THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20350-1000

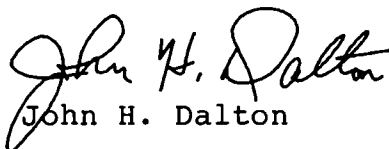

22 February 1995

Dear Colleague,

As I mentioned to you in a previous letter, it is my intention to send you from time to time material which will keep you apprised of key information relating to the Department of the Navy. With this letter I am enclosing one of our most useful documents. It is our 1995 Department of the Navy Posture Statement, and forms the basis for testimony that the Chief of Naval Operations, the Commandant of the Marine Corps and I will deliver this year to the Congress. It is a thorough, current package detailing our Navy-Marine Corps Team activities this year and the policies and programs that will guide us as we set our course into the next century.

I hope that you will refer to this document as you help articulate the unique contributions of our naval forces to national security. Your assistance in ensuring that accurate information regarding the Navy-Marine Corps Team reaches key policy makers in the private sector is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

John H. Dalton
