Discussion

H.R. 2751 would authorize the President to present a gold medal on behalf of the Congress to General Henry H. Shelton "in recognition of his performance as a military leader . . . and his invaluable contributions to the United States and to the successful return to peace in the Balkans as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff." Among its findings in the enrolled bill, the Congress states that, "General Shelton's leadership, foresight, and determination were directly responsible for ensuring a decisive military victory without a single allied combat casualty in Kosovo in 1999."

The enrolled bill would require the Treasury to design and strike the gold medal. It would also authorize the Treasury to strike and sell bronze duplicates of the medal at a price sufficient to cover the costs of both the gold and bronze medals. The bill would authorize appropriations up to $30,000 to pay for the cost of the medal. Proceeds from the sale of duplicate bronze medals would be credited to the authorized appropriations.

Conclusion and Recommendations

We join the Department of the Treasury in recommending approval of H.R. 2751, which passed the House by voice vote and the Senate by unanimous consent.

The Honorable Mitchell E. Daniels, Jr.
Director, Office of Management and Budget
Executive Office of the President
Washington, D.C. 20503

Dear Mr. Daniels:

This responds to your request for the views of this Department on enrolled bill H.R. 2751, the "General Shelton Congressional Gold Medal Act."

Enrolled bill H.R. 2751 directs the Secretary of the Treasury to strike a gold medal to award to General Henry H. Shelton, former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The enrolled bill also authorizes the Secretary to strike and sell duplicate bronze medals at a price sufficient to recover the costs. An amount not to exceed $30,000 would be charged against the U.S. Mint's Public Enterprise Fund to pay for the cost of the medal, and proceeds of duplicate bronze medal sales would be deposited into the Fund.

It is the Department's longstanding policy not to comment on the underlying merits of a particular medal proposal. From a technical perspective, however, we do not have any objections to the bill.

In view of the foregoing, the Department of the Treasury recommends that the President sign the enrolled bill.

Sincerely,

David D. Aufhauser

One Hundred Seventh Congress of the
United States of America

AT THE FIRST SESSION

Begun and held at the City of Washington on Wednesday, the third day of January, two thousand and one

An Act

To authorize the President to award a gold medal on behalf of the Congress to General Henry H. Shelton and to provide for the production of bronze duplicates of such medal for sale to the public.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "General Shelton Congressional Gold Medal Act".

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) General Henry H. Shelton, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the principal military adviser to the President, the National Security Council, and the Secretary of Defense, has displayed strong leadership, competence, and professionalism in fulfilling his statutory responsibilities throughout Operation Allied Force.

(2) General Shelton and his subordinates brilliantly planned and coordinated at the national level the successful air campaign in support of Operation Allied Force.

(3) General Shelton's leadership, foresight, and determination were directly responsible for ensuring a decisive military victory without a single allied combat casualty in Kosovo in 1999.

(4) As the principal military adviser to the President of the United States, the National Security Council, and the Secretary of Defense, General Shelton's assessments, judgments, recommendations, and determination were invaluable and instrumental in the unprecedented military victory against the forces of Slobodan Milosevic.

(5) General Shelton's distinction as a "soldier's soldier", as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and throughout his military service, including command of the Special Operations Command, the 18th Airborne Corps at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, helicopter forces in Operation Desert Storm, and special forces Green Berets in Vietnam, serves as an inspiration to the Congress and the people of the United States, a grateful Nation.

SEC. 3. CONGRESSIONAL GOLD MEDAL.

(a) PRESENTATION AUTHORIZED.—The President is authorized to present, on behalf of the Congress, to General Henry H. Shelton a gold medal of appropriate design in recognition of his performance as a military leader in coordinating the planning, strategy, and execution of the United States and NATO combat action and his invaluable contributions to the United States and to the successful return to peace in the Balkans as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

(b) DESIGN AND STRIKING.—For purposes of the presentation referred to in subsection (a), the Secretary of the Treasury (hereafter referred to in this Act as the "Secretary") shall strike a gold medal with suitable emblems, devices, and inscriptions to be determined by the Secretary.

SEC. 4. DUPLICATE MEDALS.

The Secretary may strike bronze duplicates of the gold medal struck pursuant to section 3, under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, and may sell such bronze duplicates at a price sufficient to cover the cost thereof, including labor, materials, dies, use of machinery, and overhead expenses, and the cost of the gold medal.

SEC. 5. NATIONAL MEDALS.

Medals struck pursuant to this Act are national medals for purposes of chapter 51 of title 31, United States Code.

SEC. 6. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS; PROCEEDS OF SALE.

(a) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated not to exceed $30,000 to carry out section 3.

(b) PROCEEDS OF SALES.—Amounts received from sales of duplicate bronze medals under section 4 shall be credited to the appropriation made pursuant to the authorization provided in subsection (a).

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

*Vice President of the United States and

Discussion

H.R. 2751 would authorize the President to present a gold medal on behalf of the Congress to General Henry H. Shelton "in recognition of his performance as a military leader . . . and his invaluable contributions to the United States and to the successful return to peace in the Balkans as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff." Among its findings in the enrolled bill, the Congress states that, "General Shelton's leadership, foresight, and determination were directly responsible for ensuring a decisive military victory without a single allied combat casualty in Kosovo in 1999."

The enrolled bill would require the Treasury to design and strike the gold medal. It would also authorize the Treasury to strike and sell bronze duplicates of the medal at a price sufficient to cover the costs of both the gold and bronze medals. The bill would authorize appropriations up to $30,000 to pay for the cost of the medal. Proceeds from the sale of duplicate bronze medals would be credited to the authorized appropriations.

Conclusion and Recommendations

We join the Department of the Treasury in recommending approval of H.R. 2751, which passed the House by voice vote and the Senate by unanimous consent.

