TEXT:

Todd,

Stephen Fotis of Van Ness Feldman called to request a meeting on Tuesday with some senior folks from Toyota. Mr. Olsen is Exec. VP -- he's based in CA and will be in town. They would also bring their point person for the new Auto Alliance as well as Gil Banford (VP Gov't Affairs & head of D.C. office). If I understand it right, Olsen is pretty important in both the policy positions they take and in running the U.S. operations in general. They are interested in both tax incentives and credit for early action.

I think this is a good one to do.

Linda and Henry -- do you know this guy? do you agree? can you come too?

I hope Beth Arner can coordinate schedules, cause I'm out Monday.

Thx,

Dirk

VICE PRESIDENT GORE ANNOUNCES NEW RELIEF FUNDS EXPECTED FOR FAMILY FARMS THAT PRODUCE HOGS

Washington, DC -- Vice President Gore announced today that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is expected to make direct cash payments to thousands of family farm hog producers in Iowa and across the nation to help them cope with disastrously low hog prices.

"The President and I are deeply committed to the preservation of the family farm, and we are taking aggressive action to help farmers get through these difficult times," Vice President Gore said. "While we are encouraged by the recent strengthening in hog prices, additional aid is needed to help family farms that produce hogs meet their living and operating expenses."

In the next several weeks, the USDA expects to make approximately $50 million in payments to family farmers to help them meet their living and operating expenses.

The Vice President and Agriculture Secretary Glickman have announced a series of initiatives in the last few months to help pork producers. In October, the Vice President announced that Argentina would be lifting the ban on United States pork. And just a couple of weeks ago, he announced that the USDA would purchase an additional $15 million worth of pork for programs to feed the needy.

In addition, the Vice President announced an emergency transfer of $80 million to accelerate USDA's voluntary hog pseudorabies eradication program. Pseudorabies is an extremely contagious virus that causes costly reproductive problems in hogs, although it poses no risk to humans. The additional funds will be used to compensate hog producers with infected hogs and could remove up to 1.7 million hogs from the market, and will help to eliminate pseudorabies.

In Iowa, there are 632 herds, comprising 479,000 hogs that are infected with pseudorabies.

"I want to reassure pork producers and their families that President Clinton and I are doing everything we can to help soften the blows and get producers back on their feet, not just so they can survive, but so they can share in this nation's continuing prosperity," the Vice President said.

The following is a HEX DUMP:

CLIMATE CHANGE BUDGET PAPER -- OUTLINE

I. CCTI (Organization & line items for outline of this section taken from last year's piece w/tax & spending sections flipped to give greater prominence to ag and sequestration; individual line-items may not reflect actual contents of this year's package. Obviously, there are other, perhaps more user-friendly ways to organize the material that we should consider, e.g., "Homes", "Farmers", "Consumers", etc.)

- R&D Investments

- Buildings

- PATH
 - Million Solar Roofs
 - DOE research (buildings systems modeling, next-generation heat-pumps, cooling systems, furnaces, lighting, etc.)

- Industry

- DOE, EPA, USDA & DOC (NIST) research partnerships
 - Advanced power generation

- Transportation

- PNGV
 - Partnerships for light and heavy trucks
 - Sustainable transportation

- Electricity

- Renewable energy
 - Nuclear power-plant life extension
 - Innovative coal combustion technologies

- Carbon Removal and Sequestration

- Livestock management/animal feeding operations pilots
 - Cropland management
 - Sequestration R&D (DOE & USDA)
 - Biomass for energy

- Tax Incentives

- Buildings

- Energy-efficient building equipment
 - New energy-efficient homes
 - Rooftop solar systems

- Industry

- Combined heat and power
 - Circuit breaker equipment replacement
 - PFC & HFC recycling equipment

- Transportation

- Cars
 - Equalize tax treatment of parking & transit benefits

- Electricity

- Extend credit for wind & biomass

II. USGCRP -- Buenos Aires Fact Sheet on USGCRP should be used as template for this section. Include general description of program; major research projects; specific funding increases, including:

- Carbon Cycle Research Initiative (both Forest Service & ARS)

III. OTHER BUDGET ITEMS W/DIRECT CLIMATE BENEFITS

- Clean Air Partnership Fund
- DOE State Grants

TDS suggested including the following two items into this section -- not sure if these aren't already covered in CCTI above.

