Dear Ms. Herman:

I am following up to the invitation you received from the Women's Campaign Fund for their upcoming "Party of Your Choice" Dinners on Tuesday, May 17th. I hope you will join me in supporting this important group by being a "Celebrity Guest" at WCF's dinners.

As is our tradition, WCF will assemble a compelling mix of celebrities from the world of politics, media, sports, literature and entertainment for a fun-filled evening. And this year the parties are shaping up to be our best ever. WCF will offer fifteen dinners hosted by prominent Washingtonians in their homes. Guests select the "Party of Their Choice" and enjoy the opportunity to dine with Members of Congress, top women candidates and other celebrity guests in an intimate setting. Preceding the private dinners, all guests are invited to join us for a gala reception highlighting our top women candidates beginning at 6:00 PM.

As one of this year's hosts, and as Co-Chair of the Women's Campaign Research Fund -- WCF's nonprofit arm -- I know the importance of this event to pro-choice women candidates all across this country. I can't think of a more worthwhile organization for you to support and a more enjoyable way to support this cause.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call me at (202) 244-8247 or Amy Conroy, WCF's Executive Director, at (202)544-4484.

Thank you for your support. I will call you next week to follow up to this request.

Sincerely,

Naney Rubin

December 13, 1993

Dear Ms. Herman:

I am writing in regard to a conference that is being planned for the first or second week of May 1993 in Phoenix, Arizona. We have not set a final date yet, as we were hoping to select a convenient day for our keynote speaker.

In recent months, I have been responsible for coordinating the efforts of an ad hoc group of consultants, non-profit agencies, and governmental agencies working within the wide spectrum of lifelong learning (i.e., from prenatal care through elder care and everything in between). This group is called the Arizona Partnership for Lifelong Learning, or APLL. It's mission is to present a conference to Arizona businesses to foster partnerships between employers, educators, and working families. The conference entitled Building Lifelong Learning Partnerships for a Better Workforce will present three separate tracks. The details for the track topics are currently being finalized through the speaker selection process (we have received many proposals).

Track 1: Today's Workforce-Post-Secondary and Continuing Education Partnerships

The Arizona Work Force Recruitment and Job Training Program
Industry-Specific Training Programs
Innovative Training Partnerships
Retraining and Re-Entry Programs

Track 2: Today's Workforce-Partnerships with Working Families

Planning and Evaluating Work/Family Policies and Programs
Work/Family Policies
Social Services Available to Working Families
Dependent Care Options
Tax Implications of Work/Family Issues

HR
Regret
to Ans.
Machine
5/21

Track 3: Tomorrow's Workforce—Early Childhood, Primary, and Secondary Education Partnerships

Initiatives Benefiting Young Children
Creating Partnerships with Public Education
Successful Examples of Business-Education Partnerships

The Department of Labor (Barbara Sanford, Women's Bureau) has been very instrumental during the development of this group and conference. In fact, their desire to establish a dependent care coalition in Arizona was the seed of APLL. Because there is a great deal of interest in business-education partnerships in economic development circles, the ad hoc coalition was expanded to include other levels of education. The federal government will also be represented in a presentation on the School-to-Work Opportunities Act as a part of the Innovative Training Partnerships session.

We are asking you to consider being the keynote speaker for this conference. We realize that the group will be small by your standards—a maximum of 400 for the conference and a maximum of 600 for the keynote address only. However, we hope that the importance of the concepts presented will encourage your participation.

I will make a follow-up call to this letter unless I hear from your office first. Thank you for your time and consideration, Alexis.

Most sincerely,

Dear Ms. Herman:

This is a follow-up to the Arizona Partnership for Lifelong Learning's invitation to act as keynote speaker for our conference entitled "Building Lifelong Learning Partnerships for a Better Workforce." Because of the wide range of topics to be covered, there are three conference tracks with four sessions each. The current working titles are as follows:

Track 1: Today's Workforce—Developing and Maintaining a Competitive Edge Through Education Partnerships

- 1a Arizona Workforce Recruitment and Job Training Program
- 1b Retraining and Re-Entry Partnerships
- 1c Industry-Based Training Partnerships
- 1d Innovative Training Partnerships

