

FOIA Marker

This is not a textual record. This FOIA Marker indicates that material has been removed during FOIA processing by George W. Bush Presidential Library staff.

Communications, White House Office of

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

Stack:	Row:	Sect.:	Shelf:	Pos.:	FRC ID:	Location or Hollinger ID:	NARA Number:	OA Number:
W	25	24	10	1	1975	14910	3322	3444

Folder Title:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

Withdrawn/Redacted Material

The George W. Bush Library

DOCUMENT NO.	FORM	SUBJECT/TITLE	PAGES	DATE	RESTRICTION(S)
001	Briefing	[Draft]	3	02/10/2004	P5;
002	Schedule	Schedule of the President and Mrs. Bush	1	10/30/2001	P6/b6;
003	Resume	[Resume] [Page 1]	1	N.D.	P6/b6;
004	Resume	[Resume] [Page 1]	1	N.D.	P6/b6;
005	Email	[Email]	1	02/05/2004	P5;
006	Memorandum	Schedule Proposal - To: Melissa Bennett - From: Dan Bartlett	2	01/29/2004	P5;
007	Schedule	Schedule Proposal - From: Dan Bartlett	2	01/14/2004	P5;

COLLECTION TITLE:

Communications, White House Office of

SERIES:

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

FOLDER TITLE:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

FRC ID:

1975

RESTRICTION CODES

Presidential Records Act - [44 U.S.C. 2204(a)]

- P1 National Security Classified Information [(a)(1) of the PRA]
- P2 Relating to the appointment to Federal office [(a)(2) of the PRA]
- P3 Release would violate a Federal statute [(a)(3) of the PRA]
- P4 Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information [(a)(4) of the PRA]
- P5 Release would disclose confidential advice between the President and his advisors, or between such advisors [(a)(5) of the PRA]
- P6 Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(a)(6) of the PRA]

PRM. Personal record misfile defined in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2201(3).

Deed of Gift Restrictions

- A. Closed by Executive Order 13526 governing access to national security information.
- B. Closed by statute or by the agency which originated the document.
- C. Closed in accordance with restrictions contained in donor's deed of gift.

Freedom of Information Act - [5 U.S.C. 552(b)]

- b(1) National security classified information [(b)(1) of the FOIA]
- b(2) Release would disclose internal personnel rules and practices of an agency [(b)(2) of the FOIA]
- b(3) Release would violate a Federal statute [(b)(3) of the FOIA]
- b(4) Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential or financial information [(b)(4) of the FOIA]
- b(6) Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(b)(6) of the FOIA]
- b(7) Release would disclose information compiled for law enforcement purposes [(b)(7) of the FOIA]
- b(8) Release would disclose information concerning the regulation of financial institutions [(b)(8) of the FOIA]
- b(9) Release would disclose geological or geophysical information concerning wells [(b)(9) of the FOIA]

Records Not Subject to FOIA

Court Sealed - The document is withheld under a court seal and is not subject to the Freedom of Information Act.

Withdrawn/Redacted Material

The George W. Bush Library

DOCUMENT NO.	FORM	SUBJECT/TITLE	PAGES	DATE	RESTRICTION(S)
008	Briefing	[Interview]	1	02/21/2001	P5;

COLLECTION TITLE:

Communications, White House Office of

SERIES:

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

FOLDER TITLE:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

FRC ID:

1975

RESTRICTION CODESPresidential Records Act - [44 U.S.C. 2204(a)]

- P1 National Security Classified Information [(a)(1) of the PRA]
- P2 Relating to the appointment to Federal office [(a)(2) of the PRA]
- P3 Release would violate a Federal statute [(a)(3) of the PRA]
- P4 Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information [(a)(4) of the PRA]
- P5 Release would disclose confidential advice between the President and his advisors, or between such advisors [(a)(5) of the PRA]
- P6 Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(a)(6) of the PRA]

PRM. Personal record misfile defined in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2201(3).

Deed of Gift Restrictions

- A. Closed by Executive Order 13526 governing access to national security information.
- B. Closed by statute or by the agency which originated the document.
- C. Closed in accordance with restrictions contained in donor's deed of gift.

Freedom of Information Act - [5 U.S.C. 552(b)]

- b(1) National security classified information [(b)(1) of the FOIA]
- b(2) Release would disclose internal personnel rules and practices of an agency [(b)(2) of the FOIA]
- b(3) Release would violate a Federal statute [(b)(3) of the FOIA]
- b(4) Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential or financial information [(b)(4) of the FOIA]
- b(6) Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(b)(6) of the FOIA]
- b(7) Release would disclose information compiled for law enforcement purposes [(b)(7) of the FOIA]
- b(8) Release would disclose information concerning the regulation of financial institutions [(b)(8) of the FOIA]
- b(9) Release would disclose geological or geophysical information concerning wells [(b)(9) of the FOIA]

Records Not Subject to FOIA

Court Sealed - The document is withheld under a court seal and is not subject to the Freedom of Information Act.

Ritacco, Krista L.

From: Suntum, Margaret M.
Sent: Tuesday, February 10, 2004 11:48 AM
Subject: Interview of the President by HBO

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of the Press Secretary

Internal Transcript

February 10, 2004

INTERVIEW OF THE PRESIDENT
BY HBO

The Map Room

10:15 A.M. EST

Q Baseball, its place in this healing process -- were there talks between you and Bud Selig after the suspension of the games after 9/11, as far as when the games would start again?

THE PRESIDENT: No, I can't remember that. But I knew that baseball would help remind the country about some of the positive things in life. Baseball is such a wonderful sport, and it's a team sport, and there's nothing better than the World Series to get people's minds off of their daily troubles. And we needed something to lift the spirit. We needed something to remind us about the future, and a positive future, and baseball -- baseball came -- that World Series in New York came right at the right time.

Q Was the White House in a way kind of pulling for the Yankees -- (laughter) -- since the playoff season was such a good thing for New York?

THE PRESIDENT: Well, as a former Texas Ranger owner, it's hard for me to admit ever pulling for the Yankees. But there was no doubt it was an inspired World Series, and it was fortunate that the mighty Yanks were in the World Series. After all, New York was the city that had suffered the most on September the 11th.

You know, I'll never forget going to New York shortly after September the 11th and seeing the resolve and the strength of the people of New York. And the World Series kind of took that resolve and strength and lifted the spirits. It was a joyous occasion. You know, the outcome wasn't so joyous for the Yankee fans, but the series was a -- I think it's got to be one of the historic series ever.

2/10/2004

Q October the 29th is the day before you throw out the first pitch --

THE PRESIDENT: Right.

Q There was -- Mayor Giuliani told me a story that New York was put on an even higher alert than they had been on. This is the day before the Series; a lot of things are going on in the city at that time, with you coming, the Series, the Marathon was that weekend.

THE PRESIDENT: That's right.

Q Was there ever any concern here in the White House, that you knew about, that maybe you wouldn't be making that trip?

THE PRESIDENT: Well, there's always a concern for a President to wade into what could be a -- to make a situation more dangerous. One of my big concerns is to never put people in harm's way. A classic example of that would have been the trip to Baghdad. As you might remember, we snuck into Baghdad. I was very concerned, however, that the word might leak out, which would put somebody in harm's way because the terrorists might react, and if they tried to take down the plane, it could cause somebody else to be injured. So, yes, we were very concerned about that.

And, of course, before I went to New York to throw out the ball, we made sure that we didn't kind of strain the security or put somebody in a -- provide an opportunity for somebody who wanted to harm the country. Now, I was assured that it wouldn't happen, primarily because we were able to chopper Marine One -- we took Marine One right in next to Yankee Stadium, and therefore, we didn't disrupt traffic, we didn't provide -- didn't create chaos, which would give a potential terrorist the opportunity to strike, at least make it more possible somebody could strike in the midst of a lot of focus being taken off of protecting the city.

Q Why was it so important -- I understand you had never been to a World Series game before.

THE PRESIDENT: I had never been to a World Series game. I tried to as the Ranger owner, but we were always eliminated by the Yankees.

Q Why was it so important, then, for you to be at that World Series?

THE PRESIDENT: You know, at first I wasn't going to go. And I can't remember who convinced me -- it might have been the Mayor. I'm not sure who to give credit to. But I realized that it would be -- it could possibly have been kind of an uplifting event, for the President, in defiance of the threats, to stand in solidarity with the New York people who had been so strong and so resilient and so brave and so incredibly tough in the face of the -- an enemy attack on our soil. And so I decided to go, and I'm glad I did.

Q Okay. You get to the stadium and you need to do something before the game. You tell me the whole story.

THE PRESIDENT: Well, first -- let me put it in perspective. I had thrown out the first ball in Milwaukee's new ballpark, and, of course -- it might have been one hop, but it could have been two, as I wound up and tried to fire a fast ball that, instead of rising, sunk. And so I wanted to make sure that if I was going to throw out the ball, I was able to do so with a little zip. I didn't want people to think that their President was incapable of finding the plate, particularly since I was a mediocre pitcher as a freshman at Yale University. And so I needed to warm up, and warm up with some protection on.

So I go underneath Yankee Stadium, into the bowels of Yankee Stadium. And there is a hitting cage there. And I'm standing on the side, and some players come in and out, and I'm chatting and shooting the breeze. And I said, I'd better warm up. And out of the shadows emerges this fellow that must have been there for years and years. And he said, "Mr. President, do you want to warm up?" And I said, "Yes, sir, I do." And so I'm playing catch with a guy who has seen more Yankee history than probably anybody on the face of the Earth, it seemed like. An older guy, big hands, obviously an old catcher or something. And we warm up.

And Derek Jeter comes in to hit, to take some cuts to loosen up. And, "Hey, Pres, how are you doing?" "Good, Derek, good luck tonight." "Thank you, sir." I said -- he says, "Say, I here you're throwing out the first ball." I said, "I am." He said, "Are you going to throw from the mound?" I said, "Well, they put a rubber in front of the mound." He said, "Are you going to throw it from the mound," again. I said, "Well, what do you think?" He said, "Well, I'd throw from the mound." I said, "Okay, I'll throw from the mound." And he's walking out, and he looks over his shoulder, and he says, "Don't bounce it, they'll boo you."

And so the pressure all of a sudden -- I mean, I'm sitting there kind of fairly relaxed and feeling fairly loose, and all of a sudden the great Derek Jeter -- "don't bounce it, they'll boo you" -- and all of a sudden the pressure mounted. Man, it was -- I walked out of that dugout and it was -- it's hard for me to describe the emotion I felt. It was -- whew, it was strong.

Q In your role, you are under pressure every day.

THE PRESIDENT: Right.

Q Was this a different kind of pressure? I mean, this was like an athletic achievement. You had a --

THE PRESIDENT: It was a little bit of a macho -- you're kind of

on the line. Derek Jeter said, throw it from the mound, big guy, but make sure that you get there. And having had the experience in front of -- in Milwaukee -- I remember David Lopes was the catcher. And I remember how small David Lopes looked when I made it out to the mound. So I had some experience, albeit a little bit of a -- not a good experience, in terms of getting the pitch across the plate.

So I knew what to expect, but I'd never felt what I'd felt before when I walked out of that dugout. It was loud and it was -- I mean, Yankee Stadium -- I can see why these young kids who go play the World Series in Yankee Stadium can be intimidated. It was -- I felt the raw emotion of the Yankee fans. It was positive, but it was a very emotional moment.

Q After you pitched it, it's a perfect strike. (Laughter.) The place goes crazy. Can you describe what came after that, the chants from the crowd, what you were feeling?

THE PRESIDENT: I felt proud to be an American. And the New York fans -- it was like there was an exclamation point on what I felt about New York. The fans reminded me about this -- the people of this great city. I mean, I had seen the tears and the sweat and the anxiety and the anger of some of New York's finest as they had gone into the building -- after they had gone into the buildings to rescue their loved ones. I had met with the families of the victims. I had traveled the streets of the city and seen the people of all walks of life rallying towards something greater than themselves, a sense of purpose and the desire not to allow the enemy to have defeated their spirit. And the noise at Yankee Stadium and the chants reminded me of the greatness of the city. And I was honored to be there. It was a very emotional moment.

Q What was the message that you were sending? You spoke about it briefly when we started.

THE PRESIDENT: Well, one of them was, united we stand. We stand together in the face of this threat; that we will not be intimidated; we will play baseball in the midst of the beginnings of this war. No matter what the threat may be to us, the United States of America will stand strong and will never be intimidated.

Q Was security concern -- I mean, you went out to the mound all alone. That in itself was a statement. I mean, did you hear from your own people, I don't know that that's a good idea?

THE PRESIDENT: I think they felt pretty comfortable. These security fellows -- or people won't take risks with the President's life. We may push the envelope, but we're not going to push the envelope to the point of endangering the President, because of the importance of the institution. I mean, it's -- obviously, particularly when you're sorting out the -- understanding what the reality of the world. After the attacks on the World Trade Center, it was a moment where we had to be certain that any decision we made would not give the enemy or a potential enemy a chance. But they felt pretty good about it.

Q Afterwards, did you catch Derek's eye at all?

THE PRESIDENT: I don't remember -- listen, I was so overwhelmed by the moment. I remember seeing Joe Torre and Bob Brenly -- and, as a matter of fact, I just had dinner with him the other night in Arizona and we recounted the moment.

That's all I remember. I can't remember much after that. And Todd Greene was the catcher. But I just don't remember much. I really don't. I was trying to absorb this fantastic experience. You know, the President gets to see and do remarkable things, and there are highlights and there are big moments. And, obviously, going down to Ground Zero was a big moment that I'll never forget. And going to Baghdad was a big moment. But throwing the first pitch at Yankee Stadium was a huge moment. As a baseball fan, a guy who had followed baseball all his life, a person who realized I would never even come close to being a Major League pitcher, and there I was, throwing out the first ball at Yankee Stadium in a pretty dramatic time.

Q I interviewed Ari Fleischer and he told me that the next morning -- do you recall this -- the next morning they were having their meeting, their staff meeting, as they do every morning; you stuck your head in and you told everyone about the night and what it meant to you. Do you remember?

THE PRESIDENT: Well, I was trying to share it with a lot of good people. We have a team here in the White House, and one of the things a President can do is share moments with the team. They can get a sense of the emotion and the experience. And it's very important for me, as best as I can, to include people in some of these dramatic moments of the presidency.

Q In our show we don't want to overstate that World Series and its impact. We don't want to say that it cured anything or healed anything.

THE PRESIDENT: No, it's a part of the healing process.

Q Exactly. Can you please tell me that -- you know, what place did this Series play in the beginnings of --

THE PRESIDENT: The psychology of the country had been shaken and damaged. I mean, after all, oceans had protected us for years and, all of a sudden, there's an enemy that used our own assets to destroy and kill people. We had to take a step back and try to sort all this out, as we collected our thoughts and bolstered our courage and compassion for our fellow citizens.

Baseball, the World Series, the baseball games was a part of a healing process. It was a part of a return to normalcy, but with a different point of view about the world. In other words, we'd never be normal in the old sense, but we could be -- we could live a normal life. Going to a baseball game was part of a normal life, but with a new sense of awareness about the realities of the world in which we live. And the World Series did a lot toward restoring that sense of normalcy for the fans in New York. It was an uplifting moment. It was a dramatic World Series, to begin with.

Of course, from my perspective, any time the World Series is played in Yankee Stadium now is a dramatic moment, because I've now felt what those players must feel when they go on the field in mighty Yankee Stadium as -- to either play the Yanks or play for the Yanks. And so --

Q You may hear the cheers, but that night you heard "USA" being chanted.

THE PRESIDENT: I heard the whole thing. I mean, I heard the "USA." I was very aware of what was going on. I can remember giving the thumbs-up to the crowd, to basically cheer them on, to say, thanks for your spirit and your love for your country and, as well as for your determination and your refusal to be defeated by the terrorists; just standing strong and defiant in the name of liberty. That's what I loved about that moment.

Q Okay. Just one last thing about Derek again. So he rattled you?

THE PRESIDENT: Well, he didn't rattle me, he reminded me. He kind of raised the bar. He put the pitch in perspective. And, frankly, I'm glad he did, because I'm a competitive kind of guy. He ratcheted up my intensity to make sure I was able to get it over the plate. I mean, I was aware of feeble pitches, but he kind of said, listen, Mr. President, you go out there and show them what you've got, buddy -- from the mound, not in front of the mound. Get up there like the rest of them, from the mound, and let her rip. And I appreciated that.

Q Great. Were you happy with the pitch?

THE PRESIDENT: I was very happy with the pitch. They said it was a strike. I asked -- I felt like asking Todd Greene if his hand hurt as a result of that little zip I put on it, but he probably could have caught it bare-handed. (Laughter.)

Q Great. Thank you very much.

THE PRESIDENT: Thanks. Thanks for coming.

Q Thank you. Thank you.

END

10:31 A.M. EST

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

INTERVIEW WITH HBO

Tuesday, February 10, 2004

10:05 a.m. – 10:20 a.m.

Map Room

Dan Bartlett

Final in Briefing Book

I. PURPOSE

To discuss your participation in Game 3 of the 2001 World Series.

II. BACKGROUND

HBO is producing a one-hour documentary on the events that occurred in New York City from September 11th through the end of the 2001 World Series. The documentary will run in the Fall of 2004.

Major League Baseball postponed games following September 11th for six days, resuming again on Monday, September 17, 2001. Because of this delay, the World Series was also delayed.

Game 3 of the 2001 World Series was played on Tuesday, October 30, 2001, before a crowd of almost 56,000. It was the first game in the 2001 World Series played in Yankee Stadium, and for many of the Diamondback players, it was their first visit to the historic ballpark. The Yankees beat the Diamondbacks 2-1 in Game 3 for the Yankees' first win in the Series. Ultimately, the Arizona Diamondbacks won the 2001 World Series 4-3.

You will be asked to discuss your "first pitch" to Yankees backup catcher Todd Greene and the conversation you had with Derek Jeter during your warm-up.

HBO has already interviewed Derek Jeter and Ari Fleischer for the program.

III. PARTICIPANTS

Joe Lavine [luh-VEEN], HBO Sports Producer
Sophie Lavine, 11-year-old daughter of Joe Lavine
HBO Sports Camera Crew

Scott McClellan, Press Secretary
Scott Sforza, Deputy Director of Communications for Production

IV. PRESS PLAN

Closed

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

- Producer and camera crew set up in the Map Room prior to your arrival.
- You enter the Map Room for a 15-minute, on-camera, sit-down, question-and-answer session with Joe Lavine. Joe Lavine will be off-camera.

VI. REMARKS

None

VII. ATTACHMENT

Biography of Joe Lavine

BIOGRAPHY OF JOE LAVINE

Joe Lavine has been a documentary producer for HBO Sports since 1995, covering an array of sports icons and events and winning two distinguished Peabody Awards. He is also a feature producer for HBO Sports' "Inside the NFL" and "Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel," for which he was honored with an Emmy Award.

Mr. Lavine has earned two additional Emmy Awards for his coverage of the 1996 and 2000 Summer Olympic Games.

Before joining HBO, he was a producer for ABC Sports. From 1994 to 1995, he was a producer for ESPN, and from 1996 to 1998, he produced the "TNT Super Bowl Previews" for NFL Films.

Mr. Lavine began his career with Major League Baseball Productions in 1981.

REVISED

To Staff Sec

XC to Manno
Steele

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

INTERVIEW WITH HBO

Tuesday, February 10, 2004

10:05 a.m. – 10:20 a.m.

Map Room

Dan Bartlett

2/9/04, ✓
9:15 AM

I. PURPOSE

To discuss your participation in Game 3 of the 2001 World Series.

II. BACKGROUND

HBO is producing a one-hour documentary on the events that occurred in New York City from September 11th through the end of the 2001 World Series. The documentary will run in the Fall of 2004.

Major League Baseball postponed games following September 11th for six days, resuming again on Monday, September 17, 2001. Because of this delay, the World Series was also delayed.

During the 2001 World Series, there were 3 games played in Yankee Stadium, and the Yankees won each home game. Game 3 was played on Tuesday, October 30, 2001, to a crowd of almost 56,000. It was the first game in the 2001 World Series held in Yankee Stadium, and for many of the Diamondback players, it was their first visit to the historic ballpark. The New York Yankees beat the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-1 in Game 3 for the Yankees' first win in the Series. Ultimately, the Arizona Diamondbacks clinched the 2001 World Series 4-3.

You will be asked to discuss your "first pitch" to Yankees backup catcher Todd Greene, and the conversation you had with Derek Jeter during your warm-up.

HBO has already interviewed Derek Jeter and Ari Fleischer for the program.

III. PARTICIPANTS

Joe Lavine [luh-VEEN], HBO Sports Producer
Sophie Lavine, 11-year-old daughter of Joe Lavine
HBO Sports Camera Crew

Dan Bartlett, Assistant to the President for Communications
Scott McClellan, Press Secretary
Scott Sforza, Deputy Director of Communications for Production

IV. PRESS PLAN

Closed

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

- Producer and camera crew set up in the Map Room prior to your arrival.
- You enter the Map Room for a 15-minute, on-camera, sit-down, question and answer session with Joe Lavine. Note: Joe Lavine will be off-camera.

VI. REMARKS

None

VII. ATTACHMENT

Biography of Joe Lavine

BIOGRAPHY OF JOE LAVINE

Joe Lavine has been as a documentary producer for HBO Sports since 1995, covering an array of sports icons and events, and winning two distinguished Peabody Awards. He is also a feature producer for HBO Sports' "Inside the NFL" and "Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel," for which he was honored with an Emmy Award.

Mr. Lavine has earned two additional Emmy Awards for his coverage of the 1996 and 2000 Summer Olympic Games.

Before joining HBO, he was a producer for ABC Sports. From 1994 to 1995, he was a producer for ESPN, and from 1996 to 1998, he produced the "TNT Super Bowl Previews" for NFL Films.

Mr. Lavine began his career with Major League Baseball Productions in 1981.

Ritacco, Krista L.

From: Vestewig, Lauren J.
Sent: Sunday, February 08, 2004 3:00 PM
To: Ritacco, Krista L.
Cc: Torgerson, Karin B.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Subject: 02-10 BP for HBO Interview

Our suggestions. please send back a final. thanks.

Withdrawal Marker

The George W. Bush Library

FORM	SUBJECT/TITLE	PAGES	DATE	RESTRICTION(S)
Briefing	[Draft]	3	02/10/2004	P5;

This marker identifies the original location of the withdrawn item listed above.
For a complete list of items withdrawn from this folder, see the
Withdrawal/Redaction Sheet at the front of the folder.

COLLECTION:

Communications, White House Office of

SERIES:

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

FOLDER TITLE:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

FRC ID:

1975

OA Num.:

3444

NARA Num.:

3322

FOIA IDs and Segments:

2014-0153-F

RESTRICTION CODES

Presidential Records Act - [44 U.S.C. 2204(a)]

- P1 National Security Classified Information [(a)(1) of the PRA]
- P2 Relating to the appointment to Federal office [(a)(2) of the PRA]
- P3 Release would violate a Federal statute [(a)(3) of the PRA]
- P4 Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information [(a)(4) of the PRA]
- P5 Release would disclose confidential advice between the President and his advisors, or between such advisors [(a)(5) of the PRA]
- P6 Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(a)(6) of the PRA]

PRM. Personal record misfile defined in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2201(3).

Deed of Gift Restrictions

- A. Closed by Executive Order 13526 governing access to national security information.
- B. Closed by statute or by the agency which originated the document.
- C. Closed in accordance with restrictions contained in donor's deed of gift.

Freedom of Information Act - [5 U.S.C. 552(b)]

- b(1) National security classified information [(b)(1) of the FOIA]
- b(2) Release would disclose internal personnel rules and practices of an agency [(b)(2) of the FOIA]
- b(3) Release would violate a Federal statute [(b)(3) of the FOIA]
- b(4) Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential or financial information [(b)(4) of the FOIA]
- b(6) Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(b)(6) of the FOIA]
- b(7) Release would disclose information compiled for law enforcement purposes [(b)(7) of the FOIA]
- b(8) Release would disclose information concerning the regulation of financial institutions [(b)(8) of the FOIA]
- b(9) Release would disclose geological or geophysical information concerning wells [(b)(9) of the FOIA]

Records Not Subject to FOIA

Court Sealed - The document is withheld under a court seal and is not subject to the Freedom of Information Act.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
INTERVIEW WITH HBO

Tuesday, February 10, 2004
10:05 a.m. – 10:20 a.m.
Map Room
Dan Bartlett

To Staff Sec
2/6/04, 7:25pm
XC to Mamo
Steele
ingwell ✓

I. PURPOSE

To discuss Game 3 of the 2001 World Series.

II. BACKGROUND

HBO is producing a one-hour documentary on the events that occurred in New York City from September 11th through the end of the 2001 World Series. The documentary will run in September/October 2004.

Major League Baseball postponed games following September 11th for six days, resuming again on Monday, September 17, 2001. During the World Series, there were 3 games played in Yankee Stadium, and the Yankees won each home game. Game 3 was the first game in the 2001 World Series held in Yankee Stadium, and for many of the Diamondback players, it was their first visit to the historic ballpark. It was played on Tuesday, October 30, 2001, making it the latest date that baseball had ever been played. Attendance at that game was almost 56,000. The New York Yankees beat the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-1 in Game 3 for the Yankees' first win in the Series. Ultimately, the Arizona Diamondbacks clinched the 2001 World Series 4-3.

You will be asked to discuss your "first pitch" and the conversation you had with Derek Jeter during your warm-up. You threw your pitch to Yankees backup catcher Todd Greene.

HBO has already interviewed Derek Jeter and Ari Fleischer.

III. PARTICIPANTS

Joe Lavine [luh-VEEN], HBO Sports Producer
Sophie Lavine, 11-year-old daughter of Joe Lavine
HBO Sports Camera Crew

Dan Bartlett, Assistant to the President for Communications
Scott McClellan, Press Secretary
Scott Sforza, Deputy Director of Communications for Production

IV. PRESS PLAN

Closed

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

- Producer and camera crew set up in the Map Room prior to your arrival.
- You enter the Map Room for a 15-minute, on-camera, sit-down, question and answer session with the HBO Sports producer. Note: the producer will be off-camera.

VI. REMARKS

None

VII. ATTACHMENT

Biography of Joe Lavine

Biography of Joe Lavine

Joe Lavine has served as a documentary producer for HBO Sports since 1995, covering an array of sports icons and events, and winning two distinguished Peabody Awards. He is also a feature producer for HBO Sports "Inside the NFL" and "Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel," for which he was honored with an Emmy Award.

Mr. Lavine has earned two additional Emmy Awards for his coverage of the 1996 and 2000 Summer Olympic Games.

Before joining HBO, he was a producer for ABC Sports. From 1994 to 1995, he was a producer for ESPN, and from 1996 to 1998, he produced the "TNT Super Bowl Previews" for NFL Films.

Mr. Lavine began his career with Major League Baseball Productions back in 1981.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

INTERVIEW WITH HBO

Tuesday, February 10, 2004

10:05 a.m. – 10:20 a.m.

Map Room

Dan Bartlett

✓
OK w/ DJB ✓

I. PURPOSE

To discuss Game 3 of the 2001 World Series.

II. BACKGROUND

HBO is producing a one-hour documentary on the events that occurred in New York City from September 11th through the end of the World Series 2001. The documentary will run in September/October 2004.

Major League Baseball postponed games following September 11th for six days, resuming again on Monday, September 17, 2001. During the World Series, there were 3 games played in Yankee Stadium and the Yankees won each home game. Game 3 was the first game in the 2001 World Series held in Yankee Stadium, and for many of the Diamondback players, it was their first visit to the historic ballpark. It was played on Tuesday, October 30, 2001, making it the latest date that baseball had ever been played. Attendance at that game was almost 56,000. The New York Yankees beat the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-1 in Game 3 for the Yankees' first win in the Series. Ultimately, the Arizona Diamondbacks clinched the 2001 World Series 4-3.

You will be asked to discuss your "first pitch" and the conversation you had with Derek Jeter during your warm-up. You threw your pitch to Yankees backup catcher Todd Greene.

HBO has already interviewed Derek Jeter and Ari Fleischer.

III. PARTICIPANTS

Joe Lavine [luh-VEEN], HBO Sports Producer
Sophie Lavine, 11-year-old daughter of Joe Lavine
HBO Sports Camera Crew

~~Andrew Card, Chief of Staff~~

Dan Bartlett, Assistant to the President for Communications
Scott McClellan, Press Secretary
Scott Sforza, Deputy Director of Communications for Production

IV. PRESS PLAN

Closed

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

- Producer and camera crew set up in the Map Room prior to your arrival.
- You enter the Map Room for a 15-minute, on-camera, sit-down, question and answer session with the HBO Sports producer. Note: the producer will be off-camera.

VI. REMARKS

None

VII. ATTACHMENT

Biography of Joe Lavine

Biography of Joe Lavine

Joe Lavine has served as a documentary producer for HBO Sports since 1995, covering an array of sports icons and events, and winning two distinguished Peabody Awards. He is also a feature producer for HBO Sports "Inside the NFL" and "Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel," for which he was honored with an Emmy Award.

Mr. Lavine has earned two additional Emmy Awards for his coverage of the 1996 and 2000 Summer Olympic Games.

Before joining HBO, he was a producer for ABC Sports. From 1994 to 1995, he was a producer for ESPN, and from 1996 to 1998, he produced the "TNT Super Bowl Previews" for NFL Films.

Mr. Lavine began his career with Major League Baseball Productions back in 1981.

Ritacco, Krista L.

From: Teague, Mary Robb
Sent: Friday, February 06, 2004 4:29 PM
To: Ritacco, Krista L.
Subject: MLB Factcheck

in footnote form.

Major League Baseball postponed games following September 11th for six days,¹ resuming again on Monday, September 17, 2001.² During the World Series, there were 3 games played in Yankee Stadium³, and the Yankees won each home game.⁴ Game 3 was the first game in the 2001 World Series held in Yankee Stadium,⁵ and for many of the Diamondback players, it was their first visit to the historic ballpark.⁶ It was played on Tuesday, October 30, 2001,⁷ making it the latest date that baseball had ever been played.⁸ Attendance at that game was almost 56,000.⁹ The New York Yankees beat the Arizona Diamondbacks 2-1 in Game 3¹⁰ for the Yankees' first win in the Series.¹¹ Ultimately, the Arizona Diamondbacks clinched the 2001 World Series 4-3.¹²

You will be asked to discuss your "first pitch" and the conversation you had with Derek Jeter during your warm-up. You threw your pitch to Yankees backup catcher Todd Greene.¹³

¹ MLB.com: "Baseball Slowly Returned to Normal" pg. 1 of 3.

² MLB.com: "Emotions Flowed as Games Returned" pg. 1 of 4.

³ MLB.com: "Game 3 Wrap-Up," pg. 1 of 5. "Game 4 Wrap-Up" pg. 1 of 2. "Game 5 Wrap-Up" pg. 1 of 5.

⁴ MLB.com: "Diamondbacks Win World Series" pg. 3 of 5

⁵ MLB.com: "Game 3 Wrap-Up Cover Sheet" pg 1 of 2. See "Game 1 Wrap-Up" and "Game 2 Wrap-Up" in AZ.

⁶ MLB.com: "Game 3 Wrap-Up" pg. 3 of 5

⁷ MLB.com: "Game 3 Wrap-Up" pg. 1 of 5

⁸ MLB.com: "Game 3 Wrap-Up" pg. 1 of 5

⁹ MLB.com: "Game 3 Wrap-Up" pg. 3 of 5

¹⁰ MLB.com: "Game 3 Wrap-Up Cover Sheet" pg. 1 of 2

¹¹ MLB.com: "2001 World Series Stats List" pg. 1 of 3

¹² MLB.com: "2001 World Series Stats List" pg. 1 of 3

¹³ MLB.com: "Game 3 Wrap-Up" pg. 3 of 5

POWERED BY MLB.com

MLB.com Get Unlimited Access to 2003 Multimedia A Plus MLB.com Unique Content including the Hot Stove Insider, Free Agent exclusives, and More!

Team Sites | Scoreboard | Standings | Stats | Schedule | Transactions | Players | History | Kids | Search | Audio | Video | News | Photos | Fantasy | Minors | Events | Fan Forum | Shop | Tickets | Auction

News

- Daily News
- Perspectives
- Left Field
- Awards
- Milestones
- Interleague Play 2003
- Tributes
- Special Reports
- MLB.com in the News
- News & Features Archive

MLB.COM RADIO

Hot Stove Special: Seth Everett and Billy Sample return Thursday at 2 p.m. ET to keep you up to date on all the news and notes as Spring Training approaches. Full Schedule & Archives

Baseball Perspectives

09/04/2002 7:57 pm ET

Baseball slowly returned to normal

MLB.com

From the moment we experienced the unreal, unfathomable events of September 11, there was a longing for, among other things, the real, the normal, the everyday.

Baseball Perspectives

John Schlegel

American life had been knocked off its tracks, and for the week after the terrorist attacks on our very soil, "normal" was a word that seemed wiped from our collective vocabulary.

A part of American life for more than a century, baseball played a role in helping America try to get back to normal after that word had seemingly lost its meaning.

The events of 9/11/01 will be remembered at Major League ballparks. (John Bazemore/AP)

Of course, it didn't happen overnight. When baseball returned six days after the attacks, the atmosphere around the games was different. The victims of the September 11 tragedy and the members of the NYPD, FDNY and other agencies who gave their lives that day were honored.

We bowed our heads. We shed tears. We cheered the flag.

And, amid it all, we played baseball. Two teams, three outs, nine innings -- all the way through the World Series, one of the best we've ever seen.

Along the way, baseball was the backdrop for incredible images of unity, as players joined hands with their opponents in honor of the fallen. Baseball brought us some of the most stirring images of patriotism, from a majestic eagle flying through Yankee Stadium to the tattered American flag flying atop it.

Naturally, baseball was just one of many aspects of our lives that got back on track a week after the biggest shock in many of our lifetimes. There was work and school to attend. Friends and relatives to share time with.

hote

Think Sweet

No purch to enter & subject to Official R

ENT

MLB Hea

- Maggs to contract
- Students winning si
- Commis forward to
- Q&A with McCourt
- Burks, R expected
- Dominica title
- Yanks in Spring Tra
- LA repor in Maddux
- Puerto F by Venez
- Reinsdol will be fine
- O's, McL minor leag
- Mets' Fic for Spring
- New ing KC's recip
- More ML

September 11, One Year Later

A TIME FOR REFLECTION MORE COVERAGE

- Emotions flowed when games returned
- MLB, security plans adjusted after 9/11
- World Series had special meaning
- Charity widened scope after 9/11
- 9/11 brought the return of Old Glory

And baseball was there.

A year later, the good news is America's pastime is still playing every day as we enter September, just like it has for the better part of the last century and a half.

We thought September 11 would change everything, and in some ways it has. But the best that baseball can do -- along with the rest of the sports world -- is stay as much the same as possible, to provide that sense of normalcy we craved so deeply in the days after the attacks.

Baseball reacted to the horrific events in appropriate fashion, taking a deep breath to absorb the enormity of the shock and then getting back to work. Since then, it has been slowly getting back to the same thing we've always enjoyed. ... In other words, baseball's just doing its job again. It's being a pastime.

Baseball reacted to the horrific events in appropriate fashion, taking a deep breath to absorb the enormity of the shock and then getting back to work. Since then, it has been slowly getting back to the same thing we've always enjoyed -- albeit the modern version, for better or worse.

In other words, baseball's just doing its job again. It's being a pastime.

It's back to normal, with playoff races and teams playing out the string, all stretched across the country.

Heck, baseball was so darned normal this year that we spent much of the summer talking about a tradition for the last 30 years -- a labor dispute between players and owners.

We yell, we cheer, we boo. We act like baseball fans. Because that's who we are.

Come this September 11, and in the days before and after, we'll pause to remember, even if we'll never really forget. At every baseball game, Americans will pay tribute to those who lost their lives and show their love for their country.

We'll bow our heads and remember.

We'll shed some tears. We'll cheer the flag and sing our patriotism and renew our vow that the terrorists will not win.

We'll continue to move forward.

And baseball will be there.

John Schlegel is a writer for MLB.com based in the Bay Area. This story was not subject to the approval of Major League Baseball or its clubs.

MLB.com

Jump to Search for

E-mail

Register | Log In

Help

Official Info

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

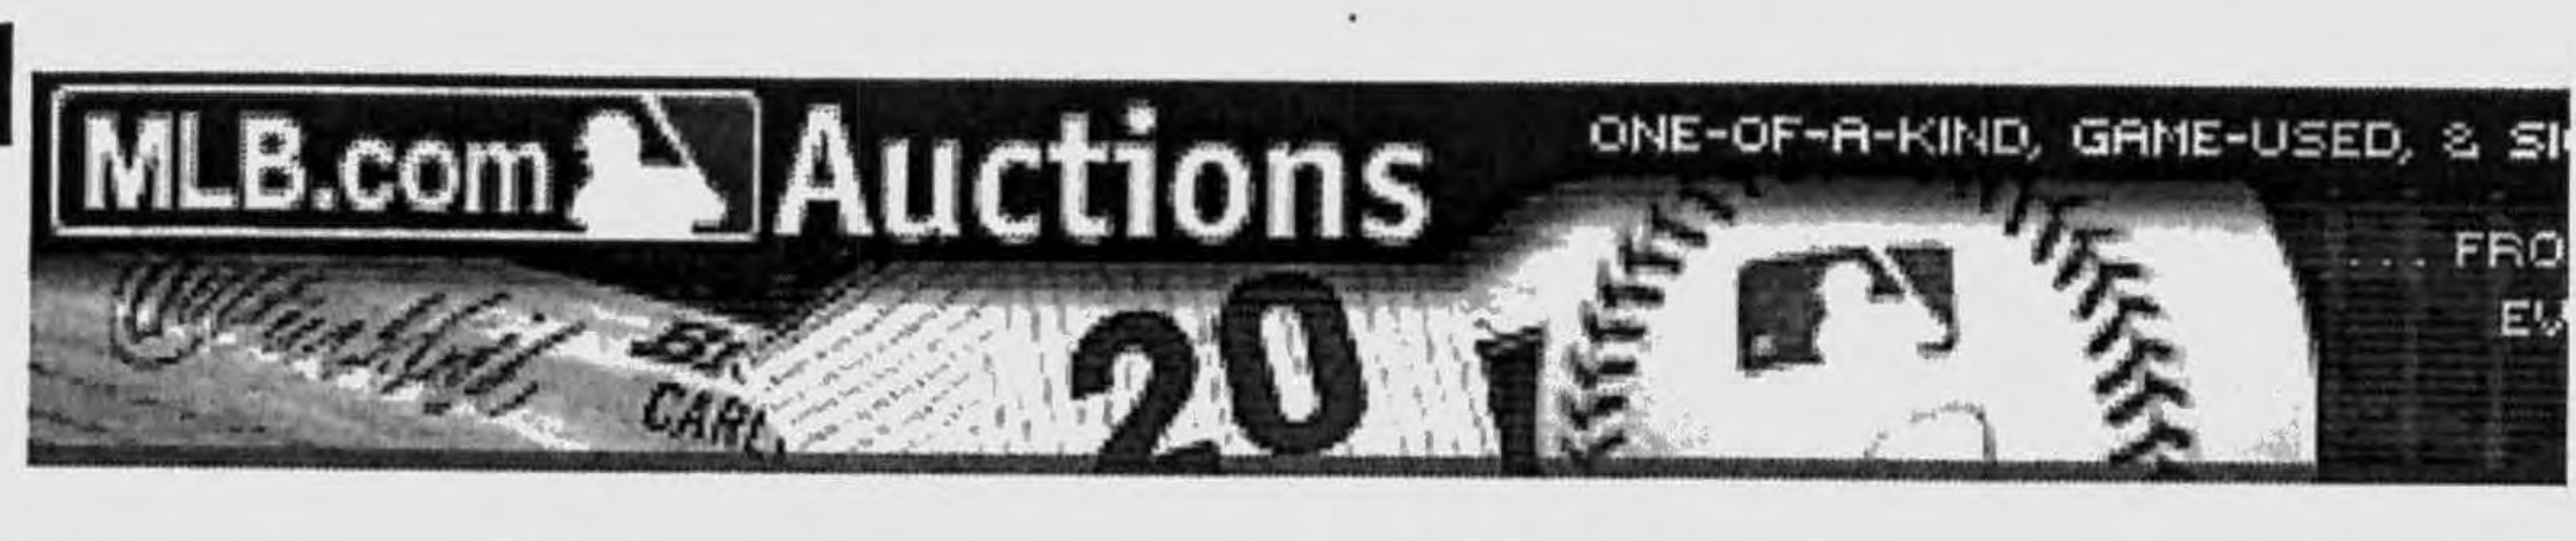

Job

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOG

NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE TERMS OF USE AND PRIVACY POLICY .

Team Sites | Scoreboard | Standings | Stats | Schedule | Transactions | Players | History | Kids | Search | Audio | Video | News | Photos | Fantasy | Minors | Events | Fan Forum | MLB Shop | Tickets | Auction

News

- Daily News
- Perspectives
- Left Field
- Awards
- Milestones
- Interleague Play 2003
- Tributes
- Special Reports
- MLB.com in the News
- News & Features Archive

MLB.COM RADIO

Hot Stove Special:
Seth Everett and Billy Sample return Thursday at 2 p.m. ET to keep you up to date on all the news and notes as Spring Training approaches. Full Schedule & Archives

09/09/2002 1:23 pm ET

Emotions flowed as games returned

By Jim Street / MLB.com

One year ago, a nation that had been rocked to its Statue of Liberty foundation needed an emotional lift after an unfathomable terrorist attack killed thousands and brought life, as we knew it, to a standstill.

For one of the few times in its 100-plus year history, Major League Baseball was stopped in its tracks during a regular season.

The World Trade Center's twin towers that stood so tall over Manhattan for so long had been reduced to rubble when two hijacked commercial airplanes slammed into them on a bright, sunny fall-like morning in New York City. Another hijacked plane crashed into The Pentagon in Washington, D.C., and a fourth crashed near Pittsburgh.

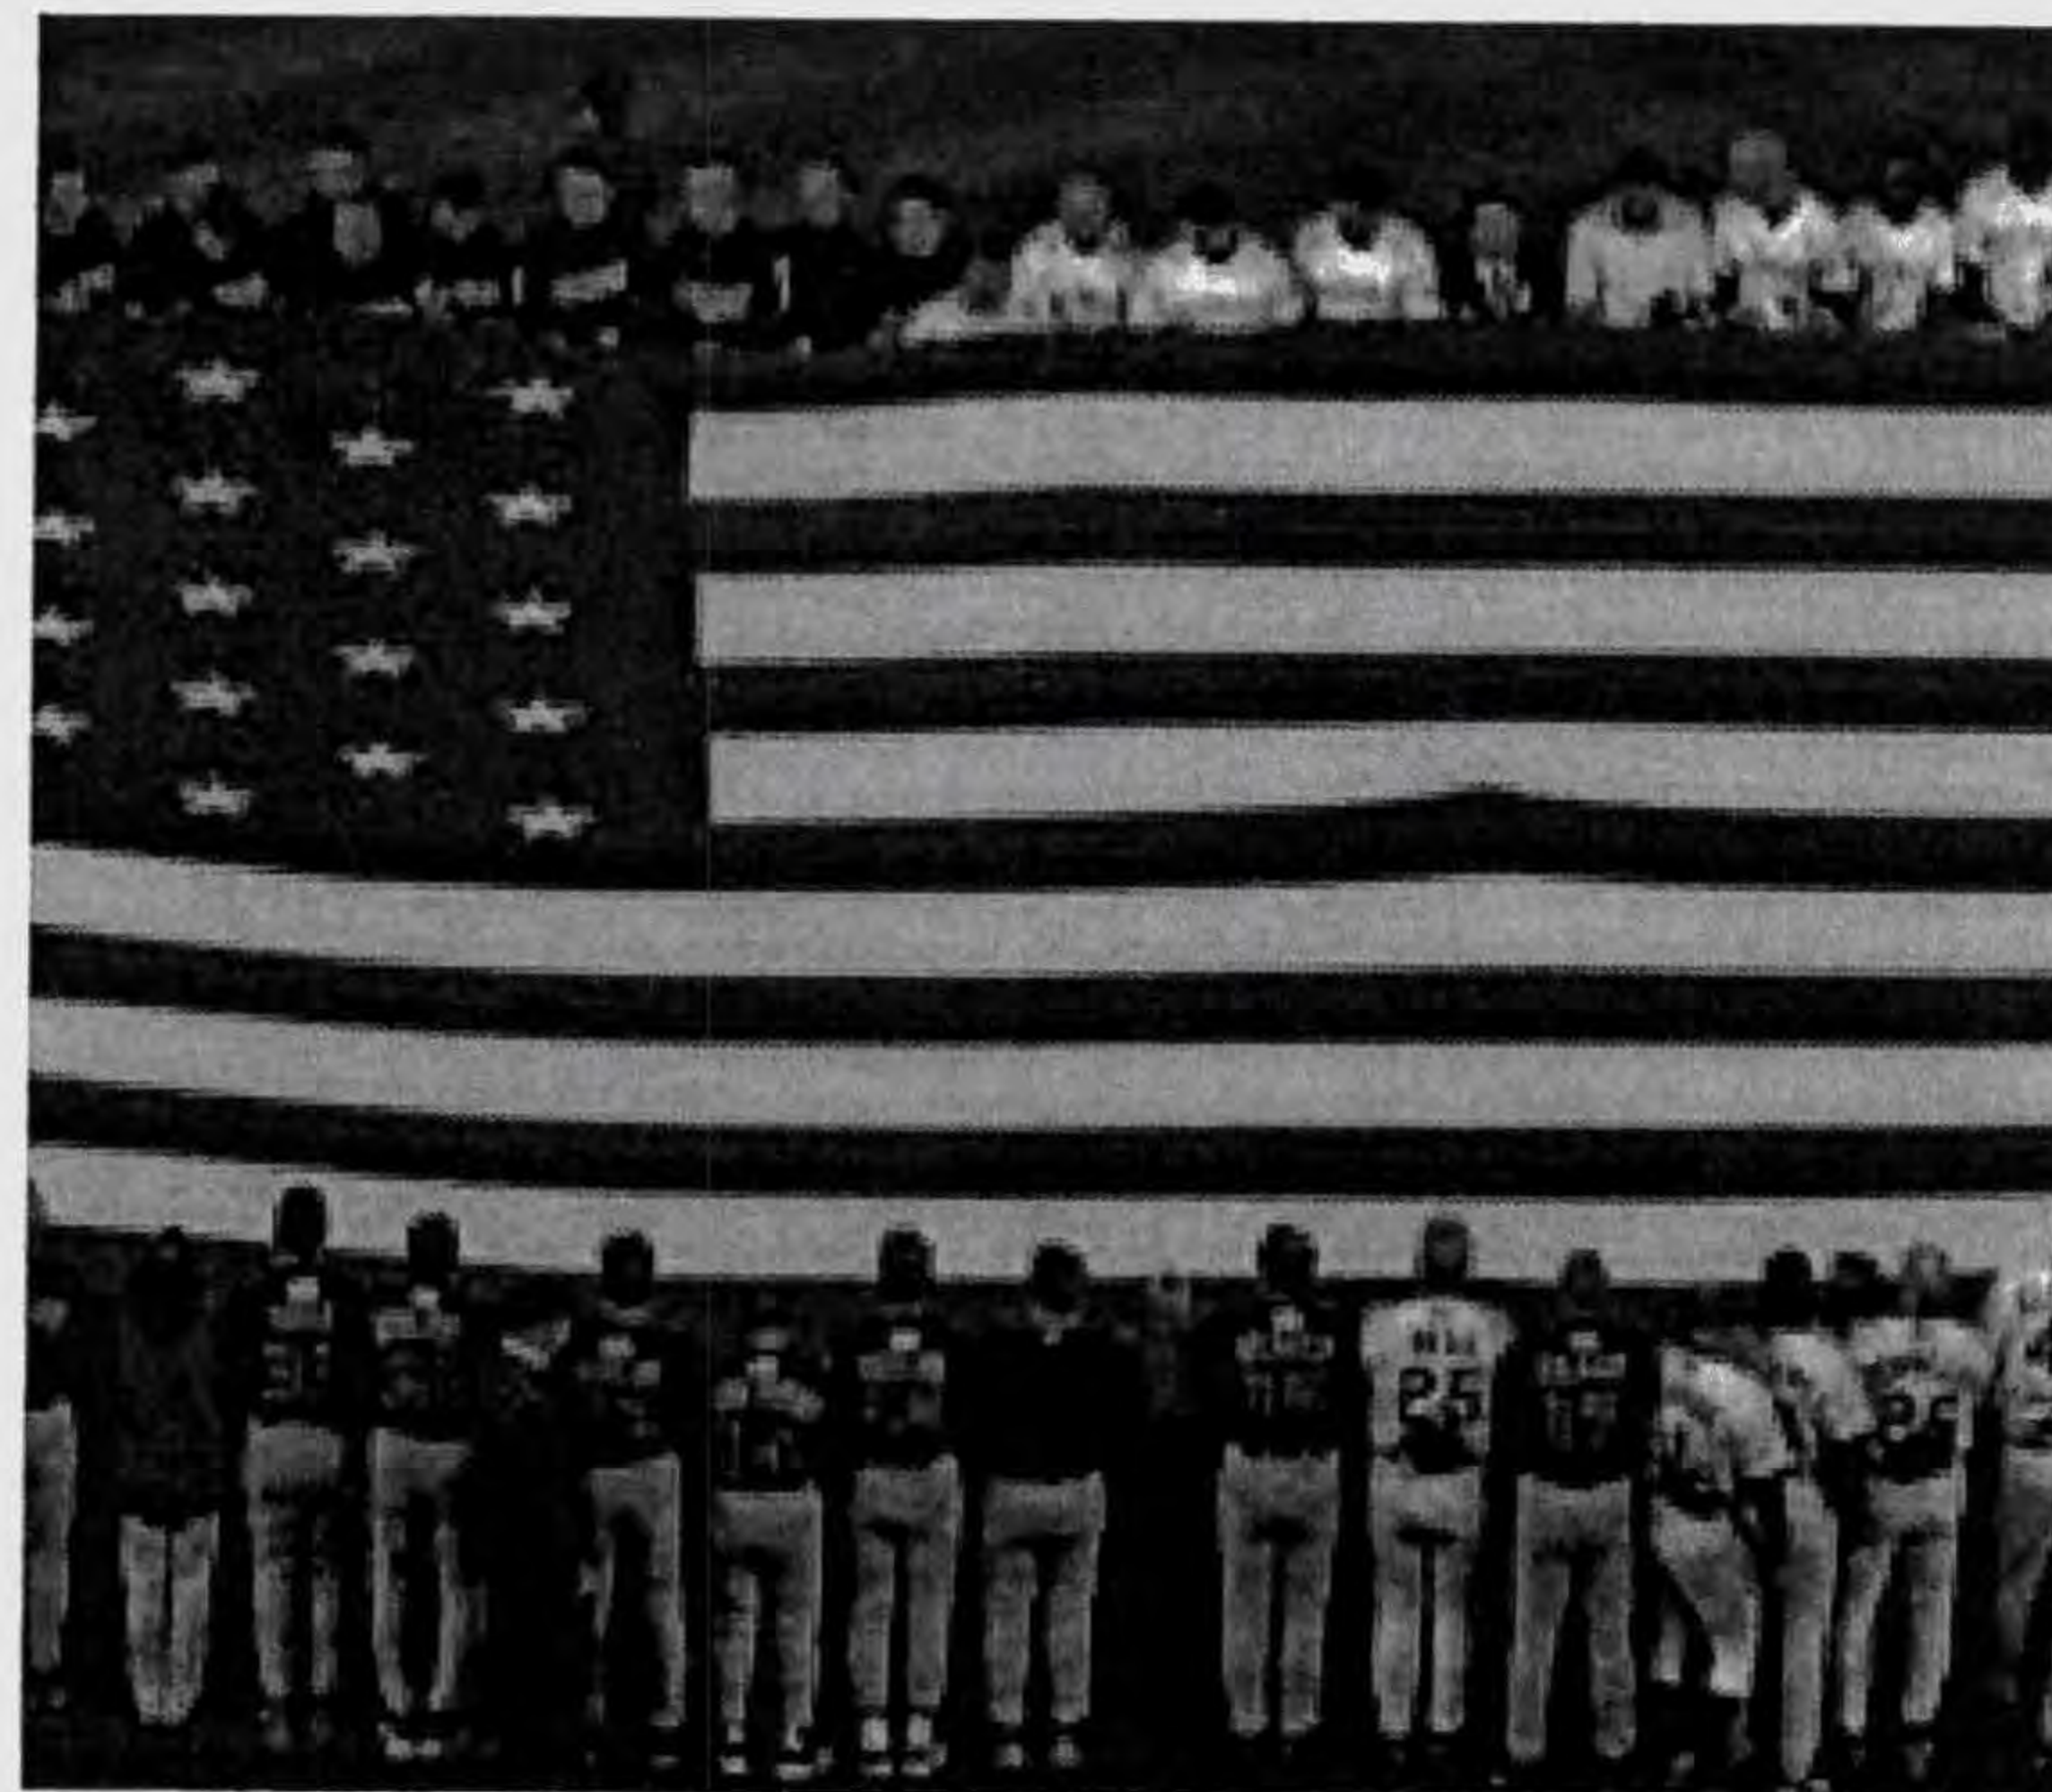

Major League teams that had been playing on the road took buses home because every airport was closed. For several days after the tragedy, Commissioner Bud Selig consulted other professional sports commissioners and even President George Bush to determine when baseball would again be played.

