Florida

A new poll, conducted June 1

-10 by the New York Times

Regional Newspapers, shows The President ahead of Senator Dole by 13 percentage points, 48%

-35%. Men in Florida split their votes equally between Clinton and Dole, but women preferred Clinton by almost a two to one ratio. "If Dole can't win Florida, then he can't win the election," said David Paulson, a University of South Florida professor who specializes in politics in the South.
"These results mean [Dole] has to spend more time and resources here. Will that effect his race elsewhere?"

Texas

The Texas Poll we reported on June 17th appeared in the Dallas Morning News today. Clips are attached.

Alabama

Governor Fob James (R) defended his decision not to join seven Southern governors when they met with President Clinton yesterday, saying, "The meeting was mostly politicians getting together to make statements for the media." James chose instead to summarize the findings of investigations on 38 church burnings, both white and black, since 1990. James noted that the findings showed a wide array of causes for the fires, and assured people that efforts were still being made to solve unsolved cases. Two questioned black pastors who lost their churches to arson were indifferent to James' decision, but Rep. Alvin Holmes (D), civil right chairman for the Legislative Black Caucus, expressed his concern towards the implication of James skipping the conference. "Fob James' rhetoric today concerning the church burnings is the same white leaders used in the 1960s with church bombings," Holmes said.

Arkansas

Bill Vickery will continue to plan campaign strategy against Attorney General Winston Bryant (D), but now he is working for the Republicans. Vickery was a consultant and strategists for the U.S. Senate campaign of state Senator Lu Hardin (D). Hardin finished second in the five

-man Democratic primary and then lost to Bryant in the June 11th runoff. Tim Hutchinson, the Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, announced on Wednesday that Vickery would manage his campaign.

Arkansas Congresswoman Blanche Lambert Lincoln (D) delivered healthy twin boys early Wednesday. Meyers Reece and Stephen Bennett are fraternal twins and healthy babies. Lambert is retiring from Congress to raise rear the boys, but has not ruled out running for state office.

Georgia

More than 500 CSX Transportation workers, who maintain and repair locomotives, walked off their jobs Wednesday after the company implemented time limits on specific tasks without negotiating with unions and making some bargains. Workers see the new time limits as being unreasonable since they fail to take into account unpredictable difficulties that sometimes arise. CSX officials claim that the new policy simply represents an expansion of time limits previously in existence.

Kentucky

Governor Paul Patton and Attorney General Ben Chandler attended the White House meeting on recent Southern church fires and said afterwards they would support state legislation to impose stiffer penalties for hate crimes in Kentucky. "We will be forcefully supporting that (tough penalties for hate crimes) legislation the next opportunity," Patton said on Wednesday.

Mississippi

Reverend Thom Robb, director of the Knights of the Klu Klux Klan, denied allegations that the Klu Klux Klan was involved in recent church burnings. "For anybody to blame the Klan is absurd. The FBI can do all the investigation they want, and I'm not going to lose a wink of sleep because I know there's no involvement. Our organization has never been involved in illegal activity," Robb said. Robb, who resides in Harrison, Arkansas, was being questioned by the FBI for a possible connection to the burnings since his attempts to recruit new KKK members included travels to areas near the church burnings. The two most recent church burnings in Kossuth are still under investigation.

North Carolina

A new law which restates North Carolina's opposition to same

- sex marriages soared through the Legislature in two days, winning overwhelming support in the state House. The law will not recognize same

- sex marriages performed in other states. Some opponents see the bill as an election year ploy by Republicans to add support to anti

- gay legislation, since the law is somewhat redundant as North Carolina law already defines marriage as the union of one man and one woman.

Oklahoma

Postal workers in Tulsa and Oklahoma City picketed their work place and have encouraged postal workers around Oklahoma and throughout the country to strike with them. The letter carriers have become angry over slow service procedures that make work harder for them as well as frustrating customers. Postal workers have felt repeatedly ignored and complain about meetings among managers, intended to improve service, that have been canceled.

South Carolina

South Carolina's state Senate districts are being challenged by Senator Greg Smith on the basis that race was improperly used when redrawing the districts lines. Smith is a former Democrat turned independent when his district was redrawn to include more Republican voters. A controversy has arisen surrounding demographer John Ruoff, who reportedly helped draw the new district maps in favor of a coalition of Legislative Black Caucus members. The caucus members joined an unusual alliance with Republicans to get more districts where blacks were likely to be elected. A note that quoted Ruoff, while talking about legislative redistricting, using the phrase "screw white boy Democrats." This statement might make it easier to prove that race was the motivating factor behind the changes. The Supreme Court just ruled that race can not be a primary motivator in changing congressional districts

Tennessee

Representative Jimmy Quillen is being questioned about an Erwin woman getting a clerical job at the Tennessee Valley Authority on Quillen's recommendation. A day later, Quillen wrote colleagues in support of TVA directors, defending their consultant contracts against criticism of wasteful spending.

People are questioning if this was an act of political patronage. Both parties deny that one incident had to do with the other. Quillen said that the woman met with him many times in constituent service meetings where they discussed her need to find a job. Quillen told a News

-Sentinel reporter about his ability to arrange jobs, "If I had any influence that way, I would have gotten somebody a top job. I might have gotten you a job."

