INFORMATION

MEMORANDUM FOR THE VICE PRESIDENT

FROM: DAVE JUDAY
DEPUTY ASSISTANT TO THE VICE PRESIDENT
FOR DOMESTIC POLICY

SUBJECT: MAJOR DISASTER DECLARATION IN THE STATE OF OHIO

I. SUBJECT

The State of Ohio asked President Bush to declare a major disaster area exists in the State of Ohio in light of the incidence of severe storms, tornadoes, and flooding. The President signed the declaration on Tuesday, August 4, 1992.

II. DISCUSSION

The State of Ohio has experienced severe storms, tornadoes and flooding. The incident period began on July 12, 1992 and has continued through August 6, 1992. Governor Voinovich has asked for both individual and public assistance. Individual assistance applies to individuals and families. Public assistance applies to State and local governments for the repair or replacement of disaster-damaged public facilities.

Individual Assistance: The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) reports as of August 4, 1992, the Ohio disaster has resulted in 5 deaths and 19 injuries. 295 people were evacuated from their homes, 62 of which were placed in Red Cross shelters.

The Preliminary Damage Assessment (PDA) team indicated 571 residences were affected during the storm; 42 destroyed; 114 with major damage; and 260 with minor damage. The remaining 155 structures received very minor damage. The State received $1,244,600 in relief for individuals and families.

Public Assistance: Minor road washouts and debris along State roads were the major fallout. A bridge on State route 638 needs to be replaced. A water treatment plant in Van Wert county needs repair. The State received $3,961,400 in public assistance relief, $2,971,000 of which is being funded by the federal government.

Small Business Administration (SBA) Disaster Loan Program: $1,183,000 was provided for 85 residential loans at an average cost of $12,700, while 2 businesses may be eligible at an average loan of $51,900.

BRIEFING FOR THE VICE PRESIDENT
ADDRESS TO THE CITIZENS FOR A SOUND ECONOMY

Date: August 7, 1992
Location: Hyatt on Capitol Square, Columbus, Ohio
Time: 9:15 a.m. - 10:35 a.m.

From: David B. Rivkin, Jr. DBR

I. PURPOSE

You will deliver a speech to the Citizens for a Sound Economy. The speech will highlight the Administration's views on economic, environmental and regulatory issues, contrasting our record in these areas with that of the Democrats.

II. BACKGROUND

A. MISSION OF CITIZENS FOR A SOUND ECONOMY

Citizens for a Sound Economy (CSE) is a 250,000-member, nonpartisan, nonprofit citizen advocacy group, that promotes market-based solutions to public policy problems to achieve economic freedom and opportunity for all people. Significantly, CSE goes beyond the boundaries of traditional policy organizations by working to implement its agenda in all three branches of government. By mobilizing policymakers in Washington, media, and citizens across the country, CSE transforms policy proposals into reality. CSE has been a strong supporter of the Administration and has been extremely helpful to the Council on a number of occasions. You may be interested to know that Nancy Mitchell, formerly on your staff, has just joined CSE as the Vice President for Governmental Affairs. Citizens for a Sound Economy Foundation (CSE Foundation), the education and research affiliate of CSE, develops innovative solutions to today's economic problems through private-sector initiatives that reduce government intervention in the economy.

B. CSE STRATEGY

Select Issues -- CSE selects fundamental free-market issues upon which it can have an impact. Of particular importance are issues that preserve and promote the following: economic mobility for all people; the ability of an economy to create new, unregulated sectors and industries; and the ability of entrepreneurs to raise capital for new ventures. Targeted issues include: international trade, taxation and government spending, energy, telecommunications, and regulations.

Identify Constituencies -- CSE is a catalyst that works with an array of groups and individuals to implement reforms that promote and maintain a flourishing private sector. For each issue, CSE identifies the constituencies -- citizens, policymakers, media -- whose active involvement gives it the greatest chance of achieving its goals. Constituencies are called upon to exercise influence directly and to provide resources that it can employ in its mobilization efforts.

Mobilize Constituencies -- From original research, hard-hitting legislative testimony, persuasive commentary pieces, frequent lobbying visits and high-profile media events, CSE seeks to accomplish each of its policy goals.

Long-term Outlook -- CSE looks beyond the policy battles of the day to developing better prospects of dramatically changing public policy in the future, by developing political allies, building grassroots coalitions and stimulating debate about fundamental policy issues.

You should know that CSE is planning to distribute a publication, prepared by the Council staff, which describes the Council's achievements, with the particular emphasis on their impact on Ohio.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON COMPETITIVENESS

VICE PRESIDENT DAN QUAYLE, CHAIRMAN

" SAVING LIVES . . . CREATING JOBS "

OHIO

"SAVING LIVES ... CREATING JOBS"

OHIO

"Every regulation that reduces efficiency slaps a hidden tax on the consumer...From the tab on a bag of groceries at the checkout line to the sticker price on the showroom floor --every American takes a hit when the government over-regulates."

*President George Bush
January 30, 1992*

"From biotechnology to banking to energy, we've made achievements that will lower costs and increase choices for American consumers. We've carried out reforms that will create and preserve good jobs for Americans and help us stay competitive in the world."

*President George Bush
April 29, 1992*

"Reducing regulations often seems a little like ordering the tide not to come in. But there's a crucial difference: the tide is a natural force, while regulation is a very unnatural force, an intrusion into the healthy competition of a free economy. And with enough votes and enough resolve, it can and will be ordered to a stop."

*Vice President Dan Quayle
April 28, 1992*

"After all, let's ask ourselves: Does America really need 70 percent of the world's lawyers? Is it healthy for our economy to have 18 million new lawsuits coursing through the system annually? Is it right that people with disputes come up against staggering expense and delay? The answer is no. We are serious about challenging the status quo."

*Vice President Dan Quayle
August 13, 1991*

HIGHLIGHTS

- o The Council on Competitiveness leads the Administration's efforts to cutback excessive regulation. The Bush/Quayle Administration has successfully opposed congressional attempts to increase fuel efficiency standards (CAFE) that would threaten some 180,000 auto-related jobs in Ohio.
- o The Council's regulatory reform efforts will free up several billion dollars of additional residential lending in Ohio and trim $180 per year from the average Ohio family mortgage.
- o The Council protects individual property rights, preserving $6 billion of property value for Ohio land owners.

THE PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON COMPETITIVENESS

Under President Bush's leadership, the Administration has promoted American competitiveness at home and abroad. The President's Council on Competitiveness, chaired by Vice President Quayle, works to relieve the stranglehold of burdensome regulation and excessive litigation on our economy. By cutting the bureaucratic red tape in Washington, the Council creates and preserves American jobs, lowers prices for American consumers, yields more efficient protection of health, safety and the environment, and allows small businesses to compete in a free market.

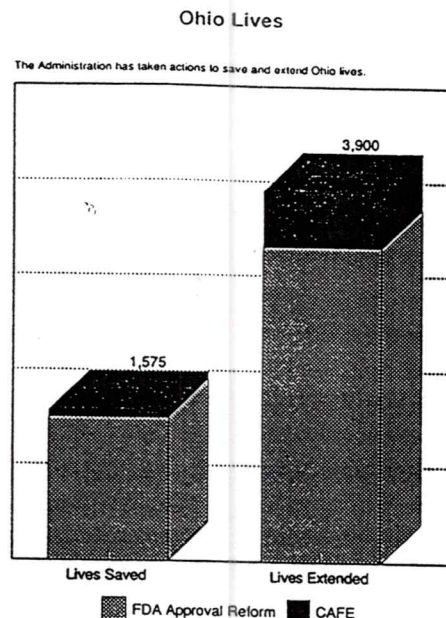

The Bush/Quayle Administration has taken significant actions on behalf of the state of Ohio that have and will continue to produce real and meaningful results for the workers, consumers, and industries of the State.

SAVE LIVES

o The Bush/Quayle Administration's reforms of the drug approval process save lives and reduce suffering for thousands in Ohio. Experts estimate that more than 1,500 lives will be saved annually in Ohio. The Council's reforms will cut, nearly in half, the time necessary to approve important new drugs to treat cancer, heart disease, Alzheimer's, depression, cystic fibrosis, AIDS and other life-threatening diseases. The 3,300 AIDS/HIV patients in Ohio can be helped by our rapid approval process.

o Health care has benefitted from U.S. world leadership in biotechnology that has created more than 750 new drugs, vaccines and devices to address diseases, cancer and AIDS.

o The Bush/Quayle Administration has also been a strong advocate for auto safety. It successfully opposed congressional efforts to increase the automobile fuel standards that could have resulted up to 75 additional deaths on Ohio highways per year, and 500-600 additional serious injuries throughout the State.

Sources: FDA, Bureau of the Census, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

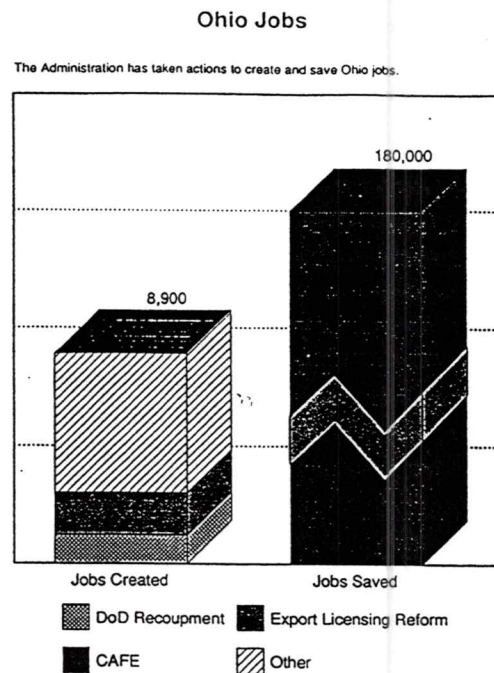

SAVE/CREATE JOBS

o The Administration's regulatory reform efforts have generated and saved jobs for workers in Ohio. Economists estimate that our efforts will save or create some 200,000 jobs nationwide, which translates into 8,900 jobs in Ohio. By cutting regulatory red tape, the Bush/Quayle Administration has freed up resources for productive, job-creating uses. These efforts have and will continue to touch the lives of the citizens of Ohio.

o By eliminating onerous Department of Defense procurement regulations, the Bush/Quayle Administration has made it possible for military technologies to be adapted for the commercial sector. The result is 1,100-1,200 Buckeye high-tech jobs created or saved, $40 million in additional revenues, and $10 million in reduced paperwork costs for Ohio industry.

o The Bush/Quayle Administration opposed efforts to expand harmful CAFE regulations that create incentives for American companies to relocate automobile and auto parts manufacturing overseas. Raising the CAFE standard just 2 mpg would cost over 100,000 jobs nationwide, displacing thousands of auto workers in Ohio. A CAFE standard of 40 mpg, the level mandated by the Democratic controlled Senate, would cripple the U.S. automobile industry and threaten some 180,000 auto related jobs in Ohio.

o The Bush/Quayle Administration has eased a variety of outdated export regulations that limited the ability of American businesses to compete overseas in such critical industries as computers and semi-conductors. The Administration's actions will eliminate burdensome licensing requirements, thereby deregulating $90 million of export production in Ohio and facilitating 1,800 jobs in the State.

o Declaring that no union member should be forced to fund political activities, President Bush issued an Executive Order to protect the rights of 2-3 million workers represented by unions who are not union members, but pay compulsory fees. An employee, choosing to exercise his or her Beck rights would receive a refund of approximately $400 per year. This annual refund amounts to about a week's wages for workers represented by unions.

FARMERS

- o The Bush/Quayle Administration has worked to protect individual property rights while maintaining care for the Buckeye State's wetlands. These efforts will preserve property rights for 15% of the state of Ohio which otherwise would have been regulated due to misclassifying dry land as wetlands. This translates into $6 billion of property value that support $80 million in annual revenues for Ohio's schools, highways, and programs for the needy.