"While I recognize that the suffering from the horrific tragedy continues," Selig said on Sept. 13, two days after the tragedy, "I believe in the spirit of national recovery and a return to normalcy. Major League Baseball, as a social institution, can best be helpful by resuming play at the most appropriate time."

That time was Monday, Sept. 17. The regular season was extended one week so the games missed could be played to assure a 162-game season.

As he looked back on the events of that week, Selig said he is even more certain now that restarting the season when he did was the correct thing to do.

"I agonized over whether it was the right thing to do, and I just decided that it was," he told MLB.com. "It was too early before then, but that was the right day. I never second-guessed myself on it. Once it happened,

The Rockies and Diamondbacks hold the American flag prior to their first game after 9/11. (David Zalubowski/AP)

September 11, One Year Later
A TIME FOR REFLECTION
MORE COVERAGE

- Emotions flowed when games returned
- MLB, security plans adjusted after 9/11
- World Series had special meaning
- Charity widened scope after 9/11
- 9/11 brought the return of Old Glory

hote

Think Sweet

No purch to enter subject to Official R

ENT

MLB Hea

- Maggs to contract
- Students winning si
- Commis forward to
- Q&A with McCourt
- Burks, R expected
- Dominica title
- Yanks in Spring Tra
- LA repor in Maddux
- Puerto R by Venez
- Reinsdor will be fine
- O's, McL minor leag
- Mets' Flc for Spring
- New ingi KC's recip
- More ML

2 #

then I knew we had done the right thing."

The late Jack Buck, the Hall of Fame voice of the Cardinals, made Selig even more certain that restarting the national pastime when he did was the right thing to do.

"I was watching one of the games on TV. I remember that Jack read a poem that struck me. Tears started to well up in my eyes and I realized then that it was the right thing to do, to come back. He later sent it to me in writing. It was just about how right it was to be her and how great this country is. That was the moment for me."

Playing MLB games again was helpful in getting life back to normal -- if there was such a thing.

"I'd like to think, in our own little way, that we really did help," Selig said. "Looking back on it now, in a way, we played an special role -- appropriately secondary in the context of what was happening -- but absolutely special."

Uncertainty and excitement were present in virtually every Major League ballpark that played a part in Major League Baseball's return, six days after the world changed forever.

"In a lot of ways, it was kind of good to get back to doing things that you were used to doing," said Pirates manager Lloyd McClendon, looking back. "But it still was different. It was very emotional. Guys weren't into the game as much as they usually were."

There was an eerie sensation at PNC Park that night when the Pirates played the New York Mets. The series actually was supposed to be played in New York, but it was moved to Pittsburgh because Shea Stadium was being used as a staging area for the cleanup from the tragedy.

"It was almost like a 'Twilight Zone' feeling," recalled MLB.com reporter Ed Eagle. "You were at a big league game but the players didn't seem to care if they won or lost and neither did the few people in the crowd, many of whom cheered for the Mets -- which I had never thought would happen in Pittsburgh."

Because of the Mets were from New York, people in Pittsburgh worried that PNC Park would be a terrorist target that night or that series.

But Major League Baseball already had taken steps to assure fan and player safety at all of its ballparks.

From sea to shining sea, each MLB facility was checked and rechecked for possible dangers. Each team increased ballpark security to the point where every bag was checked.

Kevin Hallinan, the Senior Vice President for Security and Facility Management, headed the safety operation. Coolers, backpacks and large bags weren't allowed inside the ballparks and any small bag was checked. Police security in and around ballparks was increased.

Fans didn't object to the inconvenience.

The Mets finally returned to New York a week later to host their NL East-rival Atlanta Braves. A large crowd welcomed the team home, and was in a festive mood as Liza Minelli sang "God Bless America" during the seventh-inning stretch.

Mets players wore NYPD, FDNY and NYPA hats that night and decided to wear them the remainder of the season.

The Yankees also were hit hard by the tragedy and sent the same supporting message as their cross-town colleagues, sporting the NYPD and FDNY baseball caps.

"It helps for us to have something else to think about," said manager Joe Torre during a Sept. 16 workout at Comiskey Park. "The hardest thing was getting to the airport (to fly to Chicago) and not seeing the World Trade Center."

Star shortstop Derek Jeter, among the Yankee players who visited a hospital an armory in New York to be with families awaiting word of missing persons, said, "If anything, playing again will give people an option to watch something else on TV. This (tragedy) is closer to home because it's New York."

In Seattle, where the Mariners were on the verge of wrapping up the AL West championship and eventually would set a league record for the most victories (116), club president Chuck Armstrong was somewhat uneasy about Re-Opening Night against the Angels.

"The Space Needle was on the list of possible terrorist targets and that caused a lot of anxiety," he said. "But the Seattle police did a wonderful job of making sure SAFECO Field was a safe place to be."

At SAFECO and every other MLB ballpark, the National Anthem had more meaning after the 9/11 tragedy.

"It symbolizes what this country is all about," second baseman Bret Boone said. "It's a shame that it takes something like a terrorist attack to realize what it means to be an American or live in America. It may sound corny, but everyone in here (clubhouse) is proud to be an American, or proud to be in America."

As MLB moved into the post-tragedy season, "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" was replaced by "God Bless America" during the seventh-inning stretch.

"I'd grown up always loving Kate Smith's rendition of "God Bless America," Selig said. "It's a very meaningful, patriotic and important song."

Red, white and blue became dominant colors throughout MLB ballparks. Large, medium and small American flags were everywhere.

Emotions were high on the day baseball resumed on Chicago's South Side. The White Sox, who were in New York on 9/11, hosted the Yankees at Comiskey Park.

Players were introduced and even the Yankee players were applauded.

"It was an unbelievable display of sportsmanship," Jeter said. "It's not too often you hear people who are not in New York cheer for the Yankees."

The White Sox honored Chicago's policemen and firefighters in pregame ceremonies that were remarkably poignant.

"It was very emotional," said Yankees center fielder Bernie Williams. "You look at the uniforms (of the police and fire fighters) and it's hard not to be emotional."

The remainder of the regular season was played with emotion, but without incident.

In one of the darkest periods in our nation's history, Major League Baseball

*Yankees
Resume -
1st game in Chicago*

helped cope with a tragedy -- just by being there.

Jim Street covers the Mariners for MLB.com and can be reached at jim.street@mlb.com. This story was not subject to the approval of MLB or its clubs.

Jump to Official Club Site

Search for Advan

E-mail Register | Log In Help Official Info Media Affiliates Wireless Job

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE TERMS OF USE AND PRIVACY POLICY.

★ see pg. #3

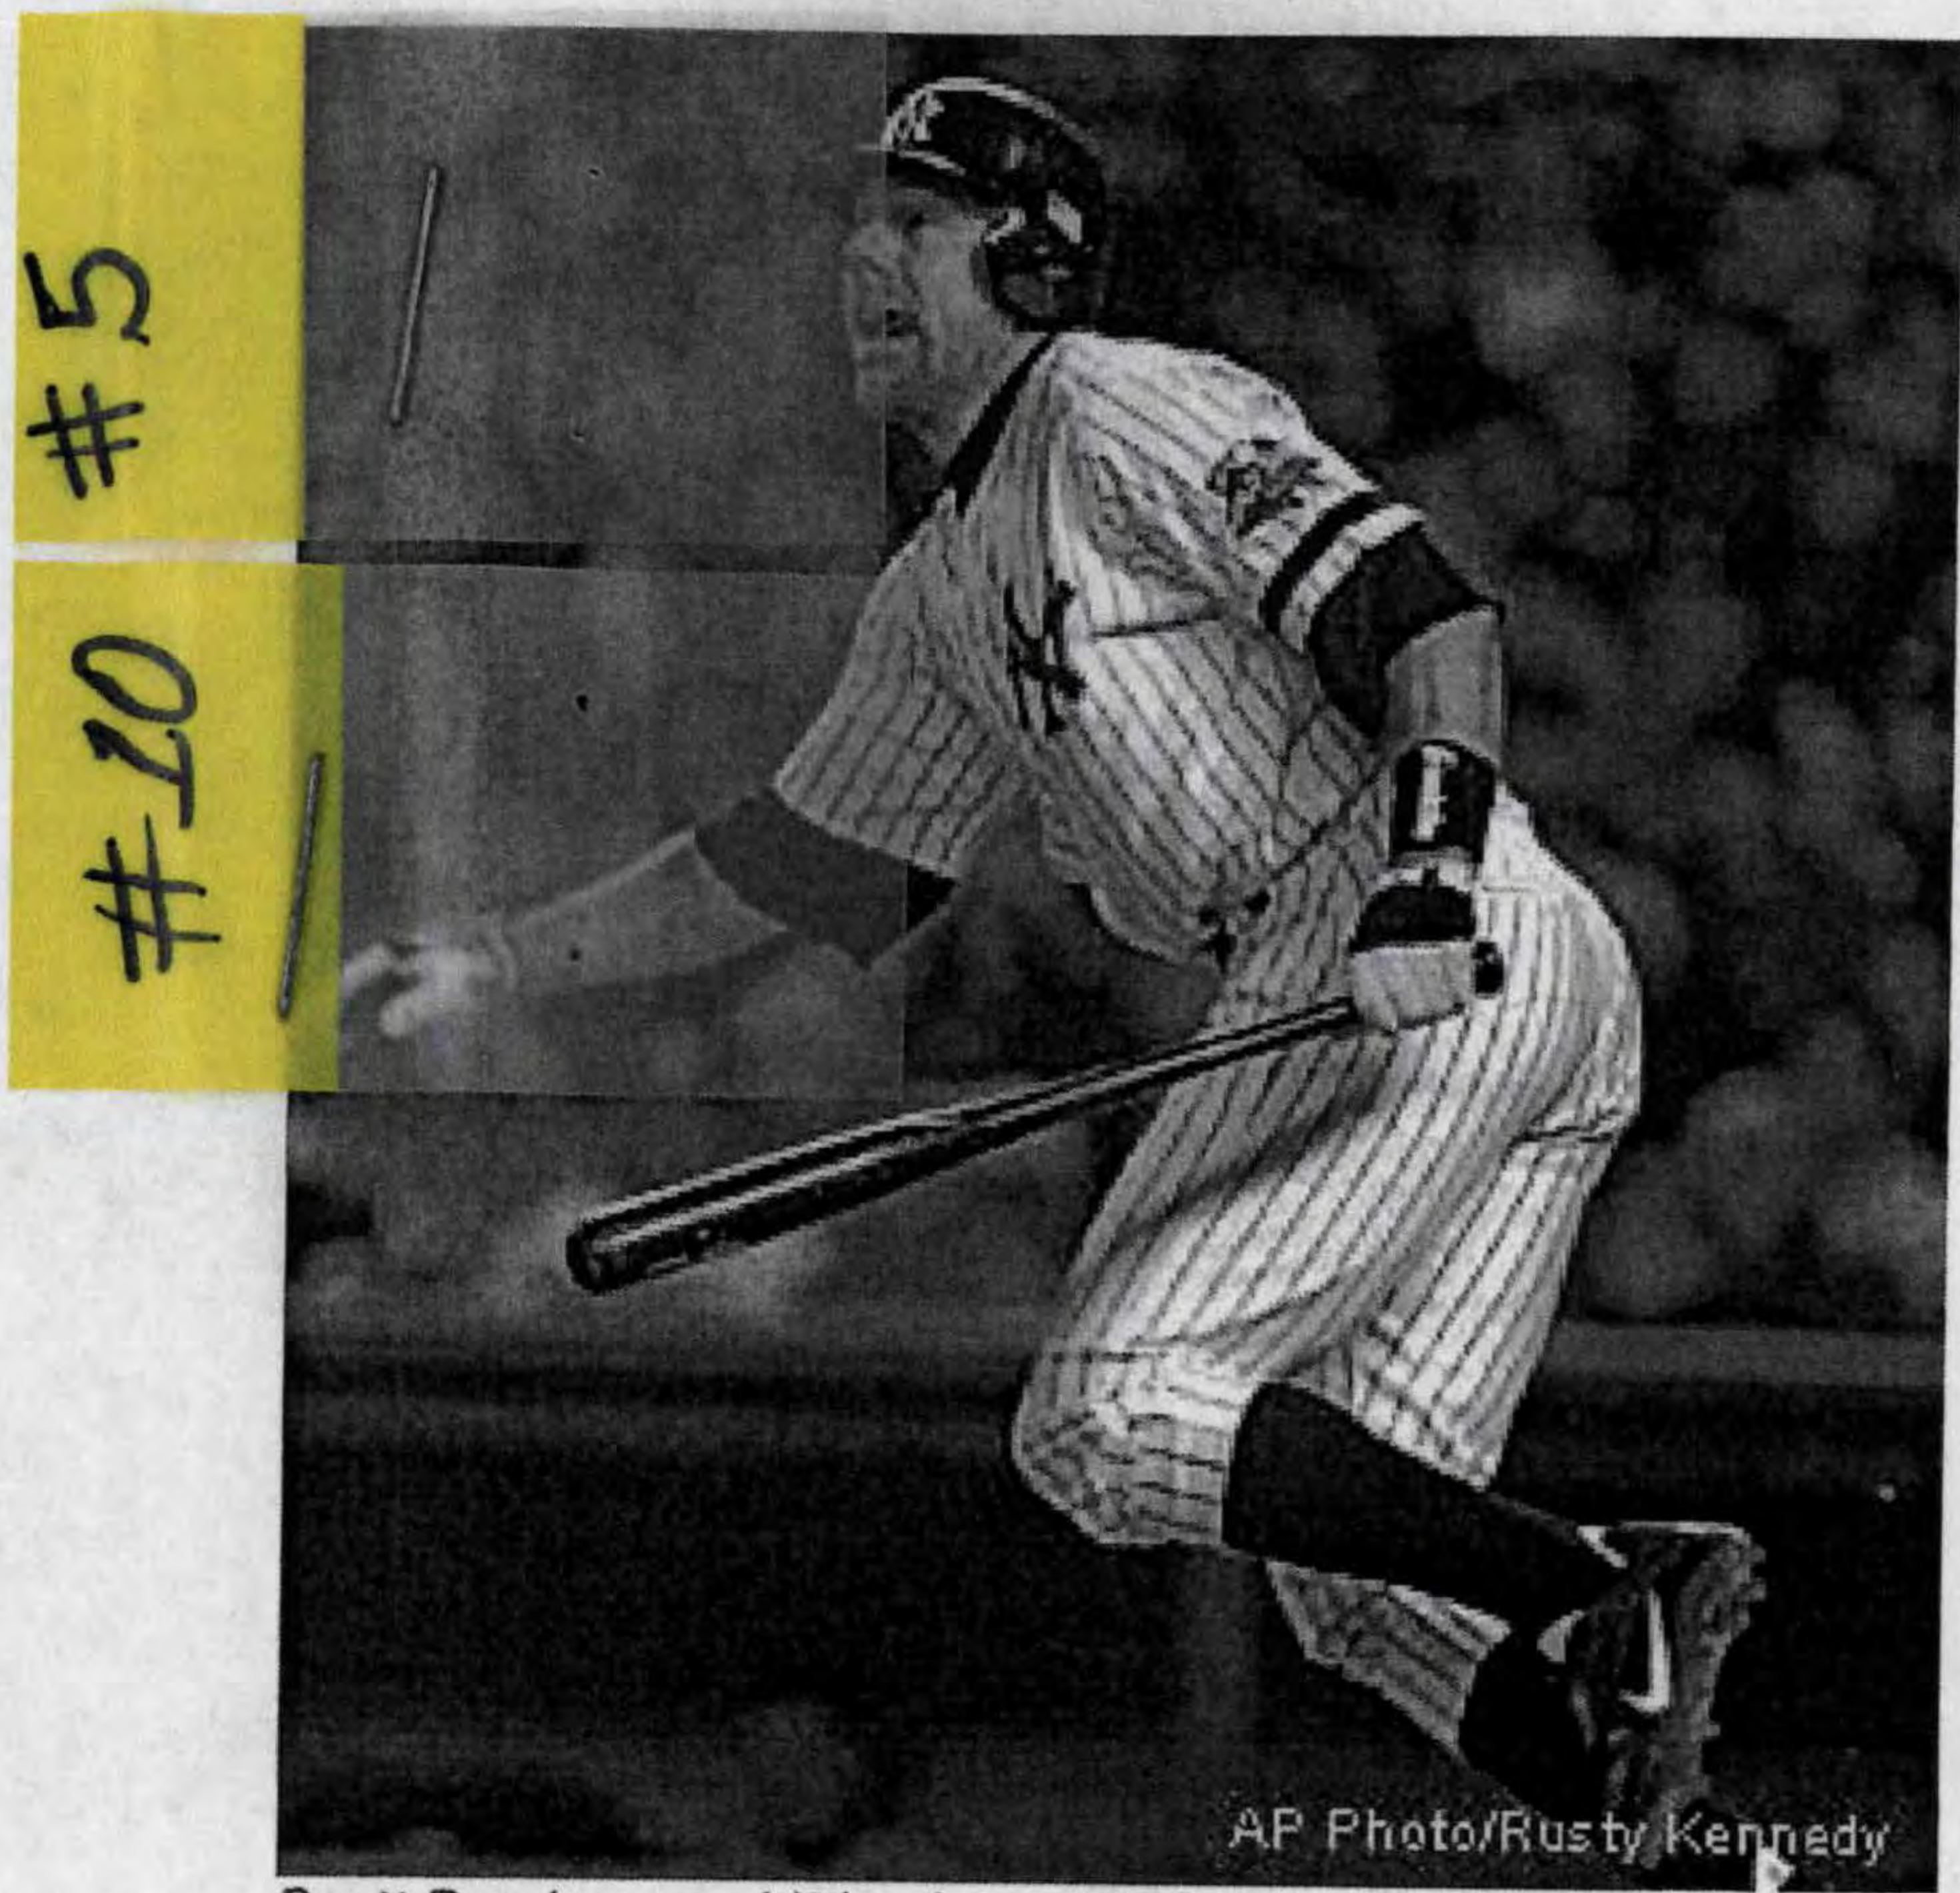

Game #3
(7 innings)
★ President's 1st pitch

Highlights of Game #3

- Diamondbacks Yankees Baseball Perspectives Left Field Division Series LCS
- Audio Video Scoreboard Stats History Fan Forum Kids Subscriptions Auction Shop

Game 3 Wrapup: Yankees 2, D-Backs 1

Game 1 | Game 2 | Game 3 | Game 4 | Game 5 | Gar

#5
#10

Clemens, Yanks take Game 3

Roger Clemens and Mariano Rivera overpowered the D-Backs to lift the Yankees to a 2-1 victory Tuesday night over Arizona in a critical Game 3 of the World Series.

WORLD SERIES

Game 3	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Diamondbacks	0	0	0	1	0	0	0
Yankees	0	1	0	0	0	1	0

Arizona leads series 2-1 | Box Score

- Soriano, Spencer save game w
- President Bush throws out first
- Game 3's best and worst
- Rivera is Yankees' sure thing
- Mayo: Momentum is a myth
- Leach: Clemens takes advanta
- Bauman: Game 3 not Miller's ti
- Browne: D-Backs not in Arizon
- Mayo: Anderson the right choic
- Stanton: Yanks happy to be ba
- Sanders: Loss won't bother us

Full Story >

Rocket boost

According to MLB.com's Ian Browne, the Yanks are back in the World Series, thanks to the 39-year-old Rocket. More >

Custom Jerseys
player name

Stars & Stripes

AP Photo/Rusty Kennedy
Scott Brosius was hitting just .167 in the World Series, but knocked in the game-winning run in Game 3.

Multimedia Game 3

- Game highlights: 56k | 300k
- Finley's catch: 56k | 300k
- K then double play: 56k | 300k
- Miller's error: 56k | 300k
- Spencer's catch: 56k | 300k
- Posada's HR: 56k | 300k
- Rivera's gem on D: 56k | 300k
- Clemens' Ks: 56k | 300k
- Rivera's innings: 56k | 300k
- Soriano's stop: 56k | 300k
- Miller's miscues: 56k | 300k

Left Field Insights, et cetera

- Live from the World Series
- The unwritten rules of travel etiquette
- Li'l Brenly heads to World Series

Photo

Gar
Yanks 2,

Bottom Line

Heroes
There's nothing new to Scott Brosius, regarding the role of World Series hero.

Tough Luck
A funny thing happened on the way to the decision to start Brian Anderson blowing up in Arizona's face -- he pitched well.

Carrie Muskat

Chilled to the bone
The D-Backs found Yankee Stadium cold and windy for Game 3 -- in more ways than one.

Ian Browne

Tir
Ch
Wi
str cal
slu
Kn
in l

Diamondbacks Yankees Baseball Perspectives Left Field LCS Division Series
Audio Video Scoreboard Stats History Fan Forum Kids Insider Auction Shop

10/31/2001 12:06 PM ET

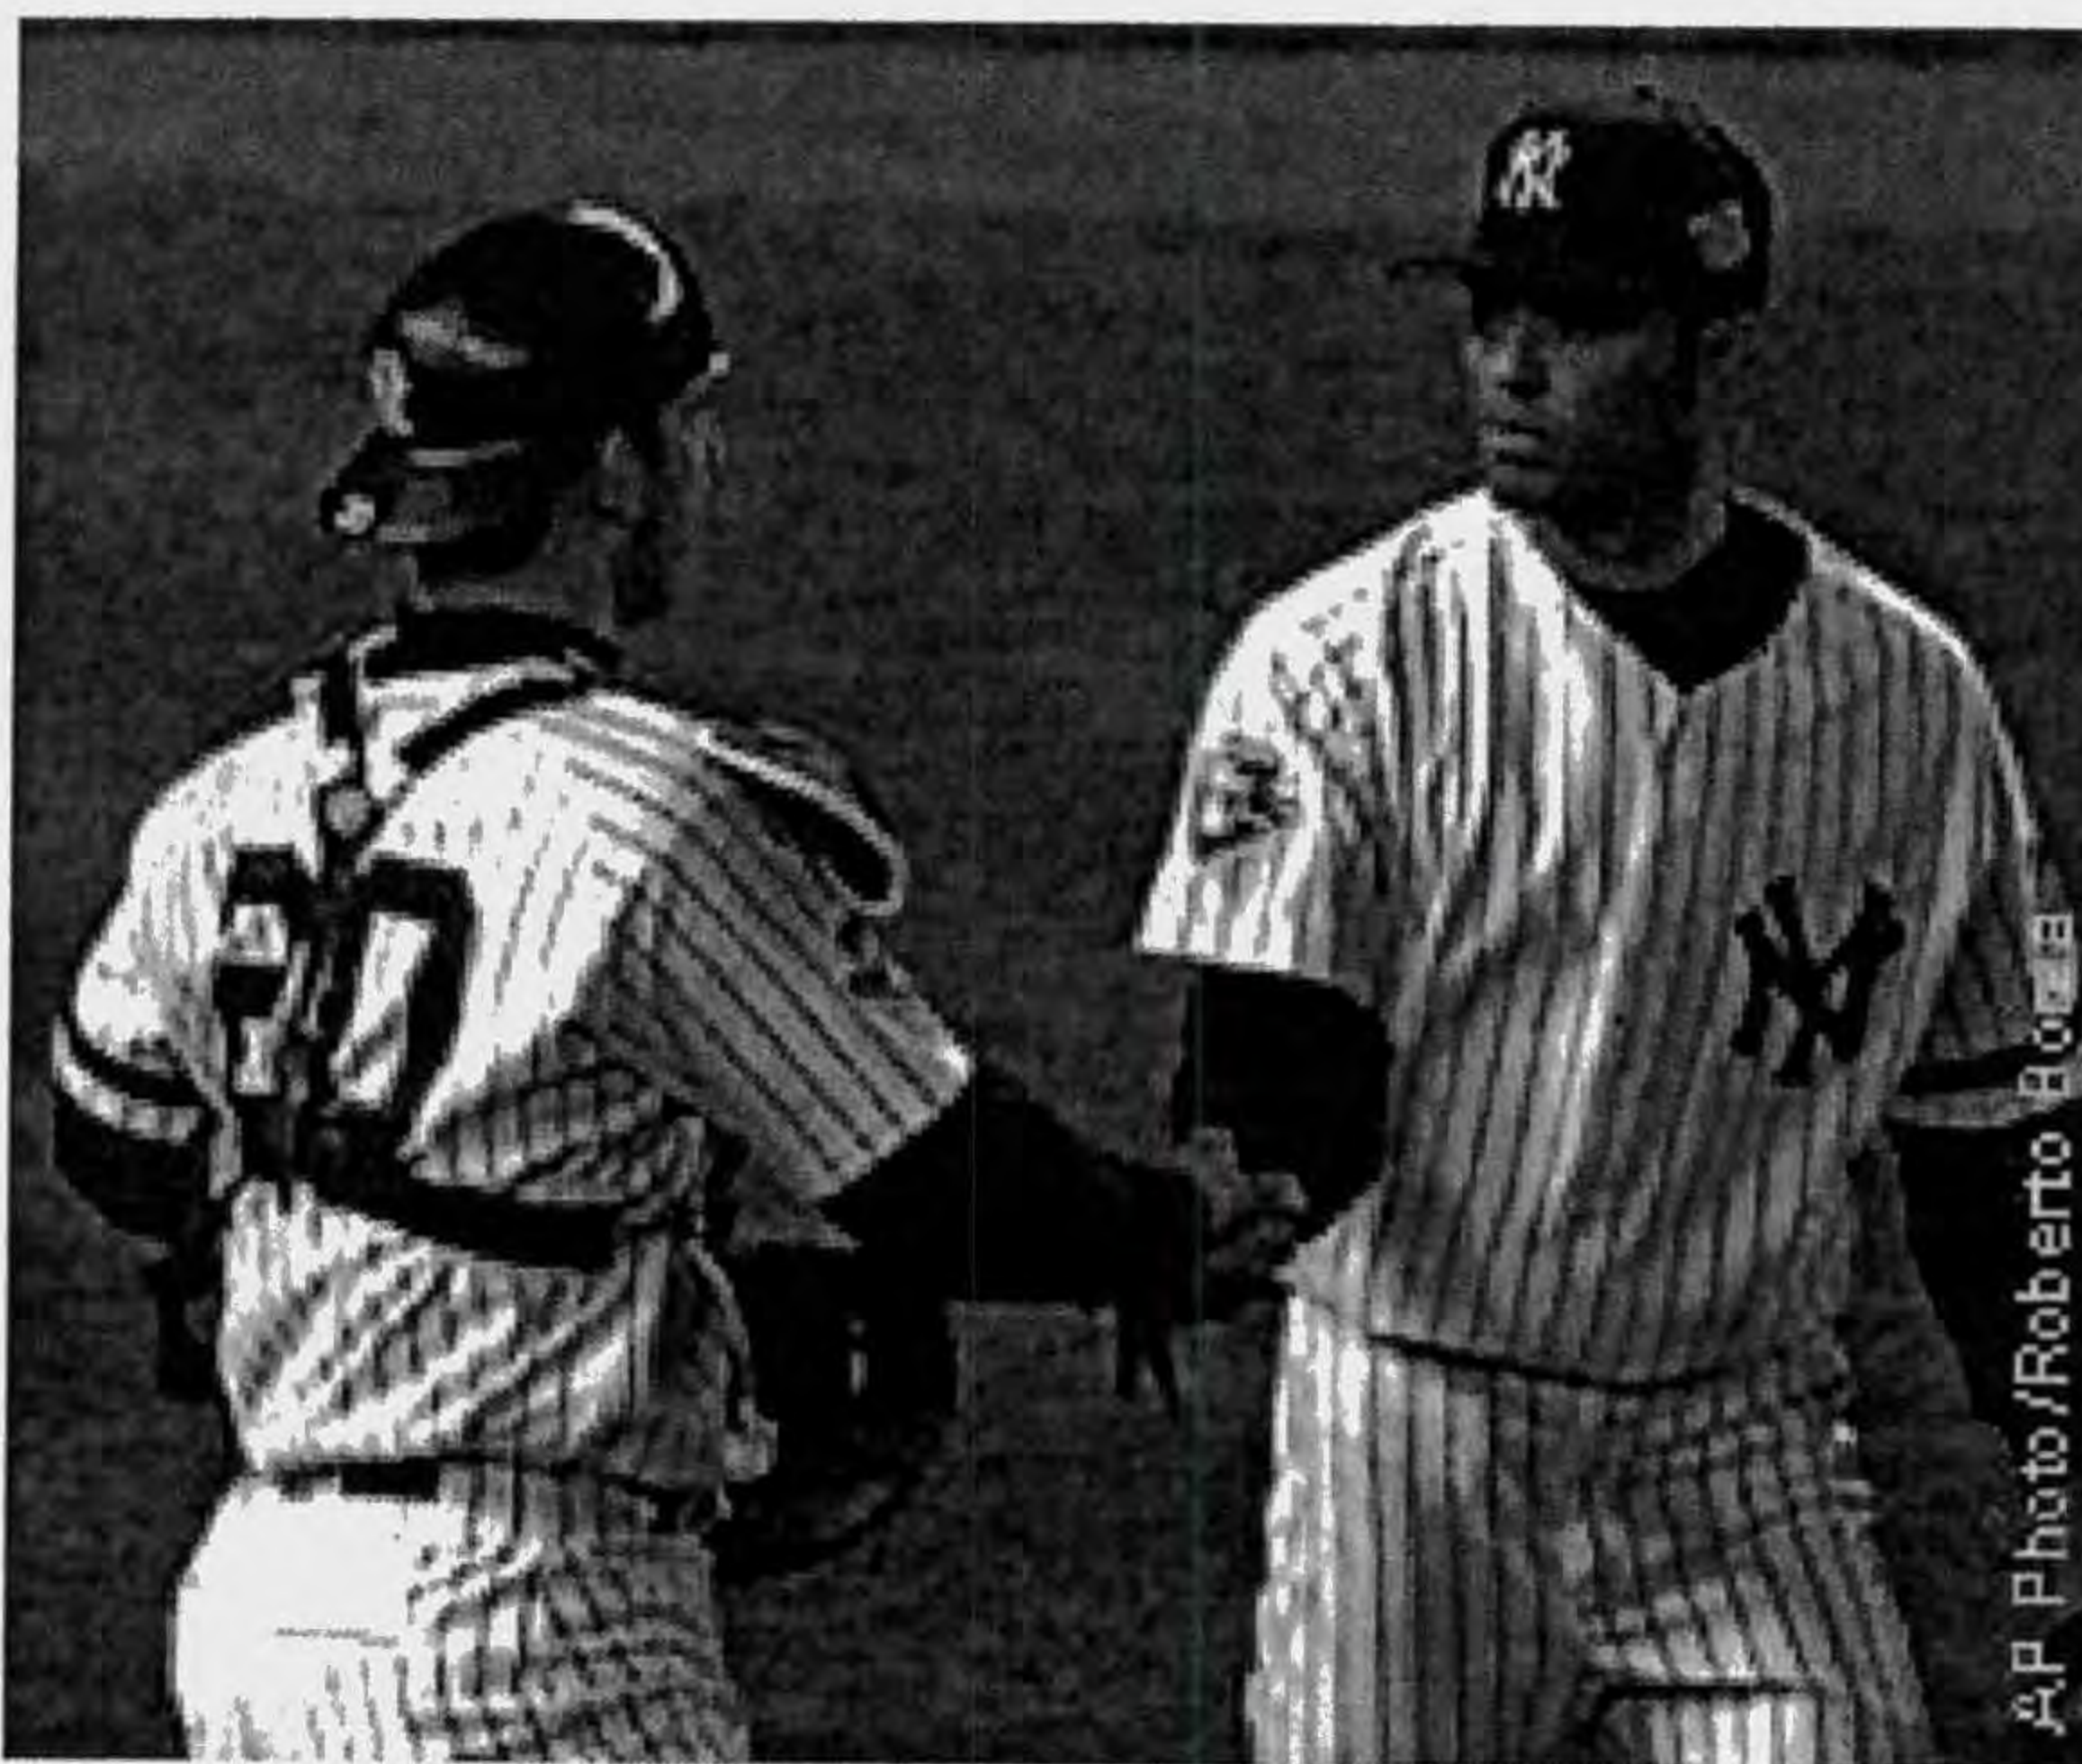

Clemens, Yanks take Game 3

By Carrie Muskat
MLB.com

- 🔊 Exclusive: WorldSeries.com Audio Report
- 📺 Game highlights: 56k | 300k
- 📺 More video highlights ...
- 🔊 Postgame: 300k | 🔊 Audio
- 📄 Box score

NEW YORK -- The Diamondbacks now know what the Yankees felt like in the first two games.

Roger Clemens and Mariano Rivera overpowered the D-Backs to lift the Yankees to a 2-1 victory Tuesday night over Arizona in a critical Game 3 of the World Series. The game marked the latest baseball has been played. The previous record was Oct. 28, which was accomplished twice: In 1981, when the Dodgers beat the Yankees in Game 6 to win the World Series and 1989, when Oakland completed a four-game sweep of San Francisco in the Bay Area World Series.

Rivera and Posada shake hands after slamming the door shut on the D-Backs in the ninth.

The Yankees' win meant that the World Series will extend into November for the first time in history. The Diamondbacks, who lead the best-of-seven series two games to one, will move up hard throwing Curt Schilling for Game 4 Wednesday -- the first game ever to be played on Halloween in Yankee Stadium or baseball, for that matter.

Oct. 30th

D-Backs manager Bob Brenly announced after the game that Schilling, unbeaten in four postseason starts, will go on short rest rather than Miguel Batista (1-1, 3.95 ERA). Batista threw briefly in the bullpen in the Yankees' sixth. As soon as Schilling saw that, he knew he would get the call.

"Schilling will start because he's the right guy to pitch (Wednesday)," Brenly said.

"We'll be here," Yankees manager Joe Torre said.

Postseason history may prompt the D-Backs manager to reconsider. Starting pitchers are 1-9 with a 9.73 ERA the last 15 times they've gone on short rest.

"He wanted it. He feels like he's ready," Arizona starter Brian Anderson said. "I look to see Curt out there throwing like he did all year."

Schilling's record on short rest?

"I don't have one. I've never done it before in the big leagues," Schilling said. "I went to (Brenly) today and

	Diamondbacks	1	3	3
	Yankees	2	7	1

WP: Roger Clemens (1-0)
LP: Brian Anderson (0-1)
SV: Mariano Rivera (1)
HR: Jorge Posada (1)

NY Yank

World Series

Bats went cc
Anemic bats cc the Yankees th World Series against the Diamondbacks Story>

More News

- ◉ Smith: Don just yet
- ◉ Yankees si
- ◉ Diamondba
- ◉ Browne: Ri losses
- ◉ Yankees re goodbye
- ◉ O'Neill end career
- ◉ Stanton: D- from us
- ◉ Yankees re
- ◉ Umpires pr
- ◉ Game 7 do
- ◉ The rundov
- ◉ Grand final it to the limit
- ◉ Stottlemyr
- ◉ LIVE from
- ◉ D-Backs th Game 7
- ◉ O'Neill sal
- ◉ Yanks take another thriller
- ◉ Martinez, J even series
- ◉ Clock strike and Cashman
- ◉ Colligan: Y scream
- ◉ Soriano, S defense
- ◉ Browne: O Game 3 hero
- ◉ Clemens, Y
- ◉ Yankee cor impossible
- ◉ Carmine: Y
- ◉ Big Unit sh go up 2-0
- ◉ D-Backs cr

#8

#7

#3

told him I had prepared the last two days and today as if I was pitching (Wednesday) and I wanted the ball if that would help him make his decision.

"(The media) are the ones who are going to make the big deal out of three days," Schilling said. "I feel good. I know these guys are going to show up to try to tie the series and we'll have our work cut out for us."

The Yankees will go with Orlando Hernandez (1-1, 5.06 ERA) no matter what.

"To me, all my starts are very important to me," Hernandez said.

"For a pitcher as great as Roger has been, he really has had to defend himself a lot. I don't think after this game he'll ever have to defend himself again. He gave us everything we hoped for. He was dynamite."

--Yankees manager Joe Torre, on Roger Clemens.

Tuesday was huge for Clemens (1-1), who struck out five of the first 10 batters he faced and finished with nine. The Rocket gave up three hits, all singles, and walked two in a gutty seven innings.

"For a pitcher as great as Roger has been, he really has had to defend himself a lot," Torre said of Clemens, who now has a 1.85 ERA in five career World Series starts. "I don't think after this game he'll ever have to defend himself again. He gave us everything we hoped for. He was dynamite."

Jorge Posada hit a solo homer in the second inning and Scott Brosius hit a tie-breaking RBI single in the sixth for the Yankees, relieved to see anyone on the mound other than Schilling or Randy Johnson.

"Those guys out there, especially at home, they did it up well," Clemens said of the D-Backs duo. "We knew what we had to do when we came in here. It was a big win for us tonight to try to get back in the series."

New York has a much improved chance at a fourth world championship. No team has ever come back from a 0-3 deficit in the World Series. It's also never happened in the NBA playoffs and only twice in the NHL: the 1942 Toronto Maple Leafs in the Stanley Cup Finals and the 1975 New York Islanders in the second round of the playoffs.

"It was a must game for us," Torre said.

The Yankee Stadium crowd seemed anxious until Rivera entered the game. The slender Panamanian closer retired the last six batters, striking out four, and now has an all-time postseason record 24 saves, including 23 in a row. He is 5-for-5 in save situations this postseason.

"That's a pretty good formula if you can get the ball from Rocket to Mo," Brosius said.

The Yankees were back on their turf playing by their American League rules, so Torre returned regulars Tino Martinez and Paul O'Neill to the lineup. O'Neill, who did not start either of the first two games, got two hits, both off lefties.

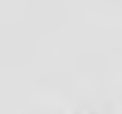

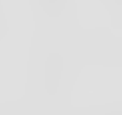

Brenly opted for what he called his "American League lineup," dropping leadoff batter Tony Womack to ninth and moving Craig Counsell into the top spot. He may lobby for pitchers to bat in Game 4.

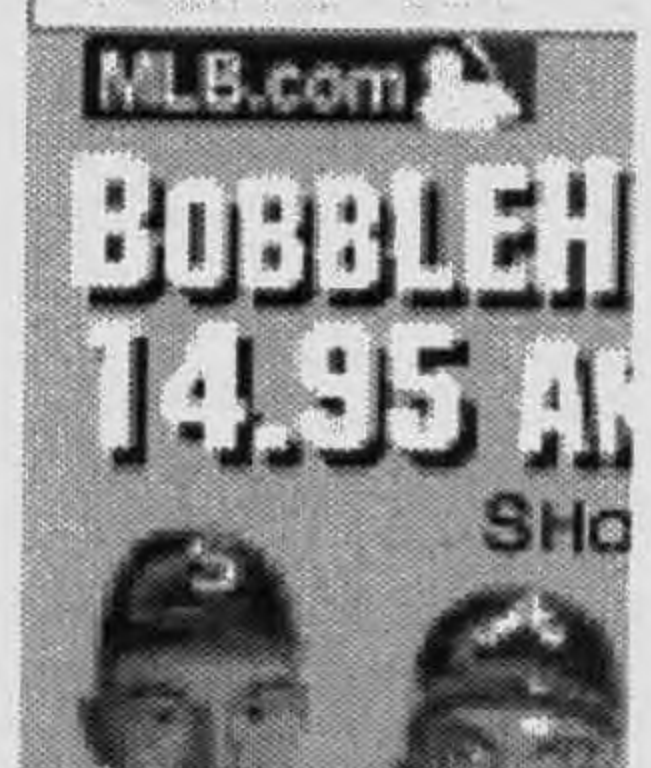

The wind and cold created some problems for the Diamondbacks, especially catcher Damian Miller who was scrambling in foul territory and charged with one error. First baseman Mark Grace collided with Miller for another miscue. Neither led to a run and the Yankees did not take advantage of the mistakes.

"It was cold. It was cold for both teams," Brenly said.