- [• Advanced Coal Research]
- [• Integrated Gasification & Combined Cycle]

Also included in this section would be all other programs with direct climate benefits (including all CCAP programs not already discussed in CCTI section) whether or not the program's funding was increased. It may be possible to accomplish this major undertaking relatively painlessly by using the Buenos Aires domestic papers for thumbnail program descriptions and circulating a draft of this section to OMB for program budget figures and to the agencies for review and additions.

IV. Budget Items w/Significant Climate Co-Benefits

- Ag Conservation Programs
 - Conservation Technical Assistance
 - Forestry Incentives Program
 - EQIP
 - Farmland Protection
 - Wildlife Habitat Incentives
 - Conservation Farm Option
 - CRP
 - PL-586
- CMAQ (congestion management)
- Others???

Julie and I have also discussed having a separate agriculture box that would pull together all the ag-related programs.

Writing and Editing: It is proposed that initial drafts of the above sections be written by:

- I Randy Steer & Henry Kelly
- II Person designation by Rosina
- III John Gibson
- IV Ag -- Margot Anderson/Linda Delgado or person designated by them
CMAQ -- ???

All initial drafts would be due to WHCCTF by no later than c.o.b. Mon. January 18, 1999.

TEXT:

I just received a letter from Lugar, Roberts, Wyden, Kerrey and Harkin to Glickman on sinks and fy 2000 budget that is being forwarded to you. It suggests that we focus on a couple of key ag programs for sinks incentives (CRP, EQIP, CTA -- we do a good job of this in our 2000 proposal) and that we focus on state and private forestry programs that serve private nonindustrial forest landowners (FIP, SIP, Forest Legacy - we don't do much above baseline and don't have a great story). This is the first time that the group beyond Wyden has indicated a need to focus on state and private forestry for climate - altho this is consistent with past positions the group, plus Lehy, have had in budget debates.

This latter point underscores the need, perhaps, to look at ways to get new money into forest conservation/sequestration on PNFL's. We can do so by: 1) using some of the $7 OMB/USDA skim for SIP or Forest Legacy; 2) putting in an afforestation tax credit formulation that works (at least a 50% cost share up to $10,000), or 3) both.

I have asked Margo to get back with me about the fy 2000 numbers on FIP, SIP and Forest Legacy. Let me know what additional actions are needed.

(Draft) Plan for Industry Consultations on Climate Action

Goal: Facilitate bold response to the President's call for voluntary climate action plans in the near term -- ideally, achieving closure with the first set of sectors before Earth Day 1999.

Current Assessment:

- Seven sectors are actively engaged in processes that follow CEO visioning sessions at the White House. (Aluminum, Cement, Electric Power, Forest Products, Natural Gas Pipelines and Steel plus Commercial Buildings, which did not need a White House meeting.)
- At this technical stage, CEO engagement is minimal -- staff teams are busy on technical follow-up work to the initial CEO meetings.
- Our process is reaching a wide group of companies in each sector. Climate action subgroups are now active in the mainstream of national trade association work on the technical follow-up for these seven sectors.
- In addition, there is high interest across other sectors: a few other trade associations staff and corporate expert teams are preparing for CEO/White House sessions (aviation, oil, chemicals, glass, metals-casting). As our process with the first seven sectors begins to bear fruit, other sectors will see the success and pick up the speed of their efforts.
- On the negative side, this staff-level process, while necessary in building common technical understanding and confidence in our good intentions, is slow and likely to produce modest results.
- We have a growing sense that very few individual companies will be willing to enter an agreement with a quantitative (tonnage) goal until they know the specifics of a credit for early action regime. They are more likely to be willing to offer an industry-wide plan, but the company agreements will be a long time coming.
- The best route to our desired outcome is two pronged: first we should clarify that we would be happy with an industry wide response that is followed with corporate pledges after enactment of credit for early action legislation. Second, even to achieve this, we need more involvement from visionary CEO's in order to expedite the process and provide bolder results. In order to achieve and maintain CEO interest, will need to use our principals more aggressively.

Strategic Plan for Next 60 -- 90 Days:

- Alert sectors to the Vice President's intention to hold meetings in February (or March) -- along with Secretary Richardson-- to take stock of results to date and chart next steps.
- Reach out soon to engage a 2 or 3 CEO's in each sector to request their personal engagement in energizing the process (see suggested list below). This would be conveyed from Stern or Frampton in telephone calls or, in some cases where practical, in making personal visits to their corporate offices.
- Request that these individuals come to the White House soon to report on their vision for completion to Stern/Frampton.
- Conduct 2 or 3 sessions with the VP in late February or early March with CEOs from our seven key sectors to take stock of results and chart next steps.

