Dear Mrs. Clinton:

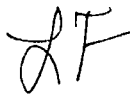

Recently, ^{001b} (b)(6) a constituent of mine, contacted me regarding the cost of oxygen obtained through home health services.

^{001b} (b)(6) has discovered a great difference between the price of oxygen obtained through a welding supply company and that obtained through a home health service. He maintains that there is no difference in the oxygen and wanted the health care task force to be aware of this practice.

I have enclosed documents supporting Mr. Pearson's claim, as he requested.

With highest regards, I am

Sincerely,

Dear

(b)(6)

001c

As we discussed, I am writing in regard to the hyperbarric chamber for your stepson. Due to the amount of oxygen that is consumed per treatment, we would need to install two 160 stationary oxygen tanks. These tanks would be secured in the location you and Ken Umstead, Operations Supervisor, discussed at your home. The tubing would be run into the basement where the hyperbarric chamber is located. Liquid oxygen is sold at $1.80 per pound with each refill of a 160 tank at $725.40 or a total of 403 pounds. For your information, there are 12.08 cubic feet per pound. With 160 liters per tank, the conversion is 4,865 cubic feet per tank.

Given that insurance will not pay for the oxygen, we would like payment upon the completion of each delivery. Roberts Home Medical will be responsible for the oxygen tanks, installation, hardware, refills and maintenance of the oxygen equipment. We will not assume any responsibility for the hyperbarric chamber and it is agreed that respiratory services will be waived.

We are waiting on a letter from Dr. Neubauer from Florida stating exactly what our responsibilities as an oxygen supplier are. Once we move forward, we will also need to obtain a prescription from his local doctor for the oxygen. We look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

Jeanne E. Scott

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

January 30, 1995

Mrs. Kathlene O. Baize
511 N. First Street
Charlottesville, Virginia 22902

Dear Mrs. Baize:

Thank you for asking Congressman Payne to forward your letter about crime, welfare reform, and health care. I welcome this opportunity to address your concerns about these important issues.

First, as you may know, the President signed into law the crime bill that you referred to in your letter. The crime legislation passed last year adds 100,000 more police to our streets, imposes a waiting period for handgun purchases and bans military-style assault weapons, stiffens penalties for criminals, assists victims of domestic violence, and invests in important prevention programs. I believe it is the toughest and smartest attack on crime in the history of our nation.

You also mentioned that you support welfare reform that will encourage welfare recipients to become self-sufficient. The President's welfare reform plan will provide education, job placement services, training, child care and employment opportunities to enable people to leave the welfare rolls after a maximum of two years. In addition, in order to help low-income workers stay off welfare, the plan will increase funding for child care. The President and I are pleased to have your support for the President's plan to reform the welfare system.

(b)(6) 0029
Americans need health care reform. Although Congress did not pass health care legislation last year, the President and I are proud that we fought for real health care reform to make the system work for hard-working American families. It was the right thing to do then, and it is still the right thing to do. We look forward to working with Congress this year to take the first steps toward ending discriminatory insurance company practices and providing health security to the American people.

Mrs. Kathlene O. Baize
January 30, 1995

Thank you again for writing. I appreciate your support and good wishes. The President and I are committed to continuing our efforts this year to achieve meaningful health and welfare reform for American families.

Sincerely yours,

Hillary Rodham Clinton

The Honorable L. F. Payne
1119 Longworth House
Office Building
Washington, D. C. 20515

Dear Congressman Payne:

I am writing to express my views regarding several bills that are being debated in Congress at this time.

It was encouraging to read in this morning's "Daily Progress" that Congressional negotiators have agreed to several hard and fast steps, (not the least of which is a ban on assault-style weapons), that will definitely be effective in our war against crime. I urge you to vote YES in favor of this bill.

Another issue I wish to address is that of Welfare Reform. I have read and heard some good, and some bad; proposed measures regarding Welfare Reform. Mr. William Raspberry, Columnist for the Washington Post, has written much about the causes of Welfare and has made wise suggestions as to its reform. A plan that would train individuals and gradually remove them from the Welfare System is, I believe, an intelligent course of action to pursue. In order for this plan to work however, I do feel that it will be necessary to let those who have been "Long Riders" on the system know that Welfare as we have known it will cease to exist at some definite point in time. Subsidies should be made available to child-care facilities so that Welfare Mothers can work without legitimate complaint that all of their income is spent on child care. I think any bill on this matter that basically encourages people to become self-sufficient would be appropriate. Please vote YES on a bill that would mandate self-support at a given definite date.

My final concern is the issue of "Health Care Reform". I feel that First Lady, Hillary Clinton's work on this matter has been extraordinary. She has, in effect, shown her true and beautiful colors by addressing a matter which stands to benefit the most deserving in this country. The lower and middle class. I am one of sixteen living children. I came up poor, have worked hard all of my life, and have never wanted to be the recipient of any kind of Welfare or charity.

I feel that every working and temporarily unemployed American should be covered. All handicapped and elderly people should be covered. Only those on Welfare should be excluded from the National Health Care Plan. Eligibility to the plan should work as an incentive to wean people from the Welfare system.

I urge you to vote YES to the Clinton's Health Care Plan. I do suggest however, that those who have been "Long Riders" on the Welfare System should be excluded until they become self-supporting.
