Vice President Albert Gore, Jr.
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Vice President Gore:

I am writing to invite you to Tyler House, a housing project at 1200 N. Capitol Street in Washington, on Saturday, June 3, 2000 any time between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. In celebration of our company's Global Volunteer Day, the Vienna, VA iXL office is partnering with kidzonline and Winstar's LATTICE program to implement a Technology Boot Camp at Tyler House.

Almost 100 iXL employees will converge on Tyler House on June 3 to instruct students on how to install new computers donated by Winstar, to teach software classes, to offer job counseling to adults on high-tech careers, to spruce up common areas with fresh paint, and beautify the landscape.

For iXL, this is the launch of a long-term relationship with Tyler House, kidzonline, and Winstar's LATTICE Program. We will provide weekly tutors for the Tyler House after school computer program beginning with the summer session, and continuing into the next school year.

Because of your efforts to bridge the digital divide and your interest in children, we would be honored to have you present for about 30 minutes, or as long as your schedule allows, to help us launch this critical program. Your presence will draw attention to the need for more programs and partnerships like this all across the United States.

I hope that you will give our invitation every consideration.

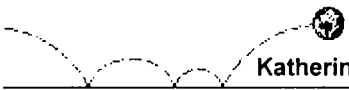

Sincerely,

Subject: Class reunion

Per HRC's request, I called Eileen Stratton who is in charge of the Maine Line '65 reunion. I told her that HRC would love to attend, but that we just weren't sure if she would be able to make the reunion and all that good stuff. HRC just wanted me to touch base with Eileen so she knows HRC rec'd the invite. No form or check was sent.

I told Eileen that the scheduling office would be in touch closer to the date of the reunion. Your office copied the information to me, but should have it as well. Let me know if you need any info back...

Thanks

Dear Missy:

It was great talking to you today. Please give our warmest regards to Bill and his family.

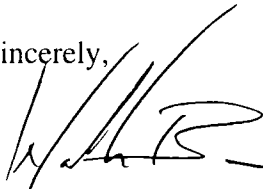

As I mentioned, we have invited the President and First Lady to speak at our annual Nasdaq Educational Foundation National Teaching Awards dinner on April 24th in New York City. No doubt the schedule is already tight, so I wanted to provide an alternate scenario if he were unable to make the dinner. In honor of the awards, we are planning events at the new Nasdaq MarketSite after market hours on the 24th and also a market opening with the winners on the morning of the 25th.

In January, we opened the new MarketSite at #4 Times Square. It's a state-of-the-art video screen, broadcast facility, and public interactive exhibit. The MarketSite tower provides financial news and global market information to viewers throughout Times Square. I have included some literature about Nasdaq and the MarketSite for your review.

Naturally, we believe it would be great visibility for the President and First Lady and a chance for them to see some truly spectacular technology.

Thanks again for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

On April 24, 2000, The Nasdaq Stock Market will recognize five of our nation's most innovative and effective high school teachers at the first annual Nasdaq Educational Foundation National Teaching Awards gala dinner in New York City. It is our honor to invite you and your wife to join us for this very special event.

At the dinner, you and more than 500 other guests—leaders in business, education, and public service among them—will be introduced to the five regional winners of the Nasdaq National Teaching Awards. Each will be honored and one of them will be named the national grand prize winner.

The Nasdaq Stock Market realizes that tomorrow's economy will be in the hands of today's students. By recognizing teachers for their creativity and effectiveness in developing the entrepreneurial spirit and furthering students' awareness of the financial markets, we are doing our part to build a sound economic future for everyone.

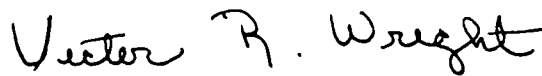

The Nasdaq National Teaching Awards were created through a grant from the Nasdaq Educational Foundation, which is fully funded by The Nasdaq Stock Market, to the National Council on Economic Education, which operates the program in conjunction with its Campaign for Economic Literacy. The success of this year's program will be critical in setting the stage for years to come. If you are not able to join us for dinner on April 24, we hope you will consider attending the ceremony at the new Nasdaq MarketSite in Times Square on Tuesday, April 25, where the award winning teachers will help us open the market at 9:30 a.m.

Individual savings are of paramount importance to a sound future. It is essential that all young people understand the fundamentals of economics and how it affects their lives. For that reason that we are investing in their teachers, challenging them to make economics come alive in the classroom. We are committed to this program and are strong believers that it will continue to pay dividends for many years to come. We hope you will join us.

The President

MEMORANDUM TO MISSY KINCAID
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE FIRST LADY

From: Jana Blair Carter

Date: July 14, 1999

Subject: September event at Albert Einstein College of Medicine in Bronx, New York

Attached is an invitation for the First Lady to attend a ribbon cutting ceremony at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in Bronx, New York. The ribbon cutting will celebrate the opening of a new in-patient facility for the intensive treatment of patients with cancer. The event ideally will take place in early September. The Hospital, however, is very excited at the prospect of the First Lady attending and will of course be more than happy to accommodate her schedule.

What is key is the advanced type of treatment that this center provides, not only to patients around the world, but also to the underserved population of New York City. Without going into the details of the type of treatment, it is my understanding that clinical studies have yielded wonderfully positive results providing hope to many cancer patients.

Finally, I can not say enough about Dr. Howard Kaufman, the developer of the new cancer vaccine used at the clinic and an assistant professor at the College. He is the epitome of what a doctor should be. He uses his talents to alleviate the pain and suffering of others. His sole goal in life is to help people. He has performed numerous procedures on individuals who were unable to pay for their care. Dr. Kaufman simply believes that everyone is entitled to the best treatment-regardless of their means. He also has been a long time supporter of this administration and of the First Lady.

All in all, this is a wonderful public event. It is a celebration of hope for cancer patients everywhere. Please do not hesitate to call me if I can help in any way.