- o In order to reduce the cost of agriculture to consumers, the USDA has provided an exemption to the nutrition-labelling mandate for small food producing firms. 84,000 farms in Ohio will benefit from this action.

- o The Council on Competitiveness' Report on National Biotechnology Policy sets forth a common-sense approach to biotechnological innovations in agriculture. Biotechnology offers the prospect of higher crop yields, reduced pesticide use, improved nutritional characteristics, and healthier crops for Ohio's 84,000 farms. By employing risk-based regulation, this industry will safely grow to $50 billion nationwide by the year 2000, with substantial benefits to Ohio workers and consumers.

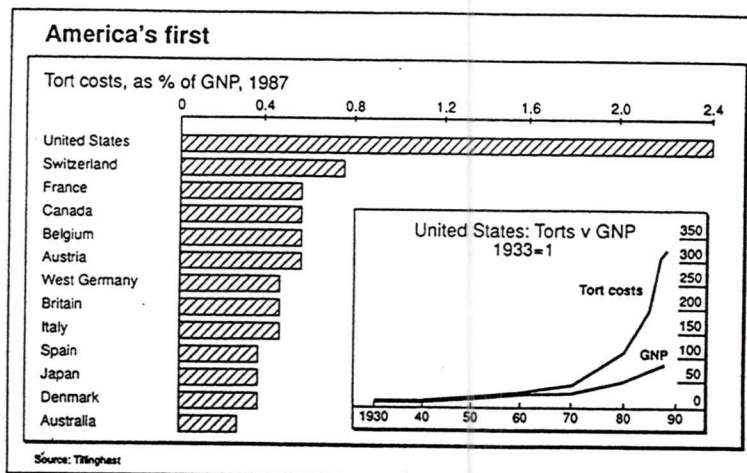

FAMILIES AND CHILDREN

- o The Bush/Quayle Administration has worked to make education available to everyone. The President's GI Bill for Kids would give every student who is economically disadvantaged a $1,000 scholarship to attend the school of his or her choice--public, private, parochial or secular. Under the bill some $1.2 billion ultimately would be available to over 1 million Ohio students. These scholarships ensure Ohio's students access to the education they need to contribute to a more competitive economy. More important, they put parents back into a position to choose what is best for their children and supports parents with the leverage to improve the situation in neighborhood schools. If the student attends a public school, the $1,000 scholarship will be in addition to the average $5,300 spent per pupil on Ohio's public schools. Vice President Quayle has championed school choice programs throughout the United States.

- o President Bush has also made parental choice a hallmark of his Child Care Program. Under his leadership, regulations implementing the Child Care and Development Block Grants will give low-income parents vouchers redeemable at a wide variety of child care alternatives. The Bush/Quayle Administration has protected the parents' right to place their children with relatives, at the local church or synagogue, at school, or at their place of employment while receiving federal funding. In this fiscal year, approximately $20 million is entrusted directly to Ohio parents for this purpose. Over 100,000 Ohio children will be served.

CIVIL JUSTICE REFORM

o Beginning with the American Bar Association convention last year, Vice President Quayle has tackled the civil justice system head-on with reforms to reduce the stranglehold of litigation on Ohio and on the American economy.

o Many of the reforms incorporate market-style incentives into the procedural system and seek to encourage earlier settlement. The Council on Competitiveness has worked with Ohio citizens to implement reforms which would promote fairness and predictability in Ohio's state courts. With 815,000 new civil cases filed in Ohio last year, the time has come for someone to stand up to the litigation explosion. The Council on Competitiveness is the voice in government leading the charge.

o Lack of clarity over Superfund liability drove many of Ohio's 1,500 lending institutions to be very reluctant in lending to Ohio businesses. The Council on Competitiveness has worked with EPA to clarify lender liability under Superfund and thereby improve the lending climate for Ohio's businesses.

ENVIRONMENT

o The Administration has worked with Ohio Governor George Voinovich on environmental programs that are affordable and effective, and preserve Buckeye state jobs. The Bush/Quayle Administration coordinated implementation of the new Clean Air Act that improves the quality of the environment in Ohio:

o Reduce emissions in the year 2000 by 10,000 million compared to what they would have been otherwise.

o Reduce cancer-causing hazardous air pollutants by 27 million pounds approximately four years ahead of schedule.

o Reformulate gasoline to make it less polluting by the emissions of ozone depleting and cancer-causing chemicals.

o Environmental quality in the U.S. has improved dramatically over the past decade: sulphur dioxide emissions have dropped 27%; carbon dioxide emissions are down 31%; ground ozone levels are down 16%; lead emissions have fallen decade: sulphur dioxide emissions have dropped 27%; carbon dioxide emissions are down 31%; ground ozone levels are down 16%; lead emissions have fallen by 89% from 1980 levels, and toxic releases into the air have declined even faster: about 15% per annum.

- o The Bush/Quayle Administration has helped Ohio and other States reduce air pollution so they come into attainment for Clean Air requirements in a manner that maximizes environmental benefits for each dollar spent by the industry.

BORROWERS AND HOMEOWNERS

- o The Bush/Quayle Administration has taken steps to free up several billion dollars in additional residential lending for the four million households in Ohio while maintaining the safety and security of the banking system.

- o Through recent reforms announced by the Office of Thrift Supervision will enable a typical Ohio family taking out a $100,000 30-year loan on a new home to save $180 in annual mortgage payments.

SMALL BUSINESS

- o Small businesses generate most of the new jobs in Ohio. Excessive regulation and litigation costs are often serve as the greatest barriers to new small businesses. The Council on Competitiveness has worked with the Securities and Exchange Commission to make it easier for the small businesses of Ohio to directly access capital markets. For the first time, thousands of small businesses will be able to use streamlined securities registration forms. It is estimated that eligible businesses could save over $180 million in legal and accounting fees.

- o The Council on Competitiveness has worked with the IRS to reduce burdensome federal pay roll tax reporting requirements. These reforms streamline tax forms and eliminate unnecessary paperwork for 200,000 small businesses in Ohio which employ 2 million workers.

- o The Administration has worked to implement the new Clean Air Act to minimize paperwork and red tape, while maximizing protection of the environment. The Council worked to secure a permanent deferral for 300,000 small and medium-sized businesses. It is a streamlined permitting process that allows maximum operational flexibility which ensures that all of the Act's requirements to protect the environment are implemented. The savings to Ohio are in the hundreds of millions of dollars annually.

CONTAIN UTILITY RATES

- o As part of President Bush's regulatory relief efforts, EPA will allow electric utilities to convert to natural gas use without the costly and time-consuming need for unnecessary external review. The final rule should lead to increased natural gas usage as well as lower electricity rates for the 4.3 million businesses and households in Ohio.

- o The Bush/Quayle Administration has adopted a policy to replace traditional cost of service regulation (which reduces incentives to reduce costs) with incentive regulations for utilities and pipelines. When fully implemented, this shift should reduce total electricity and natural gas costs by $80 million per year for the residents of Ohio.

- o The Council on Competitiveness has worked with the FCC to permit greater competition in the cable industry by regional telephone companies. Head-to-head competition in cable markets should reduce rates by 20%, and save consumers U.S. consumers an estimated $5.36 billion nationwide.

BRIEFING MEMORANDUM FOR THE VICE PRESIDENT
VISIT TO TWIN OAKS HOG FARM/ROUNDTABLE WITH FARMERS

Date: August 7, 1992
Time: 3:45 p.m.
Location: Shiloh, Ohio

From: Dave Juday

DJ

I. PURPOSE

... to discuss issues of concern with Ohio farmers. Farm income is up, and hog farmers are pleased with the Administration's announcement of a 30,000 metric ton pork EEP sale to the former Soviet Union. This visit will highlight the latest positive trends for hog farmers.

II. BACKGROUND

U.S. pork producers are faced with subsidized competition from Europe in selling pork products -- a staple in the Eastern European diet -- in the former Soviet Union.

The President directed Secretary Madigan to make available up to 30,000 metric tons of pork under the EEP. This is the first time that pork has had an EEP sale -- other commodities previously sold to the former Soviet Union under EEP include wheat, wheat flour, vegetable oil, barley, and rice.

Because pork is a value-added product there will be added economic benefits to the value of the meat exported (the EEP statute provides that 25 percent of all the EEP sales must be value-added). According to the University of Missouri, a sale of 30,000 metric tons of pork has the following economic impact:

- * use of 2.7 million bushels of corn
- * use of 600,000 bushels of soybeans
- * 30,639 days of labor (at 8 hrs/day)

Cost

The cost of EEP depends on the level of the subsidies by competing nations, the types of cuts desired, and the selling price of those cuts of pork. At current prices, the total cost of this sale is estimated to be between $16.4 and 19.1 million.

The EC spends about $1 billion per year on pork export subsidies. In the past two years, EC nations use both EC subsidies and member state subsidy programs to market their pork at about 50 percent of U.S. sales price.

We will spend about 1.2 billion in FY 1992 on all sales under the EEP program, up from $917 million in FY 1991.

How it Works

All sales are made by the private sector; each prospective exporter submits a bid to the USDA requesting a subsidy or bonus. USDA reviews the bids for the competitiveness of the bid submitted -- any or all may be rejected.

A SUMMARY OF RELEVANT AG ISSUES IS ATTACHED

Also of great interest to hog farmers is the animal rights issue. Just Tuesday night, by voice vote, legislation passed the House that would make it a federal crime to break-in to a farm or medical research facility to vandalize or free the animals. The farms groups strongly support that legislation -- a companion bill will be considered in the Senate.

Hog prices generally tend to be higher in the summer and drop in the fall -- that's why the EEP announcement was good news. The extreme high for hog prices was May 90 at $65 per hundredweight. By Thanksgiving of 90 they were at $46/cwt. By the 4th of July 1991 there were at $55 -- the extreme low was January 1992 when prices were at $35/cwt. As of Monday of this week the national average was $43/cwt.

NOTE: You did a "Q and A" with the Pork Producers' newsletter -- a copy is attached with significant portions highlighted.

Emery Grauer, Retired owner, Twin Oaks Hog Farm (father)

Gary Blumenthal, Deputy Assistant to the President

V. PRESS PLAN

Tour -- open press
Roundtable -- beginning only

Below is a summary of the major ag issues -- and Clinton's position is noted where applicable.

THE PRESIDENT'S GROWTH AGENDA FOR FARMERS

The President's growth package, if passed by Congress, would:

- * Increase gross farm receipts by $600 million the first year
- * Provide for more first year depreciation on farm machinery
- * Reduce capital gains rate for farmland and livestock
- * Allow farmers to contribute to IRA's even if spouse is covered by a pension plan (currently not allowed to do so)
- * Extend the tax exempt "aggie bond" program for first-time farm farmers (bonds can be issues by state and local government to help first time farmers buy land -- it expired June 30)
- * Allow farmers a tax deduction for 100 percent of health care insurance

BUSH RECORD ON AGRICULTURE

The President's plan for agriculture is to open new international markets, find new uses for ag products (ethanol), and reduce unnecessary regulations.

Under President Bush, ...

- * Farm income is up by $18 billion (from '89 to '91) (with government payments to farmers falling during that same period -- farmers are making money from the market)
- * Farm debt is down more than 35 percent from 1984 (before the first of two Republican administration farm bills)
- * Ag exports are growing -- expected to reach $40 billion this year

NAFTA

President Bush is at the forefront of negotiating a fair and free trade agreement with Mexico -- and expanding ag export market. Mexico has 90 million people with incomes that are increasing -- it will be a good market for all U.S. exports.

