MEETING WITH NATIONAL AIDS POLICY COORDINATOR

Memorandum

To: Anthony Lake

Fr: Eric Schwartz

Subject: Meeting With Christine Gebbie, National AIDS Policy
Coordinator, Wednesday, 11:30 am

Ms. Gebbie has sought this meeting to discuss international efforts to combat AIDS, with which she is quite familiar. She has recently travelled to Europe to discuss AIDS issues with governments and international organizations.

Ms. Gebbie views this meeting as a chance to provide you with information on her activities and her mandate. Particular issues she may raise include:

- USAID Funding for HIV/AIDS: like other USAID programs, HIV/AIDS programs were expected to take big hits this year. Through active lobbying by Ms. Gebbie's office, FY 1994 AIDS funding will suffer only a 4% cut, from $120 million to $115 million. Ms. Gebbie may wish to discuss levels for future years.
- G-7 Summit on AIDS: this Summit is expected to take place in France in April. Ms. Gebbie hopes that it will be the first of regular meetings among AIDS representatives from the G-7.
- WHO International Conference on AIDS: Scheduled to take place in Japan in July. The location has taken on added significance in view of recent Japanese Government commitments to substantial international AIDS funding.
- International Coordination: The USG is co-sponsor with Japan and other countries of a proposed initiative that would merge the activities of the WHO's Global Program on AIDS with other UN agencies involved in AIDS. The purpose of this initiative is to coordinate more closely all UN AIDS-related activities.

Global HIV/AIDS Information

- The WHO estimates that by the year 2000 the cumulative total of HIV infections in men, women and children will be between 30 and 40 million. This is a conservative prediction.
 - By the year 2000, 90 percent of the HIV infections will have occurred in the developing world. The WHO estimates that by mid-1993 more than 8 million HIV infections and 1.5 million cases of AIDS had occurred in sub-Saharan Africa. In some cities across the African continent, HIV has infected between a quarter and a third of adults between the ages of 15 and 49. Figures for North Africa and the Middle East are unclear but the WHO believes that more than 75,000 cumulative HIV infections have occurred in that region.
- There is indication that Asia will surpass Africa in terms of numbers of HIV positive persons. The spread of the disease in Thailand and India is growing at an exponential rate and is attributed to commercial sex trade and increased drug (needle) use.
 - The Latin American and Caribbean region claim about 1.5 million infections with over 240,000 AIDS cases.

U.S. Involvement in Global HIV/AIDS

The major USG agencies involved with HIV/AIDS internationally are the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (HHS), the NIH-Fogerty International Center (HHS), DOD and USAID.

CDC: Short term technical assistance, training to support HIV prevention activities. In particular, CDC has been involved in three long-term research projects in Cote d'Ivoire, Thailand, and, until recently, Zaire.

NIH-Fogerty: Sponsor of the AIDS International Training and Research Program, designed to increase the capacity of foreign scientists to deal with AIDS issues, to support research and to stimulate information-sharing among scientists worldwide.

DOD: Sponsor of programs in basic and applied research (about $50 million per year), including search for a viable vaccine. DOD also has treatment ($250 million) and prevention ($10 million) programs for military.

USAID: Supports interventions in over 70 countries. From fiscal years 1986 to 1992, USAID committed more than $400 million to HIV/AIDS prevention activities through bilateral programs and contributions to the multilateral efforts of the WHO Global Program on AIDS.

SUBJECT: RE: MEETING WITH NATIONAL AIDS POLICY COORDINATOR

Eric,

I have just rescheduled Christine Gebbie for 4:00 pm on Monday, March 14th.

Her staff person (Stephen Lee) is very disappointed -- he said that Ms. Gebbie has scheduled meetings with foreign officials to discuss the international AIDS issue and had been counting on her meeting with Mr. Lake today in preparation for those meetings.

I explained that our schedule has fallen apart with unscheduled events which have precluded Mr. Lake's availability today and that we very much regret having to reschedule.

Mr. Lee said that she will want to meet with "Mr. Lake's surrogate" in the meantime -- so Mr. Lee will be in touch with you.

Over to you . . .

I sent the National Security Strategy Report to David Hohman in Secretary Shalala's office. He handles international affairs for HHS. They were interested in seeing it because the Post article gave the impression that the document emphasized AIDs and population control. In fact, AIDs is only mentioned twice and he was satisfied with our treatment of the topic. He also said that the population control section "seemed fine" to him.

He will read the report more closely tonight and get back to us tomorrow but he anticipates no further problems with (or interest in) the report.

VPOTUS MEETING WITH SONG JIAN

The Vice President is are scheduled to meet tomorrow with Professor Song Jian, Chairman of the Chinese State Science and Technology Council and one of 14 State Councillors, who constitute the inner cabinet of the government. This meeting presents an opportunity to emphasize the potential benefit of enhanced S&T cooperation with China, and the necessity of overcoming significant barriers in order to realize that potential.

Song and I just completed an all-day meeting of the Joint S&T Commission, which went very well. The various presentations and dialogue clearly highlighted the rich and diverse opportunities for cooperation of mutual benefit to both countries. At our meeting we touched on cooperation in areas of health (drug development for cancer and AIDS), environmental technologies, advanced materials (superconductors, automotive components), and energy efficiency, renewable energy and clean coal technologies.

I suggest that the Vice President present two visions of the world to Song Jian. First, under the right conditions, the United States and China can reap the rewards of close cooperation in science and technology (with reference back to the successful meeting we had today). An early manifestation of this approach could be the Vice President's willingness to lend his support to a high-level S&T mission to China in June (if the MFN decision is favorable). The delegation would include myself, Mary Good and Neal Lane. Ron Brown is also planning on leading a Presidential trade mission to China in June, also pending a positive MFN decision.

The second scenario is one in which China and the United States remain at odds over important unresolved issues, including human rights. It is in this context that you can then drive home the point that we cannot achieve the desirable objectives of cooperation unless there is significant progress in areas of concern to the President and the American people, as described in the Executive Order on MFN.

The message to Song Jian will clearly be that choice of which scenario will be realized will depend on the Chinese and their actions over the next few weeks and months. The message will have particular impact because it will be in the context of a candid conversation in the privacy of your office, rather than being done in a more public setting.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

Nancy Soderberg

(SODERBERG)

M. Brooke Darby

(DARBY)

FROM:

Sandra J. Kristoff
(KRISTOFF)

SUBJECT:

Vietnamese Participation in CDC AIDS Seminar

Nancy--

State has received an inquiry from the Center for Disease Control asking whether it is permissible for CDC to allow two Vietnamese doctors, specialists in HIV and infectious diseases, to participate in a two week seminar in early September on AIDS. CDC would cover expenses for the two doctors who have been nominated by their Ministry of Health for participation in this international seminar.

This issue is not covered specifically by existing NSC deputies guidance on interactions with Vietnam. State and I would be inclined to say yes to CDC's inquiry since the health area is one where a clear human needs rationale applies.

Please give me your guidance on this.

Thanks.

Sandy K.