The Honorable First Lady of the United States
Hillary Rodham Clinton
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

I am delighted to invite you to be the guest of honor at a ribbon cutting ceremony for our new Biologic Therapy Unit at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. Albert Einstein is one of the major academic medical centers located in New York City. Our National Cancer Institute-funded Comprehensive Cancer Center maintains one of the largest groups of research and clinical investigators on the East Coast. As part of the cancer center I have developed a tumor vaccine and cytokine treatment program, which has expanded to include an in-patient facility for intensive delivery of biologic therapy to patients with cancer. This Unit will be located at the Jack D. Weiler Hospital of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and will be staffed by specially trained nurses and physicians. Currently the most common indication for therapy with cytokines, such as Interleukin-2, is for patients with advanced forms of melanoma and kidney cancer. However, our research has suggested that when this drug is combined with vaccines other types of cancers may respond. We are hoping to continue to conduct both basic and clinical research in this field in an effort to provide the best possible treatment for patients with cancer. Although our patients have come from around the world, our center largely provides care for the underserved population of New York City.

The Unit is scheduled to open the first week of September, 1999 and we would like to have a ribbon cutting ceremony during that week. We have tentatively scheduled this for Tuesday September 7, 1999 at 2:00 PM, but could change this to meet your schedule. The hospital is located at 1825 Eastchester Road in the Bronx, adjacent to the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. We will have a few hospital and medical school dignitaries present and would be happy to have you say a few words. I would also like to take this opportunity to show you our program, which includes a laboratory and clinic within the medical school campus.

I appreciate the opportunity to inform you about our new program and look forward to hearing from you. I would be truly honored to have you at our opening ceremony and think this would be a good chance for you to visit our center. Please call me directly at 718-430-3517 if you will be able to attend or else we can arrange things through Jana.

Sincerely,

SKIDMORE

C O L L E G E

July 7, 1999

Hillary Rodham Clinton
First Lady of the United States
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

Thank you for your generous note of congratulations. It is a pleasure to begin my presidency at Skidmore College by extending a formal invitation to visit our campus in Saratoga Springs, New York and participate in one of our many exciting summer gala events.

As you know, Saratoga Springs is a city with a strong sense of history and culture. The city has evolved into a unique mixture of year-round resort, college town, convention site and economic development center. The College and its home town share a synergy that makes the community a great place for both its permanent residents and the students who live here for four years. A college community could hardly ask for a better location. You may also be interested to know that American Bar Association held its first meeting in Saratoga Springs.

Skidmore's commitment to lifelong learning and community enrichment is especially apparent this time of year. Our summer schedule includes classes and performances in fine arts, performing arts, and community and continuing education. Let me mention specifically two significant programs you might consider attending:

The Annual Benefit Luncheon and Polo Match on August 3, 1999- 12:00 noon.

All proceeds from the Skidmore College Benefit Luncheon and Polo Match go to the Joseph C. and Anne T. Palamountain Scholarship Fund, created to honor Skidmore's late president and his wife for their 22 years of service and leadership at the College. Aid from the fund is given annually to financially eligible juniors and seniors whose outstanding academic records and cocurricular service exemplify the unique contribution that the Palamountains have made to Skidmore College. Held each year at the Saratoga Springs Polo Club, the luncheon is attended by over 600 Skidmore alumni, friends and summer visitors, most of whom are New York State residents. This year marks the 20th anniversary of the luncheon and we anticipate that it will be our most successful to date.

The Boys Choir of Harlem gala benefit concert on August 17, 1999 - 7:30 p.m.

Skidmore College and the Capital District join together to welcome the Boys Choir of Harlem for their Ninth Summer Residency Program in 1999. I understand that the Choir accompanied you on The Rosie O'Donnell Show during the 1997 Holiday Season. As you probably know, the Boys Choir of Harlem offers a comprehensive program of academic and music education as a positive, creative alternative for children from inner-city New York. The Choir has become a performing arts organization of international reputation, but the goal of the Choir Academy of Harlem is much larger than that. The real challenge is to teach children how to overcome their environment to reach their potential through discipline, hard work, and self respect. The Summer Residency here at Skidmore is an important gateway to the Choir Academy, combining artistic education with academic study, rehearsals and recreation, counseling and community field trips. This well-rounded educational process stresses social development and building moral and intellectual values. The Choir hosts a benefit performance at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center to raise support for their residency. Several thousand people attend each year and the public is invited.

We would be delighted if you could attend either of these events, or we can build a visit to our campus around your interests and schedule. We would be pleased to introduce you to our faculty-student collaborative research projects, our use of technology to support teaching and learning, and our outstanding HEOP (Higher Education Opportunity Program) for talented, motivated New York State residents who are academically and financially disadvantaged. Finally, given your interest in early childhood education, you might like to see our Early Childhood Center or Greenberg Child Care Center in action.

I hope to welcome you to Skidmore and Saratoga soon. With very best wishes,

Sincerely,

In 1999, Little Rock and the State of Arkansas will host a very special conference — an international conference which will draw more than 1,500 people from around the world who are involved in Sister Cities relationships between the United States and other international cities. It is a major accomplishment for a city of Little Rock's size to host an international conference of this magnitude.

1999 SISTER CITIES INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

JULY 22 - JULY 24, 1999

1999 SISTER CITIES INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS

If you've been asked to help prepare for the 1999 Sister Cities International Conference and have questions, here are some basic answers:

WHAT — This international conference will draw more than 1,500 people from around the world who are involved in Sister City relationships between the United States and other international cities.

WHO — Delegates from all over the United States and other nations will attend and represent their respective cities. Arkansas' participating Sister Cities will include those of Little Rock: Ragusa, Sicily; Hanam City, South Korea; Koahsiung, Taiwan; and Changchun, People's Republic of China; Fort Smith with Cisterna, Italy; Pine Bluff with Iwai City, Japan; Fayetteville with Sanriago, Dominican Republic; Conway with Quakenbruck, Germany; and Hot Springs with Hanamaki, Japan.

WHERE — Most activities will take place at the Statehouse Convention Center and near the Excelsior and Doubletree Hotels, but other locations are being planned in the central Arkansas area. Of course, tourism to all parts of the state will be encouraged.

WHY — We are proud of our international connections in Arkansas, and we want the rest of the world to know more about us. The goals of Sister Cities International include creating opportunities for citizens of member cities to experience and explore other cultures and stimulating an atmosphere in which economic development and trade can be developed, implemented and strengthened.

WHEN — The conference officially begins on Thursday, July 22nd and continues through Saturday the 24th, but a full slate of activities will be scheduled for early delegates arriving on July 20th and staying through the 25th or longer.

