

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

June 3, 2002

Dear Ms. Rubenstein:

Thank you for discussing with me the confidentiality agreement that Committee staff members will sign before reviewing documents of the Executive Office of the President and the Office of the Vice President today at the Eisenhower Executive Office Building. The documents are to be provided for review with due regard for the constitutional separation of powers and reserving all legal authorities and privileges that may apply, including with respect to other governmental entities or private parties. Today's review does not waive any right or privilege that the President and Vice President possess with respect to the documents and information contained therein.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Brett M. Kavanaugh

CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

I agree to maintain the confidentiality of all Executive Office of the President and Office of the Vice President documents (and all information derived from review of such documents) provided to me for review and that I reviewed on June 3, 2002. I agree to disclose information derived from review only to such Committee members and Committee staff as are necessary for the Committee's work. I agree to ensure that those Committee members and staff to whom I impart any such information protect that information from further disclosure. This agreement does not affect or prejudice the contents of any document protocol the Committee may choose to adopt. Upon production to the Committee of these documents, the applicable Committee protocol then in place will supersede this agreement.
