Dear Ms. Thurman;

Thank you so much for your participation in the Congressional briefing on "Generations in Peril: Children Orphaned by AIDS" on Capitol Hill on September 12. The issue of orphans affected by HIV/AIDS, especially in Sub-Saharan Africa, has not received the political attention it is due until recently. And thanks to your hard work and tireless efforts, children's issues have been raised to a new level of importance.

I look forward to continuing to work together to educate Congress and the public to strengthen the response to assist children orphaned by the AIDS pandemic. I am so pleased with the response to the briefing, and hope it will facilitate increased dialogue and cooperation in Congress and the NGO community about the leadership role the US must take in the global response to the needs worldwide.

Warm best wishes,

Dear Ms. Thurman:

It is with great pleasure that I invite you to a very special luncheon in honor of His Excellency Paul Kagame, President of The Republic of Rwanda. President Kagame will participate in the Millennium Assembly of the United Nations, and as part of his trip to the United States, he has graciously accepted our invitation to visit the University of Maryland. This will be his only public appearance in the Washington Metropolitan area.

The luncheon will be held in the President's residence on the College Park campus on Monday, September 11, 2000, at 12:30 p.m. Following lunch, at 2:30 p.m., President Kagame will give a public lecture in the Colony Ballroom of the Stamp Student Union. The lecture, entitled "Between Chaos and Development in the Great Lakes: Lessons from Rwanda," will reflect on the challenges facing the Republic of Rwanda today.

President Kagame will be accompanied by The Honorable Dr. Richard Sezibera, Ambassador of Rwanda to the United States. I am especially pleased to note that our Center for International Development and Conflict Management has established a three-year partnership with the National University of Rwanda through a generous grant from the United States Agency for International Development. The partnership includes collaboration between the universities in distance education, computer science development, and conflict management.

Please let me know if you will be able to accept my invitation for the private luncheon and the lecture by calling my assistant, Ms. Sapienza Barone, at (301) 405-5790, no later than September 6th.

I very much hope that you will be able to join me as we welcome President Kagame to the University of Maryland.

Yours sincerely,

C. D. Mote, Jr.
President