U.S. ag exports to Mexico have more than doubled to $2.9 billion since 1986. The U.S. is the largest ag supplier to Mexico; the remains more opportunity to grow as Mexican tariffs are higher than U.S. tariffs -- Mexican tariffs average about 11 percent while U.S. tariffs are only about seven percent.

Clinton's National Economic Strategy calls for a free-trade agreement with Mexico (-- we've beat him to the punch).

WETLANDS

The council is still working with the agencies to get the wetlands manual out. The Pork Producers submitted comments to the Federal Register that supported what the Council was trying to do: hydric soils, presence of water for 15 to 21 days, and hydrophytic vegetation.

The group will also support Sen. Bond's bill that simplifies and streamlines the administration of agricultural wetlands by transferring the jurisdiction to the Soil Conservation Service.

Clinton says that our wetlands proposal is much too extreme. He wants about 60 million acres of farmland to be regulated as a wetland.

GATT

The Pork producers' main concerns about GATT:

- * EC's export subsidies must be addressed -- they subsidize pork at more than 14 cents per pound; it is starting to affect sales of US pork in Japan -- our biggest market.

- * Market access must be provided in foreign markets or the pork producers would support a ban on EC imports into the US

- * Meat Inspection standards must be based on good science

- * Domestic subsidies -- especially Canada's -- also must be on the table in addition to export subsidies.

EC

The European Community has a regulation that is based on politics more than science called the "Third Country Meat Directive." It uses sanitary requirements as an excuse for a trade barrier -- the effect has been to almost eliminate pork imports from the U.S. into the EC.

As of June last year, the USTR has requested a panel under GATT to discuss and resolve this issue.

CANADA

Canada has a subsidy system that guarantees a profit margin for hog farmers -- the U.S. does not subsidize hog farming. In 1985, the Commerce Department placed a countervailing duty on Canadian hog imports and in 1989 placed an additional duty on fresh and frozen pork to level off the distorting effect of the subsidy. Since an appeal by the Canadian government, the duty on pork was suspended last Summer but the duty on hogs remains. A binational dispute panel has been set up to deal with the issue of live hogs and will rule in December of this year. Canada exports more than one million hogs per year to the U.S. You worked on the Canadian hog import issue in 1985 in the Senate.

AIR QUALITY

Because of the smell associated with hog farms, the pork producers are very concerned with all types of air quality technologies, regulations, issues, etc. This year OSHA proposed that their air quality regs for workers be extended to agriculture -- which would hit confinement hog farms -- where there are more than 10 employees. The pork producers' position is that all such air quality issues be based on science.

AG STABILIZATION AND CONSERVATION SERVICE (ASCS)

The USDA has begun a review of all of its offices nationwide as part of its effort to improve ag services. This issue was originally brought to the forefront by Senator Lugar, in order to close unnecessary and duplicative offices. USDA has announced that no offices will be closed pending the findings of the review. USDA has 81 Ag Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) offices in Ohio's 88 counties. The average distance between offices is 30 miles.

CLEAN WATER ACT

One of the biggest issues for farmers is the upcoming reauthorization of the Clean Water Act. Specifically, non-point source pollution, such as fertilizer run-off, manure, etc. -- as opposed to factory or plant specific "point" source.

EPA indicates that the National Pork Producers have been outstanding in recognizing the need to address pollution prevention over the past years. USDA has funded eight research projects in Ohio for a total of $132,000 to test control sources.

Farmers do not want a strict national standard for non-point source control, as it would treat hilly areas and flat areas, and all types of soils the same, despite the obvious differing run-off problems. Clinton, however, wants national standards for non-point source pollution.

ETHANOL

The President has proposed tax incentives for domestically produced ethanol (made from fermenting corn). In 1980 about 40 million gallons of ethanol were produced in the US -- in 1990 about 900 million gallons were produced. The Competitiveness Council has helped get out new regulations to allow the use of ethanol. USDA is doing research on mixing ethanol and gasoline to make gasohol. As Governor, Clinton repealed the tax credit in Arkansas for ethanol. His current position papers mentions natural gas as an alternative fuel but makes no mention of ethanol.

TALKING POINTS FOR THE VICE PRESIDENT
MEETING WITH OHIO FARMERS

- o Great to be here -- reminds me of Indiana
- o I appreciate this opportunity to hear from you
- o I know hog prices have been down this year -- the EEP ought to help. It is going to help corn, soybeans, and rural economies all over America.
- o We used the EEP to counter the EC's subsidies -- "fight fire with fire" as the old saying goes, and we are committed to opening new markets.
- o President Bush's record on agriculture has been good: income's up, debt's down, and exports are growing.
- o There are a lot of challenges ahead -- especially in the environmental area, and the President and I will work to keep the regulatory burden at bay.
- o I'd like to hear your perspective on some of these issues.

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE VICE PRESIDENT FOR POLITICAL AFFAIRS

SUBJECT: OHIO VICTORY '92 LUNCHEON

Date of Event: Friday, August 7, 1992

Location: Double Eagle Club
Galena, Ohio

Time: 12:45 p.m.

I. Purpose

To participate in a fundraising luncheon (100 people @ $1,000 per couple) for Ohio's Victory '92 program. You will make remarks, participate in pull away meetings, and a photo opportunity.

II. Background

John H. McConnell, President and CEO of Worthington Industries will host this event and introduce you. His biography is attached.

Governor George Voinovich and GOP Chairman Bob Bennett will be in attendance. Their biographies are attached.

OHIO POLITICAL BRIEFING:

BUSH/QUAYLE '92:

The Ohio presidential primary was held on June 2, 1992. The results are as follows:

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY:	President Bush	83%
	Pat Buchanan	17%
DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY:	Bill Clinton	61%
	Jerry Brown	19%
	Paul Tsongas	11%
	Uncommitted	9%

The Ohio Bush/Quayle '92 Chairman is Governor George Voinovich. The Finance Chairman is W.R. "Tim" Timken.

In 1988, the Bush/Quayle ticket received 55% of the vote.

Ohio has 21 electoral votes, and will be a key political battleground in 1992, as it was in 1988. Ohio has supported Republican Presidential candidates in the past three elections, but Democrats have indicated that they will work hard to break that tradition in 1992. Democrat Governor Bill Clinton has made a number of campaign stops in Ohio, including a trip on Thursday, April 16, to address the 158,000 member United Transportation Union and participate in two fundraisers. One of the fundraisers was held at the home of Democrat Joel Hyatt, owner of Hyatt Legal Services and son-in-law of U.S. Senator Howard Metzenbaum.

The most recent state-wide poll in Ohio was conducted before Perot's withdrawal (June 17-22) by the public relations firm of Paul Werth Associates. The poll shows the following results:

Ross Perot	32%
President Bush	26%
Bill Clinton	18%
Undecided	27%

The Buckeye Road Volunteer Office, the first minority group to back Perot, held a press conference today to announce their endorsement of the Bush/Quayle ticket.

1992 -- OHIO STATE HOUSE:

The top priority for the state party is winning a majority in the State House. The Democrats control the State House 61 to 38, and the Republicans control the State Senate 21 to 12. The Democrats have controlled the State House for the last twenty years.

The State GOP reports that a Republican takeover is possible because of this year's state legislative redistricting plan that favors Republicans. In a 3 to 2 vote, the Republican controlled Apportionment Board adopted a plan that created a number of open seats where Republicans can win, and a large number of minority districts. The Board included Governor Voinovich, Secretary of State Bob Taft, Republican State Senate President Stanley Aranoff, Democrat State House member Barney Quilter, and Democrat State Auditor Tom Ferguson.

In a victory for Republicans, the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the legislative map drawn by the Republican majority Apportionment board. The Court issued an order on April 20 to block a U.S. District Court ruling that would require a redrawing of the maps by a special master and a September 8 primary. While the Supreme Court did not rule in favor of the GOP plan, it did rule that elections will be held on June 2 under the GOP lines. The Ohio Republican party is confident that Republicans will win a majority in the State House.

DEWINE FOR U.S. SENATE:

In 1992, Senator John Glenn, a member of the Keating Five, is running for re-election. Lt. Governor Mike DeWine is the leading Republican candidate.

A poll conducted by Paul Werth & Associates (June 17-22) showed DeWine trailing Glenn by a 42% to 31% margin. The latest poll, conducted by Tarrance and Associates (July 1-4) showed Glenn leading DeWine by a 48% to 46% margin.

According to White House Political Affairs, DeWine received a strong boost on July 21st when the Fraternal Order of Police of Ohio endorsed his candidacy. DeWine was the only Republican in the state endorsed by the organization at its annual meeting in Akron. The policemen's support is seen as a reflection of DeWine's tough anti-crime record.

DeWine's Issues:

The campaign's main theme is "time for a change." They hope to demonstrate that Glenn is the consummate entrenched politician. DeWine's ethics in government proposal includes extending the application of laws to Congress, which granted itself immunity from them; reducing the size of congressional staffs; reforming the committee structure in Congress; and enacting term limits. DeWine will also run on a tough anti-crime package and a family values platform.

Glenn's Issues:

The political consulting firm of Doak and Shrum are running Glenn's campaign. They are expected to run a "populist" campaign, focusing on DeWine's congressional votes against unions, the minimum wage, and plant closing legislation.

CONGRESSIONAL REAPPORTIONMENT AND ELECTIONS:

Ohio will lose two congressional seats due to reapportionment. Retirements, redistricting, and check-kiting scandals are expected to result in the election of 5 or 6 new Congressmen from Ohio. The Ohio delegation is currently made up of 11 Democrats to 10 Republicans. The State GOP expects the 1992 elections to result in a delegation of 10 Republicans, and 9 Democrats.

Four Congressmen have announced their intentions to retire. Rep. Dennis Eckart (D-11) and Rep. Don Pease (D-13) both retired in October because of unfavorable redistricting. Congressmen Chalmers Wylie (R-15) and Edward Feighan (D-19) are guilty of check-kiting, and announced their plans to retire as well. In a surprise move Rep. Charles Luken (D-1) announced he will not seek re-election. Luken faced no primary opposition.

Congressmen Clarence Miller (R-10) and Bob McEwen (R-6) faced each other in the primary. McEwen emerged the victor, prevailing 51%-49%. According to White House Political Affairs, McEwen recently accused the President of being too accommodating to the Democrat controlled Congress. He has also derided the President for "coming to the American people with an empty basket."

There were three other Congressional Republican primaries in the 10th, 11th, and 19th congressional districts -- all for open seats. In the 10th District, Martin Hoke won a three-way race, garnering 33% of the vote. In the 11th district, Beryl Rothschild won a four-way race for the GOP nomination taking 45% of the vote. Finally, in the 19th district Robert Gardner won a five-way race for the nomination by garnering 34% of the vote.

In addition, Congresswoman Mary Rose Oakar (D-20) prevailed in a very tough six-way primary battle against Cuyahoga County Commissioner Tim Hagan. Oakar was listed among the top House check-bouncers, bouncing 217 checks, overdrawing her salary 21 of 39 months. She receiving 39% of the vote compared to 30% for Hagan.

In the first district seat to be vacated by retiring Rep. Charles Luken, a special election was held on August 4 between City Councilman and former Cincinnati Mayor David Mann, Rev. Charles Winburn, public relations expert Steven Reece and State Senator William Bowen. Mann is the reported victor.

Republican Steve Grodey failed to qualify for the Republican ballot. Grodey has filed as an Independent, and will be endorsed by the State GOP.

Republican Secretary of State Bob Taft ruled that the Republicans may not have a special primary.

TERM LIMITS:

Governor Voinovich and Lt. Governor DeWine have publicly stated their support for term limitations for legislators.

After gathering the requisite number of signatures, Ohioans for Term Limits filed for the November ballot on Monday, August 3, 1992.

NOTE: This event will take place in Rep. John Kasich's (R-12) congressional district. The Mayor of Galena is Donald B. Miller (R).

