61% of the vote.

Congressional Redistricting:

Alabama will neither gain nor lose seats in redistricting. They will retain their eleven congressional districts.

Congressional Elections:

2nd District:

In May, Republican Congressman Bill Dickinson announced he would not seek reelection to a ninth term in the U.S. House of Representatives. In the June 2nd Republican primary, businessman Terry Everett, who spent $400,000 of his own money on the race, defeated State Senator Larry Dixon by a 57% to 43% margin.

Everett will face State Treasurer George Wallace, Jr., the son of former Governor and one-time Independent candidate George Wallace. According to Roll Call, unlike his father, the younger Wallace has embraced moderate politics and reaches out to both blacks and white in his campaign. Wallace failed to attain an outright majority in a three-way race and had to face ex-medicaid Commissioner Faye Baggiano in a runoff on July 7th. Wallace defeated Baggiano in the runoff 57% to 43%.

3rd District:

Republican engineer Don Sledge will face Democrat incumbent Rep. Glen Browder, in this heavily black, Democratic district. Sledge lost to Browder in 1990, by a 74% to 26% margin. Sledge is pro-life, and supports school choice and term limits.

Sledge will be a greeter. His biography is attached.

6th District:

Democratic Incumbent Rep. Ben Erdreich was drawn into a tough congressional seat as the result of the creation of a new black-majority House district. The district is now strongly Republican -- the Bush/Quayle ticket too 76% of the vote here in 1988, and registration is 51% Republican.

Former Alabama GOP Chairman Spencer Bachus [PRONOUNCED BACK-US] and former Alabama GOP Executive Director Marty Connors failed to attain a majority in the four-way race and were thrown into a July 6th runoff. Bachus prevailed 59% to 41%. Bachus is the senior partner in the law firm of Bachus, Dempsey, Carson and Steed.

Erdreich has $550,000 in his coffers, while Bachus is carrying a debt from his primary.

Bachus is pro-life, and supports school choice and term limits. He is emphasizing the economy and congressional reform in his campaign. According to Bachus's campaign, Erdreich is running as the "business" candidate, yet received a 10% rating from the Chamber of Commerce in 1991.

Bachus will be a greeter. His biography is attached.

7th District:

Incumbent U.S. Representative Claude Harris retired rather than seek reelection in this new majority-black district. In the Democratic primary, state senators Earl Hilliard and Hank Sanders were thrown into a runoff, with Hilliard eventually prevailing 51% to 49%. Businessman Kervin Jones won the GOP nomination but is expected to face an uphill battle in the Fall. The winner for the general election race will be the first African-American to represent Alabama in Congress since Reconstruction.

State GOP Update:

Spencer Bachus was elected Republican Party Chairman on February 2, 1991. He resigned in March of 1992 to run in the 6th congressional district. Elbert Peters was appointed acting Chairman and was subsequently elected to the post on June 27, 1992, despite opposition from Bill McFarlan. Many at Bush/Quayle had hoped that McFarlan would win, believing hat while both candidates ere ardent Bush supports, McFarlan was better organized an d more motivated. Perry Hooper is the National Committeeman from Alabama. Jean Sullivan is the state's National Committeewoman.

Biography

A sixth generation Alabamian, Richard Sellers and his wife, Heather, live in Montgomery. Richard worked for former U. S. Senator John Sparkman from 1972-1977; since then he has been a small enterprise consultant. Richard graduated from Auburn University, and attended graduate school at the University of Alabama. From 1981-1991, Presidents Reagan and Bush have appointed him as Chairman of the Alabama Small Business Administration Advisory Committee - the highest private sector small business advocacy position in Alabama. Richard used the U. S. Senate experience to help advance the conservative movement believing things could be changed from the inside. He was elected president of a Congressional staff organization and regularly attended conservative Capitol Hill planning conferences. However, with the election of Jimmy Carter in 1977, Richard realized progress could only be made with conservative coalitions from the outside. In 1977, he left the U. S. Senate never to return to the government payroll. Richard then started his citizens campaign against big do-nothing government.