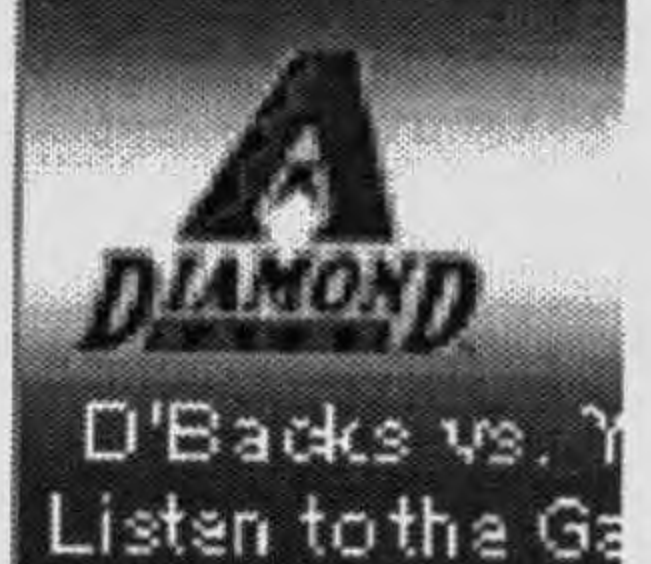

Game 1

Yankees M

-  Game 7 Ph
-  Game high
-  Rivera's err
56k | 300k
-  Rivera strik
56k | 300k
-  Soriano go
56k | 300k
-  Martinez dr
56k | 300k
-  O'Neill can
56k | 300k
-  The Star Sp
56k | 300k
-  Postgame |
-  300k |
-  Pregame p
-  300k |
-  More WS V
-  MLB Radio

Gameday

Custom C

Get all the playoff action
through the
World Series
SEARCHABLE
HIGHLIGHTS

Roger Clemens / P

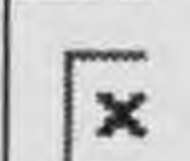

Height: 6'4"
Weight: 238
Bats/Throws: R/R

More info:
Player page
Stats
Splits
yankees.com

 Playoff highlights: 56k | 300k
 Regular season: 56k | 300k

 WORLD SERIES.com

Get Your Club

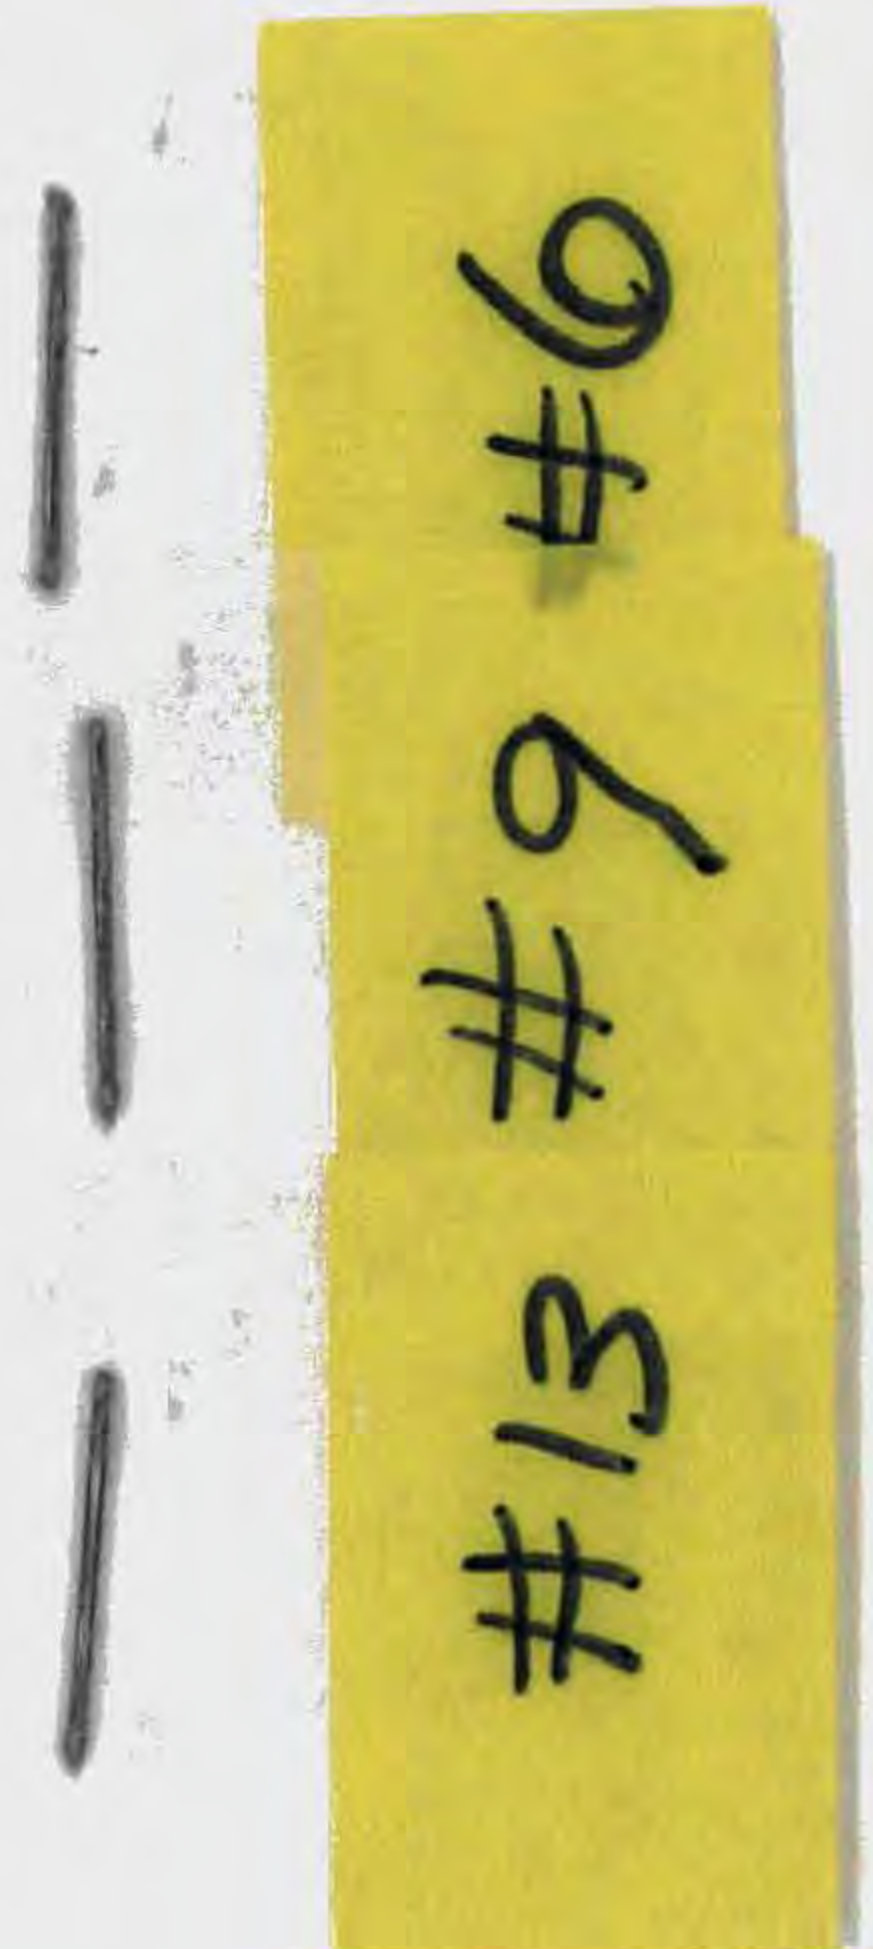

The Yankees' bats had been in the deep freeze since the first inning of Game 1 and Posada warmed things up by leading off the second with his second postseason homer off a 3-2 pitch from Anderson. It was New York's first run since it scored in the first inning of Game 1, ending a stretch of 18 scoreless innings.

Celebrate vict the 2001 Offici Champion Clul

Arizona loaded the bases with one out in the fourth on a walk to Finley, a single by Luis Gonzalez and a walk to Erubiel Durazo. Matt Williams then hit a sacrifice fly to right to score Finley and tie the game.

ADVERTISEMENT

In the Yankees sixth, Bernie Williams reached on an infield single to shortstop Tony Womack to lead off. One out later, Posada walked to chase Anderson and Mike Morgan struck out pinch-hitter David Justice. But Morgan then surrendered up a bloop single to Brosius, scoring Williams to give New York a 2-1 lead.

Celebrate the ' Championship 100% wool nay strap for an inc adjustable fit.

Anderson (1-1), who was not in the D-Backs rotation at season's end, gave up five hits and three walks over 5 1/3 innings.

"We got exactly what we expected out of him," Brenly said.

For many of the Diamondbacks players, this was their first visit to Yankee Stadium. They and the crowd of 55,820 were treated to another red, white and blue pregame complete with President also confirmed on pg. 5

Bush throwing out the first pitch to Yankees backup catcher Todd Greene.

"It's perfect," Grace said of Yankee Stadium. "It's the place where the most history in this game has taken place and it's more than I ever imagined."

The D-Backs were smart to pack their fleece tops. It was 53 degrees at game time -- a shock after 90-degree heat in the desert.

The Yankees don't have just history to deal with. They feel a responsibility to play for the people of New York following the Sept. 11 tragedy. An American flag recovered from the World Trade Center disaster was flying at the stadium as well.

"It's unfair to say that that's what motivated us," Torre said. "We won three World Series in a row and we are pretty well motivated."

And they still have a chance at four.

Carrie Muskat is a reporter for MLB.com

Box score

2001 World Series

Yankees 2, Diamondbacks 1						at Yankee Stadium
FINAL	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Diamondbacks	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	3	3
Yankees	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	2	7	1
DIAMONDBACKS			POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Craig Counsell			2B	4	0	0	0	0	1	0	.083
Steve Finley			CF	2	1	0	0	2	1	0	.167
Luis Gonzalez			LF	4	0	1	0	0	3	1	.273
Reggie Sanders			RF	3	0	0	0	0	2	1	.333

Erubiel Durazo	DH	3	0	2	0	1	1	0	.667
Matt D. Williams	3B	3	0	0	1	0	1	4	.333
Mark Grace	1B	3	0	0	0	0	0	3	.111
Damian Miller	C	3	0	0	0	0	2	0	.200
Tony Womack	SS	3	0	0	0	0	2	0	.000
Totals		28	1	3	1	3	13	9	-

Batting:

SF - M Williams.

RBI - M Williams (5).

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Grace 1, M Williams 1.

Team LOB - 5.

Baserunning:

SB - Sanders (1, 2nd base off Clemens/Posada).

CS - Finley (1, 2nd base by Clemens/Posada).

Picked off - Counsell (1st base, Clemens).

Fielding:

E - Womack (1, ground ball); Miller (1, drop foul); Grace (1, drop foul).

DP: 1 (Counsell-Grace).

YANKEES	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	Avg.
Chuck Knoblauch	DH	4	0	0	0	0	0	1	.000
Derek Jeter	SS	4	0	1	0	0	1	0	.091
Paul O'Neill	RF	4	0	2	0	0	0	1	.400
Clay Bellinger	PR-LF	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Bernie Williams	CF	3	1	1	0	1	0	1	.200
Tino Martinez	1B	4	0	0	0	0	0	3	.000
Jorge Posada	C	3	1	1	1	1	0	0	.333
Shane Spencer	LF	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	.200
a-David Justice	PH-LF-RF	2	0	0	0	0	2	2	.000
Scott Brosius	3B	3	0	1	1	0	0	1	.222
Alfonso Soriano	2B	3	0	1	0	0	0	4	.222
Totals		31	2	7	2	3	3	13	-

a-struck out for Spencer in the 6th.

Batting:

HR - Posada (1, 2nd inning off Anderson 0 on, 0 out).

RBI - Posada (1), Brosius (1).

2-out RBI - Brosius.

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Martinez 1, Soriano 3, B Williams 1.

GIDP - Oneill.

Team LOB - 8.

Baserunning:

SB - Oneill (1, 2nd base off Anderson/Miller).

Fielding:

E - Soriano (1, ground ball).

DP: 1 (Posada-Jeter).

DIAMONDBACKS	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Brian Anderson (L, 0-1)	5.1	5	2	1	3	1	107	37-70	24	1	3.38

Mike Morgan	1.1	1	0	0	0	1	16	6-10	5	0	0.00
Greg Swindell	1.1	1	0	0	0	1	28	10-18	5	0	0.00

Pitching:WP - Anderson, Morgan, Swindell.Ground balls-fly balls: Anderson 9-6; Morgan 3-0; Swindell 0-3.

YANKEES	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Roger Clemens (W, 1-0)	7	3	1	1	3	9	109	41-68	27	0	1.29
Mariano Rivera (S, 1)	2	0	0	0	0	4	29	8-21	6	0	0.00

Pitching:HBP - Sanders (by Clemens).Ground balls-fly balls: Clemens 5-5; Rivera 2-0.Umpires: HP--Dale Scott. 1B--Ed Rapuano. 2B--Jim Joyce. 3B--Dana Demuth. LF--Steve Rippley. RF--Mark Hirschbeck.Time: 3:26Attendance: 55,820.Weather: 52 degrees, clear. Wind: 9 mph, left to right.

BOX SCORE COURTESY OF SPORTSTICKER ENTERPRISES, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Jump to Search for MediaAffiliatesWireless

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

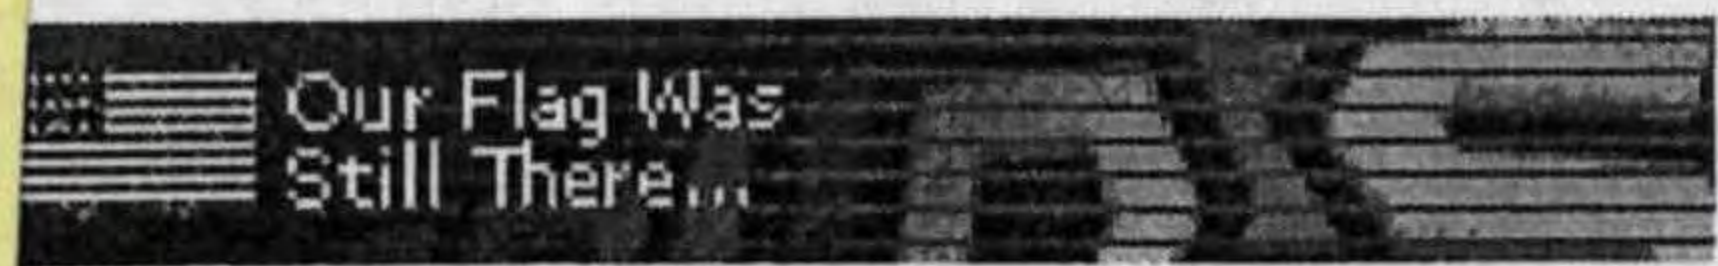

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE .

<http://ad.doubleclick.net/clk;3490489;6474427;w?http://www.mach3.com/sweeps/mlb.htm>

Game #7
(9inning) final
game!

Diamondbacks Yankees Baseball Perspectives Left Field LCS Division Series
Audio Video Scoreboard Stats History Fan Forum Kids Insider Auction Shop

11/07/2001 05:12 PM ET

Diamondbacks win World Series

By Carrie Muskat
MLB.com

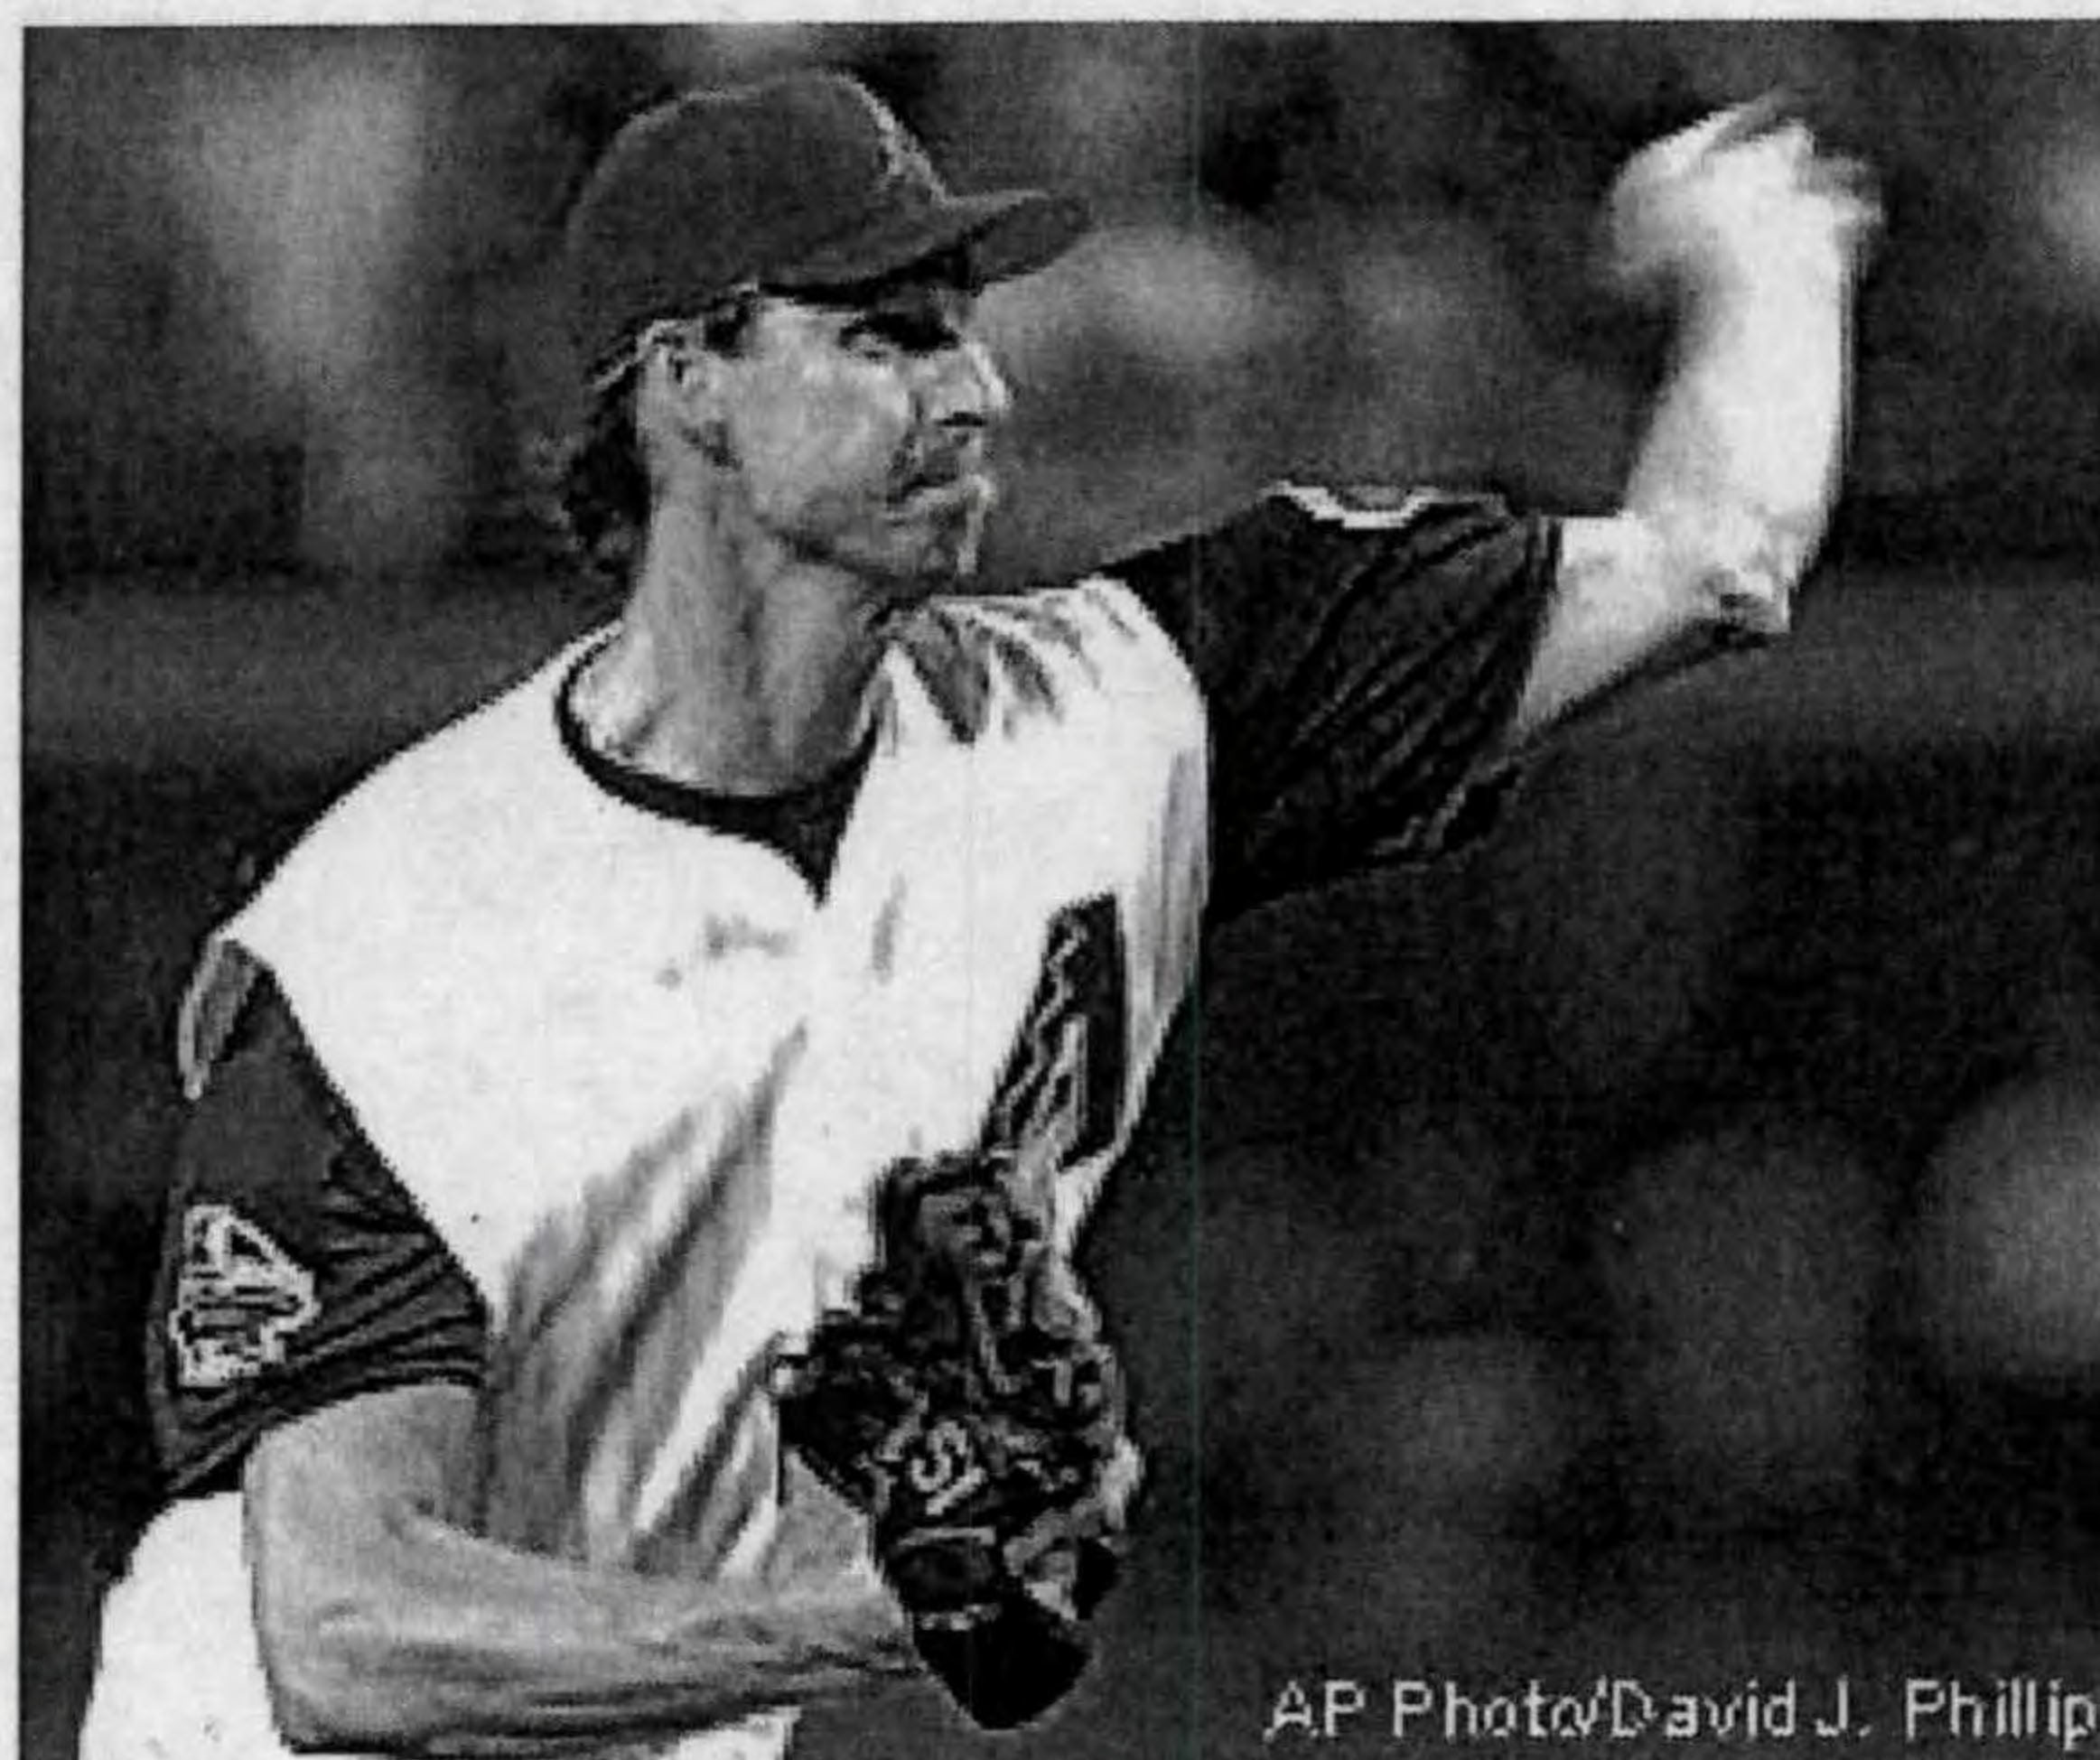

- Game highlights: 56k | 300k
- Exclusive: WorldSeries.com Report
- Box score

PHOENIX -- The Diamondbacks found their own mystique and aura.

After being beaten in extra inning games twice in New York, Arizona got late inning revenge and a World Championship, too.

Game 7
↓
highlights

Luis Gonzalez hit a RBI single with one out in the ninth inning Sunday night off super closer Mariano Rivera to give the expansion Diamondbacks their first World Series win and upend the three-time defending champion Yankees.

Randy Johnson pitched for the second straight game, winning his fifth contest of the postseason.

"From Day One, our goal wasn't to get to the World Series. It was to win it," Gonzalez said.

The D-Backs wear purple, not classic pinstripes, and have a swimming pool in right field. The franchise is now the youngest to win a World Championship. The Yankees are older than the state of Arizona.

But this was Game 7 and magic things can happen.

"We beat the best team in baseball," Arizona starter and co-MVP Curt Schilling said.

Trailing 2-1 in the ninth, Mark Grace singled to lead off against Rivera (2-1), who had converted 23 consecutive saves in postseason play prior to Sunday. Damian Miller then reached on a fielder's choice and pinch-runner David Dellucci was safe at second on a throwing error by Rivera, who fielded the bunt but overthrew second base. Pinch-hitter Jay Bell then bunted, forcing Dellucci at third.

Tony Womack doubled to right, scoring pinch-runner Midre Cummings and tying the game at 2. It was the first run off Rivera after six scoreless innings.

Craig Counsell, the only D-Back with a World Series ring -- and now has two -- was hit by a pitch to load the bases for Gonzalez who blooped a single over shortstop Derek Jeter into shallow center, scoring Bell for the game-winner.

"We had the lead and we had 'Mo' (Rivera) in the game and that's all we really wanted," New York manager Joe Torre said.

Yankees	2	6	2
Diamondbacks	3	10	0
WP: Randy Johnson (5-1)
LP: Mariano Rivera (0-1)
SV: None
HR: Alfonso Soriano (2)

Wo
More News

Diamondbacks

- Schilling ar accept WS
- Selig prese
- Schilling int
- Gonzalez ii
- D-Backs ce
- Game 7 hig
- Gonzalez v
- Womack tie
- Bautista's F
- D-Backs pi
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

Yankees M

- Game 7 Ph
- Game high
- Rivera's err 56k | 300k
- Rivera strik 56k | 300k
- Soriano goi 56k | 300k
- Martinez dr 56k | 300k
- O'Neill can' 56k | 300k
- The Star S; 56k | 300k
- Postgame | 300k |
- Pregame p 300k |
- More WS v
- MLB Radio

MLB Daily Web Shows
Game 7: 56k | 300k

"I don't second guess anything I threw," Rivera said. "I think if I had made that play to second base, that was the whole game right there."

The Yankees knew they had to beat both Schilling and Randy Johnson to win the Series. They just didn't expect to have to do it in the same game.

It was an impossible task.

Schilling started, gave up six hits over seven innings. One day after throwing 100 pitches in Game 6, Johnson pitched 1 1/3 innings in relief and picked up the win, his fifth, which is a postseason record. The two were named co-Most Valuable Players. And deservedly so.

"I've seen (Johnson) do it before when I was with Seattle," New York's Tino Martinez said about the Big Unit's relief appearance. "Seventy-five percent of Randy is better than most."

Rookie Alfonso Soriano hit a tie-breaking home run leading off the eighth inning off Schilling to give New York a 2-1 lead.

The Yankees batted just .183 in the Series, the lowest average for a team in a seven- or eight-game Series, and were outscored 37-14 in the seven games. They needed more.

"We felt we outplayed the Yankees," Gonzalez said. "Our pitching staff shut down a good club."

Torre had hoped Schilling, pitching on short rest for the second straight start, was weary.

"We're looking for that crack in the armor," Torre said.

Soriano found it briefly.

ADVERTISEMENT

Arizona had taken a 1-0 lead on Danny Bautista's RBI double in the sixth but the Yankees quickly tied it in the seventh on Martinez's RBI single.

Schilling, who retired 16 in a row at one point, served up Soriano's blast on a 0-2 pitch into the left field bleachers.

He faced two more Yankees before giving way to Miguel Batista who got one out and exited for Johnson. The Big Unit, making his second career postseason relief appearance, got pinch-hitter Chuck Knoblauch to fly out and end the inning. Johnson (5-1) retired the side in order in the ninth and picked up the win. Johnson's first postseason relief appearance came in the 1995 American League Division Series against the Yankees.

The Yankees have had to play deciding games in best-of-five series but not a Game 7 since 1964.

"The pressures are different, no question," Torre said. "You're finally here and after today it just stops. It's been 100 miles an hour for a few weeks now and it's been pressure-packed."

This was the 34th time the World Series has gone seven games and the 49,589 at Bank One Ballpark weren't disappointed. It was the third time this postseason the D-Backs won the clinching game of a series by a run.

Here's to whoever had 19 in the strikeout pool between the two 20-game winners. Schilling struck out nine and New York starter Roger Clemens had 10.

Game 6:	56k		300k
Game 5:	56k		300k
Game 4:	56k		300k
Game 3:	56k		300k
Games 1+2:	56k		300k

MLB.com

BOBBLEHEAD
14.95

SHO

Gameday

DIAMOND

D'Backs vs. Yankees
Listen to the Game

Custom C

Get all the playoff action
through the
World Series

SEARCHABLE
HIGHLIGHTS

For Clemens, it was his sixth career World Series start and the first time he's had to pick up a bat in the postseason since Game 6 of the 1986 World Series when he played for Boston against the New York Mets. He gave up one run on seven hits over 6 1/3 innings before Mike Stanton took over.

Clemens had tested the BOB's mound on Friday, an off day, after the team arrived from New York. It must have been OK.

Clemens stymied the D-Backs until the sixth. Steve Finley singled to open the inning and Bautista smacked the first pitch from Clemens to the wall in center for a double. Finley scored but Bautista got greedy and was thrown out on an 8-6-5 relay.

The Yankees answered quickly as Jeter singled to start the seventh. Paul O'Neill then singled and Williams hit into a fielder's choice, forcing O'Neill. Martinez singled to right to score Jeter and muffle the crowd. That was all until Soriano's home run, which had been enough for New York.

•They won Games 4 and 5 in extra innings. But that was in New York. The home team won every game in this Series just as the Minnesota and St. Louis did in 1987 and Minnesota and Atlanta did in 1991. The D-Backs were back on their home desert turf and not to be denied.

← Interesting fact

→ The Yankees have had to deal with more than baseball this season although Sunday's game was not about the tragic events of Sept. 11, but only about baseball. Nobody ever says they dream about playing Game 4 in the World Series.

This was the ultimate game.

"There's no question what went on in New York inspired us a great deal," Torre said. "We fell short."

It was quite a Series. The Diamondbacks became the first team in World Series history to enter the bottom of the ninth inning trailing in a Game 7 and then rally to win before the game went into extra innings.

"It's had a little bit of everything," D-Backs manager Bob Brenly said. "It's had great pitching, it's had some of the most ungodly, timely hitting you're ever going to see in your life. We've had offensive explosions, we've had great defense and we've had shoddy defense."

"I think people are surprised that this series has gone the way it has," Brenly said, "but I can't wait to sit back and watch the tapes myself."

Us, too.

Carrie Muskat is a reporter for MLB.com.

Box score

2001 World Series - Game 7

Diamondbacks 3, Yankees 2

at Bank One Ballpark

FINAL	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Yankees	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	2	6	3
Diamondbacks	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	3	11	0
YANKEES	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Derek Jeter	SS	4	1	1	0	0	1	1	.148
Paul O'Neill	RF	3	0	2	0	0	1	0	.333
b- Chuck Knoblauch	PH-LF	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	.056
Bernie Williams	CF	4	0	0	0	0	1	2	.208
Tino Martinez	1B	4	0	1	1	0	1	0	.190
Jorge Posada	C	4	0	0	0	0	2	2	.174

Shane Spencer	LF-RF	3	0	0	0	0	0	2	.200
Alfonso Soriano	2B	3	1	1	1	0	1	0	.240
Scott Brosius	3B	3	0	0	0	0	2	0	.167
Roger Clemens	P	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000
Mike Stanton	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
a- David Justice	PH	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	.167
Mariano Rivera	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Totals		32	2	6	2	0	10	8	-

a-singled for Stanton in the 8th; b-flied to right for O'Neill in the 8th.

Batting:

2B - Oneill (1, Schilling).

HR - Soriano (1, 8th inning off Schilling 0 on, 0 out).

RBI - Martinez (3), Soriano (2).

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Spencer 1.

Team LOB - 3.

Fielding:

E - Clemens (1, catch); Soriano (3, ground ball); Rivera (1, throw).

Outfield assists - B Williams (Bautista at 3rd base).

DIAMONDBACKS	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Tony Womack	SS	5	0	2	1	0	1	0	.250
Craig Counsell	2B	4	0	1	0	0	0	0	.083
Luis Gonzalez	LF	5	0	1	1	0	2	1	.259
Matt Williams	3B	4	0	1	0	0	2	2	.269
Steve Finley	CF	4	1	2	0	0	1	2	.368
Danny Bautista	RF	3	0	1	1	1	1	1	.583
Mark Grace	1B	4	0	3	0	0	0	0	.263
David Dellucci	PR	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.500
Damian Miller	C	4	0	0	0	0	3	4	.190
Midre Cummings	PR	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Curt Schilling	P	3	0	0	0	0	3	3	.000
Miguel Batista	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Randy Johnson	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.143
a- Jay Bell	PH	1	1	0	0	0	0	2	.143
Totals		37	3	11	3	1	13	15	-

a-hit into fielder's choice for Johnson in the 9th.

Batting:

2B - Bautista (2, Clemens); Womack (3, Rivera).

RBI - Bautista (7), Womack (3), Gonzalez (5).

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - M Williams 1, Schilling 1, Finley 1.

Team LOB - 11.

Baserunning:

CS - Womack (1, 2nd base by Stanton/Posada).

Fielding:

Outfield assists - Bautista (Oneill at 3rd base).

YANKEES IP H R ER BB K PIT B-S BF HR ERA

Roger Clemens	6.1	7	1	1	1	10	114	39-75	28	0	1.35
Mike Stanton	0.2	0	0	0	0	0	4	1-3	1	0	3.18
Mariano Rivera (L,1-1) (BS,1)	1.1	4	2	1	0	3	28	7-21	10	0	1.42

Pitching:

HBP - Counsell (by Rivera).

Ground balls-fly balls: Clemens 6-2; Stanton 0-1; Rivera 1-0.

DIAMONDBACKS	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Curt Schilling	7.1	6	2	2	0	9	103	28-75	27	1	1.69
Miguel Batista	0.1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0-1	1	0	0.00
Randy Johnson (W, 3-0)	1.1	0	0	0	0	1	17	5-12	4	0	1.04

Pitching:

Ground balls-fly balls: Schilling 1-11; Batista 1-0; Johnson 1-2.

Umpires: HP--Steve Rippley. 1B--Mark Hirschbeck. 2B--Dale Scott. 3B--Ed Rapuano. LF--Jim Joyce. RF--Dana Demuth.

Time: 3:20

Attendance: 49,589.

Weather: 87 degrees, cloudy. Wind: 18 mph, left to right.

BOX SCORE COURTESY OF SPORTSTICKER ENTERPRISES, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Jump to Official Club Site

Search for

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE .

<http://ad.doubleclick.net/clk;3490489;6474427;w?http://www.mach3.com/sweeps/mlb.htm>

Game #1
7 Innings

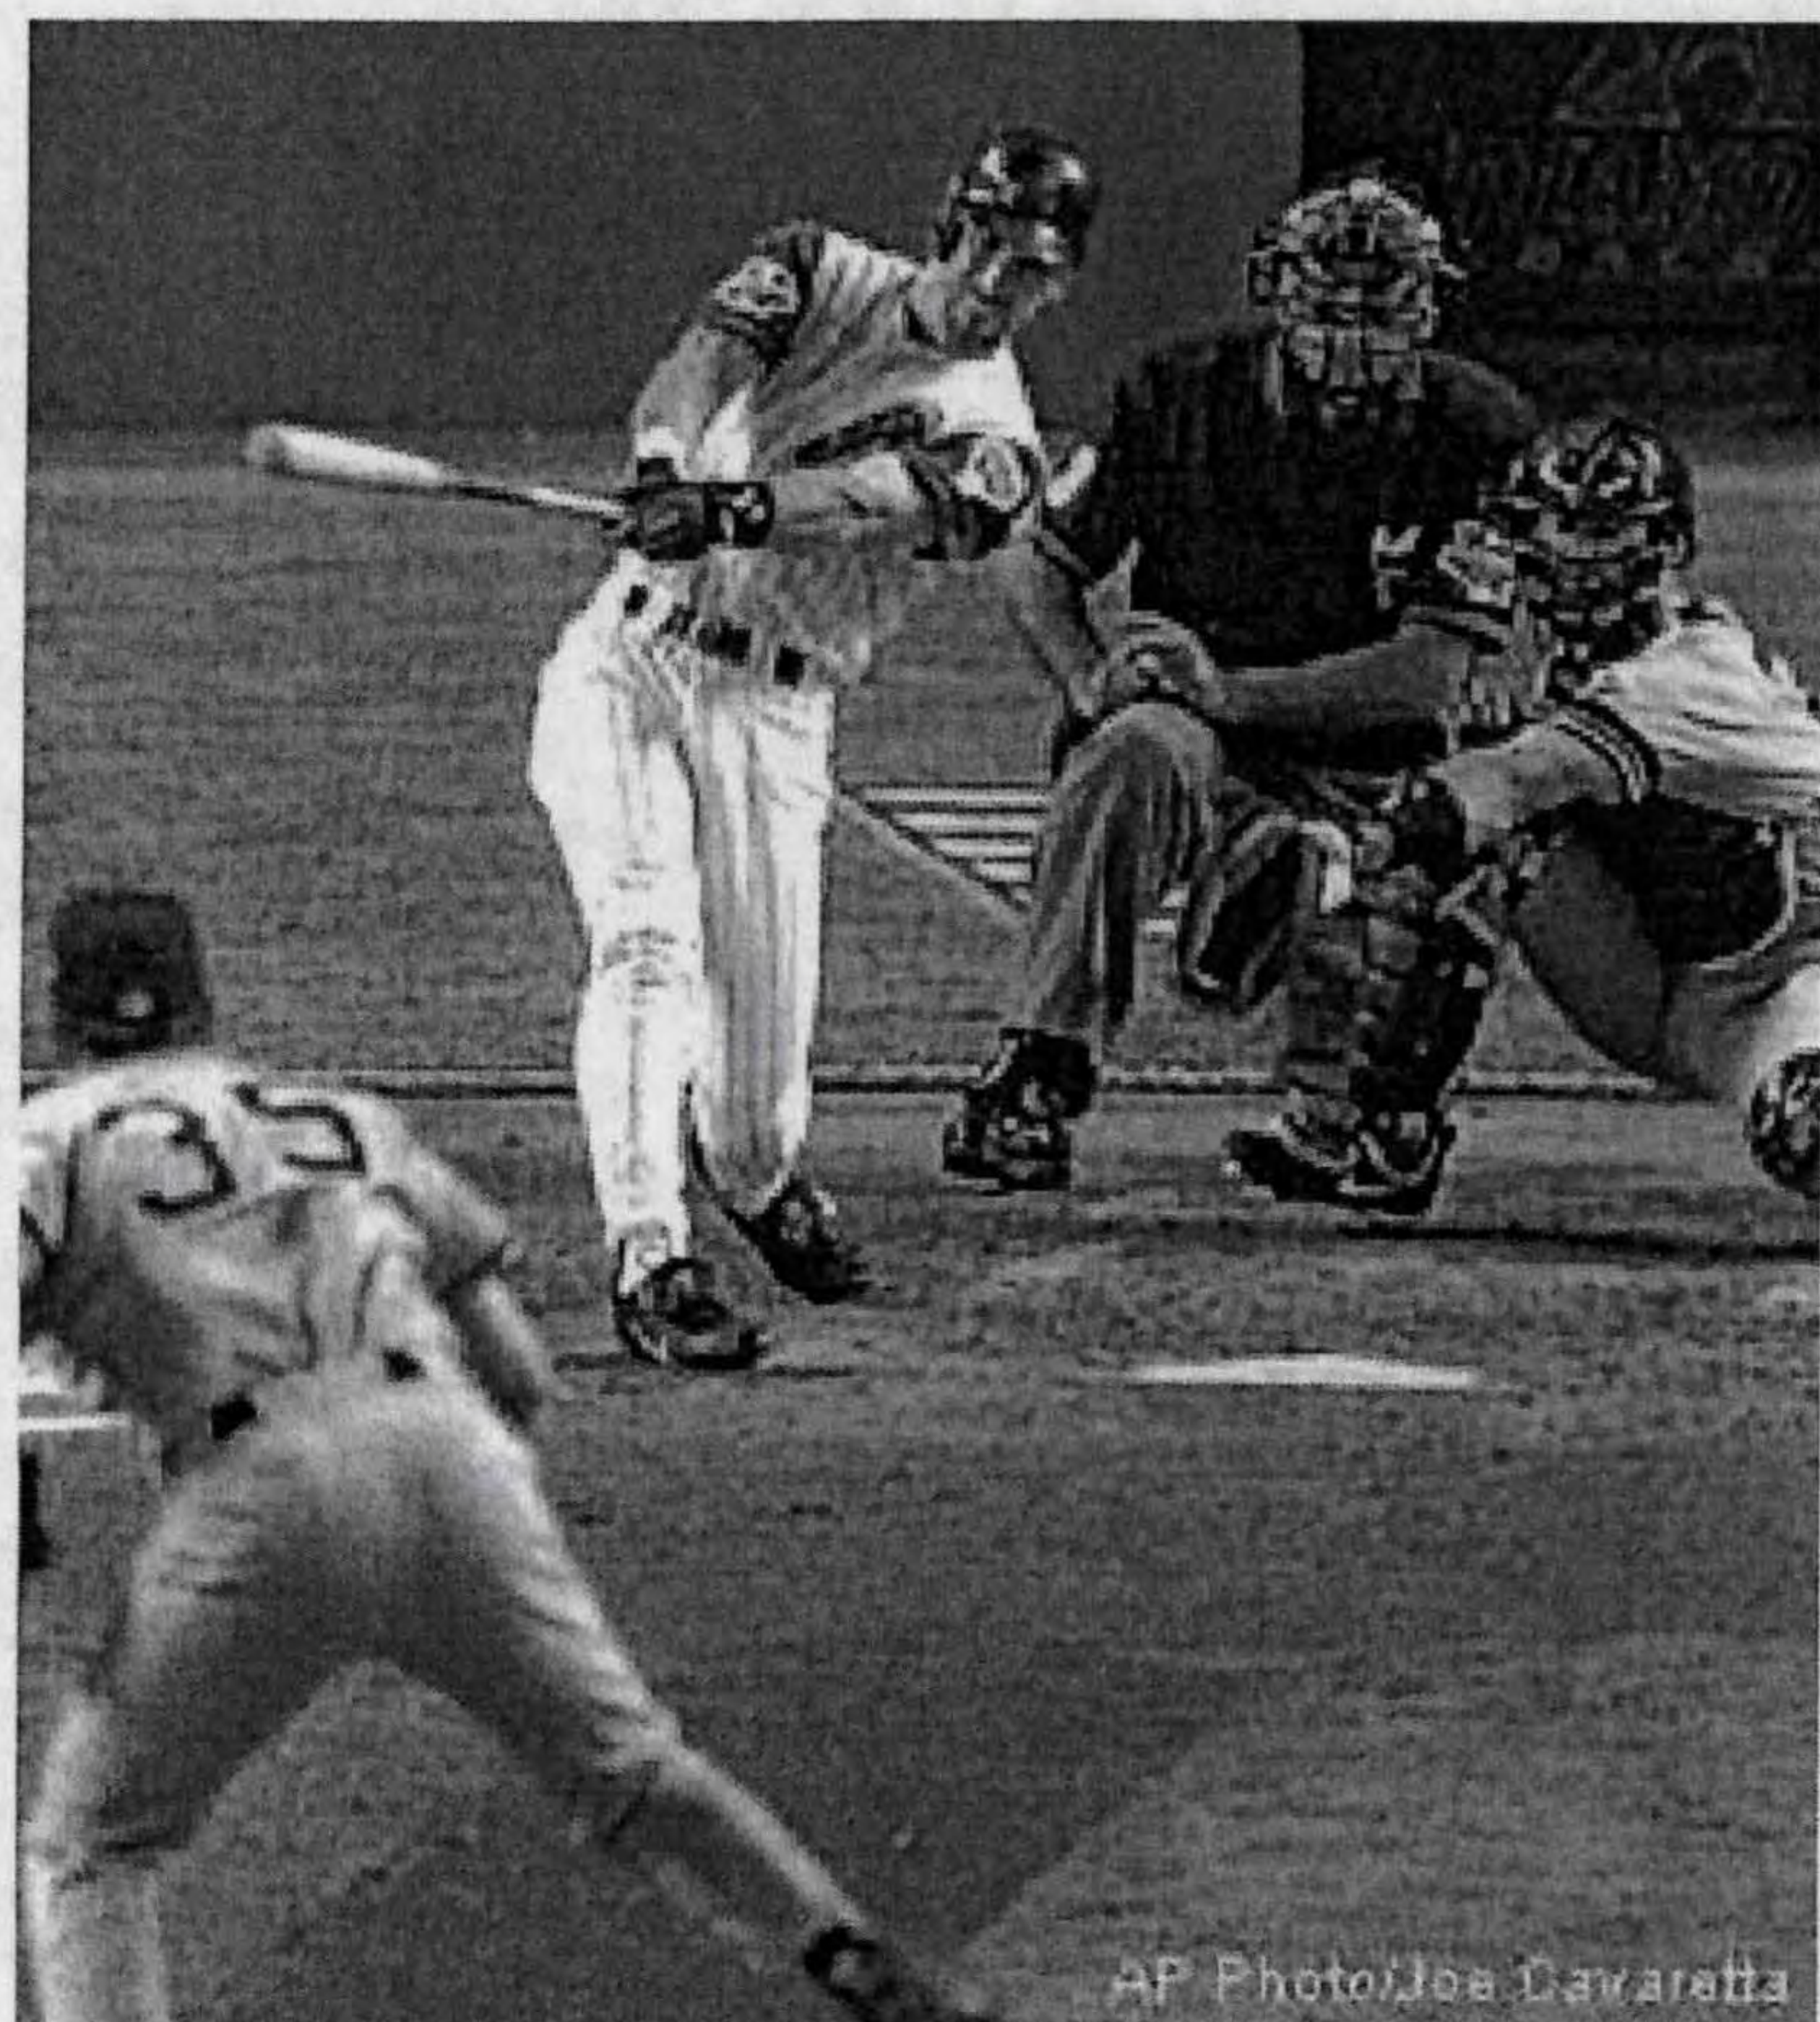

Our Flag Was Still There...

Diamondbacks Left Field Division Series LCS
Audio Video Scoreboard Stats History Fan Forum Kids Subscriptions Auction Shop

Game 1 Wrapup: D-Backs 9, Yankees 1

Game 1 | Game 2 | Game 3 | Game 4 | Game 5 | Gar

AP Photo/Joe D'Avaretti

Luis Gonzalez led Arizona's impressive offensive charge Saturday night.

Cactus jacks

Luis Gonzalez belted a two-run homer and Craig Counsell hit a key solo shot to power the Diamondbacks to a 9-1 victory Saturday night over the Yankees in Game 1 of the World Series.

Full Story >

Same old Schill

Postseason wins are becoming routine for Curt Schilling, writes MLB.com's Jonathan Mayo. More >

WORLD SERIES

Game 1	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Yankees	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
Diamondbacks	1	0	4	4	0	0	0

Arizona leads series 1-0 | Box Score

- Desert storm: Arizona's offense
- D-Backs notes: Schilling possible starter
- Bonds honored for home run record
- Sanders: Series reality finally sinking in
- Stanton: It's just one loss
- Browne: Mussina's outing set the tone
- Bauman: Yankees didn't look like they were going to win
- Mayo: Torre made three key decisions
- Leach: Yankees hurt by hitting slump
- Cactus League: Game 1's best moments

Custom Jerseys
player name

Stars & Stripes

Multimedia Game 1

- Game Highlights: 56k | 300k
- Game 1 Audio report
- Schilling's strikeouts: 56k | 300k
- Grace's RBI double: 56k | 300k
- Miller's RBI double: 56k | 300k
- Counsell's HR: 56k | 300k

- Gonzalez's HR: 56k | 300k
- Williams' RBI: 56k | 300k
- Justice struggles: 56k | 300k
- Postgame press conference: 300k | Audio
- Pregame press conference: Audio

Left Field Insights, et cetera

- Live from the World Series
- Yanks are mere mortals
- Six questions with Mark Grace

Photo

Game 1: Yankees

Bottom Line

Heroes
Cheeseheads Damian Miller and Craig Counsell came up big for Arizona.