- In mid to late March, conduct our first high-level signing ceremony with CEO's and relevant Cabinet Officials, with the President and Vice President presiding.
- On Earth Day, have a celebration of the corporate response -- possibly with exhibits on the National Mall demonstrating the technologies and strategies firms plan to employ.

TEXT:

Dirk and Tom met with senior ag reps from national cotton, corn and soybean groups to discuss next steps for ag industry consultations. They suggested we explore a series of issue roundtables, perhaps conducted through a third party such as the Keystone Group. They committed to getting back to us next week with further thinking, during which we will vet the concept internally. We agreed to work together on a dialog plan that could be presented to the larger ag group in the next few weeks.

Latest Jobs Report Indicates That the Current Expansion Has Achieved
Record Length

A Report by the Council of Economic Advisers
January 8, 1999

With today's strong jobs report, the CEA believes that December will be rung up as the 93rd month of the current economic expansion, making it the longest peacetime expansion on record.

The longest previous peacetime expansion ran 92 months, from December 1982 to July 1990.

When wartime expansions are included, the current expansion is the second longest on record; the expansion from March 1961 to December 1969 lasted 106 months (Chart 1).

Chart 1: Duration of Business Cycles since 1855

The Dating of Business Cycles

The consensus of private forecasters sees the expansion continuing in 1999, but its precise length will not be known until some time after it has ended.

The dating of business cycles is not an official U.S. government function. Instead, once it has become clear that the economy has reversed direction, the Business Cycle Dating Committee of the National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) meets to determine the turning point for historical and statistical purposes. For example, the July 1990 business cycle peak was announced April 25, 1991 and the March 1991 trough was announced December 22, 1992.

A popular recession indicator is two consecutive quarters of decline in real GDP, but the NBER does not use this approach. Rather, a recession is a recurring period of decline in total output, income, employment, and trade, usually lasting from 6 months to a year.

The Policy Framework

According to NBER dating, the economy was out of the 1990-91 recession when President Clinton took office.

But the recovery was weak and job growth appeared slow. In fact, the unemployment rate rose a full point to 7.8 percent between the March 1991 trough and June 1992.

And, of course, the recession had aggravated the problem of large budget deficits inherited from the 1980s.

The President put in place an economic strategy grounded in deficit reduction, investment, and opening markets abroad.

In contrast to the previous two long expansions, which were marked by tax cuts and a stimulative fiscal policy, the President's program was based on the idea that reducing the Federal budget deficit would allow interest rates to come down and stimulate private investment.

This policy of fiscal discipline, together with an appropriately accommodative monetary policy by the Federal Reserve, produced a favorable climate for business investment and a strong investment-led recovery.

While reducing overall Federal government spending as a share of GDP, the Administration has pushed for more spending in critical areas such as education and training, children, the environment, health care, and research and development.

The United States has been successful in expanding its real exports by almost 8 percent per year since 1993, even though the trade deficit has widened dramatically as the strong U.S. economy has continued to attract imports while slower growth abroad has reduced demand for U.S. exports.

Achieving the Employment Act's Objectives

The Employment Act of 1946 established a policy framework in which the Federal government assumed responsibility for trying to stabilize short-run economic fluctuations, promote balanced and non-inflationary economic growth, and foster low unemployment. The three longest expansions of the past century -- including the current one -- have occurred since the Act was passed.

Judged by the objectives of stabilization policy (inflation and unemployment), the current economic expansion is one of the most successful in the Nation's history.

Jobs. The unemployment rate is the lowest it has been in almost 30 years and more Americans are working than ever before.

- Between the March 1991 trough and December 1998, 18.8 million jobs have been created (17.7 million of them since January 1993).
- Employment is at an all-time high, with 132.5 million Americans working in December (64.2 percent of the working age population) and only 4.3 percent of the labor force unemployed.
- Demographic change and other factors have altered the relationship between the unemployment rate and the risk of inflation over time, and the unemployment rate has not come down quite so low in this expansion as it did in the 1960s (Chart 2). But with a responsible fiscal policy in place and favorable inflation and productivity developments, there was little pressure for interest rate hikes that could have choked off the expansion prematurely.

Inflation. Three-quarters of the way through the eighth year of expansion, inflation (both core and total) remains tame even though the unemployment rate has been very low for almost 2 years.