HOW — The Little Rock Sister Cities Commission operates from the Little Rock City Manager's office, which oversees the conference and its planning. Wayne and Frances Cranford serve as volunteer chairpersons for the event, and Alfred Williams is chairman of the conference. Besides the conference planning committee, there are eight sub-committees which plan and prepare for different facets of the conference — finance, hospitality, publicity, entertainment, transportation, programs, exhibits and youth involvement. The day-to-day coordination of committees, communications and volunteers is arranged by Global Link.

Subject: "invited" policy

What, if any, is our policy for when folks send a scheduling request to the First Lady and want to put her name on the program with "invited" (but not accepted)?

The folks organizing the Sister City Conference being held in Little Rock understand that we can't commit more than 3 months out, but are sending out literature and would of course love to include something with HRC on it. Please advise.

Thanks

We never do that because we feel that it implies that she "may" be coming which is usually NOT the case. Also, if there is a fee in any way connected with the event it directly connects her name to an activity that is raising funds.

Dear Missy:

It was so good seeing you at the Kennedy Center Honors reception at the White House. As you and Hillary asked, I am enclosing copies of the letters that have been sent previously, including one that was sent to the President, regarding the Sister Cities International Conference in July.

I am enclosing some information about the conference, which will be held here in Little Rock July 22-24, 1999. The luncheon on Friday, July 23, co-sponsored by Aromatique, is the event at which we would like for Hillary to speak. We would like to list it in the conference program as the Hillary Rodham Clinton Luncheon because we feel that she would be a great draw. The theme of the conference is "Sister Cities and Youth: Creating a Global Village."

Please call me if you have any questions. My telephone number is (501) 664-2123; FAX (501) 666-2329. My address is 1917 North Spruce Street, Little Rock 72207. And thanks so much for your help on this.

Dear Hillary:

In September, Mayor Jim Dailey and members of the Little Rock Sister Cities Commission invited you to be the lead speaker on global children's issues at the International Sister Cities Conference scheduled for the week of July 21, 1999 in Little Rock.

You were kind enough to reply to the Mayor and others that the invitation had been turned over to your scheduling assistant. At this time, we wanted to follow up with exact dates for your consideration. We would like for you to speak either Thursday, July 22 or Friday, July 23.

As we stated in our first invitation, our focus will be divided between global children's issues and international business alliances. The President has been asked to speak on business issues at the closing banquet.

Your recent trip reflects again your interest in global issues which cannot be ignored. Your participation in this conference will have an impact that will educate and enlighten the attending delegates from around the world.

Thank you for your response to our invitation. We appreciate your consideration of this request.

On behalf of the Little Rock Sister Cities Commission we would like to extend an invitation for you to be the lead speaker on global children's issues at the International Sister Cities Conference which will be held in Little Rock during the week of July 21, 1999. There will be a mix of United States and foreign delegates. Representatives of Sister Cities organizations from other nations are typically business and political leaders with great influence in their home communities.

Our focus will be split between global children's issues and international business alliances. We are asking The President to speak on business issues. The state of Arkansas will be invited to participate in the conference.

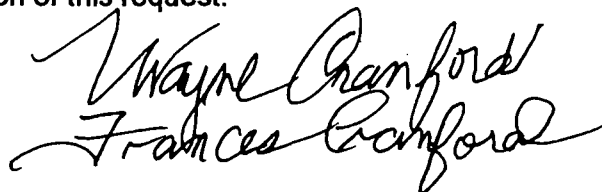

You have been so successful in dealing with the importance of communities in raising children. We hope you would find this a perfect platform to share your ideas on this topic. We will be happy to provide you with more information as our planning process continues.

We deeply appreciate your consideration of this request.

In September, an invitation was extended to you to be the keynote speaker at the Sister Cities International Conference to be held in Little Rock the week of July 21st, 1999.

Our preference is for you to address the closing banquet on Saturday evening, July 24th; however, if this presents a scheduling conflict, we would welcome your addressing the conference at another time scheduled between July 21 - 24.

As stated previously in our invitation, this event could provide an excellent forum for you, as Honorary Chairman of Sister Cities, U.S.A., to speak on the "State of the World" to a receptive group of U.S. and foreign delegates, typically business and political leaders with great influence in their home communities.

Our focus at the conference will be divided between international business alliances and global children's issues. For this reason, we are also inviting Mrs. Clinton to speak on children's issues.

I was delighted to see you -- even for a few minutes -- when I was in Little Rock. Upon my return, I found your letter and invitation to speak at the International Sister Cities Conference in Little Rock in July of 1999. I have responded to Mayor Dailey that I was directing your request to my scheduler for consideration when we begin making decisions about my agenda for 1999.

Hearing from others who have had their own experience of children leaving for school has helped us deal with this transition in our family. We appreciate your thoughts.

My mother was glad you volunteered to support her in her determination to save the tree. I'm proud of you both!

With best wishes, I am

At tonight's reception, the first lady asked me to follow up several invitations that were mentioned to her during the receiving line.

A luncheon invitation she has rec'd from Eina Ginsburg. It is apparently a longstanding invitation, and Ms. Ginsburg was at tonight's event and asked about it.

The (Jo?) Oberstar Breast Cancer lecture at GW. Apparently the Oberstar's were working with Doris Matsui on this. No date set - they had hoped for October of this year (breast cancer month) but it didn't work out. They are of course flexible and would love to have HRC any time...

Can someone let me know if you have any record of these invitations?

Thanks!

RE: Invitation to Address JAINA Convention

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

Samarpan Jain Sangh is hosting the 10th Biennial JAINA Convention during July 2nd thru 5th, 1999 in Philadelphia. The Federation of Jain Associations in North America (JAINA) is an umbrella organization of Jains in USA. About ten thousand Jains from all over the World will attend this social cultural event, more than 3000 from New York City.

The Jain Community, transplanted from Ancient India, is facing the new century of evolving ideas and issues in this Modern Land. More than one-third of the attendees will be second generation Jains born in North America. What was easy and automatic to learn from the environment on Indian soil, requires a conscious effort in this open society which is a mixture of races and religions from all over the World.

You have been instrumental in initiating humanitarian and creative projects. We would like to invite you to address our Convention. Your experience will provide us an inspiring insight into how our community can live in mainstream America and contribute toward its richness.