Goats
With a bad night at the plate and in the field, David Justice epitomized the Yankees.

D-Backs Deal
The D-Backs know they are facing the 2001 Yankees, not Babe Ruth and Co.

Ya
After another New York loss to the Diamondbacks, Yankees manager Joe Torre

Jump to

Search | enter keyword

Entire Site

#5

MLB.com POWERED BY Sun. Our Flag Was Still There...

- Diamondbacks Yankees Baseball Perspectives Left Field LCS Division Series
- Audio Video Scoreboard Stats History Fan Forum Kids Insider Auction Shop

10/28/2001 02:07 AM ET

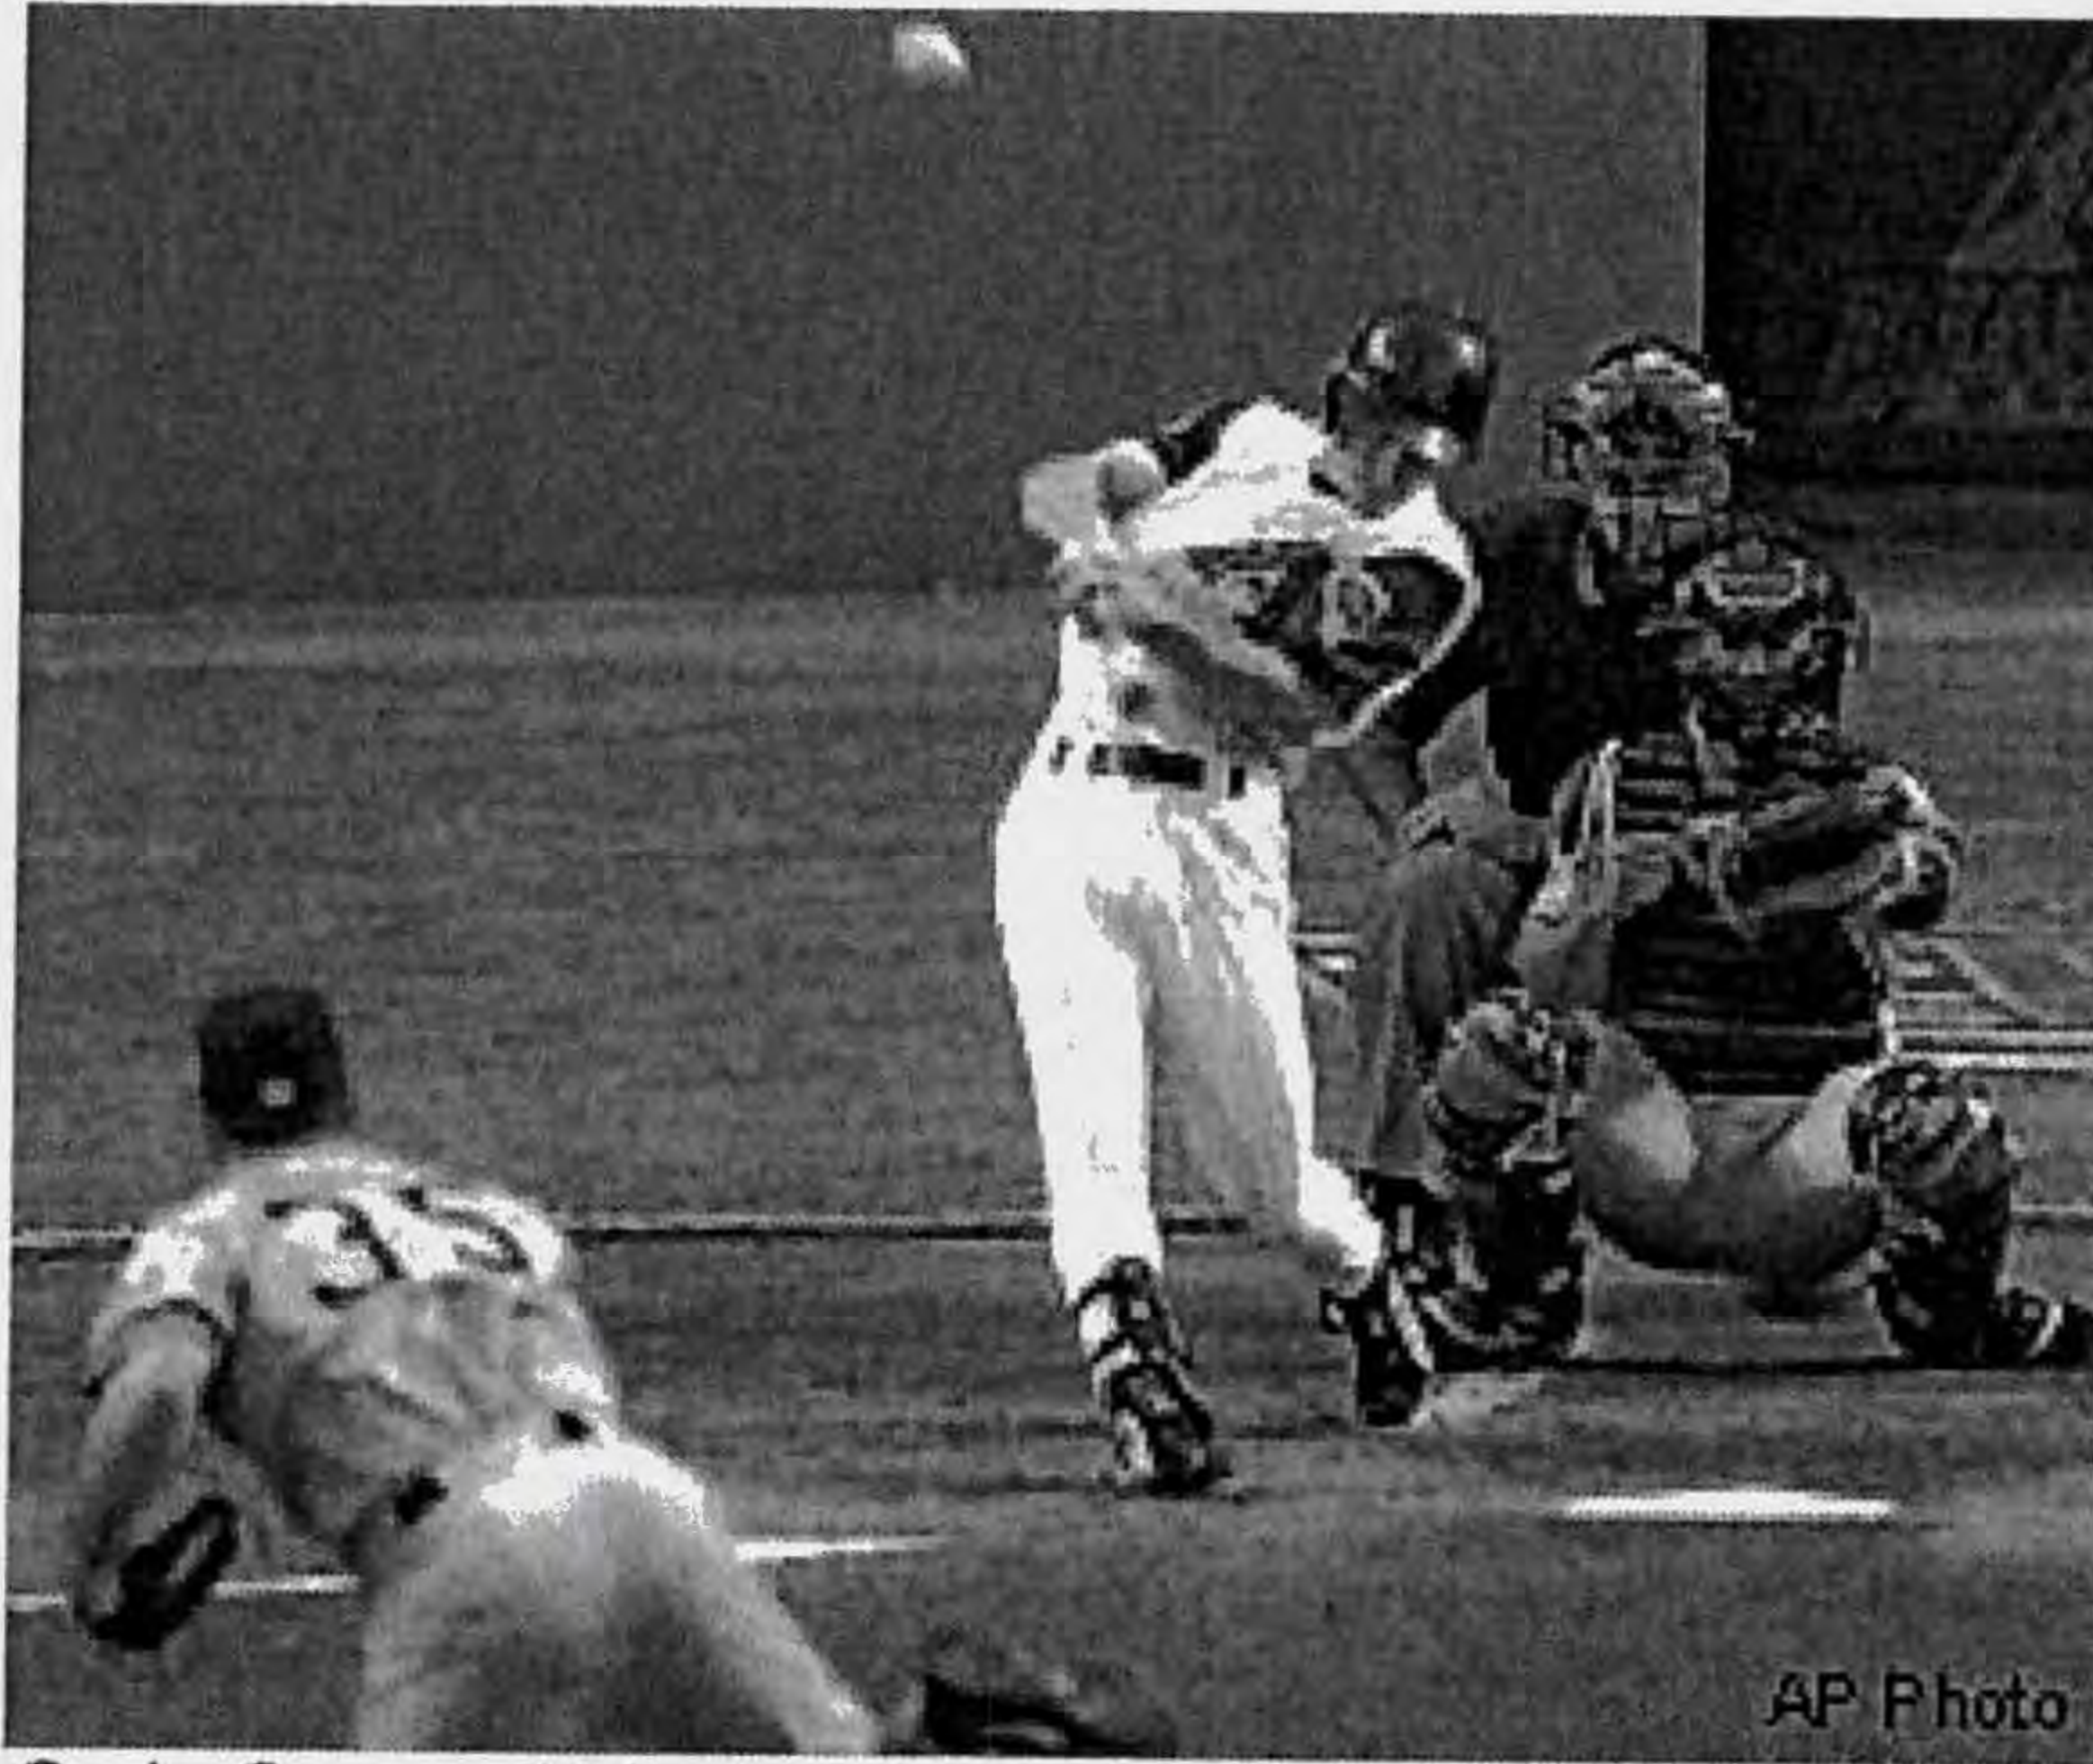

D-Backs crush Mussina, take Game 1

By Carrie Muskat
MLB.com

- Schilling's eight strikeouts: 56k | 300k
- Game highlights: 56k | 300k | More video >
- Photo gallery: Game 1
- Postgame press conferences:
 - 300k | Audio
- Box score

PHOENIX -- The New York Yankees found out quickly that the ball does carry in the desert air.

Luis Gonzalez belted a two-run homer and Craig Counsell hit a key solo shot to power the Arizona Diamondbacks to a 9-1 victory Saturday night over the Yankees in Game 1 of the World Series.

Craig Counsell hits a solo shot to power the Arizona Diamondbacks to a 9-1 victory Saturday night.

Curt Schilling (4-0) remained unbeaten in four postseason starts, striking out eight and holding the Yankees to three hits over seven innings.

"That's a good night's work for him," Arizona manager Bob Brenly said of Schilling, who could start Game 4.

If the three-time World Champion Yankees are to make it four in a row, it won't get any easier Sunday in Game 2 when Andy Pettitte (2-1, 2.18 ERA) squares off against the Big Unit, Randy Johnson (2-1, 1.88 ERA).

Pettitte may be the only left-handed bat in the Yankee lineup.

"I'm looking forward to facing Andy Pettitte," Johnson said, chuckling.

If the infant Diamondbacks were nervous playing in their first World Series, they didn't show it. All week, they've listened to talk about the Yankees mystique, the 26 World Championships, the power of the pinstripes.

"We didn't buy into all that hype stuff," Brenly said. "It's out there and it's talked about a lot but our guys have maintained that we have to go out and play the game. The history of that great franchise doesn't enter into it, only the present."

The Diamondbacks, the youngest expansion franchise in to ever reach the World Series, are rewriting their history daily.

"I was just awful. Every ball I threw was in the middle of the plate. You just can't go out there with

This is, obviously, the first World Series game in Arizona and also the first time a World Series has started so late, delayed because of the one-week postponement following the Sept. 11 tragedy.

Wo
More News

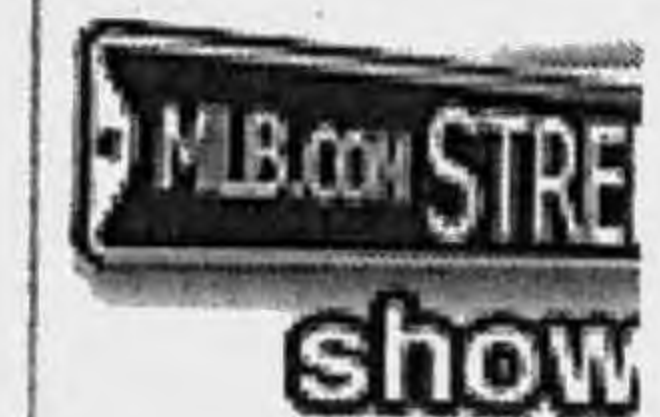

Diamondbacks

- Schilling ar accept WS
- Selig prese
- Schilling int
- Gonzales ii
- D-Backs ce
- Game 7 hig
- Gonzalez v
- Womack tie
- Bautista's F
- D-Backs pi
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

Yankees M

- Game 7 Ph
- Game high
- Rivera's err 56k | 300k
- Rivera strik 56k | 300k
- Soriano gor 56k | 300k
- Martinez dr 56k | 300k
- O'Neill can' 56k | 300k
- The Star Sp 56k | 300k
- Postgame | 300k |
- Pregame p 300k |
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

	Yankees	1	3	2
	Diamondbacks	9	10	0
	WP: Curt Schilling (1-0)
	LP: Mike Mussina (0-1)
	SV: None
	HR: Craig Counsell (1), Luis Gonzales (1)

that."

--Yankees starter Mike Mussina

There was the proper pregame red, white and blue fanfare for the 49,646 at Bank One Ballpark, the park's largest crowd ever, including a giant American flag that covered almost the entire outfield. But the primary colors at the BOB were purple and teal.

And the D-Backs' primary goal -- avoid closer Mariano Rivera -- was accomplished. Every position player except Arizona leadoff hitter Tony Womack got a hit.

"It really was the epitome of a team effort tonight," Brenly said.

It was a tough night for the Yankees. New York starter Mike Mussina (2-1) lasted just three innings.

"I was just awful," Mussina said. "Every ball I threw was in the middle of the plate. You just can't go out there with that."

The new addition to the Yankees rotation this year, Mussina gave up five runs -- three earned -- on six hits and one walk. The right-hander, who served up 20 homers in 34 starts, gave up a pair in Game 1 and departed after 63 pitches.

"I'm always surprised when something like that happens," Yankees manager Joe Torre said. "He could not locate the pitches the way he wanted to and we paid the price, basically."

It was even tougher for David Justice, whom Torre selected over Paul O'Neill to start in right. He struck out three times against Schilling and misplayed Steve Finley's fly ball for an error in the D-Backs' four-run third inning, although it could've been because of his unfamiliarity with the BOB.

It got worse. Third baseman Scott Brosius misplayed Matt Williams' ground ball in the fourth, allowing a run to score. And Derek Jeter was hitless in a World Series for the first time since Game 5 in 1996, ending his string at 14 games.

"We've got a long way to go before we're thinking about winning four World Championships," Torre said. "There's a lot of real estate out there before we can think about that. I don't allow it."

Johnson won't give them much time to breathe, let alone think.

"I just want to keep doing what we've been doing all year, grinding and going out there and playing the game hard," Brenly said.

Expect a few more broadcasters to submit their resumes to Major League teams seeking managerial candidates.

Schilling made Brenly look good, allowing a RBI double to Bernie Williams in the first, a double to Brosius with two out in the second and a two-out single to Jorge Posada in the fourth. It was the fewest hits by a team in a World Series game since Atlanta totaled two Oct. 24, 1999, in Game 2 against the Yankees.

"We knew going in that we would like to be patient," Torre said, "but we can't make the pitches hurt us by having him get ahead in the count like he can because he has too many weapons to push you away."

This postseason, Schilling has allowed just three earned runs over 34 innings for a 0.79 ERA. Brenly pulled the right-hander after 102 pitches. Does that mean Schilling might start Game 4 instead of Miguel Batista?

"It might," Brenly said.

How does Schilling do it?

Curt Schilling / P

Height: 6'4"
Weight: 230
Bats/Throws: R/R

More info:

Player page
Stats
Splits
azdiamondbacks.com

 Playoff highlights: 56k | 300k

 Regular season: 56k | 300k

 WORLD SERIES.com

MLB.com
BOBBLEH
14.95
SHO
Gameday
A DIAMOND
D-Backs vs. Yankees
Listen to the Game
Custom C
Get all the playoff action
through the
World Series
SEARCHABLE
HIGHLIGHTS

"Focus," he said. "Just being focused on the task at hand. It's one inning, one out, one pitch at a time. In these situations, it's easier to do when it's the end of the year. This is it. You're playing for all the marbles."

The Yankees did continue their postseason trademark of scoring early. Schilling hit Jeter on the right hand with one out in the first and then struck out Justice. Williams tapped the ball into the left field corner for a double to drive in Jeter for his 11th postseason RBI.

But the D-Backs answered immediately and that may have been the difference.

ADVERTISEMENT

Counsell, the only D-Back with a World Series ring, quickly swung the momentum southwest with his second postseason homer with one out in the first to tie the game. Counsell missed the right field swimming pool by a few feet, driving a 2-1 pitch from Mussina into the right field seats.

"I think that was the turning point of the ballgame," Brenly said. "We all know how the Yankees like to get the lead."

Counsell then bunted in his next at-bat in the third to advance Womack who was hit by a pitch. The sacrifice wasn't necessary. Gonzalez hit his third postseason homer this year off a 1-2 pitch from Mussina to go ahead 3-1.

Add Gonzalez's career-high 57 regular season homers and his current postseason numbers and he's in the elite 60-homer group.

Reggie Sanders singled and reached third when Finley was safe on an error by Justice, who had trouble tracking down Finley's fly ball. Williams hit a sacrifice fly to score Sanders and make it 4-1 and Mark Grace was intentionally walked. Damian Miller responded with a double down the left field line, scoring Finley.

The Diamondbacks batted around in the third, then sent eight to the plate in a four-run fourth against left-hander Randy Choate who was added to the roster Saturday. He may want to reconsider his options.

Finley hit a RBI single, another run scored on a fielding error by Brosius and Grace added a two-run double to go ahead 9-1.

The Diamondbacks are young in World Series experience only. The Yankees have retired 14 uniform numbers -- and 15 players -- and Arizona has none. For the next week, that doesn't matter.

"You know, the Yankees are who they are," Schilling said. "They've got 37 [38] championship banners and I think, what, 26 World Series ... but that does not mean that they are going to beat us."

Not this time.

Carrie Muskat is a reporter for MLB.com.

Box score

2001 World Series

Diamondbacks 9, Yankees 1

at Bank One Ballpark

FINAL	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Yankees	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	3	2
Diamondbacks	1	0	4	4	0	0	0	0	x	9	10	0
YANKEES					POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Chuck Knoblauch					LF	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000

Mike Stanton	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Derek Jeter	SS	3	1	0	0	0	0	0	.000
David Justice	RF-LF	3	0	0	0	0	3	1	.000
c-Shane Spencer	PH	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Bernie Williams	CF	4	0	1	1	0	2	0	.250
Tino Martinez	1B	3	0	0	0	1	0	1	.000
Jorge Posada	C	3	0	1	0	1	1	1	.333
Alfonso Soriano	2B	3	0	0	0	0	1	2	.000
Scott Brosius	3B	3	0	1	0	0	1	1	.333
Mike Mussina	P	1	0	0	0	0	1	1	.000
Randy Choate	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
a-Enrique Wilson	PH	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Sterling Hitchcock	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
b-Paul O'Neill	PH-RF	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Totals		30	1	3	1	2	9	7	-

a-grounded to second for Choate in the 5th; b-popped to shortstop for Hitchcock in the 8th; c-popped to second for Justice in the 9th.

Batting:

2B - B Williams (1, Schilling); Brosius (1, Schilling).

RBI - B Williams (1).

2-out RBI - B Williams.

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - T Martinez 1, Mussina 1.

Team LOB - 5.

Fielding: E - Justice (1, fly ball); Brosius (1, ground ball).

DIAMONDBACKS	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Tony Womack	SS	4	1	0	0	0	1	0	.000
Craig Counsell	2B	4	1	1	1	0	2	0	.250
Luis Gonzalez	LF	5	2	2	2	0	2	0	.400
Reggie Sanders	RF	3	2	2	0	1	0	0	.667
Steve Finley	CF	4	2	1	1	0	1	2	.250
Matt D. Williams	3B	3	1	1	1	0	1	2	.333
Mark Grace	1B	3	0	1	2	1	0	1	.333
Damian Miller	C	4	0	2	1	0	1	2	.500
Curt Schilling	P	3	0	0	0	0	2	3	.000
a-Jay Bell	PH	1	0	0	0	0	1	1	.000
Mike Morgan	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Totals		34	9	10	8	2	11	11	-

a-struck out for Schilling in the 7th.

Batting:

2B - Miller (1, Mussina); Gonzalez (1, Choate); Grace (1, Choate).

HR - Counsell (1, 1st inning off Mussina 0 on, 1 out); Gonzalez (1, 3rd inning off Mussina 1 on, 1 out).

S - Counsell.

SF - M Williams.

RBI - Counsell (1), Gonzalez 2 (2), M Williams (1), Miller (1), Finley (1), Grace 2 (2).

2-out RBI - Miller, Finley, Grace 2.

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Schilling 2, Miller 1.

Team LOB - 6.

YANKEES	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Mike Mussina (L, 0-1)	3	6	5	3	1	4	64	17-47	18	2	9.00
Randy Choate	1	3	4	1	1	1	18	6-12	8	0	9.00
Sterling Hitchcock	3	1	0	0	0	6	39	12-27	10	0	0.00
Mike Stanton	1	0	0	0	0	0	6	2-4	3	0	0.00

Pitching:

IBB - Grace (by Mussina); Sanders (by Choate).

HBP - Womack (by Mussina).

Ground balls-fly balls: Schilling 6-7; Morgan 1-2; Swindell 0-2; Mussina 3-2; Choate 1-1; Hitchcock 2-1; Stanton 2-1.

DIAMONDBACKS	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Curt Schilling (W, 1-0)	7	3	1	1	1	8	102	34-68	26	0	1.29
Mike Morgan	1	0	0	0	0	0	10	4-6	3	0	0.00
Greg Swindell	1	0	0	0	1	1	14	6-8	4	0	0.00

Pitching:

HBP - Jeter (by Schilling).

Ground balls-fly balls: Schilling 6-7; Morgan 1-2; Swindell 0-2; Mussina 3-2; Choate 1-1; Hitchcock 2-1; Stanton 2-1.

Umpires: Steve Rippley (HP) Mark Hirschbeck (1B) Dale Scott (2B) Ed Rapuano (3B) Jim Joyce (LF) Dana DeMuth (RF)

Time: 2:44

Attendance: 49,646

Weather: 94 degrees, partly cloudy. Wind: 6 mph, left to right.

BOX SCORE COURTESY OF SPORTSTICKER ENTERPRISES, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Jump to Official Club Site

Search for

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE .

<http://ad.doubleclick.net/clk;3490489;6474427;w?http://www.mach3.com/sweeps/mlb.htm>

Game #2
7 Innings

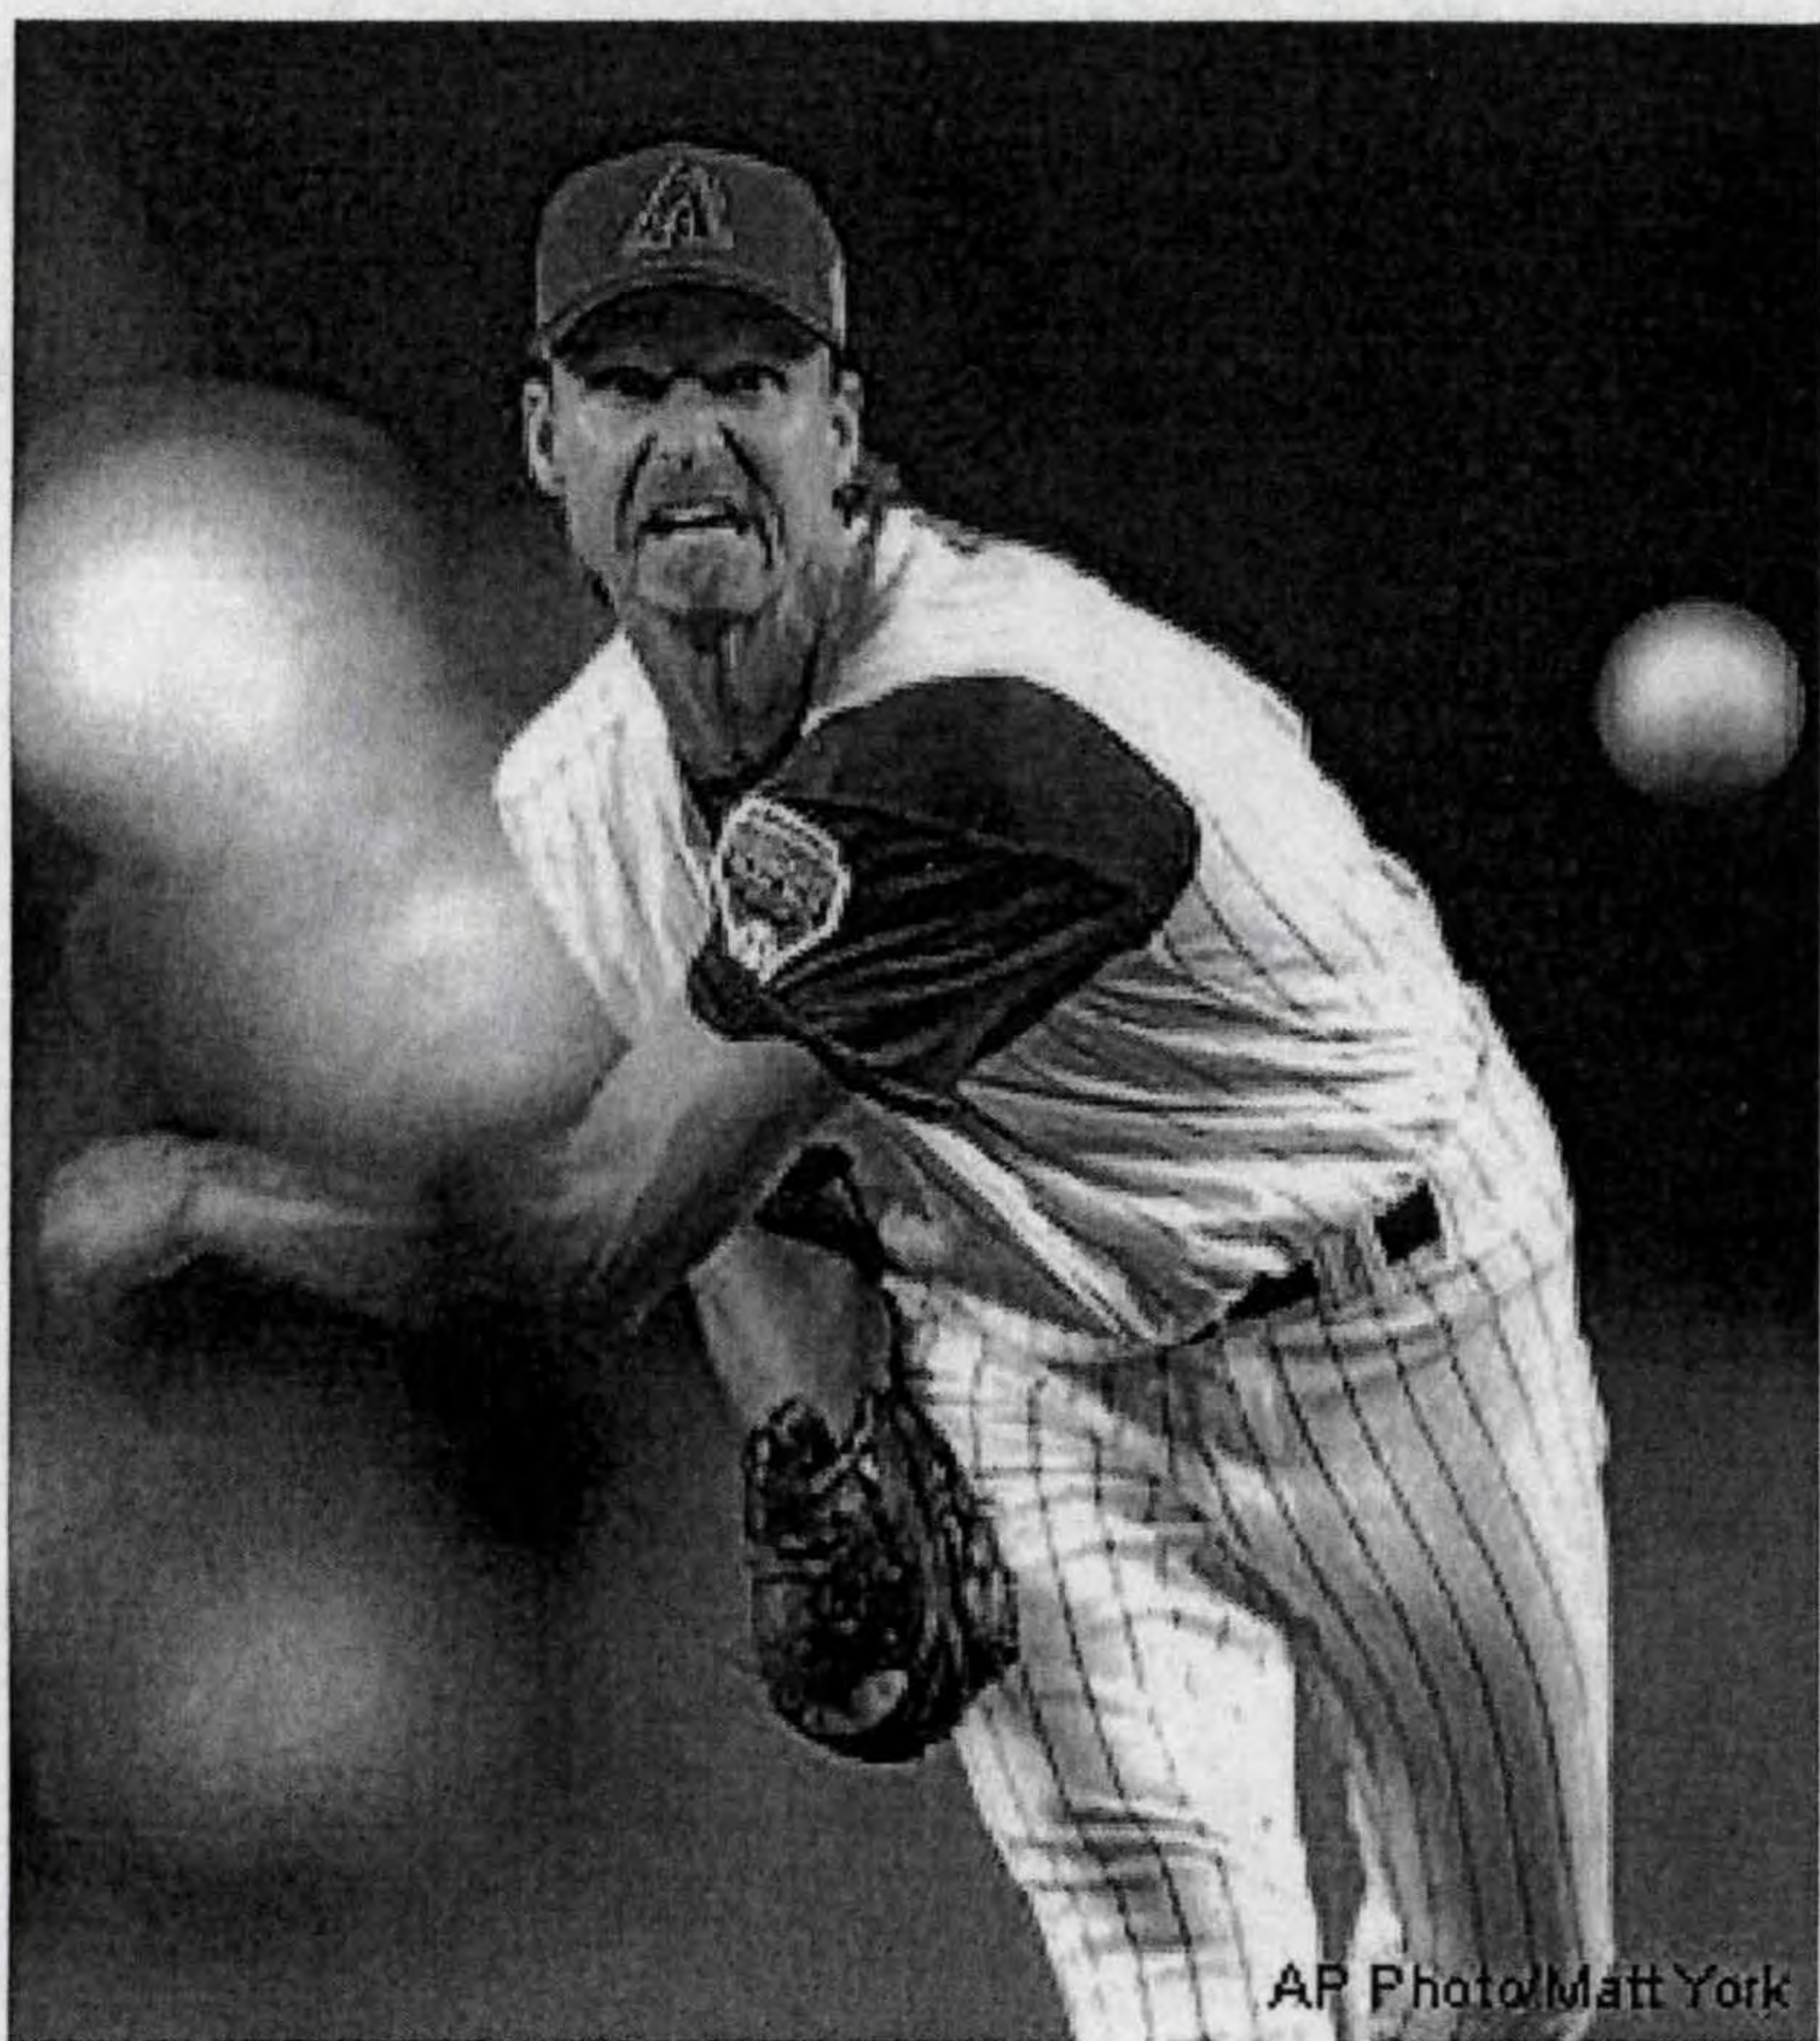

Our Flag Was Still There...

- Diamondbacks
- Yankees
- Baseball Perspectives
- Left Field
- Division Series
- LCS
- Audio
- Video
- Scoreboard
- Stats
- History
- Fan Forum
- Kids
- Subscriptions
- Auction
- Shop

Game 2 Wrapup: D-Backs 4, Yankees 0

Game 1 | Game 2 | Game 3 | Game 4 | Game 5 | Gar

AP Photo/Matt York

Randy Johnson struck out seven of the first nine batters he faced and finished with 11 for the night.

'Back to 'Back

Randy Johnson threw a three-hit shutout Sunday to power the Diamondbacks to a 4-0 victory over the Yankees and take a commanding two-games-to-none lead in the World Series.

Full Story >

Deserving winner

Curt Schilling is a very deserving recipient of the Roberto Clemente Award, writes MLB.com's Mike Bauman. More >

WORLD SERIES

Game 2	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Yankees	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Diamondbacks	0	1	0	0	0	0	3

Arizona leads series 2-0 Box Score

- Big Unit shuts out Yanks, D-Ba
- The rundown of Game 2
- Big Unit simply too much for Ya
- Johnson proves he's a big-gam
- Catching D-Back aces a Damie
- MLB.com hands out cacti awar
- Bauman: Schilling a deserving
- Leach: D-Backs use distinct off
- Mayo: Brenly is winning this ch
- Schlegel: D-Backs cannot relax
- Muskat: D-Backs prepare for th
- Browne: Rocket will remedy Ya predicament

Multimedia

- Game Highlights: 56k | 300k
- Exclusive: Game 2 report
- Johnson's strikeouts: 56k | 300k
- Williams' 3-run HR: 56k | 300k
- Bautista's infield single: 56k | 300k
- Bautista's RBI double: 56k | 300k
- Pettitte's strikeouts: 56k | 300k

- Ray Charles sings "America the Beautiful": 56k | 300k
- Soriano gets Bautista: 56k | 300k
- Postgame press conference: 300k | Audio
- Pregame press conference: Audio

Left Field

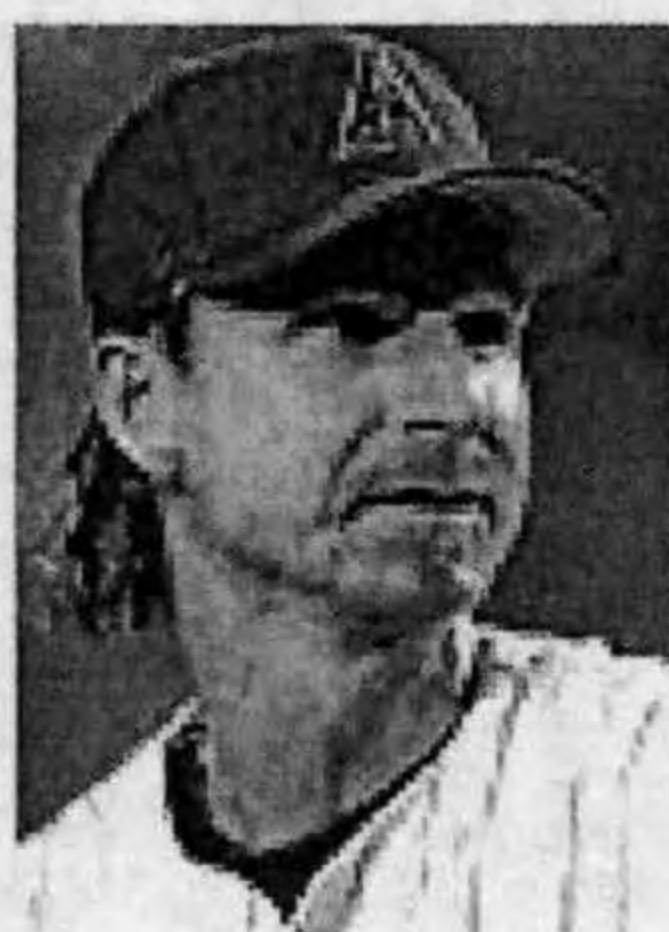

- Insights, et cetera
- Live from the World Series
- Emmylou Harris: This chick digs baseball
- Andy at the bat

Photo

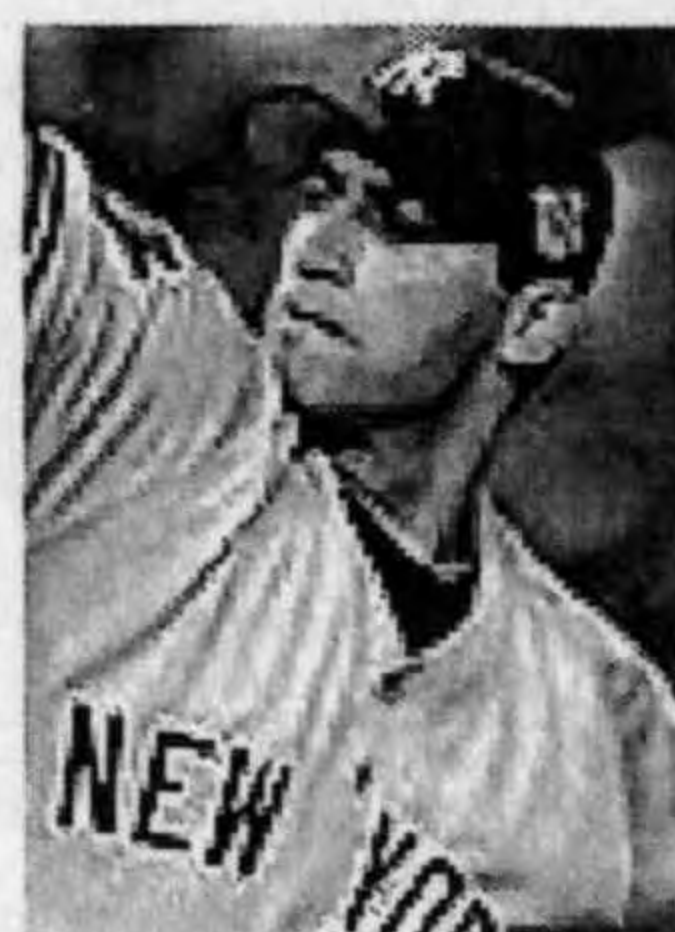

Game 2 D-Backs

Bottom Line

Heroes
The Yanks were simply overmatched Sunday night against Randy Johnson.

Tough Luck
On any other night, Andy Pettitte's performance would have been a cause for celebration.

D-Backs Deal
The D-Backs travel east with a 2-0 cushion, and they'll see first-hand what Yankee Stadium is all about.

Ya Re
Yo ret for O'l Jus ha

Diamondbacks Yankees Baseball Perspectives Left Field LCS Division Series
Audio Video Scoreboard Stats History Fan Forum Kids Insider Auction Shop

10/29/2001 04:44 AM ET

Big Unit shuts out Yanks; D-Backs go up 2-0

By Carrie Muskat
MLB.com

#5

More on Game 2:

- Game highlights: 56k | 300k
- Postgame press conferences: 300k | Audio
- MLB.com hands out cacti awards
- Inning-by-inning rundown
- Box score

PHOENIX -- The New York Yankees can't wait to face Brian Anderson. Or Miguel Batista. Or Albie Lopez. Anyone but Curt Schilling or Randy Johnson.

Arizona's Matt Williams became the the first player to homer for three different teams in a World Series.

One day after Schilling shut down the Yankees on three hits in Game 1, Johnson overwhelmed them. The Arizona left-hander threw a three-hit shutout Sunday to power the Diamondbacks to a 4-0 victory over the Yankees and take a commanding two-games-to-none lead in the World Series.

Johnson struck out seven of the first nine batters he faced and finished with 11. For stats freaks, the World Series record for strikeouts in a single game is 17 set by St. Louis fireballer Bob Gibson on Oct. 2, 1968.

"He lived up to what he's supposed to do today," New York manager Joe Torre said of Johnson. "He was sensational."

Matt Williams hit a three-run homer and Danny Bautista added a RBI double for the D-Backs, who apparently didn't get the memo about the Yankees' mystique.

After a day off for travel, the setting shifts to Yankee Stadium for Game 3 on Tuesday, which will go head to head with Michael Jordan's first NBA regular season game at New York's Madison Square Garden.

"I'm tired of the Jordan thing already," Anderson said.

Hey, it's baseball season.

Anderson (1-0, 2.45 ERA), a diehard Nebraska football fan, makes his first World Series start in the Bronx against veteran Roger Clemens (0-1, 3.38 ERA).

"I just kind of chuckled to myself and said, 'Well, it figures,'" Anderson said about having to face the five-time Cy Young winner.

	Yankees	0	3	0
	Diamondbacks	4	5	0
WP: Randy Johnson (1-0)
LP: Andy Pettitte (0-1)
SV: None
HR: None

Wo
More News

Diamondbacks

- Schilling ar accept WS
- Selig prese
- Schilling int
- Gonzales ir
- D-Backs ce
- Game 7 hig
- Gonzalez v
- Womack tie
- Bautista's F
- D-Backs pi
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

Yankees M

- Game 7 Ph
- Game high
- Rivera's err 56k | 300k
- Rivera strik 56k | 300k
- Soriano go 56k | 300k
- Martinez dr 56k | 300k
- O'Neill can' 56k | 300k
- The Star Sp 56k | 300k
- Postgame | 300k |
- Pregame p | 300k |
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

"We need to break the fall," Torre said. "Roger's our guy on Tuesday."

All Arizona manager Bob Brenly may need for the trip is Johnson, Schilling and earplugs. The Big Unit and the other Unit have held New York to six hits in the two games, supporting the axiom that good pitching wins games.

"If you don't feel like you can beat someone, you might as well just go home," Yankees shortstop Derek Jeter said, unafraid of the left- and right-handed duo. "Winning is not easy even though we've made it look easy at times."

The last time a team lost the World Series after winning the first two games at home came in 1981, when the Yankees fell in six games to the Los Angeles Dodgers. Thirty-six of the 47 teams (76.6 percent) that have taken a two games to none lead in the best-of-seven Series have gone on to win. The Yankees know that. They've done so the last three years.

"This game and last night's game are forgotten," Arizona's Williams said.

Brenly isn't looking ahead either.

"You have to play them one game at a time, as boring as that sounds," he said. "That's what works in this game."

"In our situation, we've been there before," New York first baseman Tino Martinez said. "We know how long a series can be and how tough it is to win four games. There's a long way to go."

Torre tweaked his lineup against the Big Unit, inserting right-handers Randy Velarde and Shane Spencer. Southpaws Martinez and Paul O'Neill, who were 0-for-1 and 0-for-3, respectively, against Johnson lifetime, were spectators. Why?

"Well, 'why' is Randy Johnson," Torre said.

The larger than a saguaro lefty stared down hitters from behind his black glove. He flinched with one out in the Yankees fourth, walking Velarde who has a career .452 average against Johnson, but then got Derek Jeter and Bernie Williams to ground out.

