Discussion

The Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia (CJCC) serves as the primary venue for coordination among the 13 Federal and local agencies that have law enforcement responsibilities in the District of Columbia. The CJCC was originally established on May 28, 1998, pursuant to a Memorandum of Agreement entered into among several District and Federal entities. In August 2001, the District of Columbia enacted a law establishing the CJCC as an independent agency within the District of Columbia, with the Mayor as its Chair.

Authorization of Federal Officials to Serve on the CJCC. H.R. 2305 would authorize the heads of six Federal entities to serve on the CJCC, participate in the Council's activities, and take such other actions as may be necessary to carry out their duties as members of the Council. These six entity heads are: (1) the Director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia; (2) the Director of the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency; (3) the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia; (4) the Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons; (5) the chair of the United States Parole Commission; and (6) the Director of the United States Marshals Service.

Annual Report. The enrolled bill would require the CJCC to submit to the President, Congress, and each of the entities of the Federal and D.C. governments whose representatives serve on the CJCC an annual report describing its activities during the year. The report would be due within 60 days after the end of each calendar year.

Authorization of Appropriations. H.R. 2305 would also authorize annual appropriations for each fiscal year beginning with FY 2002 of such sums as may be necessary for a Federal contribution to the District of Columbia to cover the costs incurred by the CJCC. The FY 2002 District of Columbia Appropriations Act (P.L. 107-96) provided for a Federal payment of $300,000 to the District for the CJCC. Your FY 2003 Budget does not allocate any funds toward this purpose.

Conclusion and Recommendations

The Department of Justice recommends approval of H.R. 2305 because it will advance the mission of the CJCC.

The Mayor of the District of Columbia recommends approval of H.R. 2305. The Mayor notes that "[u]nlike most local jurisdictions, the District is in the unique position of having federal criminal justice agencies provide traditionally local justice management functions." The Mayor advises that the CJCC "has proved to be a vital resource in improving the administration of justice in the District of Columbia," by helping Federal and local agencies coordinate efforts and leverage resources. The Mayor states that H.R. 2305 "will help ensure the continuity and success of the organization."

We join the Department of Justice and the D.C. Mayor in recommending approval of H.R. 2305, which passed the House by voice vote and the Senate by unanimous consent.

The Honorable Mitchell Daniels
Director
Office of Management and Budget
Washington, D.C. 20503

Dear Mr. Daniels:

This responds to your request for the views and recommendation of the Justice Department on the enrolled bill H.R. 2305, a bill "[t]o authorize certain Federal officials with responsibility for the administration of the criminal justice system of the District of Columbia to serve on and participate in the activities of the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council, and for other purposes." The Justice Department recommends that the President approve the bill.

H.R. 2305 would authorize the director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia, the director of the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency, the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, the director of the Bureau of Prisons, the chair of the United States Parole Commission, and the director of the Marshals Service to participate in the activities of the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council ("the council"). Additionally, it would require the council to report annually on its activities to the President, the Congress, and the entities represented on the council. It would authorize annual appropriations of such sums as might be necessary for the council's costs.

The United States Attorney's Office for the District of Columbia was one of the original members of the working group formed to assist District of Columbia police chief Larry Soulsby in improving the Metropolitan Police Department. Later, this working group was expanded and transformed into the council. Among other things, the council is charged with making recommendations to coordinate the activities and mobilize the resources of the member agencies in order to improve the criminal justice system of the District of Columbia and to improve public safety. For example, during the previous year, the members of the council have been working to reduce court-related police overtime. The congressional committees with oversight over the District of Columbia raised this issue as a particular concern and the council has made significant strides in addressing it. The council also has been developing an integrated computer system for law enforcement agencies ("JUSTIS") in order to reduce duplication of effort and to ensure that each agency can obtain correct and current information from the others.

The prosecutorial function remained with the Federal government when home rule was established for the District in the early 1970's and the Federal government performs many of the criminal justice activities that normally would be performed for municipalities by State governments (such as the operation of prisons, parole and supervised release, and pretrial services). When the District faced a severe fiscal crisis in the mid 1990's, it was important that there be a mechanism to help coordinate the work of Federal agencies and the work of the local agencies, that Federal agencies be authorized to participate in such a mechanism, and that a Federal contribution to work of this mechanism be authorized. The council is that mechanism and the legislation will help advance its mission.