We will be happy if you confirm your availability and requirements for addressing our Convention on July 3rd, 1999, at the Valley Forge Convention Center in King of Prussia, PA.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Yours respectfully,

JAINA CONVENTION JULY 2nd - 5th, 1999 • JAINISM IN THE NEW MILLENNIUMVisit our website: www.convention99.org

JAINISM

Jain religion originated in India. It is one of the oldest religions, which has been preached in different ages by 24 Tirthankars. The 24th Tirthankar, Lord Mahavir was born in 599 BC and attained Moksha (salvation) in 527 BC. The word 'Jain' came from the Sanskrit word "Jina" which means spiritual victor or conqueror of all inner desires and passions. Tirthankars are "Jina" who attained enlightenment through meditation and self-realization and gained Keval Gnan (Omniscience).

The most important principle of Jainism is Ahimsa (non-violence, not only in deeds but also in thoughts and speech). Mahatma Gandhi followed this principle to attain independence for India. The avoidance of injury to all forms of life is therefore of the utmost importance to the followers of Jainism (called Jains). Hence Jains are strict vegetarians. The other basic principles of Jainism are self-control (proper regulation of action, speech and thoughts), relativism (multiplicity of viewpoints), and penance (meditation and fasting).

Jainism believes that the universe is eternal and infinite, and there is no creator. Jainism classifies everything into one of two categories; jiva (soul) and ajiva (all lifeless matters). There are infinite numbers of souls in the universe; most of them enmeshed in bodies possessing varying senses from 1 to 5 (human beings and animals have 5 senses, whereas plants have only one "touch" sense). Soul is closely enmeshed in matter (body) in its each life and goes through this continuous cycle of birth and death. The soul must free itself from by its own efforts to gain salvation (moksha or nirvana, eternal bliss) from this cycle. Soul can achieve this during its life as a human being by following the path of "Jina".

The 5 ethical principles called Great Vows of Jainism are: Ahimsa (Non-violence), Truthfulness, Non-stealing, Celibacy and Aparigraha (non-acquisition). The monks are required to lead a very austere life and fully follow these vows. The lay persons are required to follow them to a lesser degree. For them, following celibacy requires not having any sexual relationship with anyone other than spouse. Following Aparigraha means limiting their possessions to only the essentials.

The complex theory of karma is central to Jain ethics. This has important consequences for Jain ethics. All souls are fundamentally equal, but they differ according to the amount of Karma adhering to them. Karma, although subtle, is a matter that accumulates and adheres to the soul in successive layers. The Karma acquired leads to the acquisition of further Karma with the result that transmigration continues indefinitely. Strict rules of asceticism are required to prevent the formation of new Karma. The necessary condition for attaining moksha is the possession of right faith (in principles of Jainism), right knowledge and right conduct. Right faith implies respect for and belief in the teachings of the Tirthankars. Right faith is thus based on the right knowledge of the essentials of Jainism. Right conduct means having control over inner desires so as to reach a state of non-attachment and non-hatred.

Another very important contribution of Jainism is its principle of Anekantvad, the philosophy of relative pluralism. Every substance/item has infinite attributes/qualities, and when seen from different angles, it will appear to have different attributes. This principle teaches Jains to respect other's viewpoints. Every year, after their religious celebration called Paryushan, Jains ask for forgiveness from all souls for any wrong done by them by action, by speech or by thought.

In summary, Jainism believes in right faith, right knowledge and right conduct, Ahimsa (non-violence), truthfulness, non-stealing, celibacy/non-adultery, limited acquisition, amity, compassion, equanimity, forgiveness, humility, purity of mind, control of senses, penance, renunciation, chastity, and respect for others' view points. Let us end with the following daily prayers of Jainism:

"I forgive all living beings and let all living beings forgive me. I have amity with all and enmity with none".

"Let all living beings in this universe be happy and be busy making others happy. Let evils disappear and let the whole world be happy".

Dear Hillary:

Several weeks ago I mentioned to you how enthusiastically and unanimously the President's Council of Cornell Women had named you their first choice for keynote speaker at their 10th Anniversary Celebration next spring. To my delight, you said it sounded like something you'd love to do, although of course it was too early to make a commitment. Based on that, I communicated with Patti asking that she pencil in the date.

The conference date has now been changed (from March 31-April 2, 2000 to March 10-12, 2000), but the enthusiasm for your featured presence has not; so I wanted to communicate a few more details.

The conference will be held on the Cornell University campus in Ithaca, New York. The theme of the conference is Cornell Women: Celebrating Leadership. The preferred date and time for your keynote would be Friday afternoon, March 10, 4 p.m., in an auditorium seating at least 5,000. If that evening worked better for you, or sometime the following day, Saturday, March 11, that also could be accommodated. We are very eager to have you!!

I'll keep in touch with the Planning Committee (on which I serve) and with Patti as the time grows closer. A formal invitation will be forthcoming from the President of Cornell University.

Dear Hillary,

May 17, 1999

Jeanie Burton invited me to chair a committee to plan the celebration of our sanctuary: 100 years in Nov. 2000. She has written you, inviting you to fill her pulpit on Nov. 19, 2000 and deliver that Sunday's sermon.

Your 1996 address before General Conference impressed Jeanie as the exact mix of challenge, tradition and inspiration that the committee wants from a lay speaker that Sunday, and they unanimously agreed to ask you.

We chose the Nov. 19 date, after the election, hoping that would be a better fit in your schedule. We're aware of security requirements for your visit, and we'd be willing to follow your wishes regarding any publicity for the event.

Dear Hillary:

Grace and peace from your First Church family! You may be aware that our church is coming up on a major milestone: the 100th birthday of the sanctuary. We are embarking on a sanctuary renovation project in the near future, and we are planning to celebrate the birthday itself on Sunday, November 19, 2000. It would be the highest honor for us to have you deliver the sermon during the morning worship service that day.

I was privileged to attend the 1996 United Methodist Church General Conference, and your words to the delegates were a marvelous personal statement of faith and, at the same time, an eloquent tribute to our United Methodist tradition and heritage. Such a message is a perfect fit for our celebration, and it would affirm our ministry and place as First United Methodist Church in Little Rock.

Nothing would delight us more than your acceptance of this invitation. If you are able to come, we will publicize your participation in the event to the extent to which you are comfortable, and will take care of all of your travel expenses.