Track 2: Today's Workforce—Partnerships With Working Families

- 2a Planning and Evaluating Work/Family Policies and Programs
- 2b Social Services Available to Working Families
- 2c Work/Family Policies
- 2d Dependent Care Options

Track 3: Tomorrow's Workforce—Partnerships Benefiting Young Children

- 3a Evaluating Education Partnership Grant Proposals
- 3b The American Business Collaborative for Quality Dependent Care
- 3c Creating Partnerships with Public Education
- 3d Successful Partnerships

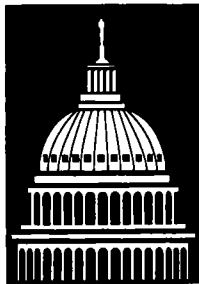

The date for the conference has been set for Tuesday, May 17, 1994. It will be held at the YWCA of the USA Leadership Development Conference Center located at 9440 N. 25th Avenue in Phoenix, Arizona. This facility will allow 600 participants for the keynote address, and 400 participants for the full day. We hope that the importance of promoting business-education partnerships will encourage you to accept our invitation to speak.

Sincerely,

Margaret Tchida, M.S.

Dear Ms. Herman:

This May, 200 of the nation's most outstanding women leaders will be in Washington, D.C., for the tenth annual Women as Leaders Seminar. Given your tremendous accomplishments as an exemplary professional and role model, it is our hope that you will be able to share your valuable insight with these culturally-diverse women of vision and promise as a participant in this year's seminar.

The Women as Leaders Seminar is conducted by The Washington Center, a non-profit organization dedicated to providing academic seminars and internships for college students. This year's Women as Leaders Seminar promises to be the best ever. The 1994 class of students is made up of three college women from each state, Washington, D.C., and Puerto Rico in addition to 44 at-large candidates. It includes women of all ethnic backgrounds, physically-challenged individuals and many non-traditionally aged college women with families. All of the students were nominated by their college or university president and then selected by a panel of educators and women leaders, based on their leadership activities, interest in women's issues, letters of recommendation and academic achievement. The program is highly competitive, with over 800 applicants for this year's program alone.

During the seminar, students will develop their leadership potential and examine a variety of women's issues through lectures, small group discussions, tours, mentor opportunities and volunteer community activities--all with nationally prominent women leaders. Some of the topics previously covered include The Evolution of Women in Leadership Positions, The Treatment of Women by the Media, Workforce Challenges Facing Women and Women as Entrepreneurs.

Given your outstanding achievements, your service in numerous leadership roles and your insight into the challenges women leaders face, I would be honored to have you give the keynote address at the Closing Reception scheduled for Tuesday, May 17, 1994 from 1:00-3:00 p.m. If you are unable to speak during this time, we would be very interested in working with your schedule to find a time that would be convenient for you. It would be both inspirational and memorable to the women attending the seminar.

Laura Hudson, Director of Academic Seminars, will contact you in the near future. However, if you have any questions about the Women as Leaders Seminar in the meantime, please feel free to contact me at (202) 336-7578, or Laura at (202) 336-7576. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Dear Ms. Herman:

We would like to invite you to participate in a nationwide photo shoot on Tuesday, May 17, as part of our 1994 public awareness campaign, "Picture What Women Do." This initiative was created to draw attention to all that women accomplish in their daily lives that often goes unnoticed and to generate support for more effective systems of care and community.

On that date, women all across America will record their everyday activities and responsibilities by having their husbands, friends, children and co-workers photograph contemporary woman. A number of photographs will be showcased on LIFETIME and at the National Museum of Women in the Arts in Washington, D.C. in September. Tipper Gore, wife of Vice President Albert Gore, was one of the first women to pledge to participate.

In addition, nine leading national women's and community groups have joined LIFETIME to support the campaign, representing some ten million people across the country. They include: Alzheimer's Association, National Breast Cancer Coalition, Child Care Action Campaign, Junior League, Links Inc., Ms. Foundation for Women, National PTA, 9to5 -- the National Association of Working Women and YWCA of the U.S.A.

If you are interested in participating in "Picture What Women Do" by recording your day in photographs, please have your staff call John Solomon at 212-424-7125.

The Carter-Menil Human Rights Foundation was established in 1986 by Jimmy Carter and Dominique de Menil to promote the protection of human rights throughout the world.

