HEADLINE: Hillary Clinton recalls princess;
Gore signs condolence book at embassy, expresses loss

BYLINE: Susan Feeney, Washington Bureau of The Dallas Morning News

DATELINE: EDGARTOWN, Mass.

BODY:

EDGARTOWN, Mass. - First lady Hillary Rodham Clinton on Thursday paid tribute to Princess Diana, praising her "courage and persistence in getting up and going on whenever life knocked her to the mat."

In her weekly nationally syndicated newspaper column, released by the White House as the Clintons vacationed, Mrs. Clinton asked that Americans who mourn the death of the Princess of Wales honor her by "reaching out and bringing love and comfort to all ...

... memory of the people's princess will endure throughout the world."

Mrs. Gore signed her name next to the vice president's message.

Mrs. Clinton, who will travel to London for Saturday's funeral, wrote that Diana "was much more than a fashion plate, an ...

... British Embassy luncheon in June 1994.

"We talked of the challenges of public life and the struggle to protect our children from the scrutiny of the world," Mrs. Clinton wrote. "She told me of her new hopes and plans for using her position to focus attention on the needs of suffering people.

"Although she ...

... despite great obstacles."

When they last met in June over tea in the historic White House Map Room, Mrs. Clinton said they exchanged news about their families. They shared a passion about raising their children as normally as possible, given their high ...

HEADLINE: White House spokesman clarifies decision to send first lady to funeral

BYLINE: Susan Feeney, Washington Bureau of The Dallas Morning News

DATELINE: EDGARTOWN, Mass.

BODY:

EDGARTOWN, Mass. - The White House elaborated Wednesday on its decision to send first lady Hillary Rodham Clinton and not the president to Princess Diana's funeral in London on Saturday.

Spokesman Joe Lockhart corrected his statement of Tuesday to say that Mrs. Clinton, along with the U.S. ambassador to Britain, retired Adm. William Crowe, will officially represent the United States at the ceremony.

Mrs. Clinton's visit will not be purely personal, as he had said. But Mr. Lockhart stressed that the first lady's attendance is because of her personal ties to the princess. The two have met a handful of times.

The spokesman repeated that Buckingham Palace and the Spencer family had decided to invite Mrs. Clinton, not the president. But he emphasized that the invitation was issued "in consultation" with U.S. officials and that President Clinton had spoken with British Prime ...
