THE WHITE HOUSE

Dear Representative Ros-Lehtinen:

Thank you for your letter regarding the situation of Cuban migrants in safehavens. Let me assure you that I share the concern of the Cuban-American community for the well-being of Cubans in Guantanamo and Panama and that every effort is being made to improve conditions in the camps.

As you know, we have decided to take a series of humanitarian steps for Cubans in safehavens. People with urgent medical needs, unaccompanied young children, and migrants over the age of 70 will be paroled into the U.S.

With regard to the ^{welfare of those in} ~~status of~~ the camps, I have great pride and confidence in the work of our men and women in uniform. At the same time we have appointed an ombudsman to serve as liaison between the migrants and U.S. authorities and are looking into other steps to be responsive to the needs of the Cubans in the camps.

I appreciate your concern and assure you that I share your goal of moving toward a democratic Cuba.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Ileana Ros-Lehtinen

Dear Mr. President:

Mr. Miguel Angel Tudela, President of the Cuban Municipalities in Exile (Municipios de Cuba en el Exilio) one of the largest Cuban American exile organizations composed of representatives of all the incorporated municipalities in Cuba, has contacted my office to present a resolution just passed by the organization's Executive Board calling for the creation of an Autonomous Cuban Authority in Exile which would act as a liaison between the refugees and the U.S. authorities in charge of the detainment process.

Mr. Tudela states that the organization believes that the creation of this Authority would be useful in developing a positive attitude among the detained refugees while contributing in improving relations between the U.S. and the Cuban people.

Enclosed is the resolution approved by the Executive Board of this great organization which has fought for the liberty of Cuba for many years.

Your attention to this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