- This situation stands in marked contrast to the sharply rising inflation experienced at the end of the 1960s expansion and the milder price acceleration seen at the end of the 1980s expansion (Chart 3)
- Chart 3: Core CPI Inflation in Three Long Expansions

Chart 2: The Unemployment Rate in Three Long Expansions

Chart 4: The Misery Index in Three Long Expansions

- This good inflation performance has been aided by favorable conditions such as the continuing sharp decline in computer prices, a drop in oil prices, rapid growth of industrial capacity, and downward pressure on traded goods prices due to weakness in the world economy.

A very low misery index. The combination of low inflation and low unemployment in this expansion is comparable to the low "misery index" (the sum of the two) achieved in the late 1960s (Chart 4). This time, however, inflation is tame rather than rising.

Sustained productivity growth over the course of this expansion has been an important contributor to growth.

With slower growth in the working-age population and lower trend productivity growth since the early 1970s, aggregate GDP could not have grown as fast as it did in the 1960s.

Productivity growth -- which is what matters for real wages and a rising standard of living over the longer term -- has continued to be relatively strong well into this expansion (rather than exhibiting the decline that often occurs late in expansions, Chart 5). However, the rate of productivity growth over this expansion remains well below that achieved prior to the productivity slowdown of the early 1970s.

Chart 5: Nonfarm Productivity in Three Long Expansions An Investment-Led Recovery

The deficit reduction strategy underlying the current expansion has paid off in higher private investment.

As the largest component of GDP, consumption was the largest contributor to growth in all three long expansions. However, the contribution of investment to growth in this expansion has been almost twice as great as it was in the other two long expansions, and the contribution of government spending has been substantially smaller (Chart 6).

Business investment, especially in producers, durable equipment, has grown particularly rapidly on a sustained basis over this expansion (Chart 7)

Net exports have subtracted from growth in this expansion. In contrast to the current account deficits of the 1980s, however, when both national saving and domestic investment were falling as a share of GDP over much of the period, the current account deficits of the 1990s reflect generally rising net national investment that is greater than generally rising net national saving.

Federal government spending has provided no stimulus in this expansion. The small contribution of government has been due to state and local government spending.

Chart 7: Producers, Durable Equipment in Three Expansions

Chart 6: Contributions to Growth in Three Long Expansions

Benefits of a Strong Labor Market

American workers, including groups that had fallen behind over the past two decades or so, have been major beneficiaries of the sustained tight labor market this expansion has produced.

With strong increases in the past 2 to 3 years, real wages have grown more over the course of this expansion than they did in the 1980s expansion (Chart 8).

Chart 8: The Real Wage in Two Long Expansions

Real hourly earnings of production and nonsupervisory workers rose by 5.4 percent between January 1993 and November 1998.

The widely documented long-term slide in the real wages of men (a drop of 11.4 percent in the median between 1979 and 1996) has been checked by increases of 1.7 percent in 1997 and 2.3 percent in the first 10 months of 1998, according to CEA calculations for full- and part-time workers, aged 16 and over.

Real hourly wages in the two lowest-paid tenths of the distribution for male workers aged 16 and older have increased by 5 to 6 percent since 1993. The increases for women were significant as well, with wages in the second tenth of the distribution increasing by 4 percent since 1993.

More people are finding work than ever before and they are finding it faster than they would in a less strong labor market.

The average length of unemployment among workers searching for a job declined to 14.1 weeks in December 1998. It was 18.8 weeks in 1994, the earliest year with comparable data.

Almost three-quarters of those who were unemployed in December had been unemployed for less than 15 weeks; only 13.7 percent were looking for work for more than 27 weeks.

Recent analyses suggest that the employment relationship is strong.

Job displacement. Job losses due to layoffs, plant closures, and the like have declined substantially since the 1993-95 period, and among those who have been displaced, the share that have found new work has increased. These reemployed workers still typically earn less on the new job than at the job they lost, but these wage losses are the smallest on record.

Job tenure. The popular assertion that secure lifetime jobs have disappeared is overstated. In 1996, a substantial 27 percent of male workers aged 45-64 had long-term jobs (20 or more years with the same employer), even though this fraction had fallen by 7 percentage points between 1979 and 1996. Moreover, the fraction of similarly aged women holding long-term jobs actually increased during this period.

Discouraged workers. The number of workers who are not employed and who have not looked for work in the past 4 weeks because they did not think they could find a job has shrunk by one-third since 1994, the earliest year for which comparable data are available.

The strong labor market has also generated gains among groups whose labor market status had not improved in the past decades.