Thank you for the opportunity to present our views. Please feel free to call upon us if we may be of additional assistance.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Daniels:

This responds to your request for my views and recommendations on the enrolled bill, H.R. 2305, the "Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring Act of 2001." Thank you for seeking my input on this important legislative initiative. For the reasons set forth below, I recommend that the President approve the bill.

The Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia (CJCC) was established as an independent agency by local legislation in FY02. Unlike most local jurisdictions, the District is in the unique position of having federal criminal justice agencies provide traditionally local justice management functions. The CJCC provides an organizational structure in which the numerous local and federal criminal justice agencies in the District coordinate efforts, consider policy positions, and leverage their resources. The CJCC has existed by memorandum of understanding since 1998 and has proved to be a vital resource in improving the administration of justice in the District of Columbia. This piece of legislation will help ensure the continuity and success of the organization.

Thank you again for the opportunity to present my views on this important legislation. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or require additional information.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Jukes:

Thank you for the opportunity to review Enrolled Bill H.R. 2305, Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring Act of 2001. The Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency (CSOSA) has no objection to the President signing the bill.

The Criminal Justice Coordinating Council (CJCC) has been a valuable resource to the local criminal justice community in the District of Columbia. CSOSA has been an active member and supporter of the Council since its inception and we look forward to our continued involvement in CJCC activities.

If any additional information is required, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Enrolled Bill H.R. 2305 - Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring
Act of 2002
Sponsor - Rep. Morella (R) Maryland and Del. Norton (D) District of Columbia

Last Day for Action

May 20, 2002 - Monday

Purpose

Authorizes Federal agencies with responsibility for the administration of the criminal justice system of the District of Columbia to serve on the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council.

Agency Recommendations

Office of Management and Budget	Approval
Department of Justice	Approval
District of Columbia	Approval
Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency	No objection
Department of the Treasury	No objection (informally)
Smithsonian Institution	No objection (informally)

Discussion

The Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia (CJCC) serves as the primary venue for coordination among the 13 Federal and local agencies that have law enforcement responsibilities in the District of Columbia. The CJCC was originally established on May 28, 1998, pursuant to a Memorandum of Agreement entered into among several District and Federal entities. In August 2001, the District of Columbia enacted a law establishing the CJCC as an independent agency within the District of Columbia, with the Mayor as its Chair.

Authorization of Federal Officials to Serve on the CJCC. H.R. 2305 would authorize the heads of six Federal entities to serve on the CJCC, participate in the Council's activities, and take such other actions as may be necessary to carry out their duties as members of the Council. These six entity heads are: (1) the Director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia; (2) the Director of the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency; (3) the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia; (4) the Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons; (5) the chair of the United States Parole Commission; and (6) the Director of the United States Marshals Service.

Annual Report. The enrolled bill would require the CJCC to submit to the President, Congress, and each of the entities of the Federal and D.C. governments whose representatives serve on the CJCC an annual report describing its activities during the year. The report would be due within 60 days after the end of each calendar year.

Authorization of Appropriations. H.R. 2305 would also authorize annual appropriations for each fiscal year beginning with FY 2002 of such sums as may be necessary for a Federal contribution to the District of Columbia to cover the costs incurred by the CJCC. The FY 2002 District of Columbia Appropriations Act (P.L. 107-96) provided for a Federal payment of $300,000 to the District for the CJCC. Your FY 2003 Budget does not allocate any funds toward this purpose.

Conclusion and Recommendations

The Department of Justice recommends approval of H.R. 2305 because it will advance the mission of the CJCC.

The Mayor of the District of Columbia recommends approval of H.R. 2305. The Mayor notes that "[u]nlike most local jurisdictions, the District is in the unique position of having federal criminal justice agencies provide traditionally local justice management functions." The Mayor advises that the CJCC "has proved to be a vital resource in improving the administration of justice in the District of Columbia," by helping Federal and local agencies coordinate efforts and leverage resources. The Mayor states that H.R. 2305 "will help ensure the continuity and success of the organization."