Dominique de Menil and her late husband, John de Menil, founded the Rothko Chapel in 1971 in Houston, Texas. Through The Rothko Chapel programs, Mrs. de Menil seeks to promote better understanding among people of different religions and cultures.

In 1981, her empathy with the deprived and oppressed and her commitment to justice led Mrs. de Menil to initiate The Rothko Chapel Awards for Truth and Freedom. In 1986 The Rothko Chapel Oscar Romero Award was established. Also known for her interest in art and her private collection, Mrs. de Menil created The Menil Collection Museum in Houston.

Jimmy Carter, the 39th President of the United States, is recognized for his longstanding leadership in advancing human rights for all people. His work as President to make human rights an integral part of U.S. foreign policy and to create peace worldwide continues today at The Carter Center in Atlanta, Georgia.

At the Center, staff of the Human Rights Program work with President Carter and his wife, Rosalynn, to intervene on behalf of individuals being persecuted, foster collaboration among international human rights organizations, promote universal standards for human rights, and establish permanent governmental protections for human rights throughout the world.

Many countries have responded to President Carter's call by reinforcing the role of human rights in their societies. Many lives have been spared and prisoners of conscience released.

Dear Ms. Herman:

My name is Jill Barnes, and I am a student majoring in Sociology at Mississippi State University. I recently attended a conference in Washington sponsored by the Center for the Study of the Presidency at which you spoke. Luckily, I had the chance speak to your uncle, Dr. Butler, who gave me your address and encouraged me to write to you. I must tell you that I enjoyed your speech immensely. Of all the speakers that addressed us at "Issues '94," I believe that you were the most inspiring and by far the most credible. You are one of the most positive, principled role models for women, black and white alike, that I have come into contact with.

Being a native Mississippian, I am extremely interested in the status of race relations in the South, both past and present. Therefore, my interests were greatly heightened when your uncle introduced you and as I listened to you mention the difficulties you and your family faced while living in Mobile. Of all the papers I have written during my undergraduate career, the most enthralling and awe-inspiring dealt with the Civil Rights Movement, in which I interviewed ten people who could recall the events surrounding it. Never have I had so much respect for a people who could endure such hardships and emerge with such resilience. Some people turn their personal challenges into insurmountable walls, while others transform them into doable realities. It is the latter I see in you and that I strive to emulate in my own life.

Mississippi State University will be hosting a conference during May for the National Black Graduate Student Association. I am enclosing a brochure detailing the events in hopes that you will consider attending. There is only one correction: instead of the tour of Old Waverly, we will be hosting a blues concert. If you are interested in addressing the audience at any point, please let us know. The professor I work for is the national advisor and conference coordinator.

Thanks again for being so encouraging, not so much by your words, but by your actions and values. At a time when I am running out of steam (I am a senior), it is most encouraging.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Herman:

On behalf of the Board of Trustees of the National Fund for the U.S. Botanic Garden, it is our pleasure to invite you to be our guest at the May 11th event, The National Garden Gala - A Tribute to America's First Ladies. The evening will benefit the U.S. Botanic Garden's National Garden, currently in design development.

As you know, the National Garden, developed in commemoration of the Bicentennial of the U.S. Congress, will be dedicated in 1995 in conjunction with the U.S. Botanic Garden's 175th Anniversary. The National Garden will be this country's premiere showcase for unusual, useful and ornamental plants. To be built on the three-acre site immediately adjacent to the U.S. Botanic Garden Conservatory and the U.S. Capitol, the garden will feature an Environmental Learning Center, the Water Garden dedicated to America's First Ladies, and a Rose Garden exhibiting varieties of our national flower, the rose.

As you will see in the enclosed invitation, the evening, chaired by First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton, will honor our special guests Lady Bird Johnson, Betty Ford, Rosalynn Carter, Nancy Reagan, and Barbara Bush. The evening will also pay special tribute to Patricia Nixon who served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the National Fund for the U.S. Botanic Garden. Phyllis George will serve as emcee, and Johnny Mathis will perform during what promises to be a very special and historic evening.

We hope that you and your guest will be able to join us. Julie Hanson will be calling your scheduler in the near future to confirm your attendance and answer any questions you may have about the evening. In the meantime, we would appreciate receiving your response via the enclosed RSVP card. We hope that you will be able to join us as our guests at the National Garden Gala.