Texas

The GOP state convention begins today in San Antonio with the two major issues being abortion and gays and lesbians. Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison, a pro

-choice supporter who has come under fire lately, is scheduled to speak at the conference on Friday. Abortion foes will attempt to defeat her selection as a delegate to the GOP National Convention in San Diego.

The Texas Supreme Court sided with the state GOP by ruling unanimously to block a temporary injunction issued by a State District Judge that would have allowed a gay and lesbian group to advertise and set up a booth at the convention. Dale Carpenter, president of the Log Cabin Republicans and a GOP state convention delegate, said his group would still distribute materials and perhaps set up a booth outside of the Alamodome.

West Virginia

House speaker Chuck Chambers will be the only state

Democratic Party chairman recognized at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. State party co

-chairman Pat Maroney will attend the convention and have delegate credentials, although he will not be able to act as a delegate. Maroney says he doesn't mind the division of authority and is content in his role to represent his state.

I would suggest that there be a follow up letter to each person present (I would hope the women's office kept an actual list of those present) from me (not a joint letter from several of us in Admin. as is sometime done...they can do that if they wish but I think the letter from me should say how much I value hearing their concerns in this type meeting, etc.etc. and then introduce you by letter.

MOOD/PULSE OF THE AFRICAN AMERICAN COMMUNITY

The Church fires have had a sobering affect on the African American Community. Numerous people including business leaders, community activist, political and religious leaders are expressing concern that the country is moving back to an era where violence against African Americans was comon place. Your leadership on the issdue has won you praise from all quarters. We have not received one call criticizing you for the way you have been handling the issue. You get high marks from every religious leader that we have been communicating with. Rev. Joseph Lowery and other civil rights leaders are very high on your leadership around this issue. The photo of you praying with black church officials at the South Carolina church is playing well in black communities across the county. You and the adminstration are getting positive coverage in virtually all African American publications including NNPA newspapers.

Congressional Black Caucus members and political activists are reeling from the latest Supreme Court decisions on redistricting. This issue is cause for concern because CBC members are asking for more visibility from you on the issue. The recent Supreme Court decisons are becoming an issue with the masses of black people in the country. The Muslims entered the political arena for the first time when minister Farrahkan registered to vote in Chicago last week. This action will prompt a number of African Americans to become voters for the first time in their lives. We have reestablished contact with Ben Chavis and have asked him to share the administration's accomplishments with local organizers of the Million Man March.

The Whitewater issues are not having a noticeable affect on the black community. Most people (from the man on the street to the business leader) think what the Republicans are doing is political and unfair. However the flap over the FBI files is causing some people concern.

MEETING/COFERENCE CALLS

We met with the African American Working group to go over outreach plans aimed at your and other principals travel schedules. The group identified key individuals who should be invited to airport arrivals and large and small events. We discussed the surrogate (appointees) operation and will be advising surrogates to do more radio and newspaper interviews on the administration's accomplishments.

We conducted a number of conference and individual calls to African American civil rights and religious leaders to discuss the rash of church fires. We faxed them talking points on the investigation and gave them a heads up that you would speak to the issue during your radio address to the nation. Every Minister we talked to was supportive of your leadership. Many felt your radio address sparked the nation to action and generated valuable support from the white church community.

We faxed daily talking points to African American leaders. We continued processing special letters for conventions and annual meetings.

This week we hosted the following groups:

- * 6/12 - Auto Supplier Council, which consists of the CEO's of the 30 largest auto suppliers and the CEO's of the Big Three (GM, Ford & Chrysler). The briefing took place in the Roosevelt Room and the speakers were Secretary Kantor and Chief of Staff Panetta. Although they had praise for the administration in the development of trade for their industry, they, too, made it clear that CAFE standards would be an important issue for them this election season.

- * 6/13 - The Iowa Chamber of Commerce was briefed in Room 450 (about 120 people). Our speakers were Secretary Kantor and Deputy Highway Administrator Jane Garvey. This briefing went exceptionally well, especially when you consider that last year both President Clinton and Vice President Gore briefed this group.

- * 6/14 - The Small Business Legislative Council was briefed in room 474 by Chairman Joseph Stiglitz, Council of Economic Advisors (25 people).

- * 6/19 - President Clinton dropped by the Business Roundtable's 24 Annual Meeting. Secretary Rubin, Dr. Tyson, Mack McLarty and Alexis all attended with him.

Other Issues:

We have been engaging on the Church burning issue. We are assisting the corporate outreach effort and also set up Ellen Seidman, NEC, with one of our DC Reps, Paul Equale of the Independent Insurers. Paul is contacting members of the independent insurers who are active in minority assistance programs and asking them for their help in providing insurance for these churches.

Over the past week we have faxed out talking points on the economy three times and talking points on "families" once. These faxes reach over 1,000 people.