Jorge Posada singled leading off the fifth but Johnson returned to strikeout mode and whiffed Spencer and Alfonso Soriano.

Every time Johnson got a two-strike count, the 49,646 white bandana-waving fans at Bank One Ballpark cheered for a strikeout. Most of the time, Johnson came through, which is exactly what he's done for Arizona this postseason.

Johnson, 38, won his first two postseason starts in 1995 with Seattle, then went 0-5 until this year. With Sunday's win, he's now 3-1 this October with two complete games, a 1.36 ERA and 38 strikeouts.

"He's always had the physical skills to dominate hitters," Brenly said, "and he's just in a very relaxed and focused zone right now and we hope he stays there for another week."

This is the best week in baseball.

"This is everybody's dream to be here," Johnson said. "We're playing the Yankees, it's the biggest stage in sports."

ADVERTISEMENT

Not everyone agreed with home plate umpire Mark Hirschbeck's calls. Yankee center fielder Bernie Williams disagreed in the second and third baseman Scott Brosius vehemently argued a called third strike in the eighth.

"The last thing we're going to do is blame an umpire for what we didn't do," Torre said.

It was the first complete game shutout in a World Series since Schilling did so for Philadelphia on Oct. 21, 1993, in Game 4 against Toronto.

Andy Pettitte (2-2) deserved better. The only Yankees lefty in the lineup, Pettitte gave up five hits over seven innings, striking out eight.

"He was tremendous tonight," Brenly said of Pettitte who threw 80 pitches, 64 for strikes.

Reggie Sanders hit an infield single to Jeter at short to lead off the Arizona second and scored on Bautista's double into the right center field gap, which has become a Bermuda Triangle for the Yankees. David Justice won't be going out there any time soon.

With one out in the seventh and a runner at first, Bautista bounced a ball off Pettitte's leg for a single. The Yankees starter stayed in the game but two pitches later, served up Williams' sixth career postseason homer to make it 4-0.

"Randy didn't need it. He pitched great," Matt Williams said of his homer.

The 35-year-old veteran third baseman is the first player to homer for three different teams in a World Series. He also connected for San Francisco in 1989 and for Cleveland in 1997.

The Yankees aren't panicking. This year, they lost the first two games of the Division Series against Oakland and rallied. In the 1996 World Series, New York lost the first two games to Atlanta and rallied.

"We have been pretty resilient as far as bouncing back from bad things happening," Torre said.

A fan at the BOB held up a sign, "2-0 and we're not Oakland."

It's up to you, New York.

Carrie Muskat is a reporter for MLB.com.

Box score

2001 World Series

Diamondbacks 4, Yankees 0

at Bank One Ballpark

FINAL	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Yankees	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0
Diamondbacks	0	1	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	4	5	0
YANKEES	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Chuck Knoblauch	LF	4	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000
Randy Velarde	1B	3	0	0	0	1	1	0	.000
Derek Jeter	SS	4	0	0	0	0	1	1	.000
Bernie Williams	CF	3	0	0	0	0	1	1	.143
Jorge Posada	C	3	0	1	0	0	1	0	.333
Shane Spencer	RF	3	0	1	0	0	1	1	.250
Alfonso Soriano	2B	3	0	1	0	0	2	1	.167
Scott Brosius	3B	3	0	0	0	0	2	3	.167

Andy Pettitte	P	2	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000
a-Luis Sojo	PH	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	.000
Mike Stanton	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Totals		29	0	3	0	1	11	9	-

a-grounded to second for Pettitte in the 8th.

Batting:

GIDP - Sojo.

Team LOB - 3.

Fielding:

DP: 1 (Brosius-Soriano-Velarde).

DIAMONDBACKS	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Tony Womack	SS	4	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000
Craig Counsell	2B	4	0	0	0	0	2	0	.125
Luis Gonzalez	LF	2	0	0	0	0	2	0	.286
Reggie Sanders	RF	3	2	1	0	0	0	1	.500
Danny Bautista	CF	3	1	2	1	0	0	0	.667
Steve Finley	CF	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.250
Matt D. Williams	3B	3	1	2	3	0	0	1	.500
Mark Grace	1B	3	0	0	0	0	1	1	.167
Damian Miller	C	3	0	0	0	0	1	2	.286
Randy Johnson	P	3	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000
Totals		28	4	5	4	0	8	5	-

Batting:

2B - Bautista (1, Pettitte).

HR - M Williams (1, 7th inning off Pettitte 2 on, 1 out).

RBI - Bautista (1), M Williams 3 (4).

GIDP - Miller.

Team LOB - 1.

Fielding:

DP: 1 (M Williams-Counsell-Grace).

YANKEES	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Andy Pettitte (L, 0-1)	7	5	4	4	0	8	80	16-64	26	1	5.14
Mike Stanton	1	0	0	0	0	0	12	5-7	3	0	0.00

Pitching:

HBP - Gonzalez (by Pettitte).

Ground balls-fly balls: Johnson 11-5; Pettitte 11-2; Stanton 2-1.

DIAMONDBACKS	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Randy Johnson (W, 1-0)	9	3	0	0	1	11	111	35-76	30	0	0.00

Pitching:

Ground balls-fly balls: Johnson 11-5; Pettitte 11-2; Stanton 2-1.

Umpires: Mark Hirschbeck (HP) Dale Scott (1B) Ed Rapuano (2B) Jim Joyce (3B) Dana DeMuth (LF) Steve Rippley (RF)

Time: 2:35

Attendance: 49,646

Weather: 88 degrees, clear. Wind: 3 mph, left to right.

BOX SCORE COURTESY OF SPORTSTICKER ENTERPRISES, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Jump to Official Club Site

Search Entire Site for

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE .

<http://ad.doubleclick.net/clk;3490489;6474427;w?http://www.mach3.com/sweeps/mlb.htm>

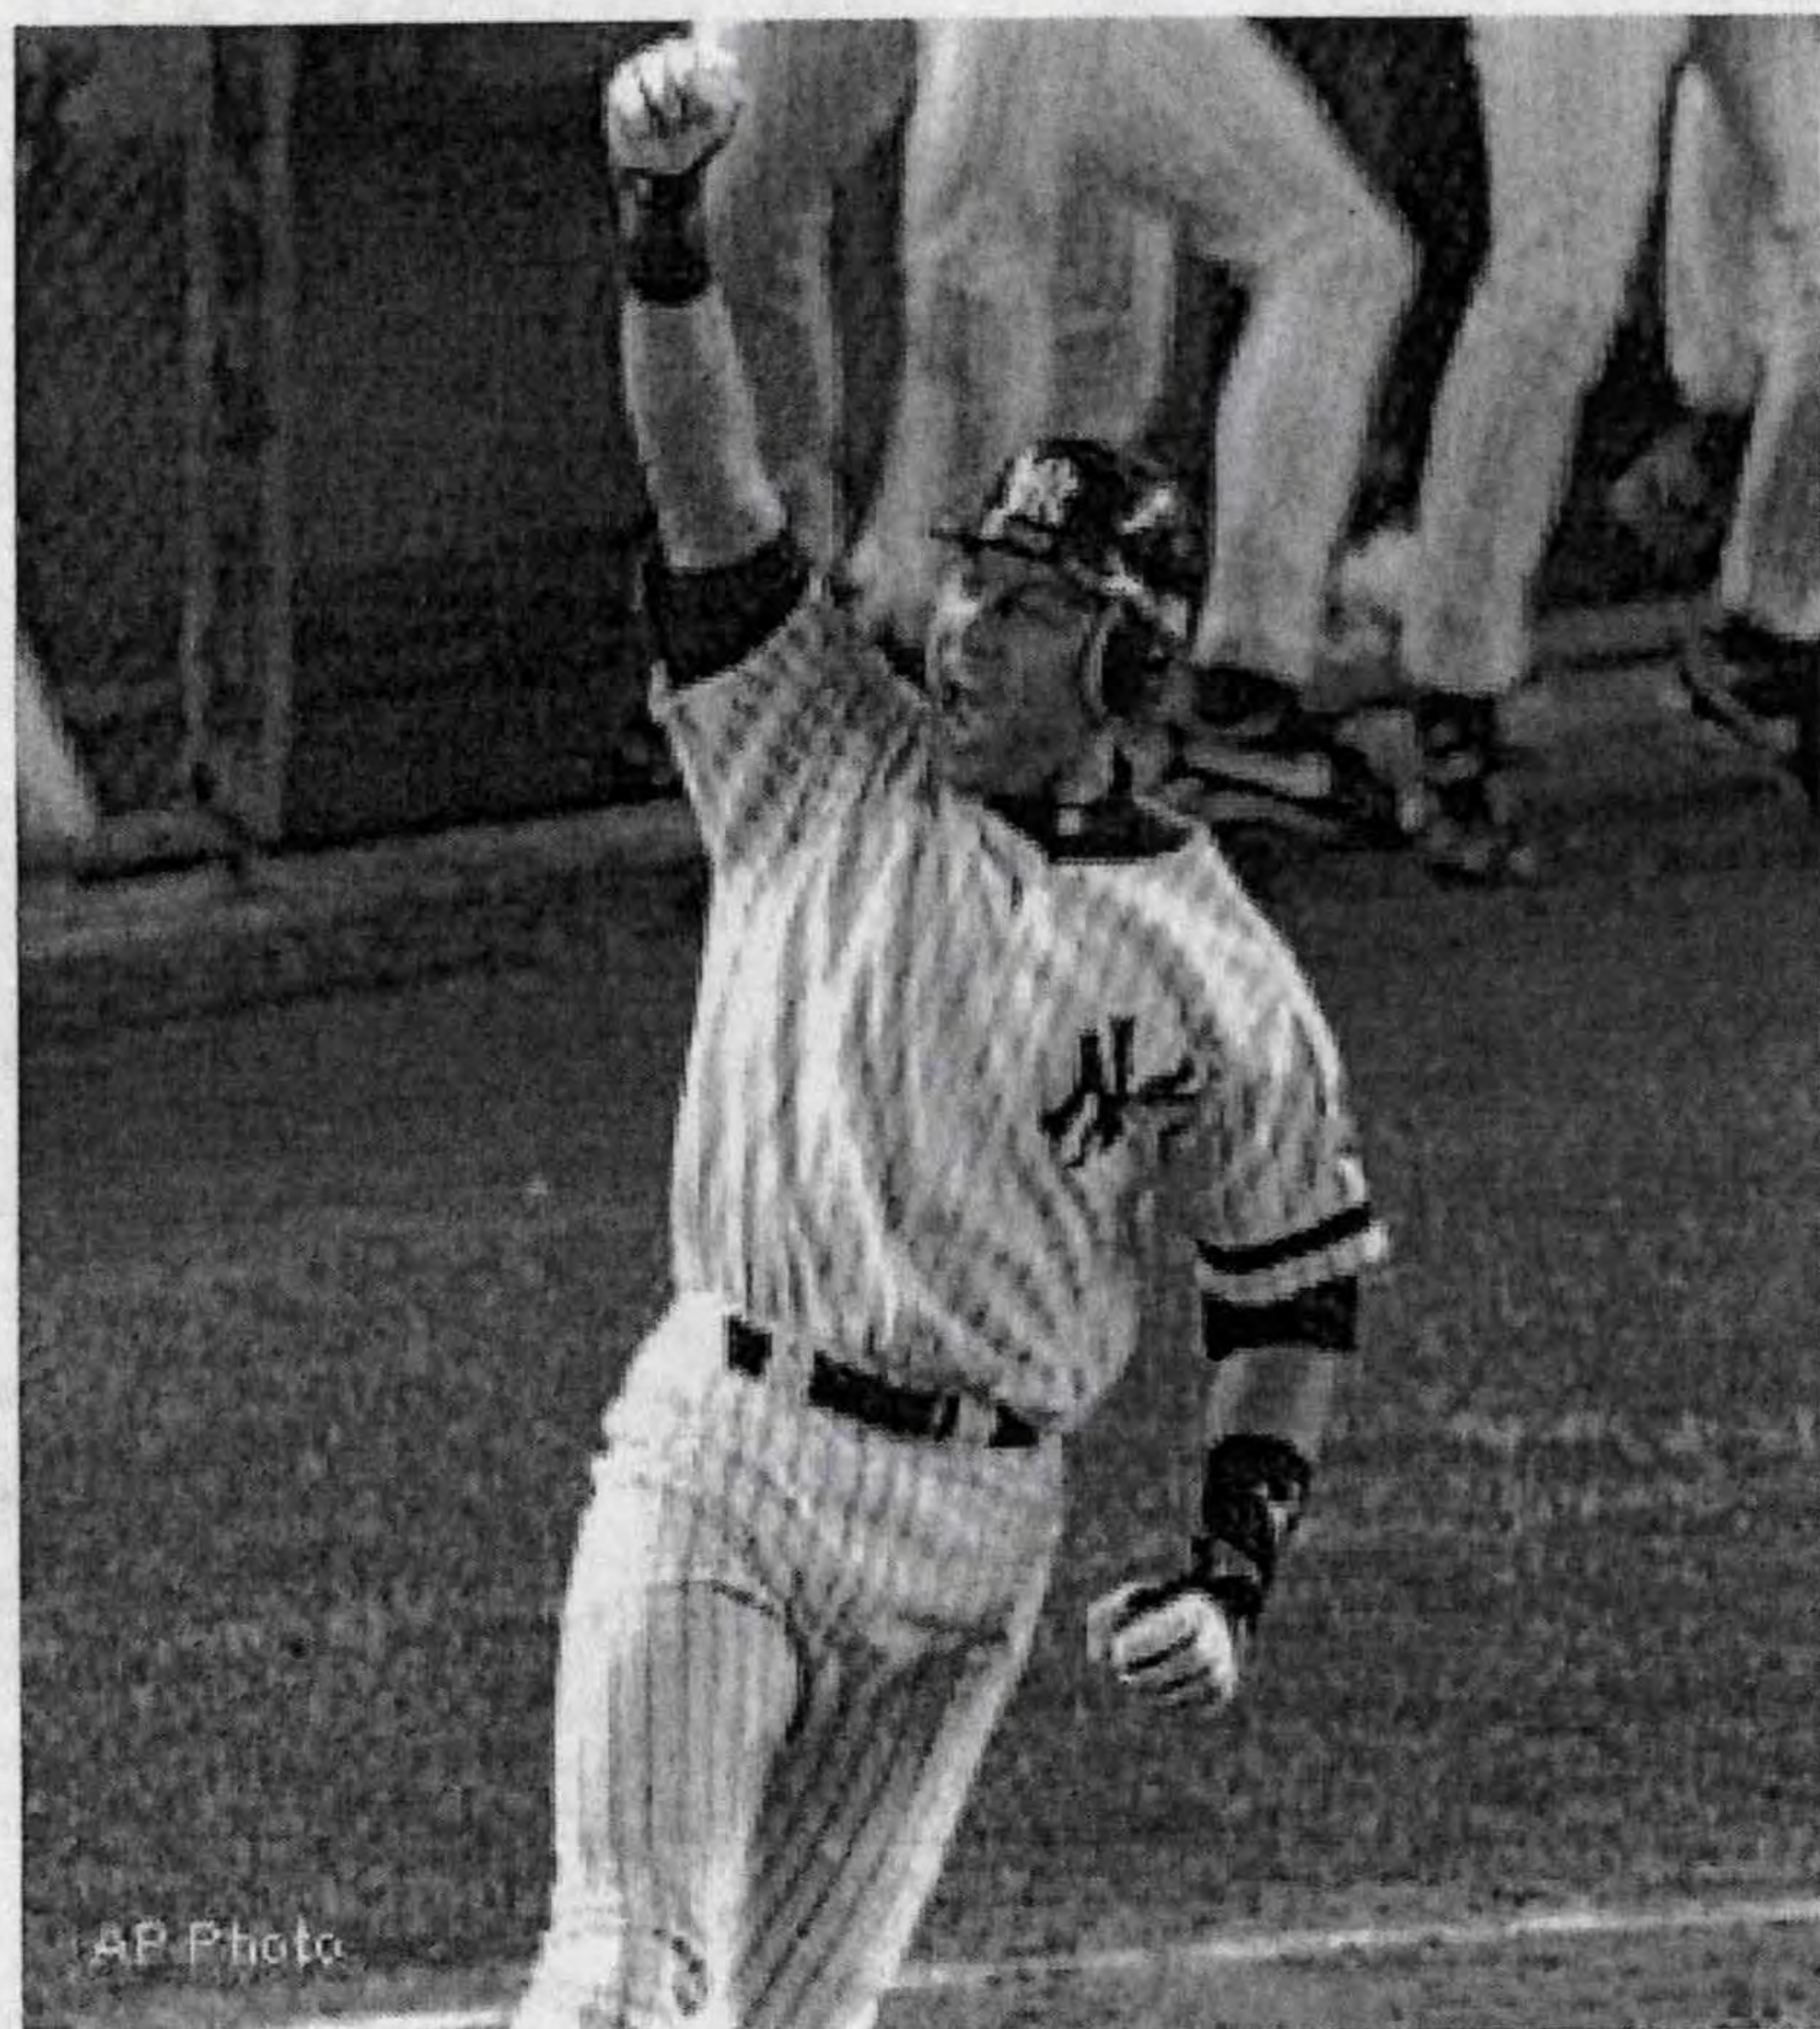

Game #4
(10 innings)

#3

- Diamondbacks
- Yankees
- Division Series
- LCS
- Audio
- Video
- Scoreboard
- Stats
- History
- Fan Forum
- Kids
- Subscriptions
- Auction
- Shop

Game 4 Wrapup: Yankees 4, D-Backs 3

Game 1 | Game 2 | Game 3 | Game 4 | Game 5 | Gar

Derek Jeter pumps his fist after hitting the game-winning homer in the 10th.

Perfect 10

Derek Jeter hit a solo homer with two out in the 10th inning shortly after midnight in New York to lift the Yankees to a 4-3 victory over the D-Backs and tie the World Series at two wins each.

Full Story >

Miracle in the Bronx

The Yankees were on the brink of a 3-1 deficit in the World Series until Tino Martinez came through with a big two-run home run. More >

WORLD SERIES

Game 4	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Diamondbacks	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
Yankees	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	1

Series tied 2-2 Box Score Run

- El Duque does his part
- Schilling shrugs off wasted effc
- Grace still grinning about Serie
- Batista is D-Backs' odd man in
- Stanton: Win gives Yanks mor
- Browne: Yanks have way of fin
- Mayo: D-Backs will heal quickl
- Bauman: Brenly shouldn't have
- Sanders: We must shake this c
- Leach: Durazo was the right ch
- Colligan: Yanks a Halloween s

Custom Jerseys
player name

Stars & Stripes

Multimedia Game 4

- Game 4 highlights: 56k | 300k
- Jeter's walk-off HR: 56k | 300k
- Tino's game-tying HR: 56k | 300k
- Stanton enters, gets DP: 56k | 300k
- Spencer saves a run: 56k | 300k
- Spencer's HR in 3rd: 56k | 300k
- Grace's HR: 56k | 300k
- Durazo's RBI double: 56k | 300k

Left Field Insights, et cetera

- Live from Yankee Stadium
- Can players go as themselves for Halloween?
- Clock strikes midnight on Torre and Cashman

Photo

Yanks 4

Bottom Line

November reign
Derek Jeter had been struggling at the plate throughout this series, but that all changed with one swing of the bat.

Goat
Bob Brenly's plan to start ace Curt Schilling on three-days' rest and get two innings from his closer Byung-Hyun Kim almost worked.

Halloween scare
The D-Backs weren't quite frightened by the giant rat they saw in their dugout, but Yankee Stadium might be giving them nightmares.

No pro
The ha' str pla exp kee loc po: wh

MLB.com POWERED BY Sun Our Flag Was Still There...

- Diamondbacks Yankees Baseball Perspectives Left Field LCS Division Series
- Audio Video Scoreboard Stats History Fan Forum Kids Insider Auction Shop

11/01/2001 09:08 PM ET

Martinez, Jeter stun D-Backs to even series

By Carrie Muskat
MLB.com

- MLB.com Daily Web Show: 56k | 300k
- Exclusive: WorldSeries.com Audio Report
- Postgame press conferences:
 - 300k | Audio
- Game highlights: 56k | 300k
- Box score

NEW YORK -- Call him Mr. November.

Yankees shortstop Derek Jeter belted a solo homer with two out in the 10th inning shortly after midnight Wednesday to lift the New York Yankees to a 4-3 victory over the Arizona Diamondbacks and tie the World Series at two wins apiece.

Tino Martinez (center) is congratulated after his two-run homer tied the game, 3-3, in the ninth.

Call your travel agent. Book the flights. The World Series is headed west, folks. It's now best-of-three.

"It's huge. It's huge for our confidence," Yankees Manager Joe Torre said of the comeback win. "I think we're going to have to settle down [Thursday] because there's plenty of work to do."

Whoever wins the World Championship, and the Yankees are going for their fourth straight, they'll have to do it in the Arizona desert.

"It's obviously a huge boost," Jeter said of the win, then cautioned Yankee boosters from ordering their championship rings just yet. "This win means absolutely nothing unless we come out [Thursday] and play well. [Curt] Schilling might pitch again [Thursday], you never know."

Schilling and the D-Backs were one out away from taking a three-games-to-one lead in the best-of-seven series when Tino Martinez tied the game at 3-3 with a two-run homer in the ninth off Byung-Hyun Kim (0-1). Martinez, who did not have a hit in nine previous at-bats in the Series, could share the player of the month honors with Jeter.

"I know he's hit some big home runs," Torre said of Martinez, "but this one is probably the biggest one he's ever hit."

"I just tried to take a big hack at it and got a hold of it," Martinez said.

Jeter, who was 1-for-15 in the Series before his 10th inning at-bat, fouled off four pitches from Kim and then launched a 3-2 pitch over the right-field fence for his first homer of the series.

"When I first hit it I had no idea [it was a home run]," Jeter said, "but once it goes out it's a pretty special

Diamondbacks	3	6	0
Yankees	4	7	0
WP:	Mariano Rivera (1-0)
LP:	Byung-Hyun Kim (0-1)
SV:	None
HR:	NYY: Shane Spencer (1), Tino Martinez (1), Derek Jeter (1); ARI: Mark Grace (1)

Wo
More News

Diamondbacks

- Schilling ar accept WS
- Selig prese
- Schilling in
- Gonzales in
- D-Backs ce
- Game 7 hi
- Gonzalez v
- Womack tie
- Bautista's F
- D-Backs pi
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

Yankees M

- Game 7 Ph
- Game high
- Rivera's err 56k | 300k
- Rivera strik 56k | 300k
- Soriano go 56k | 300k
- Martinez dr 56k | 300k
- O'Neill can' 56k | 300k
- The Star Sp 56k | 300k
- Postgame | 300k |
- Pregame p 300k |
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

MLB.com STRE show

feeling. I've never hit a walk-off home run before, so it was pretty special."

It was the 12th time a World Series game has ended on a home run, most recently when Chad Curtis' blast gave the Yankees the win in Game 3 of the 1999 Series against Atlanta.

ADVERTISEMENT

Sept. 11th delays

This is the first time a World Series game has ever extended into November, even if it did officially start on Oct. 31. The Fall Classic was delayed one week because the season was postponed by the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11.

The expansion Arizona club was on the verge of moving within one victory of dethroning the dynasty. If they're to ultimately succeed, they'll have to wait a little longer.

Trailing 3-1 with one out in the Yankees' ninth, Paul O'Neill blooped a single to left. Kim, pitching his second inning in relief of starter Schilling, struck out Bernie Williams. Martinez then connected on the first pitch, blasting the ball over the center field fence to tie the game at 3-3.

"B.K. throws every day. It wasn't pushing him beyond what he can do," Arizona Manager Bob Brenly said about sticking with Kim in the 10th, his third inning of relief. "We had the lead, six outs to go in the ballgame and that's the way we hoped it would work out. But it didn't."

Mariano Rivera (2-0) picked up the win, pitching one inning in relief.

New York's Mike Mussina will start Game 5 against Miguel Batista (1-1, 3.95 ERA).

The Yankees know Arizona has Randy Johnson waiting in the wings to start Game 6 in Arizona.

"We do know we can't be too careful with these guys," Batista said. "They're always trying. With two outs in the ninth inning, they were still swinging."

Of the 37 teams leading 2-1 that have lost Game 4, only 16 have gone on to win the Series, the last being Florida in 1997.

"This has to be at the top. There's no question," Torre said of the win. "Surprising things happen and yet they don't surprise me because this ballclub doesn't quit."

If you took the No. 4 train home early, you missed some great baseball.

"We took it to the wire tonight," New York's Scott Brosius said.

New York's Shane Spencer and Arizona's Mark Grace exchanged solo home runs, their first in World Series play, to create a 1-1 tie after four innings and keep the Yankee Stadium crowd of 55,863 in suspense.

Schilling, who had pestered Brenly to move him up in the rotation, proved his skipper right.

"He's a horse. He doesn't give in," Torre said of Schilling. "He gave them seven innings, gave up one run and pitched a hell of a ballgame. We were fortunate to stay in there."

MLB.com

BOBBLEHEAD
14.95

Gameday

DIAMOND

D'Backs vs. Yankees
Listen to the Game

Custom C

Get all the playoff action
through the
World Series

SEARCHABLE
HIGHLIGHTS

 Derek Jeter / SS

Height: 6'3"
Weight: 195
Bats/Throws: R/R

More info:
Player page
Stats
Hit chart
yankees.com

 Playoff highlights: 56k | 300k
 Regular season: 56k | 300k

 WORLD SERIES.com

The right-hander nearly repeated his Game 1 performance pitch by pitch, holding the Yankees to three hits for the second time and striking out nine over seven innings.

"Did it look easier? He pitched another outstanding game," Jeter said. "He's a competitor. He did his job. He made one mistake and 'Spence' hit it out. He's tough but luckily we were fortunate enough to score some runs late."

"He was throwing the ball hard the whole night," Martinez said. "He was just as sharp as he was in Game 1."

The Yankees had a runner at third in both the sixth and the seventh, but each time Schilling ended the threat. In the sixth, he got O'Neill to ground out to Grace at first, and in the seventh, he struck out David Justice swinging. Justice is 1-for-9 in the Series with eight strikeouts.

With one out in the Diamondbacks eighth and the game tied, Luis Gonzalez singled off Mike Stanton. Erubiel Durazo then doubled over Williams in center to drive in Gonzalez. Williams threw to second baseman Alfonso Soriano but Soriano's relay home was closer to the Yankees dugout than home plate and Gonzalez tallied standing up.

Stanton departed, and Matt Williams bounced a ball to Jeter at short. Jeter threw home, trying to get pinch-runner Midre Cummings, but Cummings beat the throw.

How appropriate that on Halloween, the D-Backs were haunted by missed opportunities.

"We had a lot of chances to score early," Brenly said. "We just couldn't come up with the big knockout."

Spencer's homer, off a 1-0 pitch from Schilling in the third, gave the Yankees a 1-0 lead. Grace, who has done nothing but gush about Yankee Stadium in his first visit to the historic park, connected on a 3-1 pitch and parked it in the upper deck in right to tie the game at 1-1.

Orlando Hernandez gave up one run on four hits and four walks, striking out five. He and home plate umpire Ed Rapuano were seen laughing as Hernandez left with two runners on in the seventh; he and Rapuano had exchanged words earlier in the game over a checked swing by Matt Williams.

Schilling was pitching on short rest for the first time in his career -- if one doesn't count a game shortened to two innings because of electrical difficulties at the San Diego stadium. That was different. This is the World Series. Adrenaline is a factor now.

"I don't think any of us are quite sure what to expect from Curt Schilling," Brenly said before the game.

Maybe he will start Thursday as Jeter guessed. One thing's certain: The Yankees have new life.

"At some point, you just think, 'Well, that's it,'" Stanton said. "Regardless of how well we've been pitched or how tough the pitcher is on the mound, we just keep going up there with confidence in ourselves and we get the job done."

The Diamondbacks aren't intimidated by the whole Yankee mystique. Sure, they can trot Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford and Phil Rizzuto out there -- and they did.

"They believe they are the Roman Empire of baseball, but they still have to play us [Thursday]," Batista said of the Yankees. "And they have to beat us, because we won't beat ourselves."

Carrie Muskat is a reporter for MLB.com.

Box score

Yankees 4, Diamondbacks 3 (10 innings)

FINAL

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 R H E

2001 World Series - Game 4

at Yankee Stadium

Diamondbacks	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	2	0	0	3	6	0
Yankees	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	4	7	0
DIAMONDBACKS	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Tony Womack	SS	4	0	2	0	1	0	2	.133
Craig Counsell	2B	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	.071
Luis Gonzalez	LF	3	1	1	0	1	0	1	.286
Erubiel Durazo	DH	3	0	1	1	1	1	1	.500
Midre Cummings	PR	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	.000
a-Danny Bautista	PH	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Matt D. Williams	3B	4	0	0	1	0	1	5	.231
Steve Finley	CF	4	0	1	0	0	1	4	.200
Reggie Sanders	RF	4	0	0	0	0	1	2	.231
Mark Grace	1B	3	1	1	1	1	0	0	.167
Damian Miller	C	3	0	0	0	0	2	0	.154
Totals		31	3	6	3	4	6	15	-

a-grounded to second for Cummings in the 10th.

Batting:

2B - Womack (1, Hernandez); Durazo (1, Stanton).

HR - Grace (1, 4th inning off Hernandez 0 on, 2 out).

S - Counsell 3.

RBI - Grace (3), Durazo (1), M Williams (6).

2-out RBI - Grace.

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Finley 2, M Williams 1.

GIDP - Sanders, Womack.

Team LOB - 7.

Fielding:

DP: 1 (Counsell-Womack-Grace).

YANKEES	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Derek Jeter	SS	5	1	1	1	0	0	0	.125
Paul O'Neill	RF	4	1	1	0	0	1	1	.333
Bernie Williams	CF	4	0	1	0	0	2	1	.214
Tino Martinez	1B	3	1	1	2	1	1	0	.100
Jorge Posada	C	3	0	0	0	1	1	1	.250
David Justice	DH	4	0	1	0	0	3	1	.111
Shane Spencer	LF	4	1	1	1	0	2	2	.222
Scott Brosius	3B	4	0	1	0	0	2	0	.231
Alfonso Soriano	2B	4	0	0	0	0	2	1	.154
Totals		35	4	7	4	2	14	7	-

Batting:

2B - Brosius (2, Schilling).

HR - Spencer (1, 3rd inning off Schilling 0 on, 0 out); Martinez (1, 9th inning off Kim 1 on, 2 out); Jeter (1, 10th inning off Kim 0 on, 2 out).

RBI - Spencer (1), Martinez 2 (2), Jeter (1).

2-out RBI - Martinez 2, Jeter.

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Oneill 1, Justice 1, Spencer 1.

GIDP - Posada.

Team LOB - 4.

Fielding:

Outfield assists - Spencer (Womack at home).

DP: 3 (Jeter-Soriano-Martinez, Spencer-Posada, Soriano-Jeter-Martinez).

DIAMONDBACKS	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Curt Schilling	7	3	1	1	1	9	88	25-63	24	1	1.29
Byung-Hyun Kim (L, 0-1) (BS, 1)	2.2	4	3	3	1	5	61	25-36	13	2	10.12

Pitching:

Ground balls-fly balls: Schilling 9-3; Kim 1-2.

YANKEES	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Orlando Hernandez	6.1	4	1	1	4	5	98	46-52	27	1	1.42
Mike Stanton	1	2	2	2	0	0	19	7-12	4	0	6.00
Ramiro Mendoza	1.2	0	0	0	0	1	24	9-15	6	0	0.00
Mariano Rivera (W, 1-0)	1	0	0	0	0	0	13	4-9	3	0	0.00

Pitching:

HBP - Gonzalez (by Hernandez); Miller (by Hernandez).

Ground balls-fly balls: Hernandez 8-5; Stanton 2-1; Mendoza 3-1; Rivera 3-0.

Umpires: HP--Ed Rapuano. 1B--Jim Joyce. 2B--Dana Demuth. 3B--Steve Rippley. LF--Mark Hirschbeck. RF--Dale Scott.

Time: 3:31.

Attendance: 55,863.

Weather: 57 degrees, cloudy. Wind: 6 mph, right to left.

BOX SCORE COURTESY OF SPORTSTICKER ENTERPRISES, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Jump to

Search for

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE .

<http://ad.doubleclick.net/clk;3490489;6474427;w?http://www.mach3.com/sweeps/mlb.htm>

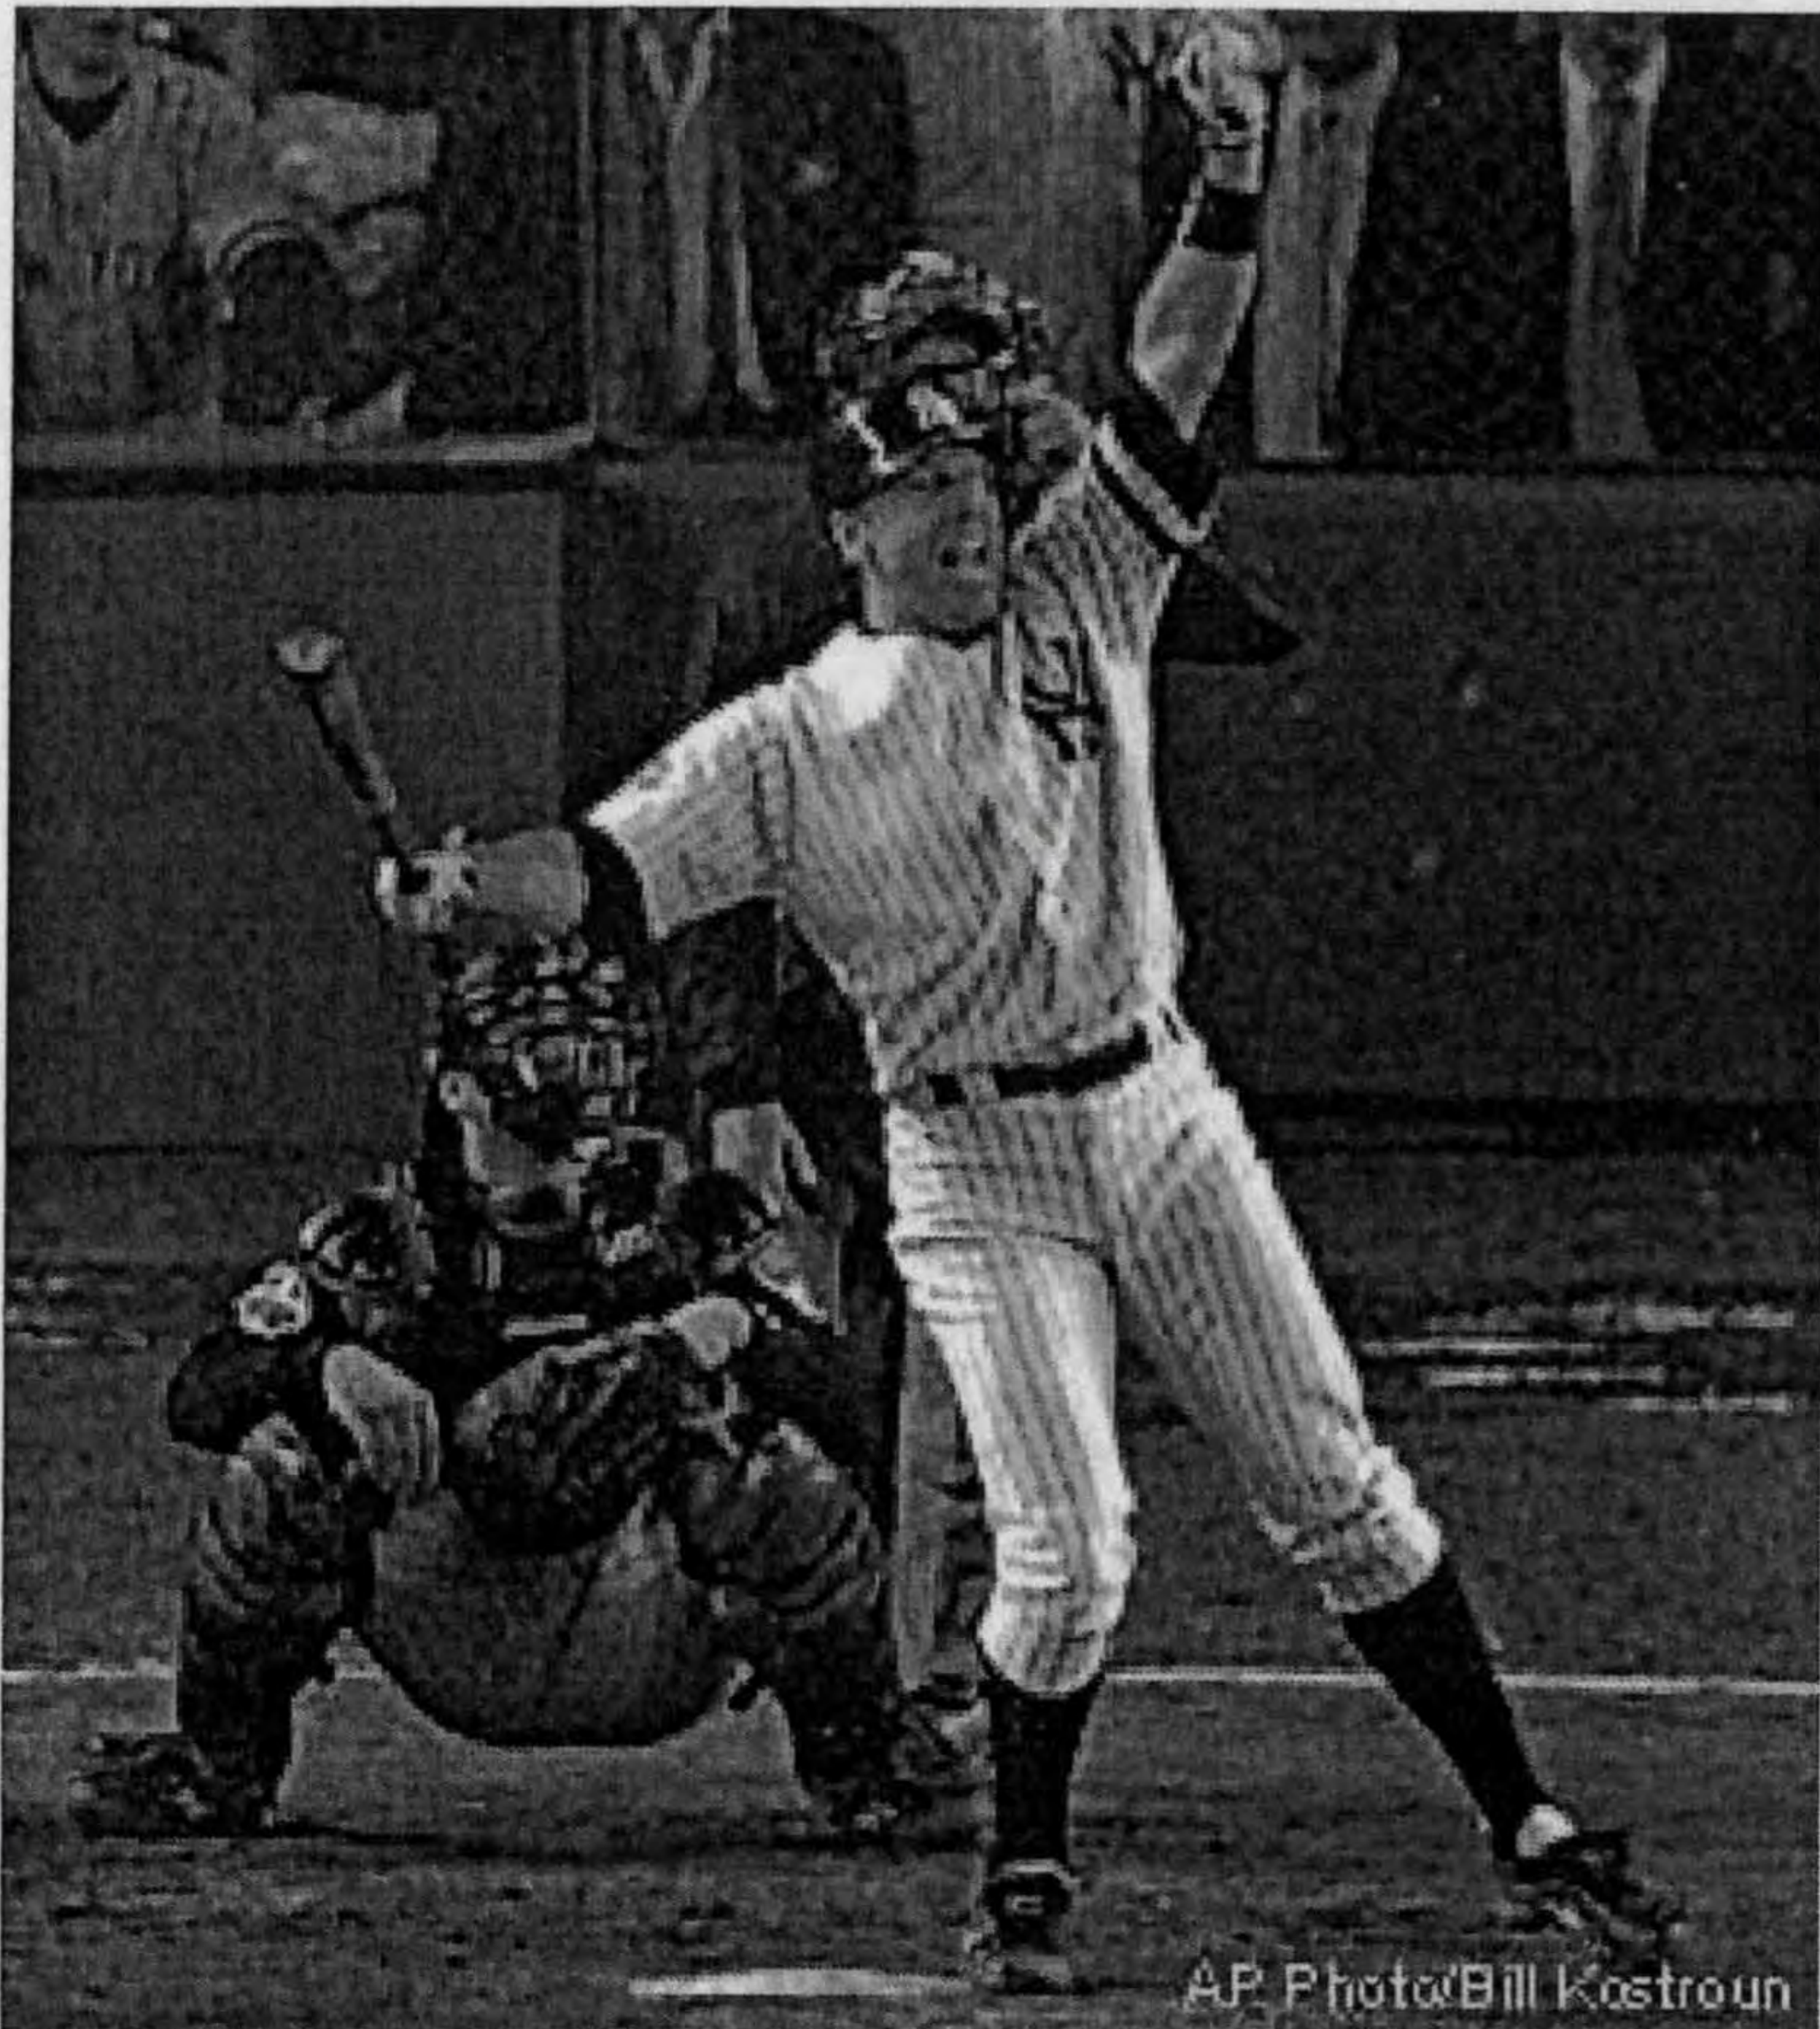

Game #5
12 innings

- Diamondbacks
- Yankees
- Baseball Perspectives
- Left Field
- Division Series
- LCS
- Audio
- Video
- Scoreboard
- Stats
- History
- Fan Forum
- Kids
- Subscriptions
- Auction
- Shop

Game 5 Wrapup: Yankees 3, D-Backs 2

Game 1 | Game 2 | Game 3 | Game 4 | Game 5 | Gar

Scott Brosius belts a game-tying two-run homer with two out in the New York ninth inning.

Halloween II

Rookie Alfonso Soriano hit a game-winning RBI single in the 12th to lift the Yankees to a 3-2 victory over Arizona in Game 5 of the World Series.

Full Story >

Mystique and aura

The Yankees have always performed in the clutch, but never during this run has it happened as emphatically as it did in the late stages of Game 4 and 5. More >

WORLD SERIES

Game 5	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Diamondbacks	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0
Yankees	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

Yanks lead series 3-2 Box Score

- Soriano shows veteran poise
- O'Neill saluted by Yankee fans
- Unheralded B&B battery stars
- MLB.com awards No. 4 trains
- Yankees report: Game 5
- D-Backs report: Game 5
- Bauman: An open letter to Bob
- Browne: Yankees create their
- Leach: Many reasons not to go
- Sanders: D-Backs will get new
- Stanton: Words can't describe

Custom Jerseys
player name

Stars & Stripes

Multimedia Game 5

- Game 5 highlights: 56k | 300k
- Exclusive: Game 5 Audio Report
- Soriano's winning RBI: 56k | 300k
- Soriano's diving catch: 56k | 300k
- Brosius' game-tying HR: 56k | 300k
- Finley's HR: 56k | 300k
- Barajas' HR: 56k | 300k

- Counsell's diving stop: 56k | 300k
- Mussina's 10 Ks: 56k | 300k
- O'Neill is serenaded: 56k | 300k
- Exclusive: MLB.com report with filmmaker Spike Lee
- Exclusive: MLB.com report with New York Times' Dave Anderson

Left Field Insights, et cetera

- Live from Yankee Stadium
- Behind the Scenes: T-shirt hander outer
- Why no trash-talking in baseball?

Photo

Gar
Yanks 3,

Bottom Line

Good job, Bro
Taking his cue from Tino Martinez in Game 4, Scott Brosius hits a two-out, two-run homer off closer Byung-Hyun Kim.

Mound of trouble
After two straight days of hard luck and three home runs allowed, Byung-Hyun Kim is still the Arizona closer.

Mike makes it
D-Backs reliever Mike Morgan finally made it to the World Series, and he's going to cherish every second.

