JOINT DECLARATION ON THE OCCASION OF THE STATE VISIT OF PRESIDENT WILLIAM J. CLINTON

On the invitation of the President of the Republic of Chile, Eduardo Frei Ruíz-Tagle, the President of the United States of America, Mr. William J. Clinton, made a State visit to Chile, April 16-17, 1998.

The President of the United States was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Hillary Rodham Clinton, and by a high-level delegation .... (to be specified).

In recent years, the United States and Chile have established lasting and close relations, arising from a mutual commitment to respect democracy and human rights, open markets, and free trade. This joint vision was reaffirmed during the most recent State visit of President Eduardo Frei to the United States last year, and strengthened on the occasion of the State visit of President William Clinton, which permitted expansion and enhancement of dialogue and bilateral cooperation. Today, the Presidents can note with satisfaction the progress achieved in bilateral relation, which will have a direct impact on the quality of life of their peoples, and, to that effect, agree on the following Joint Declaration:

JOINT DECLARATION

Presidents W.J. Clinton and Eduardo Frei Ruiz-Tagle held working meetings at the Palacio de la Moneda and political discussions at Cerro Castillo in Viña del Mar, at which an overview was done of current bilateral relations, their possibilities, and the regional and world outlook. This occasion also provided an opportunity to assess progress made in ties established since the most recent State visit of President Frei to the United States in February 1997.

This political dialogue is part of Permanent System of High-Level Political Consultation, begun by Presidents Clinton and Frei in 1994. In that regard, they described the current level of relations as excellent and reaffirmed the intent of their Governments to continue strengthening ties between the two countries. They also described the operations of the Agricultural Consultative Committee, the Defense Consultative Committee, and the Consultative Committee for Political and Strategic Affairs as a success. In this context, they agreed to establish a Bilateral Consultative Mechanism and to improve its operations through the appropriate diplomatic channels.

The Presidents reiterate the political commitment of their Governments to ensure that the Second Summit of the Americas, to take place April 18-19 in Santiago, contributes to strengthening hemispheric relations and that the work of the Summit has a concrete and positive impact on the development and well-being of the peoples of the Hemisphere. In that context, they discussed the four major areas of the agenda: Education, Preserving and Strengthening Democracy and Human Rights, Economic Integration and Free Trade, and the Eradication of Poverty and Discrimination.

In addition to underscoring the importance of the Plan of Action which will be considered by the thirty-four Heads of State or Government who will attend the Second Summit of the Americas, both Presidents agreed on the need to continue working together on the process of integration and free trade at the continental level, reaffirming their commitment to the formal start of negotiations for the establishment of the Free Trade Area of the Americas (FTAA) during the Santiago Summit.

With a view to enhancing cooperation, the Presidents agreed upon a program for cooperation between their respective agencies for international development. Initially, this joint effort will focus on scholarships, the cost of which will be borne by both parties, to train persons in Chile, with a view to improving their ability to implement the actions set forth in the Plan of Action of the Summit of the Americas pertaining to combating poverty, strengthening democracy and education, and economic integration (unofficial translation).

- In keeping with the importance attached by their Governments to education as the most effective tool to attain full development of their peoples, the Presidents provided broad support for the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding on Cooperation in Education. This agreement underscores the commitment to work together using computer technology to enhance learning and to reduce poverty. They supported the signing of an agreement by means of which Chile will join the "GLOBE Program" designed to link schools around the world through the Internet, so that students learn to make environmental scientific observations in the surroundings in which they live. The United States and Chile will work together closely to hold hemispheric meetings on this important matter prior to the Third Summit of the Americas.

- Promoting the principles of state modernization, governance, and integrity the Presidents officially concluded the memorandum of understanding between the General Internal Audit Advisory Council of the Government of Chile and the Office of the Inspector General of the United States Department of State at the Palacio de la Moneda on the Promotion and Development of Public Policies to Strengthen Administration.