Median real wages of blacks and Hispanics have risen rapidly in the past 2 years (based on CEA calculations for full- and part-time workers aged 16 and over). The inflation-adjusted increase between 1996 and the first 10 months of 1998 was 5.8 percent for black men, 4.0 percent for Hispanic men, 6.2 percent for black women, and 2.6 percent for Hispanic women. Furthermore, the black and Hispanic unemployment rates for 1998 are at historic lows-- 8.9 percent for blacks and 7.2 percent for Hispanics.

Welfare reform, the expansion of the Earned Income Tax Credit, and the strong economy have caused the labor force participation among single women with children to increase to unprecedented levels.

Employment among male high school dropouts, immigrants, and blacks and Hispanics has increased.

High-school dropouts have experienced a much larger relative increase in their employment rate since 1993 than those with more education, due to increased labor force participation among dropouts and decreased unemployment among those dropouts who are in the labor force.

Conclusion

The economic policies of the past 6 years have nurtured and sustained what is now the longest peacetime expansion in the Nation,s history. More Americans are working than ever before, the unemployment rate is the lowest it has been in a generation, and inflation remains tame. In addition, disadvantaged groups that have been left behind in the past are beginning to experience the benefits of a sustained tight labor market. Turmoil in world financial markets and a slowdown in world growth have tested the strength of this expansion, but the economy remains fundamentally strong. Moreover, evidence suggests that expansions do not die of old age. If we continue to pursue sound policies and enjoy good fortune, we can reasonably look forward to achieving the longest expansion ever in February 2000.===== ATTACHMENT 1 =====

Turmoil in world financial markets and a slowdown in world growth have tested the strength of this expansion, but the economy remains fundamentally strong. Moreover, evidence suggests that expansions do not die of old age. If we continue to pursue sound policies and enjoy good fortune, we can reasonably look forward to achieving the longest expansion ever in February 2000.

TEXT:

Further information about 1998 temperatures

NASA researchers at the NASA Goddard Institute for Space Studies released data that indicates that 1998 was the warmest year yet recorded. Their findings agree with data already released by researchers in the United Kingdom. &There should no longer be an issue about whether global warming is occurring, but what is the rate of warming, what is its practical significance and what should be done about it," said Dr. James Hansen, a scientist with the NASA Goddard Institute for Space Studies, in the report.

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration plans to release their 1998 data set at next week,s annual meeting of the American Meteorological Society. It will also show that 1998 was the warmest year on record.

Canadian researchers also announced this week that 1998 was the warmest year on record for Canada. The yearly average was .5 degree C above the previous record, set in 1981, and 2.5 degrees C above the average for the last 50 years (the period they have kept records). "We don't normally break records by that amount," according to Bob Whitewood, who prepared the report for the government's environmental agency, Environment Canada. Whitewood said Canadian national average temperature records are rarely broken by more than a tenth of a degree.

Effects of Increase in Minimum Temperatures

One of the climate changes identified in the United States has been an increase in minimum temperatures (&low8) in many areas, which has often been greater than the increases in maximum temperatures. A new study in this week,s Science presents interesting evidence about one of the consequences of such change. Scientists associated with the National Science Foundation's (NSF) Long-Term Ecological Research program conclude that increased spring minimum temperatures in NE Colorado are correlated with a reduction in the abundance of buffalo grass. This alteration in species composition of the rangeland affects its ability to provide an ecosystem service that ranchers have come to rely on--the availability of a productive, palatable, drought-resistant grass, buffalo grass, which is important to livestock production in the region.

THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary

For Immediate Release

January 8, 1999

STATEMENT BY GREGORY CRAIG
SPECIAL COUNSEL TO THE PRESIDENT

The White House

5:09 P.M. EST

MR. CRAIG: Good afternoon. The Senate has decided how it wants to proceed. We respect that. And in accordance with the procedures adopted by the Senate we plan to present, on behalf of the President, a vigorous, successful and complete defense.

We are optimistic, we are confident, that the senators, once they see and hear this defense in this opening phase of the trial will conclude that the articles do not justify or warrant conviction or removal from office.

We remain hopeful that this matter can be resolved expeditiously and fairly. Thank you very much.

TEXT:
THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of the Press Secretary
(Aboard Air Force One)

For Immediate Release
January 8, 1999

STATEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT

Earlier today, Secretary Cuomo announced that he would not run for the United States Senate. I told Secretary Cuomo that I would support his decision either way, but on a personal level, I am glad that he is staying to build on HUD's new empowerment agenda. New Yorkers should be proud of the job he is doing. Andrew believes that his job at HUD is not finished, therefore he has chosen to continue his public service at the Department, and I applaud his decision.