TEXT:

Dear President Clinton,

I know you aren't going to read this, but these church fires are really getting out of hand. I think it's good that people are burning churches because it is symbolic that people don't need to go to church to worship God. That is trust. But arson is wrong. For some, going to church is their best way of feeling closer to God. For me, getting closer to God is going to the Burger King by campus for dinner. For others it is going to church. By burning churches these arsonists are infringing upon other people's rights. That isn't what America and this world is supposed to be all about. It's about living life every day to the fullest possible extent. If every human lives by their own moral code then the world will be a much better place. While burning churches is symbolically good, they are hurting others who need the church. What we need is tolerance. I hope the negotiators in the Middle East, Ireland, and other places with religious friction can remember that. I don't want to die before my time, and I don't think anybody else wants to either. I hope these church fires stop before the Olympic Games begin. It could be bad for tourism. If the South wants to get over this stigma they associated with racism, they need to stop these arsons, make some money off of the world tourists coming into their territory, and gain some economic security from it. If people have jobs they don't have time to be burning down churches. By the way, you're really starting to act like a president now. I'm still only going to vote for you if it becomes a dead race between you and Senator Dole. Ralph Nadar deserves some recognition for his accomplishments, but he probably wouldn't accept it if he was given them anyway. Ross Perot is running. If he is putting all of this money into becoming president, I hope he will at least establish a strong third party with all of his efforts. Perot will not get elected unless the people think his motives are not for him, but for the good of the country. He needs to endorse candidates with his views at least for Senator and Governor to gain some credibility. He has the money and the media to back him up if he decides to do it, and it would be refreshing to see a successful third party actually stick around for a while. Let him in the debates in October. His mouth will bring in big time ratings. He doesn't have any votes in Congress, so if the Electoral College is decided by the House he won't win. Senator Dole and yourself have nothing to lose. Anyway, I think I am done voicing my opinion on stuff for a while. I usually do more harm than good. You guys were elected to do these things for us. I'll just worry about getting myself moved into my apartment in Eugene by September. Good luck with everything, and please don't get shot like President Kennedy did. It just wouldn't be fair. I hope you solve the arson church fire problems before the Olympics begin.

Everything but the Girl,

Hate to lay something on you here this late but I need some help parcelling things out that have gathered here....we need to get the following in motion while you and I are gone on Monday: I visited with Col. John Bailey, head of Ark. State Police, just prior to his attending the church burning meeting on Wed. as ARK. rep. and POTUS after the meeting asked him if he needed any help with anything, told him to always call me if he needed anything. Col. Bailey has called today to follow up on something he discussed with POTUS....we need someone (I guess NSC? or maybe we start with Dennis Burke) to guide us on who can talk to Bailey about problems he is encountering trying to work with a Colonel Masters at Pentagon on uses of surplus property. We need the someone to call Bailey on Monday at 501-221-8200. It would also help if whomever calls Bailey could keep me posted.

FYI: Bailey went in as head just after we left Ark. as the person we had who headed state police retired. Bailey was head of the Highway Police (I think the right title) during our time in Ark. We would consider him a friend for sure. The lucky part is that he will probably get to stay in that position under the new Repub. Gov. as Bailey's wife and new governor's wife are good friends from long ago.
thanks.

PRESIDENT WILLIAM J. CLINTON

REMARKS TO THE

U.S. CONFERENCE OF MAYORS

CLEVELAND, OHIO

JUNE 22, 1996

RESET 1

Acknowledgments: Mayor Rice for introduction. I want to congratulate Mayor Rice for a great year as president. I look forward to working with your incoming president, my good friend Mayor Daley. And I salute the City Livability awards that he presents every year at this conference, along with Philip Rooney of Waste Management, Inc.

I also want to congratulate your in

-coming vice president, my good Republican friend, Mayor Helmke of Fort Wayne. And I would like to recognize Mayor Bob Lanier of Houston, who has just been appointed the new chair of the Rebuild America Coalition, an important program of the U.S.

Conference of Mayors.

I also want to thank Mayor White and the City of Cleveland for your hospitality. In the late 70s, Cleveland was teetering on the brink of disaster. Today, it stands as a model of the new American city. But even more impressive than the growing skyline is the revitalized spirit that is evident in the people of this great city. I only wish I had more time to spend here. But at least I can go back to Washington with the answer to a question that has been on the minds of millions of Americans. Elvis is alive in Cleveland. And he is really packing them in at the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

The people of Cleveland pulled themselves up by pulling together -- business and labor, churches and neighborhoods and government, as one community. That is what every American city must do if we are going to succeed in the 21st century.

Let me begin by asking you to join me in vowing that America will never allow itself to be divided by racial and religious intolerance. The recent rash of church burnings is an affront to religious liberty and racial tolerance. Most of these cases involve the burning of African American churches, but mosques and synagogues have been torched and some white churches have also been set on fire.

And while most of them have happened in rural areas, our larger cities have not been immune. Churches have been burned in Knoxville, Tennessee ... Sacramento, California ... Tucson, Arizona. Just this past Thursday, the Immanuel Christian Fellowship in Portland, Oregon was added to the list of suspicious fires. We value religious freedom more deeply than any other nation in human history. So we must all stand together to say to those who are perpetrating these crimes -- you will not win. We will catch and prosecute you. We will protect our houses of worship. And we will rebuild.

I ran for President in 1992 with a straightforward vision for America: I wanted our nation to give every citizen a chance to live out their dreams. I wanted us to renew America's sense of community -- to be a nation coming together around our basic values again. And I wanted us to remain the world's strongest force for peace and freedom.

We have worked for nearly four years with a simple strategy to meet our challenges and protect our values: opportunity for all, responsibility from all, a community of Americans working together. That is how we will continue to renew our cities, expand our economy, restore our social fabric, and protect our children from crime and violence.