- The Presidents are firmly convinced that market mechanisms, established by the Kyoto Protocol, will be very helpful in mobilizing private sector resources to reduce the emission of greenhouse gases. They reiterate their support for reviewing and forging ahead with the definition of a Clean Development Mechanism and its possible application as a promising mechanism for encouraging private sector initiatives and investments in Chile and around the world in technologies relating to clean energy, efficient energy, forests, and other activities that reduce, absorb, or eliminate the emission of greenhouse gases. They agree that all countries, developed and developing, should be involved in a global effort to address climate change, taking into account their joint, but differing, responsibilities.

- The Presidents reaffirmed the commitment of their Governments to free trade and the adoption of measures aimed at promoting the competitiveness of their respective countries in the global economy. In light of the economic development achieved in recent years in both countries and with a view to promoting cooperation in regional and multilateral areas, including the WTO, FTAA, and APEC, the Presidents agreed to reactivate and modernize the Bilateral Council on Trade and Investment. This consultative mechanism will be comprised of the different Ministries involved in these topics and will be chaired by the Chilean Minister of Foreign Relations and the U.S. Trade Representative, who will meet within the framework of the Second

WTO Conference to sign the appropriate agreement. The Committee will hold its first meeting prior to October 1998. On that occasion, information will be exchanged on new trade topics, among others, in particular the scope and implications of electronic commerce. Moreover, ways of dealing with, and the consequences of, unfair and restrictive trade practices will be addressed in the context of an increasingly integrated international economy.

- The Presidents of the United States and Chile reaffirm their commitment to the World Trade Organization, including full, effective implementation of the agreements signed during the Uruguay Round. Both countries pledge to continue promoting WTO negotiations that include various aspects of trade and that complement negotiations scheduled for the agriculture and service sectors, starting in the year 2000.

- Presidents William Clinton and Eduardo Frei reviewed topics of common interest relating to recent world economic events, and recognized the importance of applying sound macroeconomic policies, including balanced budgets and financial transparency, which have enabled both nations to continue experiencing high levels of economic growth, despite certain difficulties in other regions of the world. In order to strengthen bilateral financial cooperation, United States and Chilean banking oversight authorities have signed a cooperative agreement, designed to intensify cooperation in the supervision of cross-border banking institutions in the two countries.

- Presidents Clinton and Frei have instructed their experts to begin negotiations on a bilateral agreement to enable nationals of both countries to enjoy social security benefits, with recognition of time worked in either country. (Pending consultations with United States)

- They concurred in the importance of United Nations reform in order to adapt the organization to the demands of the current international situation. With regard to expansion of the Security Council, they reaffirmed the appropriateness of increasing its permanent and non-permanent members on the basis of special interests and equitable geographic representation, with due regard for the agreements reached by the Regional Groups, or, in their absence, by the General Assembly.

- Recognizing the importance of the Organization of American States as the Hemisphere's representative entity, and in order to commend the positive work accomplished and make modernization a reality, the Presidents instruct their Foreign Ministers to support, at the next OAS General Assembly, the initiative designed to establish a High-Level Commission, with the participation of the Secretary General, to draft recommendations that will modernize and revitalize the Organization, with due regard for its relations with other hemispheric institutions. It will also agree on a timetable that will allow for the prompt review, approval, and implementation of recommendations formulated by the High Level Commission.

- Presidents Clinton and Frei reiterated their commitment to continue their work and efforts to promote regional security. They noted the importance their Governments attach to policies designed to achieve greater transparency, both in terms of defense expenditures and conventional arms transfers, and to foster mutual confidence and security-building measures. In that spirit, both leaders support the Regional Transparency Measures for conventional arms purchases. President Clinton applauded the significant role Chile has played in this area. The Presidents reviewed the international scene, and the situations in Iraq, the Middle East, and Bosnia, where Chile is participating with peacekeeping forces, under the mandate of the United Nations.

- Turning to other matters, in their capacity as leaders of Rio Protocol Guarantor Countries, Presidents William Clinton and Eduardo Frei reviewed recent progress achieved by Ecuador and Peru, and appealed to the Governments of those countries to settle their dispute quickly.