We join the Department of Justice and the D.C. Mayor in recommending approval of H.R. 2305, which passed the House by voice vote and the Senate by unanimous consent.

SUBJECT: Enrolled Bill H.R. 2305 - Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring
Act of 2002
Sponsor - Rep. Morella (R) Maryland and Del. Norton (D) District of Columbia

Last Day for Action

May 20, 2002 - Monday

Purpose

Authorizes Federal agencies with responsibility for the administration of the criminal justice system of the District of Columbia to serve on the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council.

Agency Recommendations

Office of Management and Budget	Approval
Department of Justice	Approval
District of Columbia	Approval
Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency	No objection
Department of the Treasury	No objection (informally)
Smithsonian Institution	No objection (informally)

Discussion

The Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia (CJCC) serves as the primary venue for coordination among the 13 Federal and local agencies that have law enforcement responsibilities in the District of Columbia. The CJCC was originally established on May 28, 1998, pursuant to a Memorandum of Agreement entered into among several District and Federal entities. In August 2001, the District of Columbia enacted a law establishing the CJCC as an independent agency within the District of Columbia, with the Mayor as its Chair.

Authorization of Federal Officials to Serve on the CJCC. H.R. 2305 would authorize the heads of six Federal entities to serve on the CJCC, participate in the Council's activities, and take such other actions as may be necessary to carry out their duties as members of the Council. These six entity heads are: (1) the Director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia; (2) the Director of the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency; (3) the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia; (4) the Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons; (5) the chair of the United States Parole Commission; and (6) the Director of the United States Marshals Service.

Annual Report. The enrolled bill would require the CJCC to submit to the President, Congress, and each of the entities of the Federal and D.C. governments whose representatives serve on the CJCC an annual report describing its activities during the year. The report would be due within 60 days after the end of each calendar year.

Authorization of Appropriations. H.R. 2305 would also authorize annual appropriations for each fiscal year beginning with FY 2002 of such sums as may be necessary for a Federal contribution to the District of Columbia to cover the costs incurred by the CJCC. The FY 2002 District of Columbia Appropriations Act (P.L. 107-96) provided for a Federal payment of $300,000 to the District for the CJCC. Your FY 2003 Budget does not allocate any funds toward this purpose.

Conclusion and Recommendations

The Department of Justice recommends approval of H.R. 2305 because it will advance the mission of the CJCC:

The Mayor of the District of Columbia recommends approval of H.R. 2305. The Mayor notes that "[u]nlike most local jurisdictions, the District is in the unique position of having federal criminal justice agencies provide traditionally local justice management functions." The Mayor advises that the CJCC "has proved to be a vital resource in improving the administration of justice in the District of Columbia," by helping Federal and local agencies coordinate efforts and leverage resources. The Mayor states that H.R. 2305 "will help ensure the continuity and success of the organization."

We join the Department of Justice and the D.C. Mayor in recommending approval of H.R. 2305, which passed the House by voice vote and the Senate by unanimous consent.

Discussion

The Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia (CJCC) serves as the primary venue for coordination among the 13 Federal and local agencies that have law enforcement responsibilities in the District of Columbia. The CJCC was originally established on May 28, 1998, pursuant to a Memorandum of Agreement entered into among several District and Federal entities. In August 2001, the District of Columbia enacted a law establishing the CJCC as an independent agency within the District of Columbia, with the Mayor as its Chair.

Authorization of Federal Officials to Serve on the CJCC. H.R. 2305 would authorize the heads of six Federal entities to serve on the CJCC, participate in the Council's activities, and take such other actions as may be necessary to carry out their duties as members of the Council. These six entity heads are: (1) the Director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia; (2) the Director of the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency; (3) the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia; (4) the Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons; (5) the chair of the United States Parole Commission; and (6) the Director of the United States Marshals Service.

Annual Report. The enrolled bill would require the CJCC to submit to the President, Congress, and each of the entities of the Federal and D.C. governments whose representatives serve on the CJCC an annual report describing its activities during the year. The report would be due within 60 days after the end of each calendar year.