In addition to his consulting business, Richard Sellers serves as Chairman of Concerned Citizens Inc. (CC) - a nonprofit educational group - that points out the problems with special interest control of government. He is trying to build an Alabama membership of 10,000 individuals to monitor issues before the State Legislature and the U. S. Congress. CC plans to have 300,000 national members in all 50 states by 1993. This organization can enhance Richard's effectiveness as an Alabama U. S. Senator.

SPECIAL INTERESTS CONTROL THE U. S. SENATE

Over 4,000 lobbyists in Washington representing 10,000 clients distort the interests of the average Alabama voter. Most Senators get their money from Political Action Committees who expect favors in return. In the 1990 Alabama Governors campaign, two PACs made $1 million donations to the Democratic nominee. To break this cycle of special interests influence of Alabama elections, Richard will not take any money from special interest PACs.

White House Meeting, 1985

REPRESENTED IN WASHINGTON

Richard is running on his lifetime commitment to help the average Alabamian, not the special interests. He has spend many hours fighting for the common man at the Alabama and U. S. Capitols. America's problems cannot be solved if only the views of the vested interests are considered. Richard Sellers will fight for the little guy, not the big mules. Most of Senator Shelby's contributions come from special interests.

LIBERAL MILLIONAIRE TRIAL LAWYERS DOMINATE THE U.S. SENATE

America faces a litigation explosion with lawyers costing the economy $300 billion a year. Alabama needs a small businessman who will fight for Alabama's 120,000 small businesses, not for increasing litigation legislation for liberal trial lawyers. Senator Shelby is a millionaire trial lawyer.

RICHARD NEEDS YOUR HELP NOW

In order to take his fight against the liberal special interests to the U. S. Senate, Richard needs your financial contribution today. Polling data shows Richard is as strong as Shelby was against Denton one year before the 1986 election. Sellers can win. Please fill out the form on the back now.

Spencer Bachus
Biography

Spencer Bachus' life and career reflect a lifetime of service to the community, in both the private and the public sectors.

A native of Rocky Ridge, Bachus attended Shades Valley High School, and then Auburn University, from where he was graduated in 1969. He moved across the state to attend the University of Alabama Law School, earning his JD in 1972. While in law school, Bachus earned the Henry M. Somerville Award, given to the outstanding law school senior for excellence in legal writing and research.

Following a decade in private business and in the practice of law, Bachus launched his political career in 1982. Running in the 17th State Senatorial District, Bachus became one of the first three Republicans elected to the State Senate since Reconstruction. He served a year in the senate, earning kudos from the Birmingham News and Birmingham Post-Herald, before a court-ordered reapportionment cut his term short in 1983.

In the special election held that year, Bachus sought election to State House of Representatives District 46. He upset an incumbent in the GOP primary, and routed his Democratic rival in the general election, receiving the largest number of votes cast for any state Republican legislative candidate.

Once elected, Bachus immediately moved to the forefront of leadership in the House. He was elected Vice Chairman of the Jefferson County Legislative Delegation by fellow House Members, becoming the first GOP Vice Chairman in modern times.

Again, Bachus' service in the House earned him laurels from the state's major daily newspapers. He also became the first and only Republican to receive the "Commissioner's Merit Award" by the Alabama Department of Human Resources as the Outstanding Representative for 1986.

In 1986, Bachus opted to leave the legislature, but his political career continued to blossom. He managed Guy Hunt's successful gubernatorial campaign, which returned the State House to Republican hands for the first time in this century. Bachus also found time to get elected to the State Board of Education -- defeating five-term incumbent Harold C. Martin to become the first Republican ever to serve on the board.

Four years later, Bachus was the Republican candidate for state Attorney General. Early in 1991, he accepted the post of Chairman of the Republican Party, State of Alabama. In his year of service, he reduced overhead in the Party headquarters and produced an increase in party funds.

Bachus' community involvement extends to local civic and charitable organizations and he is an active member at Lakeside Baptist Church. He is a former manufacturer and sawmill owner.

Bachus, 44, is currently the senior partner in the law firm of Bachus, Dempsey, Carson and Steed.

He is the father of three sons, Warren 15, Stuart 14 and Elliot 7.