Dear Ms. Herman:

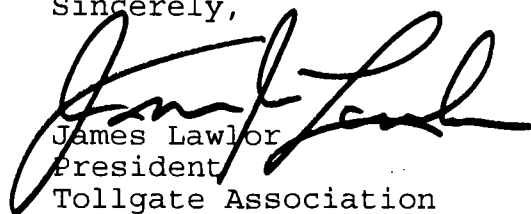

With spring in full force, Washington, D.C. is getting more beautiful each and every day. Yet we still have serious problems which affect our livability. One is that of unnecessary and disruptive NOISE.

Mayor Kelly has introduced legislation, the "Noise Control Amendment Act of 1994", Bill 10-537 which will provide effective enforcement against loud and obnoxious noise. Our streets and neighborhoods, our apartment buildings and parks will be more enjoyable and safer, when we have more peace and quiet.

On Friday, May 20, 1994 at 10:00 a.m., the Council Committee on Consumer and Regulatory Affairs will hold a hearing on the Mayor's noise abatement ordinance. I felt that you would want to know about this hearing and would want to support this effort to make Washington a more peaceful city.

If you need any further information and wish to testify on this legislation, please contact the committee's clerk on 724-8015.

Dear Ms. Herman:

I had the pleasure and opportunity of attending the meeting with President Clinton on Tuesday, March 22 with small business owners on Health Care Reform. I saw you from afar and did not get a chance to speak with you. However, I did speak with Ms. Amy Sizook from your office. I am pleased to find out that she did in fact relay the interest.

South Dallas Health Access, Inc. is newly established non-profit agency providing health care services to people with HIV/AIDS and other chronic illnesses. Established in February of 1993, our agency provides financial assistance for payment of health insurance premiums to unemployed HIV+ persons. In February 1994 our health care clinic opened for the provision of medical care to HIV/AIDS - infected persons. Additionally, we are providing AIDS education to at risk populations.

With the many promising aspects of health care reform on the horizon the official opening and dedication of our health care clinic must be of major significance. We are located in the heart of the South Dallas Community which is primarily African- American and indigent Accessible health care is of great importance within the community and the opening of our health care service is greatly valued by our community.

The Board of Directors and staff would be more than delighted if you would be our special guest and keynote speaker for the Official Opening and Dedication of the Margaret K. Wright Clinic, a project of South Dallas Health Access, Inc.

Friday May 20, 1994 is the date targeted for this event, however, any day during the weeks of May 16 through May 27 would be workable for us as your schedule permits. We are planning for a Luncheon on that date with the dedication to follow.

Your presence and participation as keynote speaker would be more than noteworthy for the Dallas community and would be a special honor for the Margaret K. Wright Clinic.

The Margaret K. Wright Clinic of South Dallas

We look forward to hearing from you soon. Should you have questions or need additional information, I may be reached at (214) 421-7848 and at the address listed above.

Sincerely yours,

RIP

Dear Ms. Herman:

On May 21, 1994 Whitman-Walker Clinic will present a legend of dance, Mikhail Baryshnikov, and his White Oak Dance Project in an evening of spectacular performances to benefit the Whitman-Walker Clinic's recently completed Elizabeth Taylor Medical Center. About Baryshnikov, Tsar Power of Arts & Books recently said, "He's brilliant. He's beautiful. And he's back." Accompanying the dance legend are seven other geniuses of modern dance. Together, the White Oak Dance Project has wowed audiences across the country, their performances selling out to stadium size crowds.

I am inviting you to join me for an intimate evening with the White Oak Dance Project at the Warner Theater to support the Whitman-Walker Clinic's Elizabeth Taylor Medical Center. As a Gala Co-Chair of the Medical Center's premiere benefit, "Friends for Life," I am pleased to offer my support to this state-of-the-art comprehensive medical treatment center for HIV/AIDS.

As nearly 6,000 people in the Washington metropolitan area are living with AIDS and at least eight times that many are infected with HIV, the need for the Elizabeth Taylor Medical Center is expanding disproportionate to available funding. Advancing the Medical Center while being charmed by the magic of the White Oak Dance Project is truly a winning combination.