Ju:
se
Pa
Se
ac
ca
Ju:
loo
ag:
Die

- Diamondbacks
- Yankees
- Baseball Perspectives
- Left Field
- LCS
- Division Series
- Audio
- Video
- Scoreboard
- Stats
- History
- Fan Forum
- Kids
- Insider
- Auction
- Shop

11/02/2001 06:37 AM ET

Yanks take series lead with another thriller

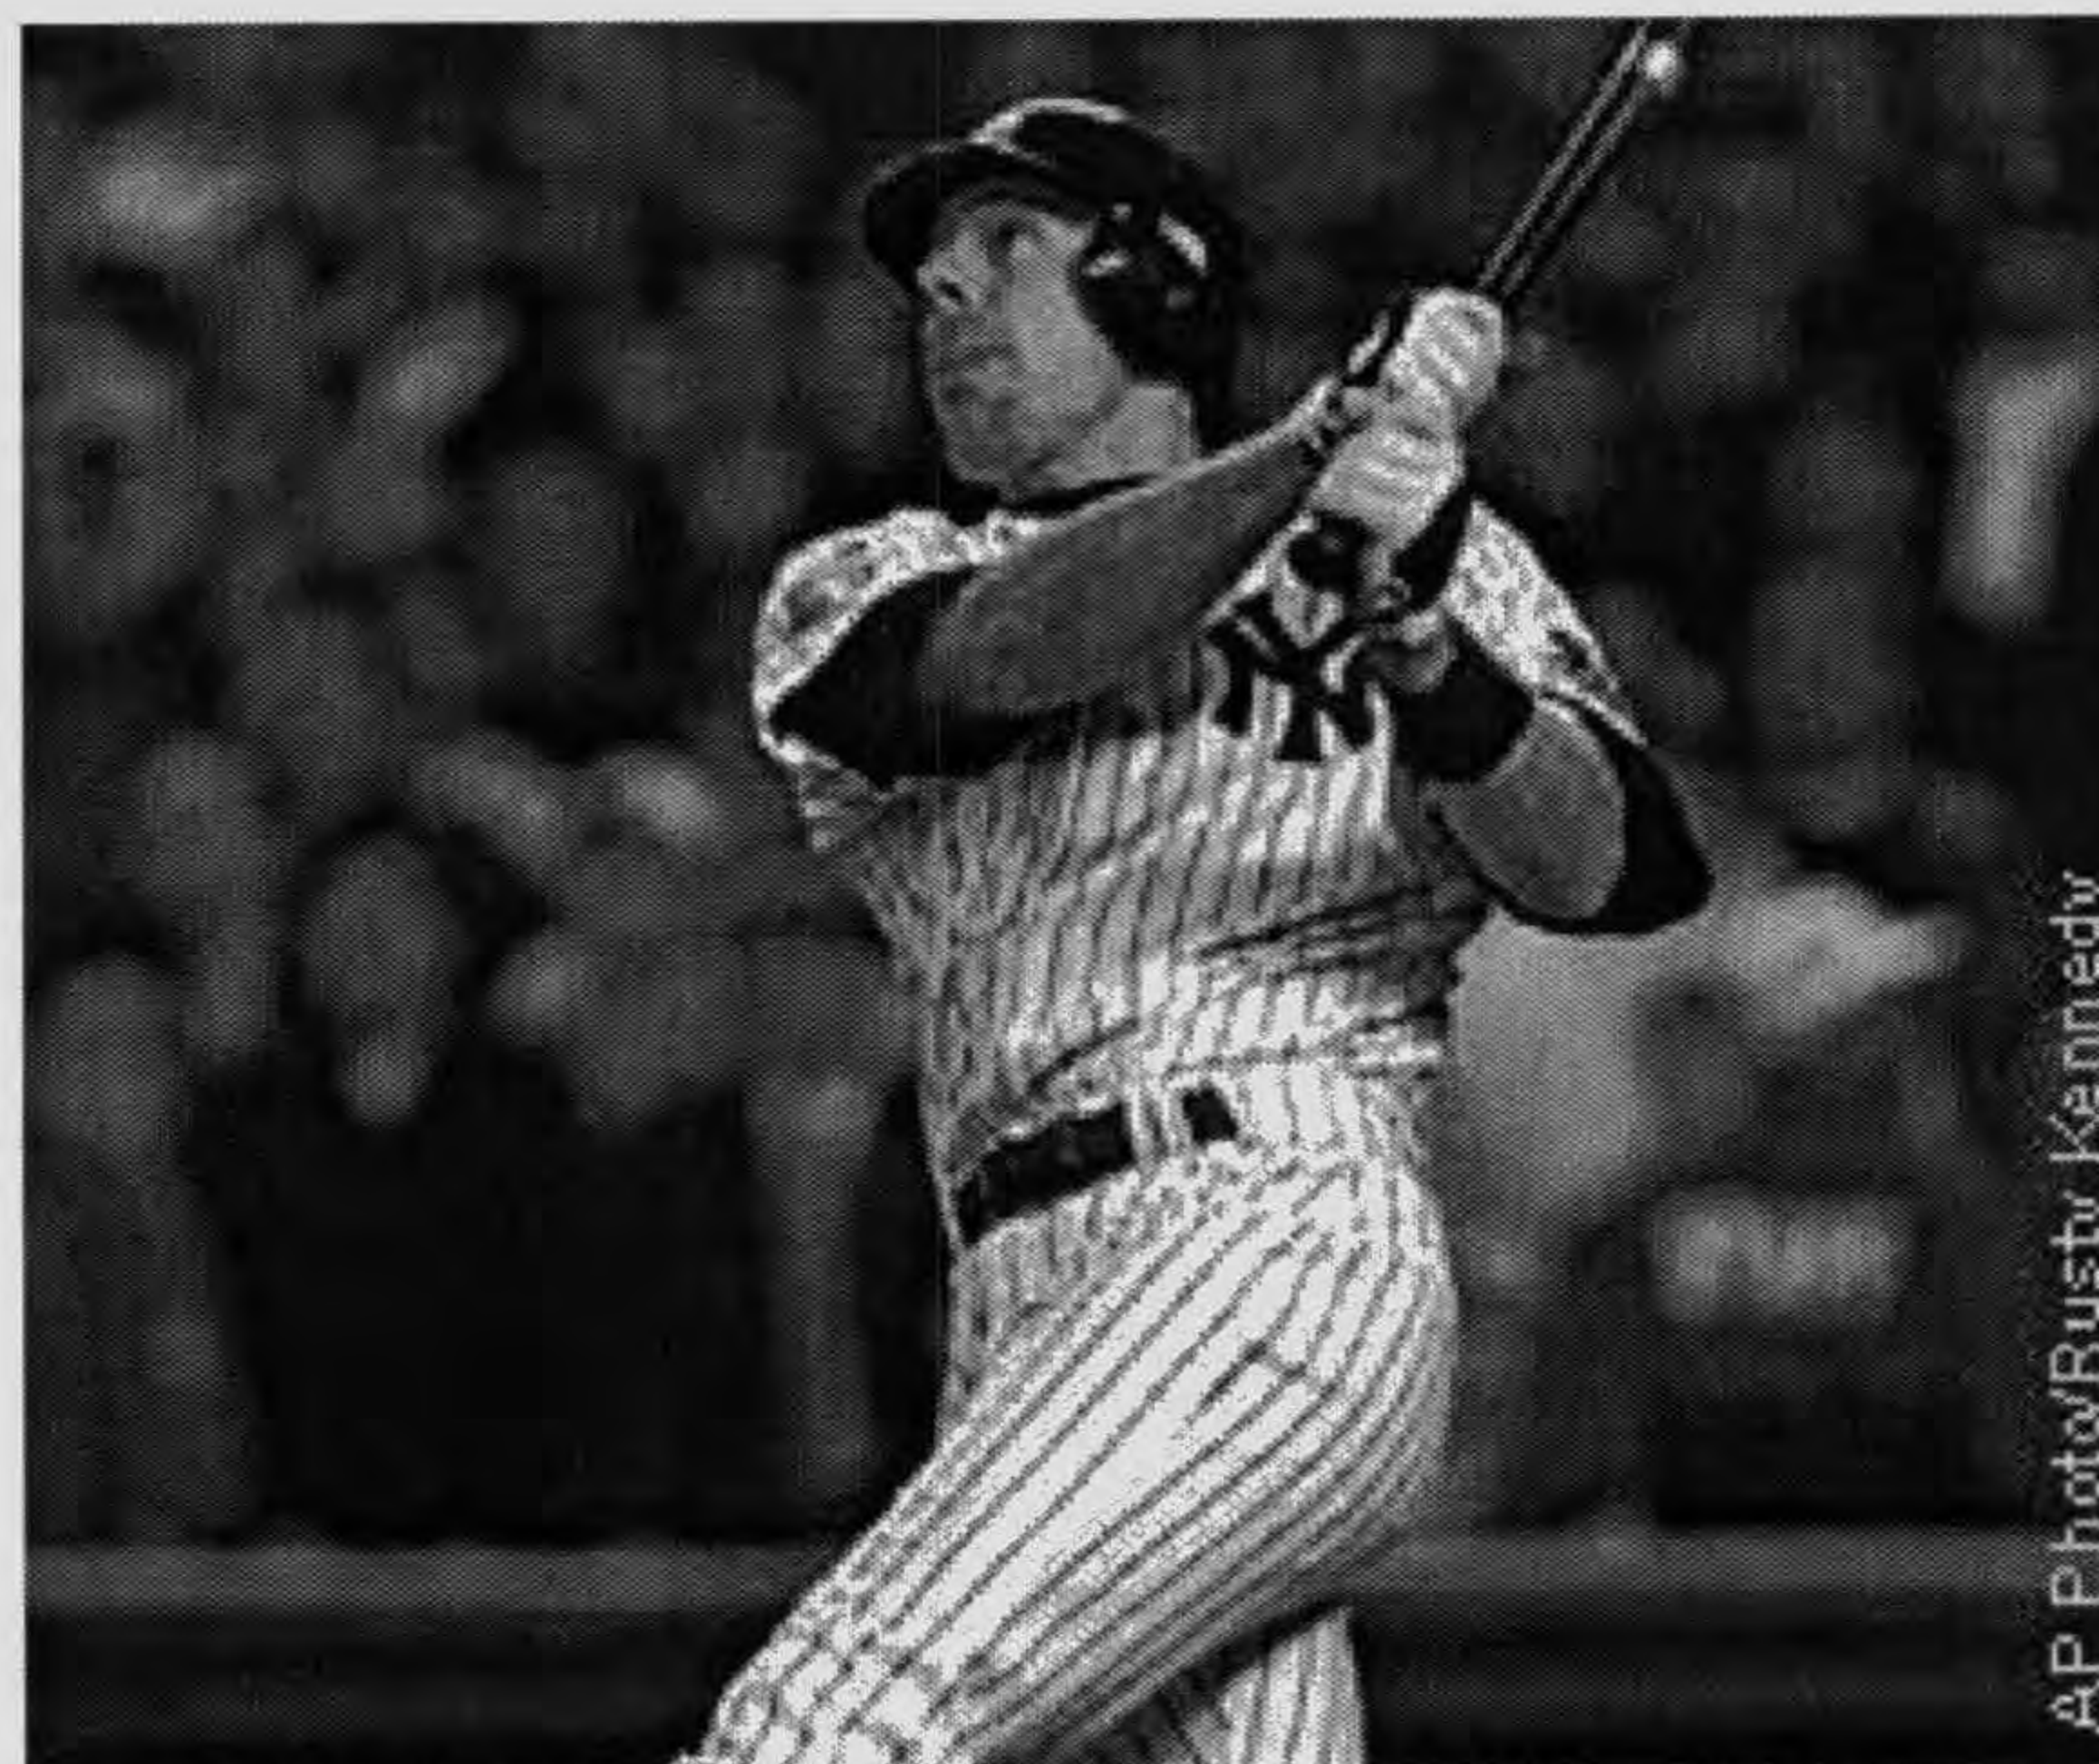

By Carrie Muskat
MLB.com

- MLB.com Daily Web Show: 56k | 300k
- Exclusive: WorldSeries.com Report
- Game highlights: 56k | 300k
- Box score

NEW YORK-- Now, the only thing standing in the way of the Yankees' fourth World Championship is Randy Johnson.

For the second straight night, the Diamondbacks were one out away from a win. And for the second consecutive night, closer Byung-Hyun Kim blew it.

Steve Finley and Rod Barajas had each homered and Miguel Batista surprised the Yankees with a dominating performance, moving Arizona within one win of its first World Championship.

Scott Brosius, the 1998 World Series MVP, slugged a 1-0 pitch into the left field seats to tie the contest.

And somehow the Yankees found that mystique again.

Scott Brosius hit a game-tying, two-run homer with two out in the ninth and rookie Alfonso Soriano hit a game-winning RBI single in the 12th to lift the Yankees to a magical 3-2 win over the Diamondbacks.

"It's Ground Hog Day," New York manager Joe Torre said.

→ The Yankees can clinch their fourth World Series in a row with a win Saturday in Arizona.

First, they all need to catch their breath.

"This is the most incredible couple of games I've ever managed," Torre said.

"They're a great baseball team," said Arizona manager Bob Brenly, who's had a tough time figuring out a way to beat them.

"Hopefully, in the dictionary, maybe Webster or whoever makes it will change the definition of 'team' and just put Yankees next to it," New York's Chuck Knoblauch said.

"I don't think you can go through the clubhouse

It was unlikely heroes that came through. Brosius, hitting just .152 this postseason, homered off Kim, who muffed his second save situation in a row.

Wo
More News

Diamondbacks

- Schilling ar accept WS
- Selig prese
- Schilling int
- Gonzales ii
- D-Backs ce
- Game 7 hig
- Gonzalez v
- Womack tie
- Bautista's F
- D-Backs pi
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

Yankees M

- Game 7 Ph
- Game high
- Rivera's err 56k | 300k
- Rivera strik 56k | 300k
- Soriano go 56k | 300k
- Martinez dr 56k | 300k
- O'Neill can' 56k | 300k
- The Star Sp 56k | 300k
- Postgame | 300k |
- Pregame p 300k |
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

	Diamondbacks	2	8	0
	Yankees	3	9	1
	WP: Sterling Hitchcock (1-0)
	LP: Albie Lopez (0-1)
	SV: None
	HR: Steve Finley (1), Rod Barajas (1), Scott Brosius (1)

and find anybody who's played in two games like this. These guys, for some reason, believe they can come back and the more it happens the more they feed off of that and believe the game isn't over."

--Mike Mussina

"I don't think you can go through the clubhouse and find anybody who's played in two games like this," Yankees starter Mike Mussina said. "These guys, for some reason, believe they can come back and the more it happens the more they feed off of that and believe the game isn't over. It just so happens that two nights in a row on the biggest stage it's happened two nights in a row. We still have one game to play, one game to win."

Mussina, who pitched well enough to win, knew better than to wait in the clubhouse for the game to end. He showered, got dressed and headed back to the dugout to watch.

"It's the World Series," Mussina said. "You have to be there."

"One of the team's strengths has always been that we play hard for 27 outs," Brosius said. "It's just worked out the last couple of nights. It's made for great innings out here at the stadium."

The D-backs loaded the bases with one out in the 11th, but Mariano Rivera got Reggie Sanders to line up to Soriano at second and induced Mark Grace to ground into a fielder's choice.

Sterling Hitchcock (0-1) picked up the win, pitching one inning of welcome relief.

Maybe the Yankees simply need to wait until the clock strikes midnight, which it did for the second night in a row.

"I don't think shocked is the right word," Game 4 co-hero Derek Jeter said of Brosius' homer. "You're excited but all of the sudden you have to turn your attention to trying to score another run. There's a lot of emotion there, everyone was excited. But then everyone was saying we have to get it done."

The best-of-seven series will resume out west in a different time zone and a different climate.

Andy Pettitte (2-2, 2.93 ERA) will try to keep the Yankees' bid for a fourth World Championship alive in Game 6. Unfortunately for him, he's got to go head to head with the Big Unit.

Johnson (3-1, 1.36 ERA) will start Game 6 and Arizona has Curt Schilling ready, willing and waiting for Game 7. Roger Clemens would start Game 7 for the Yankees if they go that far.

"Certainly with Johnson and Schilling going in 6 and 7, we like our chances," Brenly said.

So does Johnson.

"I'm not going to say anything that will be in othe headlines for Game 6," Johnson said, "but I have a lot of confidence in my ability. I always have."

The Yankees know what the Big Unit can do after he held them to three hits in Game 2.

"We're not thinking about having to face Randy Johnson or Curt Schilling," Torre said. "(If you do) you get frustrated real quickly."

"B.K. was fine," Brenly said. "He's our closer, he wanted the ball in that situation, he made a bad pitch, a slider that hung over the inside of the plate to Scott Brosius."

In the 12th, Knoblauch ended a 0-for-13 World Series skid with a leadoff single off Albie Lopez (0-2). He advanced on Brosius' sacrifice and scored on Soriano's single to right. The throw home wasn't even close.

What was it Yogi Berra said about not being over until it's over?

Scott Brosius / 3B

Height: 6'1"
Weight: 202
Bats/Throws: R/R

More info:
Player page
Stats
Hit chart
yankees.com

 Playoff highlights: 56k | 300k
 Regular season: 56k | 300k

 WORLD SERIES.com

MLB.com

BOBBLEH
14.95 AR
SHO

Gameday

DIAMOND

D'Backs vs. Y
Listen to the Ga

Custom C

Get all the playoff action
through the
World Series

SEARCHABLE
HIGHLIGHTS

Arizona's Miguel Batista appeared calm, cool and very much in control for someone making his first World Series start and 21st of the season. A poet and a pitcher, the right-hander limited the Yankees to four hits, all singles and none in the same inning.

ADVERTISEMENT

This was Batista's first Series but not his first championship game this year. In February, Batista was the starting and winning pitcher in the Caribbean World Series for the Dominican team.

The Yankees should've checked the Mexican League Hermosillo team for a scouting report. They probably did.

The leftover buzz from New York's come from behind 4-3, 10 inning win in Game 4 couldn't rev up the offense until late. The Yankees were batting just .160 in the Series and .227 in the postseason prior to Thursday.

Then came the magic. Jorge Posada doubled to lead off against Kim in the ninth. The Korean sidearmer got Shane Spencer to ground out and struck out Knoblauch but Brosius, the 1998 World Series MVP, slugged a 1-0 pitch into the left field seats.

The 56,018 at Yankee Stadium sprang to life.

This was the final game of the 2001 season at the historic ballyard and even though New York Mayor Rudolph Giuliani will probably find something else to do with the free time, it was the last for outfielder Paul O'Neill, who is likely retiring at season's end.

He exited quietly, going 0-for-3, and the crowd gave him a standing ovation when he came to bat in the eighth. The fans then chanted O'Neill's name again in the top of the ninth and he doffed his cap as he came off the field.

Thanks for the memories and all those slammed bats, Paul.

Mussina, who gave up five runs on six hits over three innings in Game 1, allowed only one hit over the first four innings. Finley then notched the second hit off Mussina when he led off the Arizona fifth with his first postseason homer, sending a 1-2 pitch into the right field seats.

Two outs later, Barajas, starting behind the plate in place of injured Damian Miller, connected in his second postseason at-bat, launching the ball into the left field seats for a 2-0 lead.

This was the 39th time the World Series has been tied at two wins apiece and the first since 1997 when Cleveland and Florida were deadlocked. This also will be the first Series to go at least six games since '97.

The winner of Game 5 has gone on to win a 2-2 Series 26 times, including each of the last two occasions: the Yankees in 1996 and the Marlins in 1997. However, in the four previous occasions, the Game 5 winner eventually lost the Fall Classic in seven games (Milwaukee in 1982; Boston in 1986; St. Louis in 1987, and Atlanta in 1991).

The expansion Diamondbacks, the youngest franchise to reach the World Series, may sound like they're just happy to be here but it's more than that.

"Your goal when you start the season is to win the very last game of the year. That's the last game of the World Series," Grace said. "If we do it that'll be the first time we'll complete that goal."

Carrie Muskat is a reporter for MLB.com.

Box score

2001 World Series - Game 5

Yankees 3, Diamondbacks 2 (12 innings)

at Yankee Stadium

FINAL	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	R	H	E
Diamondbacks	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	8	0
Yankees	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	1	3	9	1
DIAMONDBACKS	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Tony Womack	SS	6	0	1	0	0	1	2	.150
Craig Counsell	2B	6	0	0	0	0	2	3	.053
Luis Gonzalez	LF	4	0	0	0	0	1	1	.222
Tony Bautista	LF	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	.600
Erubiel Durazo	DH	4	0	1	0	1	1	0	.400
Matt D. Williams	3B	4	0	0	0	0	1	2	.176
Steve Finley	CF	4	1	3	1	1	1	0	.357
Reggie Sanders	RF	5	0	0	0	0	3	5	.167
Mark Grace	1B	3	0	0	0	2	0	4	.133
Rod Barajas	C	5	1	2	1	0	0	2	.500
Totals		42	2	8	2	4	10	19	-

Batting:

HR - Finley (1, 5th inning off Mussina 0 on, 0 out); Barajas (1, 5th inning off Mussina 0 on, 2 out).

S - M Williams. RBI - Finley (2), Barajas (1).

2-out RBI - Barajas.

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Counsell 1, Barajas 1, M Williams 1, Grace 2.

GIDP - Grace.

Team LOB - 9.

Baserunning:

SB - Womack (1, 2nd base off Mussina/Posada).

Fielding:

DP: 2 (Womack-Counsell-Grace, Counsell-Grace).

YANKEES	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Derek Jeter	SS	5	0	1	0	0	2	0	.143
Paul O'Neill	RF	3	0	0	0	2	0	1	.250
Bernie Williams	CF	4	0	1	0	1	0	1	.222
Tino Martinez	1B	5	0	1	0	0	0	3	.133
Jorge Posada	C	5	1	1	0	0	2	3	.235
Shane Spencer	LF	4	0	1	0	1	1	1	.231
David Justice	DH	2	0	0	0	1	1	1	.091
Chuck Knoblauch	PR	2	1	1	0	0	1	1	.071
Scott Brosius	3B	4	1	1	2	0	0	3	.235
Alfonso Soriano	2B	5	0	2	1	0	0	1	.222
Totals		39	3	9	3	5	7	15	-

Batting:

2B - Posada (1, Kim).

HR - Brosius (1, 9th inning off Kim 1 on, 2 out).

S - Brosius.

RBI - Brosius 2 (3), Soriano (1).

2-out RBI - Brosius 2.

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Posada 1, Soriano 1, Brosius 1, Martinez 1.

GIDP - Posada, O'Neill.

Team LOB - 8.

Baserunning:

CS - Soriano (1, 2nd base by Batista/Barajas).

Fielding:

E - Posada (1, throw).

DP: 1 (Soriano-Jeter-Martinez).

DIAMONDBACKS	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Miguel Batista	7.2	5	0	0	5	6	126	55-71	30	0	0.00
Greg Swindell (H, 1)	0.1	0	0	0	0	0	4	0-4	1	0	0.00
Byung-Hyun Kim (BS, 2)	0.2	2	2	2	0	1	15	6-9	4	1	13.50
Mike Morgan	2.1	0	0	0	0	0	29	12-17	7	0	0.00
Albie Lopez (L, 0-1)	0.1	2	1	1	0	0	7	2-5	3	0	27.00

Pitching:

WP - Batista

Ground balls-fly balls: Batista 11-5; Swindell 0-1; Kim 1-0; Morgan 3-4; Lopez 1-0.

YANKEES	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Mike Mussina	8	5	2	2	3	10	125	43-82	32	2	4.09
Ramiro Mendoza	1	1	0	0	0	0	11	3-8	3	0	0.00
Mariano Rivera	2	2	0	0	1	0	23	8-15	9	0	0.00
Sterling Hitchcock (W, 1-0)	1	0	0	0	0	0	10	1-9	3	0	0.00

Pitching:

WP - Mussina.

IBB - Grace (by Mussina); Durazo (by Mussina); Finley (by Rivera).

Ground balls-fly balls: Mussina 6-8; Mendoza 3-0; Rivera 4-2; Hitchcock 1-2.

Umpires: Jim Joyce (HP) Dana DeMuth (1B) Steve Rippley (2B) Mark Hirschbeck (3B) Dale Scott (LF) Ed Rapuano (RF)

Time: 4:15.

Attendance: 56,018.

Weather: 61 degrees, partly cloudy. Wind: 3 mph, right to left.

BOX SCORE COURTESY OF SPORTSTICKER ENTERPRISES, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Jump to Official Club Site

Search Entire Site for Enter keyword

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE .

<http://ad.doubleclick.net/clk;3490489;6474427;w?http://www.mach3.com/sweeps/mlb.htm>

#11

Diamondbacks Yankees Baseball Perspectives Left Field LCS Division Series
Audio Video Scoreboard Stats History Fan Forum Kids Insider Auction Shop

2001 World Series:

Arizona Diamondbacks def. New York Yankees, 3-2

- Game 1 (D) Saturday, Oct. 27, 2001
Diamondbacks 9, Yankees 1 @ Bank One Ballpark (7 innings)
- (D) 2 Sunday, Oct. 28, 2001
Diamondbacks 4, Yankees 0 @ Bank One Ballpark (7 innings)
- (Y) 3 Tuesday, October 30, 2001
Yankees 2, Diamondbacks 1 ▷ President's 1st Pitch (7 innings)
@ Yankee stadium
- (Y) 4 Wednesday, Oct. 31, 2001
Yankees 4, Diamondbacks 3 ▷ @ Yankee stadium (10 innings)
- (Y) 5 Thursday, Nov. 1, 2001
Yankees 3, Diamondbacks 2 ▷ @ Yankee stadium (12 innings)
- (D) 6 Saturday, November 3, 2001
Diamondbacks 15, Yankees 2 ▷ @ ~~Yankee stadium~~ ^{Bank One} (7 innings)
- (D) 7 Sunday, Nov. 4, 2001
Diamondbacks 3, Yankees 2 ▷ Final! Game 7 (9 innings)
@ Bank One Ballpark

D-Y
4-3 ↑

2001 American League Championship Series

New York Yankees def. Seattle Mariners, 4-1

Game 1 Wednesday, October 17, 2001
New York Yankees 4, Seattle Mariners 2

Game 2 Thursday, October 18, 2001
New York Yankees 3, Seattle Mariners 2

Game 3 Saturday, October 20, 2001
Seattle Mariners 14, New York Yankees 3

Game 4 Sunday, October 21, 2001
New York Yankees 3, Seattle Mariners 1

Game 5 Monday, October 22, 2001
New York Yankees 12, Seattle Mariners 3

2001 National League Championship Series

Arizona Diamondbacks def. Atlanta Braves, 4-1

Game 1 Tuesday, October 16, 2001
Arizona Diamondbacks 2, Atlanta Braves 0

Game 2 Wednesday, October 17, 2001
Atlanta Braves 8, Arizona Diamondbacks 1

Game 3 Friday, October 19, 2001
Arizona Diamondbacks 5, Atlanta Braves 1

Game 4 Saturday, October 20, 2001
Arizona Diamondbacks 11, Atlanta Braves 4

Game 5 Sunday, October 21, 2001
Arizona Diamondbacks 3, Atlanta Braves 2

2001 American League Division Series

Seattle Mariners def. Cleveland Indians, 3-2

Game 1 Wednesday, October 10, 2001
Cleveland Indians 5, Seattle Mariners 0

Game 2 Thursday, October 11, 2001
Seattle Mariners 5, Cleveland Indians 1

Game 3 Saturday, October 13, 2001
Cleveland Indians 17, Seattle Mariners 2

Game 4 Sunday, October 14, 2001
Seattle Mariners 6, Cleveland Indians 2

Game 5 Monday, October 15, 2001
Seattle Mariners 3, Cleveland Indians 1

2001 American League Division Series

New York Yankees def. Oakland Athletics, 3-2

Game 1 Wednesday, October 10, 2001
Oakland Athletics 5, New York Yankees 3

Game 2 Thursday, October 11, 2001
Oakland Athletics 2, New York Yankees 0

Game 3 Saturday, October 13, 2001
New York Yankees 1, Oakland Athletics 0

Game 4 Sunday, October 14, 2001
New York Yankees 9, Oakland Athletics 2

Game 5 Monday, October 15, 2001
New York Yankees 5, Oakland Athletics 3

2001 National League Division Series

Atlanta Braves def. Houston Astros, 3-0

Game 1 Tuesday, October 9, 2001
Atlanta Braves 7, Houston Astros 4

Game 2 Thursday, October 10, 2001
Atlanta Braves 1, Houston Astros 0

Game 3 Friday, October 12, 2001

Atlanta Braves 6, Houston Astros 2

2001 National League Division Series

Arizona Diamondbacks def. St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2

Game 1 Tuesday, October 9, 2001

Arizona Diamondbacks 1, St. Louis Cardinals 0

Game 2 Wednesday, October 10, 2001

St. Louis Cardinals 4, Arizona Diamondbacks 1

Game 3 Friday, October 12, 2001

Arizona Diamondbacks 5, St. Louis Cardinals 3

Game 4 Saturday, October 13, 2001

St. Louis Cardinals 4, Arizona Diamondbacks 1

Game 5 Sunday, October 14, 2001

Arizona Diamondbacks 2, St. Louis Cardinals 1

Jump to Official Club Site

Search Entire Site for Enter keyword Go

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

© 2004 MLB Advanced Media, L.P. All rights reserved.

The following are trademarks or service marks of Major League Baseball entities and may be used only with permission of Major League Baseball Prop relevant Major League Baseball entity: Major League, Major League Baseball, MLB, the silhouetted batter logo, World Series, National League, America Series, League Championship Series, All-Star Game, and the names, nicknames, logos, uniform designs, color combinations, and slogans designating Baseball clubs and entities, and their respective mascots, events and exhibitions.

Use of the Website signifies your agreement to the .

Major League Baseball- Post September 11, 2001

All information was gathered from MLB.com: September 11th

http://sanfrancisco.giants.mlb.com/NASApp/mlb/mlb/official_info/mlb_remember_911.jsp

MLB games were postponed: 6 days

-Resumed on Monday, September 17, 2001

-With the Pirates playing the New York Mets at PNC Park in Pittsburg. It was supposed to be played in New York but Shea Stadium was being used as a staging area for the cleanup from the September 11th tragedy.

-The Mets returned a week later to host the Atlanta Braves in Shea Stadium, but the Yankees had still not resumed a game in New York yet.

-The Yankees played their first game since the September 11th tragedies in Chicago versus the White Sox at Comiskey Park. (The White Sox honored Chicago's policemen and firefighters in pre-game ceremonies).

-The first game when the Yankees returned to Yankee Stadium was Tuesday, September 25, 2001 to play Tampa Bay. The Yankees lost 0-4, but were moved by the pre-game ceremony (see ceremony highlights).

(This information was pulled from the official New York Yankees website)

http://newyork.yankees.mlb.com/NASApp/mlb/nyy/news/nyy_news_news_archive.jsp?month=09&year=2001

One Year Later:

-At Yankee Stadium a plaque was dedicated to the Sept. 11th victims and heroes in Monument Park on the first anniversary of the attacks.

The regular season was extended one week so that the games missed could be played to assure a 162-game season.

 See Game 3: for highlights of President Bush's first pitch, and play-by-play results.

See Game 7: for highlights of championship game.

2001 Major League Baseball Season began Sunday, April 1, 2001

29 Major League Baseball Teams

- Diamondbacks
- Yankees
- Baseball Perspectives
- Left Field
- Division Series
- LCS
- Audio
- Video
- Scoreboard
- Stats
- History
- Fan Forum
- Kids
- Subscriptions
- Auction
- Shop

Full 2001 Postseason Coverage >

A fant-AZ-tic finish! Highlight

In what is being hailed as one of the most exciting World Series of all time, Luis Gonzalez (left) hit an RBI single with one out in the bottom of the ninth to give the Arizona Diamondbacks a 3-2, Game 7 victory over the New York Yankees. More>

- World Series Recap Show: 56k | 300k
- Perspectives: Valentine: Great Series great for baseball
- Diamondbacks: Schilling, Johnson named co-MVPs
- Yankees: They'll be back in '02
- Left Field: Live from Game 7
- Multimedia: Relive Game 4 with Baseball's Best

Photo Galleries | Baseball's Best | Buy Championship Gear

World Series results

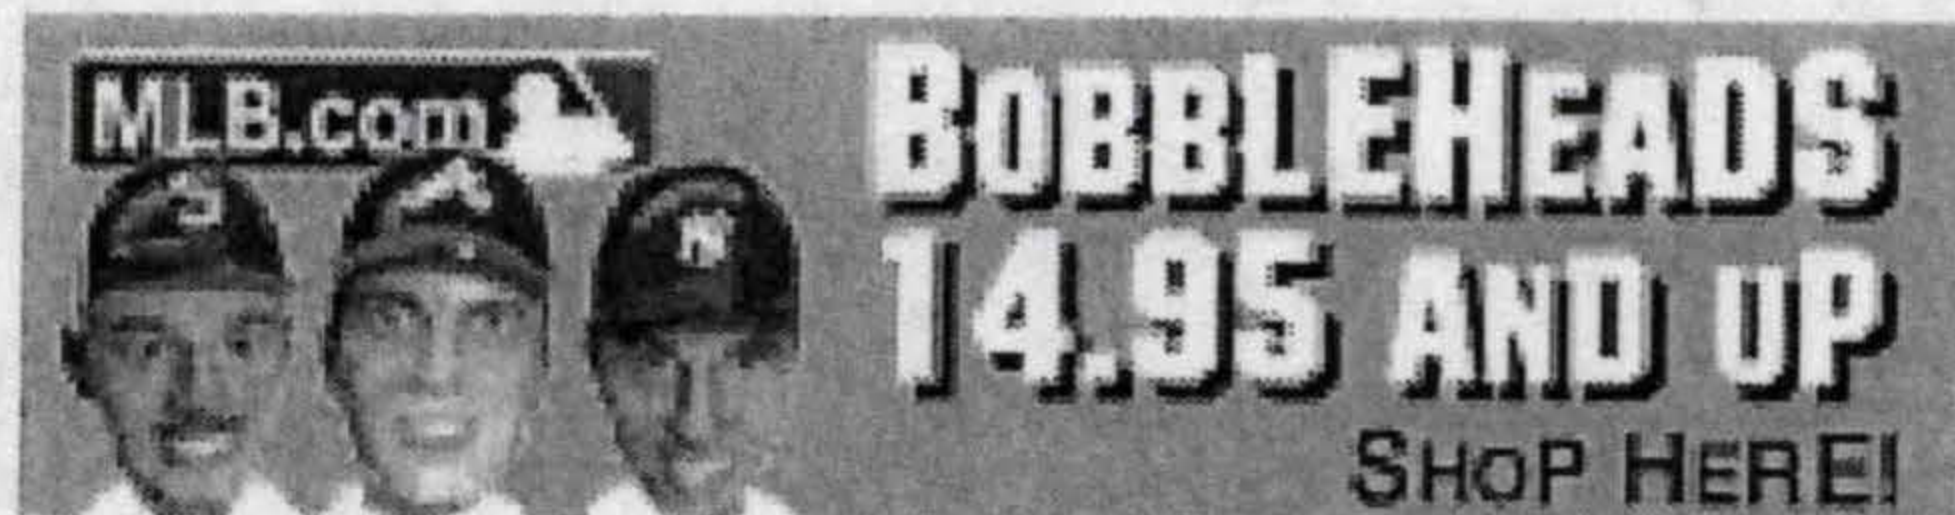

Gm 1: ARI 9, NYY 1 (W: Schilling; L: Mussina)
 Gm 2: ARI 4, NYY 0 (W: Johnson; L: Pettitte)
 Gm 3: NYY 2, ARI 1 (W: Clemens; L: Anderson)
 Gm 4: NYY 4, ARI 3 (W: Rivera; L: Kim)
 Gm 5: NYY 3, ARI 2 (W: Hitchcock; L: Lopez)
 Gm 6: ARI 15, NYY 2 (W: Johnson; L: Pettitte)

Game 7	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Yankees	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	2	6	3
Diamondbacks	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	3	11	0

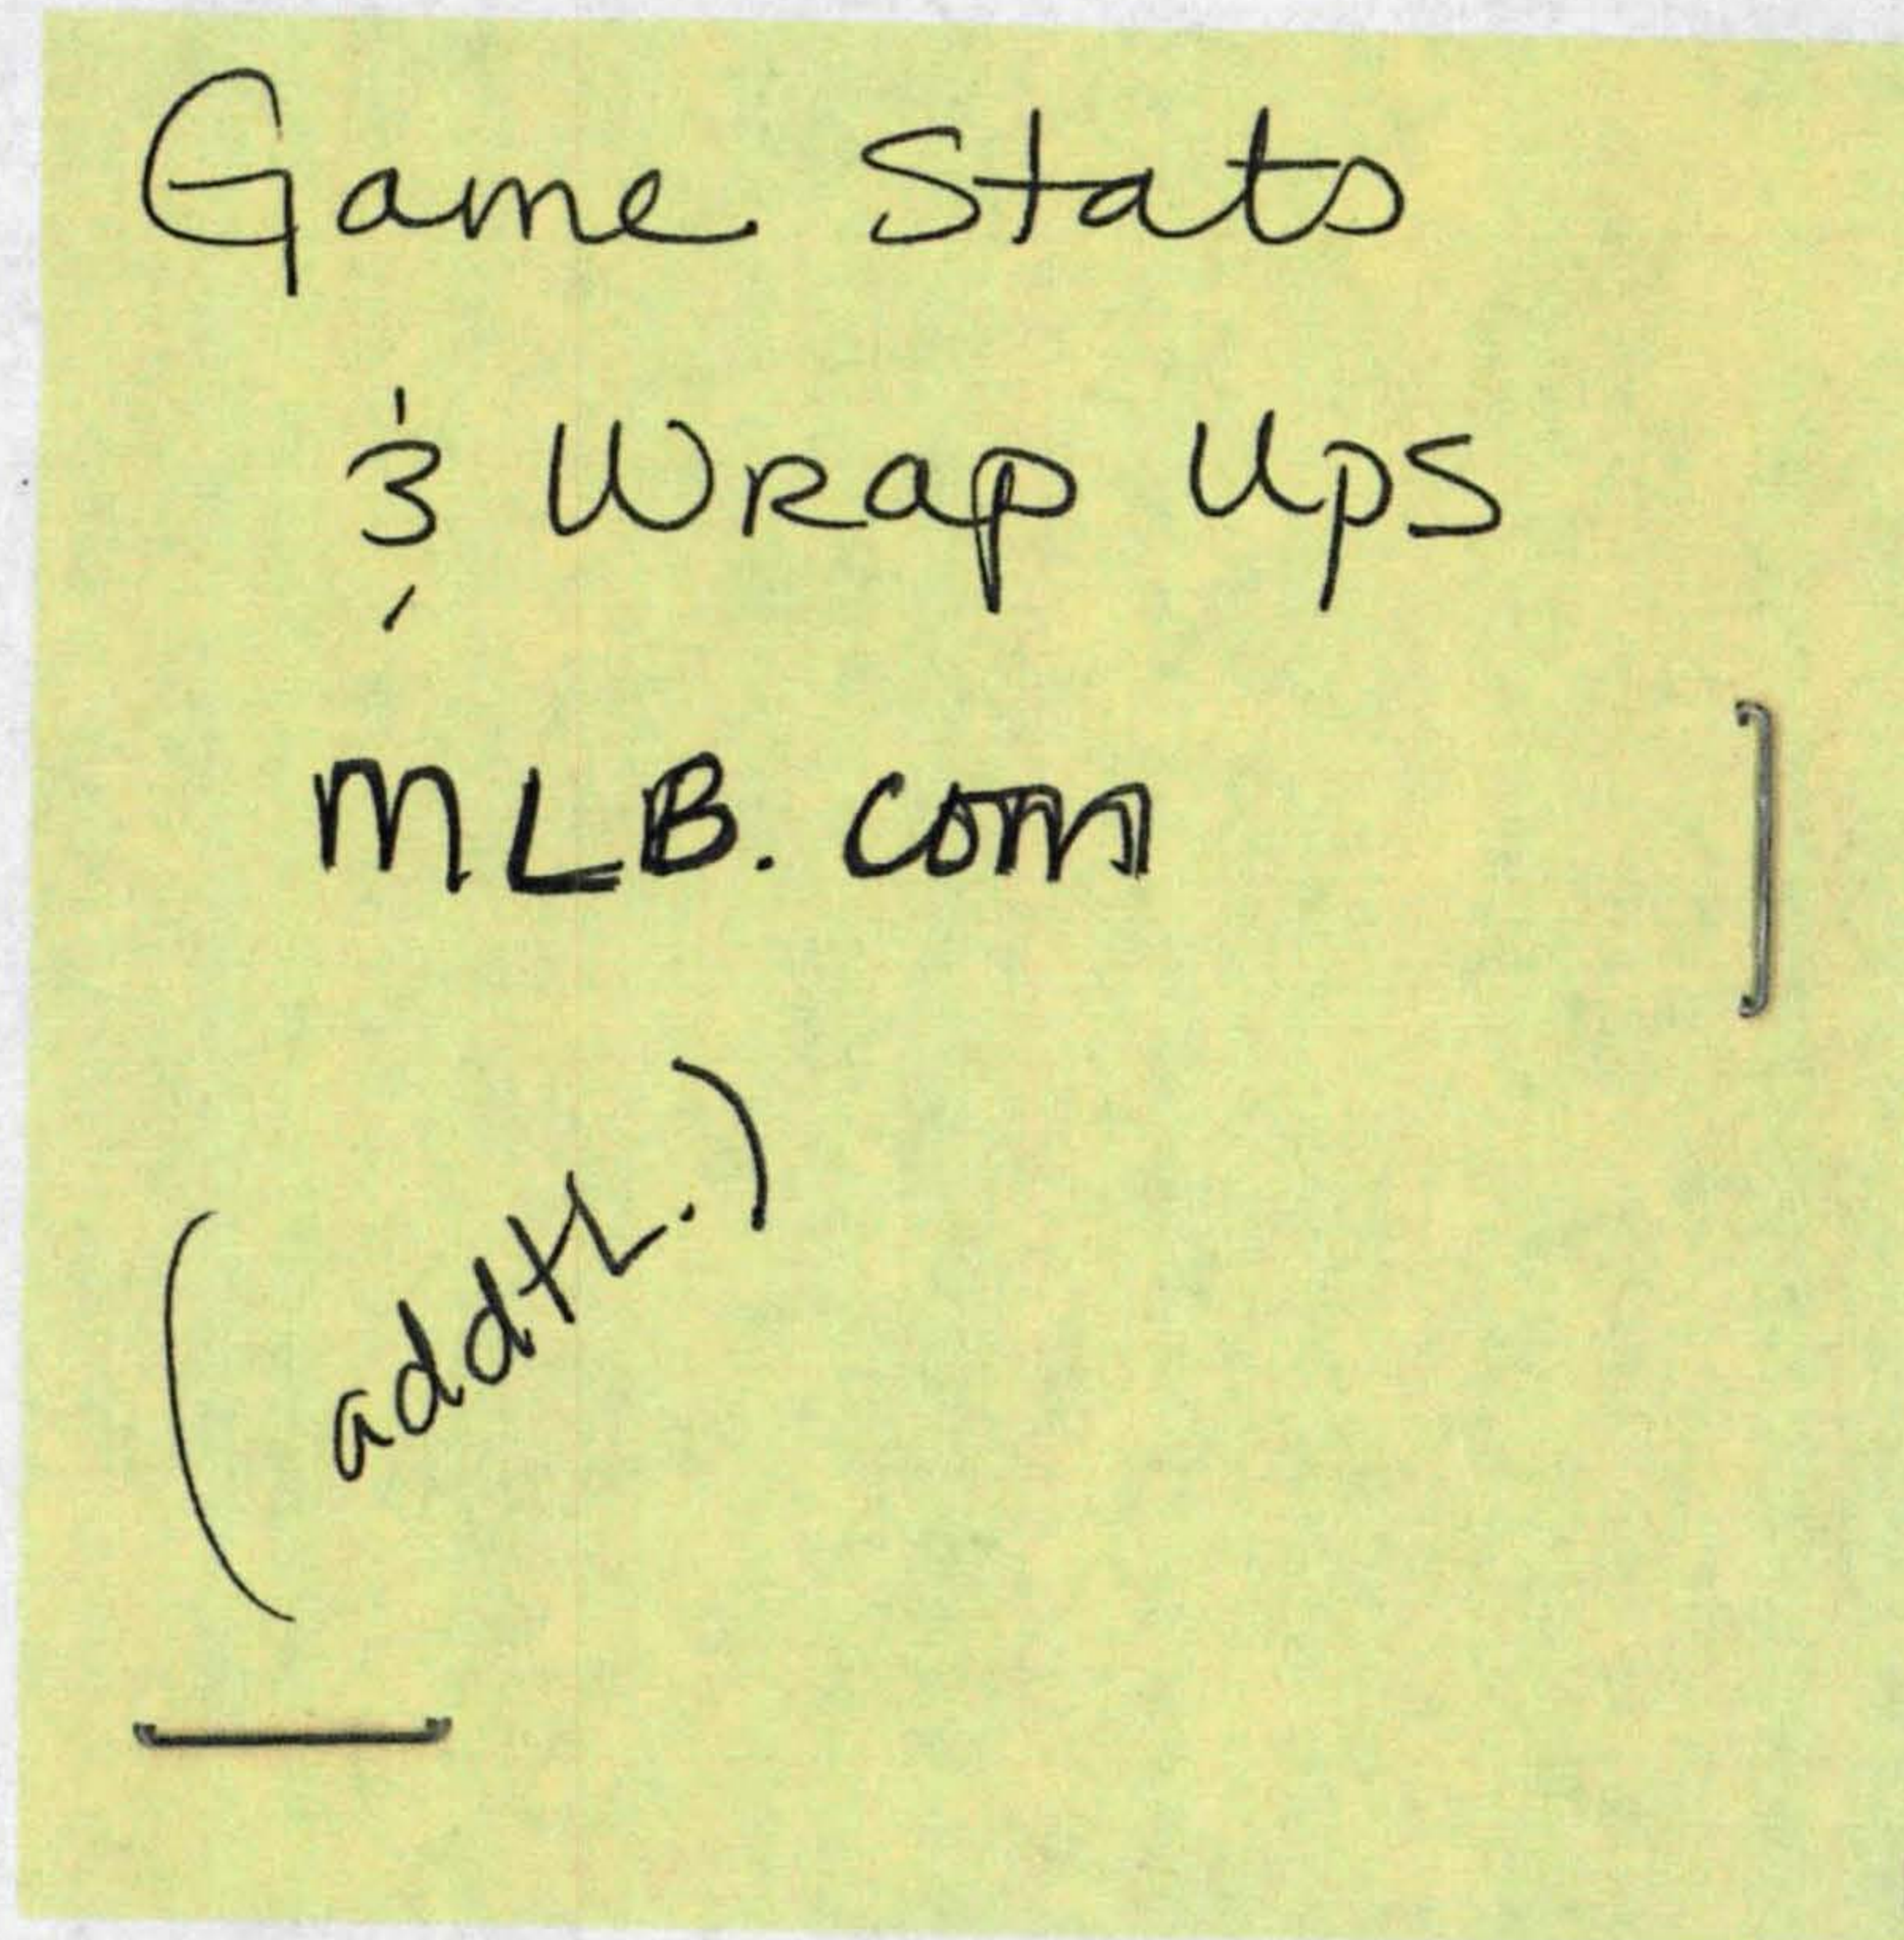

DIAMONDBACKS WIN THE WORLD SERIES, 4-3

W: Randy Johnson (5-1); L: Mariano Rivera (2-1)
Wrapup | Box Score | Rundown | Gallery
 MLB.com Daily Web Show: 56k | 300k

Memorable moments from a World Series for the ages GO>>

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS: 2001 WORLD SERIES CHAMPIONS

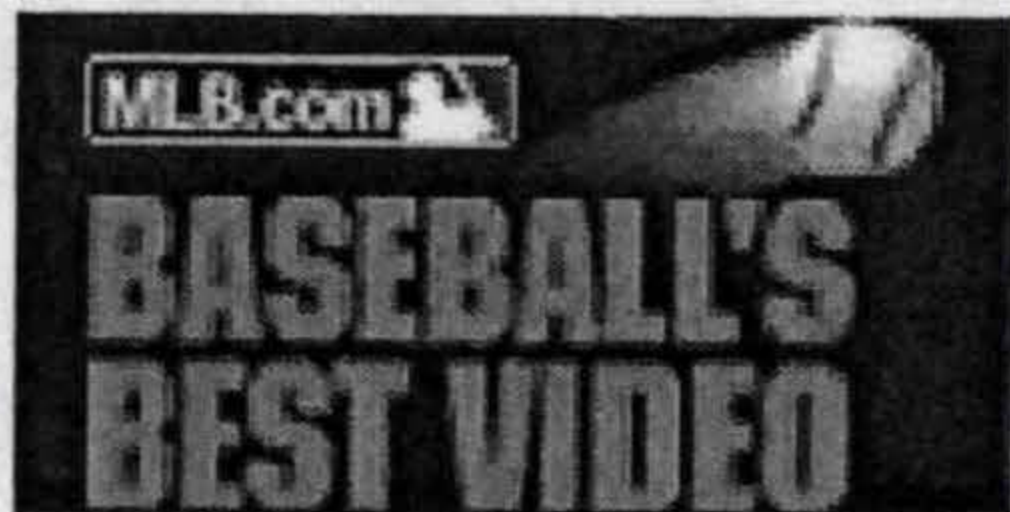

Multimedia | Game 7 >>

- For all the video clips go to Daily Cuts >>
- Schilling & Johnson named MVP: 56k | 300k
- The Diamondbacks celebrate: 56k | 300k
- Bud Selig presents the trophy: 56k | 300k
- MLB.com Daily Web Show: 56k | 300k
- Curt Schilling interview: 56k | 300k
- Luis Gonzalez interview: 56k | 300k
- Joe Torre interview: 56k | 300k
- Game highlights: 56k | 300k
- Exclusive: WorldSeries.com Report
- MLB Radio: Giuliani | Counsell | Batista | Stanton
- Postgame: 300k | Audio
- Pregame: 300k | Audio
- More highlights & Top 5 >>
- More exclusive audio from MLB Radio >>

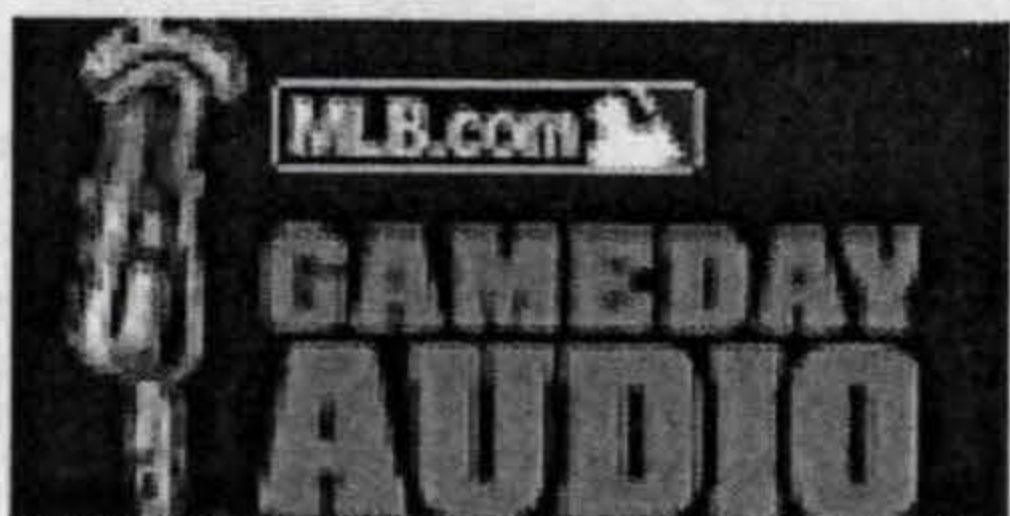

MLB.com Shop
 Customize your very own jersey More>

The Greatest Games
 Broadband and on-demand More>

Gameday Audio
 Tune into all the postseason action More>

Baseball Perspectives

- Valentine: Great Series great for baseball
- Smith: Count on Yanks being back
- Mayo: D-Backs end Yankee dynasty
- Browne: Rivera failed to get job done
- Mann: Great year, great moment
- Leach: Gonzo breaks a pair of curses

Left Field
 Off-the-wall feature
 Off-the-wall feature
 Off-the-wall feature
 Off-the-wall feature
 Off-the-wall feature
 Off-the-wall feature

- Baseball's Best: Classic VI
- SimSeries: Play for F

SimSeries

Square off in a simulation tournament More>

Jump to Official Club Site

Search | enter keyword

Entire Site

Advanced Search

Check E-mail

Sign Up/Login

Help/Contact Us

Wireless

Baseball Basics

Official MLB Info

© 2002 MLB Advanced Media, L.P. All rights reserved.