Authorization of Appropriations. H.R. 2305 would also authorize annual appropriations for each fiscal year beginning with FY 2002 of such sums as may be necessary for a Federal contribution to the District of Columbia to cover the costs incurred by the CJCC. The FY 2002 District of Columbia Appropriations Act (P.L. 107-96) provided for a Federal payment of $300,000 to the District for the CJCC. Your FY 2003 Budget does not allocate any funds toward this purpose.

Conclusion and Recommendations

The Department of Justice recommends approval of H.R. 2305 because it will advance the mission of the CJCC.

The Mayor of the District of Columbia recommends approval of H.R. 2305. The Mayor notes that "[u]nlike most local jurisdictions, the District is in the unique position of having federal criminal justice agencies provide traditionally local justice management functions." The Mayor advises that the CJCC "has proved to be a vital resource in improving the administration of justice in the District of Columbia," by helping Federal and local agencies coordinate efforts and leverage resources. The Mayor states that H.R. 2305 "will help ensure the continuity and success of the organization."

We join the Department of Justice and the D.C. Mayor in recommending approval of H.R. 2305, which passed the House by voice vote and the Senate by unanimous consent.

I. PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

The purpose of H.R. 2305, the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring Act of 2001, is to authorize the heads of six Federal agencies, specifically, the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia, the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency, the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, the Federal Bureau of Prisons, the United States Parole Commission, and the United States Marshals Service, to meet regularly with District law enforcement officials as the "Criminal Justice Coordinating Council" (CJCC). H.R. 2305 strengthens the CJCC by authorizing Federal participation and funds. H.R. 2305 requires the CJCC to submit to the President, Congress, and appropriate Federal and local agencies an annual report detailing its activities.

II. BACKGROUND

The Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia (CJCC) is the primary venue in which District of Columbia criminal justice agencies can identify and address interagency coordination issues. The CJCC for the District of Columbia was originally established pursuant to a Memorandum of Agreement entered into on May 28, 1998 by the Mayor of the District of Columbia, the Chief of the Metropolitan Police Department, the Chair of the Council of the District of Columbia, the Chair of the Judiciary Committee of the Council of the District of Columbia, the Chief Judge of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia, the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, the Corporation Counsel of the District of Columbia, the Chief Management Officer, the Corrections Trustee of the District of Columbia, the Offender Supervision Trustee of the District of Columbia, and three members of the District of Columbia Financial Responsibility and Management Assistance Authority (also known as the "Control Board."). It has operated as an independent working group to foster cooperation among the 13 governmental agencies which have law enforcement responsibility in our Nation's capital.

CJCC's mission is to address coordination difficulties among District of Columbia criminal justice agencies. CJCC members have typically met every four to six weeks and have formed numerous teams to address criminal justice issues, such as drugs, juvenile justice, halfway houses, information technology, and identification of arrestees. CJCC staff have coordinated meetings, provided data and statistics, summarized workgroup findings, performed best practices reviews, and provided other information and support to District of Columbia criminal justice agencies.

Establishment as a local agency

As part of a local enactment in August 2001, the Fiscal Year 2002 Budget Support Emergency Act of 2001 (District of Columbia Laws Act 14-124, Title XV), the CJCC was established as an independent agency within the District of Columbia.

Under this local law, the Mayor of the District of Columbia is designated as the Chair of the CJCC. Other members include the Chairman of the Council of the District of Columbia; the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Council of the District of Columbia; the Chief Judge of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia; the Chief of the Metropolitan Police Department; the Director of the District of Columbia Department of Corrections; the Corporation Counsel for the District of Columbia; the Director of the Department of Human Services' Youth Services Administration; the Director of the Public Defender Service; the Director of the Pretrial Services Agency; the Director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency; the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia; the District of Columbia Corrections Trustee; the Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons; and the chair of the United States Parole Commission.

The 2001 local law enumerates eight specific duties of the CJCC. Among them are the responsibility to: make recommendations concerning the coordination of the activities and the mobilization of the resources of the member agencies in improving public safety in, and the criminal justice system of, the District of Columbia; define and analyze issues and procedures in the criminal justice system, identify alternative solutions, and make recommendations for improvements and changes in the programs of the criminal justice system; receive information from, and give assistance to, other District of Columbia agencies concerned with, or affected by, issues of public safety and the criminal justice system; make recommendations regarding systematic operational and infrastructural matters as are believed necessary to improve public safety in the District of Columbia and Federal criminal justice agencies; and establish measurable goals and objectives for reform initiatives.

