The Joint Economic Committee (JEC) of the Congress is composed of Members from both the Senate and the House of Representatives. The JEC was created by the Employment Act of 1946, which also established the President's Council of Economic Advisers. The primary tasks of the JEC are to review economic conditions and recommend improvements in economic policy.

The JEC is composed of ten Members of the Senate, appointed by the President of the Senate, and ten Members of the House, appointed by the Speaker of the House. Under current law, the majority party of each House is represented by six Members and the minority party of each House is represented by four Members. The enrolled bill would provide that, for so long as the majority party and the minority party have equal representation in the Senate of the 107th Congress, the Senate is to be represented on the JEC by five Members of the majority party and five Members of the minority party.

Conclusion and Recommendations

We recommend approval of S. 279, which passed both the Senate and the House by unanimous consent.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT
AT BILL SIGNING CEREMONY

The Rose Garden

2:02 P.M. EST

THE PRESIDENT: Thank you all very much. Please be seated. It's my honor to welcome you all to the Rose Garden. So many friends and colleagues of Joe Moakley are here -- I want to thank you all for coming. This is the first bill signing ceremony to take place in the Rose Garden since I've been the President. And I'm glad to be part of an event honoring a distinguished member of the United States Congress.

After today, the U.S. Courthouse, located at 1 Courthouse Way in Boston, will be officially known as the John Joseph Moakley United States Courthouse. (Applause.) It is a fitting tribute to a remarkable man.

Joe Moakley is a man of strong opinions and broad respect. And in this town it isn't always easy to combine the two, but over a long career he's been able to do so. He's a self-described bread-and-butter Democrat. Others know him as a formidable advocate for his party's cause. Ever since he joined the House of Representatives in 1972, he has made the cares and concerns of everyday people his business.

Joe is not only a passionate advocate for what he believes in, he's an enormously effective member of Congress. Representative Moakley understands how the United States House of Representatives operates; he knows its rules and he knows its ways.

But what makes Joe Moakley exceptional is not simply his political skills, it is the fact that he's so well-liked and admired by members of both political parties. Joe has a well-deserved reputation for being civil, friendly and funny. Members love his sharp Irish sense of humor. They admire his courage in the face of adversity. And a few past members of the Rules courthouse -- and if you people haven't seen the courthouse, please visit it. It's a beautiful, beautiful courthouse.

And this is a very graphic example of how the federal government spent so much money to spur the economy. As a result of this courthouse, we're going to get billions and billions of dollars worth of new building -- office buildings, condominiums, it's going to revitalize an area that up until now was just a haven of low-grade commercial uses. And it's just a wonderful experience that we're going to have rapid transit down there now. Up until this time, it was like the Sahara Desert -- everybody knew where it was, but nobody wanted to go there.

So, Mr. President, your final act of signing this bill today really puts the cap on it. And my family, my brothers and their wives, and my friends and myself feel very indebted to you for helping speed this bill through.

And, you know, it's nice to be on the same side of the grass that the monument that honors you is on. And for a while, I didn't think I was going to make it. I feel fine. On a day like this, the good Lord is sharing His sunshine with us and allowed the President to have this in this wonderful, wonderful Rose Garden. And these are memories that I'll take with me.

Thank you very much. (Applause.)

Subject: Red Line Copies of Bills Requests

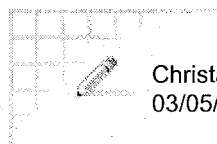

Harriet/John,

We have received the attached request from W.H. Legis. Affairs for a red line copy of H.R. 559. If you approve, following the President's approval of this bill, we would make one copy for them, if you approve their request (I understand Legis. Affairs will be coming to you separately requesting a pen).

This will probably be the first of many such red line requests, so we'll need to establish a system for handling these. I'd be happy to discuss w/ you my thoughts for such when you have time.

thanks,

Subject: Red Border Request

I was given your name in regards to obtaining a 'red border' copy of a bill for a Congressman.

Congressman Jim McGovern would like to get a copy of his bill, H.R. 559, which was cleared for the White House on February 15, 2001. I don't think a signing ceremony has been scheduled at this point. Is this something I would need to request after that time?...or what do I need to do??

Thank you for your help/guidance with this matter.
