National Service Trust Fund Act of 1993

~~CONFIDENTIAL DRAFT~~

A. Establishment of the National Service Trust Fund

Funds appropriated to the Trust Fund may be used to provide a benefit worth $10,000 for each year of service to individual completing one or two terms of approved national service.

States and a new National Service Agency will approve national service positions in the areas of education, human services, environment, and public safety. These positions may include youth corps, specialized service corps dedicated to priority needs (such as an earth corps, education corps, and health corps), individual placements in non-profit organizations (including VISTA), professional corps (such as a police corps, Teach for America corps, and service-learning corps), a limited number of public interest entrepreneurs designing new ways to solve a domestic problem, and service in hard-to-fill employer-supported teaching, nursing, and other service jobs in enterprise zones. National service positions may not displace any paid worker.

Recent college graduates of any age or out-of-school youth may participate by applying to and being accepted into a program offering approved national service positions. To assist individuals in locating approved positions, a national database will be established which can be accessed through college placement offices, employment centers, and other appropriate locations.

A minimum term of service qualifying the individual for a $10,000 benefit is equal to 1500 hours of service over a period of not less than nine months. A part-time term of service of the equivalent number of hours must be completed within three years. A benefit may be used to pay for tuition, fees, room and board at an institution of higher education, to repay qualified federal student loans, or to obtain employment training.

To promote national esprit de corps, the National Service Agency will arrange a national training program for participants, along with a national insignia to be used on uniforms, promotional materials, and other materials of approved programs. It will also arrange for a national visibility campaign promoting national service and facilitate creation of an alumni network of individuals who have participated in national service.

B. Authorization of National Service Programs

To support an infrastructure of national service positions, funding is authorized for stipends and benefits (health care, child care) for participants and for program support. Three types of national service programs may be supported: School-age service-learning programs, as authorized under subtitle B of the National and Community Service Act; Older American programs, including the Older American Volunteer Programs of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act; and Full- and part-time national service eligible for benefits through the Trust Fund.

Three types of support may be made available for full- and part-time national service:

- Single-year planning or start-up grants, available to individuals, states, and public or private non-profit organizations including education institutions;

- Multi-year operations grants, available to states and public or private non-profit organizations wishing to improve or expand existing programs.

- Multi-year replication grants, available to states and public or private non-profit organizations wishing to replicate proven existing programs.

All full- and part-time national service grants will be made on a challenge basis and must be matched dollar for dollar with at least half of the match in cash.

C. Establishment of the National Service Agency

A new National Service Agency, building on the existing Commission on National and Community Service and ACTION agency, will have responsibility for establishing criteria for approved national service positions, ensuring against fraud and abuse, arranging for a national database of positions, arranging for a national training program, coordinating service programs within the federal government, administering the national service grant programs, and providing training and technical assistance to states and programs.

D. State Governance

The governor of each state may designate a lead agency and appoint a State National Service Commission responsible for administering the Trust Fund and the national service grant programs. The State Commission will include representatives of local service program directors and other citizens and will develop a plan for service, including proposed national service placements. The plan must ensure equitable treatment of urban and rural areas within the state and be approved by the governor and the National Service Agency.
