HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C. 20515

RICHARD A. GEPHARDT
MAJORITY LEADER

January 5, 1993

The Honorable Richard Riley
Office of Presidential Transition
1120 Vermont Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Governor:

I am writing to recommend Max Starkloff for the Chair of the National Council on Disability (NCD). As you are surely aware, the NCD is the body that makes legislative recommendations to both the President and Congress on disability-related issues. Max is committed to justice for all disabled Americans, and his expert advice would be an asset of which the Clinton-Gore Administration would be proud.

I believe it is critical that people with disabilities be active participants in the policy process. Max is highly qualified, by his professional experience and his unquestionable integrity, to contribute to -- and to improve -- the debate about disability issues.

Biographical information about Max is enclosed. I would greatly appreciate your serious consideration of his candidacy.

Yours very truly,

Richard A. Gephardt

BIOGRAPHY

MAX J. STARKLOFF

Max Starkloff has resided in St. Louis since his birth in 1937. When he was 21 years old, Max was involved in a disabling automobile accident. After an extended hospital stay and a subsequent stay with his mother for four years, the physical and financial strain became overwhelming. At the time, the only option for someone with a severe disability was to move into a nursing home, where he resided for 12 years.

During this period, when his young contemporaries were beginning their careers, getting married, having children and buying houses, Max became frustrated with his desire to do more than merely survive his accident. He wanted to "live" a full and productive life and was not willing to accept the prognosis of a life of dependence for people with injuries like his. His frustrations mounted as he discovered firsthand society's patronizing and negative attitudes towards people with disabilities and the lack of access and opportunity for an independent life.

Regardless, Max was not about to relinquish his dignity. He used this time of confinement to create a plan to escape the bondage of institutional captivity. He learned to release his frustrations by expressing his anxiety on canvas with a paintbrush clenched between his teeth. Having discovered the joy and satisfaction of this new skill, he recognized his ability to create and envision new possibilities.

Max set out to make the necessary changes for a more fulfilling life, so that he, as well as others with disabilities, could live independently. From the nursing home in which he lived, Max founded a privately funded independent living center he called Paraquad.

Max finally left the nursing home and ran Paraquad as a mom and pop organization with his wife, Colleen. Today, Paraquad is a permanent institution serving and influencing thousands of people with disabilities, their families and employers.

Through Max's accomplishments, people with disabilities in St. Louis have gained the opportunity to live independently. Below are a few of his achievements.

- o Founded Paraquad in 1970 as a privately funded Independent Living Center.
- o Secured first ever state-wide, barrier-free legislation for local and state curb cuts.
- o Acquired disabled parking legislation.
- o Established Paraquad as one of the original 10 federally funded Independent Living Centers in the nation.
- o In 1970, founded the St. Louis Chapter of the National Paraplegia Foundation.

The single most outstanding aspect of Max Starkloff's contribution to the needs of people with disabilities is his record of achievement to develop such a strong and expansive network of grassroots advocates for change. Max has made it a point to attend and participate in all activities, meetings and events that may have consequential potential. Through his direct contact with a wide spectrum of institutions and people who make the St. Louis metropolitan area a vital, accessible and growing community, he has become the community's single most important resource and authority on disability issues. Although he recognizes the value of connecting with those of fame and position, Max has remained equally interested in and accessible to Paraquad's participants.

The Honorable Harris Wofford
521 Dirksen Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Harris:

During this past year I have been trying to keep abreast of articles regarding your interest and intent on improving our health care program and I'm wishing you wisdom and Godspeed in your endeavor.

In the last months I have been encouraged by some friends who know of my interest and involvement in both disability organizations and issues. They feel I should be using my years of experience, maturity and deep concern on a national level.

As you know my participation in this field is nearly daily, therefore, I would appreciate your support in my quest to serve on either the National Council on Disability or the President's Committee on Employment of People with Disabilities.

It is my understanding that Ms. Janet Blanchard, who is the transition person in charge of Presidential Boards and Commissions, is thoroughly aware of my endeavor.

I am including my resume which I hope will satisfy any questions regarding my ability to serve on either of these boards.

Although everything is well under control, of course, we are missing you in the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry and especially on the Board of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Thank you, Harris, for your encouragement and support. I look forward to seeing you again.

Sincerely,

Connie

Dear Paul,

I see they did get you to go to Washington. Frankly, I am ambivalent about joining you. I think it would take a call from Hillary to Judy, my wife, to convince the family to move or me to commute. While I hear my name has been brought up to head in IDRR I think given the above, I would do better in a more consultative capacity such as a member of NCD or one of the newer advisory councils.

Take care,

Irv

Irving Kenneth Zola

(Harvard University Ph.D. 1962) is the Mortimer Gryzmish Professor of Human Relations at Brandeis University and currently the chair of its Sociology Department. Although Brandeis has been his primary home base, he has been a consultant in residence to both the World Health Organization and the Netherlands Institute of Preventive Medicine. He has been on the editorial boards of over 20 journals and a panelist/reviewer for the Departments of Education, Labor, HHS, NIH, NSF, and AAAS.

He is a founding member of Greenhouse a free-standing mental health clinic; of the Boston Self Help Center, an advocacy and counseling center for people with disabilities; of the Society for Disability Studies, an academic and professional society; and of Community Works, a Greater Boston progressive alternative to the United Way.

His awards include: 1983 Mary Switzer Scholar in Rehabilitation.

1986, "Apple Award" of the Massachusetts Sociological Association for "outstanding contributions to the teaching of Sociology."

1986, Certificate of Recognition for Sociological Practice, Sociological Practice Association.

1987, Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

1989, N. Neal Pike Prize Award for Service to the Handicapped.

1989, American College of Rehabilitation Medicine Coulter Award Lecturer.

1990, Leo G. Reeder Award for Distinguished Service to Medical Sociology.

1991, John R. Hogness Lecturer on Health Care, University of Washington.

1992, Bernard Kutner Lecturer on Rehabilitation Counseling, Boston University.

1992, President-elect (for 1994) Eastern Sociological Society.

His publications, many reprinted in anthologies and in translation include: "Observation on Gambling in a Lower Class Setting," (Social Problems); "Culture and Symptoms," (American Sociological Review); "Pathways to the Doctor", (Social Science & Medicine); "Aging, Disability and the Home-Care Revolution" Archives of Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation"; "Medicine as an Institution of Social Control," (Sociological Review); "Any Distinguishing Features - The Portrayal of Disability in the Crime Mystery Genre" (Policy Studies Journal); "Toward the Necessary Universalizing of a Disability Policy" (Milbank Memorial Fund Quarterly), and most recently "Bringing Our Bodies and Ourselves Back In - Reflections on Past, Present and Future 'Medical Sociology'" (Journal of Health and Social Behavior). Any Distinguishing Features: Portrayal of Disability in the Crime/Mystery Genre (Interpreting Disability). His over a dozen books have involved a coauthorship with Ivan Illich, Disabling Professions; Ordinary Lives an edited anthology; Sociomedical Inquiries: Recollections, Reflections, and Reconsiderations; Missing Pieces, A Chronicle of Living with a Disability; a coediting with Nancy Crewe, Independent Living for Physically Disabled People; and a collaboration with William and Joan McCord Origins of Crime. Since 1981 he has been publisher editor and regular contributor of the Disability Studies Quarterly. In recent years he has taken to storytelling (both writing and performing) as a way of "spreading the word". A dozen stories have so far appeared and a collection is in the works.