Federal funding

The FY 2002 appropriations for the District of Columbia (P.L. 107-96, 115 Stat. 923 at 925) provides for a Federal payment of $300,000 to the City Administrator for the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia.

GAO assessment of criminal justice coordination challenges in the District of Columbia

In March 2001 the General Accounting Office (GAO) released a report, "D.C. Criminal Justice System,"¹ on the effectiveness of coordination among the District's various criminal justice entities. As explained by GAO, the criminal justice process—from arrest through correctional supervision—in any jurisdiction is generally complex and typically involves a number of participants including police, prosecutors, defense attorneys, courts, and corrections agencies. Because of the large number of agencies involved, coordination among agencies is necessary for the process to function as efficiently as possible within the requirements of due process.

GAO emphasized that the unique structure and funding of the District of Columbia's criminal justice system, in which Federal and District of Columbia jurisdictional boundaries and dollars are blended, creates additional coordination challenges. The District of Columbia criminal justice system consists of four District of Columbia agencies principally funded through local funds, six Federal agencies, and three District of Columbia agencies principally funded through Federal appropriations. Seven of the ten stages of the District of Columbia's criminal justice system require coordination among agencies funded by different sources.

Because of the different sources of funding, reporting structures, and organizational perspectives of the various agencies involved in the District of Columbia criminal justice system, GAO stressed that it has been difficult in the District of Columbia to coordinate systemwide activities, reach agreement on the nature of systemwide problems, and take a coordinated approach to addressing problem areas that balances competing institutional interests. CJCC's ability to effect cooperation among the various agencies has been limited because it has no formal authority or power over any member agency.

According to GAO, without a requirement to report successes and areas of continuing discussion and disagreement to each agency's funding source, CJCC's activities, achievements, and areas of disagreement have generally been known only to its participating agencies. GAO observed that this has created little incentive to coordinate for the common good, and all too often agencies have simply "agreed to disagree" without taking action. Further, without a meaningful role in the establishment of multi-agency initiatives, CJCC has been unable to ensure that criminal justice initiatives are designed to identify the potential for joint improvements, and that they are carefully coordinated among all affected agencies.

GAO found that while there has been notable success in areas where agencies share a common interest, there is a general lack of coordination among participating agencies. According to GAO, poor coordination of numerous projects, such as case processing, information technology, correctional supervision, and the sharing of responsibilities among agencies, have led to inefficient operations and poor program performance. GAO also stated that funding is a problem for CJCC because the Control Board disbanded in 2001 and because funding of CJCC through any individual participating agency potentially diminishes its stature as an independent entity in the eyes of several CJCC member agencies, reducing their willingness to participate.

GAO offered several recommendations to address the deficiencies identified. Among them, GAO recommended that Congress consider funding CJCC; require CJCC to report annually to Congress, the Attorney General, and the Mayor of the District of Columbia; and require all District of Columbia criminal justice agencies to report multi-agency activities to the CJCC, which would serve as a "clearinghouse" for these initiatives.

III. LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

H.R. 2305 was introduced on June 25, 2001 by Representative Connie Morella (R-MD) and Delegate Eleanor Holmes Norton (D-DC). It was referred to the House Government Reform Subcommittee on the District of Columbia on July 9, 2001. H.R. 2305 was amended in the subcommittee to address concerns raised by the Department of Justice that requiring participation by the Federal entities designated in the bill in this locally-constituted body could be read to authorize the local agencies comprising a majority of the CJCC to make decisions with binding authority on the Federal agency participants.² The amendment allays the concern by making clear that Federal agency involvement is merely authorized, but not required, thereby making clear that the bill does not impose on the Federal agencies any obligation to accede to CJCC decisions. H.R. 2305, as amended, was reported to the full House Committee on Government Reform by voice vote on September 21, 2001.

² Letter of July 31, 2001 to Representative Connie Morella from Assistant Attorney General Daniel J. Bryant.