Together we have made tremendous progress in giving opportunity to those who will take responsibility. We cut the deficit to less than half of what it was when I took office. The economy has produced 9.7 million new jobs. We have given states the freedom to experiment with welfare reform, and 1.3 million fewer people on the welfare rolls. We fought for and passed the Family and Medical Leave Law. We passed the Americorps national service program, which is giving young people a chance to serve in so many of your cities. And next week we will be naming [Knoxville Mayor] Victor Ashe to the Americorps board. And we gave a tax cut to 15 million of our hardest -pressed working families.

Now we must do more to ensure that all Americans have the chance to reap the reward of this age of possibility -- that no one is left behind as we move into the information age and the global economy. That means making sure that our cities are strong and vibrant. Our cities are our hotbeds of creativity, of commerce, the place where peoples of different backgrounds and views come together to build so much of our civilization. If America's cities flourish in the 21st Century, America will flourish.

My administration has sought to forge a new partnership between Washington, the private sector and local communities.

We have sought to rebuild our cities and towns -- not through top -down,

Washington

-based bureaucracy, but by offering opportunity to those communities that will take responsibility for rebuilding themselves. We have set national goals, but challenged communities to find flexible ways to meet them.

The centerpiece of this approach has been our Community Empowerment Agenda. I want thank Vice Pres. Gore for heading up this effort. It draws on all the lessons of success and failure from the past half century. It calls on business, which is the engine of economic opportunity; it demands the active involvement of grass

-roots

community; it insists that government improve the way it serves our constituents.

Today, the 105 communities that have qualified to be Empowerment Zones or Enterprise Communities are undergoing a remarkable transformation. They have summoned the energy and involvement of all parts of the community. They are attracting not welfare, not aid, but jobs and hope into the inner city. Here in Cleveland, dozens of new businesses are moving into or expanding in this city's Empowerment Zone. One of them is Bearings, Inc, a Fortune 1000 company which will build a new $28 million world headquarters and employ more than 300 workers. Mayor White has taken action to ensure that local workers will be trained for these and other jobs in the zone.

Last week, he announced the formation of a unique coalition involving local businesses, universities and community -based organizations who have pledged to help train and place people for specific jobs.

We must build on our success. So I have proposed that Congress create a second round of empowerment zones. And I have asked Congress to enact a new $2 billion tax incentive to encourage the cleanup and redevelopment of abandoned industrial sites, or Brownfields, in all distressed communities. As we have learned during the first round of empowerment zones, these Brownfields have been a significant obstacle to urban redevelopment.

Cleveland's own Louis Stokes has been a leader in these efforts. I also want to thank Senator Carol Moseley

-Braun and Congressman Charlie Rangel who will be introducing this community empowerment legislation next week. I call on every mayor in this room to rally for its passage.

We fought to preserve the low income housing tax credit. And I am pleased that Local Initiative Services Corporation (LISC) is prepared to announce that it has raised $410 million from corporations to build 8500 housing units and create 12,000 jobs.

But we must do more to connect disadvantaged communities and their residents to economic opportunity. There are places in our country where the free enterprise system simply isn't working to provide jobs and opportunity.

That is why I recently signed two executive orders. The first one created a new empowerment contracting program, which will offer special incentives for government contracting awards for companies that locate in distressed communities in all parts of this country. I also just signed an executive order, directing federal agencies that are building facilities or relocating, to give first priority to the historic districts of our central cities.

But, we all know that the only way businesses and people will thrive in our cities is if we create safe and secure neighborhoods. I know that for most of you, public safety, along with good schools, are the main thing your constituents expect you to deliver.

And we have been determined to work with you as no administration has before.

We're putting 100,000 new police officers on America's streets in community policing; nearly half are already funded. We banned 19 deadly assault weapons. The Brady Bill has stopped over 60,000 felons, fugitives, and stalkers from buying a gun. We're helping communities give kids something to say yes to, so they stay away from trouble in the 1st place. These laws are making a difference across our country. We have finally begun to push crime back. In city after city and town after town, crime rates are finally coming down. Here in Cleveland, murder is down 12% in the past two years alone. But we have a long way to go. And as we move forward, we have to remember that we're not just fighting against crime -- we're fighting for something. We're fighting for peace of mind; for the freedom to walk around the block at night and feel safe; for the security of neighborhoods that aren't plagued by drugs, where you can leave your doors unlocked and not worry about your kids playing in the yard.

We're fighting to restore the sense of community people my age grew up with. But most of all, we're fighting for our children; we're fighting for their future.

I want to talk to you about action my Administration is taking to help families protect their children -- especially from the dangerous criminals who have made a dark habit of preying on them. Study after study shows that sex offenders are likely to commit these crimes again and again. And we have all read too many tragic stories about young people victimized by repeat offenders.

That's why, in the Crime Bill, we required every state in the country to compile a registry of sex offenders, and gave states the power to notify communities about child sex offenders and violent sex offenders that move into their neighborhoods.

But that wasn't enough. So last month, I signed Megan's Law -- to insist that states tell a community whenever a dangerous sexual predator enters its midst. Too many children and their families have paid a terrible price because parents didn't know about the dangers hidden in their own neighborhood. Megan's Law -- named after a seven year old girl taken so wrongly at the beginning of her life -- will help prevent these terrible crimes.

Now we must take the next step. Senator Biden and Senator Gramm have introduced bipartisan legislation to develop a National Registry to track sexual offenders and child molesters across the country. They're on the right track, but we have to move forward now.

