Dear Dr. Morales:

Thank you for your letter about the Memorial Medical Center's pediatric heart surgery program. The First Lady asked me to respond to your letter. We share your commitment to ensuring that all children have access to the care they need and applaud your efforts to provide surgery for children.

I have concluded that it is your state, not the federal government, that requires a facility to obtain prior approval through the Certificate of Need review program. Therefore, you need to continue your endeavors with the State Health Planning Agency in Atlanta.

I wish you the best of luck.

Sincerely yours,

Jennifer Klein
Special Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy

Dear (b)(6)

001a

Thank you for writing to share your concerns about families caring for children with disabilities. I admire your mother's dedication to your disabled sister and your devotion to your own children.

You raised a question about tax credits for people who care for their disabled children at home. Eighty-five percent of long-term care in this country is provided by informal caregivers -- family, friends and neighbors who stay at home and care for their loved ones. The President's Health Security Act provided support for informal caregivers. In addition, we are currently working with states to restructure Medicaid to offer more home and community-based long-term care options.

Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely yours,

Hillary Rodham Clinton

Mrs. Hillary Clinton
White House
Washington, DC

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

I am a mother of two sons, one seven and the other is 4 months old. When my oldest son started to school I decided to go back to work which I had given up in order to raise him and be at home with him. Then I found out I was pregnant with my second son, so I have again decided to stay home and raise him as well.

I had no insurance to pay for the birth of my two sons, but we managed to pay for them and my husband makes less than $25,000.00.

I would like to take this time to ask you if I can work out of my home for you. I can sit here and point out several people I know that are living off of the government welfare and disability system who are capable of working and paying their bills, just as we have but they choose not to. I think this is a great disgrace, - Why?? Well, mainly because most of them are in my family.

I am a strong believer in helping people, but if they don't want to help themselves, then why are these honest people forced to support them. I know people can get disability for being too fat, or too skinny, or say its just too stressful to work. Well, how about us mothers who stay home with our children, cook, clean, and manage the finances and worry when our children need to go to the doctor and money is just a little tight - without any pay. I don't ask to be paid for this, I just don't agree to help people and pay their debts, when they chose not to work and drive nicer cars and live better than we do.

Please consider me for a job in which I could stop the government from paying many people un-deserving money.

By the way, I do have a sister who is completely disabled. She is also retarded. She cannot walk, talk, feed herself or go to the bathroom without the care of my mother for over 40 years. How about a tax credit for these people who have devoted their lives to taking care of their own disabled children. And would you believe the red tape we have to go through to prove she is disabled - there has just got to be a better way.

One person could call on these people in their homes who receive government pay instead of allowing our legal professionals to prove their disabilities for a commission and by in-home evaluations, a lot could be proved.

Thanks,
