There seems to be a problem with these form letters. (I don't know why I just noticed it.) p-410 is supposed to be about research for serious illnesses, and p-410a is supposed to be about personal experiences with serious illnesses and research to cure them. Yet the letters seem to be reversed. I don't know what the letter load on these is like right now, but could we combine them, just using the current text for p-410, which is really nice?

Please let me know your thoughts on the matter.

Dear John:

Thank you for your heartfelt message. I share your concerns and the concerns of the many people whose lives have been touched by serious illnesses. I am committed to an effective strategy of more research, prevention, education, and treatment in hopes of finding a cure for such devastating illnesses. I value your comments, suggestions, and feelings about this very personal subject, and I will consider them carefully.

Please know that you are in my thoughts.

Sincerely,

(05/31/94)