GEORGE V. VOINOVICH

March 1990

LEADERSHIP THAT WORKS, A SPIRIT OF COOPERATION, AND A HIGH STANDARD OF INTEGRITY HAVE BEEN THE HALLMARKS OF THE PUBLIC SERVICE CAREER OF REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR GEORGE VOINOVICH.

A NATIVE OF CLEVELAND AND A LIFELONG OHIOAN, GEORGE IS A GRADUATE OF OHIO UNIVERSITY AND THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF LAW.

MR. VOINOVICH BEGAN HIS 23-YEAR PUBLIC SERVICE CAREER AS AN ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL, SPECIALIZING IN WORKERS COMPENSATION.

HIS FIRST ELECTED POST WAS AS A STATE LEGISLATOR. AS A MEMBER OF THE OHIO HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FOR FIVE YEARS, GEORGE VOINOVICH SPONSORED OR CO-SPONSORED 85 BILLS WHICH BECAME LAW. AN INFLUENTIAL MEMBER OF THE HOUSE FINANCE COMMITTEE, GEORGE WAS ALSO VICE-CHAIRMAN OF THE ENVIRONMENT AND NATURAL RESOURCES COMMITTEE. HE LED THE SUCCESSFUL FIGHT TO STOP OIL AND GAS DRILLING IN LAKE ERIE, PROVIDED LEADERSHIP IN ESTABLISHING THE OHIO ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY, AND WAS THE HOUSE SPONSOR OF OHIO'S HOMESTEAD TAX EXEMPTION, WHICH IS A SIGNIFICANT PROPERTY TAX CREDIT FOR SENIOR CITIZENS.

MR. VOINOVICH LATER SERVED AS CUYAHOGA COUNTY AUDITOR, WHERE HE EARNED DISTINCTION FOR HIS WORK TO MODERNIZE OHIO'S REAL ESTATE REAPPRAISAL SYSTEM AND HIS LEADERSHIP IN PASSING A LANDMARK OHIO LAW TO PREVENT AUTOMATIC AND EXCESSIVE INCREASES IN RESIDENTIAL AND AGRICULTURAL PROPERTY TAXES.

GEORGE ALSO SERVED TWO YEARS AS CUYAHOGA COUNTY COMMISSIONER, LEADING THE EFFORT TO REORGANIZE COUNTY GOVERNMENT AND ESTABLISHED THE COUNTY'S FIRST ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT.

IN 1978, GEORGE VOINOVICH WAS ELECTED OHIO LT. GOVERNOR AND WAS THE FIRST CHAIRMAN OF OHIO'S STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT COMMISSION. IN THAT JOB, HE PUSHED FOR ELIMINATION OF STATE MANDATES WITHOUT CORRESPONDING STATE AID. HE ALSO ADVOCATED AMENDING THE OHIO CONSTITUTION TO PROVIDE BETTER HOUSING FOR OHIO'S ELDERLY, DISABLED AND LOW INCOME CITIZENS AND TO PROVIDE LOWER MORTGAGE RATES FOR FIRST-TIME HOME BUYERS.

IN 1979, WITH THE CITY OF CLEVELAND IN FINANCIAL CRISIS AND BESET WITH GOVERNMENTAL TURMOIL, GEORGE WAS CALLED UPON TO RUN FOR MAYOR OF HIS HOMETOWN.

IN A CITY WHERE DEMOCRATS OUTNUMBER REPUBLICANS EIGHT TO ONE, GEORGE VOINOVICH WAS ELECTED FIRST TO A TWO-YEAR TERM, THEN REELECTED OVERWHELMINGLY TO TWO FOUR-YEAR TERMS.

HIS TEN YEARS OF HIGHLY-ACCLAIMED LEADERSHIP IN CLEVELAND MADE GEORGE VOINOVICH THE LONGEST-STANDING MAYOR IN CITY HISTORY. IN 1985 HIS PEERS ELECTED HIM PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL LEAGUE OF CITIES AND IN 1986 THE NATIONAL JOURNAL NAMED HIM ONE OF ONLY FIVE LOCAL AND STATE OFFICIALS THAT MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN WASHINGTON D.C.

UNDER HIS LEADERSHIP, CLEVELAND WAS NAMED AN "ALL-AMERICA" CITY AN UNPRECEDENTED THREE TIMES IN A FIVE-YEAR PERIOD. IN 1983, READER'S DIGEST DESCRIBED CLEVELAND'S COMEBACK BY SAYING, "FOUR YEARS AGO THIS ONCE-PROUD METROPOLIS WAS A NATIONAL JOKE - BANKRUPT, DIVIDED, HOPELESS. TODAY, THANKS TO MAYOR GEORGE VOINOVICH AND LEGIONS OF AROUSED CITIZENS, IT IS AN 'ALL AMERICA' CITY."

THE VOINOVICH ADMINISTRATION RESTORED CIVIC PRIDE AND COMMUNITY-WIDE COOPERATION. THE CITY WAS BROUGHT OUT OF FINANCIAL DEFAULT AND EXPERIENCED THE BIGGEST BUILDING BOOM AND ECONOMIC REVITALIZATION IN CITY HISTORY. CITY SERVICES WERE IMPROVED AND MADE MORE EFFICIENT. OPERATIONS WERE STREAMLINED. IN 1987, HE WAS ONE OF THREE MAYORS NAMED TO CITY AND STATE MAGAZINE'S ALL-PRO MANAGEMENT TEAM AND THE NATIONAL URBAN COALITION SELECTED HIM AS ONE OF FOUR DISTINGUISHED URBAN MAYORS.

WHEN GEORGE VOINOVICH LEFT OFFICE ON JANUARY FIRST OF THIS YEAR, THERE WERE TEN PERCENT FEWER CITY EMPLOYEES THAN WHEN HE STARTED TEN YEARS PREVIOUSLY. LAST JUNE, BUSINESS MONTH SINGLEDED VOINOVICH OUT IN AN ARTICLE TITLED "HOT MANAGERS - HIZZLING CITIES" BY SAYING THAT "GEORGE VOINOVICH IS LIVING PROOF THAT WITH GOOD MANAGEMENT EVEN THE MOST BATTERED CITY CAN COME BACK FROM THE GRAVE."

GEORGE'S RUNNING MATE FOR LT. GOVERNOR IS CONGRESSMAN MIKE DEWINE, OF OHIO'S SEVENTH DISTRICT. TOGETHER, GEORGE VOINOVICH AND MIKE DEWINE HAVE 39 YEARS OF PUBLIC SERVICE EXPERIENCE AT THE CITY, COUNTY, STATE AND FEDERAL LEVELS.

PLEASE ALLOW ME TO INTRODUCE GEORGE VOINOVICH.

SUBJECT: FUNDRAISER FOR CONGRESSMAN MIKE OXLEY

Date of Event: Friday, August 7, 1992
Location: Dave and Franny Carto Residence
Mansfield, Ohio
Time: 5:45 p.m.

I. Purpose

To make remarks, participate in a question and answer session, and mix and mingle at a fundraising reception (100-140 people @ $150 per person) for Congressman Mike Oxley (R-4).

II. Background

Dave and Franny Carto will host this event in their home. Dave Carto is the President and CEO of the Snowtrails Ski Resort in Mansfield, Ohio. His biography is attached.

Mike Oxley is running for reelection to his 7th term in Congress. He was uncontested in the Republican primary, and will face steel worker and union/management liaison Ray Ball in the general election.

Oxley serves on the Energy and Commerce Committee, and is a member of three subcommittees: Telecommunications and Finance; Energy and Power; and Commerce, Consumer Protection, and Competitiveness. Prior to his election to Congress in 1981, he practiced law and served in the Ohio State House (1972-81). He is a former special agent of the FBI (1969-72).

He earned his law degree from the Ohio State University College of Law in 1969 and his bachelor of arts degree from Miami of Ohio University in 1966. He and his wife, Pat, are the parents of a son, Chadd.

Although Republicans make up 54% of the district, Oxley is reportedly campaigning harder than ever in this anti-incumbent year.

The Fourth District:

The Fourth District of Ohio is heavily industrialized, and traditionally Republican. The area has been a Republican stronghold since the Civil War. It voted for George Voinovich in his losing race against Howard Metzenbaum in 1988 and by a larger margin in his winning race for governor in 1990.

Mansfield (population 57,000) was the home of John Sherman, one of Ohio's great Republican statesmen of the 19th Century, and his brother General William Tecumseh Sherman, who marched through Georgia for the Union. Today Mansfield is the home of a General Motors plant, several electronics industry plants, and a steel mill. Over 2,000 jobs recently were lost resulting from closures and lay offs at Westinghouse, Frigidaire, and Barnes Manufacturing.

Following redistricting, there will be about 100,000 voters who are new to Oxley.

Issues:

Oxley is running on his conservative voting record in Congress. His campaign slogan is "Working Hard for Hard Working People." He is conservative socially and fiscally, and is touting the Administration's economic growth package as the best way to create jobs.

Unlike most Ohio Democrats from big industrial centers, Oxley is a believer in free trade. He serves on the Energy and Commerce Committee, where he tends to vote against federal regulation. On the Clean Air Act, he helped protect Ohio's high-sulfur power plants and heavy industry factories from expensive regulations.

He is pro-life, supports school choice, but is privately opposed to term limits (he has so far managed to evade the issue).

Oxley's opponent, Ray Ball reportedly receives funding from unions and labor organizations. He has not received much press or been very vocal on the issues. The Oxley campaign expects him to run a negative campaign in the last weeks before the election.

Fundraising:

To date, Oxley has raised about $170,000.

NOTE: This event will take place in Rep. Mike Oxley (R-4). The Mayor of Mansfield is Charles Scott, Jr. (D).

Congressman Mike Oxley Biography

Congressman Mike Oxley represents Ohio's Fourth Congressional District. He served nine years in the Ohio General Assembly before winning election to Congress in a 1981 special election. He has been re-elected by wide margins in five subsequent elections.

The Fourth District Oxley represents is comprised of all or part of nine counties in the heartland of Ohio—Allen, Auglaize, Crawford, Hancock, Hardin, Knox, Richland, Shelby, and Wyandot. Its three most populous cities are Lima, Mansfield, and Findlay, Oxley's hometown.

Energy and Commerce Committee

Congressman Oxley is serving his fifth term as a member of the House Energy and Commerce Committee and is seated eighth of the sixteen Republican members. He is the only Ohio Republican on the panel, which holds jurisdiction over issues of significance to the state, such as trade, natural gas and coal, clean air, and telecommunications. Congressman Oxley is a member of three subcommittees: Telecommunications and Finance; Energy and Power; and Commerce, Consumer Protection, and Competitiveness.

Clean Air Act

In the last Congress, Oxley was deeply involved in negotiations in Congress and the Bush Administration regarding the Clean Air Act revision. Appointed to the House-Senate conference committee on the bill, he also worked on behalf of Ohio's interests at the subcommittee, committee, and floor levels. While he supported the legislation, Oxley was skeptical of the tremendous costs, in light of inconclusive scientific evidence regarding acid rain and the minimal benefit to human health. He pointed to Ohio's reductions in sulfur emissions and efforts in clean coal technology. He successfully offered the Oxley "auction" proposal, building on President Bush's concept of allowing the market to encourage reductions in pollution.

Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control

A former special agent of the FBI, Congressman Oxley draws upon his law enforcement background as a member of the Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control. The third-ranking Republican member on the panel, he played a key role in the drafting of the anti-drug bill approved in the 101st Congress and has been active on crime victims' rights. In 1988, Oxley offered two amendments on the floor of the House which are now law: to create a Cabinet-level "drug czar" in the executive branch and to pave the way for greater use of federal sting operations against drug money launderers.

