TEXT:

The FBI would like to slightly change their procedure for sending us weekly updates of completed and pending background investigations. They would like to only send us weekly updates of cases opened and closed rather than sending us the printout of every White House case since the beginning of the administration. This would take some pressure off their computer system and save a few trees. Basically we would have the same information only in an abbreviated format. Please let me know if there are any problems or concerns with this new procedure.