Today, I am directing the Attorney General to report back in 60 days with a plan to guarantee our police officers can get as much information as possible, right away. We must make sure police officers in every state can get the information they need from any state to track sex offenders down and bring them to justice when they commit new crimes.

A police officer in Cleveland should be able to get information on all known sex offenders in Cleveland -- whether they committed their crimes in Los Angeles or New York. Every bit of information we have about the people who commit these horrible crimes should be available to law enforcement wherever and whenever they need it.

We respect people's rights. But there is no right greater than a parent's right to raise a child in safety and in love. If you dare to prey on America's children, the law will follow you wherever you go, state to state and town to town. And that's the way it should be.

We will never be able to eliminate crime completely. But as long as crime is so commonplace we don't even look up when horror after horror leads the evening news, we know we have a long way to go. I want America to be a place where people who see a report of a serious crime are shocked -- not numb. I know that we can make that America real. If we work together, if we put our children first, we surely can. And that

Thank you and God bless you all.

Hi Ann, the draft looks good. A few minor suggestions. You might want to mention our vigorous effort to prosecute the church fires and our briefs in support of the redistricting cases (in the fighting for equal opportunity section). Also, (under Cherishing children and strenghtening families), add "more than 12 million" after "Enabled" and before "workers" in the family medical leave act bullet. Finally, you might want to mention the Presidsent's proposals announced yeserday to expand this program under the "New Family-Friendly Workplace" proposals. Otherwise it looks good. MEMORANDUM TO THE ACTING DIRECTOR

FROM: Charles Kieffer SUBJECT: House Appropriations Treasury/Postal and Legislative Branch Subcommittees Approve FY 1997 Bills

On June 18th, the House Appropriations Legislative Branch and Treasury/Postal Subcommittees approved their FY 1997 bills. The full Committee will be taking up the bills on June 26th and 27th respectively, with House floor action the week of July 8th. Highlights follow (funding levels are preliminary):

Treasury/Postal (budget authority in billions)
FY 1996	FY 1997 Request	FY 1997 Subc	Difference
$11.4	$12.8	$11.1	-$1.7

- o The bill totals $11.1 billion, $1.7 billion below the request, $.3 billion (

-2%) below FY 1996. Chairman

Lightfoot shifts funding out of IRS, particularly tax systems modernization, and into law enforcement programs at Customs and BATF.

- o A Kingston amendment to prohibit the use of funds in the Act for requesting or maintaining FBI files of former White House officials was offered and withdrawn. Chairman Livingston discussed adding a waiver authority and allowing FBI reviews for purposes of employment. Rep. Kingston offered and withdrew an alternative that would have required that the FBI provide, within 30 days, the FBI file to any former White House employee on the list.

In an effort to keep this issue off the bill, Chairman Livingston is working with Government Reform Committee Chairman Clinger to move legislation on this issue on another bill.

- o The bill includes a $12 million supplemental for BATF investigations related to church burnings. It is paid for with a $12 million rescission from TSM. The bill also includes $12 million in FY 1997 to continue the investigations, though the total for ATF, including the additional funds, is below our FY 1997 request.

- o IRS receives $6.6 billion, $1.4 billion below the request and $.8 billion (

-11%) below FY 1996. Tax law enforcement is cut by $.5 billion below the request, $.45 million (

-1%) below FY 1996 and 8% below FY 1995. Processing returns and taxpayer assistance is cut $.2 billion below the request, $.1 (

-6%) below FY 1996 and 7% below FY 1995. The largest cut below the request is in Information Systems, $.6 billion below the request and $.45 billion (

-30%) below FY 1996. The bill includes extensive micromanagement of the IRS. IRS estimates that the cuts and restrictions would result in a need to reduce employees by 4,000

-12,000 (out of 106,000 in FY 1996), 2.7 million taxpayer phone calls not answered, slowed returns processing and reduced revenue. The Tax System Modernization program is funded at $424 million, $425 million below the request ($251 million below Treasury's informal revised request) and $271 million below FY 1996. The $424 million is fenced off until IRS establishes a restructured contractual arrangement with the private sector to develop and deliver the TSM project. All activities associated with the procurement of the TSM are to be carried out by the Department of Defense with funds transferred to DoD from Treasury.

The bill also rescinds another $174 million of unobligated TSM funds on top of the $12 million rescinded to cover the BATF supplemental.

In an effort to focus IRS activities on administering the tax code, the Subcommittee bill also prohibits the use of funds in the Act for IRS to develop or produce tax policy, provided that any IRS funds/staff for such activity are to be transferred to the Assistant Secretary for Tax Policy. A Hoyer amendment to make the shift of TSM procurement from IRS to DOD permissive rather than mandatory was defeated (4

-7). A Hoyer amendment to allow some of the fenced TSM funds to be used for IRS salaries (in order to reduce the size of a RIF) was defeated (5

o The Chairman's Mark assumes a significant restructuring and downsizing of IRS and ATF, cutting 2,016 employees associated with IRS's TSM program and applying these savings to drug/border protection programs. The mark proposes the use of buyout authority to reduce ATF staffing ( and devotes the savings to training of remaining agents. The Committee establishes an Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) within the Office of the Under Secretary for Enforcement. OPR would be charged with providing quality control for all Treasury law enforcement internal affairs investigations.

