Mr. Daniel J. Rosen
Tufts University
231 Haskell Hall
Medford, MA 02155

Dear Mr. Rosen:

I am in receipt of your letter to Karen Ewing expressing your interest in a summer internship with the Clinton/Gore Administration. The Office of National Service is quite eager to have qualified and committed individuals working with us.

I have taken the liberty of forwarding your information to the individual who works with our Presidential Personnel Department and handles the internship program for the White House. I am sure your request will receive full consideration.

As you may know, we are in the process of developing a full White House Internship Program and should have an application and description of the various departments ready in the very near future.

We all share your enthusiasm for the Clinton/Gore Administration and look forward to working with you in the future.

Again, thank you for taking the time to write.

Sincerely,

Janet V. Green

Dear Ms. Shearer:

I understand that President Clinton is in the process of developing a new White House internship program. Moreover, I have been told that you will be overseeing this initiative.

I am writing to express my interest. Presently I run the New York City office of the National Association of Latino Elected and Appointed Officials (NALEO). Before joining NALEO I was on the staff of the New York City Council. My interest in public service goes as far back as college where I earned both a Bachelors and a Masters degree in Economics from the City College of New York. I also attended the New York University School of Law.

Any information you can send me on this program will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Shearer,

I am searching for a summer internship and recently became aware of the internship program you will be running in the White House. I believe I offer qualifications that warrant your attention.

I am a sophomore at Brown University, majoring in Political Science and Economics. Hillary Rodham Clinton has been an influential role model to me, since the earliest presidential primaries when I first learned about the work she has done and continues to do. I would relish any opportunity to work within the Clinton administration.

Listed below are some of the skills and experiences that I feel provide a solid basis for my ability to contribute as I continue to learn while working for the Clinton Administration.

- knowledge and awareness of women's issues gained through work at Brown University's Sarah Doyle Women's Center. Courses on American and European women have provided a historical perspective as a foundation for understanding contemporary issues.
- understanding of political, social and economic systems through studies as a double concentrator in Economics and Political Science. I have achieved a cumulative GPA of 3.72.
- strong computer skills developed and utilized in university and business settings. I am proficient in Object Oriented Pascal programming, AmiPro Desk Top Publishing software and word processing.
- interpersonal skills specifically applied as a Resident Counselor acting in a teaching and counseling role to students experiencing educational and/or social difficulties. Selected out of 320 applicants for one of 60 positions.

I hope your review of the enclosed materials will prompt an interview for further exploration of my potential for assuming an internship position.

Thank you for your time. I look forward to hearing from you shortly.

Sincerely,

Natalie Fiebrich

Dear Ms. Shearer:

January 20th was a special day for me. Not only was it my 22nd birthday, but it was the Inauguration Day of the man for whom I cast my first presidential vote. I had much to celebrate!

This June I will graduate from UCLA with a Political Science major. Before going on to graduate school, I would like to work in the political arena for a few years in order to get some hands-on experience. That is why I am interested in the internship program.

During high school, I spent a week in Washington as a National Youth Congress participant, and during one summer in college I worked as an aide in the office of my Congressman, Tom Lantos. I would like to return, especially during a Democratic administration.

I would appreciate it very much if you would send me the necessary information and/or application forms concerning the internship programs available to young Democrats like myself. Thank you for your help, and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Jim Lanzone

Dear Mr. Emery,

I am writing this letter on behalf of Mr. Jim Lanzone who worked as an intern in my Washington, DC, office.

While in my office, Mr. Lanzone performed a variety of duties and approached each competently and with enthusiasm. First, his responsibilities included researching public policy issues and answering constituent mail. In addition, he worked closely with my staff by attending hearings and Committee meetings and reporting back to my staff on the details of those meetings.

Second, Jim was involved in an important and time-consuming homeless project which included sponsoring a play on homelessness, presented in the Capitol, and drafting a report on homelessness. Jim's dedication in connection with the homeless program made a substantial impact on the many young people who were involved with this important project.

As a former university professor and now as a US Member of Congress, I have come to know many students. I am pleased to give Jim a high recommendation.

Cordially,

Tom Lantos

White House Internships
712 Jackson Place N.W.
Washington D.C. 20503

Dear sir/madame:

I am interested in any paid or unpaid internships that you may have available in the Fall. I am interested in government and politics and feel that I could learn a lot about public policy and the institution of the Presidency by working in Washington D.C.

As a graduating student at the University of Pennsylvania, I am currently seeking information on employment opportunities in either law or government related institutions. Specifically, I would like to work with the White House Staff or help in researching and generating reports. But, I am willing to start anywhere. I majored in Political Science at Penn, focussing my studies on politics and government. I feel that my analytical abilities combined with my interpersonal skills make me an ideal candidate for one of your internship positions. I am ambitious and hardworking and would be an asset to the White House.

I look forward to hearing from you in the near future about the possibility of setting up an interview.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Shearer:

Recently, I read an article in the New York Times stating that you were putting together an intern program for young political talent. I was so taken by the article that I decided I could offer my assistant in this area.

I have been working with the Buffalo Common Council for the past 8 1/2 year as a Legislative Assistant, writing and drafting legislation and city ordinances for the City of Buffalo Council members. Familiar with the surroundings of local government I have also instituted a number a youth programs within the City of Buffalo that has propel students into an atmosphere of learning self-esteem, educational opportunities, motivational skills, and intellectual aggressiveness to further themselves in society.

I would very much like an opportunity to discuss with you the your plan in implement such a program and share your ideas. Also, being that I am a former resident of the Baltimore/Washington area it would give me great pleasure to relocate back to my hometown.

Enclosed you will find a copy of my resume which I hope will enlighten you on my work experiences. Looking forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Sincerely,

Michael A. Williams

Mrs. Brooke Shearer, Program Director
White House Internship Program for Young Political Talent
1600 Pennsylvania Ave
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mrs. Shearer;

I am writing to you with the purpose of introducing myself and to obtain information regarding your new White House program. My name is Bryan Malickson, and while reading this month's Newsweek, I came across your name and the internship program in the article about Mrs. Clinton. I am quite curious to find out more about your program and about how I can become a part of it.

As far as my background, currently I am a senior at the University of Colorado scheduled to graduate in May with a degree in International Affairs - Middle Eastern Studies. After graduation, I plan to accept an offer to attend law school in Washington, D.C. and will start this fall. I grew up in Maryland and have always involved myself in one political organization or another. At the University of Colorado, I was involved in several campus political organizations and participated in election campaigns for a few Colorado candidates.

Recently, I have been discussing my future and seeking advice from former U.S. Congressman Mike Barnes and current Deputy Assistant Attorney General Mark Richards, my long time "political" friends in Washington. Both suggested I keep my eyes open for a program such as yours. I would savor the opportunity to discuss this program further with you or one of your associates at your earliest convenience. In May, I will be returning to Washington for good but, if necessary, I would be available to fly home earlier to meet with you.

I am excited about the prospects of the new and refreshing Clinton administration, especially its attempt to reach out to the future leaders of our country. Good luck in this program and I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Bryan Malickson

To whom it may concern,

While viewing a career poster concerning the importance of internships, I discovered this internship possibility. I am very interested in applying for this position.

As a political science major here at Bowling Green State University, I am very interested in this opportunity to volunteer at the White House. As a student here, I have been involved in student government, residence hall government, and voter registration drives. I see this internship as an unique opportunity to gain more insight and experience in the field of politics and government administration especially since its location is in the nation's capital. Enclosed is a copy of my resume. I ask that you please send me an application so I may apply for this program. Thank-you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