As always, I send you the good wishes and prayers of the congregation. I eagerly await your response!

May God bless you and your family.

Sincerely,

When I was in Washington in November, Missy had tried to arrange a visit, but it didn't work out. She told me that the First Lady wished to see me and asked that I get in touch before my next visit.

I will be on the East Coast from Monday morning 7 June until Thursday morning 10 June. I would be able to be in Washington (or New York City) any time from Monday morning until 11 am on Thursday. I am flying back to Slovakia on Thursday evening.

If Mrs. Clinton's schedule allows a visit at any point during that time, I would be very pleased.

Dear Mrs. Clinton,

Last year the Council embarked on a project to assess ways to improve the Federal government's role in the National Historic Preservation Program. Designed as our contribution to the President's Millennium program, the effort will result in a report to the President and the Congress on steps that can be taken to make the Federal government a better steward of its historic properties and a better partner in State, local and private preservation efforts. We plan to submit the report in the fall of 2000.

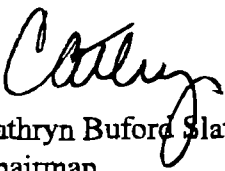

I see the Council's report as presenting a unique opportunity to incorporate the principles of your Save America's Treasures initiative into the daily workings of Federal agencies for the long term. The Council expects to make recommendations for legislative improvements to the National Historic Preservation Act and urge administrative actions that will better integrate historic preservation into Federal agency missions and programs. If such steps are taken, the legacy of your visionary initiative will include fundamental changes in how the Federal government conducts its stewardship of historic properties and its partnership with other preservation entities.

At our next Council meeting we will have our Millennium report as the central item of business. We will meet in Washington on June 24-25 and have an in-depth discussion of the preservation challenges and opportunities facing the General Services Administration. I would like to extend an invitation to you to address our members on your vision for Federal leadership in historic preservation and ways to shape Federal actions in the future. This would be an unprecedented opportunity for the Council members to meet with you on this important issue of mutual concern.

I know that your schedule is extremely busy because I know what Molly's schedule is! I do hope that you will be able to carve out 15 or 20 minutes any time during the 24th or 25th of June to share your vision with us at the Council. We are very flexible as to time and place. I know the Council would derive great benefit from hearing your conviction about the importance of saving our tangible past. Your words would provide just the inspiration that the Council members need as they develop their recommendations to move the Federal historic preservation program forward in the next century.

Sincerely yours,

Cathryn Buford Slater

 RE: Protecting People First Foundation

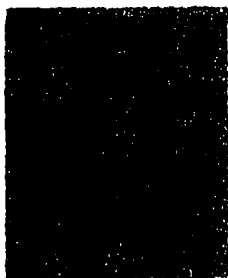

Thank you again for all the tremendous help you have given Aren and the Protecting People First Foundation. Meeting with the First Lady was a great honor and I know it meant a lot to Aren to be able to introduce her new baby and husband to Mrs. Clinton. We were delighted that the First Lady was eager to learn about Aren's work with the Foundation.

I have attached a letter that we would like to send from Aren to members of the Protective Glazing Association, the key industry group from which we hope to receive considerable financial support. Aren met with a number of PGA members last week while we were in Washington and this letter is intended as a follow-up to solidify the offers of support that Aren received. As you can see, the reference to Mrs. Clinton is limited which hopefully will ease any time constraints you are facing in having to run this by the White House counsel's office.

The photograph we would like to include in the letter is the one featuring Aren and her family with Mrs. Clinton in which Mrs. Clinton and Aren are holding the Foundation insignia. I fully understand the rush nature of this request and greatly appreciate your efforts.

In addition to our immediate need for assistance with the photograph, let me reiterate our desire to have Mrs. Clinton work with the Foundation in any capacity she wishes. As I mentioned in our brief meeting, we have not yet announced the Foundation publicly, as we wanted to wait until after the Washington, D.C. trip to solidify our support and then proceed with a formal announcement. We would be tremendously honored to have the First Lady attend our announcement. To that end, we are willing to coordinate the timing of this announcement to fit Mrs. Clinton's schedule. Please let us know if this is something you and the First Lady would like to pursue.

Thank you again for all of your assistance. I look forward to talking with you shortly to follow-up on the photo request and also to discuss Mrs. Clinton's possible involvement in the Foundation.

Dear Dawn:

Thank you for speaking with me last week at the Protective Glazing Association trade show and annual meeting. I appreciated the time you spent talking with me about my daughter Baylee and the work I am doing for the Protecting People First Foundation. As I indicated, our mission is to raise awareness about the dangers of flying glass caused by terrorist attack and also to urge the federal government and the private sector to provide adequate window protection in high-risk buildings. As a financial contributor to the Foundation, your company can play a key role in helping to advance this important mission.

Losing my daughter Baylee in the Oklahoma City bombing will certainly be the most difficult challenge I will ever face. My work with the Protecting People First Foundation is an important part of giving meaning to both my daughter's life and her death. To know that my actions could help save the lives of other people, especially children, by raising awareness about the dangers of flying glass is very important to me. In order to realize this goal, the Foundation needs your financial help.

In addition to financial support from industry leaders like CPMilms, the Foundation is seeking help from government leaders. We are already making great progress on this front. We had two very successful days on Capitol Hill last week, where I met with members of both the House and the Senate. We received a number of offers of assistance, including a generous offer by Congresswoman Carolyn McCarthy to help organize the House Women's caucus in support of our legislative agenda.

Perhaps the most exciting part of our work with government leaders was the meeting we had last Thursday with First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton. The First Lady has been very supportive of me following the Oklahoma City bombing.

As you can see from the enclosed photo, the First Lady and I had the opportunity to meet briefly last week to discuss the Protecting People First Foundation. I appreciated her interest in the work of the Foundation.

I am very confident that with the support of government leaders, and industry members like CPMilms, the Foundation will enjoy great success. We are in the process of planning a formal announcement for the Foundation. We would welcome your company's involvement in that announcement and in our ongoing work.

I hope we can count on your support.

Sincerely,

Aren Almon-Kok

I want to thank you for all of your help during our recent visit with the First Lady on April 22nd. Your help that day and the assistance you provided to Eric Cote following our meeting is much appreciated.