Awards and Memberships

Congressman Oxley is a fiscal conservative and works to reduce the federal deficit. In recognition of his responsible votes on spending, he has been recognized by the Watchdogs of the Treasury every year he has served in Congress.

Oxley has been active in efforts to promote economic growth in Ohio and is a proponent of free trade and increased exports. He is a member of the House Republican Task Forces on Energy, and Trade and Competitiveness, and he serves as co-chair of the Acid Rain Task Force. He has received the Guardian of Small Business Award from the National Federation of Independent Business four times. He earned three Spirit of Enterprise Awards from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, the American Security Council has awarded him its National Security Leadership Award every year of his tenure in Congress. Oxley holds membership in the Congressional Rural Caucus.

Personal Background

Born February 11, 1944, Congressman Oxley is an attorney by profession. He earned his law degree from The Ohio State University College of Law in 1969 and his bachelor of arts degree from Miami (of Ohio) University in 1966. He is a member of the American, Ohio, and Findlay Bar Associations and, in May, 1985, was admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court. Congressman Oxley is also a member of Rotary International, Findlay Elks, the Ohio Farm Bureau, the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI, and Sigma Chi fraternity. His political background includes staff experience with former Eighth Ohio District Congressman Jackson Betts, former Ohio Lieutenant Governor John Brown, and former Ohio Attorney General William Saxbe.

Congressman Oxley and his wife, Pat, are the parents of a son, Chadd.

SUBJECT: DROP BY OHIO REPUBLICAN PARTY FUNDRAISING
BREAKFAST

Date of Event: Friday, August 7, 1992
Location: Hyatt on Capitol Square
Columbus, Ohio
Time: 8:00 a.m.

I. Purpose

To drop by a fundraising breakfast (60 attendees) for Republican candidates for the Ohio State House. This event will be hosted by the Ohio GOP. They have invited PAC representatives to bring up to ten members for a contribution of $5,000 per PAC. They expect to raise $30,000.

You will make brief remarks and participate in a brief question and answer session.

II. Background

Assistant Republican Leader of the State House Representative Dave Johnson will introduce you. His biography is attached.

OHIO POLITICAL BRIEFING:

1992 -- OHIO STATE HOUSE:

The top priority for the state party is winning a majority in the State House. The Democrats control the State House 61 to 38, and the Republicans control the State Senate 21 to 12. The Democrats have controlled the State House for the last twenty years.

The State GOP reports that a Republican takeover is possible because of this year's state legislative redistricting plan that favors Republicans. In a 3 to 2 vote, the Republican controlled Apportionment Board adopted a plan that created a number of open seats where Republicans can win, and a large number of minority districts. The Board included Governor Voinovich, Secretary of State Bob Taft, Republican State Senate President Stanley Aranoff, Democrat State House member Barney Quilter, and Democrat State Auditor Tom Ferguson.

In a victory for Republicans, the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the legislative map drawn by the Republican majority Apportionment board. The Court issued an order on April 20 to block a U.S. District Court ruling that would require a redrawing of the maps by a special master and a September 8 primary. While the Supreme Court did not rule in favor of the GOP plan, it did rule that elections will be held on June 2 under the GOP lines. The Ohio Republican party is confident that Republicans will win a majority in the State House.

BUSH/QUAYLE '92:

The Ohio presidential primary was held on June 2, 1992. The results are as follows:

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY:	President Bush	83%
	Pat Buchanan	17%
DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY:	Bill Clinton	61%
	Jerry Brown	19%
	Paul Tsongas	11%
	Uncommitted	9%

The Ohio Bush/Quayle '92 Chairman is Governor George Voinovich. The Finance Chairman is W.R. "Tim" Timken.

In 1988, the Bush/Quayle ticket received 55% of the vote.

Ohio has 21 electoral votes, and will be a key political battleground in 1992, as it was in 1988. Ohio has supported Republican Presidential candidates in the past three elections, but Democrats have indicated that they will work hard to break that tradition in 1992. Democrat Governor Bill Clinton has made a number of campaign stops in Ohio, including a trip on Thursday, April 16, to address the 158,000 member United Transportation Union and participate in two fundraisers. One of the fundraisers was held at the home of Democrat Joel Hyatt, owner of Hyatt Legal Services and son-in-law of U.S. Senator Howard Metzenbaum.

The most recent state-wide poll in Ohio was conducted before Perot's withdrawal (June 17-22) by the public relations firm of Paul Werth Associates. The poll shows the following results:

Ross Perot	32%
President Bush	26%
Bill Clinton	18%
Undecided	27%

The Buckeye Road Volunteer Office, the first minority group to back Perot, held a press conference today to announce their endorsement of the Bush/Quayle ticket.

DEWINE FOR U.S. SENATE:

In 1992, Senator John Glenn, a member of the Keating Five, is running for re-election. Lt. Governor Mike DeWine is the leading Republican candidate.

A poll conducted by Paul Werth & Associates (June 17-22) showed Dewine trailing Glenn by a 42% to 31% margin. The latest poll, conducted by Tarrance and Associates (July 1-4) showed Glenn leading DeWine by a 48% to 46% margin.

According to White House Political Affairs, Dewine received a strong boost on July 21st when the Fraternal Order of Police of Ohio endorsed his candidacy. DeWine was the only Republican in the state endorsed by the organization at its annual meeting in Akron. The policemen's support is seen as a reflection of DeWine's tough anti-crime record.

DeWine's Issues:

The campaign's main theme is "time for a change." They hope to demonstrate that Glenn is the consummate entrenched politician. DeWine's ethics in government proposal includes extending the application of laws to Congress, which granted itself immunity from them; reducing the size of congressional staffs; reforming the committee structure in Congress; and enacting term limits. DeWine will also run on a tough anti-crime package and a family values platform.

Glenn's Issues:

The political consulting firm of Doak and Shrum are running Glenn's campaign. They are expected to run a "populist" campaign, focusing on DeWine's congressional votes against unions, the minimum wage, and plant closing legislation.

CONGRESSIONAL REAPPORTIONMENT AND ELECTIONS:

Ohio will lose two congressional seats due to reapportionment. Retirements, redistricting, and check-kiting scandals are expected to result in the election of 5 or 6 new Congressmen from Ohio. The Ohio delegation is currently made up of 11 Democrats to 10 Republicans. The State GOP expects the 1992 elections to result in a delegation of 10 Republicans, and 9 Democrats.

Four Congressmen have announced their intentions to retire. Rep. Dennis Eckart (D-11) and Rep. Don Pease (D-13) both retired in October because of unfavorable redistricting. Congressmen Chalmers Wylie (R-15) and Edward Feighan (D-19) are guilty of check-kiting, and announced their plans to retire as well. In a surprise move Rep. Charles Luken (D-1) announced he will not seek re-election. Luken faced no primary opposition.

Congressmen Clarence Miller (R-10) and Bob McEwen (R-6) faced each other in the primary. McEwen emerged the victor, prevailing 51%-49%. According to White House Political Affairs, McEwen recently accused the President of being too accommodating to the Democrat controlled Congress. He has also derided the President for "coming to the American people with an empty basket."

There were three other Congressional Republican primaries in the 10th, 11th, and 19th congressional districts -- all for open seats. In the 10th District, Martin Hoke won a three-way race, garnering 33% of the vote. In the 11th district, Beryl Rothschild won a four-way race for the GOP nomination taking 45% of the vote. Finally, in the 19th district Robert Gardner won a five-way race for the nomination by garnering 34% of the vote.

In addition, Congresswoman Mary Rose Oakar (D-20) prevailed in a very tough six-way primary battle against Cuyahoga County Commissioner Tim Hagan. Oakar was listed among the top House check-bouncers, bouncing 217 checks, overdrawing her salary 21 of 39 months. She receiving 39% of the vote compared to 30% for Hagan.

In the first district seat to be vacated by retiring Rep. Charles Luken, a special election was held on August 4 between City Councilman and former Cincinnati Mayor David Mann, Rev. Charles Winburn, public relations expert Steven Reece and State Senator William Bowen. Mann is the reported victor.

Republican Steve Grodey failed to qualify for the Republican ballot. Grodey has filed as an Independent, and will be endorsed by the State GOP.

Republican Secretary of State Bob Taft ruled that the Republicans may not have a special primary.

TERM LIMITS:

Governor Voinovich and Lt. Governor DeWine have publicly stated their support for term limitations for legislators.

After gathering the requisite number of signatures, Ohioans for Term Limits filed for the November ballot on Monday, August 3, 1992.

SUBJECT: SOUTHERN OHIO WELCOME

Date of Event: Thursday, August 6, 1992

Location: Wilmington College
College Hall Front Steps
Wilmington, Ohio

Time: 5:30 p.m.

I. Purpose

To make remarks at a rally (2000 attendees) for Congressman Bob McEwen.

II. Background

Congressman Bob McEwen will introduce you.

Founded in 1870 by the Quaker Society of Friends, Wilmington College has an enrollment of about 2,000 students. Their mascot is the Quakerman, and the football coach is Dave Shula, the son of Miami Dolphins coach Don Shula. School is currently out of session, and the school is hosting the Cincinnati Bengals who are in training camp.

The college is also hosting the Norwood High School Band camp. The band will perform at the rally.

On Monday, July 20, the Clinton-Gore bus was met at the town courthouse by a group of 5,000 supporters. Clinton spoke about his campaign for "ordinary Americans to rebuild the country," and noted that he was pleased to receive such a welcome in Clinton County, Ohio.

While the Democrats' event was successful, Clinton County is heavily Republican. In 1988 the Bush/Quayle ticket received 78% of the vote. The last time the county voted for a Democratic presidential candidate was for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

MCEWEN'S CAMPAIGN:

Congressman Bob McEwen (R-6) is running for reelection to his 7th term in Congress in the new 6th congressional district. As a result of redistricting, McEwen faced incumbent Congressman Clarence Miller (R-10) in the June 2 primary. The Ohio Board of Elections ruled that McEwen won the primary by 269 votes, but Miller has refused to concede, and has taken the matter to the state Supreme Court. The Ohio GOP has recognized McEwen as the victor.

McEwen serves on the Rules Committee and the Select Committee on Children, Youth and Families. He served in the Ohio House of Representatives from 1974 to 1980, and was a real estate developer prior to that. He received a B.B.A. from the University of Miami in 1972. His biography is attached.

McEwen will face Democrat Ted Strickland in the general election. The district is 54% Republican, and McEwen is the expected victor. Strickland is a professor at Shawnee State University, and is employed as a psychologist at the state prison in Lukensville.

Strickland is a three-time congressional candidate, who lost to Strickland in 1980, 55% to 45%.

The Sixth District:

This newly mapped district is primary rural, and is the largest area-wise in the state. The district has a high unemployment rate of 13%. There are 200,000 voters from Rep. Clarence Miller's district who are new to McEwen. In the primary, both Miller and McEwen won their territories by 3 to 1 margins, and split shared territory evenly.

After the Strategic Air Control base was closed in Wilmington, the Airborne Express company filled the void by employing over 3,000 workers from the area. Many of Wilmington's residents (population 10,500) farm during the day and work at the Airborne Express plant at night.

Issues:

Check Bouncing:

McEwen bounced 166 checks at the House bank. He has apologized by saying that the bounced checks were a result of a poorly run system, but that he is to blame, and is deeply embarrassed. So far, Strickland has not attacked McEwen for his bounced checks. However, he has employed former consultant to Jesse Jackson, Jerry Austin, and is expected to run a highly negative campaign in the fall.

Family Values:

McEwen's top issue is family values. He is running as the "conservative choice for Ohio families," and is pro-life and for school choice. His campaign has billed your visit, as an event with a "representative of the traditional values."

Jobs:

McEwen is campaigning on bringing jobs home to his district.

