Letter of Assurance to DPRK

The attached letter from President Clinton to Kim Jong-Il was delivered to the DPRK upon receipt of the DPRK assurances in the Agreed Framework of October 21, 1994. This letter was needed to persuade the DPRK to freeze its entire nuclear program immediately, even though its graphite-moderated reactors will not be replaced by light-water reactors for 8-10 years. The letter was delivered to the DPRK only after the U.S. had received pledges from South Korea and Japan to finance the construction of the light-water reactors in the DPRK.

The President's political pledge to use the full powers of his office to arrange the provision of alternative energy and light-water reactors is conditioned on the DPRK meeting all of the nuclear nonproliferation commitments in the Agreed Framework. In addition, if the international arrangements failed and the U.S. had to deliver on its assurances to the DPRK, the provision of alternative energy or light-water reactors by the U.S. would be subject to the approval of the U.S. Congress.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

October 20, 1994

Excellency:

I wish to confirm to you that I will use the full powers of my office to facilitate arrangements for the financing and construction of a light-water nuclear power reactor project within the DPRK, and the funding and implementation of interim energy alternatives for the Democratic People's Republic of Korea pending completion of the first reactor unit of the light-water reactor project. In addition, in the event that this reactor project is not completed for reasons beyond the control of the DPRK, I will use the full powers of my office to provide, to the extent necessary, such a project from the United States, subject to approval of the U.S. Congress. Similarly, in the event that the interim energy alternatives are not provided for reasons beyond the control of the DPRK, I will use the full powers of my office to provide, to the extent necessary, such interim energy alternatives from the United States, subject to the approval of the U.S. Congress.

I will follow this course of action so long as the DPRK continues to implement the policies described in the Agreed Framework Between the United States of America and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

Sincerely,

His Excellency Kim Jong Il
Supreme Leader of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea
Pyongyang