As you suggested, I have enclosed a copy of a letter I wrote to the First Lady thanking her for her support and also inviting her to participate in the formal announcement of the Protecting People First Foundation. Per your suggestion, I have forwarded a copy of my letter to the First Lady's scheduler, Patti Doyle.

I look forward to working with you and Patti Doyle in the coming weeks on the foundation announcement. I hope that the First Lady's schedule can accommodate my request. Mrs. Hillary Rodham Clinton
The White House

Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

I wanted to take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude for the time you spent with me and my family during our recent visit to Washington, D.C. Since the Oklahoma City bombing, you and the President have been wonderfully supportive of me throughout my recovery. I can't thank you enough for your warmth and caring.

I also greatly appreciate the interest you showed in the work of the Protecting People First Foundation. As the volunteer spokeswoman for the foundation, I am very committed to raising awareness about the deadly affects of flying glass. I also look forward to working with the Administration, Congress and the private sector to increase window safety in all high-risk federal buildings.

As we have come to learn, the deadly affects of flying glass, both in the Oklahoma City bombing and at Khobar Towers in Saudia Arabia could have been mitigated through the use of protective window measures. I hope that through my work with the Foundation, lives can be saved and injuries reduced in future cases of terrorist attacks against American facilities.

As we discussed during our recent meeting, I would be greatly honored to have you work with the foundation. Specifically, we would be delighted to have you take part in our formal announcement sometime in the next four to eight weeks. To that end, we would be happy to coordinate the timing and location of our announcement around your schedule. We are envisioning a Washington, D.C. announcement but are flexible on the location depending on what might work best for your schedule.

In addition to yourself, we plan like to have Congresswoman Carolyn McCarthy take part in the announcement and we will also invite members of the Oklahoma Congressional delegation. Immediately following the announcement, I will be launching a national media tour.

Having been on many national media programs after the Oklahoma City bombing talking about my daughter Baylee, I plan to revisit those TV programs, along with national publications, to discuss the foundation and the need to protect our children from the deadly affects of flying glass.

Again, my deepest thanks for your support of me personally, and for your interest in the Protecting People First Foundation. I look forward to talking with your staff about possible dates for the announcement of our foundation.

Dear Ambassador Lader

Thank you for your kind invitation to the private screening of "Shakespeare in Love" next Monday or Tuesday at the embassy's cinema.

We spoke nearly four weeks ago about the possibility of a further documentary about Mrs Clinton. You said that you would try and check with Marsha and Melanne to see if they felt the timing would be good, some time in the near future. I just wondered if you had any indication from the White House about such a request, at this time.

The BBC are very keen for me to make a further documentary. And I could fly to Washington and have a meeting with Marsha and Melanne - at any time they desired.

The film would be a Profile Documentary about the First Lady's life and work during the past six years - and emphasise what she has refreshingly brought to the role. As you know, Mrs Clinton is very much admired in the UK - and such a film would be internationally distributed by BBC Worldwide to all countries. And could be aired on PBS in the States.

I truly believe Hillary Clinton is a unique First Lady - and I think history will prove her to be the greatest. For she was the first working wife and mother to take over the office - and all her life's work has been pledged to public service.

As well as showing her more traditional role, the documentary would highlight Mrs Clinton's consistent and relentless pursuit - to improve social rights and healthcare conditions for women, children and families. Not just within the United States, but also her pioneering efforts in third world countries such as, Africa, Asia and Central America - where she has seen for herself, close at hand, just how basic conditions are, in such poor regions. Last July, when I met with Marsha, in Washington, we talked about the possibility of filming one of their future third world trips. Also Marsha was keen for us to film some of the First Lady's Millennium projects.

I have also spoken to BBC Northern Ireland and they would also like Mrs Clinton's reconciliation work with the families in Northern Ireland's "Troubles", to be included. Do you know if there are any future planned visits to Northern Ireland by the President and Mrs Clinton?

I do appreciate what a difficult period this has been for you all. Let's hope that the President can now be left to serve the American people - and that Mrs Clinton can continue with her good works. I'm sure that if she does decide to run for Senate she will do an excellent job - and her husband will back her all the way.

I look forward to seeing you at the "Shakespeare in Love" screening next week. Perhaps, we can meet the following week or speak on the telephone.

RE: International Missing and Exploited Children Issues

Please call him
once we know.

Missy

Thank you for your call. I am sorry that I missed you. Per your request, I wanted to outline my conversation with Mrs. Clinton at the Millennium Event at the White House Monday evening.

(1) I met and congratulated Mrs. Clinton on her great work for children, when she mentioned her particular concern about the international aspects of the problem of missing and exploited children.

(2) I indicated that I shared that concern and that in fact we are currently working on a global campaign to attack the problem. I mentioned that I was collaborating with Lady Meyer, wife of the British Ambassador to the U.S., herself a victim parent.

(3) I mentioned that we were launching a new International Centre on Missing and Exploited Children in the U.S. and the UK (see attached concept paper), that Lady Meyer is Co-Chairing that effort, and that I understood she had been in touch with the First Lady about an April 23 event at the British Embassy to kick-off our global effort.

(4) The event will be a reception (tentatively 4:30 - 6:30) the day of the NATO celebration. Lady Meyer has received a commitment to attend from Cherrie Booth, wife of Prime Minister Blair. Mrs. Blair has also agreed to be a Patron of our new Centre.

(5) Amanda Downs, Lady Meyer's Social Secretary, has spoken with Melanne Verveer, and my understanding is that there is a possibility that Mrs. Clinton could attend as well.

(6) Among those we expect are Charles Wang of Computer Associates, who is helping us build a global missing and exploited children's network, and Richard Branson of Virgin Atlantic, whose support has enabled to begin this effort. Virgin is hosting a similar event at Parliament in London on June 7, again attended by Mrs. Blair.

Let me know if you have questions or need additional information. Thanks.