The following are trademarks or service marks of Major League Baseball entities and may be used only with permission of Major League Baseball Properties, Inc. or the relevant Major League Baseball entity: Major League, Major League Baseball, MLB, the silhouetted batter logo, World Series, National League, American League, Division Series, League Championship Series, All-Star Game, and the names, nicknames, logos, uniform designs, color combinations, and slogans designating the Major League Baseball clubs and entities, and their respective mascots, events and exhibitions.

Use of the Website signifies your agreement to the Terms of Use and Privacy Policy.

Game #6
(Finnings)

- Diamondbacks
- Yankees
- Baseball Perspectives
- Left Field
- Division Series
- LCS
- Audio
- Video
- Scoreboard
- Stats
- History
- Fan Forum
- Kids
- Subscriptions
- Auction
- Shop

Game 6 Wrapup: D-Backs 15, Yanks 2

Game 1 | Game 2 | Game 3 | Game 4 | Game 5 | Game 6

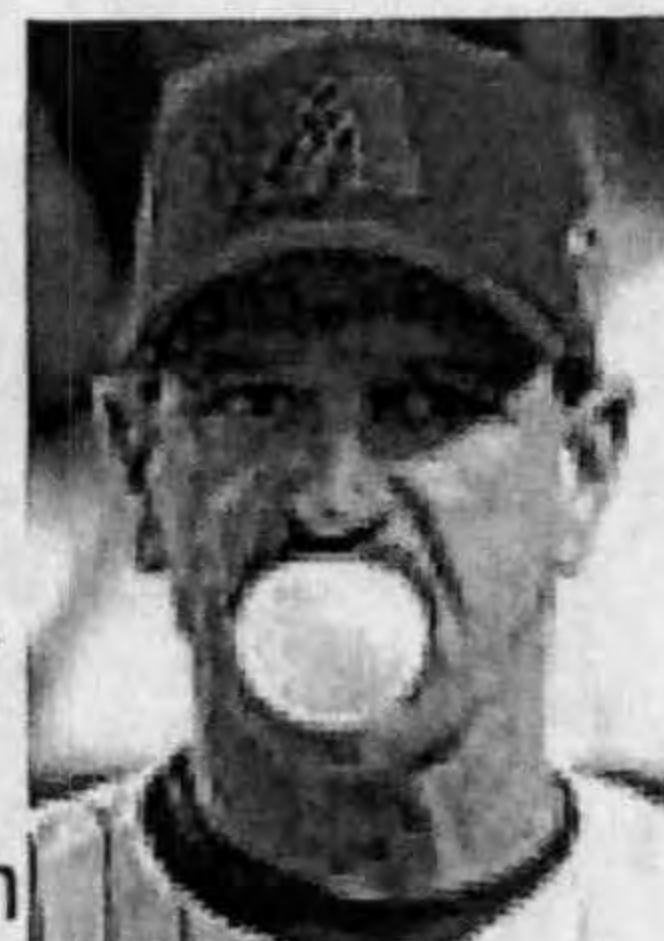

Randy Johnson treated the home fans to another strong performance in Game 6 Saturday night.

D-Back payback

Randy Johnson and a revived Diamondbacks offense pummeled the Yankees 15-2 Saturday to force a Game 7 on Sunday at Bank One Ballpark.

Full Story >

Home cooking
After a disastrous trip to New York, the D-Backs were happy to return home, where they ripped the Yanks in Game 6 to even the Series. More >

WORLD SERIES

Game 6	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Yankees	0	0	0	0	0	2	0
Diamondbacks	1	3	8	3	0	0	0

Series tied 3-3 Box Score Run

- 'Right' moves made by Brenly
- Free-swinging strategy worked
- Colangelo questioned about game
- MLB.com awards cacti for Game 6
- Yankees report: Game 6
- D-Backs report: Game 6
- Bauman: Brenly still has work to do
- Browne: Yanks will get over it
- Leach: Pettitte's road struggles
- Sanders: An unbelievable game
- Stanton: Yanks didn't pitch very well

Custom Jerseys
player name

Stars & Stripes

Multimedia Game 6

- MLB.com Daily Web Show: 56k | 300k
- Exclusive: WorldSeries.com Report
- Exclusive: Melissa Etheridge
- Game 6 highlights: 56k | 300k
- D-Backs' 8-run 3rd 56k | 300k
- Womack's RBI single 56k | 300k
- Bautista's RBI single 56k | 300k
- Another Bautista RBI 56k | 300k
- Arizona's 22 hits: 56k | 300k
- Tony Womack's hits: 56k | 300k
- Randy Johnson's Ks: 56k | 300k
- Brosius makes a bad throw: 56k | 300k
- Postgame press conferences: 300k | Audio
- Pregame press conferences: 300k | Audio

Left Field Insights, et cetera

- Live from Game 6
- Help! AZ flies in extra bartenders outer
- Hidden conversation: Jay Witasick and Byung-Hyun Kim

Photo

Game 6 D-Backs

Bottom Line

Plan B(ash)
The D-Backs beat up on the Yankees in Game 6 by swinging early and often.

Pettitte struggles
Struggling with control and breaking ball, Pettitte is gone by the third.

Carrie Muskat

Curt confident
Schilling expects to win Game 7 of the Series in his head-to-head battle with his mentor, Roger Clemens.

Ian Browne

Wh
sti
Th ne
if t wir
ag:
Ba

- Diamondbacks
- Yankees
- Baseball Perspectives
- Left Field
- LCS
- Division Series
- Audio
- Video
- Scoreboard
- Stats
- History
- Fan Forum
- Kids
- Insider
- Auction
- Shop

11/04/2001 06:22 AM ET

D-Backs throttle Yanks; force Game 7

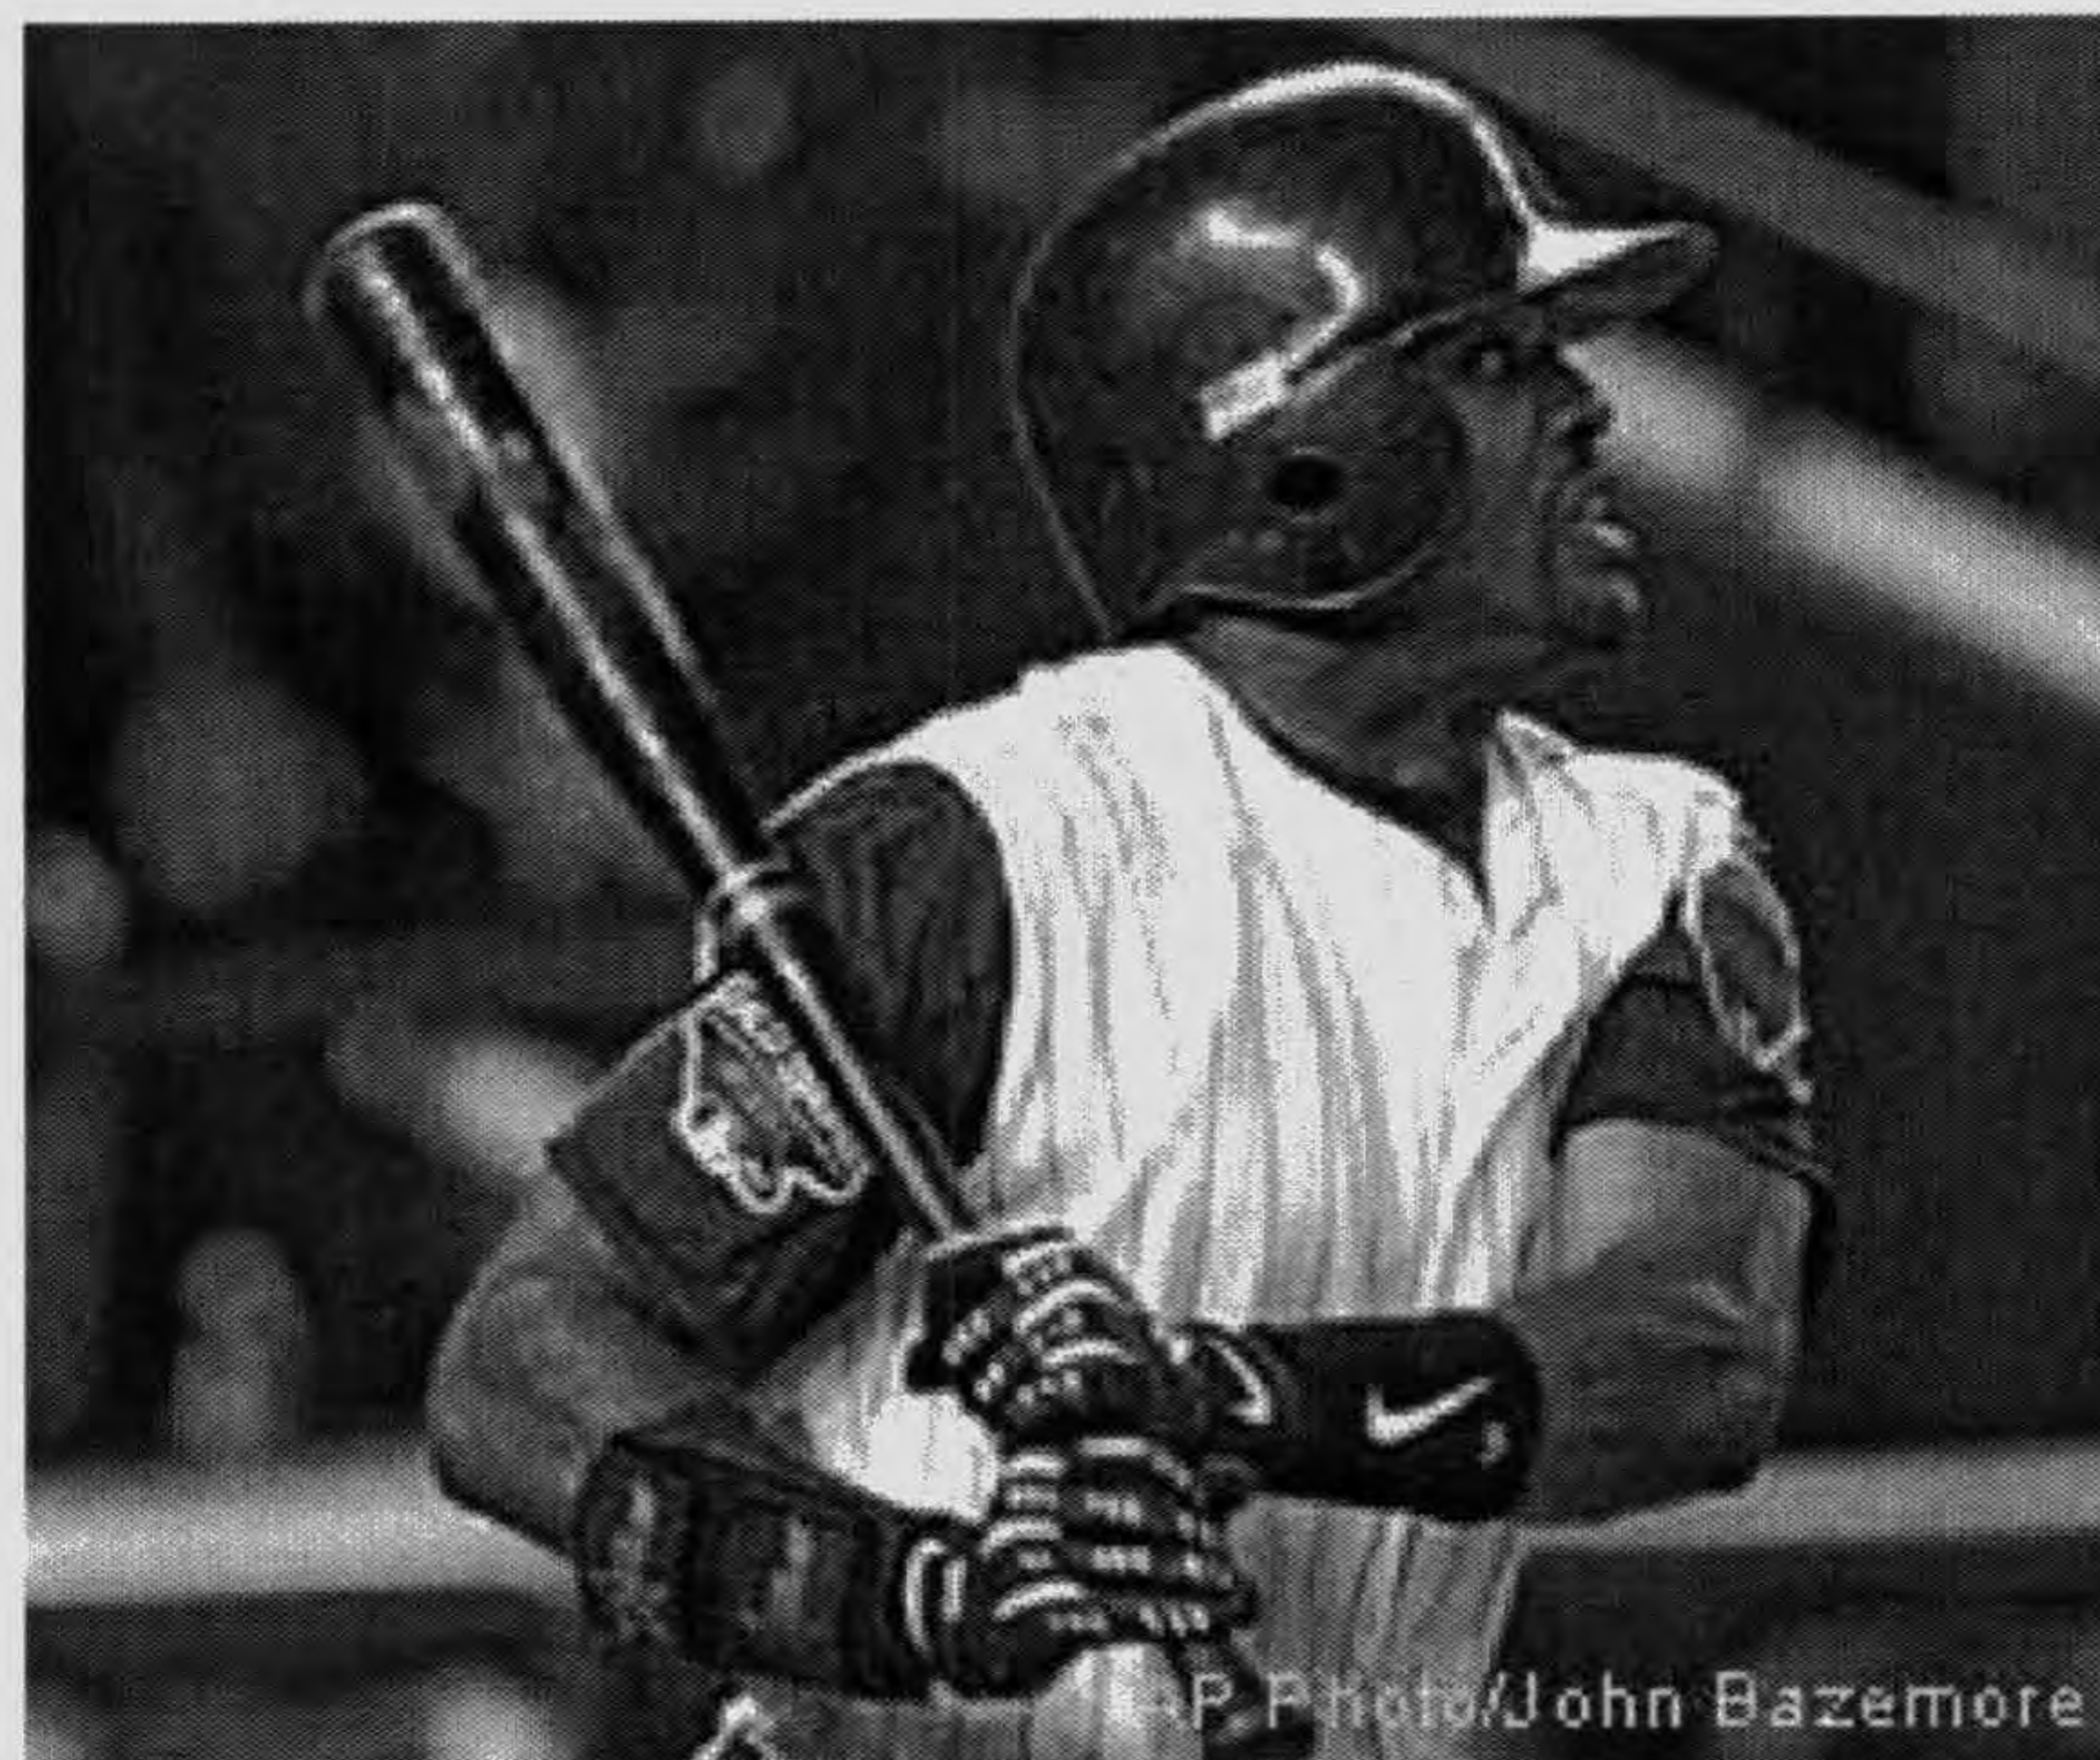

By Carrie Muskat
MLB.com

- MLB.com Daily Web Show: 56k | 300k
- Game highlights: 56k | 300k
- WorldSeries.com Report
- Box score

PHOENIX -- It was inevitable.

This World Series has to go seven games. And it has to be a pair of 20-game winners, Curt Schilling versus Roger Clemens, in the finale.

"It's Roger Clemens and the Yankees, Game 7," Schilling said. "Anybody who's ever played this sport at any level has had a Wiffle ball in their hand at some point and said, 'It's the seventh game of the World Series and you're either pitching or hitting.' How cool is that?"

Tony Womack had three of the Diamondbacks' World Series-record 22 hits Saturday.

Randy Johnson and a revived Diamondbacks offense made it happen, crushing the Yankees 15-2 Saturday to force a Game 7 on Sunday at Bank One Ballpark.

If the Yankees are to repeat, they need to adjust to the heat.

Arizona Manager Bob Brenly, second-guessed most of the series, now looks like a genius. He inserted three right-handed bats against New York starter Andy Pettitte, sarcastically calling it an "offensive juggernaut of a right-handed lineup."

It was a juggernaut all right. The D-Backs pounded a World Series record 22 hits off four Yankee pitchers.

Danny Bautista, one of the right-handed inserts, drove in five runs and Tony Womack and Luis Gonzalez each had two RBIs. Reggie Sanders had four hits and every Arizona starter got a knock, even Johnson who hit a RBI single in the eight-run third.

"This was nice for a lot of different reasons but the primary reason is we had a lot of guys swinging the bats well right now," Brenly said.

The stadium music makers mocked the Yankees at the end of the game, starting the song "New York, New York," which is played at Yankee Stadium after every New York win, and then purposely scratching the record.

Someone will have to write a good Arizona theme song.

This game was almost a relief after back-to-back, extra inning affairs in New York. Well, maybe only to the

Wo
More News

Diamondba

- Schilling ar accept WS
- Selig prese
- Schilling in
- Gonzales in
- D-Backs ce
- Game 7 hig
- Gonzalez v
- Womack tie
- Bautista's F
- D-Backs pi
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

Yankees M

- Game 7 Ph
- Game high
- Rivera's err 56k | 300k
- Rivera strik 56k | 300k
- Soriano go 56k | 300k
- Martinez dr 56k | 300k
- O'Neill can' 56k | 300k
- The Star Sp 56k | 300k
- Postgame | 300k |
- Pregame p 300k |
- More WS V
- MLB Radio

	Yankees	2	6	1
	Diamondbacks	15	22	0
	WP: Randy Johnson (2-0)
	LP: Andy Pettitte (0-2)
	SV: None
	HR: None

folks holding tickets for Game 7.

In the five previous games this Series, the Diamondbacks totaled 19 runs. They nearly matched that, much to the delight of the 49,707 pom-poms wavers at the BOB, the stadium's largest crowd ever.

The Yankees, vying for their fourth consecutive World Championship and 27th overall, now must try to be the first team to win on the road in this Series. They also have to beat Schilling a third time. Neither task is easy.

The right-hander won Game 1 and should've won Game 4 except for closer Byung-Hyun Kim's two mistakes to Tino Martinez and Derek Jeter which resulted in New York's 4-3, 10 inning win.

The BOB fans chanted "We Want Kim" in the late innings. This lead was pretty safe.

This is the 34th time the Series has gone seven games and first since 1997 when Florida and Cleveland did so. It's also the 12th time the Yankees have gone the distance and first since 1964. In that matchup, Bob Gibson led St. Louis to victory, winning Games 5 and 7. He lost Game 2 to a young pitcher named Mel Stottlemyre, now the current Yankees pitching coach.

Stottlemyre's pupil, Clemens (1-1, 2.66 ERA), who won Game 3 in New York, will be facing his student, Schilling. The D-Backs right-hander credits a discussion with Clemens as helping him get his career on the right track.

"If the Lord had sat me down in January and asked me to script out a dream season, I could not have come up with this," Schilling said.

This will be the first time two 20-game winners have met in the Series' seventh game since 1985 when St. Louis' John Tudor faced Kansas City's Bret Saberhagen.

Yankees Manager Joe Torre didn't want to look ahead and before Saturday's game called it "Our Game 7." He was off by a day.

"We wanted it like it was a seventh (game) but we didn't have to deal with it as a seventh game," said Torre later, who even considered using a non-pitcher in mop up relief.

"This is one of those things you don't expect to happen and when it does, you turn the page," Torre said.

"It's a freak thing," Brenly said. "It's not going to happen all the time and it just means we won a ballgame tonight and forced Game 7. We're very grateful for that."

The momentum in this Series seems to shift every time they change sites. The Yankees tried to make the desert feel like home, bringing good luck charm and super fan New York Mayor Rudolph Giuliani.

Johnson (4-1), who held the Yankees to three hits in a complete game shutout in Game 2, did his job even if he wasn't as dominating. He gave up six runs over seven innings and struck out seven.

Torre had tinkered a little with his lineup against the Big Unit, deciding to keep lefty Martinez in. Martinez exited earlier than Johnson did.

Maybe all those white pompons inspired the D-Backs. Or the threat of going home a day early. Tony Womack bounced a ball over the right field fence for a ground rule double in the first off a 2-2 pitch from Pettitte and then scored as Bautista hit the next pitch for a single.

ADVERTISEMENT

Arizona loaded the bases with one out in the second on a single by Matt Williams, a double by Sanders and an intentional walk to Damian Miller. Williams was thrown out at home on Johnson's grounder to third baseman Scott Brosius but Womack followed with a single to score Sanders and Damian Miller, which Pettitte

MLB.com

BOBBLEHEAD
14.95 AND UP

SHOW

Gameday

DIAMOND

D'Backs vs. Yankees
Listen to the Game

Custom C

Get all the playoff action
through the
World Series

SEARCHABLE
HIGHLIGHTS

called the key hit of the game, and Arizona led 3-0. Bautista then singled, scoring Johnson to make it 4-0.

"When you've got Randy and he has a three-run lead (after Womack's hit), it takes all the pressure, everything off of him," Pettitte said. Then came the third. Pettitte walked Colbrunn to lead off, resulting in a visit from Stottlemire. Williams doubled and Pettitte was gone.

Then things got out of control.

Jay Witasick gave up back to back RBI singles to Sanders and Bell to make it 6-0. Miller singled, Johnson singled to score Sanders, and Witasick then struck out Womack. Bautista hit a two-run single, Luis Gonzalez added a RBI double and Colbrunn punched a RBI single.

Then Williams collected his second double of the inning, driving in another run, to make it 12-0.

"These kind of games, over the course of a season and especially in the postseason, is an aberration," Brenly said.

Arizona gave Johnson a bigger cushion, adding three more runs in the fourth on a RBI double by Miller, which ended Witasick's outing, an error by Soriano and RBI single by Gonzalez off Randy Choate for a 15-0 lead.

The D-Backs total hits topped the old World Series record of 20 accomplished twice, in 1921 by the New York Giants and in 1946 by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pettitte (2-3) gave up seven hits over two plus innings, his shortest postseason outing since he was shelled in Game 1 of the 1996 World Series by Atlanta and departed after 2 1/3 innings.

"It's disappointing," Pettitte said. "I expected a lot more out of myself."

The Yankees did load the bases in the third but Johnson struck out Jorge Posada on 90 mph plus heat. New York finally broke through in the sixth with RBI singles by Shane Spencer and Luis Sojo.

Yes, Sojo. Torre took regulars Derek Jeter, Posada and Martinez out of the game after five innings.

Before the rout began, Torre talked eloquently about how the theme of this Series has been great pitching.

"This has been some classic stuff going on," Torre said.

Game 7 is on tap. Clemens, Schilling. Can't get any better than that.

Carrie Muskat is a reporter for MLB.com

Box score

2001 World Series - Game 6

Diamondbacks 15, Yankees 2

at Bank One Ballpark

FINAL	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Yankees	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	2	7	1
Diamondbacks	1	3	8	3	0	0	0	0	0	15	22	0
YANKEES	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.

Chuck Knoblauch	LF	3	0	0	0	1	0	0	.059
Mike Stanton	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Derek Jeter	SS	2	0	0	0	0	1	2	.150
Enrique Wilson	SS	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Bernie Williams	CF	2	1	1	0	2	0	0	.250
Jorge Posada	C	2	0	0	0	0	1	3	.211
Todd Greene	C	2	1	1	0	0	0	1	.500
Shane Spencer	RF	4	0	1	1	0	2	0	.235
Tino Martinez	1B	2	0	1	0	0	0	0	.176
Luis Sojo	1B	2	0	1	1	0	0	0	.333
Alfonso Soriano	2B	4	0	1	0	0	1	3	.227
Scott Brosius	3B	4	0	0	0	0	1	3	.190
Andy Pettitte	P	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	.333
Jay Witasick	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Randy Choate	P	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000
a- Clay Bellinger	PH-LF	2	0	0	0	0	2	1	.000
Totals		33	2	7	2	3	9	13	-

a-struck out for Choate in the 7th.

Batting:

2B - Greene (1, Johnson). RBI - Spencer (2), Sojo (1).

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Posada 2, Brosius 1.

GIDP - Greene.

Team LOB - 7.

Fielding:

E - Soriano (2, ground ball).

Outfield assists - Knoblauch (Bautista at home).

DP: 1 (Soriano-Martinez-Jeter).

DIAMONDBACKS	POS	AB	R	H	RBI	BB	K	LOB	AVG.
Tony Womack	SS	6	2	3	2	0	1	3	.222
Danny Bautista	CF	4	0	3	5	0	0	2	.667
a- Steve Finley	PH-CF	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	.333
Luis Gonzalez	LF	4	1	2	2	0	1	3	.273
David Dellucci	PR-LF	2	0	1	0	0	0	1	.500
Greg Colbrunn	1B	5	2	2	1	1	1	3	.400
Matt Williams	3B	5	1	3	1	0	0	4	.273
Reggie Sanders	RF	5	2	4	1	0	1	1	.304
Jay Bell	2B	5	2	1	1	0	1	4	.167
Damian Miller	C	4	3	2	1	1	2	2	.154
Rod Barajas	C	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.400
Randy Johnson	P	4	2	1	1	0	1	5	.143
b- Erubiel Durazo	PH	1	0	0	0	0	1	1	.364
Bobby Witt	P	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Totals		46	15	22	15	3	9	29	-

a-flled to center for Bautista in the 6th; b-struck out for Johnson in the 7th.

Batting:

2B - Womack (2, Pettitte); Sanders (1, Pettitte); M Williams 2 (2, Pettitte, Witasick); Gonzalez (2, Witasick); Miller (1, Witasick).

RBI - Bautista 5 (6), Womack 2 (2), Sanders (1), Bell (1), Johnson (1), Gonzalez 2 (4), Colbrunn (1), M Williams (7), Miller (1).

2-out RBI - Womack 2, Bautista, Colbrunn, M Williams.

Runners left in scoring position, 2 out - Gonzalez 1, Sanders 1, M Williams 2.

GIDP - Gonzalez.

Team LOB - 10.

Fielding:

DP: 1 (M Williams-Bell-Colbrunn).

YANKEES	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Andy Pettitte (L, 0-2)	2	7	6	6	2	1	58	19-39	14	0	10.00
Jay Witasick	1.1	10	9	9	0	4	48	13-35	14	0	60.75
Randy Choate	2.2	4	0	0	0	1	34	7-27	13	0	2.45
Mike Stanton	2	1	0	0	1	3	33	14-19	8	0	3.60

Pitching:

Pettitte pitched to 2 batters in the 3rd.

WP - Witasick.

IBB - Miller (by Pettitte).

Ground balls-fly balls: Pettitte 5-0; Witasick 0-0; Choate 3-4; Stanton 1-2.

DIAMONDBACKS	IP	H	R	ER	BB	K	PIT	B-S	BF	HR	ERA
Randy Johnson (W, 2-0)	7	6	2	2	2	7	101	37-64	29	0	1.13
Bobby Witt	1	0	0	0	1	1	16	6-10	3	0	0.00
Troy Brohawn	1	1	0	0	0	1	14	3-11	4	0	0.00

Pitching:

Ground balls-fly balls: Johnson 2-12; Witt 2-0; Brohawn 1-1.

Umpires: HP--Dana Demuth. 1B--Steve Rippley. 2B--Mark Hirschbeck. 3B--Dale Scott. LF--Ed Rapuano. RF--Jim Joyce.

Time: 3:33

Attendance: 49,707.

Weather: 91 degrees, partly cloudy. Wind: 5 mph, left to right.

BOX SCORE COURTESY OF SPORTSTICKER ENTERPRISES, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Jump to

Search for

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND I

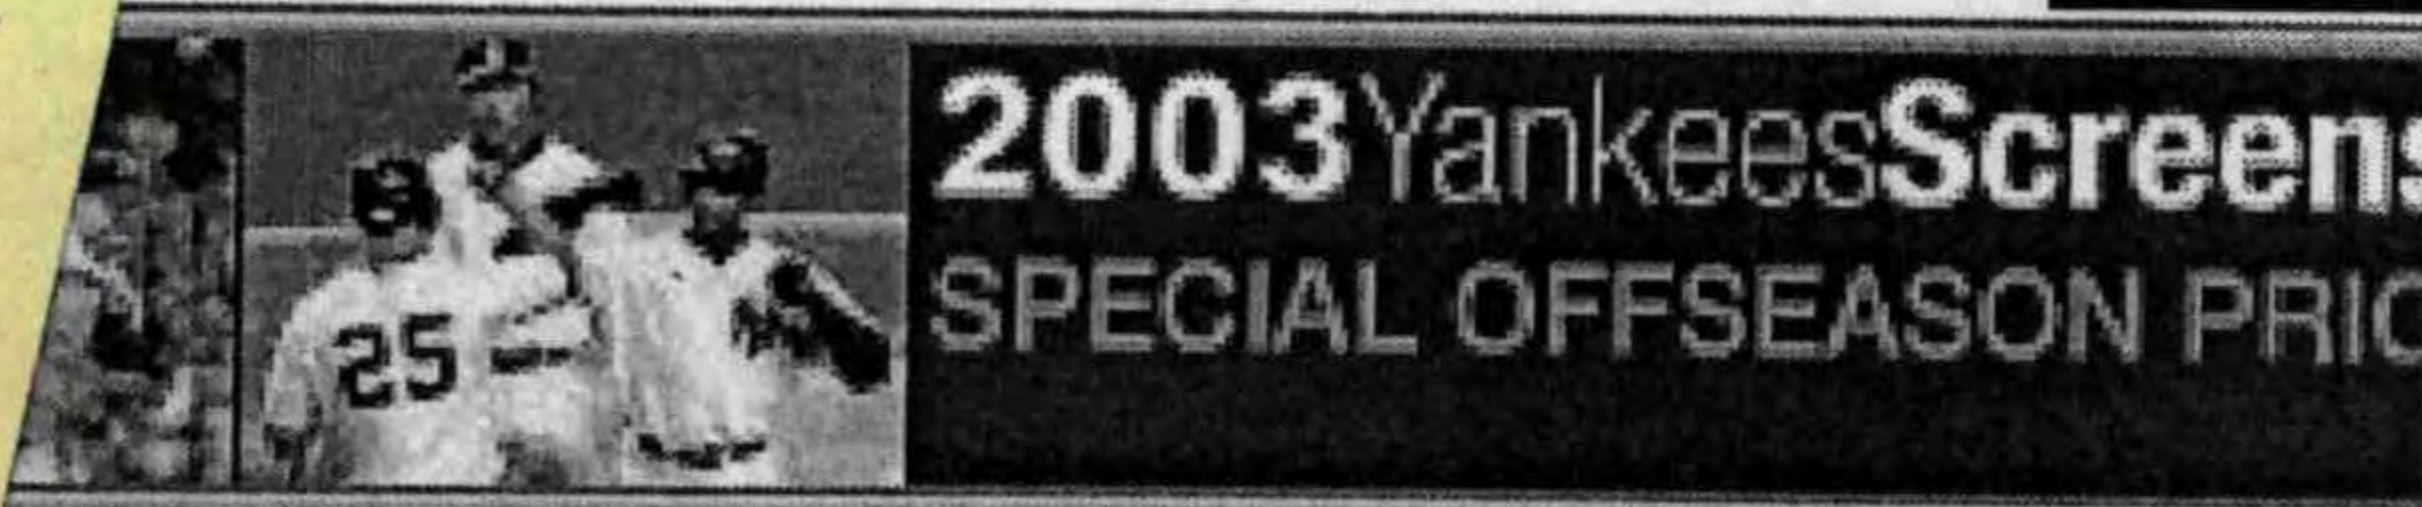

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE .

<http://ad.doubleclick.net/clk;3490489;6474427;w?http://www.mach3.com/sweeps/mlb.htm>

Yankee Stadium
1st game back ceremony
highlights

MLB.com POWERED

Scoreboard Stats Forum Kids Search Register | Log in
Audio | Video | News | The Yankee Stadium | Fantasy Shop | Tickets | Auction

News

9/25/2001 11:45 pm ET

Pregame filled with emotion
Ceremony honors victims, heroes of Sept. 11 tragedy

By Spencer Fordin
Yankees.com

NEW YORK -- There was an incredible atmosphere at Yankee Stadium on Tuesday night, a palpable buzz that had nothing to do with the game at hand. Sure, the home team was on the verge of clinching the AL East, but baseball had nothing to do with the ballpark's overflowing emotions.

In fact, most of the heart-tugging moments happened before the first pitch was even thrown. In their first home game since the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11, the Yankees participated in a moving pregame ceremony that touched everyone fortunate enough to watch it.

"Everybody was anxious to do this," Yankee skipper Joe Torre said. "Everyone was curious to see what it was going to be like. It was quiet in the dugout, it was moving in the dugout and I thought it was done very well."

It all started with an announcement from Bob Sheppard, who has been with the Yankees for more than 50 years. Sheppard explained why this event was necessary, then he asked for a moment of silence. The crowd complied, creating an eerie silence inside the normally raucous ballpark. The only sound was the incessant snap of cameras, as photographers did their best to capture the ambiance.

After that, Branford Marsalis played a chilling version of "Taps," with his instrument reverberating through the House That Ruth Built. When he was finished, the assembled audience broke into a rousing chant of "USA, USA."

"Today wasn't a vigil. We weren't in mourning today," said Yankee reliever Mike Stanton. "It was a celebration, because even though we had this horrific situation, it really rallied the country. This was a celebration of not just the heroes you see on TV -- this was about the American people."

If that was the case, then the Yankee faithful eagerly stepped into a starring role. This audience provided a willing and able backdrop to the touching events around them, bathing the entire stadium in good will.

AP / Mark Lennihan
Yankee Stadium was full of emotion on Tuesday night.

- Yanks say so long to Sojo
- Bittersweet day for Greene
- Yanks rally to beat Tigers
- Pettitte gets closer; Ventura strains ankle
- Wells, Yankees nip Blue Jays
- Johnson, Pettitte keep Yanks hot
- Jays jolt Yanks in 7-5 win
- Hitchcock to start season on disabled list
- Lilly looks great against Indians
- Yankees top Pirates for seventh straight win
- Yankees too much for Byrd, Royals

News / Feature Archive >>
Press Release Archive >>

The Pinstriped Bible

- Wednesday's Cactus League recaps
- Wednesday's Grapefruit League recaps
- Cubs get closer Alfonseca in six-player deal

The Harlem Boys' Choir stepped into that atmosphere, and they proceeded to sing a stirring version of "We Shall Overcome." The song, a staple of the Civil Rights Movement, seemed to take on a new meaning in this context. As painful as these past two weeks have been, the naked optimism of the song seeped through into the stadium. For a moment, it was easy to believe in the words: We shall overcome -- someday.

Michael Bolton was next, and he joined the choir in singing "Lean on Me." The audience clapped along, providing the rhythm for the soaring melody. When the song was over, Bolton, wearing a white suit jacket and a navy NYPD hat, pumped his fist before walking off the field.

Both teams took the field after that, wearing hats that commemorated the local rescue units that have been risking their lives on a daily basis. They lined up along the foul lines, next to police officers and firemen, shaking hands and waiting for the next special guest.

"We had a chance to mingle with them before we went onto the field," Torre said. "Just about every one I shook hands with said, 'You've got to win for us.' We've been so impressed with what they've done, and they're looking to us to get their minds off of things."

"It was pretty special to be out there with those guys," said Tampa Bay's Ben Grieve. "It kind of puts you in your place a little bit. You're out there playing baseball when these guys are trying to help people. You feel a little guilty. You can't understand what they're going through, no matter how they try to explain it."

The next emotion needed no introduction, no explanation. Ronan Tynan, a world-renowned Irish tenor, instantly summoned the patriotic spirit of everyone in attendance. The bespectacled singer belted out a spectacular version of "God Bless America," and as he did so, 300 cadets from the SUNY Maritime Academy unfurled a giant American flag in the outfield.

When that was done, the most spontaneous event of the evening took place. With some down time in between Sheppard's announcements, many of the fans started chanting Rudy Giuliani's name. As the mayor stood by the dugout, the audience repeated his name over and over again, lauding him for his efforts during this crisis.

Eventually, he would walk out and shake hands with all of the Yankees, except for a few that he hugged. Torre was one of the few people in the latter class, and he said it was truly touching.

"That choked me up, the fans chanting 'Rudy, Rudy,'" Torre said. "It was appropriate for him to be out in the middle of the diamond, because he's been in the middle of this whole thing for two weeks."

The final order of business, the Star-Spangled Banner, was sung by Max Von Essen, the son of NYC Fire Commissioner Thomas Von Essen. As he sang, America was represented by Challenger, a bald eagle. During the 2000 playoffs,

Pedro ready for Opening Day

Junior strives for team success

Rosado signs deal, Sweeney talks continue

Recovering Harnisch still expected to help Rockies

Fehr reacts to no lockout pledge

White Sox acquire Marte from Pirates

Lawton hopes to thrive in right

Challenger swooped over the playing surface, starting all the way out in center field.

This time, Challenger didn't fly. Out of respect for those who lost their lives in this tragedy, the eagle was merely held aloft on the pitcher's mound.

The players and rescue workers shook hands again after the national anthem, with many exchanging hats from their respective organizations.

"It was highly emotional," Stanton said. "There were a lot of tears standing next to the true heroes and shaking their hands afterwards."

"I thought it was great standing next to guys that deserved to be honored," said Scott Brosius. "A lot of times, we get honored as players for our positions and what we do, while these guys are getting honored for their actions. It's emotional to stand next to someone that you know has probably suffered a loss and has been right in the middle of everything."

It certainly is, and that makes sense to everybody. It even stands to reason that the actual game was anticlimactic, after such an emotional outpouring.

"It was a good way to say thank you," Roger Clemens said. "Maybe the game was secondary to what went on before it."

"Definitely," said Grieve, when asked if he would remember this day for the rest of his career. "Not the game, just being out there at the beginning. I'll remember that. A game's a game -- you play a ton of those."

Spencer Fordin is the site manager for Yankees.com. He can be reached at sfordin@yankees.com.

Jump to Official Club Site

Search for Advanced

E-mail

Register | Log In

Help

Official Info

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

Join

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

THE FOLLOWING ARE TRADEMARKS OR SERVICE MARKS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITIES AND MAY BE USED ONLY WITH PERMISSION OF MAJOR LEAGUE PROPERTIES, INC. OR THE RELEVANT MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ENTITY: MAJOR LEAGUE, MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, MLB, THE SILHOUETTED BATTER LOGO, NATIONAL LEAGUE, AMERICAN LEAGUE, DIVISION SERIES, LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES, ALL-STAR GAME, AND THE NAMES, NICKNAMES, LOGOS, UNIFORM COMBINATIONS, AND SLOGANS DESIGNATING THE MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CLUBS AND ENTITIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE MASCOTS, EVENTS AND

USE OF THE WEBSITE SIGNIFIES YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE TERMS OF USE AND PRIVACY POLICY.

POWERED BY MLB.com

REUNION ALERT! Don't go unprepared...

Team Sites | Scoreboard | Standings | Stats | Schedule | Transactions | Players | History | Kids | Search
 Audio | Video | News | Photos | Fantasy | Minors | Events | Fan Forum | Shop | Tickets | Auction

News

- ☑ Daily News
- ☑ Perspectives
- ☑ Left Field
- ☑ Awards
- ☑ Milestones
- ☑ Interleague Play 2003
- ☑ Tributes
- ☑ Special Reports
- ☑ MLB.com in the News
- ☑ News & Features Archive

MLB.COM RADIO

Hot Stove Special:
Seth Everett and Billy Sample return Thursday at 2 p.m. ET to keep you up to date on all the news and notes as Spring Training approaches.
Full Schedule & Archives

Baseball Perspectives

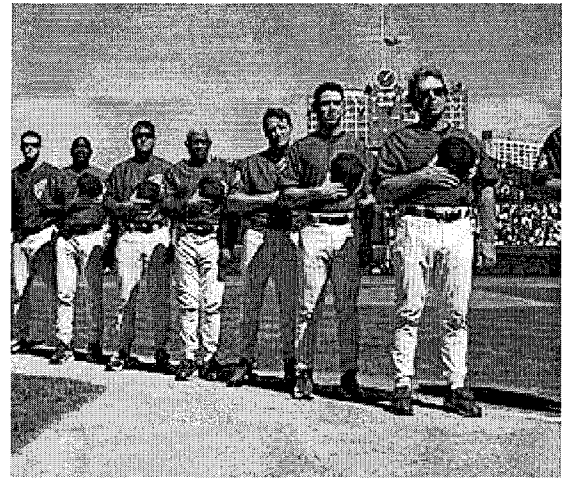

09/11/2002 10:51 pm ET

Ballparks go silent to honor victims

For a few brief moments Wednesday, there was no cheering in baseball. There wasn't any booing of the rival team, applauding of a great play or the sounds of vendors working the stands. At each of the five Major League Baseball ballparks in use Wednesday afternoon, the normal noises of a ballgame were interrupted by silence and solemn remembrances as fans, players and everyone associated with the grand old game took time to pause and remember the tragedy of Sept. 11, 2001.

Baseball Perspectives
Jim Molony

The Cubs reflect during a moment of silence before Wednesday's game. (Steve Matteo/AP)

From New York to San Francisco, Major League Baseball and its fans took a cue from the logo "We Shall Not Forget" emblazoned on fields and clothing across this great land and remembered the Sept. 11 attacks with poignant ceremonies and moments of silence.

"I think it's good that one year later, everything is kind of going full steam ahead and even though we will stop and think about the victims, I think it says a lot about the country," Giants infielder David Bell said before the game against Los Angeles at Pacific Bell Park. "To be honest with you, I think it's something that people handle in their own way and I don't think anyone can tell someone else how they should handle it or how they should feel. There are some people who will use this time for quiet reflection and some others who may love to come to a baseball game and want to be around 50,000 people."

Approximately 40,000 fans came out for the pregame ceremony at Pac Bell Park that included bagpipe music and an enormous flag that covered the entire outfield. Old Glory was carried by local firefighters, police officers and volunteers as players and coaches from both teams emerged from their dugouts and circled outside of the infield.

Family members of the local victims of the terrorist attacks gathered near the pitcher's mound. The ceremonial first pitch was not thrown, instead being placed on the mound by John Beaven, whose father was

September 11, One Year Later

A TIME FOR REFLECTION

MORE COVERAGE

- Emotions flowed when games returned
- MLB, security plans adjusted after 9/11
- World Series had

hote

SWAP

No purchase necessary to enter. Sweepstakes ends 9/30/02. Official R

ENT

MLB Hea

- Maggs to contract
- Students winning si
- Commis: forward to
- Q&A with McCourt
- Burks, R expected
- Dominic: title
- Yanks in Spring Tr
- LA repor in Maddux
- Puerto R by Venezu
- Reinsdot will be fine
- O's, McL minor leag
- Mets' Flc for Spring
- New ing: KC's recip
- More ML

killed when one of the twin towers of the World Trade Center collapsed. The national anthem was non-traditional, as a local pianist played a grand piano behind home plate while the sellout crowd sang along.

special meaning
 • Charity widened scope after 9/11
 • 9/11 brought the return of Old Glory

"For me, it's kind of mixed emotions," said Giants pitcher Russ Ortiz. "On one side, you can't help but feel grief and sadness for the ones that died and the lost family members. But then there's a sense of joy ... that we're able to be here to remember what went on and celebrate heroes."