-445 FTE)

o The bill includes targeted buyout authority for BATF, IRS and Customs from October 1, 1996 through February 1, 1997. The President, through OMB, is directed to monitor and enforce the requirements of this authority. The authority does not apply to individuals who are eligible to retire and therefore is narrower in scope than the Administration's buyout proposal. A Hoyer amendment to extend the temporary buyout authority through March was defeated (4

- o Customs is funded at $1.6 billion, $31 million above the request and $139 million (+9%) above FY 1996.
- o Secret Service is funded at $528 million, $12 million above the request and $4 million (

-1%) below FY 1996.

- o The bill is silent on the issue of Federal pay. This would allow the President to implement the proposed 3% increase in January of 1997. The President will have to allocate the split between the inflation adjustment and the locality adjustment.
- o The lack of language on Federal 1997 pay adjustment means that the Subcommittee has done nothing to block the 1997 pay raise for Members of Congress.
- o The bill includes the same abortion language as the FY 1996 Act, which prohibits Federal Employer Health Benefits Program financing of abortions (with life of the mother, rape and incest exceptions). A Hoyer amendment to strike the prohibition failed (3 -6).

- o Most of EXOP is funded at requested levels. For ONDCP, the Subcommittee approves the $34.8 million request, an increase of 29% over FY 1996. However, the increase in staff is limited to 129 (from a level of 38 in FY 1996) rather than the proposed level of 154 FTE. The savings from the staff reduction is targeted to public service announcements and conferences on model state drug laws.
- o The $1 million Unanticipated Needs account is not funded.
- o The bill provides $500,000 to pay the legal fees of former Federal employees of the White House Travel Office whose employment was terminated on May 19, 1993.

- o GSA new construction is set at $540 million, $175 million below the request and roughly the same as FY 1996. GSA operating expenses are set at $109 million, roughly the requested level and $10 million (

-8%) below FY 1996. The Subcommittee directs GSA to reduce each new courthouse project at least 10% below the authorized level.

- o The FTS 2000 mandatory use language is included, as requested.
- o Bill language is included that would prohibit GSA from implementing any plan for moving the Woodrow Wilson Center into the Ronald Reagan Building unless they pay full rent.
- o The bill includes $5.6 million for Presidential Transition. Rep. Hoyer noted that he thought the funds would not be needed and would revert to the Treasury.
- o OPM is funded at $87 million, the level requested and $1.4 million (

-2%) below FY 1996.

o An Istook amendment was defeated (voice) that would have required OPD to set aside $378,000 of FY 1997 funds to pay attorney's fees associated with the Health Care Reform Task Force litigation. The Istook grants identification language was not approved.

o The Federal Election Commission is funded at $27.5 million, $1.8 million below the request and $1 million (+4%) above FY 1996.

o No language was approved relating to paying the office costs of former Presidents.

o The bill includes an amendment that would provide a six year contract for the Director of the Bureau of the Mint and provides that the Director can only be removed for cause.

o The bill includes a provision for the sale of gold/platinum coins and assumes $21 million in receipts.

o Section 526 of the bill provides a procurement waiver for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Legislative Branch (budget authority in billions)

FY 1996	FY 1997 Request	FY 1997 Subc	Difference
$2.1	$2.3	$2.2	-$.1

o When the Senate adds their items, the bill is expected to total slightly below $2.2 billion, roughly a freeze at the FY 1996 operating level.

o CBO is frozen at the FY 1996 level.

o GAO is cut by 9% from FY 1996, bringing the agency to a level 25% below FY 1995.

o House leadership offices are increased almost 3% above FY 1996.

o The Subcommittee did not include objectionable language that would have expanded GPOs mandate

Hi Ann, the draft looks good. A few minor suggestions. You might want to mention our vigorous effort to prosecute the church fires and our briefs in support of the redistricting cases (in the fighting for equal opportunity section). Also, (under Cherishing children and strengthening families), add "more than 12 million" after "Enabled" and before "workers" in the family medical leave act bullet. Finally, you might want to mention the President's proposals announced yesterday to expand this program under the "New Family-Friendly Workplace" proposals. Otherwise it looks good. Church Arsons: There are currently three major legislative tracks involved in these church arsons. The first is the Hyde/Conyers (House), Faircloth/Kennedy (Senate) law enforcement piece which is designed to make it easier for federal authorities to prosecute persons acting alone to destroy or deface religious property. Current federal statutes require not only proof of conspiracy, but also proof of racial animus. The bills establish a new standard of racial motivation by prohibiting destruction of religious property because of the race, color, or ethnic characteristics of any individual associated with that property. An interstate commerce connection would not be required here. In cases brought using the interstate commerce nexus, the legislative proposals would simplify the highly restrictive requirements in existing law of establishing such a connection. The Justice Department's experience is that in the majority of cases, the government is unable to establish that defendants traveled in or used facilities in interstate commerce and, as result, the statute as written is simply ineffective in these instances. This proposed change is therefore very important to the law enforcement component.

The second legislative proposal is one that you announced during your visit to Greeleyville, S.C. and it involves a loan guarantee program by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to help with the rebuilding effort. The proposal would permit the Secretary to guarantee up to $5,000,000 in loans to assist 501(c)(3) institutions that have been damaged by arson or terrorism. This proposal is now part of the Senate version of Hyde

-Conyers (Faircloth

-Kennedy).

