[P3/(b)(3)] is due to report to Room 227 on Monday, October 31 at 9:15/9:30 for 4 months. Her NSA security officer, WH security officer Craig
 Livingstone or CIA need to pass [P3/(b)(3)] clearances to Pat Nelson before [P3/(b)(3)] can be authorized to work in Room 227 and access NSC computers and documents. I relayed this to Dave Sherman, Linda McLaughlin (NEC) - - who is in contact with Craig Livingstone - - and to [P3/(b)(3)] told me yesterday that her agency passed her clearances to you - - which even if that's true, does not make sense. The clearances need to be passed through authorized agency security officers.
 And, as of this writing no one (other than me) has been in touch with Pat Nelson (456-9308).

2. I inquired regarding the Historically Provided package - still with Jodie Torkelson. Kelli's comment was that she thinks the hold up is that in some cases Historically Provided Services do count and in some cases they do not count. And that is what they are looking at. I wonder where they are getting their information and guidance.

Here is the latest on D.W. security clearance:

I checked with the WH Security Office - - Craig Livingstone, and he confirmed that as long as Derik is classified as an intern there is NO WAY to get security clearance, hard badge, OASIS, etc. This is a very sensitive issue all the way to WH Chief of Staff.
(Note this is why he has the temp/plastic badge).

However, Craig volunteered to talk to Andrea Rutledge about changing his status (I passed on the info about being a Fellow, etc you discussed with me). He said if that happens, he will submit the clearance paper work to FBI. He then said he would not clear Derik, but if NSC wanted to - - it was ok with him.

I can handle that once his status is changed AND the FBI report comes back. I also am trying to get an assessment of how long it will take to get the FBI report (based on Derik's background).

On the other hand, I hate to be pessimistic, but my guess is all of this will not fly. We might should just chalk it up to lessons learned - - interns don't get clearances, haste makes waste, NEC needs better Admin support, whatever.

BUT, I will continue to work it when I return from TDY on Wednesday. However, Andrea is the key and Craig told me she had not returned his call for two days.

thanks,
-david

Mike,

I asked Craig twice and though he said he would, my guess is it will slide.

I think it would be best if you or someone representing Bob Kyle worked it with Andrea. I have (please keep this in confidence) been told to stay out of it.

When you talk to Andrea, the key is that Derek be reclassified from Intern to fellow or whatever and also that he NOT be counted against the NSC FTE (cap on personnel). If that happens we can try to work the clearance.

However, two other considerations. No security paperwork has been submitted to FBI yet and that could take a month or more. As e-mailed to Bob Kyle - my personal opinion is it's not worth it this time. But, since Bob is a Senior Director, I think he should make the decision and then get the support he needs to make it happen. Too bad this isn't the way it was handled initially.

Marsha, I had a conversation with Craig Livingstone regarding our new pass request process, and we both feel it is working better. However, Craig would like us to complete the middle of the sheet that covers legal issues, Questions are as follows: Have you ever been fired from a job?, Are you now under any charge, or have you been convicted of, or forfeited collateral for violation of the law. This is purely a CYA issue mostly for them but I didn't feel like it was a great sacrifice for us to make. I feel like we have made great strides in the relationship between the NSC and WH Security because of small issues like this that do not cost us anything. If you have any questions please let me know. Thanks.

Glenn,

Mary mentioned that she never met with Craig Livingstone. Remember we discussed she and he meeting as a sort of courtesey call meeting? Anyway, can you check with Craig to see what and when would be the best time? The reason I'm punting to you is because I think you should be in the meeting (as was Marsha and Bronya for their relevant people) so it will probably be easier for you to arrange. You can view Mary's schedule for reference. Let me know what you come up with. Thanks!