Cubs catcher Joe Girardi, a former New York Yankee, was touched by the anniversary of the tragedy.

"It was a terrible time for everybody," Girardi said. "You think about what our country has been through and the job the rescue workers did, and President Bush and his staff, the CIA, the servicemen and women of the country, and you feel a lot of thankfulness that we live in such a wonderful country and that people care so much about you."

"I listened on the radio driving in my car and there's a lot of talk about a year ago and the sadness and the memorials today in New York and Washington D.C., and you get all wrapped up in it again and it's very sad."

Cub fan Michael Roop, 23, a grad student at Indiana State, was wearing a USA T-shirt with stars on one sleeve and stripes on the other at Wednesday's game. He said he bought tickets for this game specifically.

"Because I'm American," Roop said. "I'm not going to give in to people who are going to violate our way of life. I wanted to be in a major city, supporting the land after 9/11."

During all day games a logo was displayed on the field, outfield walls, bases and lineup cards, incorporating the Stars and Stripes, the Major League Baseball logo, a red-white-and-blue ribbon and the phrase "We Shall Not Forget." Fans attending the games received a T-shirt with the logo, courtesy of MLB, and many fans wore the shirts during the ceremonies.

At each ballpark the seventh-inning stretch included a rendition of "God Bless America" and a moment of silence. A letter from the President was read and honor guards from one or all four branches of the military were present. T-shirts with the memorial logo were given away to every fan. All night games were scheduled to pause in silence at 9:11 p.m. local time, with videotapes airing in memory of those who died in the attacks.

While all 15 events included these items each venue also witnessed additions that were unique to their ceremony.

- At Yankee Stadium a plaque was dedicated to the Sept. 11 victims and heroes in Monument Park.

"That's a special place," noted Yankees manager Joe Torre. "We're pretty proud of our stadium here, and a place in Yankee Stadium to recognize what is a sad memory in New York will be constant reminder."

"It will be a reminder of a lot of things -- to appreciate what you have on a daily basis, not to overlook or take for granted the rescue workers who lost their lives or the loved ones they left behind. It opens up a book of memories and sadness that isn't going to go away."

The Yankees planted a crabapple tree, part of the regional "American Forests" memorial program, near the monument which was jointly unveiled by Yankees general partners Harold Z. Steinbrenner and Stephen Swindal. The inscription

Interesting: what each stadium/team did on 1yr. anniv. of Sept. 11^m on the plaque now sharing a wall with those of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, Mickey Mantle and Miller Huggins reads: "On September 11th, 2001, despicable acts of terrorism were perpetrated on our country. In tribute to the eternal spirit of the innocent victims of these crimes and to the selfless courage shown by both public servants and private citizens, we dedicate this plaque. These valiant souls, with unfettered resolve, exemplify the true character of this great nation. Their unity and resiliency during this time of distress defined American Heroism for future generations."

- At Turner Field in Atlanta, the New York Mets wore caps bearing the initials of the New York Police and Fire Departments during the doubleheader against the Braves. A bald eagle soared above the stadium and landed in center field during the singing of "America the Beautiful" and after Atlanta reliever Mike Remlinger read the letter from President Bush a moment of silence commenced followed by a 21-gun salute.

"Baseball and sports are part of the healing process," Braves pitcher John Smoltz said. "But I'll never forget."

- At Wrigley Field in Chicago, Bill Kurtis, an Emmy Award-winning broadcaster based in Chicago, read the letter from President Bush:

"For generations, baseball has endured as a national pastime. Throughout its rich history, the game has played a significant role in our society. During this past year, baseball has helped to bring Americans together. In the aftermath of the attacks, an exciting pennant race and World Series were an important part of the healing process. As families and friends have continued to gather and enjoy this great game, we have shown that the spirit of America is strong, and that we stand united."

"Today was a special day," Cubs outfielder Sosa said. "When the ceremony was on, I was thinking about it. We're here today to show respect. It could've been one of us. It's something that goes through your mind and it's something I'll never forget."

- In Cincinnati, long-time Red broadcaster Joe Nuxhall passed out "Let's Roll" American Flag stickers before the Reds game against Pittsburgh. "It's just a remembrance of the tragedy of a year ago," said Nuxhall, referring to the "Let's Roll" slogan taken from the final words of one of the heroes who overpowered the hijackers of Flight 93, which crashed near Shanksville, PA.

Reds captain Barry Larkin caught the ceremonial first pitch from 14-year-old Andy Moskal, whose father William perished at the World Trade Center on the day of the attacks. The Pirates and Reds stood at attention in front of their respective dugouts, caps removed, as the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office Bagpipes and Drums Corps marched in from center field, playing John Phillip Sousa's "The Caissons Go Rolling Along," the song of the United States Army, followed by "Amazing Grace."

"I'm glad I pitched yesterday instead of today," Reds right-hander Danny Graves said. "I don't think I could go through with it. It hits you again ... It's going to take a lot of strength for everybody to play today."

- In St. Petersburg, Army General Tommy Franks addressed the fans before the game between Tampa Bay and Boston. "I am proud of you," Franks told the crowd. "Because you represent the spirit of a great nation. You represent the spirit we need to finish the job -- and we will finish the job."

Franks is the Commander in Chief of U.S. Central Command and is responsible for U.S. military activity in 25 nations, including the on-going war on terrorist operations in Afghanistan. Police and fire personnel from around the Tampa Bay area lined up with Red Sox and Rays players on the field before the game.

- At Minute Maid Park in Houston, the Astros and Colorado Rockies lined up in Opening Day fashion along the first and third base lines to participate in the poignant tribute, which began with the First U.S. Army Calvary Band from Fort Hood, Texas performing renditions of "America the Beautiful," "God Bless the U.S.A" and finally the National Anthem.

A group of 343 firefighters from the Houston Fire Department escorted a large American flag onto the field. The number represented the 343 firefighters lost last year on Sept. 11.

"It's nice to give the people that don't get much recognition -- the police department, the fire fighters -- to give them recognition for what they do," Bagwell said. "That's the best thing."

Nine-year-old Skye McCole Bartusiak, an actress and Houston native who has appeared in several films and television shows including "The Patriot" and "Cider House Rules" led fans in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance. The ceremony concluded when a squad of F-16 jets from the Texas Air National Guard out of Ellington Field flew over the ballpark. There was no traditional ceremonial first pitch. Instead, a floral arrangement with the lettering "9-11" sat on a pedestal, along with a baseball, on the pitchers mound to represent the "silent first pitch."

- At the Metrodome, Minnesota Governor Jesse Ventura and Public Safety Commissioner Charlie Weaver delivered speeches with Ventura proclaiming that the 11th would be named "First Responder Day" in Minnesota.

The family of slain Minneapolis police officer Melissa Schmidt and Esko, Minn., firefighter Kim Granholm helped unfurl a permanent banner that will hang from the Metrodome roof that reads "Remember the Heroes" with the image of the Twin Towers.

"It was kind of sad," Twins center fielder Torii Hunter said about the ceremony. "It was tough to go out there in pregame to try and get stretched and ready. It's tough to get your mind right when you're thinking about something like that. This time last year, we weren't playing. It's kind of weird to be out there on 9/11. It was a day of prayer and remembrance and that's what we did today."

- At Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia fans were given a miniature American flag along with the MLB T-shirt. The Philadelphia Boys Choir performed renditions of "America the Beautiful" and "God Bless America" as the 56th Brigade of the Pennsylvania National Guard unfurled an American Flag. The crowd let out a cheer when Paul Bryant, a member of the Philadelphia K-9 corps who was at ground zero on Sept. 11, threw out the ceremonial first pitch accompanied by his German shepherd, Azeem.

"I don't know if you can get it off your mind," Phillies catcher Mike Lieberthal said. "Obviously to play a game with the tragedy that took place on this date, it's extra special to have the fans come out and remember but at the same time forget and try to move on. A baseball stadium is probably a nice play to watch a game and kind of take it all in and at the same time remember what happened."

- At Jacobs Field in Cleveland, the Indians invited 25 sixth-graders from Rootstown Elementary School. The youngsters sang two songs, one of which was an original work of a classmate.

"I did it in the fifth grade," said Rachel Michael, who wrote the words to America Stand Tall. "It was an open assignment, and we could write about whatever we wanted to. It was shortly after 9-11, so I decided to write something about it then."

Indians pitcher Jerrod Riggan, a member of the New York Mets last season on Sept. 11, was among those who were glad baseball remembered Sept. 11.

"Being involved in that first game back in New York with (Mike) Piazza hitting that home run in the eighth inning, that was like a statement," Riggan said. "I don't know what kind, but maybe it's we're here to stay -- nothing's gonna beat us."

- At the Ballpark in Arlington, the Rangers opened a Children's Patriotic Art Exhibit and several Texas players distributed T-shirts and American flags at The Ballpark gates before the game against Seattle.

"I think it's on all of our minds and will be for a long time," Rangers second baseman Michael Young said. "We are still dealing with emotions like anger, sadness, but I hope playing ball can give people something to enjoy during this time."

Members of the Mariners and Rangers joined law enforcement officials on the base lines. The marching band from the University of Texas at Arlington performed several patriotic songs.

"(Today) revives some bad memories. The healing process goes on, but we will revisit this day for a long, long time," Mariners manager Lou Piniella said. "Something happened that you can't imagine and it put a bad scar on everybody's brain. It was even worse from the people who lost family and friends."

- At Miller Park in Milwaukee, four New York City firefighters who toiled amid the rubble where the World Trade Center once stood participated in ceremonies on the field before Brewers starter Ben Sheets threw his first pitch. They were in Milwaukee for a benefit that raised funds for widows of firefighters who lost their lives on Sept. 11.

"We're just firefighters," said Greg Fagan, a member of Squad Co. 1. "We don't usually get to do stuff like this. It was an honor, and it was nice for us to take our minds off of it for a little bit."

Fagan and Bobby West of Squad Co. 1, Jim Finnell of Rescue 4 and Dan Baron of Rescue 5 were met on the mound by Brewers manager Jerry Royster and Cardinals manager Tony La Russa. Instead of throwing a ceremonial first pitch, West placed a baseball on the pitcher's mound while the crowd observed a moment of silence.

The quartet of firefighters brought memories back for St. Louis pitcher Matt Morris, whose uncle, John, is a firefighter in Manhattan. He, along with Morris' father, George, an ironworker in Manhattan's Local 580, and other members of the family joined rescue efforts at Ground Zero on the day of the attack.

"Everybody's out of there now," Morris said. "We went back down and saw it from the American Express Building. Nobody wants to be there anymore. It's not a good place."

Jim Molony is a writer for MLB.com based in Houston. He can be reached at MLBmolony@aol.com. MLB.com site reporters contributed to this report. This story was not subject to the approval of Major League Baseball or its clubs.

Jump to Official Club Site

Search for Advan

E-mail

Register | Log In

Help

Official Info

Media

Affiliates

Wireless

Job

© 2004 MLB ADVANCED MEDIA, L.P. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

Rules Instated After September 11, 2001

When play resumed on Sept. 17, it was in a different ballpark environment. Some of the changes were evident to fans:

- Coolers and backpacks were not allowed;
- Smaller bags were permitted, but subject to inspection, leading to long delays at gates and earlier departures from home;
- Areas within 100 feet of any ballpark were declared no-parking zones;
- A more pronounced police presence existed both outside and inside the parks.

Others weren't as obvious:

- All media, as well as other regular working ballpark personnel, required picture IDs for clearance;
- In addition, media had to sign in wherever they needed access (locker rooms, elevator, press rooms), in many places both before and after games;
- Daily, before the gates were thrown open, security forces swept a thorough dragnet through ballparks, often accompanied by specially trained dogs;
- Regular deliveries to parks were inspected.

Ritacco, Krista L.

From: Teague, Mary Robb
Sent: Wednesday, February 04, 2004 11:37 AM
To: Ritacco, Krista L.
Subject: World Series 2001

Here are some additional websites that may help you confirm the date.time.location etc. of the Presidents 1st Pitch in the 2001 World Series. Unfortunately, there really are not a multitude of sources (surprisingly). I did however, include the official web address of the MLB- although there is no mention of the 2001 World Series- I know that's hard to believe. I would chalk it up to a lousy web-page.

Let me know if there is anything else I can do on this matter.

-Mary Robb Teague

President George W. Bush

1st Pitch

Game 3

10-30-2001 (Tuesday)

White House Official Website

<http://www.whitehouse.gov/kids/baseball/>

CNN News

<http://www.cnn.com/2001/US/10/30/rec.bush.world.series/>

LA Times

<http://www.latimes.com/news/nationworld/nation/la-103101bush,1,6604382.story>

Baseball Almanac

www.baseball-almanac.com/ws/yr2001/shtml

Major League Baseball

<http://mlb.mlb.com/NASApp/mlb/index.jsp>

~~Worldseries.mlb.com/ws~~

SENSITIVE—DO NOT COPY

SCHEDULE OF THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. BUSH

Tuesday, October 30, 2001

6

7:30 am (30 min)	Phone Calls To World Leaders (Rice)	Oval Office
8:00 am (30 min)	Intelligence Briefing (Rice)	Oval Office
8:35 am (25 min)	FBI Briefing (Rice)	Oval Office
9:05 am (15 min)	Daily Briefing (Hughes)	Oval Office
9:25 am (30 min)	NSC Briefing (Rice)	Situation Room
9:55 am (2 hr 5 min)	Personal/Staff Time	Oval Office

(b)(6)

1:05 pm (20 min)	Depart The White House en route Rockville, MD – Wootten High School
1:25 pm	Arrive Wootten High School
1:35 pm (30 min)	Veterans Day Education Initiative Announcement (Rove)	Rockville, MD – OPEN PRESS
2:15 pm (20 min)	Depart Wootten High School en route The White House
2:35 pm	Arrive The White House
2:40 pm (10 min)	Legislative Affairs Pre-Brief (Calio)	Oval Office
2:55 pm (45 min)	Meeting with Republican Members of Congress on Aviation Security Legislation (Calio)	Cabinet Room

SENSITIVE—DO NOT COPY

10/30/01 6:20 pm

SENSITIVE—DO NOT COPY

3:40 pm (5 min)	Pre-Brief (Lindsey/Hughes)	Oval Office
3:45 pm (20 min)	Meeting with Co-Chairs of the Commission to Strengthen Social Security (Lindsey/Hughes)	Oval Office
4:10 pm (10 min)	Legislative Affairs Pre-Brief (Calio)	Oval Office
4:25 pm (45 min)	Meeting with Democratic Members of Congress on Aviation Security Legislation (Calio)	Cabinet Room
5:15 pm (15 min)	Phone Call to the Secretary of Defense (Rice)	Oval Office
5:30 pm (20 min)	Personal/Staff Time	Oval Office
5:50 pm (10 min)	Depart The White House en route Andrews AFB
6:00 pm	Arrive Andrews AFB
6:10 pm (50 min)	Depart Washington, DC en route New York, NY
7:00 pm	Arrive JFK International Airport
7:10 pm (20 min)	Depart JFK International Airport en route Macombs Dam Park LZ
7:30 pm	Arrive Macombs Dam Park LZ
7:40 pm (5 min)	Depart Macombs Dam Park LZ en route Yankee Stadium
7:45 pm	Arrive Yankee Stadium
7:50 pm (33 min)	HOLD	New York, NY
8:23 pm	Ceremonial First Pitch (Rove)	New York, NY – PRESS POOL

SENSITIVE—DO NOT COPY

10/30/01 6:20 pm

SENSITIVE—DO NOT COPY

8:30 pm LB
(1 hr 30 min)

New York Yankees v. Arizona
Diamondbacks – World Series Game #3
(Rove)

New York, NY –
PRESS POOL

10:10 pm (T) LB
(5 min)

Depart Yankee Stadium en route
Macombs Dam Park LZ

10:15 pm LB

Arrive Macombs Dam Park LZ

10:25 pm LB
(20 min)

Depart Macombs Dam Park LZ en route
JFK International Airport

10:45 pm LB

Arrive JFK International Airport

10:55 pm LB
(55 min)

Depart New York, NY en route Washington, DC

11:50 pm LB

Arrive Andrews AFB

12:10 am LB

Arrive The White House

SENSITIVE—DO NOT COPY

10/30/01 6:20 pm

CNN.com / U.S.

SEARCH

- MAIN PAGE
- WORLD
- U.S.
- WEATHER
- BUSINESS
- SPORTS
- POLITICS
- LAW
- SCI-TECH
- SPACE
- HEALTH
- ENTERTAINMENT
- TRAVEL
- EDUCATION
- IN-DEPTH

WAR AGAINST TERROR

COMPLETE COVERAGE | FRONT LINES | AMERICA AT HOME | INTERACTIVES »

Worldwid
Breaking
Inside the
Subscribe

Bush to attend World Series in New York

October 30, 2001 Posted: 12:51 PM EST (1751 GMT)

correct date

- SAVE THIS EMAIL THIS
- PRINT THIS MOST POPULAR

WASHINGTON (CNN) -- Despite a "credible" threat of more terror attacks in the United States over the next few days, President Bush plans to be at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night for Game 3 of the World Series, Homeland Security Chief Tom Ridge told CNN.

White House officials said that Bush still plans to throw out the first pitch in the game between the New York Yankees and the Arizona Diamondbacks, despite a security alert issued by the Justice Department.

Ridge said that neither he and nor the president wanted the public to go into seclusion, and that Bush would be "going to the third game of the World Series in New York."

"It's just a matter of America being very cognizant of the fact that our environment changed on September 11," Ridge said. "America is on guard and we've got to stay on guard for the foreseeable future."

MORE STORIES

- D'backs fans may love NY, but still want to beat Yanks
- CNNSI coverage: 2001 World Series

In announcing Bush would throw out the first pitch, spokesman Ari Fleischer said, "This is part of the balance our society is coming to understand, that as threats are received, as security is beefed up, it similarly is important for (Americans) to go about their normal life.

"No one has ever been able to make the American people cower and not live the American life," Fleischer said.

Fleischer, a die-hard Yankee supporter who donned a team cap to announce Bush would go to the game, dodged the delicate issue of which team the president would support. He told reporters, "The president at tonight's game will be proudly rooting for the Texas Rangers." Bush is a former part-owner of the Rangers.

The World Series isn't the only high-profile sports event in New York Tuesday night. After a 3 1/2 year retirement, basketball great Michael Jordan makes his return to the game at Madison Square Garden when his Washington Wizards meet the New York Knicks for the open of the National Basketball Association's

20" Stereo Color TV

 PHILIPS
 CLICK HERE

- VIDEO
- LOCAL
- CNN NEWSWATCH
- E-MAIL SERVICES
- CNNtoGO
- ABOUT US/HELP

- CNN TV
- what's on
- show transcripts
- CNN Headline News
- CNN International
- askCNN

- EDITIONS
- CNN.com Asia
- CNN.com Europe
- CNNenEspanol.com
- CNNArabic.com
- set your edition

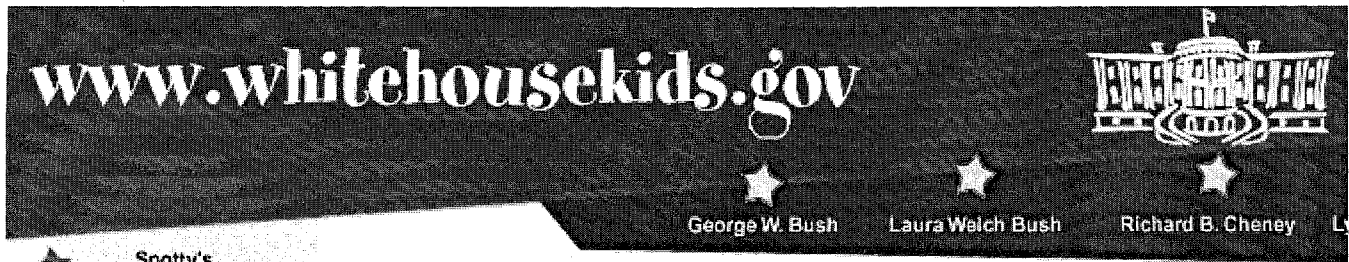

Languages

Time, Inc.

ANDERSON

 360
 WEEKNIGHTS
 7 PM ET

MAKE CNN.com
 YOUR HOME PAGE
 CLICK HERE

George W. Bush

Laura Welch Bush

Richard B. Cheney

Home > Kids Only

- ★ Spotty's White House Tour
- ★ Barney's White House ABC's
- ★ Ofelia's American Dream Team
- ★ India's History Quiz

Kids Connection

India's Quiz:

What was Abraham Lincoln's occupation before he became President?

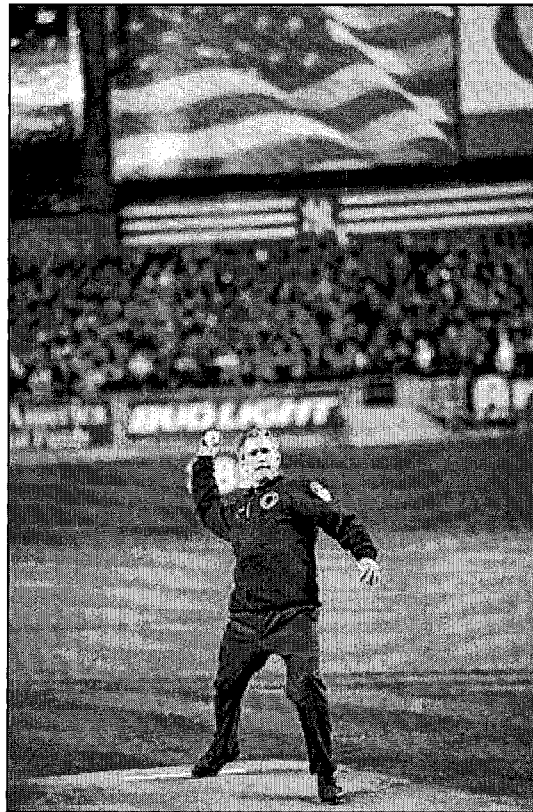

- Tailor
- Cook
- Poet
- Lawyer

answer

- ★ U.S. Presidents
- ★ Photo Album
- ★ Life in the White House
- ★ Guide for Teachers & Parents

Take Me Out to the Ballgame Presidents and Baseball

White House photo by Eric Draper

President George W. Bush throws out the first pitch during game three of the World Series game between the Arizona Diamondbacks and the Yankees at Yankee Stadium Oct. 3, 2001.

NEXT >

I will call/send over Pres. schedule to change date to 10-30-2001

Spotty

Barney

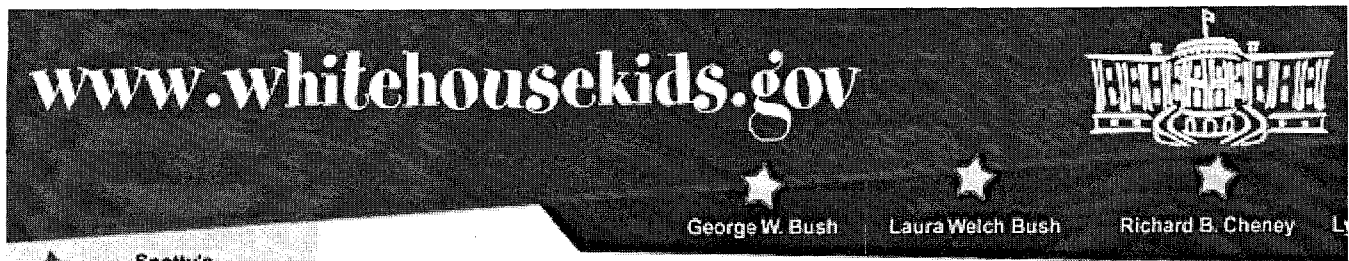

Ofelia

India

White House

KR asked Jimmy Orr to make this change 2/4/04 ✓

- ★ Spotty's White House Tour
- ★ Barney's White House ABC's
- ★ Ofelia's American Dream Team
- ★ India's History Quiz

Kids Connection ★

India's Quiz:

What was Abraham Lincoln's occupation before he became President?

- Tailor
- Cook
- Poet
- Lawyer

answer

- ★ U.S. Presidents
- ★ Photo Album
- ★ Life in the White House
- ★ Guide for Teachers & Parents

Home > Kids Only

White House Tee Ball

President Hosts Game Two of "Tee Ball on the South Lawn"

President Bush welcomed the D.C. Cal Ripken League Cardinals from Washington, DC and the South Berkeley Little League Braves from Inwood, West Virginia to the South Lawn of the White House on June 23 for Tee Ball.

The honorary commissioner of the White House T-ball League, Cal Ripken, attended as well as First Base Coach Tom Ridge and Third Base Coaches Mayor Anthony Williams and Congresswoman Shelley Moore Capito.

- ✕ View Tee Ball Game
- ✕ View Post-game Interview with Cal Ripken

Presidents and Baseball

When President George W. Bush threw out the first pitch at the 2001 World Series, the moment not only continued a Presidential tradition, but it symbolized America's desire to continue life undeterred after the attacks of September 11, 2001.

President George W. Bush's love of baseball began during his childhood in Midland, Texas, where he played Little League Baseball and dreamed of following in the footsteps of baseball great, Willie Mays. President Bush's love of the game continued. Before serving as President of the United States and Governor of Texas, President Bush was a managing partner for the Major League Baseball Team, the Texas Rangers. President Bush's life-long affection for the

White House photo

President George W. Bush and Cal Ripken, Jr., Karissa Longoria of West Virginia on a game of Tee Ball on the South Lawn of Sunday June 23.

Take me out to the b

September 23, 2002 Tee Ball Game

- Photo Essay

June 23, 2002 Tee Ball Game

- Program
- South Berkeley Little League Braves Roster
- Cal Ripken League Cardinals Roster

May 5, 2002 Tee Ball Game

- May 5 Tee Ball Game
- Photo Essay
- 6 & 11 Little League Sluggers Roster
- Uniondale Little League Sluggers Roster

Presidents and Baseball

- Presidential Pitches
- Presidents and Baseball Quiz

2001 T-Ball photos

game led him to open the South Lawn of the White House to t-ball players in the Spring of 2001. The White House t-ball tradition is continuing this spring as children learn the great lessons of team sports: following the rules, respecting other players, and supporting teammates.

- Sox vs. Rockies
- Brewers vs. Parrots
- Challengers vs. Challenger Hawks

Ofelia's Baseball Dream Team

- Jackie Robinson
- Roberto Clemente
- Lou Gehrig
- Make Your Own Baseball Card

From throwing to catching and fielding to batting, America's Presidents have long enjoyed playing or watching a good game of baseball. A soldier's diary reveals that George Washington and his men played an early version of baseball called "rounders" on the fields of Valley Forge. History records that Adams played bat and ball and Andrew Jackson played a similar game of baseball called cat. Abraham Lincoln's love of the game was so well known that an 1860 political cartoon showed Lincoln and his opponents on a baseball diamond.

Andrew Johnson, Lincoln's successor, was so thrilled to be invited to see the first game among teams from different states, that he gave his White House staff time off from work for the game. Johnson set up chairs for his staff along the first base line of the White House located between the South Lawn of the White House and an incomplete Washington Monument that stood only 152 feet tall. Today, the area is called the Ellipse, and energetic federal softball games on the grounds each spring in the shadows of the towering, 555-foot Monument.

Q1. Who was the first President to dedicate a new baseball stadium?

- John F. Kennedy
- Lyndon B. Johnson
- Calvin Coolidge
- Chester Arthur

Ulysses S. Grant was President when the National Baseball League was formed in 1876, but Benjamin Harrison became the first President to attend a baseball game when he saw Cincinnati beat Washington on June 6, 1892.

The 20th Century ushered in a presidential baseball tradition: throwing out the first pitch. Howard Taft was the first President to do this when he threw a ball from his seat in the Washington Senator's opening day pitch. Andrew Johnson, on April 14, 1910. Nearly all Presidents since Taft have followed this pitching tradition.

Woodrow Wilson turned a few heads with Edith Gault to the World Series. The event was the first public appearance of the couple announcing their engagement. The following spring, Wilson threw out the first pitch with Mrs. Wilson at his side.

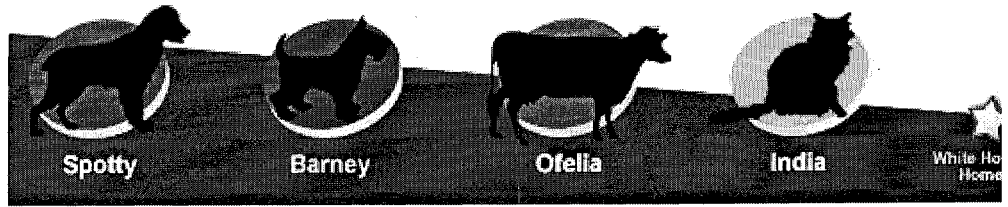

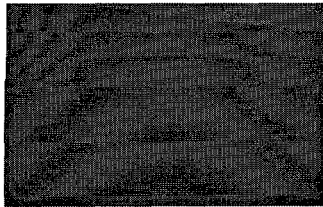

Franklin Roosevelt made a significant decision when he encouraged Major League Baseball to continue playing ball during World War II. Roosevelt knew that continuing this popular sport during wartime would boost the spirits of the American people.

Ronald Reagan so loved the game that he worked as a radio announcer for the Chicago Cubs. His success gave him the opportunity to go into acting, where he once played the part of a pitcher in the movie, The Winning Team.

From George Washington to George W. Bush, Presidents over the years have shown that the game and baseball has loved their highest-ranking fan.

Bibliography

Ritacco, Krista L.

From: Mamo, Jeanie S.
Sent: Thursday, February 05, 2004 9:51 AM
To: Ritacco, Krista L.
Subject: Joe Lavine's resume

JOE LAVINE-4_03
(21 KB)

> Jeanie-
> Let me know if there is anything else you need. Thanks for all your > help.
>
> Joe
>

=====
This e-mail is intended only for the use of the addressees. Any copying, forwarding, printing or other use of this e-mail by persons other than the addressees is not authorized. This e-mail may contain information that is privileged, confidential and exempt from disclosure. If you are not the intended recipient, please notify us immediately by return e-mail (including the original message in your reply) and then delete and discard all copies of the e-mail. Thank you.

JOSEPH LAVINE

(b)(6)

HBO SPORTS: Documentary Producer

1995- 2004

Jim McKay: My World My Words

Picture Perfect: The Stories Behind the Greatest Photos in Sports

*Ali-Frazier I: One Nation Divisible Peabody Award

Howard Cosell: Telling It Like It Is

*Where Have You Gone Joe DiMaggio? Peabody Award

Rebels With A Cause: The History of the American Football League

HBO SPORTS: Feature Producer

*Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel Emmy Award

Inside the NFL

NBC SPORTS: Feature Producer

1996-2000

*2000 Summer Olympics- Sydney Emmy Award

1998 Behind the Scenes Super Bowl XXXII

*1996 Summer Olympics- Atlanta Emmy Award

1996 Behind the Scenes Super Bowl XXX

ABC SPORTS: Producer

1996

A Passion To Play - Women's Tennis

Monday Night Mania

NFL FILMS: Feature Producer

1996-1998

TNT Super Bowl Previews

ESPN: Feature Producer

1994-1995

Voices of the Game I and II

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL PRODUCTIONS

1981-1993

This Week In Baseball

World Series Highlight Films

Baseball Image Spots

Greats of the Game

Ritacco, Krista L.

From: Mamo, Jeanie S.
Sent: Thursday, February 05, 2004 11:37 AM
To: Ritacco, Krista L.
Subject: UPDATED HBO SPORTS --Briefing Paper

Krista -- I attached Joe Lavine's bio to this and added his daughter's name .. thanks for your help.. please let me know if you need anything else.

INTERVIEW FOR DOCUMENTARY ON HBO SPORTS

Tuesday, February 10, 2004

10:05 a.m. – 10:20 a.m.

Map Room

Dan Bartlett

I. PURPOSE

To discuss the pre-game ceremonies of Game 3 of the 2001 World Series and the President's conversation with Derek Jeter.

II. BACKGROUND

HBO Sports is producing a one-hour documentary on the events that occurred in New York City from September 11 through the end of the World Series 2001. You would discuss your "first pitch" and the conversation you had with Derek Jeter during your warm-up. The documentary would run in September/October 2004. HBO has already interviewed Derek Jeter and Ari Fleischer.

III. PARTICIPANTS

Joe Lavine, HBO Sports producer

Sophie Lavine, 11-year-old daughter of Joe Lavine

Andrew Card, Chief of Staff (Tentative)

Dan Bartlett, Assistant to the President for Communications

Scott McClellan, Press Secretary

Scott Sforza, Deputy Communications Director for Production

HBO Sports Camera Crew

IV. PRESS PLAN

Closed Press - White House Photographer only

HBO Sports documentary

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

- Producer and camera crew will set up in Map Room prior to your arrival.
- You will enter the Map Room for a 15-minute, on-camera, sit-down question and answer session with the HBO Sports producer.

VI. REMARKS

No remarks.

VII. ATTACHMENTS

Bio of Joe Lavine

Withdrawal Marker

The George W. Bush Library

FORM	SUBJECT/TITLE	PAGES	DATE	RESTRICTION(S)
Briefing	Interview for Documentary on HBO Sports	1	02/10/2004	P5;

This marker identifies the original location of the withdrawn item listed above.
For a complete list of items withdrawn from this folder, see the
Withdrawal/Redaction Sheet at the front of the folder.

COLLECTION:

Communications, White House Office of

SERIES:

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

FOLDER TITLE:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

FRC ID:

1975

OA Num.:

3444

NARA Num.:

3322

FOIA IDs and Segments:

2014-0153-F

RESTRICTION CODESPresidential Records Act - [44 U.S.C. 2204(a)]

- P1 National Security Classified Information [(a)(1) of the PRA]
- P2 Relating to the appointment to Federal office [(a)(2) of the PRA]
- P3 Release would violate a Federal statute [(a)(3) of the PRA]
- P4 Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information [(a)(4) of the PRA]
- P5 Release would disclose confidential advice between the President and his advisors, or between such advisors [(a)(5) of the PRA]
- P6 Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(a)(6) of the PRA]

PRM. Personal record misfile defined in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2201(3).

Deed of Gift Restrictions

- A. Closed by Executive Order 13526 governing access to national security information.
- B. Closed by statute or by the agency which originated the document.
- C. Closed in accordance with restrictions contained in donor's deed of gift.

Freedom of Information Act - [5 U.S.C. 552(b)]

- b(1) National security classified information [(b)(1) of the FOIA]
- b(2) Release would disclose internal personnel rules and practices of an agency [(b)(2) of the FOIA]
- b(3) Release would violate a Federal statute [(b)(3) of the FOIA]
- b(4) Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential or financial information [(b)(4) of the FOIA]
- b(6) Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(b)(6) of the FOIA]
- b(7) Release would disclose information compiled for law enforcement purposes [(b)(7) of the FOIA]
- b(8) Release would disclose information concerning the regulation of financial institutions [(b)(8) of the FOIA]
- b(9) Release would disclose geological or geophysical information concerning wells [(b)(9) of the FOIA]

Records Not Subject to FOIA

Court Sealed - The document is withheld under a court seal and is not subject to the Freedom of Information Act.

JOSEPH LAVINE

(b)(6)

HBO SPORTS: Documentary Producer

1995-2004

Jim McKay: My World My Words

Picture Perfect: The Stories Behind the Greatest Photos in Sports

*Ali-Frazier 1: One Nation Divisible Peabody Award

Howard Cosell: Telling It Like It Is

*Where Have You Gone Joe DiMaggio? Peabody Award

Rebels With A Cause: The History of the American Football League

HBO SPORTS: Feature Producer

*Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel Emmy Award

Inside the NFL

NBC SPORTS: Feature Producer

1996-2000

*2000 Summer Olympics- Sydney Emmy Award

1998 Behind the Scenes Super Bowl XXXII

*1996 Summer Olympics- Atlanta Emmy Award

1996 Behind the Scenes Super Bowl XXX

ABC SPORTS: Producer

1996

A Passion To Play - Women's Tennis

Monday Night Mania

NFL FILMS: Feature Producer

1996-1998

TNT Super Bowl Previews

ESPN: Feature Producer

1994-1995

Voices of the Game I and II

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL PRODUCTIONS

1981-1993

This Week In Baseball

World Series Highlight Films

Baseball Image Spots

Greats of the Game

Withdrawal Marker

The George W. Bush Library

FORM	SUBJECT/TITLE	PAGES	DATE	RESTRICTION(S)
Email	[Email]	1	02/05/2004	P5;

This marker identifies the original location of the withdrawn item listed above.
For a complete list of items withdrawn from this folder, see the
Withdrawal/Redaction Sheet at the front of the folder.

COLLECTION:

Communications, White House Office of

SERIES:

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

FOLDER TITLE:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

FRC ID:

1975

OA Num.:

3444

NARA Num.:

3322

FOIA IDs and Segments:

2014-0153-F

RESTRICTION CODESPresidential Records Act - [44 U.S.C. 2204(a)]

- P1 National Security Classified Information [(a)(1) of the PRA]
- P2 Relating to the appointment to Federal office [(a)(2) of the PRA]
- P3 Release would violate a Federal statute [(a)(3) of the PRA]
- P4 Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information [(a)(4) of the PRA]
- P5 Release would disclose confidential advice between the President and his advisors, or between such advisors [(a)(5) of the PRA]
- P6 Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(a)(6) of the PRA]

PRM. Personal record misfile defined in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2201(3).

Deed of Gift Restrictions

- A. Closed by Executive Order 13526 governing access to national security information.
- B. Closed by statute or by the agency which originated the document.
- C. Closed in accordance with restrictions contained in donor's deed of gift.

Freedom of Information Act - [5 U.S.C. 552(b)]

- b(1) National security classified information [(b)(1) of the FOIA]
- b(2) Release would disclose internal personnel rules and practices of an agency [(b)(2) of the FOIA]
- b(3) Release would violate a Federal statute [(b)(3) of the FOIA]
- b(4) Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential or financial information [(b)(4) of the FOIA]
- b(6) Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(b)(6) of the FOIA]
- b(7) Release would disclose information compiled for law enforcement purposes [(b)(7) of the FOIA]
- b(8) Release would disclose information concerning the regulation of financial institutions [(b)(8) of the FOIA]
- b(9) Release would disclose geological or geophysical information concerning wells [(b)(9) of the FOIA]

Records Not Subject to FOIA

Court Sealed - The document is withheld under a court seal and is not subject to the Freedom of Information Act.

Ritacco, Krista L.

From: Mamo, Jeanie S.

Sent: Tuesday, February 03, 2004 5:03 PM

To: Ritacco, Krista L.

Subject: HBO Sports Briefing Paper

INTERVIEW FOR DOCUMENTARY ON HBO SPORTS

Tuesday, February 10, 2004

10:05 a.m. – 10:20 a.m.

Map Room

Dan Bartlett

I. PURPOSE

To discuss the pre-game ceremonies of Game 3 of the 2001 World Series and the President's conversation with Derek Jeter.

II. BACKGROUND

HBO Sports is producing a one-hour documentary on the events that occurred in New York City from September 11 through the end of the World Series 2001. You would discuss your "first pitch" and the conversation you had with Derek Jeter during his warm-up. The documentary would run in September/October 2004. HBO has already interviewed Derek Jeter and Ari Fleischer.

III. PARTICIPANTS

Joe Lavine, HBO Sports producer

Andrew Card, Chief of Staff (Tentative)

Dan Bartlett, Assistant to the President for Communications

Scott McClellan, Press Secretary

Scott Sforza, Deputy Communications Director for Production

HBO Sports Camera Crew

IV. PRESS PLAN

Closed Press - White House Photographer only

HBO Sports documentary

V. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

- Producer and camera crew will set up in Map Room prior to your arrival.
- You will enter the Map Room for a 15-minute, on-camera, sit-down question and answer session with the HBO Sports producer.

VI. REMARKS

No remarks.

VII. ATTACHMENTS

None

SENSITIVE—DO NOT COPY

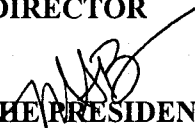

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

Created on 2/2/2004 7:02 AM

MEMORANDUM

TO: DAN BARTLETT
ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT AND COMMUNICATIONS DIRECTOR

FROM: MELISSA S. BENNETT
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT FOR APPOINTMENTS AND SCHEDULING

SUBJECT: APPROVED PRESIDENTIAL ACTIVITY

EVENT: Interview with HBO

DATE: Tuesday, February 10, 2004

TIME: 9:55 am Pre-Brief
10:05 am Interview

DURATION: 5 minute Pre-Brief
15 minute Interview

LOCATION: Oval Office Pre-Brief Map Room Interview

ATTIRE: Business

REMARKS REQUIRED: None

MEDIA COVERAGE: Interview

FIRST LADY PARTICIPATION: None

FUNDING SOURCE: N/A

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: None

WORKING CONTACT: Jeanie Mamo x 6-6545

Chief of Staff
Harriet Miers
Joe Hagin
Karl Rove
Scott McClellan
Alberto Gonzales
Dan Bartlett
David Hobbs
Brett Kavanaugh
Office of the Vice President

First Lady's Office
Cabinet Affairs
Oval Office Ops
Advance Office
Domestic Policy Council
National Economic Council
National Security Council
Office of Homeland Security
Office of Political Affairs
Office of Public Liaison

Speech Writing
Management and Administration
Blake Gottesman
Social Office
Physician's Office
PPD Ops
WHCA
WHMO
Ushers Office

SENSITIVE—DO NOT COPY

Withdrawal Marker

The George W. Bush Library

FORM	SUBJECT/TITLE	PAGES	DATE	RESTRICTION(S)
Memorandum	Schedule Proposal - To: Melissa Bennett - From: Dan Bartlett	2	01/29/2004	P5;

This marker identifies the original location of the withdrawn item listed above.
For a complete list of items withdrawn from this folder, see the
Withdrawal/Redaction Sheet at the front of the folder.

COLLECTION:

Communications, White House Office of

SERIES:

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

FOLDER TITLE:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

FRC ID:

1975

OA Num.:

3444

NARA Num.:

3322

FOIA IDs and Segments:

2014-0153-F

RESTRICTION CODES

Presidential Records Act - [44 U.S.C. 2204(a)]

- P1 National Security Classified Information [(a)(1) of the PRA]
- P2 Relating to the appointment to Federal office [(a)(2) of the PRA]
- P3 Release would violate a Federal statute [(a)(3) of the PRA]
- P4 Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information [(a)(4) of the PRA]
- P5 Release would disclose confidential advice between the President and his advisors, or between such advisors [(a)(5) of the PRA]
- P6 Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(a)(6) of the PRA]

PRM. Personal record misfile defined in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2201(3).

Deed of Gift Restrictions

- A. Closed by Executive Order 13526 governing access to national security information.
- B. Closed by statute or by the agency which originated the document.
- C. Closed in accordance with restrictions contained in donor's deed of gift.

Freedom of Information Act - [5 U.S.C. 552(b)]

- b(1) National security classified information [(b)(1) of the FOIA]
- b(2) Release would disclose internal personnel rules and practices of an agency [(b)(2) of the FOIA]
- b(3) Release would violate a Federal statute [(b)(3) of the FOIA]
- b(4) Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential or financial information [(b)(4) of the FOIA]
- b(6) Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(b)(6) of the FOIA]
- b(7) Release would disclose information compiled for law enforcement purposes [(b)(7) of the FOIA]
- b(8) Release would disclose information concerning the regulation of financial institutions [(b)(8) of the FOIA]
- b(9) Release would disclose geological or geophysical information concerning wells [(b)(9) of the FOIA]

Records Not Subject to FOIA

Court Sealed - The document is withheld under a court seal and is not subject to the Freedom of Information Act.

Withdrawal Marker

The George W. Bush Library

FORM	SUBJECT/TITLE	PAGES	DATE	RESTRICTION(S)
Schedule	Schedule Proposal - From: Dan Bartlett	2	01/14/2004	P5;

This marker identifies the original location of the withdrawn item listed above.
For a complete list of items withdrawn from this folder, see the
Withdrawal/Redaction Sheet at the front of the folder.

COLLECTION:

Communications, White House Office of

SERIES:

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

FOLDER TITLE:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

FRC ID:

1975

OA Num.:

3444

NARA Num.:

3322

FOIA IDs and Segments:

2014-0153-F

RESTRICTION CODES

Presidential Records Act - [44 U.S.C. 2204(a)]

- P1 National Security Classified Information [(a)(1) of the PRA]
- P2 Relating to the appointment to Federal office [(a)(2) of the PRA]
- P3 Release would violate a Federal statute [(a)(3) of the PRA]
- P4 Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information [(a)(4) of the PRA]
- P5 Release would disclose confidential advice between the President and his advisors, or between such advisors [(a)(5) of the PRA]
- P6 Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(a)(6) of the PRA]

PRM. Personal record misfile defined in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2201(3).

Deed of Gift Restrictions

- A. Closed by Executive Order 13526 governing access to national security information.
- B. Closed by statute or by the agency which originated the document.
- C. Closed in accordance with restrictions contained in donor's deed of gift.

Freedom of Information Act - [5 U.S.C. 552(b)]

- b(1) National security classified information [(b)(1) of the FOIA]
- b(2) Release would disclose internal personnel rules and practices of an agency [(b)(2) of the FOIA]
- b(3) Release would violate a Federal statute [(b)(3) of the FOIA]
- b(4) Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential or financial information [(b)(4) of the FOIA]
- b(6) Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(b)(6) of the FOIA]
- b(7) Release would disclose information compiled for law enforcement purposes [(b)(7) of the FOIA]
- b(8) Release would disclose information concerning the regulation of financial institutions [(b)(8) of the FOIA]
- b(9) Release would disclose geological or geophysical information concerning wells [(b)(9) of the FOIA]

Records Not Subject to FOIA

Court Sealed - The document is withheld under a court seal and is not subject to the Freedom of Information Act.

Withdrawal Marker

The George W. Bush Library

FORM	SUBJECT/TITLE	PAGES	DATE	RESTRICTION(S)
Briefing	[Interview]	1	02/21/2001	P5;

This marker identifies the original location of the withdrawn item listed above.
For a complete list of items withdrawn from this folder, see the
Withdrawal/Redaction Sheet at the front of the folder.

COLLECTION:

Communications, White House Office of

SERIES:

Bartlett, Daniel (Dan) - Chron Files

FOLDER TITLE:

02/10/2004, HBO 2001 World Series Interview

FRC ID:

1975

OA Num.:

3444

NARA Num.:

3322

FOIA IDs and Segments:

2014-0153-F

RESTRICTION CODESPresidential Records Act - [44 U.S.C. 2204(a)]

- P1 National Security Classified Information [(a)(1) of the PRA]
- P2 Relating to the appointment to Federal office [(a)(2) of the PRA]
- P3 Release would violate a Federal statute [(a)(3) of the PRA]
- P4 Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential commercial or financial information [(a)(4) of the PRA]
- P5 Release would disclose confidential advice between the President and his advisors, or between such advisors [(a)(5) of the PRA]
- P6 Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(a)(6) of the PRA]

PRM. Personal record misfile defined in accordance with 44 U.S.C. 2201(3).

Deed of Gift Restrictions

- A. Closed by Executive Order 13526 governing access to national security information.
- B. Closed by statute or by the agency which originated the document.
- C. Closed in accordance with restrictions contained in donor's deed of gift.

Freedom of Information Act - [5 U.S.C. 552(b)]

- b(1) National security classified information [(b)(1) of the FOIA]
- b(2) Release would disclose internal personnel rules and practices of an agency [(b)(2) of the FOIA]
- b(3) Release would violate a Federal statute [(b)(3) of the FOIA]
- b(4) Release would disclose trade secrets or confidential or financial information [(b)(4) of the FOIA]
- b(6) Release would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy [(b)(6) of the FOIA]
- b(7) Release would disclose information compiled for law enforcement purposes [(b)(7) of the FOIA]
- b(8) Release would disclose information concerning the regulation of financial institutions [(b)(8) of the FOIA]
- b(9) Release would disclose geological or geophysical information concerning wells [(b)(9) of the FOIA]

Records Not Subject to FOIA

Court Sealed - The document is withheld under a court seal and is not subject to the Freedom of Information Act.