The current strategy is to pass Faircloth

-Kennedy in the Senate
sometime early this week and have the House accept the Senate

-passed bill since it contains the HUD proposal and the previously passed Hyde

-Conyers House bill does not. We are pressing to have this legislation passed by both houses of Congress this week.
The third legislative initiative involves additional resources for the Treasury and Justice Departments' investigations. Last tuesday, June 18, you made a $12 million FY96 supplemental appropriations request to Congress to support the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms' (BATF). These funds would be used to cover overtime and travel, to train additional personnel, to provide cash awards for information, and to purchase equipment. In addition to the BATF request for FY96, last week Congressman Jim Lightfoot (R -IA), the Chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Treasury, Postal Service, provided an additional $12 million in his FY97 appropriations bill for BATF to investigate these arsons. The Chairman has committed to provide whatever resources are necessary to support the BATF's efforts. In addition to this supplemental request, the Department of Justice will use its existing authority to allocate an additional $9.5 million of its 1996 funds to investigate these arsons.

OUTSTANDING ISSUES:

(1) INOUE VIDEO REQUEST: Scheduling has it pending, despite the fact that our office and Political really think it needs to happen. The decision is with Leon now -- if he feels that it needs to happen, Mike Williams will coordinate this with Barbara.

(2) CHURCH FIRES BILL SIGNING -- In today's staff meeting, it seemed clear that the preference was that the bill signing should be scheduled for Tues, July 9 to accomodate Members. However, a few things have come up since then: (1) Tracey has indicated that Tuesday is when minimum wage will be voted on in the Senate and we may be mixing our messages, and (2) Janet has encountered some House people who think that the bill should be signed as soon as possible.

When a decision is reached, Stacey, Peter and Tracey will coordinate the signing. Peter and Tracey will be responsible for coming up with the invite list for this event, working with the House and Senate Bill Clerks to determine when the bill will arrive at the White House, and writing the briefing paper. Stacey will do what I usually do on bill signings and will attend all of the event meetings.

(3) ANTI-COUNTERFEITING BILL SIGNING CEREMONY -- This request is dead, per John's remarks in the staff meeting. If the timing of the church arson bill signing changes to July 3, Peter should appeal this directly to John. (This bill must be signed by July 5.)

(4) HATFIELD REQUEST -- This request is pending in Leon's office. The dinner is not until July 18.

(5) TRAVEL -- Stacey will attend all of the trip meetings for the President's travel next week. Ann Johnson will help her with the calls.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

From: Office of Legislative Affairs

RE: Congressional Legislative Update

Following is an update on congressional activity for Wednesday, June 26, 1996.

SENATE

? The Senate continued work on S. 1745, the Department of Defense Authorization bill. The Senate failed to invoke cloture on the bill by a vote of 52 to 46. The vote was party line with the exceptions of Senator Pell (who voted for cloture) and Senator Lugar (who voted against cloture). The Senate passed a number of technical amendments to the bill by unanimous consent.

The Senate defeated a Wellstone amendment to S. 1745 by a vote of 34 to 65. The amendment would have limited the total amount authorized to be appropriated by the bill to the amount requested by you and applied the excess to budget deficit reduction. Four Republicans voted for the amendment: Brown, Grassley, Hatfield and Jeffords. Sixteen Democrats voted against the amendment: Akaka, Breaux, Byrd, Dodd, Exon, Feinstein, Ford, Heflin, Hollings, Inouye, Johnston, Kerrey, Lieberman, Moynihan, Nunn and Robb. The Senate is expected to continue work on the bill throughout the day.

? The Senate passed H.R. 3525, the Church Arson Protection

Act, by a vote of 98 to 0. The bill is designed to make it easier for federal authorities to prosecute persons acting alone to destroy or deface religious property. Current federal statutes require not only proof of conspiracy, but also proof of racial animus. The bill establishes a new standard of racial motivation by prohibiting destruction of religious property because of the race, color, or ethnic characteristics of any individual associated with that property. An interstate commerce connection would not be required here.

In cases brought using the interstate commerce nexus, the bill would simplify the highly restrictive requirements in existing law of establishing such a connection.

The bill also incorporates the proposal that you announced during your visit to Greeleyville, S.C. and it involves a loan guarantee program by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to help with the rebuilding effort. The proposal would permit the Secretary to guarantee up to $5,000,000 in loans to assist 501(c)(3) institutions that have been damaged by arson or terrorism.

HOUSE

? The House resumed consideration of the VA

-HUD & Independent

Agencies Appropriations bill for FY'97. It is expected that the House will consider several amendments and complete the bill sometime this afternoon. One amendment under consideration, by Representative Hostettler (R

-IN), would eliminate the bill's funding for the AmeriCorps National Service Program, thereby terminating the program.

? Following completion of the VA

-HUD Appropriations bill, the House will consider the rule only on legislation concerning most

-favored

-nation status for the People's Republic of China. Late Tuesday night, the House Rules Committee recommended a rule which makes in order two separate measures on China policy. The first (H.J.Res. 182) is a straight

-forward resolution to disapprove most

-favored

-nation treatment for the products of the People's Republic of China. The second (H.Res. 461) is a non -binding sense of the Congress which calls for hearings by three House Committees on China's trade policies, human rights record, military policy and arms sales. The House will likely take -up both H.J.Res. 182 and H.Res. 461 on Thursday.

