A large, detailed illustration of the American flag is the central focus of the page. The flag is shown waving and is rendered in a stippled or cross-hatched style. The eagle on the flag's canton is also depicted in this style. The flag is positioned behind the main text block.

Let's give our children a future. Let us take away their guns and give them books. Let us overcome their despair and replace it with hope. Let us, by our example, teach them to obey the law, respect our neighbors, and cherish our values. Let us weave these sturdy threads into a new American community that can once more stand strong against the forces of despair and evil because everybody has a chance to walk into a better tomorrow.

- President Clinton
State of the Union Address
January 25, 1994