INTERNATIONAL CENTRE FOR MISSING AND EXPLOITED CHILDREN

"Children are moved within and between nations. Enforcement efforts are lax, non-existent, or inadequate...Coordination must be international in scope...Without an international perspective, no real impact will be made in ending this victimization... This cooperative effort exists only sporadically, inefficiently, and inconsistently."
UNICEF

THE CHALLENGE: National boundaries are no barrier to the transportation and victimization of children. The problem is large and growing, and requires action:

- The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child urged action "to combat the illicit transfer and non-return of children abroad"(Article 11); "to protect the child from all forms of sexual exploitation and abuse"(Article 34); and "to prevent the abduction, sale or traffic in children"(Article 35).
- The U.S. Congressional Human Rights Caucus demanded, "terrorism against children from international child abduction must stop." It added, "despite legal and diplomatic mechanisms...all too often children who are located cannot be returned to the country of their residence due to complexities of the law and procedures of other countries..."
- A UNICEF report estimated that children victimized through sexual exploitation "probably number in the millions each year."
- The World Congress Against Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children reported a "multi-billion dollar sex trade, into which each year some one million children are drawn." In some areas, "the market for children is fueled by organized pedophile rings and high-tech information services."

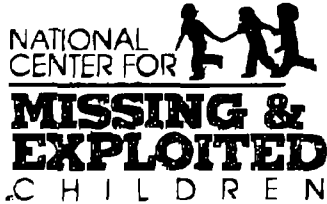

HISTORY: The model for ICMEC is the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) in the U.S. Since 1984 NCMEC has handled 1.3 million hotline calls; trained 150,000 police and other professionals; disseminated 18 million free publications; worked 64,000 cases; and helped recover 45,000 children. It handles more than 2 million "hits" per day on its website, www.missingkids.com, and CyberTipline, www.cybertipline.com. Its recovery rate in missing child cases has climbed from 62% in 1990 to 92% today. World leaders have toured NCMEC and sought its counsel.

THE VISION: To create an International Centre to provide a coordinated, worldwide response to the problem of missing and exploited children; build a global network to disseminate images and information; extend training, resources and support worldwide; advocate changes in law, treaty and policy; and increase public awareness.

SEVEN-POINT STRATEGY:

- I. Create a "Global Missing Children's Network" -- ICMEC will create an international network for the transmission of images and information via the worldwide web. Already on board are Brazil and the United Kingdom, with Belgium, the Netherlands, Thailand, Mexico, and others to follow. The network will provide a single repository of images and information for the world to view. Law enforcement in each country will enter cases, and the system will use a language processor that translates the content, enabling its use worldwide.
- II. Build an International Resource Center -- Information is the key to reducing the crisis of missing and exploited children. Today, there is no international resource on this issue, no entity providing data and research to policy makers and average citizens. ICMEC will serve that purpose, disseminating information, identifying "best practices," raising public awareness, creating tools and guidelines for decision-makers and practitioners, and much more.
- III. Provide Training for Professionals -- ICMEC will create a multinational team of trainers to conduct training for law enforcement and other professionals in missing and exploited child case investigations around the world.
- IV. Advocate Changes in International Law, Treaty and Systems -- Often, the protections of law and treaty do not work for international child abduction victims. ICMEC will work with governmental and non-governmental organizations, review existing law, treaty and policy, and work for change.
- V. Promote/Create National Centers -- Few countries have a counterpart to NCMEC. ICMEC will promote the establishment of such centers, affiliated with ICMEC. ICMEC will provide training and technical support, and certify agencies meeting standards, thus building a worldwide association.
- VI. Establish Regional Centers -- Every nation may not create a center. Thus, ICMEC will establish regional centers as hubs in an international network, distributing images and information, and handling calls for service.
- VII. Expand the CyberTipline -- NCMEC's CyberTipline receives thousands of leads regarding child sexual exploitation, child pornography, online enticement of children for sexual acts, sexual molestation, child prostitution and child sex tourism, and disseminates the leads to law enforcement. Called "the 911 for the Internet," the CyberTipline is positioned to become a worldwide resource.

CONCLUSION: The search for missing children and the protection of children from victimization demands a coordinated, comprehensive, global approach. ICMEC will become an international advocate for child victims, bring world leaders together, build an international network, and create a powerful, effective worldwide resource for children.

Dear Sir,

We spoke yesterday about the First Minister's forthcoming visit to New York and Washington. Mr Trimble has asked me to thank you, Blair and Lorna for all your assistance with preparing for this visit.

I mentioned that Mrs Trimble had enquired about the possibility of a meeting with Hillary Clinton next week. I understand that Anne Smith, Co-ordinator of the UUP's North American Bureau, has been trying to contact Teresa Loar to discuss this. By way of background, Mrs Trimble and Pat Hume have recently been appointed to the board of trustees of the Victims Memorial Fund established by the Vice Chancellor of Queen's University, George Bain. At a meeting of the trustees yesterday morning, it was decided that Mrs Clinton should be invited to become a patron of the Fund and that this invitation should be passed on by way of a joint approach by Mrs Trimble and Mrs Hume. The trustees believe that Mrs Clinton's personal involvement would help to increase international awareness of the plight of victims of violence and to underline the US Government's continuing commitment to promoting peace and reconciliation in Northern Ireland.

I would be extremely grateful if you could pass on Mrs Trimble's request. As we discussed, the simplest solution might be to arrange a short meeting in the margins of the White House reception on St Patrick's Day.

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

All of us at Hoxie's would like to extend an invitation to you to have lunch, or dinner, with us when you are in the Chicago area. We will provide you with the best barbeque and home cooking outside of Arkansas (and my parents, Atha and Maurice Webb, even think it's better than McClard's and HB's), entertain you with memorabilia from Arkansas, and share how two of your long time supporters have successfully broken into the male dominated world of barbeque.

We were honored to provide the barbeque sauce for the last two Blue Jeans Bashes, at the Democratic National Convention and the Inaugural. We have been recognized by THE SUN TMES and THE TRIBUNE as being among the best barbeque restaurants in Chicagoland. We have been honored by TODAY'S CHICAGO WOMAN and NAWBO as being among the top women in Chicago making a difference. Recently, we have moved our restaurant from its small suburban location into the city. Now, we are just a few minutes north of the Loop in the heart of Ravenswood.

I know how short your visits to Chicago are. But we believe that you'd find a visit to Hoxie's would be well worth the trip-it's an old fashioned Sunday dinner with family every day and night of the week. We hope you'll join us-we'll surround you with warm memories of Arkansas, great food, and a cross section of Americans who think you're the best! We hope to see you soon.

All of us at Hoxie's would like to extend an invitation to you and Mrs. Clinton to have lunch, or dinner, with us when you are in the Chicago area. We know that time spent in Chicago is usually short, but we know that we could provide a great meal and a lot of warm wishes.