He is also running as a fiscal conservative, touting his economic growth package, and the need to reform the tax and spend Congress.

Term Limits:

McEwen is opposed to term limits.

Strickland's Issues:

According to McEwen's campaign, Strickland is a typical tax and spend liberal. He has reportedly said he is personally opposed to abortion, but is pro-choice because his district is pro-choice. He has said he is in favor of the death penalty, but hopes it won't have to be used. And he has said he is personally in favor of gun control, but is opposed to it because the district is opposed to gun control.

Fundraising:

McEwen has raised about $100,000 since the primary, and hopes to raise a total of $500,000 for the campaign. According to McEwen's campaign, Strickland has little money.

NOTE: This event will take place in Rep. Bob McEwen's (R-6) congressional district. The Mayor of Wilmington is Clifford Eveland (R).

1. Congressman McEwen's biography.

BIOGRAPHY OF CONGRESSMAN BOB McEWEN

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Congressman Bob McEwen (R-OH) is serving his sixth term representing the people of Ohio's 6th Congressional District.

At the beginning of the 102nd Congress, McEwen was named one of just four Republican members of the exclusive House Rules Committee. The Rules Committee is the premier committee in the House with jurisdiction over all legislation as well as debate for all bills brought before the House. The post allows McEwen to represent the interests of Ohio's taxpayers with all legislation presented before the House of Representatives.

Since first elected in 1980, McEwen has served on the Veterans Affairs Committee and Public Works and Transportation Committee. McEwen served on the important Select Intelligence Committee, where he became an active proponent of U.S. policies to support democratic movements behind the Iron Curtain and in Central America.

In addition to his full-time committee assignments, McEwen is chairman of the Research Committee Task Force on Tax Policy and Job Creation as well as the Republican Study Committee's Energy Task Force. He is a member of the Congressional Competitiveness Caucus, the House Task Force on Economic Policy, the Steel Caucus, the Human Rights Caucus and the Agricultural Task Force. He also serves on the executive committee of the bipartisan Congressional Rural Caucus.

Among the awards Congressman McEwen has received since going to Washington are the Guardian of Small Business Award from the National Federation of Independent Business and the Watchdog of the Treasury Award, and the Leadership Award from the American Security Council. McEwen was recently selected by the Veterans of Foreign Wars to serve on its prestigious committee to select recipients of national scholarships for the Voice of Democracy program.

When he became the 18th recipient of the American Federation of Police's Golden Eagle Award, McEwen joined a distinguished group of Americans which includes former President Reagan and President Bush. In 1987, McEwen received an honorary Doctorate of Law Degree from Wilmington University.

Elected to his first public office at the age of 24, Congressman McEwen represented the 77th District in the Ohio House of Representatives from 1974 until his election to Congress in 1980. McEwen has the distinction of becoming the youngest member of the Ohio House to ever serve as ranking member on a legislative committee.

Born on January 12, 1950, McEwen is a lifelong resident of Hillsboro, Ohio. After graduation from Hillsboro High School, he attended the University of Miami. McEwen graduated with a B.B.A. in economics and finance and went on to serve as a Congressional Assistant to the Honorable William Harsha, Congressman McEwen's predecessor in the U.S. House of Representatives. McEwen also is a former Vice President for Development with Boebinger Realtors, a residential real estate development firm in Ohio.

Active in community affairs, Congressman McEwen is a member of Rotary International, Jaycees, Farm Bureau, Kiwanis, Grange, and the Optimist Club. He serves on the board of elders of the Hillsboro Christian Church and is a member of the Hillsboro Chamber of Commerce.

Congressman McEwen and his wife, Liz, were married in 1976 and make their home in Hillsboro. They have four children: Meredith Evans, Jonathan David, and twins Robert Winston and Elizabeth Morgan.

II. Background

This event will be hosted by Congressman Bob McEwen. He will introduce you.

Congressman Bob McEwen (R-6) is running for reelection to his 7th term in Congress in the new 6th congressional district. As a result of redistricting, McEwen faced incumbent Congressman Clarence Miller (R-10) in the June 2 primary. The Ohio Board of Elections ruled that McEwen won the primary by 269 votes, but Miller has refused to concede, and has taken the matter to the state Supreme Court. The Ohio GOP has recognized McEwen as the victor.

McEwen serves on the Rules Committee and the Select Committee on Children, Youth and Families. He served in the Ohio House of Representatives from 1974 to 1980, and was a real estate developer prior to that. He received a B.B.A. from the University of Miami in 1972. His biography is attached.

McEwen will face Democrat Ted Strickland in the general election. The district is 54% Republican, and McEwen is the expected victor. Strickland is a professor at Shawnee State University, and is employed as a psychologist at the state prison in Lukensville.

Strickland is a three-time congressional candidate, who lost to Strickland in 1980, 55% to 45%.

The Sixth District:

This newly mapped district is primary rural, and is the largest area-wise in the state. The district has a high unemployment rate of 13%. There are 200,000 voters from Rep. Clarence Miller's district who are new to McEwen. In the primary, both Miller and McEwen won their territories by 3 to 1 margins, and split shared territory evenly.

After the Strategic Air Control base was closed in Wilmington, the Airborne Express company filled the void by employing over 3,000 workers from the area. Many of Wilmington's residents (population 10,500) farm during the day and work at the Airborne Express plant at night.

Issues:

Check Bouncing:

McEwen bounced 166 checks at the House bank. He has apologized by saying that the bounced checks were a result of a poorly run system, but that he is to blame, and is deeply embarrassed. So far, Strickland has not attacked McEwen for his bounced checks. However, he has employed former consultant to Jesse Jackson, Jerry Austin, and is expected to run a highly negative campaign in the fall.

Family Values:

McEwen's top issue is family values. He is running as the "conservative choice for Ohio families," and is pro-life and for school choice. His campaign has billed your visit, as an event with a "representative of the traditional values."

Jobs:

McEwen is campaigning on bringing jobs home to his district.

He is also running as a fiscal conservative, touting his economic growth package, and the need to reform the tax and spend Congress.

Term Limits:

McEwen is opposed to term limits.

Strickland's Issues:

According to McEwen's campaign, Strickland is a typical tax and spend liberal. He has reportedly said he is personally opposed to abortion, but is pro-choice because his district is pro-choice. He has said he is in favor of the death penalty, but hopes it won't have to be used. And he has said he is personally in favor of gun control, but is opposed to it because the district is opposed to gun control.

Fundraising:

McEwen has raised about $100,000 since the primary, and hopes to raise a total of $500,000 for the campaign. According to McEwen's campaign, Strickland has little money.

NOTE: This event will take place in Rep. Bob McEwen's (R-6) congressional district. The Mayor of Wilmington is Clifford Eveland (R).

1. Biography of Bob McEwen

BIOGRAPHY OF CONGRESSMAN BOB McEWEN

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Congressman Bob McEwen (R-OH) is serving his sixth term representing the people of Ohio's 6th Congressional District.

At the beginning of the 102nd Congress, McEwen was named one of just four Republican members of the exclusive House Rules Committee. The Rules Committee is the premier committee in the House with jurisdiction over all legislation as well as debate for all bills brought before the House. The post allows McEwen to represent the interests of Ohio's taxpayers with all legislation presented before the House of Representatives.

Since first elected in 1980, McEwen has served on the Veterans Affairs Committee and Public Works and Transportation Committee. McEwen served on the important Select Intelligence Committee, where he became an active proponent of U.S. policies to support democratic movements behind the Iron Curtain and in Central America.

In addition to his full-time committee assignments, McEwen is chairman of the Research Committee Task Force on Tax Policy and Job Creation as well as the Republican Study Committee's Energy Task Force. He is a member of the Congressional Competitiveness Caucus, the House Task Force on Economic Policy, the Steel Caucus, the Human Rights Caucus and the Agricultural Task Force. He also serves on the executive committee of the bipartisan Congressional Rural Caucus.

Among the awards Congressman McEwen has received since going to Washington are the Guardian of Small Business Award from the National Federation of Independent Business and the Watchdog of the Treasury Award, and the Leadership Award from the American Security Council. McEwen was recently selected by the Veterans of Foreign Wars to serve on its prestigious committee to select recipients of national scholarships for the Voice of Democracy program.

When he became the 18th recipient of the American Federation of Police's Golden Eagle Award, McEwen joined a distinguished group of Americans which includes former President Reagan and President Bush. In 1987, McEwen received an honorary Doctorate of Law Degree from Wilmington University.

Elected to his first public office at the age of 24, Congressman McEwen represented the 77th District in the Ohio House of Representatives from 1974 until his election to Congress in 1980. McEwen has the distinction of becoming the youngest member of the Ohio House to ever serve as ranking member on a legislative committee.

Born on January 12, 1950, McEwen is a lifelong resident of Hillsboro, Ohio. After graduation from Hillsboro High School, he attended the University of Miami. McEwen graduated with a B.B.A. in economics and finance and went on to serve as a Congressional Assistant to the Honorable William Harsha, Congressman McEwen's predecessor in the U.S. House of Representatives. McEwen also is a former Vice President for Development with Boebinger Realtors, a residential real estate development firm in Ohio.

Active in community affairs, Congressman McEwen is a member of Rotary International, Jaycees, Farm Bureau, Kiwanis, Grange, and the Optimist Club. He serves on the board of elders of the Hillsboro Christian Church and is a member of the Hillsboro Chamber of Commerce.

Congressman McEwen and his wife, Liz, were married in 1976 and make their home in Hillsboro. They have four children: Meredith Evans, Jonathan David, and twins Robert Winston and Elizabeth Morgan.

SUBJECT: HANOVERTON TOWN WELCOME

Date of Event: Thursday, August 6, 1992
Location: Old Historic Town Park
Hanoverton, Ohio
Time: 11:40 a.m.

I. Purpose

To deliver remarks before a group (4000 participants) of Bush/Quayle '92 supporters in Hanoverton, Ohio's Old Historic Town Park.

II. Background

David Johnson, Chairman of the Columbiana County Republican Party, will introduce you. He is President and CEO of Summitville Tiles, and President of Spread Eagle Tavern, Inc. His biography is attached.

Hanoverton is located in Columbiana County, Ohio. Designated as part of Appalachia, with a population of roughly 106,000 people, Columbiana County is mostly rural with Salem in the north and East Liverpool in the south comprising roughly half the total population of the county.

Lisbon is the county seat, and was the birth place of the turn of the century industrialist and Republican "maker of Presidents" Marcus A. Hanna. Lisbon is also the ancestral home of President William McKinley. Neighboring Columbiana, Ohio was the birthplace of rubber magnate Harvey Firestone. Hanoverton is the ancestral home of supply-side economist Arthur Laffer.

Decathlete Eric Long is from East Liverpool, and is currently competing in Barcelona.

The county is Democratic by registration. However Republican holds half of the county seats. President Reagan carried the county in 1980 and 1984, but the Bush/Quayle ticket lost by less than 1% in 1988.

Columbiana County is the clay products capital of America - home of two of the largest potteries in America (Hall China and Sterling China of East Liverpool and Wellsville respectively). They are the home to two bathroom fixture plants (Eljer's and American Standard, both of Salem). And in the southwest corner of the county, David Johnson, the Columbiana County GOP Chairman operates Summitville Tiles.

NOTE: This event will take place in Rep. Douglas Applegate's (D-18) congressional district.

OHIO POLITICAL BRIEFING:

BUSH/QUAYLE '92:

The Ohio presidential primary was held on June 2, 1992. The results are as follows:

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY:	President Bush	83%
	Pat Buchanan	17%
DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY:	Bill Clinton	61%
	Jerry Brown	19%
	Paul Tsongas	11%
	Uncommitted	9%

The Ohio Bush/Quayle '92 Chairman is Governor George Voinovich. The Finance Chairman is W.R. "Tim" Timken.