Dear Mr. Daniels:

This responds to your request for the views of this Department on enrolled bill H.R. 2751, the "General Shelton Congressional Gold Medal Act."

Enrolled bill H.R. 2751 directs the Secretary of the Treasury to strike a gold medal to award to General Henry H. Shelton, former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The enrolled bill also authorizes the Secretary to strike and sell duplicate bronze medals at a price sufficient to recover the costs. An amount not to exceed $30,000 would be charged against the U.S. Mint's Public Enterprise Fund to pay for the cost of the medal, and proceeds of duplicate bronze medal sales would be deposited into the Fund.

It is the Department's longstanding policy not to comment on the underlying merits of a particular medal proposal. From a technical perspective, however, we do not have any objections to the bill.

In view of the foregoing, the Department of the Treasury recommends that the President sign the enrolled bill.

Sincerely,

David D. Aufhauser

Discussion

H.R. 2751 would authorize the President to present a gold medal on behalf of the Congress to General Henry H. Shelton "in recognition of his performance as a military leader . . . and his invaluable contributions to the United States and to the successful return to peace in the Balkans as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff." Among its findings in the enrolled bill, the Congress states that, "General Shelton's leadership, foresight, and determination were directly responsible for ensuring a decisive military victory without a single allied combat casualty in Kosovo in 1999."

The enrolled bill would require the Treasury to design and strike the gold medal. It would also authorize the Treasury to strike and sell bronze duplicates of the medal at a price sufficient to cover the costs of both the gold and bronze medals. The bill would authorize appropriations up to $30,000 to pay for the cost of the medal. Proceeds from the sale of duplicate bronze medals would be credited to the authorized appropriations.

Conclusion and Recommendations

We join the Department of the Treasury in recommending approval of H.R. 2751, which passed the House by voice vote and the Senate by unanimous consent.

The Honorable Mitchell E. Daniels, Jr.
Director, Office of Management and Budget
Executive Office of the President
Washington, D.C. 20503

Dear Mr. Daniels:

This responds to your request for the views of this Department on enrolled bill H.R. 2751, the "General Shelton Congressional Gold Medal Act."

Enrolled bill H.R. 2751 directs the Secretary of the Treasury to strike a gold medal to award to General Henry H. Shelton, former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The enrolled bill also authorizes the Secretary to strike and sell duplicate bronze medals at a price sufficient to recover the costs. An amount not to exceed $30,000 would be charged against the U.S. Mint's Public Enterprise Fund to pay for the cost of the medal, and proceeds of duplicate bronze medal sales would be deposited into the Fund.

It is the Department's longstanding policy not to comment on the underlying merits of a particular medal proposal. From a technical perspective, however, we do not have any objections to the bill.

In view of the foregoing, the Department of the Treasury recommends that the President sign the enrolled bill.

Sincerely,

David D. Aufhauser

One Hundred Seventh Congress of the United States of America

AT THE FIRST SESSION

*Begun and held at the City of Washington on Wednesday,
the third day of January, two thousand and one*

An Act

To authorize the President to award a gold medal on behalf of the Congress to General Henry H. Shelton and to provide for the production of bronze duplicates of such medal for sale to the public.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "General Shelton Congressional Gold Medal Act".

SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) General Henry H. Shelton, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the principal military adviser to the President, the National Security Council, and the Secretary of Defense, has displayed strong leadership, competence, and professionalism in fulfilling his statutory responsibilities throughout Operation Allied Force.

(2) General Shelton and his subordinates brilliantly planned and coordinated at the national level the successful air campaign in support of Operation Allied Force.

(3) General Shelton's leadership, foresight, and determination were directly responsible for ensuring a decisive military victory without a single allied combat casualty in Kosovo in 1999.

(4) As the principal military adviser to the President of the United States, the National Security Council, and the Secretary of Defense, General Shelton's assessments, judgments, recommendations, and determination were invaluable and instrumental in the unprecedented military victory against the forces of Slobodan Milosevic.

(5) General Shelton's distinction as a "soldier's soldier", as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and throughout his military service, including command of the Special Operations Command, the 18th Airborne Corps at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, helicopter forces in Operation Desert Storm, and special forces Green Berets in Vietnam, serves as an inspiration to the Congress and the people of the United States, a grateful Nation.

SEC. 3. CONGRESSIONAL GOLD MEDAL.

(a) PRESENTATION AUTHORIZED.—The President is authorized to present, on behalf of the Congress, to General Henry H. Shelton a gold medal of appropriate design in recognition of his performance

JAN 4 2002
THE WHITE HOUSE

as a military leader in coordinating the planning, strategy, and execution of the United States and NATO combat action and his invaluable contributions to the United States and to the successful return to peace in the Balkans as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

(b) DESIGN AND STRIKING.—For purposes of the presentation referred to in subsection (a), the Secretary of the Treasury (hereafter referred to in this Act as the "Secretary") shall strike a gold medal with suitable emblems, devices, and inscriptions to be determined by the Secretary.

SEC. 4. DUPLICATE MEDALS.

The Secretary may strike bronze duplicates of the gold medal struck pursuant to section 3, under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, and may sell such bronze duplicates at a price sufficient to cover the cost thereof, including labor, materials, dies, use of machinery, and overhead expenses, and the cost of the gold medal.

SEC. 5. NATIONAL MEDALS.

Medals struck pursuant to this Act are national medals for purposes of chapter 51 of title 31, United States Code.

SEC. 6. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS; PROCEEDS OF SALE.

(a) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated not to exceed $30,000 to carry out section 3.

(b) PROCEEDS OF SALES.—Amounts received from sales of duplicate bronze medals under section 4 shall be credited to the appropriation made pursuant to the authorization provided in subsection (a).