? This evening, the House is scheduled to turn to the Transportation Appropriations bill for FY'97. This bill could be completed late today.

? The House is also expected to consider a privileged resolution by Representative Harry Johnson (D -FL) calling on the House Ethics Committee to transmit the remaining charges against Speaker Gingrich.

? The House Government Reform Committee met today to receive testimony on the White House's handling of FBI background files. The Committee, which started today's hearing at 10 a.m. and is expected to finish later this evening, has heard from former White House Counsel Bernard Nussbaum; former Associate White House Counsel William Kennedy; Director of White House Personnel Security Craig Livingstone; Anthony Marceca, a former Department of Defense detailee to the Office of Personnel Security (OPS); and Lisa Wetzel, a former employee in the OPS.

During his opening statement, Craig Livingstone tendered his resignation from the Administration, effective immediately. Members of the Committee have expressed their support for the resignation throughout the day. Committee Members have spent the bulk of the hearing trying to figure out exactly how the mishandling of the files occurred. On that issue, no real news has developed during the hearing. The witnesses have generally apologized for their actions and oversights and tried to explain that while their actions were misguided they were not sinister. Craig Livingstone testified that he did not misuse the files. This line of defense has largely been echoed by Committee Democrats and predictably, has garnered great skepticism from Committee Republicans.

OUTSTANDING ISSUES:

(1) INOUE VIDEO REQUEST: Scheduling has it pending, despite the fact that our office and Political really think it needs to happen. The decision is with Leon now -- if he feels that it needs to happen, Mike Williams will coordinate this with Barbara.

(2) CHURCH FIRES BILL SIGNING -- In today's staff meeting, it seemed clear that the preference was that the bill signing should be scheduled for Tues, July 9 to accomodate Members. However, a few things have come up since then: (1) Tracey has indicated that Tuesday is when minimum wage will be voted on in the Senate and we may be mixing our messsages, and (2) Janet has encountered some House people who think that the bill should be signed as soon as possible.

When a decision is reached, Stacey, Peter and Tracey will coordinate the signing. Peter and Tracey will be responsible for coming up with the invite list for this event, working with the House and Senate Bill Clerks to determine when the bill will arrive at the White House, and writing the briefing paper. Stacey will do what I usually do on bill signings and will attend all of the event meetings.

(3) ANTI-COUNTERFEITING BILL SIGNING CEREMONY -- This request is dead, per John's remarks in the staff meeting. If the timing of the church arson bill signing changes to July 3, Peter should appeal this directly to John. (This bill must be signed by July 5.)

(4) HATFIELD REQUEST -- This request is pending in Leon's office. The dinner is not until July 18.

(5) TRAVEL -- Stacey will attend all of the trip meetings for the President's travel next week. Ann Johnson will help her with the calls.

This bill, sponsored by Senators Kennedy and Faircloth, would eliminate the $10,000 damage threshold for Federal action in church property crime and make it easier to meet interstate commerce rules for Federal prosecutions. Also included in the bill is an authorization for HUD to guarantee private loans (totalling $5,000,000) to assist in rebuilding community institutions damaged or destroyed by arson. It is expected that the House will pass this Senate bill before adjourning for the July 4th break.

TEXT:

- On Thursday, the House passed by unanimous consent H.R. 3525, the Church Arson Protection Act. The Senate passed the bill yesterday and it is now cleared for White House action.

- The House is currently considering two separate resolutions on China policy. The first resolution (H.J.Res. 182) is a straight-forward resolution to disapprove most-favored-nation treatment for the products of the People's Republic of China. The second (H.Res. 461) calls for hearings by three House Committees on China's trade policies, human rights record, military policy and arms sales. The Rule providing for the consideration of these resolutions was passed by voice Wednesday night. It is expected that the House will vote on H.J.Res. 182 at about 3:30 pm today.

- Also on Thursday, the House will complete consideration of HR 3675, the Transportation Appropriations bill for FY'97 (Open Rule). See attached SAP.

- Sometime on Thursday, the House may consider a privileged resolution concerning the Ethics Committee's consideration of allegations against Speaker Gingrich.

The House will not be in session tomorrow or next week. The schedule for the week of July 8 (when the House returns) has not yet been released. It is likely though that the House will consider, among other legislation, the Labor/HHS Appropriations bill for FY'97, the Legislative Branch Appropriations bill for FY'97 and the Treasury-Postal Appropriations bill for FY'97.

As you know, we are not permitted to fundraise officially. There are a number of private fundraising efforts that we can tell someone about. However, we have to be careful not to endorse any particular fundraising efforts. Thus, you could say something like "There are limits on what federal officials can do in the way of fundraising. I am heartened by the outpouring of concern and efforts by many individuals and organizations. I am aware of a number of fundraising efforts, including those undertaken by NationsBank, the National Council of Churches, and Habitat for Humanity. I am certain that there are other efforts [Pam, I realize I keep using "efforts" but at this point, I am having a hard time coming up with another word; sorry] throughout the country. I would encourage you to contact a local association of churches which may have more information or could suggest ways to get more involved."

I am copying Dawn Chirwa who has been working on the church burning issue. Dawn, if you have any suggestions/changes to this please let Pam know as soon as possible.