In 1988, the Bush/Quayle ticket received 55% of the vote.

Ohio has 21 electoral votes, and will be a key political battleground in 1992, as it was in 1988. Ohio has supported Republican Presidential candidates in the past three elections, but Democrats have indicated that they will work hard to break that tradition in 1992. Democrat Governor Bill Clinton has made a number of campaign stops in Ohio, including a trip on Thursday, April 16, to address the 158,000 member United Transportation Union and participate in two fundraisers. One of the fundraisers was held at the home of Democrat Joel Hyatt, owner of Hyatt Legal Services and son-in-law of U.S. Senator Howard Metzenbaum.

The most recent state-wide poll in Ohio was conducted before Perot's withdrawal (June 17-22) by the public relations firm of Paul Werth Associates. The poll shows the following results:

Ross Perot	32%
President Bush	26%
Bill Clinton	18%
Undecided	27%

The Buckeye Road Volunteer Office, the first minority group to back Perot, held a press conference today to announce their endorsement of the Bush/Quayle ticket.

1992 -- OHIO STATE HOUSE:

The top priority for the state party is winning a majority in the State House. The Democrats control the State House 61 to 38, and the Republicans control the State Senate 21 to 12. The Democrats have controlled the State House for the last twenty years.

The State GOP reports that a Republican takeover is possible because of this year's state legislative redistricting plan that favors Republicans. In a 3 to 2 vote, the Republican controlled Apportionment Board adopted a plan that created a number of open seats where Republicans can win, and a large number of minority districts. The Board included Governor Voinovich, Secretary of State Bob Taft, Republican State Senate President Stanley Aranoff, Democrat State House member Barney Quilter, and Democrat State Auditor Tom Ferguson.

In a victory for Republicans, the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the legislative map drawn by the Republican majority Apportionment board. The Court issued an order on April 20 to block a U.S. District Court ruling that would require a redrawing of the maps by a special master and a September 8 primary. While the Supreme Court did not rule in favor of the GOP plan, it did rule that elections will be held on June 2 under the GOP lines. The Ohio Republican party is confident that Republicans will win a majority in the State House.

DEWINE FOR U.S. SENATE:

In 1992, Senator John Glenn, a member of the Keating Five, is running for re-election. Lt. Governor Mike DeWine is the leading Republican candidate.

A poll conducted by Paul Werth & Associates (June 17-22) showed Dewine trailing Glenn by a 42% to 31% margin. The latest poll, conducted by Tarrance and Associates (July 1-4) showed Glenn leading DeWine by a 48% to 46% margin.

According to White House Political Affairs, Dewine received a strong boost on July 21st when the Fraternal Order of Police of Ohio endorsed his candidacy. DeWine was the only Republican in the state endorsed by the organization at its annual meeting in Akron. The policemen's support is seen as a reflection of DeWine's tough anti-crime record.

DeWine's Issues:

The campaign's main theme is "time for a change." They hope to demonstrate that Glenn is the consummate entrenched politician. DeWine's ethics in government proposal includes extending the application of laws to Congress, which granted itself immunity from them; reducing the size of congressional staffs; reforming the committee structure in Congress; and enacting term limits. DeWine will also run on a tough anti-crime package and a family values platform.

Glenn's Issues:

The political consulting firm of Doak and Shrum are running Glenn's campaign. They are expected to run a "populist" campaign, focusing on DeWine's congressional votes against unions, the minimum wage, and plant closing legislation.

CONGRESSIONAL REAPPORTIONMENT AND ELECTIONS:

Ohio will lose two congressional seats due to reapportionment. Retirements, redistricting, and check-kiting scandals are expected to result in the election of 5 or 6 new Congressmen from Ohio. The Ohio delegation is currently made up of 11 Democrats to 10 Republicans. The State GOP expects the 1992 elections to result in a delegation of 10 Republicans, and 9 Democrats.

Four Congressmen have announced their intentions to retire. Rep. Dennis Eckart (D-11) and Rep. Don Pease (D-13) both retired in October because of unfavorable redistricting. Congressmen Chalmers Wylie (R-15) and Edward Feighan (D-19) are guilty of check-kiting, and announced their plans to retire as well. In a surprise move Rep. Charles Luken (D-1) announced he will not seek re-election. Luken faced no primary opposition.

Congressmen Clarence Miller (R-10) and Bob McEwen (R-6) faced each other in the primary. McEwen emerged the victor, prevailing 51%-49%. According to White House Political Affairs, McEwen recently accused the President of being too accommodating to the Democrat controlled Congress. He has also derided the President for "coming to the American people with an empty basket."

There were three other Congressional Republican primaries in the 10th, 11th, and 19th congressional districts -- all for open seats. In the 10th District, Martin Hoke won a three-way race, garnering 33% of the vote. In the 11th district, Beryl Rothschild won a four-way race for the GOP nomination taking 45% of the vote. Finally, in the 19th district Robert Gardner won a five-way race for the nomination by garnering 34% of the vote.

In addition, Congresswoman Mary Rose Oakar (D-20) prevailed in a very tough six-way primary battle against Cuyahoga County Commissioner Tim Hagan. Oakar was listed among the top House check-bouncers, bouncing 217 checks, overdrawing her salary 21 of 39 months. She receiving 39% of the vote compared to 30% for Hagan.

In the first district seat to be vacated by retiring Rep. Charles Luken, a special election was held on August 4 between City Councilman and former Cincinnati Mayor David Mann, Rev. Charles Winburn, public relations expert Steven Reece and State Senator William Bowen. Mann is the reported victor.

Republican Steve Grodey failed to qualify for the Republican ballot. Grodey has filed as an Independent, and will be endorsed by the State GOP.

Republican Secretary of State Bob Taft ruled that the Republicans may not have a special primary.

TERM LIMITS:

Governor Voinovich and Lt. Governor DeWine have publicly stated their support for term limitations for legislators.

After gathering the requisite number of signatures, Ohioans for Term Limits filed for the November ballot on Monday, August 3, 1992.

NOTE: This event will take place in Rep. Douglas Applegate's (D-18) congressional district.

VISIT AIRBORNE EXPRESS
Wilmington, Ohio

TIME: 4:15 p.m.
DATE: Thursday August 6, 1992
LOCATION: Airborne Air Park
Wilmington, Ohio
FROM: Ann DeCain

I. PURPOSE

To visit the area's largest employer; Airborne Express employs over 4,400 people.

II. BACKGROUND

The airline came into existence in April 1980, when Midwest Charter Express merged into Airborne Express, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Airborne Freight Corporation of Seattle, Washington. The freight corporation is an air express company and air freight forwarder.

ABX Air, Inc., is the airline for Airborne Express, flying packages nightly from their originations to the Wilmington hub for sorting and rerouting to their destinations.

The parent company, Airborne Freight, provides door-to-door pickup and delivery of packages as well as sales and marketing for Airborne Express.

The Airborne Air Park is located at the site of the former Clinton County Air Force Base. Today, it is the only air park that is privately owned, operated and maintained as a Category II in the United States. (Category II allows pilots to make landing decisions with a ceiling as low as 100 feet and runway visual range of 1,200 feet.

FUN FACTS

- o ABX owns and operates a fleet of 77 aircraft.
- o About 450,000 packages are sorted at ABX each night, including about 300,000 letter and express envelopes.
- o All of these packages weigh about 1.8 million pounds.

III. PARTICIPANTS

The Vice President

Terry L. Scherz, Vice President for Aircraft Maintenance

OHIO EXPOSITIONS CENTER • OHIO STATE FAIR

717 E. 17TH AVENUE

COLUMBUS, OHIO 43211-2698

(614) 644-FAIR

FAX (614) 644-4031

George V. Volnovich
GovernorBilly Inmon
Director-General Manager

History: The first Ohio State Fair was held in 1848 at a site near Cincinnati. Between 25,000 and 30,000 people attended this first fair. In 1886, the state fair was moved to its present location in Columbus. Since that time, the fair has expanded from its original 115 acres to its current 360 and from 25,000 fairgoers to more than 3,323,738 last year.

Attractions: This year's 139th Ohio State Fair has the world's largest: junior fair, amateur invitational boxing tournament, state fair livestock exhibition, modular model train display, state fair fine arts exhibit, and state fair skyride. In addition, the 139th Fair will feature bungee jumping, baton twirling contests, motorcross championship races, a truck and tractor pull, and of course the Governor's Open Horseshoe Pitching Tournament. Totalling more than 77,000 exhibits with more than 18,000 exhibitors, the state fair also boasts an award-winning litter control program.

For Children: Though the state fair has always been a place for children and their family, this year's Ohio State Fair is especially marked by the over 35,000 youth that will participate in fair activities. Besides the Junior Fair, there is also an isolated, fenced in Jr. Midway that is separate from the other rides. Finally, a new Kids Park with games and attractions especially for the youngsters has been added to the fair this year. Entry to the Kids Park is included in the price of admission.

Cost: Prices at the gate this year have been lowered to $5.00 for adults and $4.00 for children because the tickets do not include midway rides. Ride coupons are 75 cents each and can be purchased at discount when bundled in "Family Paks" (16 coupons) or "Big Family Paks" (34 coupons). Further discounts are available for seniors and for those either purchasing advance or "3-Day Stay" tickets.

Scholarships: The Ohio State Fair will award 10 Junior Fair exhibitors with scholarships. Applicants are judged on scholastic achievement, citizenship, Ohio State Fair participation, county fair participation and financial need. The recipients will be recognized at the Sale of Champions which is having its 25th Anniversary at the Ohio State Fair.

Entertainment: Many popular performers will also be appearing at the Pepsi-Cola Celeste Center. Highlights include Hammer on August 9th and Ringo Starr and His All-Star Band on August 20th. Performing as The Highwaymen: Willie Nelson, Waylon Jennings, Johnny Cash and Kris Kristopherson will appear on August 19th. For those preferring Gospel music, the Gospel Music Pavillion will be having daily shows between August 12th and 18th.

Fair Queen: Sara Sue Ryan is reigning as the 1992 Ohio State Fair Queen. Sara, 21, is a sophomore at Ohio State University majoring in agricultural education. Throughout the Fair, Sara will make appearances at various events.

Sponsors: Included in the state fair's list of 1992 corporate sponsors are: Donatos, Kroger, Campbell, Tampax, Children's Hospital, Ford, Nestle, Ohio Bell, John Deere, Oldsmobile, and Southwest Airlines.

- * Also new this year is a $1.3 million sponsorship by Pepsi that will ease government reliance and should continue Ohio State Fair excellence for many years to come.

June 1992 Fact Sheet

Airborne Freight Corporation -- the parent company

- ABX Air, Inc. (ABX) is the airline division and wholly-owned subsidiary of Airborne Freight Corporation of Seattle, Washington. ABX and Airborne Freight do business together as Airborne Express.
- The parent company employs over 9,000 (not counting the airline) and provides the door-to-door pick up and delivery service. Airborne serves all metropolitan areas in the United States and more than 190 foreign countries. Most domestic deliveries are made by noon the day after packages are shipped.
- Airborne has about 6,000 drop boxes in place across the country.

ABX Air, Inc. -- the airline

- Employs more than 4,400 people.
- Largest employer in a several-county area in southwestern Ohio.
- Lift capacity in ABX's fleet of aircraft is 2,183,447 pounds of packages a night.
- The Company has five major departments, which oversee the airline's operations: Administration, Aircraft Maintenance, Air Park Services, Flight, Ground.