On December 4, 2001, H.R. 2305, as amended, was considered by the House of Representatives under suspension of the rules, and passed by voice vote. H.R. 2305, as passed in the House, was received in the Senate on December 5, 2001, and referred to the Committee on Governmental Affairs. On December 17, 2001, the bill was referred to the Subcommittee on Oversight of Government Management, Restructuring, and the District of Columbia.

On March 14, 2002, H.R. 2305 was favorably polled out of the Governmental Affairs Subcommittee on Oversight of Government Management, Restructuring, and the District of Columbia. H.R. 2305 was considered by the Committee on Governmental Affairs on March 21, 2002, approved by voice vote, and ordered to be reported, with no Members present dissenting.

Present were Senators Akaka, Bennett, Cleland, Cochran, Levin, Lieberman, Stevens, Thompson, and Voinovich.

IV. SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Section 1 entitles the Act as the "Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring Act of 2001."

Section 2 authorizes the Director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia, the Director of the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency, the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, the Director of the Bureau of Prisons, the chair of the United States Parole Commission, and the Director of the United States Marshals Service to serve on the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council, participate in the Council's activities, and take such other actions as may be necessary to carry out the individual's duties as a member of the Council.

Section 3 requires that not later than 60 days after the end of each calendar year, the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council shall prepare and submit to the President, Congress, and each of the entities of the District of Columbia government and Federal government whose representatives serve on the Council a report describing the activities carried out by the Council during the year.

Section 4 authorizes such sums to be appropriated for fiscal year 2002 and each succeeding fiscal year as may be necessary for a Federal contribution to the District of Columbia to cover the costs incurred by the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council.

Section 5 defines the 'District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council' as the entity established by the Council of the District of Columbia under the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia Establishment Act of 2001.

V. ESTIMATED COST OF LEGISLATION

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, April 3, 2002.

Hon. JOSEPH I. LIEBERMAN,
Chairman, Committee on Government Affairs,
U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 2305, the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring Act of 2002.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contacts are Matthew Pickford (for federal costs), and Susan Sieg Tompkins (for the state and local impact).

Sincerely,

BARRY B. ANDERSON
(For Dan L. Crippen, Director).

Enclosure.

H.R. 2305—Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring Act of 2002

H.R. 2305 would authorize certain federal officials involved in the criminal justice system of the District of Columbia to serve on and participate in the activities of the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council. The act would authorize the appropriation of the necessary sums to cover the costs incurred by the council.

Assuming the appropriation of the necessary funds, CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 2305 would cost about $500,000 annually. That estimate assumes that the council would hire a staff of five individuals. Because the act would not affect direct spending or receipts, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply.

H.R. 2305 would require the District of Columbia Justice Coordinating Council to prepare an annual report describing the activities carried out by the council during the year. This requirement would be an intergovernmental mandate as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA). CBO estimates that the cost to the District of Columbia in complying with this mandate would not be significant and thus would fall well below the threshold established by UMRA ($58 million in 2002, adjusted annually for inflation). Further, the bill would authorize funding to cover the costs incurred by the council. The act contains no private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA.

The CBO staff contacts for this estimate are Matthew Pickford (for federal costs), and Susan Sieg Tompkins (for the state and local impact). This estimate was approved by Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analyst.

VI. EVALUATION OF REGULATORY IMPACT

Paragraph 11(b)(1) of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate requires that each report accompanying a bill evaluate the "regulatory impact which would be incurred in carrying out this bill." Carrying out H.R. 2305 would have no regulatory impact. In addition, as explained in the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) letter, H.R. 2305 would require the District of Columbia Coordinating Council to prepare annual report describing the activities carried out by the Council during the year. This requirement would be an intergovernmental mandate as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA). CBO has estimated that the cost to the District of Columbia to comply with this mandate would not be significant and thus would fall well below the threshold established by UMRA. Further, the bill would authorize funding to cover the costs incurred by the Council. H.R. 2305 contains no private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA.

VII. CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW

In compliance with paragraph 12 of rule XXVI of the Standing Rules of the Senate, the Committee states that H.R. 2305, as reported, makes no changes in existing law.

