Dear Butler:

I was pleased to hear from you regarding South Carolina's campaign to increase its childhood immunization rate. As the President told the country on February 17, we save ten health care dollars for every dollar spent on immunizations.

Your work at the state level demonstrates extraordinary commitment to preventive health care for the nation's children. Please convey my congratulations to the Palmetto Leadership Health Care Task Force, South Carolina DHEC, Commissioner Brown, area health departments, and Representative Mattos for their fine efforts in this important and innovative project.

I want you to know how much we appreciated your leadership on the President's stimulus package, which would have provided for immunization of one million children this summer. We remain committed to the goal of universal immunization of young children, and look forward to continuing our work together on this important issue.

Sincerely,

Dear Butler:

I was pleased to hear from you regarding South Carolina's campaign to increase its childhood immunization rate. As the President told the country on February 17, we save ten health care dollars for every dollar spent on immunizations.

Your leadership in pushing the President's stimulus package through the House of Representatives demonstrated strong support on your part for White House efforts to more fully immunize America's children. Whether as part of an economic package or by some other means, enhanced federal funding for cost-effective vaccinations must be preserved.

Involving yourself at the state level demonstrates extraordinary commitment on your part to preventive health care for the nation's children. Please convey my congratulations to The Palmetto Leadership Health Care Task Force, South Carolina DHEC, Commissioner Brown, area health departments, and Representative Mattos for their fine efforts in this important project.

Again, thank you for informing me of this extremely worthwhile and innovative program. If I may be of assistance to you in this matter, please don't hesitate to be in touch.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

I am writing on behalf of Mrs. Belle J. Kennette, the Vice Chairman of the Greenwood, South Carolina County Council, and the chairman of the South Carolina Women's Conference. Mrs. Kennette recently sent you a letter inviting you to be the guest speaker at the South Carolina Women's Conference in August entitled "A Balancing Act" in Greenwood, South Carolina. For your convenience, I am enclosing a copy of that letter.

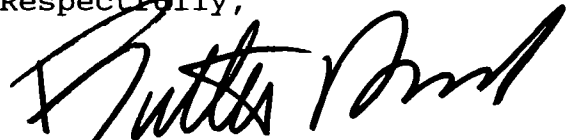

Your participation in this event would be a tremendous boost to the participants who are striving to balance professional and personal commitments and demands. Your accomplishments in these areas are greatly admired and the organizers of the conference are anxious to hear your views and to share their experiences and goals with you.

I realize that your schedule is extremely busy. However, I would appreciate your giving this invitation consideration. Should your schedule not permit your attending, I know the South Carolina Women's Conference would be most appreciative of your help in securing another prominent official from the Administration who is also successfully combining a professional career and family responsibilities, and can address issues of concern to women.

Thank you for your cooperation and assistance. Whenever I may be of service, please do not hesitate to call.

With kindest regards, I am

Respectfully,

BUTLER DERRICK

Dear First Lady:

You are cordially invited to be our guest speaker for the South Carolina Women's Conference: A Balancing Act in early August.

We are quite excited about this first annual event. We have a special program planned to help all women achieve balance in their lives. Your accomplishments as a professional woman and your position as First Lady would lend inspiration and direction to everyone.

Now, you may be wondering about the gems . . . Greenwood, nicknamed the Emerald City, is a gem on its own, and it really sparkles with all we have here.

Greenwood is the home of many fine industries. One of our oldest, Park Seed Company, is celebrating its 125th anniversary. This mail order seed company ships seeds all over the world. They have even sent seeds into outer space on one of the space shuttles as part of an experiment that is continuing to this date. Our newest industry, Fuji Photo Film Company, has a state-of-the-art video tape and printing plate manufacturing facility here that is unlike any other facility in the world. Enough video tape is manufactured at this plant in one day to play, non-stop for 100 years on your home VCR.

Not only are we proud of our industry, but we are also proud of the health care that is offered here. Self Memorial Hospital, a publicly owned facility, is a match to any hospital in any large city. The Greenwood Genetic Center is the first free-standing, non-profit genetic center in the United States. It has attained international status with their DNA and mental retardation studies. The Emerald Center is another private, non-profit agency which provides assistance to people with mental retardation. The most progressive in the southeast, their coverage over five counties offers family support to their clients at home or on their own. Both the Genetic Center and the Emerald Center are fine examples of the public/private partnership that is so common in Greenwood.

These are only a few of the "sparkles" in our gem of a town. What really makes it "dazzle" are the people. The community effort and spirit make us proud to call Greenwood home. We hope you will consider our invitation to visit the Emerald City during the conference. A card is enclosed for your convenience.

Sincerely,

Belle J. Kennette
Chairperson
South Carolina Women's Conference