The Airport

- Located at 145 Hunter Drive, Airborne Air Park, Wilmington, Ohio, ABX is located at the site of the former Clinton County Air Force Base.
- Includes a 10,700-foot runway with 1,000-foot overrun on one end and a 200-foot overrun on the other end. A second, parallel runway is expected to be completed by 12/95.
- The airport at the Airborne Air Park is the only privately-owned, operated, and maintained Category II airport in the U.S. Cat II allows pilots to make landing decisions with a ceiling as low as 100 feet and runway visual range of 1,200 feet.
- Foreign Trade Zone #101 - ABX has approval to operate the only private FTZ in the United States.
- U.S. Customs agents are on site to clear all incoming Canadian shipments.
- Airborne Commerce Park is a warehousing/office complex. The fifth warehouse is scheduled to be completed by the end of July 1992. Tenants may use any method of shipping. In the Airborne Stock Exchange, Airborne employees stock, inventory, and distribute tenants' products. By using Airborne, tenants' domestic orders may be received and processed as late as 2 a.m. and still be delivered that same morning.

Ground Department

- Sort Center capacity: 830,000 packages a night, in three sort buildings.
- Average nightly package count is 450,000, including 300,000 Express Packs. Around 1.7 million pounds of shipments are sorted each night.
- 50 percent of ABX's employees work in this department, mostly between 1 a.m. and 5 a.m.
- Airborne's package-sorting facility, which includes three buildings, has 7.5 acres or 326,918 square feet under roof, and contains more than 11.5 miles of conveyor belting.

Air Park Services

- Responsible for maintenance of about 2,000 acres, 159 of which are paved, as well as all buildings and facilities of the airline.
- Maintains over 2,300 pieces of Ground Support Equipment.
- Maintains navigational aids and lighting for the runway and non-aircraft radio equipment.
- Pumps over 4,400,000 gallons of aircraft fuel a month.
- Provides security and fire protection.
- Maintains clean environment of buildings, offices and grounds.
- Manufactures C-Containers and performs repairs on existing 8,500 containers.
- Provides engineering support for equipment modifications, material handling equipment, constructional and electrical projects.

Flight Department

- Schedules, trains, and supervises 410 + pilots and more than 60 DC-8 flight engineers.
- Training facilities are in the Administration Building and include DC-9 and DC-8 simulators.
- ABX provides YS-11 flight training for the FAA as well as contract flight training for other airlines.
- Flight Control dispatchers are all licensed weather observers.
- Radio Operators work in conjunction with Dayton Approach to control landings and take offs. Aircraft ground traffic and departure sequencing are controlled from the ABX tower.
- More than 66 aircraft land and take off during each night of operations.
- In 1991, the ABX fleet -- not counting charters that fly the feeder flights -- flew 22 million miles with 467 million ton miles available, burning 82 million gallons of fuel. In 1992, more than 98 million gallons of jet fuel are expected to be burned by this fleet.

Aircraft Maintenance Department

- Maintains the fleet of 21 DC-8s (20 flying and one back-up); 43 DC-9s (41 flying and two back-up); 11 YS-11s.
- Within the three-hangar complex, mechanics overhaul and modify newly-acquired aircraft, do routine inspections and repairs, and schedule base and line maintenance. The third hangar, dedicated in 2/92, added 114,000 square feet of hangar, office and workshop space to the south side of the Aircraft Maintenance hangar complex.
- ABX is an FAA-certified repair station enabling it to provide contract maintenance for other airlines.
- Base Shops provides extensive component repair capabilities. The Hushkits are also installed on the JT8 engines in the Base Shops. Six of ABX's DC-9s and three of ABX's DC-8s are hushkitted to meet Stage 3 noise requirements. All ABX DC-8s and DC-9s will be hushkitted before the 1999 Federal deadline.

Administration Department

- Includes Executive Offices, Accounting, Communication, Human Resources, Information Systems, Office Services, Purchasing.

AIRBORNE COMMERCE PARK HISTORY

Nov. 20, 1985 - Groundbreaking for first Airborne Commerce Park building

The Commerce Park began as a joint venture between Airborne and a Columbus-area developer. It was designed as a warehousing complex where tenants could use the ABX distribution system for efficient, economic delivery of products. Former Ohio Governor Richard F. Celeste spoke.

Sept. 1986 - First Commerce Park building completed

This 48,000 square-foot building is across from the Administration Building.

Oct. 1986 - First tenant moves in

A computer slide service bureau located its production facilities in 5,000 square feet of the first Commerce Park building.

March 1987 - Foreign-Trade Zone activation begun

Once activated, customers could use the Foreign-Trade Zone to store products duty-free until distribution.

April 1, 1987 - Stock Exchange operation begun

The Parts Bank (now known as the Airborne Stock Exchange) opened for customers to warehouse critical parts in a central location for quick distribution. PAC National, the second Commerce Park tenant, operated the parts bank until 1989, when ABX took it over. ABX employees staff the Stock Exchange 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and can process a customer's order until 2 a.m. with assured delivery that same morning. PAC National continues to warehouse and distribute packaging materials at the Commerce Park.

April 1989 - New tenant; Stock Exchange customer

Commerce Park has five tenants, and the Stock Exchange has six customers.

July 1989 - Stock Exchange continues growth

The Stock Exchange has 17 customers.

Oct. 1989 - Groundbreaking for second Commerce Park building

Ground broken for second Commerce Park Building, to be 102,400 square feet.

An Airborne History...

ABX Air, Inc., is an all-cargo express airline with headquarters at its airport at the Airborne Air Park, 145 Hunter Drive, Wilmington, Ohio. Most airlines fly to move people. ABX flies to move shipments.

The airline came into existence in April 1980 when Midwest Charter Express merged into Airborne Express, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Airborne Freight Corporation of Seattle, Wash. (At that time, the airline's name became Airborne Express.) The freight corporation is an air express company and air freight forwarder that is publicly owned and traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

At the time of the merger, Midwest, which had about 300 employees, was flying cancelled checks for the Federal Reserve Banking System and was carrying shipments for Airborne Freight. Midwest had been flying several types of aircraft. Airborne immediately began standardizing its fleet to YS-11s for the shorter flights and DC9s for the longer routes.

Following is a chronology of company growth and events since that merger in 1980:

1981

- The first phase of Airborne's state-of-the-art package sorting facility was put into operation. This was the first of many projects undertaken to meet the requirements of the rapidly-growing airline.

1983

- Sophisticated Category II Instrument Landing System (CAT II ILS) was completed and received Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) approval. It's the only privately-owned, operated, and maintained CAT II ILS in the United States.

1984

- Airborne FTZ, Inc., the airline's subsidiary, received approvals as the nation's only privately-owned foreign trade zone.

1985

- A new fuel facility with 410,000 gallons storage capacity for Jet A fuel was completed in addition to an expanded facility for property and ground support equipment.
- A DC9 simulator was built to Airborne's specifications and standards.
- The airline's parent company - Airborne Freight - elected to use the trade name "Airborne Express", with all future public presentation of the company to carry this name. The purpose of the change was to more clearly communicate the corporation's business.

1986

- Package sorting facility was renovated and expanded to more than double its previous capacity. An administrative offices/training complex and a 50,000 square-foot aircraft maintenance hangar were built. Total cost for the three projects was in excess of $20 million.

1986 (continued)

- The airline's fleet consisted of 18 DC-9s, 12 YS-11s, and three DC-8s, with several more DC-8s and DC-9s under option. The airline employed about 1,300 people.

1987

- Property formerly housing Kurtz-Kash was purchased and renovation started. The building would become the home of the airline's Base Shops, where component overhauls are completed.

- A former FAA tower was purchased and moved to the Airborne Air Park. It became operational in 1988, and is used to control the airline's ground traffic.

1988

- Many new buildings were built and the airline's fuel farm was expanded.

- Airline received an "Aircraft Cargo Container" patent for its unique "C" Container, designed to fit the contours of the airline's aircraft.

- First regional sort hub opened in Allentown, PA. It was designed to free space on the aircraft and in the package sorting facility.

- Airborne Express, Inc., changed its name to "ABX Air, Inc." The change was made to reduce confusion over the similarity of names of the parent company (Airborne Freight Corporation) the subsidiary company (Airborne Express, Inc.), and the company trade name (Airborne Express).

- Airline continued to experience rapid growth. This growth was needed to accommodate the parent company's nearly 40 percent shipment growth.

- 524 new jobs were created.

- Ground was broken for a new Commerce Park building as well as for a third package sorting facility. Cost to complete the third sort building and install material handling systems and related items for the first phase of the building was $12 million.

- ABX's aircraft flew 15.2 million miles, burning 58 million gallons of aviation fuel.

- Package sorting facility was operating at capacity with more than 1.3 million pounds of shipments being processed each business night.

1990

- The airline's DC-8 simulator was put in operation.

- The first phase of the third package-sorting building opened early in 1990, boosting capacity to 395,000 packages a night. The second phase opened in October 1990, and boosted capacity in the Sort Center to 520,000 packages a night at an additional cost of $9 million.

- The third phase of Sort Building C became operational, and capacity in all three buildings is now 730,000.

- Runway extension project began. The project will replace 1,000 feet of overrun with 1,000 feet of runway, then add an additional 700 feet of runway, for a 10,700 foot runway with a 200 foot overrun. This project includes the installation of a CAT II ILS. The CAT II ILS will continue operation throughout the project, except for a brief period.

- Construction began on a third aircraft maintenance hangar, which will add 110,000 square feet to ABX's aircraft maintenance facilities.

The Parent Company...

The parent company, Airborne Freight, has its roots in the period immediately following the Second World War, when an upturn in consumer spending created a demand for fresh California flowers in Eastern markets.

In 1946, the Airborne Flower Traffic Association was formed to meet the rapid transport requirements for its perishable cargo. In 1947, Airborne was incorporated as Airborne Flower Traffic, Inc., and went public in 1953.

Meanwhile, another company, Pacific Air Freight, Inc., was capitalizing on the Pacific Northwest's traditional role as the gateway to Alaska. Pacific Air Freight was formed in 1949, and by 1958, had stations in 36 cities.

Merger talks with Airborne began, and on October 17, 1958, the merger became final. The name, "Airborne Freight Corporation", was retained and the corporate office was moved to Seattle. The new company took its place as one of the nation's largest air freight forwarders.

In January 1985, the freight corporation elected to utilize the trade name of "Airborne Express," with all future public presentation of the company to carry this name. The purpose of the change was to more clearly communicate the corporation's business.

An Air Park History...

The history of the site where the Airborne Air Park is located is a colorful one. It started in 1929, when a group of local aeroplane enthusiasts initiated flying activities at what would later become the home of the Airborne airline.

Barnstomer Stormy Roderick was hired as an instructor and an old cornfield was used for the landing strip. Soon, Stormy was staging afternoon shows and attracting large crowds to the borrowed field.

In 1930, a small hangar was built. In 1933, the Civil Works Administration approved the landing strip and later that year, American Airlines wanted the strip as an emergency landing field. American invested the first private money.

In 1942, the Army Air Corps assumed control of the field and laid the first coat of concrete paving to the runway.

During World War II, gliders soared over the area as Clinton County Air Field was devoted to glider research, training, and development until the end of the war. The base was used by the All-Weather Flying Division until 1949, when it was "put in mothballs".

As a result of the Korean Conflict, the base was reopened. It saw a variety of tenants, including air reserve training groups, Strategic Air Command, and the Ohio Air National Guard's tanker (refueling) wing.

In 1960, the 6,000-foot runway was extended 3,000 feet to 9,000 feet with an additional 1,000-foot overrun on each end.

The Clinton County Air Force Base was closed by the U.S. Department of Defense in September 1971. A group of concerned citizens visited Washington, D.C., seeking revocation of the closure order, but the base remained closed.

Through the combined efforts of government and citizen representatives, the area later became the home of a vocational school, community college, and an industrial air park. Eventually, it became home to the Airborne airline and the Airborne Air Park. Many of the streets and roads in the Air Park are named for the people who worked so diligently to convert the former military base into the air park.