One Hundred Seventh Congress of the United States of America

AT THE SECOND SESSION

Begun and held at the City of Washington on Wednesday, the twenty-third day of January, two thousand and two

An Act

To authorize certain Federal officials with responsibility for the administration of the criminal justice system of the District of Columbia to serve on and participate in the activities of the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Criminal Justice Coordinating Council Restructuring Act of 2002".

SEC. 2. AUTHORIZING FEDERAL OFFICIALS ADMINISTERING CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM OF DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA TO PARTICIPATE IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE COORDINATING COUNCIL.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Each of the individuals described in subsection (b) is authorized to serve on the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council, participate in the Council's activities, and take such other actions as may be necessary to carry out the individual's duties as a member of the Council.

(b) INDIVIDUALS DESCRIBED.—The individuals described in this subsection are as follows:

- (1) The Director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia.
- (2) The Director of the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency.
- (3) The United States Attorney for the District of Columbia.
- (4) The Director of the Bureau of Prisons.
- (5) The chair of the United States Parole Commission.
- (6) The Director of the United States Marshals Service.

SEC. 3. ANNUAL REPORTING REQUIREMENT FOR CRIMINAL JUSTICE COORDINATING COUNCIL.

Not later than 60 days after the end of each calendar year, the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council shall prepare and submit to the President, Congress, and each of the entities of the District of Columbia government and Federal Government whose representatives serve on the Council a report describing the activities carried out by the Council during the year.

SEC. 4. FEDERAL CONTRIBUTION FOR COORDINATING COUNCIL.

There are authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 2002 and each succeeding fiscal year such sums as may be necessary for a Federal contribution to the District of Columbia to cover the costs incurred by the District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council.

H. R. 2305—2

SEC. 5. DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA CRIMINAL JUSTICE COORDINATING COUNCIL DEFINED.

In this Act, the "District of Columbia Criminal Justice Coordinating Council" means the entity established by the Council of the District of Columbia under the Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia Establishment Act of 2001.

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

*Vice President of the United States and

Discussion

The Criminal Justice Coordinating Council for the District of Columbia (CJCC) serves as the primary venue for coordination among the 13 Federal and local agencies that have law enforcement responsibilities in the District of Columbia. The CJCC was originally established on May 28, 1998, pursuant to a Memorandum of Agreement entered into among several District and Federal entities. In August 2001, the District of Columbia enacted a law establishing the CJCC as an independent agency within the District of Columbia, with the Mayor as its Chair.

Authorization of Federal Officials to Serve on the CJCC. H.R. 2305 would authorize the heads of six Federal entities to serve on the CJCC, participate in the Council's activities, and take such other actions as may be necessary to carry out their duties as members of the Council. These six entity heads are: (1) the Director of the Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency for the District of Columbia; (2) the Director of the District of Columbia Pretrial Services Agency; (3) the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia; (4) the Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons; (5) the chair of the United States Parole Commission; and (6) the Director of the United States Marshals Service.

Annual Report. The enrolled bill would require the CJCC to submit to the President, Congress, and each of the entities of the Federal and D.C. governments whose representatives serve on the CJCC an annual report describing its activities during the year. The report would be due within 60 days after the end of each calendar year.

Authorization of Appropriations. H.R. 2305 would also authorize annual appropriations for each fiscal year beginning with FY 2002 of such sums as may be necessary for a Federal contribution to the District of Columbia to cover the costs incurred by the CJCC. The FY 2002 District of Columbia Appropriations Act (P.L. 107-96) provided for a Federal payment of $300,000 to the District for the CJCC. Your FY 2003 Budget does not allocate any funds toward this purpose.

Conclusion and Recommendations

The Department of Justice recommends approval of H.R. 2305 because it will advance the mission of the CJCC.

The Mayor of the District of Columbia recommends approval of H.R. 2305. The Mayor notes that "[u]nlike most local jurisdictions, the District is in the unique position of having federal criminal justice agencies provide traditionally local justice management functions." The Mayor advises that the CJCC "has proved to be a vital resource in improving the administration of justice in the District of Columbia," by helping Federal and local agencies coordinate efforts and leverage resources. The Mayor states that H.R. 2305 "will help ensure the continuity and success of the organization."

We join the Department of Justice and the D.C. Mayor in recommending approval of H.R. 2305, which passed the House by voice vote and the Senate by unanimous consent.