To begin the evening, Elizabeth Taylor is scheduled to present The Honorable Donna E. Shalala, Secretary of Health and Human Services, with the first "Friend for Life" Award for her efforts and achievements in AIDS treatment, care and research. We have also received word that the White House has accepted an invitation to the event, and that Senator Edward Kennedy has already agreed to serve as an honorary co-chair.

I hope you will unite with those of us who have committed our support to this important event. Joining one of the donor categories listed on the accompanying page will ensure that you receive preferred seating at the performance and that you will be identified on all printed/promotional materials at the corresponding level of support. You will also be invited to a VIP/Cast party for Mr. Baryshnikov and the White Oak Dance Project in the atrium of the Homer Building after the performance.

In addition to the donor categories listed, we are reserving -- for organizations which may be interested in offering a higher level of support -- the opportunity to serve as an Underwriter or a Benefactor of "Friends for Life."

Finally, if your social calendar does not allow you to attend "Friends for Life," you may consider showing your support of this important effort by purchasing placement in the program book.

If you have any questions about the gala, or if you would like more information on the Underwriter or Benefactor donor levels, please call our "Friends for Life" hotline at (202) 778-0571. I hope you will be able to attend "Friends for Life." Together we can make a real difference in the fight against AIDS. I look forward to seeing you at the Warner Theater on May 21.

Sincerely,

The White Oak Dance Project

The White Oak Dance Project, which has been hailed as “possibly the most successful dance company in existence,” was founded by Mikhail Baryshnikov in 1990. With the company members alumni of such prestigious dance companies as the Mark Morris Dance Group, the Paul Taylor Company, ABT, the Twyla Tharp Dance Company, Pilobolus, and Lar Lubovitch Dance Company, it is clear that each dancer has achieved their own link to greatness. The eight dancers who comprise the White Oak Dance Project are; Mikhail Baryshnikov, Rob Besserer, Nancy Colahan, John Gardner, Kate Johnson, Marianne Moore, Kevin O'Day and Ruthlyn Salomons.

Adding to the unique qualities of this dance company is the fact that they perform to the live music of the White Oak Chamber Ensemble, directed by Michael Boriskin. The company members work together in much the same way that they dance: fluidly, connected with passion and conviction. The dancers make decisions as a unit, selecting new performance pieces by the choreographers who most captivate them. Among the accolades the White Oak Dance Project has received for their appearances worldwide are:

“One thing stood out above all others in Tuesday’s performance of the White Oak Dance Project...People still need heroes in their lives...Mikhail Baryshnikov filled that need to perfection.”

- Marilyn Tucker, SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE

“The innate purity of his (Baryshnikov) classical style shapes his every move, making for a luminous clarity that encompasses tension of line and an uninhibited plunge into shifting dynamics...Mr. Baryshnikov in the right role...can not be bettered.”

- Anne Kisselgoff, THE NEW YORK TIMES

“With Mikhail Baryshnikov the perfectionist at center stage...the package took wing again and again soaring and raising the spirit like a billowing wave...Baryshnikov’s limbs flow like willows in the wind - but he can also jump with grand suppleness. No further proof is needed that he is a legend.”

- Paul Hertelendy, SAN JOSE MERCURY NEWS

“The glow of Baryshnikov watching lasts a long time...With just eight dancers, a pianist, and a string quartet, Baryshnikov and company created a vibrant poetically alive world on stage.”

- Anne Marie Welsh, THE SAN DIEGO UNION TRIBUNE

“Baryshnikov moves brilliantly to modern dance.”

- Alfred Kay, THE SACRAMENTO BEE

“What makes White Oak remarkable isn’t just Baryshnikov’s dancing, though his dancing remains absolutely astonishing, but the extraordinary talents of the rest of the ensemble.”

- Laura Shapiro, NEWSWEEK

OF WHITMAN-WALKER CLINIC

Two out of every three people living with AIDS in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area benefit in some way from the resources of Whitman-Walker Clinic. All individuals seeking service have access to the full range of the Clinic's programs, and find that the Clinic's commitment to comprehensive and compassionate care has continually expanded to meet the growing demands of the AIDS epidemic.