My partner and I have been long time supporters of Mrs. Clinton, since the early 1970's in Arkansas. I have worked on many campaigns, and was fortunate to be able to take a leave of absence in 1997 to serve as Deputy to Debbie Willhite for the Presidential Inaugural. We were honored to provide the barbeque sauce for the last two Blue Jeans Bashes, at the Democratic National Convention and the Inaugural. HRC didn't say that she definitely would attend the Suada's Bridge Project if it worked out, but alluded that if she's in town it might work out well. She then asked me when the SOTU is so that she would know when she has to be here and we might then touch base with the Suada's Bridge folks. As you can tell this was a little unclear and I definitely don't have a firm answer, but wanted you to know what I did get.

Dear Hillary,

A belated thank you for the wonderful letter you wrote in support of our Bosnia Suada's Bridge Project and the reading of Necessary Targets. Your words and presence were deeply felt by the women of Bosnia, inspiring them and giving them hope.

We would like to stage a reading of the play at the Kennedy Center and our greatest desire is to honor you for your unwavering commitment to human rights. Your humanitarian visits to various parts of the world and your eloquent, impassioned speeches have galvanized and united women from the Balkans to Beijing. We would be delighted if you would allow us to celebrate your courageous spirit by dedicating the evening to you.

We envision an elegant and powerful event on either January 6th or Jan 11th---depending on your availability. The reading will feature an extraordinary cast, including Marisa Tomei, Anjelica Huston, Calista Flockhart, and of course, Glenn. We hope that the evening will prove to be a great tribute to you, encouraging others to follow your example in fighting for the rights and freedom of those in need and to stop the atrocities occurring around the world.

Sincerely,

Glenn Close

Dear Hillary,

A belated thank you for the wonderful letter you wrote in support of our Bosnia Suada's Bridge Project and the reading of Necessary Targets. Your words and presence were deeply felt by the women of Bosnia, inspiring them and giving them hope.

We would like to stage a reading of the play at the Kennedy Center and our greatest desire is to honor you for your unwavering commitment to human rights. Your humanitarian visits to various parts of the world and your eloquent, impassioned speeches have galvanized and united women from the Balkans to Beijing. We would be delighted if you would allow us to celebrate your courageous spirit by dedicating the evening to you.

We envision an elegant and powerful event on either January 6th or Jan 11th—depending on your availability. First Lady

Mrs. Hillary Rodham Clinton

Dear Mrs. Clinton,

Our mutual friend Beth Dosoretz has kindly agreed to present this letter to you on our behalf. ELEM/Youth in Distress in Israel (an organization that I have headed for the past 16 years) would like to honor you at a dinner in New York City either next Spring or Fall 1999, depending on what is convenient for you. Our Board of Directors wishes to recognize your commitment to young people all over the world, including Israel and the United States.

ELEM is a non-profit U.S. organization, which was founded in 1982. We are known as the address for quality care to troubled adolescents in Israel and their families- whether these children are Israeli, Arab, Ethiopian, Russian, court involved delinquents in our community homes, or neglected, homeless, abused, or runaway children seeking respite in our crisis intervention shelters; or immigrant youngsters trying to find their place in a new culture- all are welcome and offered help by ELEM professionals and volunteers.

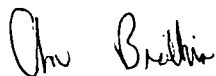

ELEM initiated the first community hostels in Israel and now has successful homes throughout the country. Eighty five percent of our youth become rehabilitated into productive Israeli citizens. With the massive influx of over one million immigrants in the last eight years, there is a growing population of runaway and homeless youth. To address the problem ELEM has opened successful Crisis Shelters in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, seeing thousands every year, providing a sanctuary with an open door for all youngsters in trouble, both Arab and Jew, offering counseling to direct them toward education, employment and other needed services. We have inaugurated the first and only street outreach programs in Israel. Mobile units travel the streets at night to bring these children emergency food, medical information, informal counseling, and possible referral to our Crisis Shelters.

We at ELEM are well aware of the exemplary work you have done with children, one example of which is how you initiated throughout America the successful Israeli "Hippy" program. Indeed, ELEM stands for the same efforts and involvement, since we pride ourselves on our professional international collaborative effort between America and Israel, between Social Workers, Government Ministries, and the public and private sectors in both countries to reach out to alienated youth. You will notice in the ELEM materials sent to you the amount of private and corporate support, including our successful events honoring our mutual friends Sanford Weill, Chairman and Co-Chief Executive Officer of Citigroup, and Harry Kamen, former Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Metropolitan Life.

As we all know, the problems faced by these Israeli youth are universal, and honoring you, a well-known and respected authority on the problems and programs for youth would help both Israeli and American youth receive the support so needed by adolescents everywhere. If you have any questions about our organization, I would be available to answer them. We appreciate your consideration of our request, and look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Yours Truly,

The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

My dear Mr. President and Mrs. Clinton,

On behalf of the Regent and Vice Regents of Historic Mount Vernon, I invite you and Mrs. Clinton to be our honored guests at a most distinguished event.

On Sunday, May 2, 1999, Mount Vernon will present A Candlelit Dinner — a remarkable recreation of the only state dinner ever given outside of the White House, which was originally hosted by President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy in 1961. It will be the largest, most prestigious fund-raising event ever held on the grounds of Mount Vernon and will include over 600 guests.

Our guests at this historic bipartisan event and weekend of special activities will be prominent civic leaders and private citizens from across the country. And, it will be our privilege to honor, at the home of the first President of the United States, the President who will close this most successful last decade of the 20th century.

This extraordinary dinner is part of a yearlong Bicentennial program to celebrate, throughout the country, George Washington's noble life of service. In the 200 years since his death, the principles by which Washington lived have become even more relevant, and we seek your participation in our efforts to keep his spirit alive in America today.

Although we have just recently written you, we write again at the suggestion of Beth Dozoretz, to say that we would be most proud if you and Mrs. Clinton would honor us with your attendance and patronage of this extraordinary event.

Sincerely,

Mary

This invitation came to my attention. I've forwarded it to Patti. I thought you both would want to be aware of it. Also with the letter came a folder / package of info on the Kennedy State Dinner for H. Vernon which I think you'll especially want to see, Cynthia. It has all been sent to Patti.