These demands have necessitated the establishment of several additional facilities: Whitman-Walker Clinic of Northern Virginia, Whitman-Walker Clinic of Suburban Maryland, the Max Robinson Center in Southeast Washington and—most recently—its new medical center, named in honor of actress and AIDS activist Elizabeth Taylor.

The Elizabeth Taylor Medical Center currently offers enhanced medical care to thousands of area patients, and it was built to accommodate the ever-increasing numbers of people affected by HIV and AIDS. Its capacity allows for full medical service to as many as 8,000 patients and HIV testing and counseling consultations for as many as 4,000 people each year.

In addition to enhancing services previously provided at the Clinic's main facility, the Medical Center provides on-site services through its:

eye health center

X-ray capabilities

laboratory with capacity for in-house CD-4 counts

OB/GYN exam rooms

on-site pharmacy

two dental suites

expanded research area

volunteer-operated child care room

Whitman-Walker Clinic also operates: an HIV day treatment and care center, a legal advocacy division, nine residential facilities, a mental health services program, two food banks, a social work case management department, a financial assistance project, a home health care project, an extensive HIV education and prevention program, and an alcohol and substance abuse center.

The Capital City Chapter

18 April 1994

Ms. Alexis Herman, Director
Office of Public Liaison
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C.

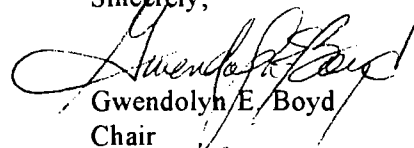

Dear Ms. Herman:

The Capital City Chapter of The Links, Incorporated is sponsoring a Community Health Fair on Saturday, May 21, 1994 at the Edward C. Mazique Parent Child Center. This Health Fair will be a one-time opportunity for persons in the Shaw Community and surrounding neighborhoods to have access to a medical professional. These people lack access to care because they are not a part of any health plan and many live at or below the poverty level. The critical need for an activity such as this is overwhelming. Hundreds of people throughout the community came through the last time this activity was held. We have secured volunteers from various medical disciplines and the use of the Wellness Van from Providence Hospital. We will also be conducting immunization of children who come to the Health Fair. The enclosed flier provides additional details and highlights the fact that a significant part of the population we will service that day are Spanish-speaking.

We would like to invite you to share in our ribbon cutting as we open the fair at 9:00 A.M. on May 21. We are scheduled to have volunteers on hand throughout the day from 9:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. We understand and share President and Mrs. Clinton's concern on the issue of health care and feel this is one event which will highlight the positive benefits of their proposal.

We certainly hope that you will be able to find time in what I know is a very busy schedule to join us for the ribbon cutting. If you have any questions or require any additional information please do not hesitate to call me at (301) 953-6000 ext 8577, daytime or (301) 572-7912 evenings. We look forward to your positive response.

Sincerely,

Gwendolyn E. Boyd

Dear Ms. Herman,

HONORARY CO-CHAIRS

HON. SHARON PRATT KELLY
MAYOR, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

HON. DAVE CLARKE
CHAIR, D.C. CITY COUNCIL

Last week a friend told me that she couldn't go to another memorial or vigil. She was cried-out, marched-out and burned-out. Yet two days later there she was at a mutual friend's memorial. We laughed as we hugged each other because we both knew that even though we sometimes feel like we cannot carry on, the AIDS epidemic is not over and we will cry, march and fight until the bitter end.

Please join the National Minority AIDS Council as we observe the 11th Annual AIDS Candlelight Memorial & Mobilization on Sunday, May 22, 1994. The Candlelight Memorial and Mobilization is a worldwide event celebrated in more than 240 cities internationally and is coordinated by Mobilization Against AIDS. In Washington, DC, NMAC has agreed to produce the event in concert with many other national and local businesses and organizations. Please join me at 6:30 PM in Lafayette Park (across from the White House). We will light our candles along with candles in the White House and march down Pennsylvania Avenue towards the Capitol as a beacon of light and hope. By the reflecting pool we will celebrate life with Gospel music and entertainment, this event is called "Coming Out of Darkness".

If you need additional information about this event, please call Gregory Adams from my office (202/544-1076, ext. 326). If you are unable to join us, please light a candle in your window as we "Renew the faith. Believe the promise. Envision the light."
